ARCHIVE COLLECTION

RANDALL LIBRARY

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2011 with funding from LYRASIS Members and Sloan Foundation

http://www.archive.org/details/campuscommuni30200001univ

ANDREW J DUTKA
ARCHIVIST/REFERENCE LIBRARIAN
RANDALL LIBRARY

WF 500
2000-
1.30

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 1 July 13, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Tidal Creek Project Wins Planning Award

The New Hanover County Tidal Creeks Water Quality Enhancement Project received the Large Community Comprehensive Planning Award from the North Carolina chapter of the American Planning Association. The award recognized the implementation of a program of water quality enhancement strategies which are a collaboration between New Hanover County, UNCW's Center for Marine Science and the Northeast New Hanover Conservancy.

Common Reading Program

The UNCW Leadership Center and the English Department are sponsoring a common reading program for the fall 2000 semester. Faculty and staff are encouraged to use the works of Jonathan Kozol in classes, seminars and activities. Kozol will present "Ordinary Resurrections" at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Auditorium. His works include Death at an Early Age and Savage Inequalities.

Ballroom Dance

A beginning ballroom dance class, taught by Verna Jordan, will be offered from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. Sundays, Aug. 6. through Sept. 17. For cost or registration information, call the Division for Public Service and Extended Education at ext. 3195.

E-mail Change

To e-mail Dinah Allen, human resources, use the address allendinah.

Let's Read

Rebecca Lee, creative writing, is a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. July 13, 20 and 27 on TLN, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Lee, along with Betty Ann Sanders, program host; Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books; Debbie Pratt, manager of Barnes and Nobles Booksellers; and Mark Schreiner, education reporter for the Wilmington Star-News, discuss their top 10 summer reading selections.

Organizational Meeting

The Coastal Carolina Holistic Nurses' Network will hold an organizational meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. July 24 at New Horizons Holistic Education Center, 108 N. Kerr Avenue, Suite F-1. For information, call Etta Breit at ext. 3476.

In Memorial

Nathaniel Purdy, Jr.

UNCW and the physical plant suffered a great loss with the death of Nathaniel Purdy, Jr. Since joining the university in July 1987, Purdy made a great impression on his staff, co-workers and the university community. He was always a positive addition to the workplace as well as his church and community. The Purdy family has expressed their gratefulness at the support and understanding given to them during this time of sorrow. Purdy was a caring and loving person, and those who knew him learned from their experiences with him. He will be greatly missed.

CPA Review Course

The Becker Conviser CPA Review course will be conducted from 6 to 10 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, Aug. 14 through Oct. 25 in Cameron Hall, Room 212. The course, offered through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education and the Department of Accountancy and Business Law, is designed for candidates preparing to take the November 2000 Uniform CPA Examination. For more information, call 1-800-316-3119 or contact Richard Roscher, accountancy, at ext. 3507.

Men's Basketball Camp

The UNCW Men's Basketball Program will sponsor a summer day camp for boys age eight through rising seniors July 17-21. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Women's Basketball Camp

The UNCW Women's Basketball Program will sponsor a day camp for girls ages seven to 13 Aug. 1-4. The cost for daughters of faculty and staff is $135. For a registration brochure or more information, contact Elizabeth Lee at ext. 3418.

Concert on the Commons

Nick Panos will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. July 18 on the Campus Commons as part of the Concert on the Commons series sponsored by the Activities and Leadership Center. Free refreshments will be provided.

RANDALL LIBRARY UNCW

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Work-study Reminder

Departments should list work-study and work assistant positions for the fall semester with career services as soon as possible. Direct questions to Frances Carr at ext. 3174.

Regalia Rental

Faculty who need to rent regalia for convocation Aug. 15 should contact the bookstore by Aug. 1. For more information, call ext. 4021.

BOT Meetings

The quarterly committee meetings of the UNCW Board of Trustees will be held at 1 and 3:30 p.m. July 20 at the Sheraton Grand Hotel in New Bern. The full board will meet at 8:30 a.m. July 21 in the hotel's Pamlico Room.

Grant Proposals Sought

The Information Technology Systems Division is accepting grant proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Applications are due by Sept. 1. For more information, contact Kim Kelly or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html.

Staff Training

Access, 10 a.m. to noon July 24 or 2 to 4 p.m. July 25.

Microsoft Excel, 2 to 4 p.m. July 26.

Microsoft Word Mail Merge, 2 to 4 p.m. July 24.

Pagemaker 6.5, 10 a.m. to noon July 26.

Timekeeping 101, 2 to 4 p.m. July 20.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Doug Bowlsby, SBTDC; Mary Carlson, career services; Stacy Cross, dean of students office; LeeAnn Dulatre, campus diversity; James Garrity, Seahawk Club; Christy Grantham and Curt Little, Kenan Auditorium; Edwardina Logan and Debra Shaw, physical plant; Luz Lopez-de-Victoria, accounting; Daniel Noonan, telecommunications; Angela Pucher, athletic marketing and promotions; and Jennie Royal and Cloe Torres, housing and residence life.

Shared Leave

Shared leave donations are needed for Lucille Mills and Pat Simon, Randall Library; and Lori Preiss, human resources. Direct questions to human resources at ext. 3006.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
20267 Office Assistant III	July 14
20268 A/V Media Technician	July 14
20269 Library Assistant	July 14
20270 Safety Director	July 14
20271 Police Telecommunicator	July 14
20272 Research Vessel First Mate	July 14
21001 Office Assistant III	July 21
21002 Pharmacy Tech.	July 21
21003 Data Coordinator	July 21
21004 Accounting Tech. II	July 21
21005 Grounds Worker	July 21

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

SUMMER ADS

For sale - 1998 Bonneville SE 41,000 miles. Owner has all maintenance records. Excellent condition. Call Judy at ext. 7059 or 799-8340.

For sale - 16-foot Hobie Cat sailboat with trailer, sails and cat walks. Complete and ready to sail. $1,050 Call Barry at 392-8628 or ext 3515.

Wanted - A host family for a male high school student from Venezuela for the 2000-01 school year. This student is participating in AYUSA, an international exchange program. For information, call Haida at 792-0201.

For sale - 1992 Honda Accord LX, four-door sedan, cruise control, power windows and locks, five-speed manual transmission, air-conditioning, AM/FM/cassette stereo. Excellent condition. $5,500. Call ext. 7560 or 313-2928.

For sale - 1986 Volvo Wagon 240D. Looks and runs great One owner, 129,000 miles, well-maintained, five-speed manual transmission. $2,700. Contact Vince Howe at ext. 3882.

For sale - Two mattress sets, box springs and frames, full and queen sizes, name brand, two years old. Curtains, valances and throw rugs. All priced reasonably. Call Jim Walters at ext 7134 or 796-0549; leave message.

For sale - 1994 red GMC Jimmy SLE, four-door, four-wheel drive, V-6. Excellent condition. $9,950. Call 452-1226 or ext. 4169.

For sale or rent - 3BR, two-bath, 1,400-square-foot home at The Cape. Overlooks golf course's sixth hole. Large, open living room with lots of light and cathedral ceiling. Two-car garage. Located in desirable, safe community. $115, 000 or rent starting late August. Contact P.J. Lapaire at ext. 3825 or 796-1447 or Todd Toconis at Town & Country Real Estate, 763-7500.

Great investment or build on 2.7-acre wooded lot in Tennessee, 25 miles from Boone. Under $24,000. Call 270-9796, leave message

Home needed - Mixed-breed puppies found abandoned on I-40. Females, two black, one buff. Six months old Call Mary at ext 3154.

For sale - The News and Observer, Sept. 16, 1944, $45; The Wilmington News Extra, Aug. 14, 1945, $125. Two WWII ration books, $25 each. Call Cathy at ext. 3656 or e-mail johnsonc.

For sale by owner - Historic downtown home. Totally renovated with new kitchen and bath. Beautiful heart pine floors. Sellers motivated $125,000. Call 254-9439.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Virginia Adams and Susan Scheuring, nursing, had the article "Back to the Future: Academic Partnerships for Healthy Outcomes in Elementary School Children" published in the July issue of Family and Community Health: The Journal of Health Promotion and Maintenance.

Susan Scheuring, nursing, had the article "Strengthening the Safety Net for Adolescent Health: Partners in Creating Realities out of Opportunity" published in the July issue of Family and Community Health: The Journal of Health Promotion and Maintenance. Susan Hanna, RN case manager in the Clinical Resource Services Department at New Hanover Regional Medical Center, and Edith D'Aquila-Lloyd, family nurse practitioner at Wilmington Health Access for Teens, were co-authors.

Brooks Dodson, English, had his review of The Languages of Addiction published in the June issue of CHOICE.

ARLENE KAY HANERFELD
ASSOC UNIV LIB-TECHNICALSVCSS
RANDALL LIBRARY

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 2 July 20, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Legislature Approves State Raises; Gives Public Chance to OK Bond

The North Carolina General Assembly's recent session was "fantastic" for the university system according to Clifton Metcalf, associate vice president for state governmental affairs for UNC General Administration.

In addition to approving the $3.1 billion higher education facilities bond for the November ballot, the legislature compromised on a 4.2 percent pay raise for all state employees including university faculty and staff.

"By putting the $3.1 billion bond on the Nov. 7 ballot, the General Assembly, in a near unanimous vote, acknowledged the capital needs of the system," said Mark Lanier, special assistant to Chancellor James R. Leutze. The Michael Hooker Higher Education Facilities Act received one dissenting vote. If approved by the public, the bond would fund $108 million in construction needs for UNCW, including a facility to house the Watson School of Education.

In addition to the 4.2 percent pay increase for state employees, which is expected in July paychecks for SPA employees and August paychecks for EPA employees, the General Assembly approved a one-time bonus of $500 which will be paid in October paychecks. Faculty and non-faculty EPA salary increases will be awarded based on consideration of performance, to recognize merit and to address salary inequities, said Paul Hosier, associate vice chancellor for academic affairs. He added that UNCW's tuition increase provided a pool of $350,000 to fund salary adjustments, supplement salaries of newly recruited faculty and retain current faculty.

All SPA employees of record as of June 30 will receive a 2.2 percent cost of living increase, according to Kay Fryar, director of human resources administration. Permanent SPA employees with a performance rating of good or higher will also get a 2 percent increase to recognize career growth unless they are at the maximum of their salary grade, said Fryar, adding that employees at their salary grade maximum will receive the career growth increase as a bonus. Employees in a final disciplinary action are not eligible for the career growth raise. SPA employees hired by April 1 and still employed Oct. 1 will receive a one-time $500 bonus in October paychecks which will be prorated for part-time employees. In addition to approving salary increases, Fryar said the General Assembly also changed the retirement pay formula, increasing the percentage factor used in the calculation from 1.8 to 1.81 percent.

"The General Assembly was very supportive of our efforts to grow enrollment," said Hosier. UNCW received almost $1.4 million in appropriations to fund new faculty positions and support operating costs associated with increased enrollment, he said. In addition, UNCW received an additional $205,000 for distance education and extension enrollment programs such as the Onslow County Program which offers degree programs in business, education, criminal justice and nursing.

see General Assembly on Page 2

UNC Wilmington Hosts First Conference on Colleges' Role in Disaster Mitigation

Universities can play a major role in helping lessen the impact of disasters in their communities and speeding their recovery, according to Stephen Meinhold, a UNCW political science professor who researches public preparedness for hurricanes.

"As researchers, scholars, teachers and administrators, we are an important and, as yet, underutilized resource for disaster mitigation in our communities," said Meinhold, who has organized the first Project Impact Higher Education Conference scheduled for July 25 and 26 at UNC Wilmington. "Universities can provide key research to reduce the economic and social costs that occur as a result of natural or technological disasters."

This national two-day event will bring together more than 25 participants from colleges and universities nationwide to explore how higher education institutions can become more involved with Project Impact, an initiative of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), within their communities. Project Impact helps communities protect themselves from the devastating effects of natural or technological disasters by taking actions that drastically reduce disruption and loss.

see Disaster Conference on Page 4

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Grimes Voted CAA's Top Track Coach

Jacquie Grimes, who served as interim head coach of UNCW's men's track and field program last fall following the departure of Jim Sprecher, was named Coach of the Year in the Colonial Athletic Association.

Grimes, who piloted the Seahawks to a fourth consecutive CAA title, concluded her second year with the program. She will serve as an assistant to incoming head coach Kevin Ankrom.

Anthropology Program

The Anthropology Program which was housed in the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice was made a separate program unit by the College of Arts and Sciences. James Sabella is program director. The name of its former home has been changed to the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice.

Art Exhibit

The exhibit "Quintet: Five Print Suites by Donald Furst" is on display in Kenan Hall, Claude Howell Gallery. A reception and walk-through lecture by Furst will be held at noon today. An illustrated color catalogue, which includes an essay by Kemille Moore, chair of the Department of Art and Theatre, will be available.

Common Reading Program

The UNCW Leadership Center and the English Department have formed a common reading program for the fall 2000 semester. Faculty and staff are encouraged to use the works of Jonathan Kozol in classes, seminars and activities. Kozol will present "Ordinary Resurrections" at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Auditorium. His works include Death at an Early Age, Savage Inequalities, Rachel and Her Children: Homeless Families in America and Amazing Grace: The Lives of Children and the Conscience of a Nation.

Postal Reminder

Starting July 24, UNCW Postal Services will accept student mass mailings for the fall semester.

Let's Read

Rebecca Lee, creative writing, is a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. July 20 and 27 on TLN, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Lee, along with host Betty Ann Sanders, Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books, Debbie Pratt, manager of Barnes and Nobles Booksellers, and Mark Schreiner, education reporter for the Wilmington Star-News, will discuss their top 10 summer reading selections.

Ballroom Dance

A beginning ballroom dance class, taught by Verna Jordan, will be offered from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. Sundays, Aug. 6 through Sept. 17. For cost or registration information, call the Division for Public Service and Extended Education at ext. 3195.

Organizational Meeting

The Coastal Carolina Holistic Nurses' Network will hold an organizational meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. July 24 at New Horizons Holistic Education Center, 108 N. Kerr Avenue, Suite F-1. For more information, call Etta Breit at ext. 3476.

CPA Review Course

The Becker Conviser CPA Review course will be conducted from 6 to 10 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays Aug. 14 through Oct. 25 in Cameron Hall, Room 212. The course, offered through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education and the Department of Accountancy and Business Law, is designed for candidates preparing to take the November 2000 Uniform CPA Examination. For more information, call 1-800-316-3119 or contact Richard Roscher, accountancy, at ext. 3507.

Note of Appreciation

Katie Fancher was awarded one of the State Employees Association of North Carolina District 62 scholarships at the organization's annual meeting in June. Fancher, who is the daughter of Becky Fancher, registrar's office, plans to attend East Carolina University. The Fanchers would like to thank the members of SEANC District 62. The scholarship program is one benefit of SEANC membership.

Women's Basketball Program Holding Camp

The UNCW Women's Basketball Program will sponsor a day camp for girls ages seven to 13 from Aug. 1-4. The cost for daughters of faculty and staff is $135. For a registration brochure or more information, contact Elizabeth Lee at ext. 3418.

General Assembly continued from Page 1

For ongoing campus repairs and renovations, UNCW received almost $1.5 million of the $46 million allocated to the UNC system. These funds will be used for items such as painting, roof repair, sidewalk and road repairs and maintenance of heating, air conditioning and electrical systems.

The legislature also approved more money for financial aid, allocating $5 million systemwide. UNCW's tuition increase will provide $350,000 more in student financial aid, according to Lanier.

Additional funding the General Assembly approved includes monies for the UNC system to reestablish model teaching consortia in counties where it had been eliminated and $500,000 in blue crab research. The legislators also increased aid to students attending private colleges.

"Our supporters in the legislature had a difficult task with regard to the state's current economic situation, yet they responded in a way that deserves our appreciation," said Lanier.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MarineQuest Holds First Marine Biology Camp for Adults

by Dan Guy
University Relations Intern

MarineQuest summer science camps are no longer just for kids. Although the Division for Public Service and Extended Education has offered children's camps for 18 years, this year it hosted its first adult marine biology camp July 10 and 11 at the Center for Marine Science.

Camp participants learned about different species of marine life such as barnacles, oysters, crabs and sea urchins. They also learned about the dynamics of barrier islands, dune ecology and the human impacts on the coast.

"The camp was a completely fun experience," said Owen Wexler, a Wilmington resident. "I do a lot of fishing and wanted to know more about the things I see around the area."

Many of the participants were excited and curious to learn more about the marine environment.

Two participants in MarineQuest's first adult biology camp catch fish.

Cathy Olson, an academic adviser in UNCW's Biological Sciences Department, also enjoyed the camp. "The really exciting part was getting the opportunity to be the student," said Olson. "Because of the camp, I now have a better appreciation of our natural environment."

"I had a lot of fun educating the adults," said Tressa Thompson, the UNCW marine biology graduate student who led the camp. "To me, teaching these adults was a little more rewarding than working with the children because they have a greater appreciation for their environment and are more sensitive to preservation."

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education plans to offer a similar day program, Coast Watch, Oct. 17. Other programs in the fall will include trips to Masonboro Island, Oct. 14 and 21, and Bear Island, Oct. 28.

SUMMER ADS

For sale - 2BR, two-bath house on Moores Creek. Gas logs, screened front porch and side deck. Completely remodeled. Deck on river. Approximately 50 feet off water, no flooding. $140,000. Great, peaceful getaway. Call Cindy at ext. 3280 or 794-6935.

Wanted - Housesitting assignment. Graduate student interested in housesitting for faculty member during the fall semester. Student is writing thesis, saving money for November wedding. E-mail Tim Dulaney at dulaneyt. Will provide references.

For sale by owner - Beautiful 2,800-square-foot historic home in the overlay disrict. 4BR, dining, living and family rooms and library. Great neighborhood and price. $173,900. Call Arthur Spivack at 762-3431.

For sale by owner - 4BR, two-and-a-half bath, 3,000-square-foot brick house in Claredon at North Chase on cul-de-sac overlooking lake. Downstairs master suite, living room, dining room, family room with cathedral ceiling, skylights. Hardwood floors in foyer, living and dining rooms. Five walk-in closets, eight ceiling fans, huge attic storage. Six miles to campus. $217,000. Call 791-7501 or ext. 3712.

For sale - 1995 Mazda Miata. Black, five-speed transmission, alloy wheels. Sharp car in excellent condition, 68,000 miles, $9,200. Call Carol Gignilliat at ext. 3490 or 262-6152.

For sale - Black taffata tea-length party dress, size 7. Worn once. Paid $140, will sell for $50. Call 270-9796, leave message.

Home needed - Six-month-old female black retriever/chow mix puppy. Call Mary at ext. 3154 or 259-4747.

For sale - Numerous baby articles including clothes, high chair, swing, stroller, playpen and monitor. All in good condition. Call Mary at ext. 3440.

For sale - 5x3-foot solid glass reptile aquarium on heavy-duty wooden platform with all accessories, $200 or best offer. Camper shell, will fit S10 and Nissan, dark blue, $150. Set of chrome keystone wheels, five- lug pattern. Will fit any GM vehicle. No rust, excellent condition. $150. Call Teresa at ext. 7242 or 383-6635; leave message.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Jack Baker and Randy Hanson, accountancy and business law, had the article "Multidisciplinary Practice: Big Changes Brewing for the Accounting Profession" published in the The CPA Journal. It was co-authored by James Smith from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Tom Potts, NURC, presented the paper "The Efficacy of Using a One-person Submersible in Assessing Reef Fish Populations" at the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists annual meeting in La Paz, Mexico. Co-authors on the paper were Alex Score, Gray's Reef National Marine Sanctuary, and Laddie Akins, Reef Environmental Education Foundation.

Walter Conser, philosophy and religion, made a presentation on religion and American society to a European delegation who were visiting Wilmington under the sponsorship of the German Marshall Fund of the United States.

David G. Lindquist, CMS and biological sciences, gave the respective oral and poster presentations "Ingress of Postlarval Snappers (principally Lutjanus griseus) through Beaufort Inlet, N.C." and "Do Western Boundary Currents Significantly Affect Recruitment to Downstream Shelf Habitats? A Comparison of Larval Fish Catches in Gulf Stream and Shelf Waters in Onslow Bay, N.C." to the annual meeting of the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists. His co-authors were Mimi Tzeng and Robert Gamble, CMS, Fred Bingham, CMS and physics and physical oceanography, and J.A. Hare and A.B. Powell of the NOAA Beaufort lab.

Ann Pabst and Bill McLellan, CMS and biological sciences, along with graduate students Erin Meagher and Ari Friedleander and undergraduate student Michelle Barbieri traveled to Sarasota, Fla., to participate in a dolphin research project in association with Mote Marine Lab and Chicago Zoological Society. The lab's research on the thermal biology of bottlenose dolphins was funded by the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Mike Mallin, CMS, gave the invited presentation "Algal, Bacterial and BOD Responses to Nutrient Gradients in Coastal Plain Watersheds" at the Water Resources Research Institute seminar series in Raleigh. His co-authors were Larry Cahoon, Scott Ensign and Matt McIver, CMS and biological sciences.

Service Awards Luncheon

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall. The luncheon was previously scheduled for Aug. 10.

Work-study Reminder

Departments should list work-study and work assistant positions for the fall semester with career services as soon as possible. Direct questions to Frances Carr at ext. 3174.

Regalia Rental

Faculty who need to rent regalia for convocation Aug. 15 should contact the bookstore by Aug. 1. For more information, call ext. 4021.

Innovation Grant Proposals Sought

The Information Technology Systems Division, through its Committee on Information Technology Innovation, is accepting grant proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Faculty, staff or students can submit proposals for funding ranging up to $20,000. Applications are due by Sept. 1. For more information, contact Kim Kelly, program development coordinator, ITSD or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html. This is the second year of the innovation grants. Last year ITSD awarded almost $200,000 in funding.

Shared Leave

Shared leave donations are needed for Lucille Mills and Pat Simon, Randall Library, and Lori Preiss, human resources. Direct questions to human resources at ext. 3006.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Rebecca Bradford, internal audit; Martha Everette, curricular studies; Helene Harris, foreign languages and literatures; and Sarah Yackly, University Union.

Staff Training

Access, 10 a.m. to noon July 24 or 2 to 4 p.m. July 25.

Microsoft Excel, 2 to 4 p.m. July 26.

Microsoft Word Mail Merge, 2 to 4 p.m. July 24.

Pagemaker 6.5, 10 a.m. to noon July 26.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
20242 Telephone Operator	July 28
20256 Applications Analyst Programmer II	July 28
20262 Program Assistant IV	July 28
21001 Office Assistant III	July 21
21002 Pharmacy Technician	July 21
21003 Data Coordinator	July 21
21004 Accounting Tech. II	July 21
21005 Grounds Worker	July 21
21007 Irrigation/Spray Specialist	July 28
21008 GVU Program Assist.	July 28
21009 University Housekeeping Administrator III	July 28

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the

UNCW Water Tower Gets New Design

Renovations to UNCW's water tower are complete. The new paint scheme using the school colors and athletic logo was devised by Donnie Wrights, a graphic designer with the Division of Student Affairs.

Disaster Conference continued from Page 1

Meinhold, chair of the New Hanover County/Wilmington Project Impact Public Information Committee, said the goal of the conference is to develop a plan for use by FEMA to establish partnerships similar to the relationship of UNCW and Project Impact/New Hanover County in other communities nationwide.

The 1999 and 2000 Hurricane Preparedness Expos, held at UNCW's Trask Coliseum, resulted from the alliance created by the university and Project Impact/New Hanover County. The expos provided education and information on hurricane preparedness to more than 14,000 attendees. Cosponsored by the New Hanover County Emergency Management Office and various public and private businesses and organizations, the events featured dozens of exhibits including one from Clemson University which illustrated how homeowners could protect their property against high winds. UNCW researchers have also studied the economic, environmental and psychological impact of hurricanes in efforts to help prepare the community for future storms.

"I'm honored UNCW was chosen to host this national conference," said Meinhold. "It is an opportunity to recognize the relationship established between the university and the local disaster preparedness communities."

Among the colleges and universities which will be represented at the conference are Clemson University, Cornell University, Purdue University, Texas Tech University, the University of California Berkeley, University of Colorado and the University of Miami. There will also be representatives from FEMA and the Sea Grant College Program.

While the conference is not open to the public, sessions will be audiotaped for future availability on the Internet, said Meinhold, who added that he will create an electronic listserv for future discussions on how researchers can work with their respective communities to be better prepared in the event of a natural or technological disaster.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 3 July 27, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Dean of Nursing School Appointed to Cabinet Advisory Council

Virginia Adams, dean of the UNC Wilmington School of Nursing, was named to the National Advisory Council on Nurse Education and Practice by Donna Shalala, secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Adams, appointed to a four-year term, will be one of 25 panelists who will advise the secretary and Congress on issues related to nursing education and practices. Among the issues that the council will focus on are diversity in the nursing workforce and efforts to raise the knowledge and skill-level of nurses.

"I'm honored to be selected to serve on this panel," said Adams. "Recommendations made by this council affect nursing schools nationwide."

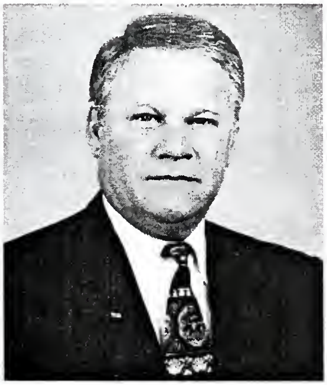
Adams said one of the major issues she wants to address is increased funding for a better-trained workforce.

"Nurses who graduate from baccalaureate and graduate programs are better prepared to manage individual and family care," said Adams. "The level of health education and leadership development provided through UNCW's School of Nursing and other institutions nationwide assures patients of quality health care. From the standpoint of patient care and health care consumers, it should be of paramount importance to have the best-educated, best-trained workforce possible."

Adams will attend her first meeting in September which will be a joint session with the Council on Graduate Medical Education.

Adams

Banking Executive Joins UNC Wilmington Board of Trustees



Etheridge

Jeff D. Etheridge, Jr., regional president for BB&T Corporation, was named to the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. He was appointed by the UNC Board of Governors to a term expiring in 2003.

Prior to joining BB&T, Etheridge was executive vice president with United Carolina Bancshares. After attending East Carolina University, Etheridge earned his bachelor's degree in business administration at Campbell University and is a graduate of the Executive Program at UNC Chapel Hill. He has been an instructor at both UNC Chapel Hill's North Carolina School of Banking and the American Institute of Banking and Management Development.

Active in his community, Etheridge has served on the Southeastern Community College Foundation Board of Trustees, the Executive Board of the Cape Fear Council of Boy Scouts of America and the Boards of Directors for the Columbus County Committee of 100 and the North Carolina Museum of Forestry.

Etheridge's seat on the UNCW Board of Trustees was held by Jay M. Robinson, who died in April.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

International Friendship Program Seeks Volunteers

The UNCW Office of International Programs is seeking volunteers to participate in the International Friendship Program. Participants would help international students adjust to their new environment on the UNCW campus and in the Wilmington community.

Approximately 45 students will arrive between Aug. 10 and 12. International Friendship participants can arrange to meet students at the airport and provide transportation to the university and will host off-campus experiences such as occasional meals together, sight-seeing trips or other family activities throughout the year. The students will live in on-campus housing and attend UNCW up to one academic year.

Individuals, couples or families interested in joining the program should contact Heather Smith, UNCW Office of International Programs, at ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh.

Alumni Association Awards Scholarships

The UNCW Alumni Association awarded 12 $1,500 scholarships for the 2000-2001 academic year. Awarded annually, the alumni association scholarships are given to students based upon academic achievements and community involvement.

Arts in Action

The UNCW Arts in Action will kick off its fourth performing arts season Sept. 23 with a performance by Buckwheat Zydeco, a band known for its accordion-powered Creole dance music. Other performers scheduled are Transactors Improv Company, Oct. 21; the Ahn Trio, Nov. 18; Jellyeye Drum Theatre, Jan. 20; Andes Manta, Feb. 17; and Leahy, March 31. All performances will be at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium except Buckwheat Zydeco which will be in Trask Coliseum. To order season tickets, call the auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

Political Science Department Chair Named

Milan J. Dluhy was named chair of the Department of Political Science effective July 1. He replaces Earl Sheridan who had served as chair since 1992.

Dluhy received his doctoral degree in political science/public administration from the University of Michigan. Prior to joining UNCW, he was professor of public administration and social work and associate director of the School of Policy and Management at Florida International University. Sheridan returned to teaching full-time in the department.

WSO Auditions

The Wilmington Symphony Orchestra will hold auditions Aug. 15 in Kenan Hall. For an audition packet, call 791-9262.

Wilmington Boys Choir Auditions

The Wilmington Boys Choir will hold auditions at 5 p.m. Aug. 8 in Kenan Hall. Membership is open to boys age nine and older. Musical experience is helpful, but not required for the audition. For more information, call Ann Plage at 392-1500.

Common Reading Program

The UNCW Leadership Center and the English Department have formed a common reading program for the fall 2000 semester. Faculty and staff are encouraged to use the works of Jonathan Kozol in classes, seminars and activities. Kozol will present "Ordinary Resurrections" at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Auditorium. His works include Death at an Early Age, Savage Inequalities, Rachel and Her Children: Homeless Families in America and Amazing Grace: The Lives of Children and the Conscience of a Nation.

Let's Read

Rebecca Lee, creative writing, is a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. July 27 on TLN, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Lee, along with host Betty Ann Sanders, Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books, Debbie Pratt, manager of Barnes and Nobles Booksellers, and Mark Schreiner, education reporter for the Wilmington Star-News, will discuss their top 10 summer reading selections.

Ballroom Dance

A beginning ballroom dance class, taught by Verna Jordan, will be offered from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. Sundays Aug. 6. through Sept. 17. For cost or registration information, call the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, at ext. 3195.

CPA Review Course

The Becker Conviser CPA Review course will be conducted from 6 to 10 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays Aug. 14 through Oct. 25 in Cameron Hall, Room 212. The course, offered through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education and the Department of Accountancy and Business Law, is designed for candidates preparing to take the November 2000 Uniform CPA Examination. For more information, call 1-800-316-3119 or contact Richard Roscher, accountancy, at ext. 3507.

Women's Basketball Camp

The UNCW Women's Basketball Program will sponsor a day camp for girls ages seven to 13 from Aug. 1-4. The cost for daughters of faculty and staff is $135. For a registration brochure or more information, contact Elizabeth Lee at ext. 3418.

Communique Editor, ext. 7223

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Wade Watanabe, CMS, and graduate student Patrick Carroll presented the invited paper "Progress in Controlled Reproduction of the Southern and Summer Flounder (Paralichthys lethostigma and P. dentatus) at the special session on flounder culture at Aqua America 2000, the national conference and exposition of the U.S. chapter of the World Aquaculture Society in New Orleans. Watanabe also presented the invited paper "Artificial Propagation of Mutton Snapper Lutjanus analis: Status, Potential and Constraints" with co-authors E. Ellis, S. Ellis, J. Chaves and R. Hagood at a special session on snapper culture.

Ann Pabst, biological sciences, and Teresa Thorpe, CMS, received $42,485 from the N.C. Sea Grant Fishery Resource Grant Program to assess using modified fillnets to reduce bycatch in southeastern North Carolina waters.

David Webster, biological sciences, received $6,980 from the Figure Eight Beach Homeowners Association Inc. for the project "Effects of Beach Nourishment and Tilling on Nest Selection, Nesting Success and Sex Determination in the Loggerhead Sea Turtle, Caretta caretta."

Stephen Kinsey and Richard Dillaman, biological sciences, and Dale McCall, sociology and anthropology, received $135,492 from the National Institutes of Health for the project "Inherited Adaptational Response of Muscle to Hypoxia Tolerance."

James Merritt, CMS, received $1,500 from the Town of Warsaw for the Cape Fear River Program.

Robert Kieber and Joan Willey, chemistry, received $83,247 from the National Science Foundation for the project "Temporal Variability of Iron Speciation in Rain."

Ami Wilbur, biological sciences, received $35,918 in supplemental funding from the Florida Marine Research Institute for the project "Development and Application of Genetic Tags as Tools for the Assessment of Bay Scallop Enhancement."

William Cooper, chemistry, received $213,505 in supplemental funding from the National Science Foundation for the project "Electron Beam Process in Drinking Water Treatment: Biological, Cryptosporidium and Giardia, Control and Contaminant Treatment."

James Merritt, CMS, received $100,000 from the N.C. Department of Environment and Natural Resources for the project "Land Use Planning Education Program for the NCNERR, Beaufort."

SUMMER ADS

The Aug. 10 issue of the Campus Communique will be the last to feature summer ads.

For rent - Beach house on Oak Island. 4BR, two-baths. $100 per night. Call Marti at ext. 3042.

For sale - Sofa and love seat with colonial blue background, $250. 48-inch glass top dining table with two chairs, $125. Weslo Cardioglide, $75. Round, white metal picnic table and four metal chairs, $50. Contact Chuck or Diane at 270-3790.

For sale - Soloflex strength training machine with all weight bands, butterfly and leg attachments. In good condition, New $1,500. Asking $400 or best reasonable offer. E-mail murphys or call ext. 3541.

For sale - 2,000-square-foot house. 4906 College Acres Drive. 4BR, two baths, den, fireplace, garage. Walk or bike to campus, stores, restaurants. Available July/August 2001. Contact Brooks and Mary Kay Dodson at ext. 3769 or 791-6807.

For sale - Full set of left-handed Ping clones. New grips, driving wood, driving iron includes bag and cart. $200. Call Steve at ext. 3664.

For sale - Faculty/staff-affordable house, downtown, National Register District. Recently renovated, 1,400 square feet. 2/3BR/office, living and dining rooms, two baths. Large garage, beautiful gardens. $155,000. Call Thomas Loftfield at 815-0547 or e-mail Loftfield@hotmail.com.

For sale - Dining room set. Table, six chairs and china cabinet, $450. Call 792-0507.

Yard sale - 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Aug. 12, 4802 College Acres Drive.

Great investment or build on 2.7-acre wooded lot in Tennessee, 25 miles from Boone. Under $24,000. Call 270-9796, leave message.

For sale - Lot at Carolina Beach. One of a few left in the area. Listed at $37,000. Call Scott at 796-0126 in the evenings.

For sale by owner - 4BR, two-and-a-half bath, 3,000-square-foot brick house in Claredon at North Chase on cul-de-sac overlooking lake. Downstairs master suite, living room, dining room, family room with cathedral ceiling, skylights and French doors to deck. 20-x-15-foot kitchen with French doors opens to 12-x-20-foot screened porch. Two staircases lead to three bedrooms, office and large bathroom upstairs. Hardwood floors in foyer, living and dining rooms. Five walk-in closets, eight ceiling fans, huge attic storage. Sprinklers in front and back. Six miles to campus. $217,000. Call 791-7501 or ext. 3712.

For rent - 1BR apartment in New York City. Available for daily or weekly rental. Just off Union Square. Five-minute walk to East and West Villages. Call Kathleen, evenings, at 509-3026.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Randall Library Intersession Hours

Randall Library will observe the following intersession schedule: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. July 31 through Aug. 4, Aug. 7-11 and Aug. 14 and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Aug. 16 and closed July 29 and 30, Aug. 5, 6, 12 and 13.

State Health Plan Changes

A change to the state health plan now allows up to six outpatient mental health and chemical dependency visits without an established diagnosis. Two visits are for assessment or evaluation, and the remaining four visits are for counseling related to situations that do not warrant a definitive mental health or chemical dependency diagnosis. The change is designed for early intervention of employees or dependents who are at risk to help prevent mental health or dependency problems from developing. Additional visits require a diagnosis; more than 26 visits in the plan year require approval from the mental health case manager. All visits are subject to a $10 co-payment.

In addition, Pap tests are now covered under the once-a-year $150 wellness benefit for all ages.

Health Plan Representative on Campus Tomorrow

Kitty Williams, a representative from the state health plan, will be on campus from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. July 28 in the University Union, Room 100. She will answer questions from employees affected by the discontinuation of United Health Care and Doctor's Health Plan.

Service Awards Luncheon

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall. The luncheon was previously scheduled for Aug. 10.

Work-study Reminder

Departments should list work-study and work assistant positions for the fall semester with career services as soon as possible. Direct questions to Frances Carr at ext. 3174.

Regalia Rental

Faculty who need to rent regalia for convocation Aug. 15 should contact the bookstore by Aug. 1. For more information, call ext. 4021.

Innovation Grant Proposals Sought

The Information Technology Systems Division, through its Committee on Information Technology Innovation, is accepting grant proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Faculty, staff or students can submit proposals for funding ranging up to $20,000. Applications are due by Sept. 1. For more information, contact Kim Kelly, program development coordinator, ITSD or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html. This is the second year of the innovation grants. Last year ITSD awarded almost $200,000 in funding.

Staff Training

Creating Web Pages Using Microsoft FrontPage, 2 to 4 p.m. Aug. 7.

Managing Today's Workforce, 9 to 11 a.m. Aug. 24

Microsoft PowerPoint, 10 a.m. to noon Aug. 3.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
20242	Telephone Operator	July 28
20256	Applications Analyst Programmer II	July 28
20262	Program Assist. IV	July 28
21007	Irrigation/Spray Specialist	July 28
21008	GVU Program Assistant	July 28
21009	University Housekeeping Administrator III	July 28
21011	Admin. Assistant I	Aug. 4
21012	Laborer	Aug. 4
21013	Temporary Laborer	Aug. 4
21014	Research Technician	Aug. 1

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

UNCW IN THE NEWS

The July 14 issue of the Chronicle of Higher Education featured excerpts from Oliver Stone's USA: Film, History and Controversy edited by Robert Toplin, history. The work dealt with Stone's views on interpreting history in films and books.

David Lindquist, biological sciences, was quoted in the July 19 Wilmington Star-News article "Shark Attacks Buck Long Odds."

Chancellor James R. Leutze and John Cavanaugh, provost, were quoted in the July 21 Wilmington Star-News article "UNCW Growth Could Outstrip Its Proposed Construction."

Chancellor James R. Leutze was featured in the July 22 Wilmington Star-News article "UNCW Officials Plan Strategy to Promote Bonds."

Richard Dillaman, biological sciences, Jeffrey Wright, CMS, and Chancellor James R. Leutze were featured in the July 23 Wilmington Star-News article "Bringing Biotechnology to Wilmington."

Larry Cahoon, biological sciences, and Chris Dumas and Robert Burrus, business, were co-authors of the editorial "It Just Might Be Possible to Drain Power From Hurricanes" published in the July 24 Wilmington Star-News. Jerrold Harrison, a fluid dynamics engineer at GE, was also a co-author.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 4 August 3, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Chris Wallace to Speak at Convocation

UNCW will begin the 2000-01 academic year with its annual convocation ceremony at 11 a.m. Aug. 15 in Trask Coliseum. The keynote speaker will be Chris Wallace, a correspondent for ABC News.

Wallace, who joined ABC News in 1989, became the chief correspondent for 20/20 in 1998. During the 1994-95 season for PrimeTime Live, Wallace reported on a wide range of investigative stories that spotlighted waste and fraud in the Medicare, food stamp and federal disability programs. Other reports he conducted were a hidden-camera investigation into gender bias, baggage theft by employees of U.S. airlines and the spread of "superbugs" resistant to treatment by antibiotics.

Wallace

During his years with PrimeTime Live, Wallace received two Emmy Awards, two Investigative Reporters and Editors Awards and the National Press Club Award for consumer journalism. Prior to joining ABC News, Wallace was chief White House correspondent for NBC News and an anchor for Meet the Press.

As the start of a new academic year, convocation is a time for students to reflect upon the academic challenges that await them. This year's event will feature a pledge by faculty and incoming freshmen regarding the university's academic expectations.

Bertha Boykin Todd, a retired educator and longtime university supporter, will be awarded an honorary doctorate in humanities. During a 40-year career in the New Hanover County School system, Todd served as a teacher, librarian, counselor, principal and administrator. She has been a member of numerous community organizations including the UNCW Foundation Board. The honor recognizes her diligence throughout her career to improve race relations in Wilmington, New Hanover County and North Carolina.

In addition to celebrating the start of a new academic year, UNCW will recognize teaching excellence at its fall faculty meeting at 2 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium. The following awards will be presented:

- Board of Trustees' Teaching Excellence
- Distinguished Teaching Professorship
- Faculty Scholarship
- Chancellor's Teaching Excellence
- Graduate Mentor Award

UNCW-TV will tape convocation for broadcast on The Learning Channel, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The ceremony will air at 8 p.m. Aug. 21, 4 p.m. Aug. 22 and 9 p.m. Aug. 23.

Leadership Wilmington Program Seeking Class Participants

Aug. 31 is the deadline to enroll in Leadership Wilmington 2000, a program whose mission for the past two decades has been to provide a continuous diverse supply of creative leaders to the community.

Designed to educate participants about the challenges and needs of the community as well as the dynamics of social and economic change in the region, Leadership Wilmington starts with a two-day retreat Sept. 21 and 22. The program is divided into 13 community sessions, a wrap-up session and graduation in March. It is sponsored jointly by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation Inc. and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

Session topics include "Community Background and Vision," "Community Diversity and Its Implications" and "Planning for Growth and Housing Challenges."

Candidates are sought from corporate, educational, professional, nonprofit and governmental sectors. Selection criteria include leadership potential, community involvement, accomplishments and recommendations. Tuition is $550 and can be paid by the participant, a sponsor or through a scholarship provided by ALLTEL.

For an application or more information, contact Diana Corbett, program manager, at 762-2611 ext. 213.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will be a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Aug. 3, 10, 17 and 24 on The Learning Network, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program, hosted by Betty Ann Sanders, features a discussion of Wilkes' book Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life. Panelists include Harry Tuchmayer, assistant director of the New Hanover County Library; Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books; and Ben Steelman, reporter and book critic for the Wilmington Star-News.

Golf Tournament

The Seahawk Golf Challenge will be held at noon Aug. 21 at River Landing, located 35 miles north of Wilmington off I-40. Proceeds will benefit the Calvin Lane Scholarship fund for men's and women's golf. For more information, contact Jan Mann at ext. 4163 or the Seahawk Club at ext. 3571.

Seahawk Club Campaign Kickoff

To kick off its 2000-01 membership campaign, the Seahawk Club will host a cookout from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Aug. 29 at the athletic fields. Games, food and entertainment will be provided.

Art Exhibits

"The Sacred Enshrined," an exhibit by Maike Walbrecht, will be displayed Aug. 7 through Sept. 18 in the University Union Living Room. A "Meet the Artist" reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Aug. 9 in the living room.

The display "Animal, Vegetable and Mineral: Selected Works by Catherine Broadhead," will be exhibited Aug. 8 through Sept. 18 in the Warwick Center. An reception for the artist will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Aug. 8 in the center lobby.

21st Century Discipline

The Watson School of Education is hosting several programs for area educators featuring Jane Bluestein, a former classroom teacher from inner-city Pittsburgh, who specializes in programs and resources on relationship building, effective instruction and guidance and personal development. Faculty are invited to attend "21st Century Discipline: Building Student Commitment, Responsibility and Self-management" from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Aug. 15 at the Hilton Wilmington Riverside.

Bluestein will discuss preventative "win-win" techniques that encourage student responsibility, self-management, on-task behavior and accountability. As the head of Instructional Support Services Inc., a consulting and resource firm in Albuquerque, N.M., Bluestein has worked worldwide and spoken internationally.

There is no charge for faculty; however, those planning to attend are asked to make lunch reservations by calling Diane Calhoun at ext. 7244.

Bluestein will also present "Grown-ups, Kids and Boundaries: Inspiring Responsibility and Cooperation in an Atmosphere of Love, Consideration and Mutual Respect" at 7 p.m. Aug. 15 for parents and other child caregivers in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. A third talk, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Aug. 16 at the Hilton Wilmington Riverside, will focus on "Creating Emotionally Safe Schools."

Thirsty Tome

Randall Library is hosting the Thirsty Tome, a coffeehouse-style gathering where published students, faculty and staff will read from their works, at 7 p.m. Aug. 17 on the library's first floor. Refreshments will be served.

Baseball Showcase

UNCW's Brooks Field is the location for the fifth annual East Coast Professional Baseball Showcase which is underway through Saturday.

The event, in its third year at UNCW, attracts top high school players in the Eastern United States. In addition to the 179 players scheduled to attend, college coaches, professional scouts and representatives from several professional baseball teams, including the Arizona Diamondbacks and New York Mets, will be on hand. Tickets are $15 per day and are on sale at the field ticket office. For more information, call ext. 3570.

International Friendship Program Seeks Volunteers

The Office of International Programs is seeking volunteers to participate in the International Friendship Program. Participants would help international students adjust to their new environment on the UNCW campus and in the Wilmington community.

Approximately 45 students will arrive between Aug. 10 and 12. International Friendship participants can arrange to meet students at the airport and provide transportation to the university and will host off-campus experiences such as occasional meals together, sight-seeing trips or other family activities throughout the year. The students will live in on-campus housing and attend UNCW up to one academic year.

Individuals, couples or families interested in joining the program should contact Heather Smith, Office of International Programs, at ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh.

WSO Auditions

The Wilmington Symphony Orchestra will hold auditions Aug. 15 in Kenan Hall. For an audition packet, call 791-9262.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Boys Choir Auditions

The Wilmington Boys Choir will hold auditions at 5 p.m. Aug. 8 in Kenan Hall. Membership is open to boys age nine and older. Musical experience is helpful but not required for the audition. For more information, call Ann Plage at 392-1500.

Ballroom Dance

A beginning ballroom dance class, taught by Verna Jordan, will be offered from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. Sundays Aug. 6. through Sept. 17. For cost or registration information, call the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, at ext. 3195.

Common Reading Program

The UNCW Leadership Center and the English Department have formed a common reading program for the fall 2000 semester. Faculty and staff are encouraged to use the works of Jonathan Kozol in classes, seminars and activities. Kozol will present "Ordinary Resurrections" at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Auditorium. His works include Death at an Early Age, Savage Inequalities, Rachel and Her Children: Homeless Families in America and Amazing Grace: The Lives of Children and the Conscience of a Nation.

Arts in Action

The UNCW Arts in Action will kick off its fourth performing arts season Sept. 23 with a performance by Buckwheat Zydeco, a band known for its accordion-powered Creole dance music. Other performers scheduled are Transactors Improv Company, Oct. 21; the Ahn Trio, Nov. 18; Jellyeye Drum Theatre, Jan. 20; Andes Manta, Feb. 17; and Leahy, March 31. All performances at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium except Buckwheat Zydeco which will be in Trask Coliseum. To order season tickets, call the Kenan Auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Tom Barth, political science, received $2,000 from the Odum Institute for Research in Social Science at UNC Chapel Hill to participate in an inter-university network to track welfare reform in North Carolina.

Earl Sheridan, political science, received $1,800 from the American Political Science Association Small Research Grant Competition for the project "Race and the Rhetoric of Reaction."

William Cleary, earth sciences and CMS, received $54,710 from NC Sea Grant for the project "Relationship of Hazard Zones, Shoreline Erosion, and Post-Storm Recovery to the Geologic Framework of Selected Shoreline Segments in Southeastern North Carolina."

Joseph Kishton, psychology, received $8,000 from the National Endowment for the Arts to preserve all existing audio recordings of the author Henry Miller. UNCW's Randall Library and the Henry Miller Library in Big Sur, Calif., will serve as the two repositories for the estimated 80 hours of Miller recordings that currently exist.

Steven Miller, NURC/UNCW, received $1,586,636 from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration for annual funding for NURC/UNCW.

William Overman, psychology, received $63,762 in supplemental funding from the National Institute of Child Health for the project "Hormones and Social Factors in Gender-Specific Cognition."

Walter Conser, philosophy and religion, received the Lower Cape Fear Historical Society Cup for the exhibit and catalogue "Sacred Spaces: Architecture and Religion in Historic Wilmington" on display at the Bellamy Mansion Museum.

Alessandro Bocconcelli, CMS, received $3,325 in supplemental funding from the Woods Hole Oceangraphic Institution for the project "Instrumentation and Logistics for Towed Sound Source."

Jessica Burtt, CROSSROADS, received $60,000 from the North Carolina Governor's Crime Commission for the project "CROSSROADS Co-op: Substance Abuse and Peer Education."

James Merritt and Marian McPhaul, CMS, received $25,000 from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation for the Lower Cape Fear River Program.

Darrell Irwin, Cecil Willis and Ronald Everett, sociology and criminal justice, received $53,912 from the North Carolina Governor's Crime Commission for the project "A Study of the Effectiveness of the Wilmington Gun Violence Reduction Project." They also received $13,477 from the Pritzker Cousins Foundation and $4,492 from New Hanover County for the project.

Ann Pabst and Shelley Etnier, biological sciences, received $32,416 from the National Institutes of Health for the project "Ontogenetic Variation of Axial Stability in Dolphins."

David Webster, biological sciences, received $4,000 from the Division of Coastal Management for the project "Effects of Beach Renourishment on Nest Site Selection, Hatching Success and Sex Determination in the Loggerhead Sea Turtle, Caretta caretta, on Masonboro Island."

James Merritt, CMS, received $40,000 from the North Carolina Division of Coastal Management for administration and operation of the Coastal Reserve Program.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Service Awards Luncheon

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall. The luncheon was previously scheduled for Aug. 10.

Work-study Reminder

Departments should list work-study and work assistant positions for the fall semester with career services as soon as possible. Direct questions to Frances Carr at ext. 3174.

Innovation Grant Proposals Sought

The Information Technology Systems Division, through its Committee on Information Technology Innovation, is accepting grant proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Faculty, staff or students can submit proposals for funding ranging up to $20,000. Applications are due by Sept. 1. For more information, contact Kim Kelly, program development coordinator, ITSD or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html. This is the second year of the innovation grants. Last year ITSD awarded almost $200,000 in funding.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 12.

Creating Web Pages Using Microsoft FrontPage, 2 to 4 p.m. Aug. 7.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Managing Today's Workforce, 9 to 11 a.m. Aug. 24

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Janet Costley, Randall Library; Evgeny Dafner, CMS; Keri Franklin, auxiliary services; Sandra Marlow, telecommunications; Edith Skipper, curricular studies; Stacey Smith, University Union; Marla Trobaugh, mathematics and statistics; and John Wright, housing and residence life.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21011 Admin. Assistant I	Aug. 4
21012 Laborer	Aug. 4
21013 Temporary Laborer	Aug. 4
21016 Office Assistant III	Aug. 11
21017 Physician Extender I	Aug. 11
21018 Project Assessor	Aug. 11
21019 Office Assistant III	Aug. 11

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

CPA Review Course

The Becker Conviser CPA Review course will be conducted from 6 to 10 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays Aug. 14 through Oct. 25 in Cameron Hall, Room 212. The course, offered through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education and the Department of Accountancy and Business Law, is designed for candidates preparing to take the November 2000 Uniform CPA Examination. For more information, call 1-800-316-3119 or contact Richard Roscher, accountancy, at ext. 3507

Department Name Change

Effective fall 2000, the Department of Production and Decision Sciences in the Cameron School of Business will become the Department of Information Systems and Operations Management. All faculty and staff telephone numbers remain the same.

SUMMER ADS

The Aug. 10 issue of the Campus Communique will be the last edition to feature summer ads.

Wanted - Two young female goats to eat kudzu. Will buy or lease. Contact Gloria at ext. 3876 or e-mail willisg.

For sale - Two-story Cape Cod house, 23rd Street. More than 2,500 square feet, deep lot, storage shed. 3BR, two baths, all hardwood floors. Tons of storage, lots of built-ins. Marble fireplace, solid wood-paneled den. All appliances included. $136,500. Contact Gloria at ext. 3876 or e-mail willisg.

For rent - 2BR, two-bath, 900-square-foot condominium with fireplace. Located near campus. Available Aug. 20. Contact Dianne at ext. 3065 or 392-2959.

For sale - Top-of-the-line king-size bed, excellent condition. Call 796-1447, leave message.

Wanted - Family seeking a 3BR, furnished house or condominium to rent Oct. 1 through March 1. Call ext. 3712 or 791-7501.

For sale - 4BR, two-and-a-half bath home in Greenville Estates. 2,500 square feet. Two-car garage. $299,000. Call Jeanette Golder, Intracoastal Realty Corp., at 256-6659.

Great investment or build on 2.7-acre wooded lot in Tennessee, 25 miles from Boone. Under $24,000. Call 270-9796, leave message.

For rent - 1BR apartment in New York City. Available for daily or weekly rental. Just off Union Square. Five-minute walk to East and West Villages. Call Kathleen, evenings, at 509-3026.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement
Vol. XXX, No. 5 August 10, 2000
Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Annual Awards Luncheon Recognizes Employee Service

UNCW held its 25th annual Service Awards Luncheon Wednesday recognizing 84 employees for achieving a five-year anniversary level of state service and 32 retiring employees. This year's honorees were:

Five Years
Linda Adkins
Sandra Anderson
Ann Beall
John Brayford
Stephen Buecker
Tracie Chadwick
Gayle Christman
James Cooper
Stephen Crandall
Gay Davis
Julie Davis
Samuel Davis
Kea Foreman
Douglas Freeman
David Freshwater
Toni Hardin
Stanley Harts
Roman Kolodij
Justin Lawhead
Dana Little
Mary Anne Martin
Matthew McIver
Willie Nixon
Patsy Parker
Cathi Phillips
Warren Rice
Muriel Rockwell
Kurtis Roots
Jimmie Small
Nancy Spirakis
Fred Sullivan
Jill Tootoo

10 Years
Dinah Allen
Alex Astrab
Patricia Barker
Kathryn Batten
Sharon Boyd
V. Susan Chinnici
Karen Colvin
Judy Connelly
Evelyn Evans
Mary Everett
Ernest Gagum
Lynne Goodspeed
Celestine Jones
Terri Joynes
Lawana McLean
Michael McQuery
Edward Meyland
Richard Milar
Willina Mitchell
Allen Sanders
Faye Wells
David Wuske

15 Years
Sharon Connelly
Charlotte Durbino
Luther Edwards
Ellen Gurganious
Kenneth Johns
Elwood Jones
Donald Mintz
Yvonne Smith
Georgie Stephens
Kimberly Stowell
Wilhelmenia Toney
Lisa Troy
Patricia Tyson
Debra Williams

20 Years
Shearon Appleton
Claudius Brown
Patricia Geiser
Susan Goodrum
Paula Greene
Nancy Hill
Elizabeth Hosier
Nelva Malpass
Christie Prentice
Miriam Raynor
Peggy Segars
Donald White
Jimcy Williams

25 Years
Mary Corcoran
Naomi Irvin

30 Years
Grace Corbett

Retirees
Sheila A. Adams
Syed S. Ahmad
Paz I. Bartolome
David S. Bauer
Eric G. Bolen
Michael Bradley
Jack D. Baker
Frank L. Chapman
Irvin G. Clator
Douglas L. Freeman
John Geddie
Robert Y. George
Ethel T. Gerald
Fred W. Green
Barbara Greim
Roy E. Harkin
Donald R. Hawley
Kay F. Jackson
Louise Jackson
Stephen D. LeQuire
Thomas C. Loftfield
Celeste Millen
Paul A. Miller
Don W. Norris
Walter T. Rogers
Cornelia L. Royal
David B. Roye
John L. Stokes
Fred T. Sullivan
Sally A. Sullivan
Robert O. Walton
Eleanor Wright

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Convocation, Free Picnic

Chris Wallace, a correspondent for ABC News, will deliver the keynote address at convocation at 11 a.m. Aug. 15 in Trask Coliseum. Following the ceremony, faculty, staff and students are invited to a free campus picnic at Eaton Plaza. The Schoolboys will provide entertainment. Due to the picnic, Eaton Plaza will be closed Tuesday.

In addition to celebrating the start of a new academic year, UNCW will recognize teaching excellence at its fall faculty meeting at 2 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium. UNCW-TV will tape convocation for broadcast on The Learning Network, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The ceremony will air at 8 p.m. Aug. 21, 4 p.m. Aug. 22 and 9 p.m. Aug. 23.

SEANC Representative

Spillman Grice, membership regional representative for the State Employees Association of North Carolina, will be on campus from 2 to 4 p.m. today in the human resources training room to provide information about SEANC.

Honors Scholars Program Reception

The campus community is invited to a reception from 4 to 5 p.m. Aug. 30 in the Warwick Center Ballroom to meet new and continuing honors students. Fifty-six students completed the general honors curriculum during the last year and will receive honors pins and certificates. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call ext 4181.

Golf Tournament

The Seahawk Golf Challenge will be held at noon Aug. 21 at River Landing, located 35 miles north of Wilmington off I-40. Proceeds will benefit the Calvin Lane Scholarship fund for men's and women's golf. For more information, contact Jan Mann at ext. 4163 or the Seahawk Club at ext. 3571.

Johnson to Assist Surgeon General

James Johnson, professor of psychology, was selected to assist U.S. Surgeon General David Satcher with his latest Report on Youth Violence. Johnson, who has done extensive research on the impact of media exposure on violent attitudes, particularly violent news and rap music, will serve on the committee which will examine the role of media influences on violent behavior.

Jazz Ensembles Auditions

Auditions to perform in one of the UNCW jazz ensembles will be from 5 to 8 p.m. Aug. 16 in Kenan Hall, Room 111, for community musicians and 4 to 9 p.m. Aug. 17 in Kenan Hall, Room 114, for UNCW students. Musicians interested in auditioning should make an appointment at least 24 hours in advance with the Music Department by calling ext. 3390. Performing groups include a big band, jazz combos and a jazz-fusion group.

Newman Center Masses

The Newman Catholic Center will hold a special mass at 4:30 p.m. Aug. 15 at the center, 4802 College Acres Drive. In addition, the center will start weekly masses at 6 p.m. Sundays beginning Aug. 20 and weekly Taize prayer sessions at 7 p.m. Wednesdays starting Aug. 23.

SEANC Raffle

The State Employees Association of North Carolina District 62 is selling raffle tickets to benefit its scholarship fund. The grand prize is a 2000 Ford Ranger truck; first prize is a 25-inch color television. Tickets are $1 each. Call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136 or Gloria Crowell at ext. 2301.

Organizational Meeting

The UNCW Mixed Bowling League will hold its organizational meeting at 6 p.m. Aug. 24 at Cardinal Lanes on Shipyard Boulevard.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will be a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Aug. 10, 17 and 24 on The Learning Network, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program, hosted by Betty Ann Sanders, features a discussion of Wilkes' book Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life. Panelists include Harry Tuchmayer, assistant director of the New Hanover County Library; Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books; and Ben Steelman, reporter and book critic for the Wilmington Star-News.

21st Century Discipline

The Watson School of Education is hosting Jane Bluestein, a former classroom teacher from inner-city Pittsburgh, who specializes in programs and resources on relationship building, effective instruction and guidance and personal development. Faculty are invited to attend "21st Century Discipline: Building Student Commitment, Responsibility and Self-management" from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Aug. 15 at the Hilton Wilmington Riverside.

Bluestein will discuss preventative "win-win" techniques that encourage student responsibility, self-management, on-task behavior and accountability. As the head of Instructional Support Services Inc., a consulting and resource firm in Albuquerque, N.M., Bluestein has worked worldwide and spoken internationally.

There is no charge for faculty; however, those planning to attend are asked to make lunch reservations by calling Diane Calhoun at ext. 7244.

Bluestein will also present "Grownups, Kids and Boundaries: Inspiring Responsibility and Cooperation in an Atmosphere of Love, Consideration and Mutual Respect" at 7 p.m. Aug. 15 for parents and other child care givers in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. A third talk, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Aug. 16 at the Hilton Wilmington Riverside, will focus on "Creating Emotionally Safe Schools."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Thirsty Tome

Randall Library is hosting the Thirsty Tome, a coffeehouse-style gathering where published students, faculty and staff will read from their works, at 7 p.m. Aug. 17 on the library's first floor. Refreshments will be served.

Seahawk Club Membership Campaign

To kick off its 2000-01 membership campaign, the Seahawk Club will host a cookout from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Aug. 29 at the atheltic fields. Games, food and entertainment will be provided.

Art Exhibits

"The Sacred Enshrined," an exhibit by Maike Walbrecht, and "Animal, Vegetable and Mineral: Selected Works" by Catherine Broadhead, will be displayed through Sept. 18 in the University Union Living Room and Warwick Center Lobby respectively.

Leadership Wilmington Seeking Participants

Aug. 31 is the deadline to enroll in Leadership Wilmington 2000, a program whose mission for the past two decades has been to provide a continuous diverse supply of creative leaders to the community.

Designed to educate participants about the challenges and needs of the community as well as the dynamics of social and economic change in the region, Leadership Wilmington starts with a two-day retreat Sept. 21-22. The program is divided into 13 community sessions which will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at various sites, a wrap-up session and graduation in March. It is sponsored jointly by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation Inc. and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

Candidates are sought from corporate, educational, professional, non-profit and governmental sectors. Selection criteria include leadership potential, community involvement, accomplishments and recommendations. Tuition is $550 and can be paid by the participant, a sponsor or through a scholarship provided by Alltel.

For an application or more infomation, contact Diana Corbett, program manager, at 762-2611 ext. 213.

Buckwheat Zydeco to Kick Off Arts in Action Series

The UNCW Arts in Action will kick off its fourth performing arts season Sept. 23 with a performance by Buckwheat Zydeco, a band known for its accordion-powered Creole dance music. Other performers scheduled are Transactors Improv Company, Oct. 21; the Ahn Trio, Nov. 18; Jellyeye Drum Theatre, Jan. 20; Andes Manta, Feb. 17; and Leahy, March 31. All performances are at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium except Buckwheat Zydeco which will be in Trask Coliseum. To order season tickets, call the Kenan Auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Philip Furia, creative writing, lectured on American popular songs to the Ladies Concordia of the Temple of Israel, the Adult Scholars Program and the American Association of University Women. He appeared on UNCW-TV's Let's Read and rebroadcasts of a series of programs about songwriters on NPR's "Fresh Air with Terry Gross." He narrated the performance "The Poets and Composers of Tin Pan Alley" with the American Music Trio at the National Music Teachers' convention in Minneapolis and presented a paper on teaching literature in creative writing courses at the national convention of the Associated Writing Programs in Kansas City. His entry on Lerner and Loewe's Brigadoon was published in The Oxford Companion to Fairy Tales.

Laela Sayigh, biological sciences, received $4,900 from the Fishery Resource Grant Program, N.C. Sea Grant, for the project "Mark-recapture Survey of Bottlenose Dolphins in the Bays and Sounds of N.C."

Steven Emslie, biological sciences, received $4,200 from N.C. Sea Grant for the project "Investigations of Genotoxic Insult in Royal Terns Following Hurricane Floyd."

Antonio Puente, psychology, received $3,250 in supplemental funding to assist with the quarterly scientific journal Neuropsychology Review of which Puente is editor.

Andrew Shepard, NURC, gave the invited presentation "Undersea Gas Hydrate: Interaction with Climate and Deep-sea Biology" at the Department of Energy's Gulf of Mexico hydrates workshop in Houston, Tex.

James Megivern, philosophy and religion, was keynote speaker at the Wilmington Civitan Club Citzenship Award luncheon honoring Bertha Todd.

Lynne Snowden, sociology and criminal justice, had the article "Surveying Sexual Harassment in the Law Enforcement Workplace" published in the June 2000 issue of The Police Chief, Journal of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Corporal Tim Fuss of the New Hanover County Sheriff's Department was co-author of the paper.

Bruce Ragon, public service and extended education, was one of 15 higher education representatives invited to participate in the American Cancer Society's National School Health Coordinator Leadership Institute in Orlando, Fla. The institute brings together school health leaders from around the country in an effort to promote the American Cancer Society's coordinated school health education efforts.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

IRB Approval Needed for Human Research

The Institutional Review Board will meet Sept. 1 to review proposals involving human subjects. Faculty, staff and students planning research or teaching classes that involve human subjects this semester should submit proposals for IRB approval by Aug. 25. Proposals and forms should be e-mailed to M. J. Carver at carvermj with the original signed protocol forms and project summary sent to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion. Interactive forms are available on the university World Wide Web site at http://www.uncwil.edu/ora/forms or send 10 copies to the Office of Research Administration. Direct questions to Candace Gauthier at ext. 3558 or M. J. Carver at ext. 3809.

Retirement Reception

A retirement reception in honor of Thomas Loftfield, anthropology, will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Aug. 17 in the University Union Living Room. Loftfield is retiring after 25 years of service.

Work-study Reminder

Departments should list work-study and work assistant positions for the fall semester with career services as soon as possible. Direct questions to Frances Carr at ext. 3174.

Grant Proposals Sought

The Information Technology Systems Division, through its Committee on Information Technology Innovation, is accepting grant proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Faculty, staff or students can submit proposals for funding ranging up to $20,000. Applications are due by Sept. 1. For more information, contact Kim Kelly, program development coordinator, ITSD or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html. This is the second year of the innovation grants. Last year ITSD awarded almost $200,000 in funding.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 12.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Managing Today's Workforce, 9 to 11 a.m. Aug. 24

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Lee Graves, campus recreation, and Julie Kessler, Michael Mooney and Jacqueline Robinson, physical plant.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21007 Trades Worker I	Aug. 18
21016 Office Assistant III	Aug. 11
21017 Physician Extender I	Aug. 11
21018 Project Assessor	Aug. 11
21019 Office Assistant III	Aug. 11
21023 Accounting Tech. III	Aug. 18
21024 Storeroom Manager	Aug. 18
21025 Police Officer II	Aug. 18
21026 Processing Assist. V	Aug. 18
210127 Director of Facilities Finance and Administration	Aug. 18

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

SUMMER ADS

This is the last issue of the Campus Communique which will feature summer ads.

For rent - Sept. 2000 through May 2001. 4BR, two-bath beachfront house. Furnished, very clean and quiet. Located in Carolina Beach near lake. $1,250 per month. No smoking and no pets. Contact Bill or Debby Farwell at 458-8635 or 350-2072 ext. 217.

Wanted - Family seeking a 3BR house or condominium to rent Oct. 1 through March 1. Call ext. 3712 or 791-7501.

For sale - Dining room set. Table, six chairs and china cabinet. $450. Call 792-0507.

Yard sale - 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Aug. 12 at the Newman Campus Catholic Ministry.

For sale - Sunfish sailboat. Yellow and orange. Not perfect, but ready to sail. No trailer. $350. Call ext. 3007 or e-mail coxd.

For rent - 1BR, one-bath house to share in Kure Beach. $425 per month includes water and trash. Two blocks from the beach. Must be cat lover. Contact Lee at ext. 4168 or 458-1824.

Wanted - Two young female goats to eat kudzu. Will buy or lease. Contact Gloria at ext. 3876 or e-mail willisg.

For sale - Two-story Cape Cod house, 23rd Street. More than 2,500 square feet, deep lot, storage shed. 3BR, two baths, all hardwood floors. Tons of storage, lots of built-ins. Marble fireplace, solid wood-paneled den. All appliances included. $136,500. Contact Gloria at ext. 3876 or e-mail willisg.

For sale - 1986 Volvo Wagon 240D. Looks and runs great. One owner. 129,000 miles. Well maintained. Five speed manual transmission. $2,700. Contact Vince Howe at ext. 3882.

For sale - Motorcycle, 1996 Honda Shadow VLX 600 Deluxe. Black, 5,000 miles, immaculate, $4,000. Canoe, Grumman aluminum 17-foot double ender, 5 years old, $400. Saxophone, Bundy alto with case, extras, used in middle school, excellent condition, $500. Call ext. 3507 or 392-2540.

For sale - 1992 Pontiac Bonneville SE; Blue exterior and interior. Looks and runs great, V-6 3.8 engine, all power options, alloy wheels, cruise control, air conditioning. $3,800 or best offer. Call Steve 799-1589 in the evening.

For sale - 2,000-square-foot house. 4906 College Acres Drive. 4BR, two baths, den, fireplace, garage. Walk or bike to campus, stores, restaurants. Available July/August 2001. Contact Brooks and Mary Kay Dodson at ext. 3769 or 791-6807.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement | Vol. XXX, No. 6 August 17, 2000 | Phillip Brown, editor

Judy Siko Named 2000 Staff Award of Excellence Recipient

Judith Siko, an accounting technician in the Division for Academic Affairs, received the 2000 UNCW Staff Award of Excellence. Chancellor James R. Leutze presented the award at the university's 25th annual Service Awards Program Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall.

Siko, one of 14 nominees, was named in the "outstanding state service" category. The honor recognized her efforts to rework the division's accounting procedures to make the financial data easier to assimilate and present. The change enabled state resources to be expended more efficiently. Her nomination letter also recognized her volunteer efforts at the university and in the community. Siko assists with the university's commencement ceremonies twice a year and freshman move-in. She also volunteers with the American Cancer Society Festival of Trees and Relay for Life, the American Red Cross, New Hanover Regional Medical Center and other local organizations.

The UNCW Staff Award of Excellence is presented to an employee whose service to the university exemplifies either outstanding state service, innovations, public service, human relations or safety/heroism. Other nominees were Linda Adkins, administrative manager for the College of Arts and Sciences; Peggy Astraikis, information systems liaison for the physical plant; Emily J. Bliss, senior associate director of financial aid and veterans services; Judy W. Bowers, director of the Student Health Center; Elizabeth Greene, benefits counselor, human resources; A. C. Hosea, office assistant in the Department of Curricular Studies in the Watson School of Education; Terri A. Joynes, director of advancement services; Lawana Kay McLean, administrative secretary in the College of Arts and Sciences; Gail Morrison, accounting clerk, physical plant; Thom D. Rakes, director of career services; Kate Temoney, coordinator for commuter and non-traditional student services; H. E. "Hunter" Thompson, director of community outreach services in the Division for Public Service and Extended Education; and Pamela B. Whitlock, director of the Office of Research Administration.

As this year's recipient, Siko received a $1,500 cash award presented on behalf of the UNCW Board of Trustees, a reserved parking space for one year, three days of vacation leave, a presentation clock, a framed certificate and her name on a perpetual plaque in the chancellor's office. The recipient of the UNCW Staff Award of Excellence becomes the university's nominee for the Governor's Award of Excellence, which is presented in September.

Ann Hancock, UNCW's head women's basketball coach, served as mistress of ceremonies. In addition to recognizing 84 employees for achieving five-year anniversary levels of state service and 32 retiring employees, members of the university's Hurricane Emergency Response Team received special certificates signed by Gov. James Hunt and Chancellor Leutze. Employees honored were John Austin, LaRonda Brewer, Stephanie Sue Helmers, Chris Kaberline, Eddie Lovett, Lee Pridgen, Bradley Reid, Jane Scott and Tierza Watts, student affairs, and Charles Bey, Todd Curry, Billy Dawson, David Donaldson, Bruce Fowler, Jeremy Gibbs, Jeremy Gootee, Tommy Guinn, Joe Hack, Peter Hayden, Jay Headrick, Annie Holloway, Wayne Howell, Melanie Kelley, Don Lanier, Jeff Linney, Gunnar Matthews, Don Mintz, Robert Moulton, Mike Nance, Laura Powell, Bob Riley, Ronald Rhodes, Tracey Rommel, James Rowell, Osey Sanders, Dick Scott, Derek Spencer, Michael Spencer, Amanda Stilwell, Bill Vereen, Cynthia Young, Robert Warren, Charles Willis, Tom Williamson and Linda Wright, business affairs.

Judy Siko, right, received the 2000 UNCW Staff Award of Excellence. Chancellor James R. Leutze presented the honor during the annual awards luncheon Aug. 9.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Ed Lab Tutoring

The Education Lab will tutor children grades K-8 in elementary reading/language arts, math and diagnostic assessment Sept. 5 through Nov. 16. UNCW education students will be matched one-on-one with a child for the tutoring sessions. Children attend one-hour sessions once or twice a week between 3 and 6 p.m. The cost is $187.50 for 25 hours of elementary reading/math tutoring, $150 for 20 hours elementary reading/language arts tutoring and $75 for either 10 hours of elementary math or 10 hours of middle grades reading. Ten hours of diagnostic assessment is included. To register, call ext. 3633.

Film Program Director

Philip Furia, creative writing, was appointed director of the Film Studies Program which offers an interdisciplinary minor utilizing faculty in the Departments of Communication Studies, Art and Theatre, English, History, among others, as well as film professionals from the local motion picture industry. Furia, who succeeds Ellen Walters, served as interim chair of the Creative Writing Department and English Department.

"I'm happy to lend my administrative experience to help this program develop into a major that links UNCW with Wilmington's vital film industry," said Furia. "We have a real opportunity to develop a nationally prominent program, given the many distinguished filmmakers who live and work here and who want to share their expertise with our students as well as the number and variety of faculty who teach courses in film history, film aesthetics and the business of film."

Newman Center Masses

The Newman Catholic Center will hold weekly masses at 6 p.m. Sundays starting Aug. 20 and weekly Taize prayer sessions at 7 p.m. Wednesdays starting Aug. 23.

Postal Reminders

To ensure proper mail delivery, departments should e-mail postal services names of new faculty or staff members. Direct e-mails to Doris Moore at moored. In addition, to speed delivery of campus mail and receiving mail, include department names.

Staff members who are taking classes will not be assigned a post office box.

Counseling Director

Dr. Anne Cowardin-Bach was named director of the UNCW Counseling Center. Prior to joining UNCW, she was associate director and director of training at the University of Wyoming Counseling Center.

Parnell to Head Library Reference

Jerry Parnell is manager of reference services at Randall Library. He was previously manager of the library's special collections. He can be reached at ext. 3680 or e-mail parnellg.

Italian Heritage Society

The Italian Heritage Society of the Cape Fear will meet at 3 p.m. Aug. 20 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Lynn Benson, a genealogist, will discuss how to trace ancestry. There will also be a video featuring Bob Villa discussing how the architecture of Venice influenced the design of the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C. For more information, call Annette Coneglio Anderson at ext. 3547.

Honors Scholars Reception

The campus community is invited to a reception from 4 to 5 p.m. Aug. 30 in the Warwick Center Ballroom to meet new and continuing honors students. Fifty-six students completed the general honors curriculum during the last year and will receive honors pins and certificates. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call ext 4181.

Faculty/Staff Campaign

The annual UNCW Faculty/Staff campaign starts next week. Employees are asked to remember the university in their charitable giving plans this year.

SEANC Raffle

The State Employees Association of North Carolina District 62 is selling raffle tickets to benefit its scholarship fund. The grand prize is a 2000 Ford Ranger truck, first prize is a 25-inch color television. Tickets are $1 each. Call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Gloria Crowell at ext. 2301 or Annie Aldrich at ext. 3099.

Let's Read

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will be a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Aug. 17 and 24 on The Learning Network, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program, hosted by Betty Ann Sanders, features a discussion of Wilkes' book Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life. Panelists include Harry Tuchmayer, assistant director of the New Hanover County Library; Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books; and Ben Steelman, reporter and book critic for the Wilmington Star-News.

Golf Tournament

The Seahawk Golf Challenge will be held at noon Aug. 21 at River Landing, located 35 miles north of Wilmington off I-40. Proceeds will benefit the Calvin Lane Scholarship fund for men's and women's golf. For more information, contact Jan Mann at ext. 4163 or the Seahawk Club at ext. 3571.

Thirsty Tome

Randall Library is hosting the Thirsty Tome, a coffeehouse-style gathering where published students, faculty and staff will read from their works, at 7 p.m. Aug. 17 on the library's first floor. Refreshments will be served.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Welcome

Please welcome the following new faculty: John McElheney, Thomas M. Pender, Aaron Thomas Wilcox, art and theatre; Thomas Lankford, Jr., and Diane Melroy, biological sciences; John Tyrell, chemistry; William Bobbitt, communication studies; Ralph Bradley II, computer science; Michael Benedetti and Douglas Gamble, earth sciences; Diana Ashe, Joyce T. Hollingsworth, Jane MacLennan and Katherin Montwieler, English; Sylvia Santabella and Oliver Speck, foreign languages and literatures; Denis Auger, James Herstine, Melody Kyzer, Wayland Tseh, HPER; Caroline Cortina and Lynn Mollenauer, history; James Blum and Michael Freeze II, mathematics and statistics; Jerald Shynett, music; Michael Shaffer, philosophy and religion; Milan Dluhy and Jennifer Horan, political science; Robert Hawkins, social work; Jeffrey Spears, sociology and criminal justice; Lawrence Clark, Daniel Ivancevich, Susan Ivacevich, LeAnn Luna, accountancy and business law; William Compton, economics and finance; Tracy Rishel, information systems and operations management; Patricia Voli, management and marketing; Tracy Hargrove, curricular studies; and Cathy Barlow, specialty studies.

Digital Divide Growing Smaller with COSMOS

The digital divide in southeastern North Carolina is growing smaller, thanks to Community Outreach Services (COSMOS), a new initiative by UNCW's Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

COSMOS helps external agencies with World Wide Web page design, provides non-credit and professional development and assists southeastern North Carolina's citizens in accessing the Internet. Two recent creations by COSMOS are Web sites for the Columbus County Family Services Network which links to 23 sites in the county and the North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys, a statewide database of information on victims' issues, court terminology and related links.

"They serve as excellent examples of SpinNC's goal to link the public to nonprofit and government resources and provide people easy access to free and valuable information on the Internet that may not have been readily available," said H. E. "Hunter" Thompson, director of COSMOS which was formed in January. Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina (SpinNC) is a public/private partnership formally affiliated with UNC Wilmington, said Thompson.

Through www.SpinNC.org., COSMOS connects the community with more than 155 agencies currently incorporated in the many databases that have been created on the site. Citizens can locate information about agencies and community-based programs or search for a variety of services pooled from nonprofit and governmental sectors and range from health and housing to business and economy.

"We undertook this new direction to serve our citizens better," explained Michelle R. Howard-Vital, vice chancellor of DPSEE, "Studying input from people in our service region, we learned that it was extremely difficult for them to access the information they needed. In an effort to serve the region, we created COSMOS, using the resources and talents of staff in our former Technology Outreach Services Unit. It just seemed a natural fit."

Other projects COSMOS has worked on since its inception include a redesign of the Public Service and Extended Education Division's Web pages, design and maintenance of the SpinNC.org Web site and collaborative Web ventures with such agencies as the North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys, Columbus County Family Support Network, Cape Fear Tomorrow, Cape Fear Regional Partnership Network and the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Jeff Hill, HPER, Robert Buerger, environmental studies, and Charles Lewis, HPER, presented the paper "National Parks as Natural Resource-based Leisure Centers: A Comparison of the American and British National Park Systems" at the Leisure Studies Association 2000 international conference in Glasgow, Scotland.

H. E. "Hunter" Thompson, public service and extended education, was quoted in the August Greater Wilmington Business article "Sign of Cyber Times: Small ISPs Don't Stand a Chance."

Craig Bailey, CMS, and colleagues presented four research seminars focusing on algal systematics and molecular biology at the Phycological Society of America meeting held in San Diego, Calif. Co-authors included Wilson Freshwater, Amy McEhlhinney, CMS, and Robert Andersen from the Bigelow Laboratory for Ocean Sciences.

Dan Pfohl, Randall Library, presented the program "Implementation and Management of Electronic Reserves" at the annual conference of the Distance Learning Alliance: The ABCs of Distance Learning held in New Bern.

Leslie Langer, SBTDC, received $22,049 in supplemental funding from the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Robert Buerger, environmental studies, Jeff Hill, HPER, John Taggart, NCNERR, and Jim Herstine, HPER, presented the paper "Changes in Coastal Recreational Use Patterns Following Hurricanes" at the eighth international Symposium on Society and Resource Management in Bellingham, Wash.

Otis Graham, history and business, had the article "Still the Backward Region? Environmental History In and Of the American South" published in Southern Cultures. He also edited the special issue Environmental Policy and Politics, 1960s-1990s of the Journal of Policy History and wrote an introduction and epilogue for the issue.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

Study Abroad

Faculty should submit proposals for summer 2001 study abroad programs to the Office of International Programs by Sept. 5. Program proposal forms are available from international programs or department chairs. Jim McNab will conduct a workshop for potential faculty leaders at 3:30 p.m. in the University Union, Room 103.

Faculty who received funding for travel abroad from the Office of International Programs in spring or summer 2000 should submit travel reports by Aug. 25.

Department Relocation

The Safety Department has relocated temporarily to the central stores warehouse. Phone numbers remain the same.

Hot Weather Reminder

The Safety Department would like to remind employees about the danger of heat stress and heat-related illnesses. The department is available to assist offices in developing a personalized heat stress policy. Direct questions to ext. 3108.

Deans' Reception

Faculty and staff are invited to meet Cathy Barlow and Larry Clark, deans of the Watson School of Education and the Cameron School of Business, respectively, during a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Aug. 30 in the University Union Living Room.

Discount Coupons

Discount coupons for admission to Paramount and Kings Dominion theme parks are available in human resources. Valid dates are through Oct. 1.

Work-study Reminder

Departments should list work-study and work assistant positions for the fall semester with career services as soon as possible. Direct questions to Frances Carr at ext. 3174.

IRB Approval Needed for Human Research

The Institutional Review Board will meet Sept. 1 to review proposals involving human subjects. Faculty, staff and students planning research or teaching classes that involve human subjects this semester should submit proposals for IRB approval by Aug. 25. Continuing research also needs to be resubmitted. Proposals and forms should be e-mailed to M. J. Carver at carvermj with the original signed protocol forms and project summary sent to Candace Gauthier in philosophy and religion. Interactive forms are available on the university web site at http://www.uncwil.edu/ora/forms or send 10 copies to the Office of Research Administration. Direct questions to Candace Gauthier at ext. 3558 or M. J. Carver at ext. 3809.

Retirement Reception

A retirement reception in honor of Thomas Loftfield, anthropology, will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Aug. 17 in the University Union Living Room. Loftfield is retiring after 25 years of service.

Grant Proposals Sought

The Information Technology Systems Division, through its Committee on Information Technology Innovation, is accepting grant proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Faculty, staff or students can submit proposals for funding ranging up to $20,000. Applications are due by Sept. 1. For more information, contact Kim Kelly, program development coordinator, ITSD or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html. This is the second year of the innovation grants. Last year ITSD awarded almost $200,000 in funding.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Charles Flaherty III, SBTDC, and Kathy Risley, advancement.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 12.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Managing Today's Workforce, 9 to 11 a.m. Aug. 24

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21029 Greenhouse Manager I	Aug. 25
21030 General Utility Worker	Aug. 25
21031 Undersea Research Diver	Aug. 25
21032 Television Production Assistant I	Aug. 25

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Honorary Degree Nominations

Honorary degrees, which are granted by the faculty and trustees of UNCW, are the highest accolade the university can bestow on an individual who is not currently employed as a member of its faculty or staff. It is given to honor an individual who possesses outstanding qualities and talents, who has made exceptional contributions to the field of his or her endeavor and who exemplifies the highest standards of personal integrity and civic responsibility.

Nominations may be made at any time by any member of the university community. Forms are available at the Office of the Provost or the office of any academic dean or department. A single page supporting the candidate's qualifications should accompany the nomination form.

Additional information on the evaluation and approval process is available in the Faculty Handbook which is accessible on the World Wide Web at http://www.uncwil.edu/fac_handbook.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 7 August 24, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Recognizes Teaching Excellence at Fall Faculty Meeting

UNCW recognized 13 professors for teaching excellence during its fall faculty meeting Aug. 15 in Kenan Auditorium. The meeting followed the university's annual convocation ceremony which celebrated the start of a new academic year.

Receiving Distinguished Teaching Professorships, UNCW's highest award for teaching excellence, were Paula K. Kamenish, associate professor in the Department of English; Stephen J. McNamee, professor in the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice; and Kevin J. Sigler, professor in the Department of Economics and Finance. The distinguished professorships recognize faculty who make outstanding contributions to teaching at UNCW and come with a three-year $5,000 stipend and Distinguished Teaching medallion. Nominations were solicited from each department or school, and all full-time tenured professors were eligible.

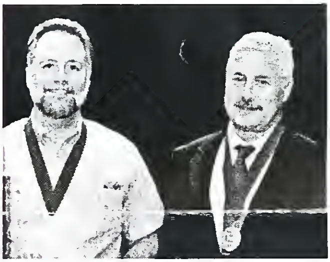
In addition to her Distinguished Teaching Professorship, Kamenish received the UNCW Board of Trustees' Teaching Excellence Award in recognition of her significant contributions to higher education through dedication and service to students. First presented in 1978, the award is designed to exemplify the university's commitment to teaching excellence with the recipient receiving a one-time stipend of $1,500 and a Distinguished Teaching medallion.

Five individuals were presented the Chancellor's Teaching Excellence Award: Ferenc Altrichter, associate professor in the Department of Philosophy and Religion; Julian Keith, associate professor in the Department of Psychology; Lynn Leonard, associate professor in the Department of Earth Sciences; Mahnaz Moallem, associate professor in the Department of Specialty Studies; and Joanne Rockness, professor in the Department of Accountancy and Business Law. The award, established in 1991, recognizes faculty who demonstrate outstanding teaching in the classroom. Each recipient received a $750 award and a Distinguished Teaching medallion.

Awards for Faculty Scholarship were given to Randall Hanson, professor in the Department of Accountancy and Business Law; Carol Pilgrim, professor in the Department of Psychology; and Martin Posey, professor in the Department of Biological Sciences. The awards, which are given to up to three members of the faculty, recognize significant contributions to the university and the academic community through commitment to scholarship, research and creativity. Current full-time UNCW faculty are nominated for this award by their peers and receive a $1,500 award.

Philip Gerard, professor of creative writing, and Robert D. Roer, professor of biology, were the inaugural recipients of the Graduate Mentor Award established by the university's Graduate School. The award recognizes graduate faculty who have excelled at teaching at the graduate level and who have an established record of mentoring students who have received master's degrees. Each recipient received a $250 award and a medallion.

McNamee, Kamenish and Sigler receive Distinguished Professorships at fall faculty meeting (above). Graduate Mentor Award winners are Roer and Gerard.



The Graduate School also announced the recipients of the Graduate Teaching Excellence Awards: Derek Nikitas and Eric Vrooman, Department of Creative Writing; Gina Panasik, Department of Biological Sciences; Mark Reinhold, Department of Earth Sciences; Edith Skipper, Department of Curricular Studies; and Kristin Smith, Department of English. Recipients have demonstrated exceptional competence in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Our House Documentary

Our House, a documentary about children of gay and lesbian parents, will be shown from 7 to 9 p.m. Aug. 25 in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Following the film, attorneys Sharon Thompson of Durham and Connie Vetter of Charlotte will lead a discussion on gay and lesbian family issues. The event is sponsored by the Office of Campus Diversity, Pride, Equality North Carolina Project and St. Jude's Metropolitan Community Church.

Nursing School Receives Blood Monitors

The School of Nursing received three capillary blood glucose monitors from Kandy Sudheimer and Laura Nilsen, representatives with J&J Lifescan. The donated equipment will teach nursing students blood glucose monitoring skills and will be available for use in health fairs.

"Having this up-to-date equipment certainly facilitates nursing students' education and supports the service mission of our program," said Jaca Baynes, director of the simulation lab.

Note of Appreciation

Lisa Small, career services, would like to thank everyone "for all the thoughts and prayers for me and my family during the unexpected death of my father. People like you, my UNCW family, make this world a better place to live in. I thank you all from the bottom of my heart."

Organizational Meeting

The UNCW Mixed Bowling league will hold its organizational meeting at 6 p.m. Aug. 24 at Cardinal Lanes on Shipyard Boulevard.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Steve Emslie, biological sciences, will present "Abandoned Penguin Colonies and Climate Change in Antarctica" at 2 p.m. Aug. 25 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Reading Volunteers Needed

Volunteers are needed to assist with the Children's Story Adventures Program starting Sept. 12. The program, geared for children ages three to 10, will take place from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays in the Randall Library, second floor. Sponsored by the Seahawk Perch: Commuter and Non-traditional Services and the library, the Children's Story Adventures is an opportunity to provide parents with uninterrupted time for research or work while exposing children to award-winning literature. It is open to children of students, faculty and staff.

Poet Wins Fellowship

Michael White, creative writing, has won a full fellowship to the Artists' Residency Program at Chateau de La Napoule, France for March and April 2001. During his residency at La Napoule, White will stay in a seaside chateaux that dates from the 13th century and is located five miles west of Cannes. White will work with an international group of scholars and artists.

The La Napoule Residency Fellowship is a competitive grant for established and emerging artists which is funded by the North Carolina Arts Council and the French Ministry of Culture. It is awarded once each year to a North Carolina writer or artist. White's residency will take place during his UNCW faculty reassignment award for spring 2001.

Faculty Sought to Host Film Discussion

The Leadership Center is seeking a faculty member interested in hosting a discussion of the leadership aspects of a particular film. The time and date reserved for the showing is 6:30 p.m. Oct. 17. Contact Stacey Smith, assistant director for leadership and volunteer programs, at ext. 3797.

Note of Appreciation

Mary Crookes, university events coordinator, and Patsy Larrick, special events director, would like to thank the staff and students who served as convocation volunteers Aug. 15. Convocation volunteers played a vital role in making the event memorable for everyone who attended.

Movie Makers Series

Tony Arnaud, an actor, stuntman and technician, is the first speaker in the Movie Makers lecture series sponsored by the Film Studies Program. This free talk will be at 4 p.m. Sept. 7 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Best known for his work on The Sopranos, Dead Man Walking and Sabrina, Arnaud also worked on the upcoming Spike Lee film Bamboozled due for release in September.

Seahawk Club Membership Campaign Kickoff

To kickoff its 2000-01 membership campaign, the Seahawk Club will host a cookout from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Aug. 29 at the athletic fields. Games, food and entertainment will be provided.

Disaster Assistance

As co-coordinator of the State Employees Combined Campaign, Melton McLaurin requests that faculty or staff who were aided by non-profit/charitable organizations (i.e. the Salvation Army, American Red Cross, etc.) following Hurricane Floyd contact him at ext. 3137 or e-mail mclaurinm.

Aquarius Mission

Steven Miller, director of NURC/UNCW, and Steve Gittings, chief scientist for NOAA's National Marine Sanctuary Program, led a 10-day mission to conduct the most detailed coral reef census ever attempted in the Florida Keys. The team, which included Dione Swanson, a Ph.D. candidate from the University of Miami, and Allison White, a research scientist at UNCW, lived on Aquarius, the world's only undersea research laboratory.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Ed Lab Tutoring

The Education Lab will tutor children grades K-8 in elementary reading/language arts and math and Sept. 5 through Nov. 16. UNCW education students will be matched one-on-one with a child for the tutoring sessions. Children attend one-hour sessions once or twice a week between 3 and 6 p.m. The cost is $187.50 for 25 hours of elementary reading/math tutoring, $150 for 20 hours elementary reading/language arts tutoring and $75 for either 10 hours of elementary math or 10 hours of middle grades reading. Ten hours of diagnostic assessment is included. To register, call ext. 3633.

Honors Scholars Reception

The campus community is invited to a reception from 4 to 5 p.m. Aug. 30 in the Warwick Center Ballroom to meet new and continuing honors students. Fifty-six students completed the general honors curriculum during the last year and will receive honors pins and certificates. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call ext. 4181.

SEANC Raffle

The State Employees Association of North Carolina District 62 is selling raffle tickets to benefit its scholarship fund. The grand prize is a 2000 Ford Ranger truck; first prize is a 25-inch color television. Tickets are $1 each. Call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Gloria Crowell at ext. 2301 or Annie Aldrich at ext. 3099.

Shared Leave

Shared leave donations are needed for Julia Parker, Student Health Services, and Betty Clark, Watson School of Education. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Discount Coupons

Discount coupons for admission to Paramount and Kings Dominion theme parks are available in human resources. Valid dates are through Oct. 1.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will be a guest on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Aug. 24 on The Learning Network, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program, hosted by Betty Ann Sanders, features a discussion of Wilkes' book Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life. Panelists include Harry Tuchmayer, assistant director of the New Hanover County Library; Nicky Leone, manager of Bristol Books; and Ben Steelman, reporter and book critic for the Wilmington Star-News.

Art Exhibits

"The Sacred Enshrined," an exhibit by Maike Walbrecht, and "Animal, Vegetable and Mineral: Selected Works" by Catherine Broadhead will be displayed through Sept. 18 in the University Union Living Room and Warwick Center, respectively.

Leadership Wilmington

Aug. 31 is the deadline to enroll in Leadership Wilmington 2000, a program whose mission for the past two decades has been to provide a continuous diverse supply of creative leaders to the community.

Designed to educate participants about the challenges and needs of the community as well as the dynamics of social and economic change in the region, Leadership Wilmington starts with a two-day retreat Sept. 21-22. The program is divided into 13 community sessions which will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at various sites with a wrap-up session and graduation in March. It is sponsored jointly by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation Inc. and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

For an application or more information, contact Diana Corbett, program manager, at 762-2611 ext. 213.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in the order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Joanne Nottingham, campus diversity, served on the selection committee to the name the Class A baseball team affiliate of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Wilmingon Waves. Mayor David Jones, Sen. Patrick Ballantine, county commissioner Bill Caster, State Department of Transportation board member Louise McColl, Coastal Horizons CEO Margaret Weller-Stargel and Wilmington Star-News publisher Roger Hawkins were the other committee members.

Arlene Hanerfeld and Dan Pfohl, Randall Library, presented the respective programs "Do We Have This Journal: Let Me Count The Ways" and "Setup and Management of Millennium Logins" at the annual Carolina Innopac Users Group (CIUG) meeting held at North Carolina A&T State University. The CIUG is a regional organization of member libraries who use the Innovative Interfaces Inc. integrated library software INNOPAC.

Martin Posey, Robert Roer, Scott Quackenbush, David Roye, Richard Dillaman, Steven Kinsey, Thomas Shafer, biological sciences, received $198,420 in supplemental funding from the National Science Foundation for the project "Juvenile Blue Crab Use of Low Salinity Areas: Costs and Benefits."

Wade Watanabe, CMS, received $30,000 from N.C. Sea Grant/Fishery Resource Grant Program for the project "Production of Wild-caught Black Sea Bass (Centropristis striata) in a Semi-closed Recirculating Tank System Under Different Salinities and Stocking Densities."

Edna Collins, curricular studies, received $35,075 from the New Hanover County Partnership for Children for the Watson School of Education early childhood initiative.

Marlene Rosenkoetter, gerontology, gave the closing plenary address at the World Association for Case Methods Research and Application in Budapest, Hungary. The address, based on a paper co-authored by Bob Fry, institutional research, Michelle Howard-Vital, public service and extended education, and John Rosenkoetter, presented a model for the planning, implementation and evaluation of technology-mediated education within the context of continuous quality improvement for business, health care and academic settings.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Office Name Change

The Office of Minority Affairs is now the Office of Campus Diversity. The change better reflects the office's role and mission of education and service to a wide variety of underrepresented students, assisting them with their progress toward degree completion, said Joanne Nottingham, director of campus diversity. All telephone numbers remain the same.

Renovation Complete

Renovations to the Alderman Hall office suite for the Division of Student Affairs are complete.

CMS Shuttle Change

The first shuttle from Dobo Hall to the Center for Marine Science, Myrtle Grove, will depart at 8:30 a.m. for arrival by 9 a.m. The final shuttle will depart from CMS for Dobo Hall at 5 p.m. The service operates Monday through Friday.

Student Absences

The Office of the Dean of Students cannot and does not excuse student absences in cases of emergency (e.g., extended illness, hospitalization, death in family, etc.). If the student or parents are unable to contact instructors directly, a member of the office's staff will pass information onto the department. This notification serves to relay the information and is not a verification.

Study Abroad

Faculty should submit proposals for summer 2001 study abroad programs to the Office of International Programs by Sept. 5. Program proposal forms are available from international programs or department chairs. Jim McNab will conduct a workshop for potential faculty leaders at 3:30 p.m. Aug. 25 in the University Union, Room 103.

Faculty who received funding for travel abroad from the Office of International Programs in spring or summer 2000 should submit travel reports by Aug. 25.

Hot Weather Reminder

The Safety Department would like to remind employees about the dangers of heat stress and heat-related illnesses. Several methods have been used to estimate reasonable heat exposures, but they usually require specialized equipment and constant conditions. Departments with a number of employees that work outdoors may want to develop a personalized heat stress policy with the Safety Department.

The below list of recommendations is a common-sense approach that incorporates recommendations from CDC, NIOSH and OSHA :

- Employees not used to working in the heat should slowly increase their workload over the course of four or five days.
- Drink cool beverages frequently (two to four cups per hour are recommended). Water is best; avoid beverages containing caffeine and use isotonic beverages such as Gatorade at the end of the workday.
- Schedule outdoor activities carefully; avoid strenuous activities during the hottest part of the day.
- Employees unaccustomed to working in the heat should rest frequently in cooler areas. During hotter weather, meet with your supervisor to schedule additional and/or longer breaks.
- Learn to recognize the signs of heat-related illness, take a break at the first sign of these illnesses and report them to your supervisor.
- When possible, wear lightweight, loose, light-colored clothing and a hat.

Other suggestions include: wear sunscreen, notify your doctor that you work in hot environments so he/she can advise you of potential effects of prescription drugs and plan smaller meals in the hot part of the day.

Employees should direct questions about limiting risk to heat-related illnesses to supervisors and the Safety Department at ext. 3108.

Deans' Reception

Faculty and staff are invited to meet Cathy Barlow and Larry Clark, deans of the Watson School of Education and the Cameron School of Business, respectively, during a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Aug. 30 in the University Union Living Room.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 12.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Maintaining and Reading Your Budget, [illegible] to 11 a.m. Sept. 26.

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Jason Hall, biological sciences; Owen Owens, housing and residence life; and Michael Swart, computing services.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21029 Greenhouse Manager I	Aug. 25
21030 General Utility Worker	Aug. 25
21031 Undersea Research Diver	Aug. 25
21032 TV Production Assist. I	Aug. 25
21033 Research Tech. I	Sept. 1
21034 Housekeeper	Sept. 1
21035 Assistant Director of Alumni Relations	Sept. 1
21036 Personnel Assistant V	Sept. 1
21037 Univ. Admin. Mgr. III	Sept. 1

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement | Vol. XXX, No. 8 August 31, 2000 | Phillip Brown, editor

University Receives $350,000 Donation from Brown Family

Members of the Carl B. and Janice H. Brown family announce gift to benefit Seahawk athletics.

The Carl B. and Janice H. Brown family of Wilmington, longtime supporters of the community and the university, made one of the largest gift commitments ever to the Athletics Department.

"We are very pleased that the Brown family has made a cash gift of $350,000," said Chancellor James R. Leutze. "They have been a generous supporter of UNCW for many years, and this gift continues their legacy of helping make our academic and athletic programs among the best in the country. They have also been an integral part of building partnerships between our campus and the community, and their gift will help make our facilities, including the Golden Hawk Room, even more valuable as public gathering spaces."

Chancellor Leutze, Director of Athletics Peg Bradley-Doppes, and family representatives Bill and Debbie Brown Rudisill and Clint and Amy Brown North made the announcement Aug. 23. The contribution will help UNCW complete funding of the annex expansion portion of Project 2002, a major fund-raising campaign for the Athletics Department.

The Brown family has supported many community projects and organizations, including the Brigade Boys and Girls Club, the New Hanover Regional Medical Center Foundation. The late Carl B. Brown served on the board of directors for the UNCW Foundation, and with wife, Janice, established an endowed merit scholarship for the College of Arts and Sciences and an endowed distinguished professorship in marine science at UNCW.

"I have always appreciated what UNCW has meant to this community," said Mrs. Brown. "I am delighted to continue our family's support of such a fine institution. We hope others will join us in supporting this university's programs and facilities."

Bradley-Doppes, who expressed appreciation for the commitment, said a plaque recognizing the gift will be prominently displayed in the Golden Hawk Room.

"The Brown family gift is valuable in more ways than just the generous financial support it provides," said Bradley-Doppes. "It gives us an incredible boost to the Project 2002 athletic capital campaign and also energizes our annual scholarship campaign by upgrading the Golden Hawk Room, an important benefit to members of the Seahawk Club."

Project 2002 is the largest and most aggressive athletic capital campaign in the history of UNCW. Its goals are to provide facility renovations to keep pace with Colonial Athletic Association competition and increase recruiting appeal, supplement annual campaign and athletics endowment contributions, maintain athletics as a positive reflection of UNCW, enhance current university plans for athletics facility upgrades and provide the foundation for future development.

Phase One, which has been completed, involved renovations to the softball field and the men's basketball locker room complex. The Boseman family, David Jones and George Rountree provided leadership gifts to complete the first phase.

Phase Two, now under way, focuses on the expansion of the Nixon Annex, including the Golden Hawk Room, the construction of a new sports medicine facility and the construction of a new press box for Boseman Field.

The expansion to the annex will provide much-needed office space for the athletic department and the Seahawk Club. It will also double the size of the Golden Hawk Room, which serves Seahawk Club members, the athletic department, the university and the community. Last year, the Golden Hawk Room was used by several groups, including the American Cancer Society, Azalea Festival Committee, Boy Scouts Executive Committee, New Hanover County Commissioners, Historical Society of North Carolina and Coastal Living Show Committee.

NNOUNCEMENTS

lursing School to Host nternational Visitors

The UNCW School of Nursing will st 10 students and two professors m Japan Sept. 4-17.

The delegation from Iwate Prefec- ral University will "shadow" students classes and during clinical visits to serve patient care. Akiko Araki and oko Ishida from the nursing faculty at ate Prefectural University will rticipate with UNCW faculty during classroom and clinical experiences. venty juniors from the School of ırsing will serve as "buddies" for the panese students during their visit.

"The goal of this visit is to expose the panese students to a day in the life of American nursing major," said Bettie enn, chair of the undergraduate ogram. "In an ever-increasing global siness economy, it is inevitable that health care community evolve nilarly. Hopefully, this visit will be other step in bridging the distance tween our cultures and in building an ternational health care community of holars and practitioners."

In addition to visiting the UNCW hool of Nursing, the delegation will ur the New Hanover Regional Medical nter. The group will also visit the storic downtown Wilmington district.

lew Mailboxes

Postal services installed four new ailboxes at the following locations: the ont entrance of Randall Library, in Lot by Wagoner Hall, in Lot B near lderman Hall and at the front entrance James Hall. These mailboxes are for tgoing stamped mail only. Do not posit campus mail, state courier mail, ternational or domestic mail heavier an 16 ounces or mail being charged to partmental accounts in these boxes. nal pickup is 4 p.m. Monday through iday.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Philip Gerard, creative writing, and Ellen Wood Rickert, environmental projects editor at Coastal Carolina Press, join Betty Ann Sanders, host of Let's Read! UNCW & You, and a panel of experts to discuss Eye of the Storm-Essays in the Aftermath, a publication by Carolina Press which focuses on the aftermath of Hurricane Floyd. Gerard was a contributing essayist for the publication that also includes writings from bestselling author Nicholas Sparks, coastal geologist Orrin Pilkey and hurricane historian Jay Barnes. Other panelists include Niki Leone, manager of Bristol Books, and Wilmington Star-News reporter and book critic Ben Steelman. The program airs at 7 p.m. Aug. 31 and Sept. 7, 14 and 21.

Mass Mailings

Departments should notify Doris Moore at ext. 4182 prior to sending large mass mailings to student post office boxes or campus offices.

Tennis Instruction

Campus recreation is sponsoring free tennis instruction for faculty and staff. Beginning lessons will be offered from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Mondays, Sept. 18 though Oct. 16, and intermediate lessons from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Wednesdays, Sept. 20 through Oct. 18. Equipment will be provided, and lessons will be taught by an ITA professional instructor from USA 1-2-3 at the gazebo tennis courts. To register, call ext. 7443.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Michael Mallin, CMS, will present "Physical, Chemical and Biological Effects of Recent Hurricanes in the Cape Fear System" at 2 p.m. Sept. 1 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Blood Drive

The UNCW Volunteers and American Red Cross will hold a blood drive from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 6 at the Warwick Center. To schedule an appointment, call ext. 3877.

SASASAAS Seminar

The workshop "Using Asian Resources in Our Local Community" will be held Sept. 22 at Furman University, Greenville, S.C. Sponsored by the South Atlantic Association of Asian and African Studies, the program includes a guided tour of the "stroll garden" at Yagoto (Nippon Center), participation in and discussion of a worship service at the Vedic Center and a vegetarian meal provided by the center. There is no registration fee. For more information, contact Paula Kamenish, English, at ext. 3617 or e-mail kamenishp.

The Monitor Chronicles

The on-going recovery efforts for the USS Monitor are featured in the book The Monitor Chronicles, edited by William Marvel. Chapter 10 describes the efforts of UNCW's R/V Cape Fear and the National Undersea Research Center diving team which assisted the Monitor National Marine Sanctuary with underwater archaeology and artifact recovery. Doug Kesling served as expedition diving safety officer. Other NURC/UNCW divers included Ken Johns, Glenn Taylor, Chris Cote and Tim Gallagher.

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament

The 2000-01 faculty/staff golf tournament will be held at 1 p.m. Oct. 5 at Castle Bay golf course in Hampstead. Teams will consist of four members. The entry fee is $30 per person. For more information, contact Jim Harris at ext. 3405 or e-mail harrisj.

★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★

State Employees
COMBINED
CAMPAIGN

★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★

UNCW Campaign
Sept. 11-29

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Randall Library Exhibits

"Look How We've Changed," an exhibit of historic photos from UNCW archives, is on display through Oct. 15 in the Randall Library lobby. The display documents student and campus life during the past 50 years.

A second exhibit "Whistlestop: Advancing the 1976 President Ford Campaign" will be displayed Sept. 1 through Dec. 15 in the library's special collections. The exhibit features papers, photographs and artifacts donated by Wilmington native Wilbur D. Jones, Jr., an assistant and advance representative to President Ford. This exhibit focuses on several events during the spring and summer of 1976 including Ford's Michigan Whistlestop Tour, the bicentennial celebration in New York and the visit by Queen Elizabeth II.

Piney Woods Festival

The 23rd annual Piney Woods Cultural Heritage Show featuring juried arts and crafts, demonstrations and entertainment will be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 2 and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 3 at Hugh MacRae Park.

Reading Volunteers Needed

Volunteers are needed to assist with the Children's Story Adventures Program starting Sept. 12. The program, geared for children age three to 10, will take place from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays in the Randall Library, second floor. Sponsored by the Seahawk Perch Commuter and Non-traditional Services and the library. The Children's Story Adventures is an opportunity to provide parents with uninterrupted time for research or work while exposing children to award-winning literature. It is open to children of students, faculty and staff.

Movie Makers Series

Arnaud

Tony Arnaud, an actor, stuntman and technician, is the first speaker in the Movie Makers lecture series sponsored by the Film Studies Program. This free talk will be at 4 p.m. Sept. 7 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Best known for his work on The Sopranos, Dead Man Walking and Sabrina, Arnaud also worked on the upcoming Spike Lee film Bamboozled due for release in September.

SEANC Raffle

The State Employees Association of North Carolina District 62 is selling raffle tickets to benefit its scholarship fund. The grand prize is a 2000 Ford Ranger truck, first prize is a 25-inch color television. Tickets are $1 each. Call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Gloria Crowell at ext. 2301 or Annie Aldrich at ext. 3099.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Mike Perko, HPER, was appointed to the N.C. Governors Council on Physical Fitness and Health. The HPER Department hosted the annual meeting of the council's Business and Industry Committee, a representative group of N.C. health professionals whose mission is to improve the health of working North Carolinians by recognizing quality worksite health education programs in the state.

Don Bushman, English, had the essay "Expressivisms as 'Vernacular Theories' of Composing: Recovering the Pragmatic Roots of Writing Instruction" published in the collection Reforming College Composition: Writing the Wrongs from Greenwood Press.

Moorad Alexanian, physics and physical oceanography, had the article "Comment on 'Generation of Phase States by Two-Photon Absorption'" published in the July 31 issue of Physical Review Letters. The work is important in quantum cryptography and communication and was done in collaboration with Subir Bose of the University of Central Florida.

Alexandra Sargent, art and theatre, designed costumes for the show Arcadia in production at the Olney Theatre Center in Washington, D.C., this summer. She also designed the costumes for the dance piece "You Make Me Feel So Young" for the Jump Rhythm Jazz Project in Chicago. The dance show will tour nationally and internationally.

Rick Dixon, Technology College, was a panelist for the session "Planning and Implementing Technological Improvements" at the 2000 American Sociological Association chair conference in Washington, D.C.

Carol Chase Thomas, education, had the third edition of the textbook Interactive Teaming: Enhancing Programs for Students with Special Needs published. It was co-authored by Vivian Correa, University of Florida, and Catherine Morsink, Slippery Rock University.

Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences and CMS, was chief scientist aboard the R/V Seward Johnson for an NSF-funded research expedition to the coral reefs of the Bahamas. The 30 scientific participants included research associate Greg McFall, graduate students Seb Engel and Tim Henkel, and undergraduate students Will O'Neal, Kristen Whalen and Sarah Kelly.

Clyde McDaniel, sociology and criminal justice, had the book 21st Century African-American Social Issues: A Reader published by Harcourt Brace. It was co-authored by Anita K. McDaniel, Augusta State University.

Randall Library Holiday Schedule

Randall Library will observe the following Labor Day holiday schedule Sept. 2-4: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, closed Sunday and 1 p.m. to 2 a.m. Monday.

Safety Shoes

Vendors selling safety shoes will be on campus from noon to 4 p.m. Sept. 6 in the physical plant parking area. Direct questions to Claude Brown at ext. 3155 or e-mail brownc.

Campus Recreation Holiday Schedule

Campus recreation will observe the following holiday schedule: 6:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sept. 1, 1 to 6 p.m. Sept. 2-3 and 3 to 11 p.m. Sept. 4. There will be no group exercise classes Sept. 2 and 3. Recreational swim will not be held during the holiday. Normal hours resume Sept. 5.

Grant Proposals Deadline

Sept. 1 is the deadline to submit grant proposals to the Information Technology Systems Division. Through its Committee on Information Technology Innovation, the division is accepting proposals for innovative uses of information technology. Faculty, staff or students can submit proposals for funding ranging up to $20,000. For more information, contact Kim Kelly, program development coordinator, ITSD, or visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/itsd/itrfp.html. This is the second year of the innovation grants. Last year ITSD awarded almost $200,000 in funding.

Staff Relocation

Dinah Allen, formerly with human resources, joined the staff of Wellness Services located in the Student Recreation Center.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 12.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Maintaining and Reading Your Budget, 9 to 11 a.m. Sept. 26.

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Marvin Jones, career services, and Mary Skalitzky, nursing.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21033 Research Tech. I	Sept. 1
21034 Housekeeper	Sept. 1
21035 Assistant Director of Alumni Relations	Sept. 1
21036 Personnel Assist. V	Sept. 1
21037 Univ. Admin. Mgr. III	Sept. 1
21038 Small Business Specialist II	Sept. 8
21039 Electrician I	Sept. 8
21040 Maint. Mech. II	Sept. 8
21041 Locksmith Supervisor	Sept. 8
21042 Security Guard	Sept. 8

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Art Exhibits

"The Sacred Enshrined," an exhibit by Maike Walbrecht, and "Animal, Vegetable and Mineral: Selected Works" by Catherine Broadhead will be displayed through Sept. 18 in the University Union Living Room and Warwick Center, respectively.

Buckwheat Zydeco Opens Arts in Action Series

Buckwheat Zydeco, one of Louisiana's favorite musicians, will perform at 8 p.m. Sept. 23 in Trask Coliseum.

Regarded as the "best party band in America" by the Wall Street Journal, Buckwheat Zydeco will kick off the 2000-01 Performing Arts Series presented by the Activities and Leadership Center.

Led by four-time Grammy award nominee Stanley "Buckwheat" Dural, Jr., the group infuses its own blend of party music with strains of rock and roll, R&B and zydeco, which is the fusion of Creole melodies with African rhythms.

For ticket information, call the Kenan Auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

Call for Nominations for Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees, which are granted by the faculty and trustees of UNCW, are the highest accolade the university can bestow on an individual who is not currently employed as a member of its faculty or staff. It is given to honor an individual who possesses outstanding qualities and talents, who has made exceptional contributions to the field of his or her endeavor and who exemplifies the highest standards of personal integrity and civic responsibility.

Nominations may be made at any time by any member of the university community. Forms are available at the Office of the Provost or the office of any academic dean or department. A single page supporting the candidate's qualifications should accompany the nomination form.

Additional information on the evaluation and approval process is available in the Faculty Handbook which is accessible on the World Wide Web at http://www.uncwil.edu/fac_handbook.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 9 September 7, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Among the Top 10 Public Universities in the South

For the third consecutive year, UNCW is among the top 10 public universities in the South in college rankings released Friday by U.S. News and World Report. Among the top public and private universities in the South, UNCW is ranked 25th.

A regional university is one that offers a full range of undergraduate programs and some master's degree programs, but few if any doctoral programs. U.S. News and World Report rankings are based on several key measures of quality organized into six categories to capture the various dimensions of academic quality at each college.

Among the top Southern public and private universities, UNCW ranked in the top 20 for academic reputation (which carries the greatest weight in the overall rankings), graduation and retention and student selectivity.

Among the top Southern public universities, UNCW is number eight. Other UNC system universities in the top 10 are Appalachian State University (fourth), UNC Charlotte (tied for sixth with Murray State University in Kentucky) and East Carolina University (ninth). There was no university ranked seventh.

UNCW's growing national reputation for undergraduate teaching and overall academic excellence drew 7,870 applicants for the 2000-01 freshman class of 1,600; 57.7 percent were accepted and approximately 1,650 are enrolled this fall, bringing the university's total enrollment to an all-time high of nearly 10,000 students.

UNCW cannot increase the size of the freshman class or overall enrollment unless additional classroom space is provided through the higher education bond referendum on the Nov. 7 ballot.

This year's freshman class has raised the bar academically. The average score on the Scholastic Achievement Test (SAT), one of several criteria used for admission, was 1100 - 14 points higher than last year. This places UNCW fourth highest in the UNC system. In addition, the high school grade point average for entering freshmen has risen to 3.54.

The complete list of rankings is available on-line at www.usnews.com. The Sept. 11 issue of U.S. News and World Report with the rankings is on newsstands, along with the America's Best Colleges Book.

Author Jonathan Kozol to Lecture Sept. 19

Jonathan Kozol, author of Death at an Early Age, will speak at UNCW's Leadership Lecture Series 2000. His free public lecture "Ordinary Resurrections" will be held at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Auditorium.

Kozol wrote Death after being fired for reading a Langston Hughes poem to a group of African-American fourth-grade students in 1967 - the middle of the civil rights movement. The book dealt with the plight of urban schools in America and received the 1968 National Book Award in Science, Philosophy and Religion.

The recipient of several awards, including the Robert F. Kennedy Book Award and the Conscience in Media Award, Kozol has addressed subjects such a illiteracy, homelessness and educational inequality among other things in his works which include Illiterate America, Amazing Grace, Savage Inequalities: Children in America's Schools and Ordinary Resurrections.

Kozol

UNCW Awarded Mariculture Research Grant

UNCW's mariculture program received a $234,000 research grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to continue research on important marine fish species for commercial production and stock enhancement projects.

U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms (R-NC) and U.S. Sen. John Edwards (D-NC) played key roles in helping UNCW receive funding during the fiscal year 2000 appropriation process.

"UNC Wilmington is a fine university and deserves this funding which will be helpful in mariculture in North

see Mariculture on Page 3

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Retirement Reception

A retirement reception in honor of Sally Sullivan, English, will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Sept. 20 in the University Union, Living Room. Sullivan is retiring after 25 years of state service.

Children Needed for Reading Program

Faculty, staff and students who have children between the ages of three and 10 can sign them up to participate in the Children's Story Adventures Program, a joint effort between Randall Library and the Dean of Student's Commuter and Non-traditional Student Center. Weekly reading sessions will be conducted from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays starting Sept. 12 in the library's second floor listening area. For more information, call Kate Temoney at ext. 7371 or e-mail temoneyk.

University Theatre Production

University Theatre will present Tom Stoppard's The Real Inspector Hound at 8 p.m. Sept. 21-23, 27-30 and 2 p.m. Sept. 24 and Oct. 1 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. Admission is $5, free for UNCW students with ID.

MarineQuest Camp

MarineQuest will hold a Teacher Work Day Coast Camp, an all-day enrichment program for children ages eight through 11, Oct. 9 and 16 and Nov. 7. Students will participate in various outdoor activities. The registration deadline is Sept. 29. For more information, call ext. 3195.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Donna Williams, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "The Formation of a Permeability Barrier within Crab Cuticle after the Molt" at 2 p.m. Sept. 8 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Spanish Film Series

The film Ander eta Yul will be shown at 7 p.m. Sept. 11 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium as part of the Spanish Film Series sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. The film is about the conflict between the Spanish government and the Vasque terrorist group.

Housing Assistance for New Hires

The Seahawk Perch has housing/real estate information available to assist departments undergoing job searches. To request information be sent to candidates, contact Kate Temoney at ext. 7371 or e-mail temoneyk.

Buckwheat Zydeco Performance

Buckwheat Zydeco, one of Louisiana's favorite musicians, will perform at 8 p.m. Sept. 23 in Trask Coliseum.

Regarded as the "best party band in America" by the Wall Street Journal, Buckwheat Zydeco will kick off the 2000-01 Performing Arts Series presented by the Activities and Leadership Center.

Led by four-time Grammy award nominee Stanley "Buckwheat" Dural, Jr., the group infuses its own blend of party music with strains of rock and roll, R&B and zydeco, which is the fusion of Creole melodies with African rhythms.

For ticket information, call the Kenan Auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament

The 2000-01 faculty/staff golf tournament will be held at 1 p.m. Oct. 5 at Castle Bay golf course in Hampstead. Format is captain's choice, and teams will consist of four members. The entry fee is $30 per person. Forward team registration to Jim Harris, housing and residence life. For more information, contact Harris at ext. 3405 or e-mail harrisj.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Philip Gerard, creative writing, and Ellen Wood Rickert, environmental projects editor at Coastal Carolina Press, join Betty Ann Sanders, host of Let's Read! UNCW & You, and a panel of experts to discuss Eye of the Storm-Essays in the Aftermath, a publication by Carolina Press which focuses on the aftermath of Hurricane Floyd. Gerard was a contributing essayist for the publication. The program airs at 7 p.m. Sept. 7, 14 and 21.

FRS Greenbar Reports Moving to WWW

Printing of FRS monthly greenbar reports will be discontinued following August reports which will be distributed in September. Future reports will be available on the World Wide Web through a new system e-Print.

Training in the use of e-Print will be held at 3 and 4 p.m. Sept. 18, 22, 25 and 29 in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Seating is limited, and reservations are required. To attend, call Cris Dixon at ext. 4262. Training guides for e-Print are on the Web at http://www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/print.html.

Tennis Instruction

Campus recreation is sponsoring free tennis instruction for faculty and staff. Beginning lessons will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Mondays Sept. 18 though Oct. 16, and intermediate lessons from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Wednesdays Sept. 20 through Oct. 18. Equipment will be provided, and lessons will be taught by an ITA professional instructor from USA 1-2-3 at the gazebo tennis courts. To register, call ext. 7443.

SASASAAS Seminar

The South Atlantic Association of Asian and African Studies workshop "Using Asian Resources in Our Local Community" will be held Sept. 22 at Furman University, Greenville, S.C. For more information, contact Paula Kamenish, English, at ext. 3617 or e-mail kamenishp.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Randall Library Exhibits

"Look How We've Changed," an exhibit of historic photos from UNCW archives, is on display through Oct. 15 in the Randall Library lobby. The display documents student and campus life during the past 50 years. A second exhibit "Whistlestop: Advancing the 1976 President Ford Campaign" will be displayed Sept. 1 through Dec. 15 in the library's special collections. The exhibit features papers, photographs and artifacts donated by Wilmington native Wilbur D. Jones, Jr., an assistant and advance representative to President Ford. This exhibit focuses on several events during the spring and summer of 1976 including Ford's Michigan Whistlestop Tour, the bicentennial celebration in New York and the visit by Queen Elizabeth II.

Mariculture continued from Page 1

Carolina and will be enormously important to the continued economic growth of agriculture in our state," said Sen. Helms.

"Mariculture provides an economically viable and environmentally sound way to develop our rich coastal resources," said Sen. Edwards. "I am proud to see cutting edge mariculture research going on at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington."

Mariculture, or marine aquaculture, is becoming an increasingly important means for replacing the quickly declining wild stocks of fish species worldwide. All marine food species are heavily fished, and some are facing commercial extinction. The U.S. imports more than 50 percent of its seafood products.

UNCW studies such things as broodstock nutrition, growth and survivability of southern and summer flounder and the spawning of black seabass in closed, controlled systems. Also important to the project is the reduction of environmental problems presented by mariculture techniques: UNCW will study ways to reduce pollution and other unwanted hazards that could result from fish farming in the U.S. and other parts of the world.

"UNCW intends to conduct leading edge research in ways not only to help the American aquatic farmer provide seafood, but to learn how to reintroduce depleted species back to their natural habitat," stated Chancellor James R. Leutze.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Terry Theodore, art and theatre, had an article on American silent film accepted for publication in spring 2001 by a leading film journal.

Dianne Matthews, student development services, moderated the session "Two Men and a Computer" at the National College Testing Association conference in Chicago.

Robert Y. George, biological sciences and CMS, presented the paper "Speciation and In Situ Evolution of Deep Sea Asellote Isopods in the Atlantic Since the Formation of the Isthmus of Panama" at the eighth International Symposium of Deep Sea Biology in Galway, Ireland. George also presented the paper "Deep Sea Coral Hills-Agassiz Reefs Off North Carolina Coast" at the first International Deep Sea Coral Reefs Symposium at Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Michael Durako, biological sciences and CMS, was a panelist on Science Live, which aired on the Discovery Digital Science Channel and the Internet. The program dealt with recent, dramatic ecological changes in the Florida Bay.

Steven Errante, music, wrote music for Buckley Hubbard's short film Where is Death, which premiered at the Cucalorus Film Festival in Wilmington. Students and faculty from the Department of Music participated in the recording of the score.

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, had his 1994 book And They Shall Be My People: An American Rabbi and His Congregation reissued in paperback by Grove/Atlantic Press. The book details a year in the life of a rabbi and congregation in Worcester, Mass., and a trip by members of his congregation to Israel.

Robert Argenbright, earth sciences, presented the paper "The Emergence of Soviet-Communist Territoriality" at the Conference on Hierarchy and Power in the History of Civilizations held at the Russian State Humanities University.

Andrew F. Clark, history, was elected to the executive council of the Association of Third World Studies, the largest academic organization in the United States devoted to the study and teaching of the Third World.

Donna King, sociology and criminal justice, had the article "Using Videos to Teach Mass Media and Society from a Critical Perspective" published in the July issue of Teaching Sociology.

Janet Ellerby, John Clifford and Barbara Waxman, English, had their respective essays "For Intimate Readings," "The Unconscious Redux" and "Reader-Response Theory, Social Criticism and Personal Writing" published in a special issue of READER which focused on future directions of reader-response criticism.

Bill Harris, earth sciences, was a guest editor of special volume 134 of Sedimentary Geology entitled Onshore-Offshore Correlation of Cenozoic Strata, Western North Atlantic, which was published by Elsevier in Amsterdam. In addition, Harris, along with former geology graduate student Shari Mendrick and Paul Fullagar of UNC Chapel Hill wrote a paper for the volume Correlation of Onshore-offshore Oligocene-lower Miocene Strata using 87Sr/86Sr, North Flank of Cape Fear Arch, North Carolina, USA. The volume was dedicated to the late Victor Zullo, a former UNCW faculty member, and the late Donald Colquhoun, a former University of South Carolina faculty member. Harris also presented the paper "Paleogene Rb-Sr and K-Ar Glauconite Dates in a Sequence Framework, Atlantic - Eastern Gulf Coastal Plains" at the 31st International Geological Congress in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The paper was co-authored by Paul Fullagar, UNC Chapel Hill.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Voter Registration

The Department of Political Science and the New Hanover County Board of Elections will hold voter registration from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 20 in the University Union. In addition to local, state and national offices, the Nov. 7 ballot will include the $3.1 billion higher education facilities bond referendum. For more information on the bond, visit the UNCW homepage on the World Wide Web. Click on the banner "Yes, we need it! Vote Nov. 7."

Student Reception

The campus community is invited to a reception from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Sept. 12 in the University Union Living Room for UNCW's international students. There are 51 new and 58 returning international students representing approximately 40 different countries.

Postal Reminders

Mailings to student post office boxes must be in numerical order. Students' PO box number assignments are available on SIS screen UO4.

Departments must notify postal services with account information when requesting address corrections on mailings or expecting a business reply response from a bulk mailing.

Departments should notify Doris Moore at ext. 3182 prior to sending large mass mailings to student PO boxes or campus offices.

Directory Verifications

Information verification for the UNCW directory is in the final stages. The directory will publish employees' office location, telephone number and e-mail address. Employees have the option to include home address and telephone number and spouses' name. Personal e-mail addresses cannot be included.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Neilia Abban, budget, Michelle Housand, Student Health Center; James Monk, physical plant; and Lonice Wilson, telecommunications.

Staff Training

A Balanced Life Through Meditation, noon to 1 p.m. Thursdays University Union, Room 210 starting Sept. 7.

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 12.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Maintaining and Reading Your Budget, 9 to 11 a.m. Sept. 26.

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21038 Small Business Specialist II	Sept. 8
21039 Electrician I	Sept. 8
21040 Maint. Mech. II	Sept. 8
21041 Locksmith Supervisor	Sept. 8
21042 Security Guard	Sept. 8
21043 Culture Collection Curator	Sept. 18
21044 Irrigation/Spray Specialist	Sept. 15
21045 Crime Prevention Specialist	Sept. 15
21046 Police Officer I	Sept. 15
21047 Receptionist	Sept. 18
21048 Receptionist	Sept. 15
21049 Office Assistant III	Sept. 15
21050 Point of Sale Processing Tech.	Sept. 15
21051 Purchasing Assistant	Sept. 18
21052 Graphic Designer	Sept. 15

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Shared Leave

Julia Parker, Student Health Services, and Betty Clark, Watson School of Education, need shared leave donations to cover periods of absence due to serious medical conditions. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Business Affairs Survey

The Division for Business Affairs would like to thank everyone who responded to its spring 2000 customer survey. Response rates from all university divisions were impressive, according to Sharon Boyd, assistant vice chancellor of support services, formerly director of systems and procedures.

"Of the 1,313 surveys sent, 35.4 percent responded with generally positive feedback and a 91 percent overall approval rating," said Boyd. "We (the division) noted that important areas were in need of further enhancement. We commit to improving the travel process and to increasing satisfaction with minor construction projects. We also accept the charge to improve communications in all processes and projects. Your ratings and comments have challenged us to do more and to do better. Please complete the upcoming SACS survey, which will provide additional feedback to our division and the university community as a whole."

The Division of Business Affairs would like to thank personnel in the following offices and departments which were evaluated by the survey: accounts payable, budget, cashier's office, central stores, comptroller, financial services, food services, parking, payroll, physical plant, postal services, printing services, project design and management, purchasing, safety, support services, travel, university bookstore, university police and UNSea Card.

IRB Training

The Office of Research Administration will sponsor Institutional Review Board training from 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 11 and 9 to 11 a.m. Sept. 12 in the University Union, Room 201. Sessions will explore the legal, ethical and regulatory issues related to research involving human subjects. This training is required by the federal government prior to approval of protocols. To register, contact M. J. Carver at ext. 3809.

UNCW

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 10 September 14, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

UNC Wilmington Enters New Phase in Accreditation Renewal Process

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington has entered a new phase in the process to renew accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).

This fall, every academic and administrative unit at the university will review its operating procedures and policies. All areas will prepare reports which identify their strengths and weaknesses and include recommendations for improvement in accordance with the SACS standards of accreditation, according to Kenneth Spackman, associate professor in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics, director of the self-study and chair of the committee in charge of the reaffirmation process.

UNCW, as well as other accredited colleges must conduct a self-study every 10 years to renew accreditation. This process was last conducted in the early 1990s.

"The emphasis of this SACS review is to ensure that UNCW has the planning and assessment in place for continual improvement," said Spackman. "We want to show everyone - students, faculty, staff, alumni and the public - that the university has the policies and procedures in place to do the job with which we have been entrusted — to educate."

As part of the process, the university has updated its mission statement, said Spackman. The next step will involve the university's goals for the next decade.

"Students can have input in UNCW's long-range planning for the next decade. We want to know students' views on curriculum and classroom teaching," said Spackman. "In addition, student input will be solicited on technology, instruction, parking, adequacy of library and research space and athletic and recreational facilities."

Once this data collection phase concludes this fall, 30 committees composed of approximately 200 faculty and staff members will review the reports next spring. The group will compile a final report that addresses more than 450 SACS criteria that the university must meet. During the fall 2001 semester, the report will be available for campus review. In spring 2002, a SACS committee will visit the university, evaluate the self-study and make recommendations. The decision to renew UNCW's accreditation will be made by SACS in fall 2002.

This three-year process to renew accreditation is important to the university, said Spackman. "Accreditation validates students' degrees, assures employers that UNCW graduates' education meets high standards and contributes to the institution's academic reputation. Without accreditation, the university could not receive federal student financial aid or research grant funds."

For more information, contact Dr. Spackman at ext. 3303 or choose the SACS link from UNCW's World Wide Web homepage at http://www.uncwil.edu.

Ruben Navarrette to Lecture Sept. 25

Navarrette

Ruben Navarrette, Jr., a journalist with the Dallas Morning News, will present "Bienvenido, Welcome to the New America: How Latinos Will Change the New Century" at 7 p.m Sept. 25 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The event is part of the university's annual Hispanic-American Heritage Month celebration sponsored by the Office of Campus Diversity.

A graduate of Harvard University, Navarrette is the author of A Darker Shade of Crimson: Odyssey of a Harvard Chicano, which was published in 1993 by Bantam Books. Navarrette has published more than 200 editorials and essays in newspapers and magazines nationwide. His work appeared regularly in the Sunday "Opinion" section of the Los Angeles Times, as well as in the Chicago Tribune, Sacramento Bee and Fresno Bee. He has also written for Hispanic, Change, Swing, Si and Latina magazines.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Note of Appreciation

Terri Joynes, advancement services, would like to express her deep appreciation to "all of the wonderful friends at UNCW for the overwhelming care and support my family and I received following the recent loss of my father. The many flowers, cards and phone calls were most comforting during a very difficult time."

Spanish Film Series

The film Yoyes will be shown at 7 p.m. September 18 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium, as part of the Spanish Film Series, sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. The film recreates the life of Yoyes, the first woman who held a position of responsibility within the Basque terrorist group ETA. The film is in Spanish with English subtitles.

Tennis Instruction

Campus recreation is sponsoring free tennis instruction for faculty and staff. Beginning lessons will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Mondays Sept. 18 though Oct. 16, and intermediate lessons from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Wednesdays Sept. 20 through Oct. 18. Equipment will be provided, and lessons will be taught by an ITA professional instructor from USA 1-2-3 at the gazebo tennis courts. To register, call ext. 7443.

Randall Library Adds J-Stor

Randall Library has added J-Stor, a database which offers full-text access to more than 150 journals in the fields of African-American studies, anthropology, Asian studies, ecology, economics, education, finance, general science, history, literature, mathematics, philosophy, political science, populations studies, sociology and statistics. To access this database, go to library's World Wide Web site at http://library.uncwil.edu/ and select databases, then select J-Stor.

Art Exhibits

The exhibit "What You Looking At" by Donnie Wrights, student affairs, will be displayed Sept. 18 through Oct. 30 in the Warwick Center. A "Meet the Artist" reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Sept. 18 in the center lobby.

"A Walk in the Woods with Works of Heart," an exhibit by local artists Ed Jacobsen, a woodworker, and Deborah Doucett, a quilter, will be displayed Sept. 18 through Oct. 30 in the University Union, Living Room. A "Meet the Artists" reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Sept. 20 in the living room.

Golf Tournament

The Full Circle Golf Classic will be held at 9 a.m. Sept. 16 at the Cape Golf and Racquet Club. Proceeds benefit UNCW golf scholarships, the Wilmington Children's Museum and the Latimer House Museum. The event will be a captain's choice format. The cost is $60 per person, $200 per team. The UNCW golf team will conduct a children's clinic. For more information, call 762-8899 or 799-3110.

Seahawk on the Web

The World Wide Web site for the Seahawk, UNCW's student newspaper, has been reactivated. It can be accessed at http://www.theseahawk.org.

Minority Students Awards Program

The 15th annual Awards Program for Minority Students will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Sept. 22 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The campus community is invited to this program which honors minority students who excelled in academic performance and leadership positions during the 1999-2000 academic year.

Biological Sciences Seminar

David Webster, biological sciences, will present "Nesting Ecology of the Loggerhead Sea Turtle" at 2 p.m. Sept. 15 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Note of Appreciation

Susan Chinnici, registrar's office, would like to "thank everyone for their cards and prayers during my recent illness and recovery. They helped lift my spirits. I would also like to thank everyone who donated hours to the Shared Leave Program. I appreciate your kindness and generosity."

Artist Reception

A reception for Ellis Efird Furst, a Wilmington artist known for her murals and altarpieces in area homes, schools and churches, will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Hall's Claude Hall Gallery. Furst's exhibit "Sacred Subjects" is on display in the gallery, and she will be available to discuss her work.

Computer Science Seminar

Harry Smith, computer science, will present "Teddy: An Amazingly Simple Tool for Modeling 3D Graphical Objects" at 4 p.m. Sept. 22 in Bear Hall, Room 206. Smith will demonstrate Teddy, a free software program which allows a user to convert two-dimensional graphics into three-dimensional objects.

Retirement Reception

A retirement reception in honor of Sally Sullivan, English, will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Sept. 20 in the University Union, Living Room. Sullivan is retiring after 25 years of state service.

Children Needed for Reading Program

Faculty, staff and students who have children between the ages of three and 10 can sign them up to participate in the Children's Story Adventures Program, a joint effort between Randall Library and the Dean of Student's Commuter and Non-traditional Student Center. Weekly reading sessions will be conducted from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays in the library's second floor listening area. For more information, call Kate Temoney at ext. 7371 or e-mail temoneyk.

State Employees COMBINED CAMPAIGN

UNCW CAMPUS CAMPAIGN September 11-29, 2000

The UNCW campus State Employees Combined Campaign (SECC) began on Monday, September 11 with an email message from Chancellor James R. Leutze inviting your participation in this year's campaign. The purpose of the campaign is to raise money to support non-profit organizations in our area, region, state and beyond. Last year one third of our faculty and staff gave $37,923 to support the wide range of non-profits who fill so many needs.

This year UNCW's goal is to increase the percentage of faculty and staff who give through the SECC. To meet this goal all UNCW faculty and staff are urged to complete the pledge form provided by their campaign representative (see reverse). We ask that you place the form in a sealed envelope. Sealed envelopes will be put in an area/department manila envelope which will be sent to the regional SECC office off campus for processing. This office will provide campus payroll those pledge forms which require processing for payroll deduction. No one on campus will know what you have pledged.

To encourage participation the university has chosen to provide incentive awards in the form of trust fund monies to areas with the highest percentage of participation. (Note: the cost for these awards does not come from your gift to the SECC.)

Unit Incentives:

Incentives will be awarded based on highest percentage of participation in each category.
In case of a tie the award will be divided between tying units.

Award #1: $2,000 for Trust Fund - Units with more than 200 employees Contestants: 1) Business Affairs Division, 2) College of Arts and Sciences

Award #2: $1,250 for Trust Fund - Units with between 75-199 employees
Contestants: 1) Academic Affairs (AA office, Admissions, Campus Diversity, CTE, Enrollment Affairs, Summer School, Financial Aid, Honors Program, International Programs, Library, Registrar, SMEC, SASP, Technology College, CMS), 2) Cameron School of Busines, 3) Chancellor's Office (Human Resources, IR, UR, Athletics, OC, IPL, IA, Legal), 4) Watson School of Education, 5) Student Affairs Division

Award #3: $750 for Trust Fund - Units with between 1-74 employees
Contestants: 1) Information Technology Division, 2) School of Nursing, 3) Public Service and Extended Education Division, 4) University Advancement Division

Some have asked: Where does the money raised go?

When you designate your gift/pledge to one or more agencies the money is sent to those agencies.There is no limit on how much an agency can receive. Whatever you designate for them is given to them.

When a donor does NOT designate where to send the gift/pledge the money is distributed in the same proportion as total gifts are distributed. IE: If 120 agencies divide designated raised money evenly then all non-designated money is distributed to those same agencies evenly.

Note: Pledges paid by payroll deduction are tax deductible in tax year 2001.
Gifts made by check or cash are tax deductible in tax year 2000.

Your SECC Campaign Representative is a volunteer ready to help you help others. Please contact your representative to answer questions you may have. When you have completed the pledge form or are ready to make a gift please give it to your representative.

Office of the Chancellor
Office of the Chancellor	Nikki Howard
Institute of Political Leadership
Institutional Research
University Relations	Philip Brown
Human Resources	Lori Preiss
Athletics	Duane Grooms Debbie Wainwright
Academic Affairs
Academic Affairs Office	Ann Kendrick
Honors Program
Technology College
Admissions	Georgie Stephens
Campus Diversity,	LeeAnn Dulatre
Center for Marine Science	Gloria Crowell
Enrollment Affairs, Summer School	Linda Farrell
College Opportunity Programs
Financial Aid	Emily Bliss
Graduate School, ORA	Pam Whitlock
International Programs	Jim McNab
Library Services	Lynn Shay
Registrar's Office	Alice Bullard
SMEC and CTE	Bill Kawcynski
SASP, Center for Academic Advising and the Learning Center	Rebecca Whitehead
College of Arts & Sciences
Dean's Office	Dana McKoy
Art and Theatre	Ann Connor
Biological Sciences	Tim Ballard
Chemistry	Libbie Schaffer
Communication Studies	Frank Trimble
Computer Science	Harry Smith
Creative Writing	Becky Lee
Earth Sciences	Frank Ainsley
English	Bill Atwill
Foreign Languages and Literatures	Katia Campbell
HPER	Charles Lewis
History	Hal Langfur
Mathematics and Statistics	Xin Lu
Music	Steven Errante
Philosophy and Religion	George Zervos
Physics and Physical Oceanography	Frances Brown
Political Science	Lloyd Jones
Psychology	Michael Bradley
Social Work	Karen Bullock
Sociology and Criminal Justice	Clyde McDaniel
Anthropology	Jim Sabella
Environmental Studies	Dana McKoy
Film Studies	Dana McKoy
Pre-Engineering	Dana McKoy
Kenan Auditorium	Curt Allen-Little
Museum of World Cultures	Dana McKoy
Cameron School of Business
Dean's Office & Center for Business and Economic Services	Larry Clark
Accountancy and Business Law	Richard Roscher
Economics and Finance	Rob Burrus
Management and Marketing	Vince Howe
Information Systems and Operations Management	John Garris
School of Nursing	Nancy McLemore
Watson School of Education	Nancy Jones Saul Bachner
Business Affairs
Business Affairs Office (including budget office and financial reporting)	Inez Parker
Auxiliary Services	Brenda Nelson
Architectural & Contract Services	Gail Christman
Facilities Resource Management
Accounting (including Cashier's Office, Fund Management and Planning and Payroll)	Christa King
Physical Plant	Mattie Eason
Purchasing Services	Mary Forsythe
Safety Office	Dick Scott
Support Services (including Systems and Procedures)	Amy Tiller
University Police	Annie Holloway
Information Technology	Dana Ward
Public Service and Extended Education	Margaret Bailey
Student Affairs
Student Affairs Office	Terry Curran
Campus Recreation & Wellness	Jean Ostrander
Career Services	Mary Carlson
Dean of Students	Terry Curran
Housing and Residence Life	Mary Lou Andrison
Student Development Center	Gloria Sasser
Student Life Science	Terry Curran
University Advancement	Ty Rowell

Please Remember: Pledge Payroll Deductions Begin January 2001

secc2000/2001/sahlinem

FRS MONTHLY GREENBAR REPORTS MOVE TO THE WEB

The last "greenbar" FRS monthly reports have been printed and distributed.

Future Month's Reports are available on-line through e~Print

- Reports available faster
- View FRS Reports anytime, anywhere
- View any previous month's reports on-line
- Multiple people can view the same report
- Print only the pages you need

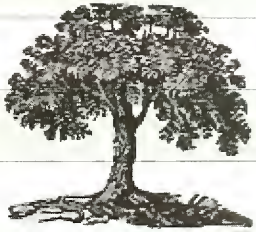
Hands-on training is available in Hoggard Training Room HO226.

Seating is limited for these sessions; therefore, reservations are required and can be made by contacting Cris Dixon in Financial Systems at Extension 4262.

Monday	September 18, 2000	3:00-4:00	4:00-5:00
Friday	September 22, 2000	3:00-4:00	4:00-5:00
Monday	September 25, 2000	3:00-4:00	4:00-5:00
Friday	September 29, 2000	3:00-4:00	4:00-5:00

Information on how to use e~Print as well as access to FRS Reports through the e~Print system is available on the web at:

http://www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/eprint.html



Save trees…use e~Print to view your FRS Financial Reports on the web.

M•E•N•U

UNCW

Free Delivery!

Career Café

a menu of career presentations for classrooms and student organization meetings

Hors d'oeuvres– Career Assessment

Assessing Your Career Interests
Discovering Your Type—Personal Preferences & Careers
Making That "Major" Decision

Entrées– Career Exploration

Finding a Summer Job
How To Use Career Events
Internships for UNCW Students
What Can I Do With a Major In…?
Workplace Trends

Desserts– Campus to Career or Grad School

Dress for Success
How to Research Employers
Interview To Win: Preparing for Job Interviews
Interviewing Strategies for Education Majors job.search@internet—Is Your "Net" Working?
Job Hunting: Your Senior Project
Preparing for Graduate or Professional School
Salary Negotiations
Selling Yourself on Paper: Resumes & Cover Letters
To Go Or Not To Go: Graduate School
Write Your eResume with UNCW CareerConnections
Writing a Curriculum Vita

UNCW
CAREER SERVICES

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division of Student Affairs • Creating Experiences for Life
104 & 106 University Union • (910) 962-3174
email: careersers@uncwil.edu
homepage: http://www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

Program Request Form

place your order from our à la carte menu

UNCW
CAREER SERVICES

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division of Student Affairs • Creating Experiences for Life
104 & 106 University Union • (910) 962-3174
email: careersers@uncwil.edu
homepage: http://www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

Name of Organization ______________________ Today's Date __________

Contact Person ______________________ Telephone Number __________

Address ______________________

Type of program requested. Please be specific. (For topics, refer to menu list on reverse.)

____

____

Program length (most topics are developed for 30 or 50-minute programs) __________

Anticipated audience size __________ Target audience __________

Preferred program date* __________ Preferred program time __________

Alternate program date __________ Alternate program time __________

Specific location for program– Building __________ Room number __________

Please note: A projection screen or appropriate wall is required for all programs.

Please return this form two weeks before the preferred program date to:
Career Services • 106 University Union
962-3174 • fax 962-4257 • email: careersers@uncwil.edu
Thanks!

For Career Services Use Only–

Form received by ______________________ Date received __________

Program presenter(s) ______________________ Date confirmed __________

Presentation attendance ______________________

(Rev 08/00)

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Diane Levy, sociology and criminal justice, had the article "The Shock of the Strange, the Shock of the Familiar: Learning from Study Abroad" published in the spring/summer issue of the Journal of the National Collegiate Honors Council.

Stephen Kinsey, biological sciences, presented the seminar "High-energy Phosphate Profiles Correlate with an Inherited Capacity for Hypoxic Exercise Tolerance in Mice" at the Gordon Research Conference on Macromolecular Organization and Cell Structure, in Oxford, England. Co-authors were biology graduate student Glenn Adams and Dale McCall, anthropology. Kinsey was also co-author on "Diffusion of Low-molecular Weight Compounds in Muscle" presented at the same conference. Co-authors on this paper were Timothy Moerland and Orion Vanderlinde of Florida State University.

Gur Saran Adhar, computer science, presented the research paper "Domination in Bounded Interval-tolerance Graphs" at the seventh International Conference on Parallel and Distributed Systems at Iwate-Prefectural University, Japan. The conference was sponsored by IEEE Computer Society.

David La Vere, history, had his third book Contrary Neighbors: Southern Plains and Removed Indians in Indian Territory published by the University of Oklahoma Press.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, co-authored the poster "Experimental and Theoretical Analysis of the Rotational Motion of C60 in Halobenzenes" with Art. A. Rodriguez and Mervat H. Issa of East Carolina University. The poster was presented by Rodriguez at the 220th national meeting of the American Chemical Society, Washington, D.C.

Mark Hulsbeck and Doug Kesling, NURC/CMS, fulfilled the requirements for instructor certification in the First Aid for Hazardous Marine Life Provider Course from the Divers Alert Network.

Martin Posey and Troy Alphin, biological sciences, received $5,514 in supplemental funding from CZR Inc. to monitor potential effects of increased tidal range on the Cape Fear River ecosystem due to deepening and widening of Wilmington harbor.

Courtney Hackney, biological sciences, received $27,986 in supplemental funding from CZR Inc. to monitor potential effects of increased tidal range on the Cape Fear River ecosystem due to deepening and widening of Wilmington harbor.

Yoko Kano, foreign languages and literatures, gave the invited presentation "Online Courses for Foreign Language Instructions" at Nagoya Gakuin University, Seto, Japan. In addition, she presented the paper "One Class in Two Countries" at the 11th annual Southeastern Association of Teachers of Japanese and presented "Teaching on the Web Internationalizing the Campus" at the Mid-Atlantic Association of Language Lab Directors.

George Schell, information systems and operations management, had the textbook Management Information Systems which was co-authored with Ray McLeod published in its eighth edition by Prentice Hall. His coauthored Casebook for Management Information Systems was also released in its eighth edition. In addition, Schell had the articles "Evidence of Information System Value" accepted for publication by The Electronic Journal of Information Systems Evaluation, as well as "An Information Scanning Approach for Learning to Work on the Internet" coauthored by Rick Mathieu, accepted for publication by the Education and Information Technologies Journal.

Barry Salwen, music, took part in the three-week Fulbright German studies seminar "History and Memory: Jewish Past and Present in Germany." Chosen from among a national pool of applicants, Salwen received a full grant for participating. The seminar included lectures, discussions with Jewish leaders and site visits in five German cities, principally Berlin and Munich.

Mike Mallin, biological sciences and CMS, chaired a special symposium on confined animal feeding operations and aquatic resources at the annual meeting of the American Fisheries Society in St. Louis. Invited papers presented by UNCW researchers were "Acute Impacts of Swine and Poultry Wastes on Stream Fish Habitat" by Mallin, Matt McIver, Scott Ensign, Doug Parsons, Martin Posey and Troy Alphin and "Environmental Effects of Geographic Concentrations of Confined Animal Feeding Operations in the Black and Northeast Cape Fear River Basins" by Larry Cahoon, Mallin and Ensign.

Warren Gulko, information systems and operations management, was cited in the final report on the White Conference on Small Business for the award-winning North Carolina Governors Conference on small business "Building the Foundation for a New Century."

Patrick McKay, psychology, had the paper "Stereotype Threat Effects on the Raven's Scores of African-Americans" accepted for publication in the Journal of Applied Social Psychology. Co-authors on the paper were Dennis Doverspike, University of Akron; Doreen Bowen-Hilton, Fayetteville State University; and Quintonia D. Martin, Cleveland Clinic Foundation.

Brooks Dodson, English, had the article "Using Homer to Teach The Ramayana" published in the September issue of Teaching English in the Two-Year College.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, presented the invited seminar "Modeling NMR Shielding by Alkenes and Aromatic Rings: Unexpected Results" to students and faculty of the Department of chemistry, UNC Charlotte.

Steven Meinhold, political science, received $54,000 from the Federal Emergency Management Agency for the Project Impact higher education conference.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Chancellor's Achievement Awards Reception

The Chancellor's Achievement Awards reception will be held from 2 to 3 p.m. Sept. 22 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The campus community is invited to attend the reception which honors students who received all "A's" while carrying a minimum of 15 credits for the spring 2000 semester.

Faculty Regalia

A representative from Oak Hill will be on campus from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 25 and 26 in the bookstore to take orders from faculty interested in purchasing regalia. A 20 percent discount will be offered on orders placed during this time. For an appointment, call Judy Connelly at ext. 3054.

Advancement Telephone Numbers Change

Personnel in the Division for University Advancement have new telephone extensions. Note the following changes: Becky Chilcote can be reached at ext. 7717, Kathy Risley, ext. 3751 and Gennie Beatty, ext. 3626.

Voter Registration

The Department of Political Science and the New Hanover County Board of Elections will hold voter registration from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 20 in the University Union. In addition to local, state and national offices, the Nov. 7 ballot will include the $3.1 billion higher education facilities bond referendum. For more information on the bond, visit the UNCW homepage on the World Wide Web. Click on the banner "Yes, we need it! Vote Nov. 7."

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

State Employees
COMBINED
CAMPAIGN

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

Sept. 11-29

Staff Training

A Balanced Life Through Meditation, noon to 1 p.m. Thursdays through Nov. 30 University Union, Room 210.

Diets That Don't Work and the Reality of What Will, 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 24.

Fixed Assets, 9 to 10 a.m. Oct. 31.

Getting Ready for Your Debut, 9 a.m. to noon Sept. 20.

Maintaining and Reading Your Budget, 9 to 11 a.m. Sept. 26.

SPA Employee Disciplinary Action, Suspension and Dismissal Policy and Grievance Appeal Policy, 2 to 4:30 p.m Oct. 17.

Timekeeping 101, 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 21.

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 9 a.m. to noon, Sept. 19.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Oct. 18.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

University Theatre Production

University Theatre will present Tom Stoppard's The Real Inspector Hound at 8 p.m. Sept. 21-23, 27-30 and 2 p.m. Sept. 24 and Oct. 1 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. Admission is $5, free for UNCW students with ID.

Kozol Lecture

Jonathan Kozol, author of Death at an Early Age, will speak at UNCW's Leadership Lecture Series 2000. His lecture "Ordinary Resurrections" will be held at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 in Kenan Auditorium.

Kozol wrote Death after being fired for reading a Langston Hughes poem to a group of African-American fourth-grade students in 1967—the middle of the civil rights movement. The book dealt with the plight of urban schools in America and received the 1968 National Book Award in Science, Philosophy and Religion.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21043 Culture Collection Curator	Sept. 18
21044 Irrigation/Spray Specialist	Sept. 15
21045 Crime Prevention Specialist	Sept. 15
21046 Police Officer I	Sept. 15
21047 Receptionist	Sept. 18
21048 Receptionist	Sept. 15
21049 Office Assistant III	Sept. 15
21050 Point of Sale Processing Technician	Sept. 15
21051 Purchasing Assistant	Sept. 18
21052 Graphic Designer	Sept. 15
21053 Comp. Systems Admin. I	Sept. 22
21054 Physician Extender I	Sept. 18

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

DPSEE Classes and Programs

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education is offering the below-listed classes and programs. For information on cost or registration, call ext. 3195.

- "The Continuing Education of the World of Intercollegiate Athletics--UNCW and Beyond" with Peggy Bradley-Doppes, director of athletics, noon to 1:30 p.m. Sept. 20. Register by September 15.
- Clyde Edgerton readings and music, 6 to 8 p.m. Sept. 27. Register by Sept. 22.
- 18th-century Impressionism with Kemille Moore, art and theatre, 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, Sept. 26 through Nov. 7. Learn about Monet, Renoir, Degas, Pissarro and Mary Cassatt. Register by Sept. 19.
- Exploring Southern fiction with Rhonda Franklin, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays, Sept. 25 through Oct. 30. The first book is The Optimist's Daughter by Eudora Welty. Register by Sept. 18.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 11 September 21, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Roxie Shabazz Named Assistant Vice Chancellor for Admissions

John Cavanaugh, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, announced the appointment of Roxie Shabazz as assistant vice chancellor for admissions. Shabazz, director of admissions at Spelman College, will join the UNCW staff late this fall.

Shabazz

"She is very well regarded nationally in the admissions profession, and her success in previous positions as well as her knowledge of this region impressed me," said Cavanaugh. "She has a lot of good ideas on how we can market ourselves better.

"We will be looking to her to generally raise the quality of our admissions operation, including a complete revision of our admissions material, and raise the whole level of service we provide to prospective students and their parents. We also expect her to help UNCW become more active in selecting the kind of freshman class we want, seeking out students with the characteristics we want to enroll here," he said.

Shabazz received a bachelor's of arts degree in general arts from Villanova University in 1981 and a master's of social service administration from Bryn Mawr College in 1985. Her work experience in admissions includes service at the College of William & Mary, Williamsburg, Va., as associate dean of admissions from 1988-94; director of undergraduate admissions at James Madison University, Harrisonburg, Va., from 1994-1999; and director of admissions and orientation services at Spelman College in Atlanta.

At Spelman, she administers a comprehensive undergraduate admission program that includes marketing and student recruitment, application evaluation and overseeing the processing of 3,300 to 15,000 freshmen, transfer and international applications.

"I love Wilmington and UNCW, and I am excited about being part of the campus," said Shabazz. She is married to Rashid, and they have four sons, Michael, Kwame, Bilal and Kimani.

Oct. 13 Deadline for Voter Registration

Oct. 13 is the deadline to register to vote in the Nov. 7 general election. One of the issues on the ballot is the $3.1 billion higher education facilities bond. For information on how UNCW will use its share of the bond, go to the university's World Wide Web page at www.uncwil.edu, and click on the banner "Yes, we need it!" For information on how to register to vote in New Hanover County, go to the Web site www.co.new-hanover.nc.us/boe/BOEvotreg.htm.

Kiplinger's Names UNCW a "Best Value"

UNCW is among the 100 best values in public colleges according to the October 2000 edition of Kiplinger's, a magazine specializing in personal finance.

In the article "A Degree of Value," UNCW is ranked the 44th best buy in public higher education. In addition, UNCW is one of the 13 public universities cited as "best for out-of-state students" and "an especially good value for nonresidents."

This is the second major publication to bestow recognition on UNC Wilmington this month. The Sept. 11 issue of U.S. News and World Report ranked UNCW among the top 10 public universities in the South for the third consecutive year.

Kiplinger's determined its list using data that the schools supplied and applying its own formulas in conjunction with data collected by Wintergreen-Orchard House, which gathers statistics each year from more than 1,800 schools, including 589 four-year public colleges and universities. The magazine supplemented Wintergreen's data with statistics from the U.S. Department of Education.

According to Kiplinger's, the top 100 public universities were determined using a variety of quality measures, including graduation rates, how many freshmen return for their sophomore year, student-faculty ratios, how much the college spends per student on instruction and how much it spends to maintain library resources. Once the top 100 were selected on quality alone, they were ranked on a combination of quality and cost measures. Overall, the formula placed greater weight on quality than on cost because "value" is not synonymous with "cheap," according to the magazine.

Copies of Kiplinger's can be purchased at local bookstores.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Smart Growth Forum

A public forum on smart growth will be held from 8:30 a.m. to noon Sept. 22 in King Hall Auditorium. Five panelists, including Wayne Clark, Wilmington's director of development services, will discuss aspects of smart growth and how Wilmington and New Hanover County may use these principles to better manage expansion. Tom Barth, political science, will moderate the forum which is sponsored by the Coastal Real Estate and Building Industry Coalition and UNCW.

Gerard Reading

Philip Gerard, creative writing, will read from his work at 8 p.m. Sept. 26 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Gerard, who joined UNCW in 1989, is the author of several fiction and nonfiction works including Hatteras Light, Cape Fear Rising, Desert Kill and Creative Nonfiction: Researching and Crafting Stories of Real Life.

Big Band and Jazz Combo to Perform Sept. 29

The UNCW Big Band, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, and the Jazz Combo, directed by Jerald Shynett, will perform at 8 p.m. Sept. 29 in Kenan Auditorium. General admission is $5; UNCW faculty, staff, senior citizens and children under 12, $2.50; UNCW students with ID, free.

Byington Fellowship

Shannon McCreery, a graduate student in creative writing, is the inaugural recipient of the Robert H. Byington Leadership Fellowship in Creative Writing. This annual award was established in honor of Bob Byington, professor emeritus of English.

"Creative writing at UNCW began with the vision and enthusiasm of Bob Byington," said Philip Gerard, who along with Kathleen Johnson, donated funds for the fellowship. "It is in great part because of his leadership and foresight that creative writing is now a department."

Let's Talk! UNCW & You Launches Second Season

UNCW-TV's Let's Talk! UNCW & You, hosted by Betty Ann Sanders, has started production on its second season with a new format, focus and location.

"The university wants to showcase all the wonderful places and people in Southeastern North Carolina, so we decided to take Let's Talk! to them rather than having them come to us," said Sanders. Each show will be filmed on location and feature a different theme.

This season's first show was filmed aboard the Henrietta II and features music and people from the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra fund-raiser Show Boat, written by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein II. Other guests included Michelle Howard-Vital, public service and extended education; UNCW students Shaunita Wallace and Lester Turner and Kathleen Benzaquin, director of the Teaching Fellows Program; and James Merritt, associate director of the Center for Marine Science. The show airs at 7 p.m. Sept. 22 and 25 on Time Warner Cable Channel 5 and 10 a.m. Sept. 23 and 25 on Charter Communications Cable Channel 4.

WSO Fund-raiser

The Wilmington Symphony Orchestra, along with soloists Clarence Tobias, Michael Rallis, Denise Bass and Rochelle Tauches, will present selections from the musical Show Boat Sept. 23 aboard the Henrietta II as a fund-raising event to benefit the orchestra's concert season and educational programs. For more information or tickets to the event, call 791-9262.

Spanish Film Series

The film Insomnia will be shown at 7 p.m. Sept. 25 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium as part of the Spanish Film Series, sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. The film is in Spanish with English subtitles.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - chicken Parmesan, vegetarian stuffed peppers, pasta with marinara sauce, succotash, green bean casserole, assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - sweet and sour pork, baked ravioli, white rice, peas with mushrooms, carrots, assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

Chemistry Seminar

Madeleine Jacobs, editor-in-chief of Chemical & Engineering News, will lecture at 3 p.m. Sept. 22 in Dobo Hall, Room 132. Jacobs will discuss aspects of the magazine's production including selecting stories and coordinating efforts of 44 reporters and editors in seven bureaus worldwide.

School of Nursing Graduate Program Receives Accreditation

The Master of Science in Nursing Family Nurse Practitioner Program at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington has received accreditation from the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission (NLNAC) announced Virginia Adams, dean of the School of Nursing.

"This is a historic moment for our program," said Adams. "Accreditation affirms that our program meets the high standards established by the National League for Nursing. It also recognizes the school's commitment to education and professional development."

Accreditation is also important for student and faculty recruitment. "Students who are interested in pursuing a graduate degree are generally looking for accredited programs," said Adams.

The NLNAC is the leading accrediting body for baccalaureate, master's and associate degree programs, in addition to diploma and licensed practical nursing programs, within the United States and its territories. This initial accreditation is through spring 2005.

NLNAC reviewers recognized the strength of the nursing faculty teaching in the graduate program, particularly the high percentage of doctoral-level faculty who have nurse practitioner credentials. They also cited the program's "highly motivated, articulate and professional student body."

While the report was very favorable, reviewers expressed concern with the Nursing School's lack of space, said Adams. "The reviewers noted as an area of concern inadequate classroom and laboratory space, particularly as the program grows."

Expansion is a major concern for university officials. UNCW's growing national reputation for undergraduate teaching and overall academic excellence drew 7,870 applicants for the 2000-01 freshman class of 1,600; 57.7 percent was accepted; and approximately 1,650 students are enrolled this fall, bringing the university's total enrollment to an all-time high of nearly 10,000 students. UNCW cannot increase overall enrollment unless additional classroom space is provided through the higher education bond referendum on the Nov. 7 ballot.

UNCW's Master of Science in Nursing Family Nurse Practitioner program first accepted students in the fall 1998 following approval by the UNC Board of Governors. At commencement exercises held May 2000, the School of Nursing awarded its inaugural master's degrees to nine graduates.

CMS Lecture Series

Ron Baird, National Sea Grant director, will present "Future Trends: Implications for NOAA's Coastal Research Agenda" at 4 p.m. Sept. 22 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium as the inaugural speaker of the 2000-01 CMS Lecture Series. A world expert in deep-sea fish ecology, Baird is director of the 29 Sea Grant college programs and associate director for ocean programs for NOAA where he establishes marine policy and research priorities for nearly $100 million in federal funding for ocean programs.

Baird

Divisions Create Fund to Upgrade Classroom Technology

The Information Technology Systems Division and the Division for Academic Affairs have created a $200,000 fund to upgrade classroom technology.

During the fiscal year, between 10 and 15 classrooms will be upgraded to a standard instructional design configuration established by the AV/Media Services Committee.

"Creating a baseline configuration for classroom technology will enable instructors to have uniform performance when using multiple classrooms. In addition, ITSD can leverage its purchasing power by buying in volume and offer a higher degree of maintenance through familiarity of equipment and streamlining replacement parts, such as projector bulbs," said Jeff Stanfield, director of A/V media services. The committee determined standards for the following equipment used in classroom instructional settings: video projectors, projection screens, lecterns, computers/software, monitors, speakers, audio tuners/receivers and VCRs.

"ITSD will continue to advance the needs and to develop and deliver the technological capacity UNCW faculty and students must have through programs like these," said Robert E. Tyndall, vice chancellor for information technology systems.

The provost, in consultation with deans and department chairs, will determine the order of classroom upgrades.

State Employees COMBINED CAMPAIGN

Sept. 11-29

Have you made your pledge?

One more week to go.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Art Auction

The Wilmington East Rotary Club is sponsoring the Cape Fear Art Auction at 7 p.m. Sept. 30 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets are $25 per person, evening attire. Proceeds benefit several community organizations including UNCW scholarships. For more information, call 392-7167.

Art Exhibits

The exhibit "What You Looking At?" by Donnie Wrights, student affairs, and "A Walk in the Woods with Works of Heart," an exhibit by local artists Ed Jacobsen, a woodworker, and Deborah Doucett, a quilter, will be displayed through Oct. 30 in the Warwick Center and University Union, Living Room, respectively.

Computer Science Seminar

Harry Smith, computer science, will present "Teddy: An Amazingly Simple Tool for Modeling 3D Graphical Objects" at 4 p.m. Sept. 22 in Bear Hall, Room 206. Smith will demonstrate Teddy, a free software program which allows a user to convert two-dimensional graphics into three-dimensional objects.

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament

The 2000-01 faculty/staff golf tournament will be held Oct. 5 at Castle Bay golf course in Hampstead. Tee-off is at 1 p.m., and the format is captain's choice with teams consisting of four members. The entry fee is $30 per person. Forward team registration to Jim Harris, housing and residence life, by Sept. 27. For more information, contact Harris at ext. 3405 or e-mail harrisj.

Minority Students Awards

The 15th annual Awards Program for Minority Students will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Sept. 22 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The campus community is invited to this program which honors minority students who excelled in academic performance and leadership positions during the 1999-2000 academic year.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Philip Gerard, creative writing, and Ellen Wood Rickert, environmental projects editor at Coastal Carolina Press, are guests on UNCW-TV's Let's Read! UNCW & You which airs at 7 p.m. Sept. 21 on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

The Real Inspector Hound

Alexandra Sargent, art and theatre, makes final adjustments to the costume she designed for student Aerin Finstrom Koch, who plays Cynthia in the University Theatre production of Tom Stoppard's The Real Inspector Hound. The play opens at 8 p.m. Sept. 21 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. Additional performances will be held at 8 p.m. Sept. 22-23, 27-30 and 2 p.m. Sept. 24 and Oct. 1. Admission is $5, free for UNCW students with ID.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Barry Salwen, music, performed two chamber concerts as part of the summer series presented at Sullivan Community College (SCC) in New York. The other performers were Richard Rood, violin, and Susannah Chapman, cello, both members of the world-famous Orpheus Chamber Ensemble. This was a repeat invitation for Salwen, who performed a solo concert previously at SCC.

Ann Pabst and William McLellan, biological sciences, received $15,000 from the National Marine Fisheries Service for the project "Infrared Thermography: A Potential Detection Tool for Right Whales."

Wade Watanabe, CMS, received $234,000 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture for the project "Controlled Breeding, Larviculture and Intensive Growout of High-value Marine Fish Species for U.S. Agriculture."

Michael Durako, biological sciences and CMS, and Wilson Freshwater, CMS, received $38,106 from the National Oceanic Atmospheric Administration National Ocean Service for the project "Reproductive Biology, Population Dynamics, Dispersal and Genetic Diversity of the Endangered Seagrass, Halophila johnsonii."

Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, received $30,000 from Eli Lilly and Company for a cooperative research program.

Earl Sheridan, political science, received $1,800 from the American Political Science Association for the project "Race and the Rhetoric of Reaction."

James Merritt, CMS, received the following funding for the Lower Cape Fear River Program: $2,000 from Carolina Power and Light, $10,000 from the City of Wilmington, $10,000 from International Paper, $7,500 from the Town of Carolina Beach, $1,500 from the Town of Beulaville, $10,000 from Takeda Chemical Products USA Inc., $1,500 from the Town of Warsaw and $15,000 from Dupont Wilmington.

Ami Wilbur, biological sciences and CMS, received $30,000 from Mote Marine Laboratory for the project "Development of Bay Scallop Stock Enhancement Techniques: Genetic Assessment."

Robert Buerger, environmental studies, and Jeff Hill, HPER, received $7,265 from the DENR/Division of Coastal Management for the project "Diverse Physical Impacts to the Natural Resources of the North Carolina National Estuarine Research."

This is recyclable.

Communication Studies Professor Helps Women Explore the Outdoors

by Dan Guy,
University Relations Intern

Although Patricia Comeaux, an associate professor in the Communication Studies Department, is in the classroom most of the year, her heart is never far from the outdoors.

An avid camper, she will serve as a guide with the SideTrips: Retreats4women Oct. 1-6, where participants will explore the Appalachian Trail. SideTrips is an organization that specializes in hiking, dog sledding, gourmet cooking and watercolor painting retreats for women.

Friends introduced Comeaux to camping and hiking in the Shawnee National Forest, Ozark Mountains and the rolling hills of Kentucky and Oklahoma. By the time Comeaux moved to North Carolina to teach at UNCW in 1980, she said she was hooked on exploring the outdoors.

"The solitude, the breathtaking beauty and peacefulness of nature as well as the challenges and the risk intrigued me. It continues to do so," Comeaux explained.

After her first year in Wilmington, Comeaux planned a solo trip for summer 1981.

Taking advantage of a women's backpacking trip offered by the UNCW Discovery Center, she learned a lot about preparation for backpacking and sleeping out in cold weather. Comeaux spent that summer, hiking and camping in Colorado, Montana, Wyoming and Northwestern Canada.

"I wanted to test my competence, challenge myself to see what I could do on my own," she explained. "I wanted to be by myself, to learn to rely on my own skills as well as my own company. What I enjoy most about camping and hiking is getting down to the bare essentials of life."

Comeaux said she returned from that trip with a sense of competence, confidence, renewal, tranquility and peacefulness.

"I also gained a new respect for the need to protect our natural environments, to maintain their uniqueness, their beauty, and their natural and wild states," she said.

The desire to learn more about nature and to share these kinds of experiences led Comeaux to develop the course "Rhetoric of the Wilderness."

She developed and taught the course, which focused on knowledge about the American wilderness movement and writers and explorers of the movement. Participants also gained experience and an appreciation of the outdoors through a guided trip.

Through a mutual friend she met Peg Schroeder, who also enjoyed sailing and exploring the outdoors.

"When I met Peg she was entertaining the idea of starting a business of retreats for women, and backpacking was one of her main interests, so naturally we found a lot in common," said Comeaux.

"Pat was instrumental in moving the idea forward," said Peg Schroeder, owner of SideTrips. "Her enthusiasm has been a staying force when obstacles were encountered."

SideTrips completed its inaugural excursion in April 2000, when a group of 14 women took part in a watercolor painting retreat on Bald Head Island taught by Virginia Wright-Frierson.

According to Schroeder, women participating on the October trip "can expect to get a good workout without anyone being pushed too hard," she said. "The hike will include plenty of time for relaxing, journal writing, practicing yoga, and, of course, laughing."

Pat Comeaux, associate professor in communication studies, enjoys the "peacefulness of nature."

Participants can expect to learn "the skills of low-impact camping, such as cooking on a camp stove and carrying their world on their back. At the same time they will still be able to slow down and enjoy the majesty of the mountains and the serenity of nature."

Other excursions offered by SideTrips include: dog sledding in Homer, Alaska, in March 2001; watercolor painting at Bald Head Island in April; an adventure weekend, featuring spelunking, day hiking and a whitewater trip at Blowing Rock in May; and creative writing at Bald Head Island in June.

For more information, contact Peg Schroeder at 397-0906 or visit the World Wide Web site www.retreats4women.com.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Revised Hurricane Policy

UNCW has revised its policy regarding class cancellation and campus closure in the event of a hurricane.

The university has a three-phase plan corresponding to issuance of a hurricane watch, a hurricane warning and a mandatory evacuation. The policy change is reflected in Phase Two which occurs when a hurricane warning is issued for Wilmington by the National Weather Service. University officials will evaluate the weather situation. After reviewing criteria such as the size and strength of the storm, how quickly the storm is moving and amount of daylight remaining prior to a mandatory evacuation, the university may cancel classes and issue a voluntary evacuation for students. Faculty and staff will continue to report to work, and the campus will remain accessible until a mandatory evacuation is ordered. Hurricane warnings are typically issued 24 to 36 hours before 40 mph winds arrive on shore.

UNCW will continue to order a mandatory evacuation of the campus when New Hanover County officials close the beaches as part of Phase Three of its policy. Phase One of the policy is initiated following the announcement of a hurricane watch by the National Weather Service. During this stage, students, faculty and staff should be on alert and monitor the university's Hurricane Hotline at ext. 3991 or 888/657-5751 or local media sources for the latest information.

Discount Coupons

Discount coupons for admission to Kings Dominion and Carowinds theme parks are available for faculty and staff in human resources. Valid dates are through Oct. 8.

Chancellor's Achievement Awards Reception

The Chancellor's Achievement Awards reception will be held from 2 to 3 p.m. Sept. 22 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The campus community is invited to attend the reception which honors students who received all "A's" while carrying a minimum of 15 credits for the spring 2000 semester.

Faculty Regalia

A representative from Oak Hill will be on campus from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 25 and 26 in the bookstore to take orders from faculty interested in purchasing regalia. A 20 percent discount will be offered on orders placed during this time. For an appointment, call Judy Connelly at ext. 3054.

Staff Training

A Balanced Life Through Meditation, noon to 1 p.m. Thursdays through Nov. 30 University Union, Room 210.

Diets That Don't Work and the Reality of What Will, 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 24.

Fixed Assets, 9 to 10 a.m. Oct. 31.

Maintaining and Reading Your Budget, 9 to 11 a.m. Sept. 26.

SPA Employee Disciplinary Action, Suspension and Dismissal Policy and Grievance Appeal Policy, 2 to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 17.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Oct. 18.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Zeynep Kurgun-Chen, biological sciences; Janeen Graham and Karen Haselden, curricular studies; Mary Keesee, financial aid; Julie Triplett, public service and extended education; and Joy Williamson, purchasing services.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21053 Computer Systems Administrator I	Sept. 22
21055 Production Manager	Sept. 29
21056 Facility Engineering Specialist	Sept. 29
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21058 Stock Clerk II	Sept. 29

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

MarineQuest Camp

MarineQuest will hold Teacher Work Day Coast Camps, all-day enrichment programs for children ages eight through 11, Oct. 9 and 16 and Nov. 7. Students will participate in various outdoor activities. The registration deadline is Sept. 29. For more information, call ext. 3195.

Buckwheat Zydeco Performance

Buckwheat Zydeco, one of Louisiana's favorite musicians, will perform at 8 p.m. Sept. 23 in Trask Coliseum.

Regarded as the "best party band in America" by the Wall Street Journal, Buckwheat Zydeco will kick off the 2000-01 Performing Arts Series presented by the Activities and Leadership Center. For ticket information, call the Kenan Auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

Navarrette Lecture

Ruben Navarrette, Jr., a journalist with the Dallas Morning News, will present "Bienvenido, Welcome to the New America: How Latinos Will Change the New Century" at 7 p.m. Sept. 25 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The event is part of the university's annual Hispanic-American Heritage Month celebration sponsored by the Office of Campus Diversity.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement | Vol. XXX, No. 12 September 28, 2000 | Phillip Brown, editor

Aquarius and UNCW/NURC Receive Conservation Award

The Wildlife Conservation Society (WCS) presented its annual 2000 Conservation Award to Aquarius and the University of North Carolina at Wilmington's National Undersea Research Program (NURC) during the society's annual "Dinner by the Sea" fund-raising event at the New York Aquarium Sept. 14. The WCS award recognizes the important role played by Aquarius and NURC in helping to unravel the mysteries of the ocean by placing scientists underwater to conduct their studies.

Accepting the award on behalf of the program was Steven Miller, center director for NURC, along with Scott Gudes, deputy undersecretary for oceans and atmosphere at the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). Also attending the ceremonies from UNCW were Chancellor James R. Leutze, Dan Baden, director of the Center for Marine Science, and Alina Szmant, professor of biology.

"As the world's only undersea research laboratory, Aquarius provides marine scientists with opportunities available nowhere else and plays a critical role in the effort to improve the health of our oceans and reefs," said Chancellor Leutze. "UNC Wilmington's commitment to marine science is longstanding, not just to North Carolina but also beyond our borders. We are extremely proud of this recognition from the Wildlife Conservation Society. It is one more indication of how Aquarius and her aquanauts who live and work underwater are capturing America's imagination."

Headquartered at the Bronx Zoo, the Wildlife Conservation Society works to save wildlife and wild lands throughout the world. Field projects are supported by WCS in 53 nations around the world that inspire care for nature, provide leadership in environmental education and help sustain our planet's biological diversity. WCS is a leader in environmental education with programs that reach millions. Past recipients of the WCS award include Richard Ellis in 1998, whose books and paintings of marine life have raised awareness and enlightened many. Robert F. Kennedy Jr. and the Pace Environmental Litigation Clinic won in 1999 for their work to preserve the Hudson River.

WebU Expanded Course Offerings Not Limited by Time, Place

Continuing education has just become a lot easier thanks to UNCW's expanded course offerings available through WebU. Through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, WebU removes time and place as a requirement to reap the benefits of ongoing education. A one-stop-shop will allow access to more than 1,000 non-credit programs delivered via the Internet.

"The Division for Public Service and Extended Education is always assessing ways to reach out to our community through educational and public service offerings, and one way is through our WebU online courses," said Michelle R. Howard-Vital, vice chancellor of the division and associate provost of the university. "In results from our recently completed needs assessment, 63 percent of the respondents said they were interested in learning more about our online courses. Areas of interest included the Internet, computers, software, finance and health care," she explained.

"WebU enables UNCW to share educational opportunities with a diverse audience, providing the public access to online courses to improve job skills, develop professionally and enrich their lives," said Woody Sutton, associate director of UNCW's Community Outreach Services or COSMOS.

Students can participate in courses to prepare for certification such as Novell server administrator or Microsoft certified engineer.

"Not only does WebU serve the professional sector, but the community as a whole," said Sutton. Among the numerous personal development classes offered are grant writing, developing self esteem, personal financial planning or how to write your life story, Sutton said.

WebU has also planned for an international audience through partnership with a company that specializes in English as a second language, supporting Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese and Spanish.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Chancellor's Faculty Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Faculty Advisory Committee will meet at noon Oct. 2 in Alderman Hall, Room 215.

Committee members are: Robert Blundo, social work; Deborah Brunson, communication studies; Cem Canel, information systems and operations management; Andrew Clark, history; Edna Collins, curricular studies; Janet Ellerby, English; Gary Faulkner, sociology and anthropology; Dargan Frierson, mathematical sciences and statistics; Philip Furia, creative writing; J. Edward Graham, economics and finance; Louise Hessenflow, School of Nursing; Tammy Hunt, management and marketing; Julian Keith, psychology; Ann Pabst, biological sciences; Robert Smith, Watson School of Education; and Brad Walker, curricular studies.

Faculty are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Physics Colloquium

William J. Thompson, professor in the Department of Physics and Astronomy at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will present "Computing the Special Functions of Mathematical Physics" at 2 p.m. Sept. 29 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served at 1:45 p.m.

Randall Library Book Sale

Randall Library will hold its third annual used book and record sale Nov. 13-15. Proceeds will be used to purchase new materials. Anyone interested in donating books or sound and video recordings should contact Beth Roberts at ext. 3270.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Laela Sayigh, biological sciences, will present "Photo-identification of Bottlenose Dolphins Near Wilmington, N.C." at 2 p.m. Sept. 29 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Technology Fair

More than 50 companies will display and demonstrate the latest educational software and hardware for students from preschool- through college-age at the Coastal Educational Technology Fair Oct. 5 and 6 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

The fair, open to the public at no charge, will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. both days. It is co-sponsored by the Watson School of Education.

More than 400 people are expected to attend the two-day technology fair and related conference which will feature more than 100 sessions and hands-on workshops.

For more information, call Wendy Marshall at ext. 7287.

Washington Wizards Exhibition Game Tickets

The Washington Wizards professional basketball team will play an exhibition game at 7 p.m. Oct. 10 in Trask Coliseum. Faculty, staff and students may pick up two free tickets to the game between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Oct. 2-4 at the University Union Information Center or the Housing and Residence Life Office. Tickets are for general admission open seating.

Voter Registration

Oct. 13 is the deadline to register to vote in the Nov. 7 general election. One of the issues on the ballot is the $3.1 billion higher education facilities bond. For information on how UNCW will use its share of the bond, go to the university's World Wide Web page at www.uncwil.edu, and click on the banner "Yes, we need it!" For information on how to register to vote in New Hanover County, go to the Web site www.co.new-hanover.nc.us/boe/BOEvotreg.htm.

Banned Books

The Randall Library exhibit "Banned Books Week" will be displayed through Oct. 15. The display includes a copy of the First Amendment, banned books and the most challenged books from 1990 to 1999.

Buttino Documentary Part of NC Visions

Honduran Hope, the award-winning documentary by Lou Buttino, communication studies, will air at 11 p.m. Oct. 21 on UNC-TV as part of the North Carolina Visions series. An interview with Buttino airs following the documentary broadcast.

Written, directed and produced by Buttino, the documentary was filmed in summer 1998 and was completed that fall after Hurricane Mitch hit Honduras and Nicaragua, killing thousands and leaving millions homeless. The documentary has raised more than $40,000 for the poor in Honduras through benefit screenings, said Buttino.

In March, the documentary won first place in the Broadcaster's Education Association (BEA) national competition. The BEA is an organization for educators, students and professionals involved in teaching and research related to radio, television and electronic media education.

"It (Honduran Hope) is also being shown repeatedly at Camp Lejeune to ready marines for humanitarian missions to Central America," said Buttino. "Plans are underway by UNC-TV to make the documentary available to schools and colleges throughout the state."

Other UNCW faculty members from the Communication Studies Department who contributed to the documentary were William Bolduc, who served as videographer; Rick Olsen, who performed voice-over narration; and Frank Trimble, who provided original music.

North Carolina Visions is a UNC-TV series that provides a showcase for the state's independent filmmakers.

Spanish Film Series

The film Oral Sex will be shown at 7 p.m. Oct. 2 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium, as part of the Spanish Film Series sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. This documentary explores the sexual attitudes and behavior of Spanish people. The film is in Spanish with English subtitles.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Let's Talk! UNCW & You Premieres in Brunswick and Pender Counties

Let's Talk! UNCW & You with Betty Ann Sanders premieres in Pender and Brunswick County at 8 p.m. Oct. 2 with a rebroadcast on Oct. 4 on Time Warner Cable Channel 8. The broadcast is made possible through the sponsorship of the Pender County Library.

"We are delighted to partner with the university to make this wonderful program available," said Mike Taylor, director of the Pender County Library.

Debate Forum

A presidential debate forum will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 3 in the University Union, Hawk's Nest. The panel, featuring students Melissa Johnson and Melissa Clary and political scientists Walt Devries, Roger Lowery and Stephen Meinhold along with Lloyd Roher, communication studies, will watch and discuss the first presidential debate. This event is sponsored by the Departments of Political Science and Communication Studies and the Student Government Association. Refreshments will be served.

GIS Workshops

Joanne Halls, director of the Earth Sciences Department Spatial Analysis Lab, will conduct two all-day introductory geographic information systems workshops for faculty and staff Oct. 28 and Nov. 11. Both dates cover the same material. Registration and information is available at www.uncwil.edu/people/hallsj.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - chicken and dumplings, mushroom shepherd's pie, macaroni and cheese, black-eyed peas, whole kernel corn, assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

CMS Lecture Series

David J. Adams, head of the School of Biomedical Sciences and Department of Physiology and Pharmacology at the University of Queensland, Australia, will present "Conotoxins Which Discriminate Among Subtypes of Neuronal Nicotinic Receptors and Voltage-gated Calcium Channel" at 4 p.m. Sept. 29 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium as part of the CMS Lecture Series. A reception will follow the presentation.

Big Band and Jazz Combo to Perform Friday

The UNCW Big Band, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, and the Jazz Combo, directed by Jerald Shynett, will perform at 8 p.m. Sept. 29 in Kenan Auditorium. General admission is $5; UNCW faculty, staff, senior citizens and children under 12, $2.50; UNCW students with ID, free.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Perri Bomar, Lou Hessenflow and Shelton Hisley, nursing, presented the peer-reviewed symposium "Restoring Family Health in Rural Communities: Innovations in Education, Practice and Research" at the fourth International Family Nursing 2000 conference in Chicago. There were more than 500 nurse educators, researchers and practitioners from 10 countries in attendance. Bomar also presented the paper "The Bomar Family Health Promotion Model."

Courtney Hackney, David Padgett and Martin Posey, biological sciences, had the paper "Fungal and Bacterial Contributions to the Decomposition of Cladium and Typha Leaves in Nutrient-Enriched and Nutrient-Poor Areas of the Everglades, with a Note on Ergosterol Concentrations in Everglades Soils" published in Mycological Research.

Suzanne "Sam" Shover, CROSSROADS, had the article "Stop and Think Campaign" accepted for inclusion in the 2000 edition of Promising Practices: Campus Alcohol Strategies, Programs of Excellence.

David Gill, specialty studies, had the article "Giving Peace a Chance: Gandhi and King in the High School Classroom" published in English Journal.

Susan Bullers, sociology and criminal justice, presented "Beliefs About the Causes of Alcoholism, Exposure to Drinking Problems and Perceived Control" at the eighth World Congress on Psychiatric Genetics, in Versailles, France.

LeAnn Luna, accountancy and business law, had the article "Taxing E-Commerce: Neutral Taxation Is Best for Industry and the Economy" published in the August issue of the Quarterly Journal of Electronic Commerce. The article was co-authored with William Fox, University of Tennessee.

Michael McCartney, biological sciences, had the paper "Dispersal Barriers in Tropical Oceans and Speciation in Atlantic and Eastern Pacific Sea Urchins of the Genus Echinometra" published in the September issue of Molecular Ecology. His coauthors were Haris Lessios, Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute, and Gwen Keller, University of Georgia.

Maurice M. Martinez, specialty studies, published the chapter "The Use of 'Call and Response' Pedagogy to Reinforce Mathematics Concepts and Skills Taught to African-American Kindergartners" in Changing the Faces of Mathematics: Perspectives on African-Americans, a book by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

James Megivern, philosophy and religion, spoke at the conference "The Death Penalty in Christian Ethics: Past, Present and Future" held at the University of Dallas.

Mike Mallin, biological sciences and CMS, had the article "Effect of Human Development of Bacteriological Water Quality in Coastal Watersheds" published in Ecological Applications, vol. 10. His co-authors were Kathleen Williams and Cartier Esham, former graduate students, and Patrick Lowe of the New Hanover County Planning Department.

Stephen Meinhold, political science, presented the paper "Lessons Learned from an Internet Panel Study" at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C. The paper was co-authored with Dennis Gleiber of the University of New Orleans.

Charles Lewis, HPER, participated in the National Recreation and Parks Association and American Association for Leisure and Recreation (AALR) accreditation team visit at Southern Illinois University. Lewis is past president of AALR.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

Bond Bus Tour

Chancellor James R. Leutze, along with the chancellors from UNC Pembroke and Fayetteville State University, will join 13 community college presidents on a 12-stop bus tour Oct. 3 and 4. The trip is designed to inform citizens in 16 southeastern North Carolina counties about the critical need for the Community College and University Higher Education Bond issue on the Nov. 7 ballot.

Faculty and staff are invited to the tour's wrap-up rally at 5:30 p.m. Oct. 4 at Cape Fear Community College's Schwartz Center.

FRS Reports

The September FRS monthly "greenbar" reports will not be printed. FRS users will use e-Print to view their September FRS reports on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/eprint.html. September reports are scheduled to be available Oct. 5.

Hands-on training in the use of e-Print will be offered at 2 p.m. Sept. 29 and 2 and 3 p.m. Oct. 16 in the Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Seating is limited for these sessions; reservations are required and can be made by contacting Cris Dixon at ext. 4262.

Self-help through the use of the e-Print Training Guides is also available through the Web site.

SECC Going Strong

The State Employees Combined Campaign coordinators would like to thank those faculty and staff who have already made a pledge to the campaign. By donating to the SECC, university employees are supporting organizations such as the Red Cross, American Cancer Society and hundreds of others through gifts designated during this 2000 campaign.

Employees who would like to contribute can obtain a pledge form from their departmental representatives or contact Kathy Risley, advancement, at ext. 3751.

Competition is fierce for trust fund monies which will be awarded to contestants with the highest participation. Be sure to turn in pledges by Sept. 29.

Community Service Leave

A new category of paid time-off has been created for SPA and EPA leave-earning employees. Community service leave grants 24 hours of paid leave in a year (prorated for part-time employees) for child involvement, such as a meeting with a teacher or school administrator of a child; to attend a child's school-sponsored academic or artistic function; to perform school-approved volunteer service without regard to parental status; or volunteer service in a community service organization designated as 501(c)(3).

To determine the amount of leave available for 2000, add unused child involvement leave to this year's allocation of 12 hours of community service leave. Beginning Jan. 1, employees will receive 24 hours of community service leave for the calendar year which replaces child involvement leave.

As a second option, in lieu of the 24 hours of community service leave, employees may elect to use one hour each week school is in session for tutoring or mentoring in an school-approved program. A written agreement must exist between the employee and a school administrator, and supervisory approval must be obtained.

Following approval, the Time Keeping and Leave Administration for SPA and EPA Policy, HR 2.10, will be posted on the World Wide Web.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21055 Production Manager	Sept. 29
21056 Facility Engineering Specialist	Sept. 29
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21058 Stock Clerk II	Sept. 29
21059 Office Assistant III	Oct. 6
21060 Medical Records Assistant III	Oct. 6
21061 Office Assistant IV	Oct. 6

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

ITSD Hosting Counselor Training Session

UNCW will provide assistance as 25 high school guidance counselors from Southeastern North Carolina train to use the Pathways/N.C. Mentor Program, an interactive Internet site which provides college preparation information for middle and high school students.

During the next three years, the Pathways/N.C. Mentor Program will be implemented statewide for students in grades seven through 12. Using the program, participants can create student profiles and submit admission and financial aid applications for college as well as explore career opportunities. Guidance counselors will be trained to assist students and parents in the use of Pathways.

Anne Murdock, a representative from UNC General Administration, will conduct the training session for the 25 area counselors Oct. 6 in Hoggard Hall, Room 226.

"UNCW's Information Technology Systems Division (ITSD) is excited to be able to make the university's technical resources available to promote this new statewide initiative that encourages students from all economic backgrounds to explore the opportunities that higher education can provide them," said Liz Hosier, interim director of application services. "I hope this will be the first of several collaborative efforts over the next three years."

The Pathways/N.C. Mentor Program funded by the General Assembly in 1999, was requested by the UNC Board of Governors in partnership with the N.C. Department of Public Instruction, the N.C. community college system, N.C. independent colleges and universities, the N.C. State Education Assistance Authority and the State Occupational Informational Coordinating Committee.

Shared Leave

Angie Edwards, graduate school, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement Vol. XXX, No. 13 October 5, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

BOG Approves BFA in Creative Writing

UNCW received approval to establish a Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in Creative Writing by the UNC Board of Governors.

"We are extremely pleased to have our major in place," said Mark Cox, chair of UNCW's Creative Writing Department. "The program will provide an intensive apprenticeship in writing, informed by the close study of literature, to serious, aspiring writers, among a community of accomplished professional writers."

Cox explained that the BFA degree program bridges the humanities and fine arts disciplines.

"It is designed to offer creative writing students an exciting, sound liberal arts education. The degree requirements are based in a belief that writers and artists need to be grounded in the socio-cultural, historical and intellectual contexts of the tradition in which they work. We want to offer students an atmosphere in which they can prepare themselves professionally, while being encouraged to ask the important questions about who they are and how they will choose to live their individual lives."

The degree will prepare students seeking careers as professional writers or in other literary professions, such as editing or publishing. The degree also prepares graduates to pursue a master's degree in creative writing or graduate see Creative Writing on Page 4

Gay Christian Activist Mel White to Lecture

The Rev. Mel White will lecture on "Stranger at the Gate: To Be Gay and Christian in America" at 7 p.m. Oct. 11 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. This free public presentation is sponsored by the university's Office of Campus Diversity, Dean of Students Office and PRIDE, the gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender and allied student organization.

White

For 30 years, White has served the Christian community as a pastor, seminary professor, author and filmmaker. As a communications consultant and ghost writer, his clients included Billy Graham, Jerry Falwell, Oliver North and Pat Robertson. After three decades of counseling and "anti-gay" therapy, White reconciled his Christian theology and sexual orientation and "came out" in a letter to Falwell in 1991. At his 1993 installation as dean of the Cathedral of Hope Metropolitan Community Church in Dallas, Texas, White proclaimed, "I am gay. I am proud. And God loves me without reservation."

A follower of the "soul force" principles of Gandhi and King, White received the American Civil Liberties Union's National Civil Liberties Award in 1997 in recognition of his efforts in the struggle for justice for sexual minorities. In 1999, White and partner see White Lecture on Page 3

Dean Smith to Serve as Honorary Chair of Benefit Golf Tournament

The inaugural "Tee Off for Education" Jay Robinson Memorial Golf Tournament is scheduled for 11 a.m. Oct. 20 at the Echo Farms Country Club. Dean Smith, former head coach of UNC-Chapel Hill men's basketball team, is honorary chair.

Smith

Proceeds from this tournament, which is expected to become an annual event, will benefit the Jay Robinson Endowed Scholarship Fund in the Watson School of Education. Robinson, former chair of the N.C. State Board of Education and leading exponent of the accountability movement in public education, died in April. He was a member of the UNCW Board of Trustees.

"I was privileged to know Jay over many years. He was a fine coach and an excellent administrator. It is a great honor to serve as the honorary chair of this first tournament," said Smith in a written statement.

The tournament organizers, Bill Jump, Bill O'Kane and Joel McKean, were golfing buddies with Robinson and played regularly as a foursome.

This benefit tournament will be a scrambler format where golfers can see Benefit Tournament on Page 3

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee will meet at 7:30 a.m. Oct. 11 in Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite. Members of the committee are: Annie Aldrich, telecommunications; Lisa Allred, payroll; Carolyn Andrews, Randall Library; Margaret Bailey, public service and extended education; Glenda Bowen, Watson School of Education; Phillip Brown, university relations; Judy Connelly, bookstore; Susie Goodrum, institutional research; Faith Joyce, physical plant; Lori Leitch, biological sciences; Mike Lloyd, printing services; Steve Mastro, CMS; Charles Mills, physical plant; Lucille Mills, Randall Library; Annette Richards, nursing; and Karen Thompson, career services. Staff are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Physics Colloquium

Michael Paesler, professor in the Physics Department at North Carolina State University, will present "Near-field Optics: Breaking the Diffraction Limit" at 2 p.m. Oct. 13 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served at 1:45 p.m.

Choir Concert

The UNCW Concert Choir and Chamber Singers, under the direction of Joe Hickman, will perform at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 27 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The program will feature the premiere of a Sanctus by Paul Halley, a visiting artist and composer.

Note of Appreciation

Pat Knauss, advancement services, would like "to express my deepest appreciation to my UNCW friends for the prayers, cards, flowers and words of comfort received following the loss of my brother, Paul Bishop of Williamsburg, Va. My heartfelt thanks for being there during my time of sorrow."

Transactors Improv

The Transactors Improv Company will perform at 8 p.m. Oct. 21 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the university's Arts in Action series.

Formed in 1983 at the ArtSchool in Carrboro, Transactors Improv Company utilizes music, dance, story telling and acting to perform improvisational theater based upon audience suggestions. Tickets are on sale at the auditorium box office and the University Union information desk.

Spanish Film Series

The film I Know Who You Are will be shown at 7 p.m. Oct. 9 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium, as part of the Spanish Film Series sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. This film is the story of a young psychiatrist who meets an unusual patient who takes them both into the darkest side of reality. The film is in Spanish with English subtitles.

Panel Discussion

Phi Kappa Phi, the junior/senior interdisciplinary honors society, will host the panel discussion "The Election of 2000: Something Different or More of the Same" at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 16 in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Panelists will be Lee Johnston, political science, and Bob Toplin and Otis Graham, history. Moderator will be Kathleen Berkeley, history. Direct questions to Diane Levy at ext. 3430.

Seahawk Ferry

The N.C. Department of Transportation unveiled the M/V Fort Fisher, a new ferry which is painted in UNCW's green and gold and includes the Seahawk athletic logo. The $5.4 million ferry will transport motorists between Fort Fisher and Southport. It can hold up to 300 passengers and 40 vehicles.

Artist Recital Series

The duo Florian Kitt and Rita Medjimorec will perform at 8 p.m. Oct. 31 in Kenan Auditorium as the first concert in the 2000-01 Artist Recital Series sponsored by the Music Department.

Kitt, an Austrian cellist, has appeared as a soloist worldwide and holds a professorship at the University of Graz. Medjimorec, a pianist, teaches at the Hochschule for Music in Graz and the University for Music in Vienna. The duo will also present a joint master class for UNCW students Nov. 1. Tickets are $10, $5 for faculty, staff, senior citizens and children under 12 and free to UNCW students with ID. Proceeds benefit the Music Department's scholarships.

Organ Donation Awareness

As part of an upcoming organ donor awareness campaign "It's What's Inside That Counts," wellness services seeks faculty, staff or students who either received or donated an organ or had family members who donated organs upon their death. For more information, contact Deborah Haywood at ext. 4137.

Earth Sciences Seminar

Steven J. Hageman, Appalachian State University, will present "Cool-Water Carbonate Sediments from the Southern Australian Margin" at 1 p.m. Oct. 13 in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. Refreshments will be served.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Tuesday - sweet and sour chicken with rice, vegetable lo mein, peas and mushrooms, corn, assorted breads, salads, desserts and beverages.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

Randall Library Book Sale

Randall Library will hold its third annual used book and record sale Nov. 13-15. Anyone interested in donating books or sound and video recordings should contact Beth Roberts at ext. 3270.

Diverse Voices

The UNCW Office of Campus Diversity Newsletter for Students

Vol. 2, No. 2, October 2000 Joanne E. Nottingham, Editor (910) 962-3832

Rev. Dr. Mel White to speak at UNCW

Last spring, student members of People Recognizing Individual Differences Exist (PRIDE), selected the Rev. Dr. Mel White as the first speaker in what will be an annual event sponsored by the Office of Campus Diversity, the PRIDE Lecture. This year the lecture is being co-sponsored with PRIDE, the Office of the Dean of Students, and St. Jude's Metropolitan Community Church in Wilmington.

Dr. White is an author, filmmaker, and advocate who will speak about his personal and spritual journey to understand himself as a gay and Christian man. His life journey was chronicled in his book, Stranger at the Gate, and is the topic of his lecture. Copies of the book are in the UNCW bookstore now and will be available before and after the lecture. Individual copies will be signed by Dr. White after the lecture. The free lecture will be at 7 p.m., Wednesday, October 11, in the Warwick Center Ballroom and it is open to the public.

The PAL Program Progress is Steady

The Protégés and Leaders (PAL) Program, an academic club for freshmen and transfer students from underrepresented groups, is off to a good start. Protégés (freshmen) are training this academic year to be leaders for the protégés who come to campus next year. This semester the focus is on sharpening study skills. Next semester the focus will be leadership development.

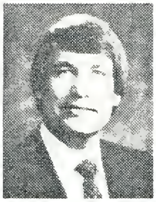
Nannette White and Katina Barksdale from the Learning Center have conducted study skills sessions on listening, notetaking, test taking, and test anxiety for the protégés. They are both well trained in study skills and know how to help students successfully navigate academic waters. Thank you, Ms. White and Ms. Barksdale, for sharing such valuable information with the PAL.

Sixteen protégés have demonstrated a commitment to the PAL Program by regularly attending Tuesdays @ Two or Wednesdays @ Three meetings. They are Tameka Alston, LeKeesha Bright, Emma Brinson, Tiffany Brown, Monicquea Chance, Darien Davenport, Anya Davis, Abbra Forney, Elizabeth Langston, Carlo Laurore, Teracetia McDowell, Tameka Newsome, Jaime Owens, Andrea Pettus, Derrick Thompson, and Clifton Williams. These protégés are truly leaders in the making and the staff of the Office of Campus Diversity applauds you!

New and transfer students from underrepresented groups who are interested in participating in the PAL Program should contact Ms. Linda MacRae, PAL at 962-7435 or macraeL@uncwil.edu.

Congratulations to Ms. Bertha Todd!

The Office of Campus Diversity salutes Ms. Bertha Boykin Todd, honorary UNCW Doctor of Humanities. Ms. Todd received the award at Fall Convocation and celebrates with her daughter, Rita, and son, Brian.



'96 Olympian Billy Mills to speak at UNCW

The Office of Campus Diversity is pleased to begin the first Annual Native-American Heritage Month event with motivational speaker Billy Mills who was the choice of the Native-American Student Organization (NASO). Mr. Mills, who is a Lakota Sioux, a 1996 Olympian gold medalist, and the subject of the movie, Running Brave, will speak on the topic, "Your Pursuit of Excellence." The free lecture will be at 7 p.m., Tuesday, November 14 in the Warwick Center Ballroom and will be open to the public.

6th Annual Heritage School is October 14, 21, 28 and November 4, 18

Heritage School provides continuing educational opportunities to learn, teach, and share the African-American experience not only as individuals, but also as a family unit. The Saturday classes are free and open to the public as well as UNCW students, faculty, and staff. Contact Ms. Helena Lee at 962-7087 (or leeh@uncwil.edu) for more information.

Dr. Cornel West is an ACE Lecturer

By popular demand, the Association for Campus Entertainment returns Dr. West to UNCW and the OCD is pleased to be a co-sponsor. The free ACE Lecture will be at 7 p.m, Thursday, October 26 in Kenan Auditorium, and will be open to the public.

What do you know about Asian-, African-, Hispanic-, Latin-, or Native-American cultures?

Meet others with the same heritage or learn about a heritage other than your own. Leave a note with your name, phone number, and email address in the appropriate student organization mailbox in UU 200 (SGA Office) so that you can be contacted about activities, meetings, and programs.

Asian Student Association (ASA)

Black Student Union (BSU) or contact advisor, Ms. Linda MacRae (macrael@uncwil.edu).

Native-American Student Organization (NASO) or contact advisor, Ms. Lorrie Smith (smithla@uncwil.edu).

Organization of Latin-American Students (OLAS)

UNCW National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NACCP) or contact advisor, Ms. Helena Lee (leeh@uncwil.edu).

Getting involved at the Involvement Carnival

Associate Dean of Students Brian Hemphill greets students Dan Faill (center) and Eric Fisher at this year's Involvement Carnival.

Are you a gay, lesbian, bisexual, or transgender student? ...Are you an ally?

People Recognizing Individual Differences Exist (PRIDE) provides resources and educational and social programs for you and the university community. Leave a note with your name, phone number, and email address in the PRIDE mailbox in UU 200 (SGA Office) so that you can be contacted about activities, meetings, and programs or contact faculty advisors Dr. Matt Tenhuisen (tenhuisenm@uncwil.edu) or Dr. Lisa Pollard (pollardl@uncwil.edu).

Ruben Navarette, Jr.

was the featured speaker at the first Annual Hispanic-American Heritage Month Event on Monday, September 25, in the Warwick Center Ballroom. A journalist with the Dallas Morning News and one of the youngest contributing editors of Newsweek magazine, Navarrette's topic was ¡Bienvenido! Latino power, what now?

Tuesdays@2 & Wednesdays@3

These are the weekly days and times of academic club meetings especially for freshmen and transfer students. They are the cornerstones of the PAL Program coordinated by Ms. Linda MacRae. Contact her at macrael@uncwil.edu or by phone at 962-7435 for more information. Refreshments will be served.

Young People's Pastor

This weekly program lets you drop by and talk with a minister for a several minutes or longer every Friday in the Upperman African-American Cultural Center (UAACC), 11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. For more information, contact Ms. Helena Lee (leeh@uncwil.edu).

In The UAACC...

No reservations are needed for students, faculty, staff, and the community to attend these programs in the Upperman Center, UU 208:

Front Page discussions on Mondays, November 6 and December 4 from Noon until 3:30 p.m.

African-American Book Review on Wednesdays, October 18, and November 15, from 3 until 4 p.m.

Video Viewings on Thursdays, October 26, and November 30, from 4 until 5 p.m.

Do you like to sing? Can you play an instrument?

The UNCW Gospel Choir is still accepting members. Leave a note in the Gospel Choir mailbox in UU 200 (SGA Office) or contact advisor, Dr. Joanne Nottingham (nottinghamj@uncwil.edu).

"A warm smile is the universal language of kindness."

—William Arthur Ward

The UNCW Gospel Choir Fall Concert will be Sunday, November 12, at 4 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.

Enjoy gospel singers and groups from around our region and support the UNCW Gospel Choir's fundraising event. For more information contact Business Manager, Cindy Barner, at 962-5182 (or rrb0996@uncwil.edu).

Save Saturday, April 21, 2001 for Stompin' at the Savoy!

Stompin' at the Savoy and the Electric Image Band return to the UNCW Center Stage Cafe in 2001. The 2000 fundraising event, hosted by Linda Upperman Smith in honor of her father, was not only a huge success, it was lots of fun. Don't miss your chance to join in the excitement Stompin' at the Savoy!

The Office of Campus Diversity is looking for two work study students.

Contact Ms. LeeAnn Dulatre in UU 211, 962-3832, or email dulatrel@uncwil.edu.

Express yourself!

Diverse Voices is your newsletter. Please send your announcements, ideas, poems, articles, and artwork to LeeAnn Dulatre in UU 211 or email them to her at dulatrel@uncwil.edu.

Campus diversity is a reality. Are you being real about your role in it?

Doc Nott-icisms...

The only difference between stumbling blocks and stepping stones is the way we use them.
—Anonymous

The greater part of our happiness or misery depends on our disposition and not our circumstances.
—Martha Washington

Conscience is the inner voice which warns us that someone may be looking.
—H.L. Mencken

Everybody is ignorant—
only on different subjects.
—Will Rogers

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Office of Campus Diversity
University Union 211
601 South College Road
Wilmington, NC 28403-3297

Watershed Signs

UNCW received two Bradley Creek watershed signs from the City of Wilmington Storm Water Services in cooperation with the New Hanover Tidal Creeks Program. These blue signs, featuring the watershed name and a silhouette of a bird, are in recognition of the university's water quality research and support. Similar signs will be erected throughout the city to raise residents' awareness about local watersheds.

Bradley
Creek
Watershed

Provost John Cavanaugh, right, and Wilmington city council member Sandra Hughes, left, unveil the watershed sign located near Friday Hall.

White Lecture continued from Page 1

Gary Nixon founded Soulforce Inc., a non-profit corporation dedicated to teaching and applying the principles of non-violence in the cause of justice, not just for sexual orientation, but "for all God's children who suffer injustice and discrimination."

White earned a bachelor's degree in communications from Warner Pacific College in 1962 and a master's degree in communications from the University of Portland in 1963. While working on a doctorate in communications and film studies from the University of Southern California, he received a Rockefeller grant to begin a doctorate in religious studies. He completed his doctorate at Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, Calif., and served for more than a decade as a professor of communications and preaching.

Benefit Tournament continued from Page 1

form their own four-person team. Teams will be handicapped by the Echo Farms club professional. Entry is $125 per golfer and includes a buffet lunch, welcome package, 18 holes of golf, including cart, and a post-game pig roast.

"The Watson School of Education is extremely excited about this tournament," said Cathy Barlow, dean. "Scholarship recipients would be needy students who show great promise as teachers."

Providing additional resources for prospective teachers is particularly important, said Barlow. Southeastern North Carolina is facing a teaching shortage, and construction of a new facility to house the Watson School of Education is the university's top priority.

"The Watson School of Education graduates approximately 300 teachers annually, but with completion of the proposed facility, UNCW could provide the region almost twice that many teachers," said Barlow.

Funding for the new Watson School of Education and Regional Education Resource Center is part of the $108 million UNCW anticipates receiving if North Carolina voters approve the $3.1 billion bond referendum on Nov. 7.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Doug Kesling, NURC, provided input for the final proof of the fourth edition of the NOAA Diving Manual at the request of the NOAA National Undersea Research Program. Kesling served as a contributor/reviewer for the section on undersea platforms. Craig Cooper, Jim Buckley and Jay Styron, NURC-Aquarius, served as contributors/reviewers for the section on saturation diving. Tim Gallagher, NURC-Aquarius, provided information on aquanaut training standards, dive procedures and diver-worn equipment. Scheduled release of the revised manual is December 2000 through Best Publishing Co.

Patrick McKay, psychology, was co-author on the paper "Responding to the Challenge of a Changing Workforce: Recruiting Nontraditional Demographic Groups" which was accepted for publication in Public Personnel Management. The work's lead author was Dennis Doverspike, University of Akron, and the other co-authors were Mary Anne Taylor, Clemson University, and Kenneth S. Shultz, California State University at San Bernadino.

Frank Trimble, communication studies, was named Best Director of the 1999-2000 Thalian Association season for the musical stage play Guys and Dolls. The show also earned the group's Best Play award. Trimble was commissioned by Duplin Outdoor Drama Inc. as playwright, artistic director and director of Duplin Voices, an outdoor drama with music celebrating the 250th anniversary of Duplin County.

Terry Theodore, art and theatre, had his article on D. W. Griffith's The Birth of a Nation featured in The African-American Encyclopedia published by Marshall Cavendish Corp. The article examines the film's impact on American society, particularly its controversial reception by African-Americans. Theodore also hosted the fourth annual presentation of the Student Academy Awards selected by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Earlier this year, he served as a juror for this national competition viewing 76 movies in three days at the Northwest Film Center in Portland, Ore.

Annie Aldrich, telecommunications; Gloria Crowell, CMS; Tommy Guinn, physical plant; and Gloria Sasser, Student Development Center, were delegates representing UNCW at the State Employees Association of North Carolina convention held in Greensboro.

Steven Miller, CMS/NURC, received $80,000 in supplemental funding from the U.S. Department of Commerce, NOAA, for the project "Level II Rapid Assessment Monitoring in the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary."

Karen Sandell, social work, received $24,463 from the N.C. Department of Health and Human Services for the project "Phase III: Child Welfare Pre-service Training Project."

Peggy Turner, disability services, presented "Accessing Information Technology - Challenge for Advising" at the National Academic Advising Association (NACADA) conference. This presentation was a sponsored session by the Technology Commission and Disability Commission of NACADA.

Telephone Directory

Distribution of the 2000-01 University Telephone Directory will begin Oct. 6. Off-campus students can pick up the directory at the University Union Information Center, Seahawk Perch or the Office of the Dean of Students, University Union, Room 209, starting Oct. 9. For additional directories, contact Diane Billings, student affairs, at ext. 4166.

Information Sessions

Purchasing services will hold information sessions on the use of the purchasing card from 9 to 10 a.m. and 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Oct. 11, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Oct. 16 and 9 to 10 a.m. Oct. 17 and 18 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. There will be a World Wide Web-based demonstration of the Purchasing Administrative Card System, and applications for the cards will be available.

FRS Reports

The September FRS monthly "greenbar" reports will not be printed. FRS users will use e-Print to view their September FRS reports on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/eprint.html. Hands-on training in the use of e-Print will be offered at 2 and 3 p.m. Oct. 16 in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Seating is limited for these sessions; reservations are required and can be made by contacting Cris Dixon at ext. 4262.

Self-help through the use of the e-Print Training Guides is also available through the Web site.

Shared Leave

Angie Edwards, graduate school, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Correction

In the Diverse Voices newsletter, Billy Mills competed in the 1964 Olympics, where he won the gold medal in the 10-000 meter run.

Policy Revision

Revisions to Administrative Procedure HR 4.10 Training and Staff Development Educational Options have been approved. Note the following key revisions:

- Tuition waiver is available to eligible UNCW employees for one course taken at UNCW or at other branches of the UNC system during each fall or spring semester. Tuition benefit for summer school, regular fee waiver, application fee benefit, and undergraduate orientation fee waiver are available only for courses taken at UNCW.
- Prior to completing an Application for Tuition Waiver or Benefit and Fee Waiver form, an employee will need to be admitted to the institution offering the intended course, if the course is being taken for academic credit. In addition, the employee will need to have already registered for the course to ensure course availability and to determine the specific course, section number and hours the employee will be attending the course.
- If any class changes are made after the original tuition waiver/benefit form has been submitted, the employee will need to submit a revised and approved form.

For additional information, this policy can be viewed in its entirety on the World Wide Web through the Administrative Policies and Procedures Web site at www.uncwil.edu/sp/admproc/Hr410.htm.

Staff Training

Diets That Don't Work and the Reality of What Will, 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 24.

Fixed Assets, 9 to 10 a.m. Oct. 31.

SPA Employee Disciplinary Action, Suspension and Dismissal Policy and Grievance Appeal Policy, 2 to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 17.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Oct. 18.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21059 Office Assistant III	Oct. 6
21060 Medical Records Assistant III	Oct. 6
21061 Office Assistant IV	Oct. 6

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Creative Writing continued from Page 1 study in other professional programs. UNCW is one of two state institutions to offer a Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing.

Students interested in earning a degree in creative writing and enrolling in the BFA program must submit a portfolio for review by faculty prior to acceptance. The creative writing major will consist of 51 credit hours of course work, at least 18 of which must be in writing workshop courses in two genres. Students must also complete 15 hours of courses in literature from the Departments of English, Foreign Languages and Literatures or Creative Writing. At least nine hours of literature course work must be at the 300 or 400 level with at least one literature course in literature before 1800 and at least one in literature after 1800. To meet graduation requirements for the degree, a student must complete a total of 124 credit hours. The program will be offered starting fall 2001. A minor in creative writing is also available.

Yes, we need it!

Vote Nov.7

For information on how UNCW will use its share of the bond, go to www.uncwil.edu, and click on the banner.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 14 October 12, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Don McPherson to Lecture During White Ribbon Campaign

UNCW will participate in the White Ribbon Campaign, a national social awareness movement to involve men in the effort to end violence against women, scheduled for Oct. 21-24.

McPherson

As part of the campaign, former professional football player Don McPherson, associate director of Athletes Helping Athletes Inc., will present "The Time Is Now, Stand Up and Be Counted: Stopping Sexual Violence" at 7 p.m. Oct. 24 in Kenan Auditorium. The presentation is free; $1 donations will be accepted to benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter Inc. The campaign is sponsored by the Chi Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu fraternities along with the Office of the Dean of Students, Division for Student Affairs and the Athletics Department.

McPherson attended Syracuse University from 1983 to 1988. In 1987, as quarterback, he led the nation in passing and Syracuse University to an undefeated season in football. A consensus All-America selection, McPherson won more than 18 national player-of-the-year honors including the Maxwell Award as the nation's top collegiate player.

Drafted by the National Football League, McPherson played two years for the Philadelphia Eagles before he was traded to the Houston Oilers in 1990. He also played for teams in Canada from 1991 to 1994.

Throughout his career, McPherson was involved in community organizations including Athletes Helping Athletes (AHA) based in Long Island, N.Y. In 1993, he founded Athletes Helping Athletes, Canada Inc. In 1996, McPherson was named director of the Sport in Society Mentors in Violence Program, a violence prevention program to encourage men to take a proactive position in an effort to stop men's violence against women. The MVP program was introduced in more than 80 high schools in New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts. In 1998, McPherson rejoined AHA and expanded the organization's programming to include Civility in Sports and other programs to address the wider range of school violence issues. As a consultant for the U.S. Justice Department's Agenda for the Nation on Violence Against Women, McPherson has made numerous presentations nationwide.

In addition to McPherson's lecture, White Ribbon Campaign sponsors will host two lectures for male athletes and fraternity members. Joseph Weinberg, an author and president of Men Stopping Rape-Madison, will present "Men Taking Responsibility: Condoms, Communication and Consent" to male athletes at 7 p.m. Oct. 22, in Dobo Hall, Room 134, and "How Rape Hurts Males

See White Ribbon on Page 3

Researchers Receive $1.14 Million Grant from NSF to Create Digital Library

UNCW researchers received a $1.14 million grant from the National Science Foundation to create a digital library of reusable science and math resources for undergraduate education. The grant is one of the largest ever awarded to the university.

"This library will help improve science and math education by providing college instructors worldwide with the tools to develop better lessons," said Charles "Dick" Ward, lead project investigator and chair of the Department of Chemistry.

While other digital libraries exist, Ward said this will be the first major project to employ the metadata tagging system developed by the Instructional Management Systems Project sponsored by Educause, a not-for-profit professional organization whose members work with computer technology at the collegiate level. Each object included in the library will be assigned an IMS metadata tag which will allow a more precise search, enabling instructors to find materials quicker.

Ward said the library would initially be stocked with objects created at UNC Wilmington. Files to be catalogued range from still photos, animation and audio and video clips to instructional modules and digital lessons. He added that the library could eventually contain an entire digital course such as Chemistry 101.

see NSF Grant on Page 3

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Technology Roundtable

The Teaching and Learning with Technology Roundtable (TLTR) will hold its inaugural meeting at 4 p.m. Oct. 18 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. Open to all faculty and staff, the TLTR will provide a forum to discuss the use of technology in education.

This meeting will include presentations by the Center for Teaching Excellence, the Technology College and the Web Course Development team on how technology is used in classes.

Stillpoint Programs

Wellness services and the School of Nursing will sponsor the following Stillpoint programs:

Herbal Medicine, a discussion and question-and-answer session on the benefits and uses of herbs on Oct. 17; Yoga, a 45-minute stretching and relaxations class on Oct. 24; and Meditation, a 45-minute calming session on Oct. 31. Programs will be held from 12:30 to 1:15 p.m. and 1:30 to 2:15 p.m. in the Student Recreation Center, Room 114. Seating is limited, call ext. 4137 for a reservation.

Cambodian Symposium

UNCW faculty and students are invited to attend a forum on contemporary issues in Cambodia at 4 p.m. Oct. 16 in Toy Lounge at UNC Chapel Hill. Roland Eng, Cambodian ambassador, will take part in this discussion which is sponsored by the South Atlantic States Association for Asian and African Studies. Eng will meet with faculty to discuss issues related to Cambodia and Southeast Asia from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Oct. 17 at the University Center for International Studies, 223 E. Franklin Street. For more information, call the UNC Chapel Hill Curriculum for International Studies at 919/962-5442.

Oct. 13 is the deadline to register to vote in the Nov. 7 election.

Wallace Reading

Fiction writer Daniel Wallace, a visiting faculty member at UNCW, will read a short story published in the anthology of North Carolina writers, This Is Where We Live, at 8 p.m. Oct. 19 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. This free event is sponsored by the Creative Writing Department and The King's Road. A reception and book signing will follow in the lobby.

Wallace has published two novels and numerous short stories. His first novel, Big Fish, was translated into German, Spanish, Italian, Japanese and Chinese. The movie version of Big Fish will be directed by Steven Spielberg. Producers are Bruce Cohen and Dan Jinks, Academy Award winners for their movie American Beauty. Filming is expected to begin summer 2001.

SpinNC Grant

Southeastern Public Network of North Carolina (SpinNC), affiliated with the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, received a $45,000 grant from the Cape Fear Memorial Foundation to expand the health and wellness component of the its World Wide Web site SpinNC.org.

A community network providing public access to more than 155 agencies, SpinNC uses the Internet to link information about the agencies and community-based programs.

"Thanks to the Cape Fear Memorial Foundation, SpinNC will be able to expand its health and wellness component," said H. E. "Hunter" Thompson, director of COSMOS, the division's community outreach services. "The Collaborative Community Assistance Network will link a number of agencies throughout southeastern North Carolina providing access to the most up-to-date information on health and human services in the region."

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament Results

The championship flight of the faculty and staff golf tournament was won by the team of Brad Brownell, Mike Winiecki, Rob Brickels and Jim Harris. First flight winners were Monica Thomason, Ron Whittaker, Arnold Siko and Skippy Duncan. Joe Holland and Tim Jordan won awards for closest to the pin, and Randy LaGrange won for the longest drive.

Art Goodwin received the inaugural Doug Johnson Memorial Award. The award honors Johnson who participated in every tournament since its inception. "Doug showed true sportsmanship and love of the game. His kindness and friendliness was not only evident in his everyday life but also spilled over into his golf game," said Jim Harris, tournament director.

Harris expressed his appreciation to "Tom Williamson and Aramark for the wonderful dinner, Nancy Maready and Tammy Rogers for their volunteer work and the bookstore and Arnold Siko for the gift prizes."

Movie Makers Lecture

Joe D'Alessandro, who has worked in the film industry since 1983, will lecture at 4 p.m. Oct. 12 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

D'Alessandro, a camera operator and cinematographer, has worked on numerous television and film projects including The Natural, Dawson's Creek, Glory and What the Deaf Man Heard. In 1997, he photographed and co-produced the independent film Enchanted which aired on Showtime.

Leadership Film

The film Bulworth, a political satire about a U.S. senator who goes off the deep end, will be shown at 7 p.m. Oct. 17 in the Warwick Center, Center Stage, as part of the Leadership Film Series. Oliver Speck, foreign languages and literatures, will facilitate a discussion about the leadership aspects of the film. For more information, contact Stacey Smith, ext. 3797.

Trick or Treat

Majoring in Success

College & Careers

UNCW Career Services • Vol 5, No 2 • Oct 2000

McGladrey & Pullen, LLP

by Richelle Wallace

Provide a general description of your firm.
McGladrey is one of the nation's leading certified public accounting firms. We are the seventh largest provider of accounting, tax and consulting services in the U.S., operating from approximately 70 offices nationwide. Internationally, McGladrey is known as RSM International, the world's eighth largest accounting and consulting organization with 400 offices in more than 75 countries.

What separates McGladrey from the competition?
While McGladrey provides services to some Fortune 100 and public companies, we are the only firm focusing primarily on the middle-market. By serving this segment, our employees are able to work on 20 to 40 projects per year in which they are involved in many aspects of the world of business — as opposed to just a small part. From practical experience and superior training, our employees are developed into business advisors. In doing this, McGladrey has become the leading firm in helping small- to mid-sized businesses succeed.

Provide a brief bio of yourself.
I have been part of McGladrey's human resources' team since 1995. I have more than ten years of experience in human resources, administration and operations.

I am certified by the Human Resources Certification Institute as a Professional in Human Resources (PHR). My educational background includes a Masters degree in Human Resources Development from Webster University and undergraduate work at Mount Olive College.

I am a professional member of the Society for Human Resources Management (SHRM), the District IV Director and an active board member of SHRM's State Council.

What is your role at McGladrey?
I am responsible for campus recruiting and oversee staffing, scheduling and production for eight locations.

For what positions do you recruit UNCW students?
McGladrey primarily recruits entry-level public accountants.

What specific qualities do you seek in new hires?
We seek accounting students who do well in school and who demonstrate the desire to grow both personally and professionally. Strong communication skills are very important, as our employees interact with clients on a regular basis. In addition, we look for candidates who have demonstrated leadership with various campus/community involvement or who have previous work/intern experience.

How would you rate UNCW graduates relative to other schools from which you recruit?
UNCW ranks very high, and we are proud of your graduates who represent a significant number of our staff, management and partner positions with McGladrey in Eastern North Carolina.

What sorts of career options are available to new hires?
Our public accountants have the opportunity to grow and be promoted progressively to supervisor, manager, senior manager and then partner. As skills are developed, employees become business advisors

.... McGladrey & Pullen, LLP cont'd on page 3

Career Programs Oct/Nov2000

Selling Yourself On Paper: Resumes & Cover Letters
How to represent yourself with a powerful resume, formats, styles, etc.
Wed, Oct 11, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm
Thur, Nov 2, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm

Interview to Win: Preparing for Job Interviews
Prepare for today's job interviews, typical questions you'll be asked, etc.
Mon, Oct 16, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm
Tues, Nov 7, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm

Making That Major Decision:
Explore in-depth your career interests, values & skills, & how they relate to academic majors & career fields. Pre-registration required; enrollment limited.
Wed, Oct 25, 4-6pm, UU Glass Rm
Thur, Nov 9, 4-6pm, UU Glass Rm
UU Glass Room

Education Job Fair - Fall 2000:
Visit & interview with regional school districts fro teaching positions.
Fair:
Fri, Oct 13, 9-12pm, UU Rm 100
Interviews:
Fri, Oct 13, 1-4pm, UU Rm 100

Working for State & Federal Gov't: Jobs & Internships
A panel of representatives from Federal & State agencies
Tues, Oct 24, 1-3pm, CSB Aud

Graduate & Prof. School Day
Wed, Nov 1, 12-3pm, WC Ballroom

Law School Panel:
Wed, Nov 8, 3:30-6pm, CSB Aud

UNCW
CAREER SERVICES

On-Campus Recruiting • Fall 2000

New Employers are added continually, so for the most current schedule click on "Students", then "On-Campus Recruiting" button on the Career Services homepage <http://www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career>

Sign-up sheets for all on-campus interviews are available only through Career Services web page- CareerConnections. Students must have completed their web registration and resume in UNCW CareerConnections before access is granted to the interview schedules. All sign-ups are done on the web, and can be done 24/7 from any computer with internet access.

Date	Organization/Company	Position/s	Majors
Mon, Oct 2	Price Waterhouse Coopers interviews (pre-select)	Accountant	MSA
Tues, Oct 3	McGladrey & Pullen interviews (pre-select)	Accountant	MSA
Wed, Oct 4	Dixon & Odom interviews (pre-select)	Accountant	MSA
Mon, Oct 9	John Hancock Presentation, 5:00 pm, UU 201	Financial Svcs, Mktg Rep	All
Tues, Oct 10	John Hancock Interviews	Financial Svcs, Mktg Rep	All
Tues, Oct 10	AFLAC presentation, 5:30 pm, UU Glass Room	Sales Representative	All
Wed, Oct 11	AFLAC interviews	Sales Representative	All
Tues, Oct 10	Greater Carolina Group interviews (pre-select)	Sales Associate	All
Thurs, Oct 12	Deloitte & Touche interviews (pre-select)	Accountant	MSA
Thurs, Oct 12	Northwestern Mutual interviews	Financial Representative	All
Mon, Oct 16	Arthur Anderson interviews (pre-select)	Accountant	MSA
Tues, Oct 17	Intelligent Information Systems presentation, 6 pm, UU 103-B	Systems Engineer	CSC, IS
Tues, Oct 17	Cherry, Bekaert and Holland interviews (pre-select)	Accountant	MSA
Wed, Oct 18	Intelligent Information Systems interviews (pre-select)	Systems Engineer	CSC, IS
Tues, Oct 17	Maxim Health Care interviews (pre-select)	Sales Recruiter / Mgmt	All
Tues, Oct 17	US Air Force (table in UU)		All
Wed, Oct 18	Consolidated Electrical Distributors interviews	Mgmt Trainee Program	All Business
Wed, Oct 18	Aerotek presentation, 6pm, UU 103-B	Sales Recruiter	All
Thurs, Oct 19	Aerotek interviews	Sales Recruiter	All
Thurs, Oct 19	SAS Institute interviews (pre-select)	Various Computer Positions	CSC, IS
Tues, Oct 24	Applied Technology Solutions interviews (pre-select)	Programmer-App Developer	CSC, IS
Tues, Oct 24	Enterprise Rent-A-Car interviews	Management Trainee	All
Wed, Oct 25	BB&T interviews (pre-select) (must have at least 6 hrs in accounting)	Mgmt Development Program	MBA, Acct, Fin, Econ, Mgmt
Thurs, Oct 26	Fastenal interviews (pre-select)	Sales/Mgmt Training	All
Fri, Oct 27	Fastenal interviews (pre-select)	Sales/Mgmt Training	All
Thurs, Nov 2	Burlington Industries interviews	Manufacturing Manager	Business
Thurs, Nov 2	Apex Systems, Inc. interviews (pre-select)	Technical Staffing	All
Fri, Nov 3	Sherwin Williams interviews (pre-select)	Management Trainee	Management, Marketing
Fri, Nov 3	Tru-Green Chemlawn interviews	Management Trainee	All
Mon, Nov 6	Blackbaud interviews	Analysis, Programmer	Math, IS, CSC, Physics
Tues, Nov 7	US Air Force (table in UU)		All
Mon, Nov 13	Coastal Stockbrokers (pre-select)	Stockbrokers	All
Mon, Nov 13	Walt Disney World presentation, Dobo Hall 202, 6:00pm Must attend presentation to interview	Internships & Part-Time Jobs	All
Tues, Nov 14	Walt Disney World interviews	Internships & Part-Time Jobs	All
Wed, Nov 15	Walt Disney World interviews	Internships & Part-Time Jobs	All
Tues, Nov 28	Enterprise Rent-A-Car interviews	Management Trainee	All

Plug N 2
UNCW CareerConnections

Become a part of the best career database for college students. As a part of UNCW CareerConnections you will be able to:

- Create powerful resumes online, or upload your own MS Word resume.
- Post your resume online for employers to search anytime in UNCW's Web Resume Book
- View and sign up for on-campus interviews, all online.
- Get up-to-date information regarding career events, workshops and on-campus recruiters.
- Track online all of your job search activities.

Contact Career Services today and sign up for UNCW CareerConnections for a onetime fee of $18. For more information see the demo web site at <www.cc-res.com> Click on "Products/Demos", then "Student/ Alumni View."

Alumni Spotlight

Doug Bonney, Special Education with a concentration in Mental Retardation

Q: Who is your current employer and what is your title?
A: I work for Morgan Stanley Dean Witter as a Financial Advisor.

Q: What was your greatest accomplishment at UNCW?
A: My greatest accomplishment was balancing school, soccer, work and social activities so that I could give my best in each while still completing everything in four years - basically, time management.

Q: What were some of your campus involvements?
A: My campus activities included varsity soccer, surf club, and work with the Association of Retarded citizens (ARC).

Q: How do you feel UNCW prepared you for your current position?
A: UNCW prepared me for my present position by providing me with a solid foundation in understanding and teaching special education students. With these basics, I was able to take and apply them to the wide variety of students and situations I have encountered.

Q: Talk about your student internship experience and how it prepared you for a full-time position:
A: My student teaching took place in downtown Wilmington in an Educable Mentally Retarded Kindergarten - 2nd grade class. The class was comprised of a diverse population and I was made aware of social issues that students have to deal with that I had not thought of before. The teacher and assistant missed a lot of school due to medical reasons, but this allowed me to step in and forced me to take full control in situations that would have been not so 'real' had both of them been there. I accepted this challenge because I knew it would give me a realistic view of how teaching on my own was going to be. This aspect alone was the best part of student teaching for me because I built my confidence through my experiences.

Q: What would you do differently if you could relive your UNCW experience?
A: The only thing that I would do differently is that I would have tried to relax and enjoy more of what the UNCW campus has to offer. When I go back to visit, I see things that I wish I had taken advantage of when I was there, such as the student union.

Q: What was your greatest obstacle or challenge that you faced in your first teaching position?
A: The greatest obstacle that I faced in my first teaching position was learning the ropes with limited support. Other teachers took for granted that I knew everything and that put me in a position where I had to ask twice as many questions to make sure that I was up to speed with the other teachers.

Q: What suggestions/comments do you have for current education majors and/or student interns?
A: My suggestion for all new teachers (and interns) is to get a mentor that you trust. They will help you through all of the small stuff that others may forget to tell you. My suggestion for eduction majors is to be prepared and flexible. These two qualities will get you through almost any situation.

ANNOUNCING!!!

Career Services
NEW
No Appointments Needed
Wednesdays!

A Career Services Counselor is now prepared to receive students on a walk-in basis every Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 am and 4:00 pm. The new walk-in sessions are in the University Union room 106.

.... McGladrey & Pullen, LLP contd from page

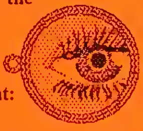
committed to helping their clients succeed. Employees are able to chart their career paths by industry (i.e., manufacturing, financial institutions, health care, etc.) or by function (i.e., audit, tax, consulting, etc.).

What suggestions do you have for UNCW students?
To become highly marketable to firms and employers, I recommend that students make efforts to: remain focused in keeping GPAs up to at least 3.0, become involved with campus/community activities, and take advantage of any internships/practical experience available.

Students should attend campus and employer-sponsored events and put forth the extra effort to talk with employers. It is at these events that employers identify students who may fit into their organizations, and it's a good time to see if the employer is a place where the student would like to work.

Keep an eye out for the next issue of the Student Success Journal (Employer Spotlight: Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools) November is the last issue for the year 2000!!!



For a Lifetime of Choices

UNCW students now have free access to a new computerized career exploration program– Choices 2001! It can help you answer questions such as:

- Which occupations match my interests and educational plans?
- What do people really do in specific occupations?
- Where can I find information on specific graduate programs?

See Choices 2001 in Career Services, Rooms 104 & 106 University Union.

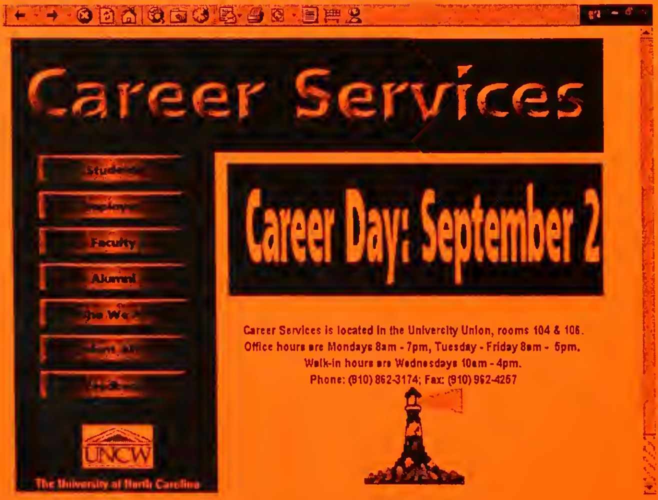
Check
It Out
Page

EDUCATION JOB FAIR
Fall 2000

Friday, October 13, 2000
University Union 100
9:00 am - 12:00 pm
Interviews 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

Sponsored by Career Services

University Union 104/106, 962-3174
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career



Career Services
Students
Faculty
Alumni
UNCW
The University of North Carolina

Career Day: September 2

Career Services is located in the University Union, rooms 104 & 106.
Office hours are Mondays 8am - 7pm, Tuesday - Friday 8am - 5pm.
Walk-in hours are Wednesdays 10am - 4pm.
Phone: (910) 962-3174; Fax: (910) 962-4267

Be Sure to Examine the
Career Services
Nationally recognized Web Site
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

CAREER SERVICES

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division of Student Affairs • "Creating Experiences For Life"
104 & 106 University Union • (910) 962-3174 • careersers@uncwil.edu
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Candidate Forums

UNCW and the Council of Neighborhood Associations will sponsor candidate forums at 7 and 8 p.m. Oct. 17 and 18 in King Hall Auditorium. The first forum will feature candidates for New Hanover County seats in the General Assembly. N.C. Senate candidates will take questions at 7 p.m., N.C. House candidates will be featured at 8 p.m.

The Oct. 18 forum will feature candidates for New Hanover County offices. Board of Commissioner candidates will be at 7 p.m. and Board of Education candidates will be at 8 p.m.

Michelle Howard-Vital, vice chancellor for public service and extended education, and Eric McKeithan, president of Cape Fear Community College, will make presentations on the $3.1 billion higher education bond referendum. Meetings will be broadcast live on UNCW-TV on Time Warner Cable Channel 5 and WAAV, 980 AM, with Don Ansell as moderator.

Physics Colloquium

Carl R. Brune, research assistant professor in the Physics Department at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "Stellar Helium Burning" at 2 p.m. Oct. 20 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served at 1:45 p.m.

White Ribbon continued from Page 1

and What One Male Can Do to Help Stop It" to fraternity members at 7 p.m. Oct. 23 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Campaign sponsors will also distribute white ribbons to all male students, faculty and staff at the university to wear in support of the awareness effort. The sponsors will hold two free car washes from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 21 at the Wendy's in Landfall Center and Central Carolina Bank on Oleander Drive and a dunking booth from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Oct. 23 and Oct. 24 near the spirit rock at the University Union. In addition, the sponsors will also sell T-shirts Oct. 17-24. All donations and sale proceeds will benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter Inc.

NSF Grant continued from Page 1

"UNCW has a long history of incorporating technology into the teaching process. Since the late 1980s, university faculty have developed digital materials for use in math and science courses," said Ward. Assisting with the project will be co-investigators Jimmy Reeves, associate professor in the Department of Chemistry; Gabriel Lugo and Russ Herman, associate professors in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics; Ron Vetter, chair of the Department of Computer Science; and Richard Dillaman, professor in the Department of Biological Sciences. UNCW graduate and undergraduate students from these departments will also be involved with the project working to create instructional materials and catalogue files.

"Because the database is for educational purposes, the user will have a higher success rate finding materials than searching the entire World Wide Web," said Ward. "In addition, teachers who use the materials have the assurance that the information is accurate because of the independent review process that each object will undergo before it is catalogued."

In addition to UNCW researchers, Ward said the project would involve Deborah Knox from the Department of Computer Science at the College of New Jersey, Scott Owen from the Department of Computer Science at Georgia State University, Edward Fox from the Department of Computer Science at Virginia Tech and David McArthur from Eduprise, a company that designs education software. Knox and Fox developed a digital library for computer science materials (the Computer Science Teaching Center) and will work to make their materials compatible with UNCW's digital library. Owen is one of the principal developers of the SIGGRAPH Education Committee Digital Library (SECDL) who is also working to ensure SECDL material is compatible with UNCW's digital library. McArthur is involved in the research phase of the digital library working to develop databases and data collection systems for the library.

Accepting future contributions for worldwide sources explains the "reusable" nature of the library. "Hopefully, instructors will take an image or other object from the library, use and build upon it to create a larger project and resubmit this new work to the library for consideration," said Ward.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

William Cleary, earth sciences and CMS, was an invited speaker at the symposium on Brazilian sandy beaches held in Itjai, Santa Catarina, Brazil. Cleary's paper "Inlet Related Management Issues in Southeastern North Carolina, USA" was co-authored by former graduate students Tara Marden, Maryellen Sault and Chris Freeman. Cleary, along with graduate students Andy McLeod and Mark Rauscher, also presented a poster "Hurricane Impacted Barriers in Southeastern North Carolina: Targeting Shoreface and Tidal Inlet Sand Resources for Storm Damage Reduction Projects" in the resource and use session of the symposium. Cleary presented several invited seminars on coastal geology and management at the Institute of Geosciences' Center for Marine and Coastal Research of the Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul in Porto Alegre and the Oceanographic Institute in Rio Grande.

Chris Powell and John Murray, CMS, attended the Marine Technology Society annual conference, in Providence R. I., where Powell presented the paper "The South Atlantic Bight Monitoring Project." The paper was co-authored by Alessandro Bocconcelli, Murray, Larry Cahoon and Rebecca Beavers.

Alessandro Bocconcelli, CMS, participated in a NATO-sponsored research cruise in the Mediterranean Sea. The main objective of the project was to demonstrate the feasibility of dual acoustic technology for the detection, localization and classification of marine mammals. Project participants also included the Italian Navy, Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution and the Groupe De Recherche Sur Les Cetaces.

Alexandra Sargent, art and theatre, gave the lecture "Costume Design as a Career Option for Fashion Design Majors" at Parsons School of Design in New York for students in the associate in applied science degree program. She was invited to be an advisory board member for the implementation of a costume design program at the school.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

BOT Meetings

The regular quarterly committee meetings of the UNCW Board of Trustees will be held at the following times and locations Oct. 19: educational planning and programs, 11:30 a.m. Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite; business affairs, 2:30 p.m. Alderman Hall, Room 215; external affairs, 2:30 p.m. Golden Hawk Room. The full board will meet at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 20 in Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite.

Financial Concerns

The Office of the Chancellor, as well as offices of the university's vice chancellors, will refer all anonymous complaints regarding financial matters to the Office of Internal Audit for review and follow-up. Anyone who has a complaint related to financial matters can also call the state auditor's abuse and fraud hot line at 800-730-8477.

SIS Training Sessions

Computer training sessions on Student Information System (SIS) will be held from 11 a.m. to noon and 2 to 3 p.m. Oct. 30 and 11 a.m. to noon Nov. 1 in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Interested personnel with current SIS accounts may sign up for one of these sessions by calling Becky Fancher, ext. 3036, or e-mail fancherr.

Balance Due Statements

Student accounts will mail fall balance due statements during the week of Oct. 13. Payments are due Oct. 27 in preparation for spring pre-registration. Direct questions to ext. 3147.

Honors Workshops

The Honors Scholars Program will sponsor workshops on preparing departmental honors projects from 4 to 5 p.m. Oct. 25 in the University Union Living Room and preparing for graduate school from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Oct. 31 in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Cafe. Faculty should encourage interested students to attend. For more information, call ext. 4181.

FRS Reports

The September FRS monthly "greenbar" reports will not be printed. FRS users will use e-Print to view their September FRS reports on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/eprint.html. Hands-on training in the use of e-Print will be offered at 2 and 3 p.m. Oct. 16 in the Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Seating is limited for these sessions; reservations are required and can be made by contacting Cris Dixon at ext. 4262.

Self-help through the use of the e-Print Training Guides is also available through the Web site.

Phone Directory Correction

The correct fax number for wellness services is ext. 7510.

Shared Leave

Angie Edwards, graduate school, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

TIAA-CREF Representative

Brendan Walsh, a representative with TIAA-CREF, will be on campus from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 24 in the University Union, Room 204. To schedule an appointment, call 800-842-2003.

Staff Training

A Balanced Life Through Meditation, noon to 1 p.m. Thursdays through Nov. 30 University Union, Room 210.

Diets That Don't Work and the Reality of What Will, 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 24.

Fixed Assets, 9 to 10 a.m. Oct. 31.

SPA Employee Disciplinary Action, Suspension and Dismissal Policy and Grievance Appeal Policy, 2 to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 17.

Unlawful Workplace Harassment Policy, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Oct. 18.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Susan Campbell and Allison Weidner, CMS; Wayne Franks and Bill Moore, physical plant; James Hamrick, university police; Robert Henry, central stores; Heidi Messina, public service and extended education; and Donald Sorensen, telecommunications.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21062 Medical Transcriptionist	Oct. 13
21063 Electrician I	Oct. 13
21064 Sergeant	Oct. 13
21065 Assistant Director of Budgets	Oct. 17.
21066 Admin. Assistant II	Oct. 20
21067 Client Services Rep.	Oct. 20
21068 Office Assistant III	Oct. 20
21069 Maintenance Mech. IV	Oct. 20
21070 Housekeeper	Oct. 20
21071 Laboratory and Environmental Safety Officer	Oct. 27

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

EVENTS IN BRIEF

Seminar: "Cool-Water Carbonate Sediments from the Southern Australian Margin" 1 p.m. Oct. 13 DeLoach Hall, Room 114.

Panel Discussion: "The Election of 2000: Something Different or More of the Same" 7:30 p.m. Oct. 16 Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Benefit: Jay Robinson Memorial Golf Tournament 11 a.m. Oct. 20 Echo Farms Country Club. For information, call 256-8079.

Performance: Transactors Improv Company 8 p.m. Oct. 21 Kenan Auditorium. For tickets, call ext. 3500.

Workshops: Geographic information systems Oct. 28 and Nov. 11. Registration and information is available at www.uncwil.edu/people/hallsj.

This is recyclable.

ANDREW J DUTKA
COORD SP COLLECT&ARCHIVES/LEC
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 15 October 19, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

NURC/UNCW Coordinates 14 Deep Gulf Research Dives

During the last two weeks of October, a team of scientists will send the Deep Submergence Vehicle Alvin on 14 research dives to the depths of the Gulf of Mexico on a mission that may unlock clues to new energy resources. The scientists' investigations will span subjects ranging from gas hydrates and microbiology to intense storms in the deep ocean. The results of their discoveries will generate important scientific data, and may also yield clues about the planet's past geology; help explain today's global climate patterns; and lay the groundwork for tapping future energy resources, previously unknown or out of reach.

Primary sponsor for the mission is NOAA's National Undersea Research Program (NURP). The expedition was organized by the program's regional undersea research center at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. Other support for dives and science costs are coming from the Minerals Management Service, the National Environmental Technology Lab, the Department of Energy and NOAA's National Ocean Service. Alvin and its support vessel Atlantis are operated by Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution.

Departing from Galveston, Texas, Monday and ending in Key West, Florida, on Oct. 31, the expedition will take a diverse group of scientists to the edge of the Gulf, on a total of 14 dives. "Like Columbus, they will voyage to new lands in search of new riches. They will go deeper than anyone has ever gone before in the Gulf, to places no one has ever seen," said U.S. Commerce Secretary Norman Y. Mineta.

One of the key areas of interest to scientists is the staggering potential for hydrocarbon reserves beneath the sea. "Over half of the fossil carbon on the planet is locked up in gas hydrate deposits on the continental margins," said Ian R. MacDonald, a research scientist going on the voyage for Texas A&M University's Geochemical and Environmental Research Group. He added, "The current expedition will look at the rich marine life found at such depths and will contribute to efforts to chart a new strategy for petroleum exploration in deep waters."

"What is extraordinary about this mission, besides the actual exploration, is the coordination between the many government, academic and industry partners," said Andrew Shepard, expedition coordinator and associate director of NURC/UNCW. NURC/UNCW put the multi-disciplinary expedition together, assembling world class scientists to lead Alvin's first visit to the Gulf since 1992. The science team represents universities from all over the Southeast U.S., including Texas A&M University, Louisiana State University, University of South Carolina and William & Mary University.

"This deep sea expedition exemplifies NOAA's and UNCW's commitment to exploring and understanding the world's oceans," said Shephard. "The oceans remain virtually untapped. This is a rare opportunity to unravel the mysteries of the ocean while inspiring new developments with far reaching benefits."

Learn more about the expedition at the project World Wide Web site, www.ecology.com (click on Gulf Project). In addition to descriptions of project objectives, an underwater photo gallery and links to related educational material, the scientists will post a daily log with pictures and video clips and answer questions about the mission.

PBS Show on Monitor Features NURC/UNCW

Exploration and recovery efforts of the USS Monitor are the subject of the NOVA season premiere Lincoln's Secret Weapon airing at 9 p.m. Oct. 24 on PBS.

"The most exciting aspect of this project is being able to visually share this recovery effort with the public through this NOVA production," said Doug Kesling, training and safety coordinator for NURC/UNCW, who served as an assistant underwater videographer and bottom diver for the NOAA self-contained underwater diving team. "The ship is decaying rapidly, so this expedition was an attempt to recover significant artifacts from the wreck and share them."

Filming for the documentary was done during the 1998 expedition conducted by the Monitor National Marine Sanctuary in cooperation with the U.S. Navy, NURC/UNCW, NOAA Diving Program, the Cambrian Foundation and The Mariner's Museum. The R/V Cape Fear served as primary support vessel for the operation. NURC/UNCW team members included Capt. Dan Aspenleiter, Glenn Taylor, Ken Johns, Tim Gallagher, Chris Cote and Jay Styron.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

UN Day Lecture

Carole Fink, professor of European international history at Ohio State University, will present "The United Nations and Human Rights, 1945-2000" at 1:45 p.m. Oct. 22 in the University Union, Hawk's Nest.

Fink, a former UNCW history professor and a leading authority on the United Nations Organization, is the author of Marc Bloch: A Life in History and The Genoa Conference: European Diplomacy, 1921-1922 which won the George Louis Beer prize of the American Historical Society.

This lecture is sponsored the Office of International Programs' Critical International Perspectives lecture series and the Coastal Carolina Chapter of the United Nations Association.

History Lecture

Melton McLaurin, associate provost and professor of history, will present "World War II and the Death of Dixie" at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 24 in Dobo Hall, Room 134. This event, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by the History Department and is the first presentation in the War and Civilization Lecture Series. McLaurin is the author of Separate Pasts and Celia, A Slave. Refreshments will be served.

Reading Between Headlines: Middle East Crisis

Don Habibi, philosophy and religion, will present "Reading Between the Headlines" at 5 p.m. Oct. 19 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. The talk will center on recent events in the Middle East. Habibi will talk about the historical, political, cultural and religious backdrop of the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians.

Used Book Sale

The New Hanover County Main Public Library will hold a used book sale 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Oct. 26, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Oct. 27 and 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 28.

Spanish Filmmaker

A screening of Thinks I Never Told You, an English language film starring Andrew McCarthy and Lili Taylor, will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 23 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. A discussion with Isabel Coixet, the film's director, and Maria Cami-Vela, foreign languages and literatures, will follow.

li taylor never told you

Poetry Slam

The Poet's Corner, a project of the Watson School of Education, will hold a poetry slam at 8 p.m. Oct. 26 at Water Street Restaurant, 5 South Water Street. The winning poet will receive $200. Second- through sixth-place prizes will be awarded. Original works by the performing poet can be read, and authors are limited to five minutes. To register, call Maurice Martinez at ext. 4279 or e-mail martinezm.

GIS Workshops

Joanne Halls, director of the Earth Sciences Department Spatial Analysis Lab, will conduct two all-day introductory geographic information systems workshops for faculty and staff Oct. 28 and Nov. 11. Both dates cover the same material. Registration and information is on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/people/hallsj.

Queen Anne's Revenge

The R/V Seahawk, helmed by Gerry Compeau, is supporting underwater archaeological excavation of the Queen Anne's Revenge near Beaufort. To follow the project on the World Wide Web go to www.ah.dcr.state.nc.us/qar/livedive/qarlive.htm.

Edgerton Receives Alumni Award

Clyde Edgerton, distinguished visiting professor in creative writing, received the inaugural Alumni Achievement Award from the UNC Chapel Hill School of Education.

Scotland/Ireland Trip

Kemille Moore, art and theatre, will serve as tour leader for a nine-day trip to Scotland and Ireland July 11-21. Participants will visit the birthplace of Sir Walter Scott, spend a night in an 18th-century castle and see the Blarney Stone and other sights. The cost is $2,575 per person and includes round-trip air fare, accommodations and motor coach travel in both countries. A $200 deposit will hold reservations with final payment due April 20. For more information, call ext. 3644.

CTE Sessions

The Center for Teaching Excellence will hold a session for faculty and graduate teaching assistants on how Randall Library can assist in the research and writing process from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 25 in Randall Library, Room 1032. The session will also focus on detecting plagiarism, World Wide Web sites that sell student research papers and anti-plagiarism software. A workshop on designing experiential, service learning and co-curricular experiences will be held at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 26 and noon Oct. 27 in Friday Hall, Room 103.

Student Recital

Erica Livingston, a senior voice performance and theater major, will present a free recital at 3 p.m. Oct. 22 in Kenan Auditorium. Pat Ainspac, pianist an instructor from the Music Department, will accompany her.

Innovation Technology Grants Awarded

The Information Technology Systems Division awarded $111,000 to nine proposals for innovative uses of technology at a reception Oct. 9 in the Warwick Center. Recipients were selected by the ITSD Committee on Information Technology Innovation, which was established to stimulate and expedite use of information technology to improve learning or the quality of life at UNCW and in the region. Forty grant proposals were submitted to the committee.

Awardees were: Paul Shotsberger, mathematics and statistics, for a project to use Jornada Pocket PC devices allowing wireless communication for pre-service and in-service teachers; R. D. McCall, anthropology, Dargan Frierson, mathematics and statistics, Stephen Kinsey, biological sciences, and Robert Hakan, psychology, to purchase 16 reusable gene filters to support DNA microarray technology; Joanne Halls, earth sciences, Richard Huber, Watson School of Education, Michael Mallin, CMS, and Marian McPhaul, Lower Cape Fear River Program, to expand the River Run World Wide Web site; Alessandro Bocconcelli, Christopher Powell and John Murray, CMS, to support a Web-based real-time data telemetry link for the R/V Cape Fear; Laela Sayigh, biological sciences, Genevieve Haviland, graduate student, Russell Herman, mathematics and statistics, and Bocconcelli, CMS, to develop a digital acoustic signal aquisition system to assess environmental and underwater noise in the Intracoastal Waterway near CMS; Peggy Turner, disability services, to purchase a CPC-700 time code based captioning system for component analog video to provide captioning for hearing impaired on UNCW videotapes; Ned Martin, chemistry, Clayton Ferner, computer science, and Allen Randall, undergraduate computer science student, to incorporate new algorithms into existing commercial software for predicting NMR spectra; Chris Dumas, Joe Farinella, Edward Graham and Rob Burrus, economics and finance, to fund competing internet investment accounts which will be managed by the Economics and Finance Clubs; and Raymond Burt and Oliver Speck, foreign languages and literatures, to develop a voice-activated interactive video to improve students' oral proficiency in German.

ITSD grant recipients were honored at a reception in the Warwick Center.

Staff Training

A Balanced Life Through Meditation, noon to 1 p.m. Thursdays through Nov. 30 University Union, Room 210.

Diets That Don't Work and the Reality of What Will, 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 24.

Fixed Assets, 9 to 10 a.m. Oct. 31.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Stillpoint Programs

Wellness services and the School of Nursing will sponsor the following Stillpoint programs:

Yoga, a 45-minute stretching and relaxations class on Oct. 24; and Meditation, a 45-minute calming session on Oct. 31. Programs will be held from 12:30 to 1:15 and 1:30 to 2:15 p.m. in the Student Recreation Center, Room 114. Seating is limited, call ext. 4137 for a reservation.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Clyde Edgerton, North Carolina author and visiting professor in creative writing, will join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Oct. 19 on TLN on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Other guests for the show, which will focus on Edgerton's work, include Wendy Brenner, assistant professor in creative writing, and Nikkie Leone, manager of a local bookstore.

Burial Grounds

Lynette Strangstad will give the slide presentation "Gardens of Repose: The Historical and Cultural Significance of Cemeteries" at 3 p.m. Oct. 29 at Cape Fear Museum. Strangstad, the author of A Graveyard Presentation Primer, will discuss her preliminary findings from Oakdale and Pine Forest cemeteries. This free presentation is sponsored by the History Department.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21057	Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21066	Admin. Assistant II	Oct. 20
21067	Client Services Rep.	Oct. 20
21068	Office Assistant III	Oct. 20
21069	Maint. Mech. IV	Oct. 20
21070	Housekeeper	Oct. 20
21071	Laboratory and Environmental Safety Officer	Oct. 27
21072	Police Officer I	Oct. 27
21073	Police Officer Trainee	Oct. 27
21074	Oceanographic Field Operations Manager	Oct. 27
21075	Mgr. Warehouse Services	Oct. 27

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Physics Colloquium

Carl R. Brune, research assistant professor in the Physics Department at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "Stellar Helium Burning" at 2 p.m. Oct. 20 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served at 1:45 p.m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Adopt-a-Spot

Adopt-a-Spot, sponsored by the Greater Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and Keep America Beautiful of New Hanover County, offers businesses, groups and individuals an opportunity to keep the community clean by adopting an area to beautify and maintain. Several UNCW organizations including Delta Tau Delta, Delta Zeta, Kappa Sigma and the UNCW Eco and Sailing clubs are participants. Other UNCW organizations interested in joining, contact Molly Connell '00, executive director of Keep America Beautiful, at 762-0965.

Tapestry Benefit

Tapestry Theatre in conjunction with UNCW's STAGE Company, Transformation Studios and the Film Combat Team will perform "An Original Rock-n-Roll, Hip-Hop Musical Adaptation of Washington Irving's Sleepy Hollow" at 2 and 8 p.m. Oct. 28 and 2 p.m. Oct 29 in the Warwick Center. Tickets are $7.50 for children under 12, $10 for students and $13.50 for all others and are available at the University Union Information Desk. For more information, call 763-8830.

Cornel West Lecture

Cornel West, author and professor at Harvard University, will lecture at 7 p.m. Oct. 26 in Kenan Auditorium. The lecture, part of the UNCW Leadership Lecture Series 2000, is free, but tickets are required. Tickets are available at the auditorium box office and the University Union Information Desk.

White Ribbon Campaign

Don McPherson, associate director of Athletes Helping Athletes Inc., will present "The Time Is Now, Stand Up and Be Counted: Stopping Sexual Violence" at 7 p.m. Oct. 24 in Kenan Auditorium. The presentation is free; $1 donations will be accepted to benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter. Also two car wash benefits will he held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct 21 at Wendy's in Landfall Center and at CCB on Oleander Drive.

Seahawk Publishing Two Issues Weekly

The Seahawk, UNCW's student newspaper, has started to publish and to distribute two editions per week. Thomas Ruyle, editor-in-chief of the publication, said increased student readership, increased demand from advertisers and upgraded technology were factors in making the change. He also cited the addition of formal academic support of the paper.

"During the past three years, the Seahawk has experienced enormous growth across the board. The students who have worked on this newspaper have transformed it from a mediocre, financially struggling newspaper to a respected, viable and high-quality publication," said Ruyle.

Ruyle said academic advisor Kevin Knight, a lecturer in the English Department, has been part of the paper's success.

"Knight teaches several journalism classes, and many of his students have gone on to become major contributors to the Seahawk," said Ruyle.

Higher Ed Bond

Information on how UNCW will use its share of the higher education facilities bond on the Nov. 7 ballot is available on the World Wide Web. Go to www.uncwil.edu, and click on the banner "Yes, we need it! Vote Nov. 7."

Walk of Fame Induction

Celebrate Wilmington! will induct tennis great Althea Gibson into Wilmington's Walk of Fame at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 22 at the Walk of Fame plaza behind the Cotton Exchange. Gibson lived in Wilmington from 1946 to 1949 at 1406 Orange Street with the family of Dr. Hubert Eaton, Sr., and graduated from Williston High School.

Gibson

A woman of many firsts, Gibson was the first African-American athlete - male or female - allowed into United States Lawn Tennis Association tournaments. She was the first African-American to win a Wimbledon singles title and the first to play in the U.S. and French Opens. During her almost 20-year career, Gibson won nearly 100 professional titles including five Grand Slam victories. Following her retirement from tennis competition, she was the first African-American to earn a Ladies Professional Golf Association card.

Through the Althea Gibson Foundation, Gibson works with and assists youth who want to play tennis and golf. The foundation helps young players train for high school, collegiate and professional tournaments. Donations to her foundation can be made with checks payable to Celebrate Wilmington!, Althea Gibson Foundation, c/o Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear, PO Box 202, Wilmington, NC 28402.

UNCW in the News

Cathy Barlow, Watson School of Education, was featured in the Sept. 28 Wilmington Star-News article "Ed School Leader Fits into New Job."

Daniel Baden and Carmelo Tomas, CMS, were featured in the Sept. 30 Wilmington Star-News article "Chattonella Toxin Same as Red Tide."

Larry Clark, Cameron School of Business, was featured in the October issue of Greater Wilmington Business article "UNCW Dean Aims to Strengthen Ties with Business."

Michelle Howard-Vital, Woody Sutton and Hunter Thompson, public service and extended education, were quoted in the Oct. 2 Wilmington Star-News article "UNCW's WebU: Classes Go Online."

Marian McPhaul, CMS, was quoted in the Oct. 4 Wilmington Star-News article "Organization Strives to put the River Back into Riverfest."

David Gill, specialty studies, was interviewed about his work with UNCW online courses in the article "Virtual Reality on a Desktop Hailed as New Tool in Distance Education" published in the Oct. 6 issue of The Chronicle of Higher Education.

This is recyclable.

UNCW©
ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH & SAFETY

Safety Spurs

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington

A Newsletter of the
UNCW
EH&S Department

nside

afety takes a new irection 1

ire talk. 2

ast shot at a reat opportunity 2

EH&S Staff

nvironmental Health & Safety Director
tan H. Harts
hone: (910) 962-3108
-mail: HartsS@uncwil.edu

aboratory & Environmental Safety Officer acant
hone: (910) 962-7017
-mail:

afety Inspector
anny Edens
hone: (910) 962-4287
-mail: EdensD@uncwil.edu

ompliance Coordinator an Greene
hone: (910) 962-3057
-mail: GreeneJ@uncwil.edu ax: (910) 962-3473 or

EH&S Fax (3473)

ww.uncwil.edu/safety/index.html

SAFETY takes a new direction . . .

The UNCW Safety Department is in the process of transition. The first step on the new path began with new leadership. To accomplish his vision, Tim Jordan, Vice Chancellor, reorganized the Business Affairs Division and placed the Safety Department under the supervision of Dick Scott, Assistant Vice Chancellor for Business. This move will optimize Safety's growth and efficiency and place it under the same leadership as University Police and Risk Management, who share the similar goals and objectives of minimizing the university's risks, maintaining a safe and secure campus and establishing an appropriate response to emergencies. This change will assist the Safety Department to meet the needs of a growing UNCW community and align it with the structure of larger universities.

New Director Hired

On September 15, 2000, Stan Harts was selected as the Director of the Safety Department. His proposed departmental name change from the Safety Department to the Environmental Health & Safety Department (EH&S) was approved and endorsed by management. To quote Stan, this name change is an outward reflection of the many internal changes that have already and will continue to take place to meet ever-growing challenges. Stan is a graduate of UNCW and brings to this department over eleven years of experience in safety and environmental issues gained at UNCW and in the private sector. His promotion to Director, from the responsibilities of Laboratory and Environmental Safety Officer, has the department actively recruiting for a professional to fill this vacant position.

Over the past fifteen years, EH&S has grown from a single part-time Coordinator that focused on OSHA compliance in maintenance operations to a multi-tasked department that provides numerous services, monitors regulatory compliance, conducts inspections and issues reports in a wide variety of environmental, safety and health arenas. These include, fire safety, special events, hazardous waste management, radiation safety, indoor air quality, industrial hygiene monitoring, underground storage tanks, conducting a variety of training courses, in addition to the traditional roles. There are currently four full-time and four part-time staff positions. EH&S is temporarily located in the Central Stores Warehouse. The telephone numbers remain the same but the fax has changed to 962-EHSF(ax) (3473).

In summary, although we have started the process . . . this is just the beginning! EH&S will continue to grow to meet the needs of the UNCW community. It is our goal to develop and lead exemplary environmental, health and safety programs at an exemplary university. The best is yet to come!

fire talk

As part of our efforts at UNCW to recognize October as Fire Safety Month, we would like to ask for your help in resolving several fire safety issues that have been identified in recent inspections and incidents.

First, is the issue of open flames. UNCW has been cited on several inspections for open flames in the buildings on campus. Candles, incense and other open flames are forbidden outside laboratories and food warming devices used by ARAMark. Open flames can set off the fire alarm detection systems, adding to nuisance alarms, and, if left unattended, could expand into a larger fire.

Second, is the issue of storage of materials in hallways. The hallways of buildings are to be used for access and egress only. If your department has materials needing to be stored, or waiting for surplus property pickup, please store them in areas other than hallways. These items narrow the hallways and would obstruct the escape of anyone trying to exit a dark and smoke filled building. They also increase the amount of combustible materials (fire load) in the hallways. UNCW has been cited by several inspecting agencies for materials sotred in this manner. To avoid future citations, we need your help to take corrective measures.

Finally and perhaps the most severe issue is in several buildings on campus nuisance fire alarms have sounded during the recent months.

These alarms were triggered by actual smoke and other causes. When the alarms activated, some occupants did not evacuate. We ask your help in always evacuating the building when the fire alarm sounds. We never know for sure when it is the real thing.

Please assist us in making these changes to make the UNCW campus a safer place for the entire community.

EH&S offers the following reminders regarding fire alarms and evacuation.

- If you discover a fire, sound the building fire alarm and call University Police at extension 4911.
- Evacuate the building immediately. During your exit, were possible, notify others to leave.
- Do not stop for personal possessions. Close the door on your way out.
- Do not use the elevator.
- Evacuate to a safe distance away from the building and away from roadways.
- Notify officials outside if you suspect someone remains in the building.
- Do not re-enter the building until told to do so by the Fire Department or University Police.

Last Shot at a Great Opportunity

Today, October 19, 2000 is your last opportunity to take advantage of a great benefit. If you are a UNCW employee that participates in the North Carolina Teachers and State Employee Health Plan, you, your spouse, and dependents can receive Hepatitis B vaccinations free of charge. This service is offered by the health care plan but, EH&S, Human Resources and Wellness Services formed a partnership to bring this benefit to the UNCW community.

To sign up for this free service, complete the Registration form (distributed to all UNCW employees in a Special Announcement on October 5, 2000) and fax it to Joan Greene, EH&S, 962-EHSF(ax) (3473). If you have any questions or need an additional form please call 962-3057.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

William Overman, psychology, and former graduate student Becky Reavis had two articles accepted for publication: "Adult Sex Differences on a Decision-making Task That Depends Upon the Integrity of the Orbital Prefrontal Coretex" in Behavioral Neuroscience and "Assessing Estradiol in Biobehavioral Studies Using Saliva and Blood Spots: Simple Radioimmuno Assay Protocols, Reliability and Comparative Validity" in Hormones and Behavior. The second article was co-authored with Elizabeth Shirtcliff, Doug Granger, Eve Schwartz, Mary Curran and Allan Booth of the Pennsylvania State University Behavioral Endocrinology Laboratory.

Marlene Rosenkoetter, gerontology and nursing, presented "Preparing Employees for Retirement: Implications for Human Resource Managers" at the North Carolina chapter of the International Personnel Managers Association annual meeting held at the Wilmington Hilton.

John Clifford, English, won two gold medals in track at the State Senior Games in Raleigh. His winning times in the 100- and 200-meter races, 13.4 seconds and 27.9 seconds, respectively, qualify him for the Senior Olympics which will be held in July in Baton Rouge, La.

Lavonne Adams, creative writing, had the essay "The Holly Pageant" published in the fifth edition of Writing, Reading and Research.

Karen Sandell, social work, received $20,296 from the N.C. Department of Health and Human Services for the project "North Carolina Family Group Conferencing."

James Merritt and John Taggart, CMS, received $113,198 from the N.C. Division of Coastal Management for fiscal year 2000-01 monitoring for the N.C. National Estuarine Research Reserve.

Steven Errante, music, received $16,157 in supplemental funding from the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra to promote enjoyment and understanding of symphonic music in the region.

Jeff Brown and Gabriel Lugo, mathematics and statistics, Darwin Dennison, HPER, Rick Dixon, Technology College, Dana Little and Patti Turrisi, CTE, Ron Vetter, computer science, and Dick Ward, chemistry, attended the fourth UNC workshop on the Use of Technology for Distance Education hosted by North Carolina State University. Vetter served as the workshop program chair. Lugo, Ward and Vetter organized the pre-workshop tutorial "Web Technologies, Wireless Networks and Pocket Computers for Everyday Classroom Use." This hands-on workshop was attended by 24 participants from around the state.

Brown and Dixon presented "The North Carolina Proctored Assessment Network (PAN)"; Turrisi presented "What the Corporations Can Learn From Us: A Microbrewery Approach;" and Lugo and Ward presented "Handheld Computers and Wireless Networks in Science and Math Classrooms." Dennison and Little had their poster/computer presentation "The Modification of an Interactive Software Program Based Upon the USDA/HHS Food Guide Pyramid for Use in Distance Education" included in a workshop session. Additional UNCW participants were Madeleine Bombeld and Dan Pfohl, Randall Library.

Doug Kesling, NURC-CMS, founded the Carolina Consortium for Scientific Diving, a professional association of diving safety programs that will network together and share resources and experiences in scientific diving leadership. The organization will hold annual meetings and discuss topics relevant to the safe operations of institutional based diving programs. Charter members include East Carolina University, Duke University Marine Lab, UNC-CH's Institute of Marine Sciences and the R/VCape Hatteras. Future members under consideration include N.C. State University, University of South Carolina, Coastal Carolina University, N.C. aquariums, The N.C. archaeological unit at Ft. Fisher, Clemson University and the Virginia Institute of Marine Sciences.

Craig Bailey, biological sciences and CMS, received $60,195 from NSF's Microbial Observatories Program for the project "Species Discovery and Population Dynamics of Coccoid Algae in Itasca State Park, Minnesota." Collaborators include Marvin Fawley and Karen Phillips from North Dakota State University.

Daniel Baden, CMS, received $124,686 in supplemental funding from the University of Maryland, Baltimore, for the project "Identification of Toxins Produced by Pfiesteria piscicida and Other Dinoflagellates."

Ann Pabst and William McLellan, biological sciences, received $94,889 from the National Marine Fisheries Service for the project "Measuring Surface and Deep-body Temperatures of Dolphins in the ETP: Is Thermal Stress Associated with Chase and Capture in the ETP-tuna Fishery?"

Tom MacLennan, English, was guest editor for the latest issue of North Carolina English Teacher, which contained his introductory essay and a collection of essays and annotated bibliographies by students in the English Department's young adult literature classes.

Ron Vetter, computer science, is the co-guest editor of the October 2000 special issue of IEEE Computer focusing on e-commerce. His colleagues included Alfred C. Weaver at the University of Virginia, Andrew Whinston at the University of Texas at Austin, and Kathleen Swigger at the University of North Texas. The issue includes Vetter's paper "Mobile Commerce: A New Frontier" with co-authors Upkar Varshney and Ravi Kalakota at Georgia State University.

Mark Williams, financial aid and veterans services, received $18,954 in supplemental funding from the Texas Guarantee Student Loan/Department of Education for the project "Financial Aid Online Training Institute: An Opportunity for Professional Growth."

Kate Temoney, student affairs, had the article "The Community Development Assistant: On-campus Support in an Off-campus Setting" published in Commuter Perspectives, a publication of the National Clearinghouse for Commuter Programs at the University of Maryland.

Official Notices

UNCW-TV to Rebroadcast Candidate Forums

UNCW-TV will rebroadcast the candidate forums sponsored by UNCW and the Council of Neighborhood Associations at 8 p.m. Oct. 23 and 7:30 p.m. Oct. 26 on TLN on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The first rebroadcast will feature N.C. Senate and House candidates and the second will feature New Hanover County Board of Commissioner and Board of Education candidates.

Teaching Fellows Evaluation

An evaluation team will interview administrators, faculty, staff and students Oct. 25 and 26 as part of the four-year review of the UNCW Teaching Fellows Program. Housed in the Watson School of Education, the program is for students who receive the North Carolina Teaching Fellows scholarship. Awarded to high school seniors, the scholarship is considered a "loan" paid off by the student through service as a teacher in North Carolina for four years after graduation. UNCW is one of 14 campuses in the Teachers Fellow Program. Kathleen Benzaquin, program director and professor in the Department of Specialty Studies, teaches the seminars required of the fellows during their four years at UNCW. Students also participate as tutors and in volunteer and leadership experiences across campus.

Faculty who have been randomly selected for an interview with the evaluation team and who need more information about the program should contact Benzaquin at ext. 4001.

Faculty/Staff Campaign

The annual faculty/staff fundraising campaign period ends Nov. 1, but gifts are accepted throughout the year, said Karly Jennings, director of annual giving. There are hundreds of programs, projects and scholarships which employees can designate contributions, said Jennings. Send checks to advancement services, Alderman Hall, Room 104. For more information, call ext. 2661.

Weight Watchers

The Weight Watchers at Work Program will start a 19-week session Oct. 25. Meetings will be from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesdays, and the cost for employees is $152. For more information, call Liz Grimes at ext. 3274.

Travel Grants

The deadline for student travel grants for spring semester abroad which are available through the Office of International Programs is Nov. 1. Students accepted for Swansea, Quitor or Paris semester programs automatically receive $400 grants. For applications, call ext. 3685.

Faculty travel grant applications for spring semester are due in international programs by Oct. 31.

Call for Programs

The eighth annual International Cultural Week will be held Feb. 12-17. Departments and organizations that are planning spring semester events and that would like to be included in the master program and advertising should submit a program proposal to Heather Smith, international programs, by Nov. 17. For a form, call ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh. Events can be a lecture, film, workshop or performance.

Honors Workshops

The Honors Scholars Program will sponsor workshops on preparing departmental honors projects from 4 to 5 p.m. Oct. 25 in the University Union Living Room and preparing for graduate school from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Oct. 31 in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Cafe. Faculty should encourage interested students to attend. For more information, call ext. 4181.

Shared Leave

Ann Blake, accounting, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

BOT Meetings

The regular quarterly committee meetings of the UNCW Board of Trustees will be held at the following times and locations Oct. 19: educational planning and programs, 11:30 a.m. Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite; business affairs, 2:30 p.m. Alderman Hall, Room 215; external affairs, 2:30 p.m. Golden Hawk Room. The full board will meet at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 20 in Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite.

SIS Training Sessions

Computer training sessions on Student Information System (SIS) will be held from 11 a.m. to noon and 2 to 3 p.m. Oct. 30 and 11 a.m. to noon Nov. 1 in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Interested personnel with current SIS accounts, may sign up for one of these sessions by calling Becky Fancher, ext. 3036, or e-mail fancherr.

Phone Directory Corrections

The correct numbers for Rhonda Diggs and Charles Sanders in the telephone directory's listing under Purchasing Department are ext. 3849 and 3158, respectively. Joy Williamson has replaced Crystal Green-Brock who transferred to accounting.

The correct extension for Tamara Hayes, advancement, is 2650.

TIAA-CREF Representative

Brendan Walsh, a representative with TIAA-CREF, will be on campus from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 24 in the University Union, Room 204. To schedule an appointment, call 800-842-2003.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Robert Ballantine, application services; Robert Greene, central stores; Kelly Kennedy, human resources; Thomas Lamont, Jr., alumni relations; Charles Profitt, physical plant; and Nancy Stevens, CMS.

ANDREW J DUTKA
COORD SP COLLECT&ARCHIVES/LEC
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 16 October 26, 2000 | Phillip Brown, editor

Mariculture Program Gets $325,000 in Funding

The U.S. Congress this month approved a $325,000 allocation for UNCW's Mariculture Program for fiscal year 2001. This funding is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Program director Wade Watanabe said the money will be used to continue the installation of critical facilities at Wrightsville Beach, including recirculating growout systems and a fish hatchery, as well as support staff and graduate students.

"It will also provide funds to continue our work on controlled breeding, larval culture and growout of new candidate marine fish species for U.S. agriculture," Watanabe said. "The goal of our research is to help the state of North Carolina and the U.S. establish a viable commercial flounder agriculture industry and to bring new species, such as sea bass, to the commercial realm in the future."

Sen. John Edwards (D-NC) joined efforts with Sen. Jesse Helms (R-NC) and Rep. Mike McIntyre (D-NC) to secure passage of the legislation.

"North Carolina is blessed with a beautiful coast, and mariculture gives us a way to tap into the economic potential of our coastal resources without damaging our environment," Sen. Edwards said. "I am proud to see the University of North Carolina at Wilmington continue to be a leading center for mariculture research."

Comedian, Actor D. L. Hughley to Perform

D. L. Hughley, well-known comedian and actor, will perform at 8 p.m. Oct. 28 in Kenan Auditorium. His appearance is sponsored by the Association of Campus Entertainment.

Hughley, who is from Charlotte, N.C., is in the third season of his sitcom The Hughleys. The family comedy, created by Hughley, is based on real-life experiences. The premise of the show involves Hughley who moves his family from the city to the suburbs and from an apartment to a large house. The show deals with the sitcom family's struggle to fit into this new environment. In its first season, The Hughleys was ABC's highest-rated new show and garnered a nomination for a People's Choice Award in the category of "Favorite New Television Comedy Series." Hughley was nominated as "Favorite Male Performer in a New Television Series."

Hughley

Tickets to the event are $10 for UNCW students with a valid ID, $12 for faculty/staff, $18 for the public and $25 on the day of the show and are available at the Kenan Auditorium Box Office and the University Union Information Desk.

Harvard Professor to Lecture on Race and Democracy

Cornel West, professor of African-American studies and philosophy of religion at Harvard University, will present "Race and Democracy" at 8 p.m., Oct. 26 in Kenan Auditorium. The lecture is free; however, tickets are required for admission. Tickets are available at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. The lecture is part of the Building Character by Design Lecture Series 2000 sponsored by the UNCW Leadership Center.

West

West has written numerous articles and 15 books including The American Evasion of Philosophy, Jews and Blacks, The Future of Race and Restoring Hope. West's latest publication, The Cornel West Reader, traces the development of his academic, intellectual and activist career. West was recently promoted to university professor, a title held by only 14 of Harvard's 2,200 faculty. He was one of the first black scholars appointed to this position, the university's highest faculty post.

West graduated magna cum laude from Harvard University in 1973 after three years of study. He earned a master's and Ph.D. from Princeton University.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Physics Colloquium

John S. Risley, professor of physics at North Carolina State University, will present "Teaching Physics and Other Subjects with WebAssign: An Online Homework System" at 2 p.m. Oct. 27 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served at 1:45 p.m.

Middle East Lecture

Michael Oren, a reserve officer in the Israeli military, will speak on current events in the Middle East at 7 p.m. Oct. 30 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. This free event is sponsored by the Office of the Chancellor, Division for Student Affairs, the Leadership Center and the University Union.

Oren, a senior fellow at the Shalem Center in Jerusalem, earned master's and Ph.D. degrees in the history of the Middle East from Princeton University. From 1995 to 1997, Oren was CEO of The Learning Company Educational Software, Israel Division. In addition, he served as director of the Israel Office of the American Jewish Committee and chief editor of The Journal of Israel History at Tel Aviv University.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Thomas McGinnis, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "The Foraging Ecology of Royal and Sandwich Terns in North Carolina" at 2 p.m. Oct. 27 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Computer Science Seminar

Gur Saran Adhar, computer science, will present "Digital Signal Processing in Real Time" at 3 p.m. Nov. 3 in Bear Hall, Room 206. The seminar will provide a brief overview of digital signal processing (DSP) and the architecture of a typical DSP chip. In addition, there will be a program demonstration of a 16-bit Motorola DSP chip.

Mission Logs

Andy Shepard, assistant director of NURC/UNCW, is writing daily mission logs about the Gulf mission that is using the deepwater submersible Alvin. To view the logs, go to the World Wide Web site www. ecology.com.

Work Day Camp

MarineQuest will hold a Teacher Work Day Coast Camp from 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. Nov. 7 for children ages seven through 10. The $32 fee includes an all-you-care-to-eat buffet lunch and a variety of indoor and outdoor activities. Registration is due by Oct. 30. For more information, call the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, at ext. 3195.

CFCC and UNCW Faculty to Shoot Hoops for United Way

Faculty from Cape Fear Community College and UNCW will compete in a special basketball game at 7:15 p.m. Oct. 30 at the CFCC Schwartz Center. The game is the kick-off for the CFCC annual United Way Campaign. The UNCW team will be coached by Jerry Wainwright, UNCW's men's basketball coach, and the CFCC team will be coached by Scott Wainwright, CFCC basketball coach. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Donations to the United Way will be accepted as entry to the event.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Author Ellyn Bache joins Betty Ann Sanders, host of Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Oct. 26 and Nov. 2, 9 and 16 on TLN, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Bache and Sanders, along with Ben Steelman, a reporter for the Wilmington Star-News, and Nicki Leone, manager of a local bookstore, discuss Bache's novel Festival in Fire Season.

Yes, we need it! Vote Nov. 7.

For more information on how UNCW will use its share of the $3.1 billion higher education bond, visit the university home page and click on the banner.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - chicken stir-fry, vegetable stir-fry, white rice, corn, green beans, assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - sliced horror ham with ominous orange glaze, Freddie's vegetable casserole, scary scalloped potatoes, spooky spiced apples, peas with gargoyle eyes (pearl onions), assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

Let's Talk! UNCW &You

Chancellor James R. Leutze explains the Nov. 7 bond issue and how the money will finance construction of three buildings and renovate eight others at UNCW on Let's Talk! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Oct. 27 and 30 on TLN, Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

The show, filmed at the New Hanover County Senior Center, also features Michelle Howard-Vital, vice chancellor for Public Service and Extended Education, who discusses UNCW's commitment to senior adults through the Adult Scholar Leadership Program and non-credit classes offered through the division.

Senior Center

Howard-Vital, Sanders and Leutze

Purchasing Pipeline

PURCHASING SERVICES NEWSLETTER

OCTOBER 2000

SCIENTIFIC PURCHASES

VWR has been reinstated on State Contract 493A for Laboratory Supplies and Chemicals. VWR would like to apologize to each of you for any inconvenience they caused during their temporary suspension from the contract. In 1999, VWR completed a total shutdown and startup of a completely new internal operating system. The New System and Y2K issues caused a price increase in January without approval or permission by the State of NC Purchase and Contract office. This was a 493A contract violation and an audit had to be performed. VWR passed the comprehensive audit by the state; however, it took some time. Now they're back with current pricing, ready to serve and save your budget dollars. Refer to website: http://www.uncwil.edu/purchasing/st_contr/st_contr.htm for additional information. Cardholders are able to

Continued on page 2

REQUISITION PROCESSING

The following are Requisition Processing Options:

- EMERGENCY: Definition - must be life threatening or necessary for the continuation of an academic program. Timing - immediate issuance of purchase order. How- input requisition and call Purchasing with requisition number.
- CONFIRMING: Definition - order to be called in by Purchasing due to necessary timing (please specify). Timing - order will be processed within 48 hours of requisition receipt. How - electronic entry using requisition 003 and 004 standard text codes.
- PRIORITY: Definition - necessary purchase requested to be handled before regular order due to special requirement (please specify). Timing - within 48 hours after receipt in Purchasing. How - electronic entry using requisition 003 standard text code.
- REGULAR: Definition - ordinary orders. Processing time - our goal is within 3 days of receipt. How - electronic entry.

All of the above options pend:

- Expenditure approval by those responsible for the expenditure account. Justification of request may help expedite processing - please specify wherever possible.
- Receipt of any necessary attachments.
- Purchasing Agent Approval

Purchasing Reminders

- When inputting requisitions don't forget to enter contact person and extension on screen 250.
- On screen 251 please make sure all vendor information is correct. Include complete address, phone and fax numbers.
- "Date Needed" field on screen 251 asks for the date the goods are needed, NOT when the PO is needed. "Ordering Dept" should be the department inputting the requisition. "Deliver to" should be the department the goods are to be delivered to.
- Enter account numbers line-by-line if items to be purchased are capitalized (5X50 object code). If you have additional questions concerning object codes please contact Carol Sgambati at ext. 3875.
- Please use correct object codes. Refer to the Chart of Accounts located at the following website: http://www.uncwil.edu/busaff/financial/chrtmenu.htm.
- Pink purchase order copies verify receiving of goods and services. Check in goods in a timely fashion and forward pinks to Purchasing within 3 days.

Purchasing Card Update

Purchasing Cards are now available campus wide.

To sign up for the Purchasing Card, complete the Set-Up Form which is available in the UNCW Administrative Forms Directory or by calling the Purchasing Card Administrator, Rhonda Diggs, at ext. 3849.

The PACS (Purchasing Administrative Card System) went online September 18th.

Account number and/or object code changes can now be made by card coordinators using this new web-based system. PACS can be accessed through the Purchasing website: http//www.uncwil.edu/purchasing/

cont. Scientific Purch.

use their Purchasing Cards again to order from Fisher Scientific. Fisher Scientific experienced some technical problems with the Merchant Code which is assigned to each Visa card purchase. The Merchant Code has been corrected. The Fisher Representatives apologize for any inconvenience this problem may have caused you.

Departments having questions can contact Claude Brown at ext. 3155.

"Dot.com" Vendor Tips

Lately we've been seeing many more requisitions where the recommended vendor has a name that ends with "dot.com" and there is no address, phone, or contact information on the requisition. It is hard to tell by looking at a website if a vendor is a legitimate business with a good reputation or just a "virtual" company with a flashy website but little substance. Here are a few tips to consider in deciding whether to deal with one of these "dot.com" vendors.

- Look for contact information on their web site. If they publish a variety of ways to contact them (complete address, phone, fax & email), then there's a good chance that they're legitimate. Also check to see if they are listed in the yellow pages of their local phone directory by using one of the following internet search tools: (http://www.switchboard.com or http://www.555-1212.com).
- Call to see if real employees answer the phone and provide pre-sales service. If you have trouble reaching them before the sale, you are not likely to receive a good response to post-sales problems.
- Read the terms and conditions of their sales. Be aware of the terms that apply to any special or promotional offers.
- Before submitting a requisition, make sure they will accept a PO (we will only issue a check with order under extraordinary circumstances). Some vendors will offer extremely low prices that are only valid if you order on-line using a credit card. UNCW Purchasing Card holders are NOT PERMITTED to enter their card numbers on any web site. So even though the company might be legitimate, their sales policy might make them an undesirable source.
- When in doubt, ask a Purchasing Agent for assistance. We have more formal methods of researching a vendor's reputation (Better Business Bureau, Dunn & Bradstreet, etc.).

Quarterly Inspiration

It is better to look ahead and prepare than to look back and regret.

Jackie Joyner Kersee

SEARCH AND FIND

B	R	G	L	A	E	C	I	O	V	N	I	E	C
U	O	R	U	I	Y	Q	Y	V	Z	X	T	O	E
Y	D	S	F	H	U	D	U	Q	F	T	U	R	C
I	N	J	P	A	C	S	R	O	D	R	R	D	I
N	E	U	L	F	C	A	S	S	T	I	S	E	V
G	V	I	E	I	O	T	C	E	A	E	B	R	R
J	T	B	H	D	N	F	O	F	X	N	S	S	E
Y	W	T	W	E	E	U	K	L	M	B	I	D	S
Q	E	L	G	V	S	A	V	I	N	G	S	S	A
M	R	A	J	J	Q	L	X	S	E	C	I	R	P

Agents
Bids
Buying
Courteous
Ethics
FRS
Helpful
Invoice
Orders
PACS
Prices
Quality
Quotes
Savings
Service Vendor

UNCW

Graduate School Day 2000

Wed, Nov 1
12noon-3pm
Warwick Center Ballroom

- For All UNCW Students
- Tips on Preparing for Grad School
- Contacts for Admissions & Testing
- Over 30 Grad & Law Schools Including:

UNCW • UNC– Law • National Testing Program
Chatham College (PA) • Campbell Univ • High Point Univ
Eastern Carolina Univ • Wake Forest-Law • Radford Univ
Bastyr Univ (WA) • The Citadel • Western Carolina Univ
Duke Univ • Meredith College • Univ of New Hampshire
Appalachian State • UNC-Greensboro • Winthrop Univ (SC)
Ohio Northern Univ Law • Becker Conviser CPA Review
UNC- Chapel Hill • Webster Univ (SC) • Creighton Univ
Temple Univ • Univ of Charleston (SC) • Elon College
Clemson Univ • Univ of Georgia • Kaplan Educational Ctrs
Virginia Commonwealth Univ • Noth Carolina Central Univ- Law

See website for current list of registered academic programs
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

UNCW.
CAREER SERVICES

Division of Student Affairs
104 & 106 University Union

Lamont Joins Alumni Relations Staff

Tom Lamont, Jr. '80 was named assistant director for alumni relations. He will work with the Young Alumni Program and chapter development and advise the Ambassadors student organization.

Lamont

Prior to joining UNCW, Lamont was the Civic Club development officer for the Boys and Girls Homes of North Carolina Inc. in Lake Waccamaw.

Lamont earned a bachelor's degree in speech communication from UNCW in 1980 and a master's degree in radio/television from the University of Mississippi in 1982. A past chair of the UNCW Alumni Association, Lamont was involved in the establishment of the Betty Jo Welch Scholarship. A longtime Wilmington resident, Lamont worked extensively in radio and television news in the area.

CTE Sessions

The Center for Teaching Excellence will hold a session for faculty and graduate teaching assistants on "Teaching Do's and Don'ts: What We Love About Teaching; What We Hate" at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 31. A second session, "Honors Teaching Methods Go Mainstream," will be held at noon Nov. 1. Both sessions will be in Friday Hall, Room 103.

IN BRIEF

Poetry Slam: 8 p.m. Oct. 26 at Water Street Restaurant.

Choir Concert: 7:30 p.m. Oct. 27 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Artist Recital Series: Duo Florian Kitt and Rita Medjimorec, 8 p.m. Oct. 31 in Kenan Auditorium.

Deadlines: Faculty travel grants, Oct. 31. Student travel grants, Nov. 1. Send to international programs.

Participants Needed for UNCW College Bowl Team

Competition to select UNCW's varsity team to vie in College Bowl 2000-01 will be held at 11 a.m. Nov. 18 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. More than 300 colleges and universities will compete to attend the national championship scheduled for April 27-29.

Organized and administered in cooperation with the Association of College Unions, College Bowl is a game of academic knowledge and quick recall. Teams of four players compete to score points by answering toss-up and bonus questions in a variety of topics including literature, science, geography, arts, sports, popular culture and current events.

The UNCW team will compete in the regional championship tournament Feb. 16-21 at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville. Fifteen regional champions and a wild-card team will compete in the national tournament.

Faculty should encourage interested students to contact Sarah Yackly at ext. 3811 or Stacey Smith at ext. 3797, university union, for more information or to sign up for the UNCW competition.

Applying to Grad School

The Honors Scholars Program and the Graduate School will present "Everything You Want and Need to Know About Applying to Graduate School" from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Oct. 31 in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Cafe. Faculty should encourage interested students to attend. For more information, call ext. 4181.

Movie Makers Lecture

Robert Inman, screenwriter, novelist and columnist, will lecture at 4 p.m. Nov. 16 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium as part of the Film Studies Program Movie Makers Lecture Series.

Inman wrote the award-winning script The Summer of Ben Tyler.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Mark Edelman Boren, English, had the article "What's Eating Ahab? The Logic of Consumption and the Performance of Meaning in Herman Melville's Moby Dick" accepted for publication in the spring 2001 issue of Style.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, had the paper "An Algorithm for Predicting Proton Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Deshielding over a Carbon-Carbon Double Bond" published in the Journal of Molecular Graphics and Modeling. Co-authors were UNCW graduates Noah W. Allen III, Justin D. Brown, Sal T. Ingrassia and Everett K. Minga.

Ron Sizemore, biological sciences and CMS, was an invited participant for a workshop held in Biloxi, Miss., to develop a national marine pathogen plan. The workshop was sponsored by the National Marine Fisheries Service's National Seafood Inspection Laboratory and the National Ocean Service Cooperation Research and Information Institute and was hosted by the University of South Mississippi's Institute of Marine Sciences.

Dan Ivancevich, accountancy and business law, had his article "EDI Adoption and Implementation: An Examination of Perceived Operational and Strategic Benefits and Controls" published in the spring 2000 edition of the Journal of Information Systems. The article was co-authored with Ram Sriram of Georgia State University and Vairam Arunachalam of the University of Missouri.

Michael Durako, biological sciences and CMS, presented the paper "After the Die-Off: Seagrass Dynamics in a Perturbed Subtropical Lagoon" at the fourth International Seagrass Biology Workshop in Lozari, Corsica. This paper, which was co-authored by M.O. Hall of the Florida Marine Research Institute, was published in a special issue of Biologia Marina Mediterranea.

Carmelo Tomas, CMS and biological sciences, was an invited lecturer at the UNESCO/IOC-DANIDA Training Course on Taxonomy and Biology of Harmful Marine Microalgae, presented at the University of Copenhagen. He presented lectures on toxic raphidophytes and dinoflagellates and participated in specialized training in electron microscopy of delicate flagellate species.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

Phased Retirement

Tenured faculty interested in pursuing phased retirement starting July 1 must pick up a packet from human resources by Nov. 1. This is the fourth enrollment period of this five-year pilot program.

NC Flex Program

The deadline for enrollment in the NC Flex Program is Nov. 15. NC Flex brochures have been distributed. Employees must re-enroll for medical or dependent day care spending deductions annually. Coverage will continue for employees participating in vision or accidental death and disability insurance unless changes are made. Current dental coverage will convert to the high option plan described in the brochure. To switch to the low option play, employees must complete an enrollment form. Employees without dental coverage for calendar year 2000 may elect the low option plan without waiting periods or the high option plan with coverage for diagnostic and preventative services only for the first 12 months. Direct questions to human resources.

Paper Shredding

Printing services offers paper shredding services. Paper will be picked up, shredded and recycled for 20 cents per pound. Remove all binder clips prior to paper pick up. For more information, call ext. 3183.

Phone Directory Corrections

Patsy Odom, communication studies, can be reached at ext. 7744. Linda Peay will answer the department's extension 3448.

Under the departmental listings, the correct extension for Deborah Ward, university advancement, is 4186.

Longevity Pay

Effective Oct. 31, longevity pay will be taxed at the prevailing rate of regular monthly pay instead of the flat tax rate of 28 percent.

Equipment Records

Departments are responsible for all equipment, tagged or not. As part of the university's audit procedures, a "portable equipment checkout list" ACG 2.60 must be completed for any equipment that is temporarily removed from its designated location, such as borrowed or sent for repair. The form is located on the World Wide Web at www. uncwil.edu/sp/AdmForms/index.html. Direct questions to Carol Offredo Sgambati at ext. 3875 or e-mail offredoc.

Alumni Association Seeks Award Nominees

The UNCW Alumni Association is seeking nominations for its two annual awards which recognize individuals for their outstanding contributions.

The Alumnus/Alumna of the Year Award is open to men and women who attended and/or graduated from Wilmington College or UNCW. The Distinguished Citizen Award is open to anyone for notable service to the university and the community.

Nov. 30 is the deadline for nominations for the 2001 awards which can be made by writing a letter of recommendation to the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors. Specify the award category and describe why you think the nominee merits the award. Include the nominee's name, address, daytime telephone number and work place.

Mail letters to Patricia Smith, alumni relations executive director, Wise Alumni House, 1713 Market Street. For more information, call the alumni office at ext 2682. The winners will be recognized at a formal awards dinner on Jan. 26 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Steven Marcum, central stores; Christy Murray and Lucille Tomas, CMS; and Linda Peay, communication studies.

Call for Programs

The eighth annual Intercultural Week will be held Feb. 12-17. Departments and organizations that are planning spring semester events and that would like to be included in the master program and advertising should submit a program proposal to Heather Smith, international programs, by Nov. 17. For a form, call ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh. Events can be a lecture, film, workshop or performance.

SIS Training Sessions

Computer training sessions on Student Information System (SIS) will be held from 11 a.m. to noon and 2 to 3 p.m. Oct. 30 and 11 a.m. to noon Nov. 1 in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. Interested personnel, with current SIS accounts, may sign up for one of these sessions by calling Becky Fancher, ext. 3036, or e-mail fancherr.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21071 Laboratory and Environmental Safety Officer	Oct. 27
21072 Police Officer I	Oct. 27
21073 Police Officer Trainee	Oct. 27
21074 Oceanographic Field Operations Manager	Oct. 27
21075 Mgr. Warehouse Services	Oct. 27
21076 Admin. Secretary I	Nov. 3
21077 Office Assistant III	Nov. 3
21078 Housekeeping Supervisor III	Nov. 3

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Flu Vaccine Delay

The Student Health Center will offer flu shots if and when the vaccine is available due to limited supplies of the vaccine. Faculty and staff are encouraged to get vaccinations off campus. Watch the Communique for further notice.

This is recyclable.

ANDREW J DUTKA
COORD SP COLLECT&ARCHIVES/LEC
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 17 November 2, 2000 | Phillip Brown, editor

Olympic Champion Billy Mills to Lecture

Mills

U.S. Olympic champion Billy Mills will lecture on "Your Pursuit of Excellence" at 7 p.m. Nov. 14 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. This free talk, which is sponsored by the Office of Campus Diversity and the Native American Student Organization, is the inaugural lecture for Native American Heritage Month.

Competing at the 1964 Olympics, Mills was the first American to win a gold medal in the 10,000-meter run. Mills, a Lakota Sioux, was raised in poverty on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota. Orphaned as a child, he faced prejudice and discrimination throughout most of his childhood.

Mills is the author of Wokini, which translated from Lakota means "new life, a life of peace and happiness." The book teaches what it means to be happy and how a person can feel more satisfied in life. It blends traditional Native American beliefs that rely on meditation, thoughts, dreams and the love of nature's beauty with modern therapeutic principles such as positive thinking.

The film Running Brave, which starred Robby Benson, was based on Mills' life.

Ahn Trio to Perform in Kenan Auditorium

The internationally acclaimed Ahn Trio will perform at 8 p.m. Nov. 18 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series.

Comprised of three sisters, violinist Angella, and twins Lucia and Maria, pianist and cellist, respectively, the trio performs more than 100 concerts worldwide each year. The Washington Post has called the Julliard-trained Korean sisters' technique "impressive. They balance unanimity and individuality in a spirit that is the heart of chamber music."

The group has released several CD's including Dvorak, Suk and Shostakovich Trios which won the ECHO Award, Germany's top recording prize. Their latest CD Ahnplugged, recorded for EMI Classics, includes works by Michael Nyman, Leonard Bernstein and David Bowie.

Tickets are on sale and are available at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. For more information, call the Activities and Leadership Center at ext. 3827.

Ahn Trio

Prize-winning Poet Heather McHugh to Hold Reading

Poet, professor and chancellor of the Academy of American Poets, Heather McHugh will present a reading at 8 p.m. Nov. 15 in Cameron Hall Auditorium. A reception and booksigning will follow. This event, sponsored by The King's Road Writers Series and the Department of Creative Writing, is free and open to the public.

McHugh has authored 11 volumes of poetry, essays and translations, most recently The Father of the Predicaments and Broken English: Poetry and Partiality. Her book was a finalist for the National Book Award, and she has also been honored with a Lila Wallace/Reader's Digest Writing Award, a PEN/Voelcker Award, the Folger Shakespeare Library's O. B. Hardison Prize and Harvard University's Daniel A. Pollack Prize, as well as with grants from the Rockefeller and Guggenheim Foundations.

The Milliman Distinguished Writer-in-Residence at the University of Washington, McHugh will conduct a poetry writing workshop and visit classes in the Creative Writing Department's MFA Program during November and December.

"She is known nationally as an extraordinary teacher and poet," said Mark Cox, department chair. "We are extremely lucky to be able to share her lively spirit and dazzling intelligence with our graduate and undergraduate students."

Developed to offer distinguished literary events to the Wilmington community, The King's Road Writers Series is made possible with funding from The King's Road in Barclay Commons.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Chancellor Leutze to Chair Commission

Chancellor James R. Leutze was named chair of the N.C. Rural Internet Access Commission by Gov. James B. Hunt. The 21-member commission advises and makes recommendations to the governor, General Assembly and the N.C. Rural Development Authority regarding efforts to provide rural counties with high-speed Internet access.

University Department to Host Conference

The Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures will host the 2001 Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference (MIFLC) Oct. 11-13, 2001. The conference accepts papers in English or a foreign language that deal with literature, film, linguistics, second language acquisition, comparative literature and cultural studies. Faculty interested in participating in the conference should contact Terry Mount, MIFLC president, at ext. 3349 or e-mail mountt.

Panel Discussion

A multidisciplinary panel of UNCW faculty will examine the accuracy of stereotypes about science and scientists and strategies to counteract these stereotypes at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 7 in Bear Hall, Room 106. This discussion is sponsored by the Center for Teaching Excellence, the Mathematics and Computer Science Club and the Chemistry Club.

Graduate Thesis Defense

David Thomas, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "A Phylogenetic Study of Gelidium crinale Based on rbcL and LSU Sequence Data" at 2 p.m. Nov. 3 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Note of Appreciation

Anne Howell, budget, would like to thank "all my UNCW friends for the calls, cards, food and flowers following my recent accident and surgery."

History Lecture

Michael Seidman, history, will present "The Art of the Spanish Civil War" at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 8 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. This slide presentation, which is free and open to the public, is part of the War and Civilization Lecture Series sponsored by the Department of History. Refreshments will be served.

Spanish Film Series

The films When You Return to My Side and Robert Ryland's Last Journey will be shown at 7 p.m. Nov. 6 and 13, respectively, in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. These free events are part of the Spanish Film Series sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. The Nov. 6 film is in Spanish with English subtitles.

Literary Globalization

Matti Savolainen, professor of literature at the University of Oulu in Finland, will speak on "Challenges of Globalization and Their Ramifications for Literary Study" at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 13 in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Savolainen will conduct a question-and-answer session from 3 to 4 p.m. Nov. 10 in the University Union, Room 100B.

Art Exhibit

UNCW Arts in Action is hosting the exhibit "Thurston 2000," which is on display through Dec. 14 in the University Union Living Room. The exhibit, by Sneads Ferry artist Sherry Williams Thurston, features a range of works in various mediums. A cover artist for Sounds Magazine, Thurston is head of the art department at Dixon High School.

Movie Makers Lecture

Robert Inman, screenwriter, novelist and columnist, will lecture at 4 p.m. Nov. 16 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium, as part of the Film Studies Program Movie Makers Lecture Series. Inman wrote the award-winning script The Summer of Ben Tyler.

In Our Own Write

In Our Own Write, five works which combine the talents of students in creative writing and art and theatre, opens at 8 p.m. Nov. 9 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. Additional performances will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 10, 11 and 15-18 and 2 p.m. Nov. 12 and 19.

The works that comprise In Our Own Write are Trees Walking, which follows a college student as she pursues studies abroad in order to find her true path home; All Nite Video, which visits the haunt of insomniacs as they look for images of their lives in VHS format; Chivalry Ain't Dead, which focuses on a woman's night exploring past, present and potential loves; Commander Ray, which looks at the world of the young as they face peer pressure and life decisions; and Mount Vesuvius, which highlights a young girl's monologue as she daydreams about love and life during a geology lecture. Admission is $5; free to UNCW students with ID. The presentation is not recommended for children.

CMS Seminar Series

Daniel Baden, Carmelo Tomas and Julia Kubanek will present "New Fish-Killing Alga in Coastal Delaware Waters" at 4 p.m. Nov. 3 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium.

Randall Library Book Sale

Randall Library will hold its third annual used book and record sale from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Nov. 13 and 14 and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 15. Proceeds will be used to purchase new materials. Anyone interested in donating books or sound and video recordings should contact Beth Roberts at ext. 3270.

CTE Session

The Center for Teaching Excellence will hold a session for faculty and graduate teaching assistants on inquiry-driven teaching and problem-based learning at 12:30 p.m. Nov. 7 and noon Nov. 8 in Friday Hall, Room 103.

UNCW

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

JAMES R. LEUTZE
Chancellor

Dear Faculty and Staff:

On November 7, North Carolina voters have an opportunity to approve $3.1 billion in university and community college bonds that are critical to the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and other public institutions statewide. Each of you, as a member of this great university community, has a stake in the continued growth and success of this institution. Our growing academic reputation is a tribute to the dedication of the more than 1,500 men and women who take pride in educating future generations here at UNCW.

Each year, record numbers of high school graduates apply for their place among our community of scholars and leaders. The collegiate experience here at UNC Wilmington is a special one. The relationships we build with students and their parents and families are lifelong. Through the years in countless conversations with faculty and staff across campus, I have observed a universal commitment to student development.

Historically, North Carolinians have supported opportunities for its citizens to further their education. The value of public education was the impetus that led to the founding of this nation's first public university in Chapel Hill. For more than 200 years, North Carolinians have benefited from a world-class system of higher education.

During the next decade, greater numbers of North Carolinians will rely on UNCW and the other UNC system institutions and community colleges for the education and training to remain competitive with the workforce in other states and countries. While enrollment at UNC Wilmington has grown steadily for the past 15 years, academic space has not kept pace. I want to commend you all for your perseverance of our mission as you have dealt with the hardships of space constraints and crowded classrooms. Your unwavering commitment to excellence in teaching and service are the reason our student body receives an unparalleled educational experience.

On November 7, we have an opportunity to help expand and upgrade our campus and every community college and public university in the state. It's an opportunity to make an investment that will help North Carolinians get the education and training needed to get and keep good jobs in the 21st century. It's an investment worth making, and one we can afford to make without raising taxes. State Treasurer Harlan Boyles has said North Carolina will not have to raise taxes to pay off the bonds. With one of the nation's lowest debt loads, the state can afford to pass these bonds.

With so much at stake for UNCW, can we afford to jeopardize educational opportunities for future generations? Can we afford to close the doors to economic opportunity for the youth of tomorrow? I passionately believe we cannot.

Information on how UNCW will use its $108 million share of the bond is on the reverse and is available on the World Wide Web. Go to www.uncwil.edu, and click on the banner "Yes, we need it! Vote Nov. 7." There you will find links to related sites. With your support, UNCW will continue to fill new classrooms and laboratories with bright, eager students.

With all best wishes,

James R. Leutze

601 SOUTH COLLEGE ROAD · WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28403-3297 · 910-962-3030 · FAX 910-962-4050 · INTERNET: LEUTZEJ@UNCWIL.EDU

UNCW

Here's how UNCW will use its share of $3.1 billion

Of the proposed $3.1 billion bond issue to benefit North Carolina's 16 universities and 59 community colleges, UNC Wilmington anticipates receiving a total of $108,171,000 over the next six years.

New facilities $71,919,600

School of education building - $18,725,000: The Donald R. Watson School of Education and Educational Resource Center is planned as an 80,500-square-foot, three-story building that will house the Office of Service to Public Schools, the Principal Fellows Program, the Professional Development System serving school systems in southeastern N.C., the Center for Teaching Excellence, the Curriculum Materials Center, the Science and Math Education Center as well as other support and outreach activities.

Academic and classroom facility - $33,032,100: This building will include classrooms, seminar rooms, a distance learning facility, computer labs, a film-editing lab and practice and rehearsal rooms to serve six academic disciplines in the area of art and theatre, music, creative writing and film studies. Every student earning a four-year degree from UNCW will use this building either through basic studies requirements or major/minor requirements.

General classroom building - $12,647,000: This building will provide the additional classroom and faculty office space needed to support projected growth in the Cameron School of Business, the Environmental Studies Program, the Department of Mathematical Sciences and Statistics and the Honors Scholars program. These programs have totally inadequate space for their current enrollments, while demographics suggest these are among the programs that will experience continued rapid growth.

Center for Marine Science operations facility - $2,929,600: The facility will house all operations personnel and functions for CMS as well as a marine mammal necropsy facility, a machine shop, space for equipment repair and storage for all seagoing diving operations. This building will be located on the Myrtle Grove campus and will consolidate operations currently located at Wrightsville Beach.

Academic support facilities and computing center - $4,585,900: This facility will provide faculty and graduate students with high-end technology, network capabilities, technical support and simulation and production capabilities.

Modernization of existing facilities $27,189,200

Alderman Hall, Friday Hall, James Hall, Hoggard Hall, Kenan Auditorium, Kenan Hall, King Hall and Westside Hall - Modernization for most of these facilities includes the replacement of HVAC systems, installation of alarm and fire suppression systems and in many cases, due to the age of buildings, the abatement of hazardous materials (asbestos, lead paint, etc.), in order to bring buildings up to current construction code. In addition, many facilities will receive upgraded electrical systems and communications networks to accommodate increased computer technology.

Land acquisition & infrastructure expansion....... $9,062,200

Also proposed is expansion of the university's technological infrastructure, to meet UNCW's commitment to making technology universally accessible to students, faculty and staff, as well as expansion of the campus physical infrastructure to meet the needs of the university's projected growth.

*For additional information contact the University of North Carolina at Wilmington • 601 South College Road •
Wilmington, NC 28403 • www.uncwil.edu • weneedyou@uncwil.edu • 910.962.3861*

UNCW

It's What's Inside That Counts.

College Donor Awareness Project

910-962-4137 / UNCW Wellness Services

Student Development Services
Division of Student Affairs

Wellness Services is pleased to announce the November Kick-Off of the College Donor Awareness Project (CDAP) "It's What's Inside that Counts." This project is part of the growing national effort to help more individuals in the U.S. move toward readiness to donate organs after death by presenting factual information which encourages students and others to consider their own beliefs and discuss them with family members. As one of two universities in the country selected to participate, this project will continue through Spring Semester 2001 and will involve a campus-wide marketing campaign, educational programs, and national and local speakers.

Facts About Organ Donation

- More than 72,000 women, children and men were on the waiting list as of October 2000.
- Every 16 minutes, another name is added to the national waiting list.
- Sixteen of these patients will die each day while waiting for a transplant.
- One donor can help 50 people.
- Fifty percent of families, when given the opportunity, refuse to donate a loved one's organs. A majority of these families do not have any information about their loved one's wishes; but when they are aware, most families act on those wishes.

Green Ribbon Lapel Pins

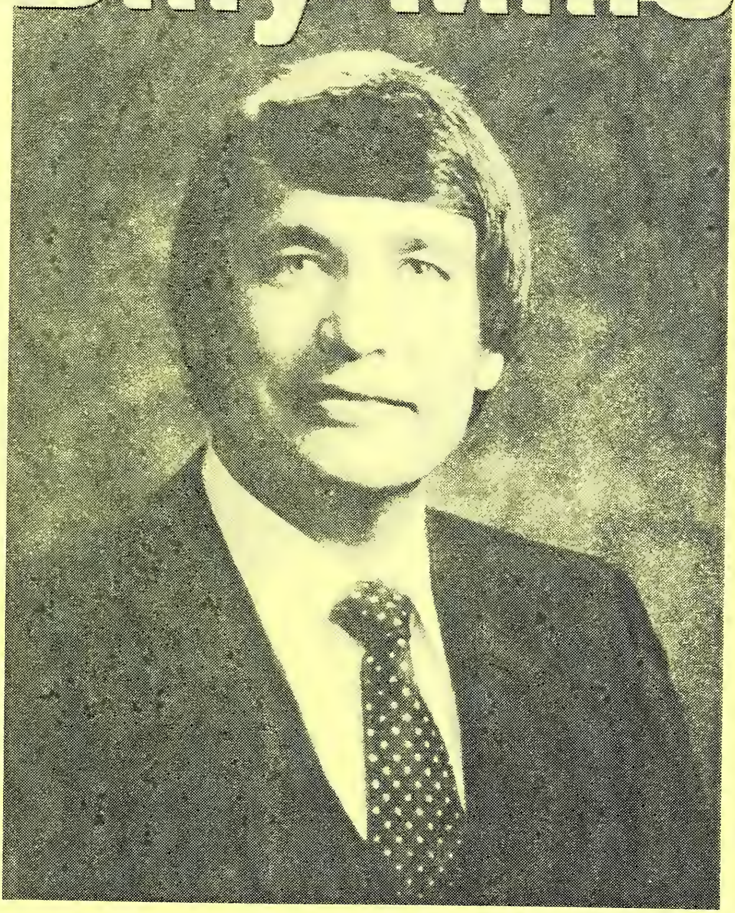
In recognition of National Donor Sabbath November 10-12, 2000, Wellness Services has received green ribbon lapel pins. These will be distributed (at no charge) in high traffic areas around campus, or you may call extension 4137 to request a package of 25 or less for your personal or group use.

Special Note: A planning group has been formed to assist with this campus-wide effort. If your life has been touched by an organ donation or you would like to be involved in this project, please contact Deborah Haywood at Wellness Services, 962-4137 or by e-mail at haywoodd@uncwil.edu

Sponsored by the UNCW Office of Campus Diversity with the Native American Student Organization (NASO).

UNCW©

Billy Mills



Your Pursuit of Excellence

Author of the book Wokini (the Lakota expression meaning "New Life, A Life of Peace and Happiness"), Mills offers his blend of traditional Native American beliefs with modern therapeutic principles to promote greater satisfaction from daily living.

From humble beginnings as a Lakota Sioux orphan raised in poverty, Mills became the first American to win an Olympic gold medal in the 10,000 meter run. His story is the subject of the movie, Running Brave.

November 14, 2000, 7:00 pm, in the Warwick Center Ballroom at The University of North Carolina at Wilmington

UNCW is an AA/EEO institution.

Majoring in Success

College & Careers

UNCW Career Services • Vol 5, No 3 • Nov 2000

Employer Spotlight: Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools

Q: Provide information about Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools.

A: Check out a classroom in Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools and you'll find young minds being stretched, challenged and inspired to do great things one day...like cure cancer...or save the rain forest...or end poverty...or maybe even create world peace. And who's preparing these students to have such an impact? Teachers, like you, who care about children and want to help them reach their fullest potential. By becoming a teacher in Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools, you have a unique opportunity to teach in an environment where learning knows no boundaries. Our nationally recognized teachers spark imaginations and inspire students to push beyond the ordinary to the extraordinary.

Some statistics: More than 130 teachers in Charlotte have received National Board certification, a distinction earned by teaching professionals who successfully meet high and rigorous standards. CMS is the first in the state and second in the nation for the largest number of teachers receiving national certification in a single district. The average SAT scores for the Class of 2000 was 989 and the top 10% of the graduating class scored 1202 compared to 1197 for the US. Since 1995-96, as measured by the North Carolina End-of-Grad reading test, there has been an 11% increase in the number of third grade students scoring at or above level III.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools offer you a challenging career in a progressive urban school district, a competitive benefits package and advancement opportunities...but the best part about teaching in Charlotte-Mecklenburg is the power you have to impact the future. In our classrooms, you have the chance to teach future scientists, political leaders, community activists and environmentalists who need great teachers to help make their dreams come true.

CMS's vision is to ensure that the school system becomes the premier urban integrated school system in the nation in which all students acquire the knowledge, skills and values necessary to live rich and full lives as productive and enlightened members of society. To learn more about Charlotte-Mecklenburg, please visit our web site at www.cms.k12.nc.us or call us at (704) 343-5384.

Q: For what positions do you need teachers?

A: Special Education, Math, English as a Second Language (ESL)

Q: Have you recruited UNCW students in the past?

A: We have recruited UNCW students in the past and have found your students to be fairly competitive.

Q: What qualities do you look for in new teachers?

A: We look for students who show a serious interest in their chosen profession and have experience working with students (day care, summer camp, volunteer work).

Q: What suggestions do you have for UNCW students in education?

A: Make sure teaching is what you want to do. Give yourself every opportunity to work with students and prepare academically.

Career Programs Oct/Nov2000

Selling Yourself On Paper: Resumes & Cover Letters
How to represent yourself with a powerful resume, formats, styles, etc.
Thur, Nov 2, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm

Interview to Win: Preparing for Job Interviews
Prepare for today's job interviews, typical questions you'll be asked, etc.
Tues, Nov 7, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm

Making That Major Decision
Explore in-depth your career interests, values & skills, & how they relate to academic majors & career fields. Pre-registration required; enrollment limited.
Thur, Nov 9, 4-6pm, UU Glass Rm

Graduate & Prof. School Day
Visit & interview with graduate & professional school representatives for continuing educationl options
Wed, Nov 1, 12-3pm, WC Ballroom

So You Want To Go To Law School
NC Bar Assoc. & practicing attorneys talk about getting into law school, & a law career
Wed, Nov 8, 3:30-6pm, CSB Aud

Look for the January 2001 issue of the Success Journal for the workshops & events calendar for the Spring 2001 semester!

On-Campus Recruiting • Fall 2000

New Employers are added continually, so for the most current schedule click on "Students", then "On-Campus Recruiting" button on the Career Services homepage <http://www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career>

Sign-up sheets for all on-campus interviews are available only through Career Services web page- CareerConnections. Students must have completed their web registration and resume in UNCW CareerConnections before access is granted to the interview schedules. All sign-ups are done on the web, and can be done 24/7 from any computer with internet access.

Date	Organization/Company	Position/s	Majors
Thurs. Nov 2	Burlington Industries interviews	Manufacturing Manager	Business
Thurs. Nov 2	Apex Systems, Inc. interviews (pre-select)	Technical Staffing	All
Fri. Nov 3	Sherwin Williams interviews (pre-select)	Management Trainee	Management, Marketing
Fri. Nov 3	Tru-Green Chemlawn interviews	Management Trainee	All
Mon. Nov 6	Blackbaud interviews	Analysis, Programmer	Math, IS, CSC, Physics
Tues. Nov 7	BTI		Management, Mktg, CSC
Tues. Nov 7	US Air Force (table in UU)		All
Mon. Nov 13	Coastal Stockbrokers (pre-select)	Stockbrokers	All
Mon. Nov 13	Walt Disney World presentation, Dobo Hall 202, 6:00pm Must attend presentation to interview	Internships & Part-Time Jobs	All
Tues. Nov 14	US Air Force (table in UU) 10:00 am - 2:00 pm		All
Tues. Nov 14	Walt Disney World interviews	Internships & Part-Time Jobs	All
Wed. Nov 15	Walt Disney World interviews	Internships & Part-Time Jobs	All
Thurs. Nov 16	FootAction	Management Trainee	All
Tues. Nov 28	Enterprise Rent-A-Car interviews	Management Trainee	All
Tues. Nov 28	US Air Force (table in UU) 10:00 am - 2:00 pm		All

Plug N 2
UNCW CareerConnections

Become a part of the best career database for college students. As a part of UNCW CareerConnections you will be able to:

- Create powerful resumes online, or upload your own MS Word resume.
- Post your resume online for employers to search anytime in UNCW's Web Resume Book
- View and sign up for on-campus interviews, all online.
- Get up-to-date information regarding career events, workshops and on-campus recruiters.
- Track online all of your job search activities.

Contact Career Services today and sign up for UNCW CareerConnections for a onetime fee of $18.

For more information see the demo web site at <www.cc-res.com> Click on "Products/Demos", then "Student/Alumni View."

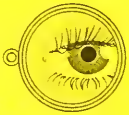
Announcing!!!

Career Services NEW No Apointments Needed Wednesdays!

A Career Services Counselor is now prepared to recieve students on a walk-in basis every Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 am and 4:00 pm. The new walk-in sessions are in the University Union room 106.

Keep an eye out for the next issue of the Student Success Journal (Employer Spotlight: Counseling Careers) Next issue:

January 2001!



Alumni Spotlight

Doug Bonney, Special Education with a concentration in Mental Retardation

Current employer and job title: Melbourne High School, Melbourne, Florida – teach all subject areas in the Severely Emotionally Disturbed class.

Month & Year of Graduation: May 1993

Q: What was your greatest accomplishment at UNCW?
A: My greatest accomplishment was balancing school, soccer, work and social activities so that I could give my best in each while still completing everything in four years – basically, time management.

Q: What were some of your campus involvements:
A: My campus activities included varsity soccer, surf club, and work with the Association of Retarded Citizens (ARC).

Q: How do you feel UNCW prepared you for your current position?
A: UNCW prepared me for my present position by providing me with a solid foundation in understanding and teaching special education students. With these basics, I was able to take and apply them to the wide variety of students and situations I have encountered.

Q: Talk about your student internship experience and how it prepared you for a full-time position:
A: My student teaching took place in downtown Wilmington in an Educable Mentally Retarded Kindergarten – 2nd grade class. The class was comprised of a diverse population and I was made aware of social issues that students have to deal with that I had not thought of before. The teacher and assistant missed a lot of school due to medical reasons, but this allowed me to step in and forced me to take full control in situations that would have been not so "real" had both of them been there. I accepted this challenge because I knew it would give me a realistic view of how teaching on my own was going to be like. This aspect alone was the best part of student teaching for me because I had built my confidence through my experiences.

Q: What would you do differently if you could relive your UNCW experience?
A: The only thing that I would do differently is that I would have tried to relax and enjoy more of what the UNCW campus has to offer. When I go back to visit, I see things that I wish I had taken advantage of when I was there, such as the student union.

Q: What was your greatest obstacle or challenge that you faced in your first teaching position?
A: The greatest obstacle that I faced in my first teaching position was learning the ropes with limited support. Other teachers took for granted that I knew everything and that put me in a position where I had to ask twice as many questions to make sure that I was up to speed with the other teachers.

Q: What suggestions / comments do you have for current education majors and/or student interns?
A: My suggestion for all new teachers (and interns) is to get a mentor that you trust. They will help you through all of the small stuff that others may forget to tell you about. My suggestion for education majors is to be prepared and flexible. These two qualities will get you through almost any situation.

Fascinating Facts for First-Time Teachers

Judy McEnany, Assistant Professor of Education
Patricia Reuss, Director of Career Services Office
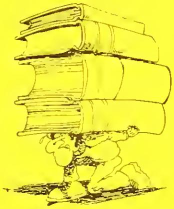
Montana State University – Billings, 2001 AAEE Job Search Handbook



Frankly, we were curious. Of all the data and impressions that school hiring officials collect about first-time teachers they are considering for employment, which ones carry the most weight? So we asked them.

We surveyed 255 Montana hiring officials about the hiring procedures they use when employing first-time teachers. Our response rate of 65 percent makes us confident about sharing our results. Although the survey was conducted in Montana, we think these "fascinating facts" are worth your consideration as you pursue your first teaching job.

Employers evaluate first-time teachers' job applications for:

- letters of recommendation from public school personnel
- a mentoring teacher's evaluation
- examples of teaching skill and classroom management skill
- experience with specific programs used in the school district
- number of certifications which candidate holds (i.e., elementary and special education.

Employers evaluate first-time teachers' academic preparation for:

- knowledge of subject matter
- success in student teaching
- computer knowledge and skill

Important factors about candidates' work experience in paid employment not related to teaching include:

- a positive work ethic
- punctuality
- good quality work
- low absenteeism

Employers use interview questions to assess the ways in which first-time teachers respond to:

- "real life" and "what if" situations
- classroom management issues
- enthusiasm about teaching
- demonstrating their knowledge of subject matter
- describing and evaluating their own strengths
- structured questions that range from impersonal to personal.

In evaluating interviews, employers look for the following:

- the candidate's commitment to teaching
- knowledge of the teaching field
- interpersonal skills
- the candidate's understanding of the role of the teacher
- professional judgement

Professional traits which employers use as criteria in hiring first-time teachers include:

- interpersonal skills (enthusiasm, likes working with students, caring, outgoing)
- the ability to motivate students

.... Fascinating Facts contd on page 4

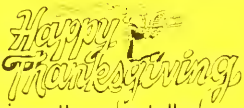
Check This Out



So You Want To Go To Law Sch

North Carolina Bar Association and practicing attorneys talk about getting into law school, and a law career.

Date: Wednesday, November 8
Location: Cameron Auditorium
Time: 3:30 pm - 6:00 pm

Last Call For Seniors / Job Hunt

Haven't quite gotten your job search together yet? This in-depth workshop will get you started writing your resume and cover letters, reviewing interviewing skills, and learning job search strategies for college grads. Free workshop for UNCW students. Pre-registration is required.

Date: Tuesday, November 14
Location: University Union Glass Room
Time 4:00 pm - 6:00 pm

.... Fascinating Facts contd from page 3

- the ability to provide a positive emotional climate in the classroom
- professional integrity

Personal traits which employers use as criteria in hiring first-time teachers include:

- enthusiasm
- dependability
- the ability to work well with others
- emotional maturity
- self-motivation

Evaluate yourself first. Before you put yourself in the position of having someone else (a potential employer) evaluate you, you can use these "fascinating facts" to evaluate yourself. Also, utilize Career Services resources and make an appointment with the Education Career Development Counselor. If you plan your job search with the same attention to detail that you put into your lesson plans, you will take an important step in moving from candidate to teacher.

CareerSearch

- Database of over one million organizations.
- Searchable by industry, location & keywords.
- Includes contact names, addresses, phone numbers & other company information.
- Encompasses all U.S. Industries, such as:

Advertising/PR	Banking & Finance
Broadcasting	Healthcare
Info Tech	Manufacturing
Museums	Publications
Reseach Ctrs	Retail/Wholesale
Sports	Technology

- Available only in Career Services, UU104 & 106, by appointment– 962-3174.
- Free service for UNCW Students & Alumni.

IT'S ALL YOURS!

Happy Thanksgiving

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division of Student Affairs • "Creating Experiences For Life"
104 & 106 University Union • (910) 962-3174 • careersers@uncwil.edu
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Randall Library Art Exhibit

Randall Library is hosting the exhibit "Life Impressions - Student Printmaking, 1985-1999" through Dec. 15 at the library's first floor art wall.

Donald Furst, art and theatre, served as curator for the exhibit which features original samples by his students. A variety of printmaking techniques are featured in the display including intaglio dry paint, color intaglio, soft ground vitreography, photoetching and embossment intaglio. A reception in honor of the exhibit will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Nov. 9 at the display.

Lower Cape Fear River Program Releases Water Quality Results

Sampling from 35 locations throughout the Cape Fear, Black and Northeast Cape Fear watersheds showed problems with low dissolved oxygen and fecal coliform bacteria according to 1999-2000 results released by the Lower Cape Fear River Program.

Fifty-four percent of the stations tested were affected by low dissolved oxygen levels. Using water quality standards defined by the N.C. Division of Water Quality, results showed that nine stations were non-supporting of designated use, and 10 stations were partially supporting of designated use. Non-supporting use is when water quality parameters are in violation more than 25 percent of the time, and partially supporting is when standards are violated between 11 and 25 percent of the time.

Fecal coliform bacteria levels exceeding human health standards were also found at 34 percent of the stations, with six considered non-supporting and five partially supporting. Fewer problems were found with turbidity and copper concentrations. Algal blooms and Pfiesteria were not a problem in the Cape Fear River and estuary.

This is the fifth year the program has sampled these areas.

Mill Memories

Cape Fear Museum presents "Mill Memories: Stories of Delgado Mills" at 11 a.m. Nov. 3 at the museum. UNCW public history students will share stories about "lint-heads" and "rabbit drivers" based upon interviews conducted with residents of the 20th-century Delgado-Spofford mill village located along Wrightsville Avenue. This free program is part of the museums Bit of History lecture series.

Computer Science Seminar

Gur Saran Adhar, computer science, will present "Digital Signal Processing in Real Time" at 3 p.m. Nov. 3 in Bear Hall, Room 206.

White Ribbon Campaign

Male athletes and fraternity members who organized the White Ribbon Campaign raised more than $1,100 to benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Stephen Meinhold, political science, received the Governor's Award for Outstanding Volunteer Service. The award was presented by Gov. Hunt at a ceremony honoring volunteers from the southeast/central region of the state and recognized Meinhold's efforts in helping the greater Wilmington community prepare for hurricanes.

Ileana Clavijo and David Lindquist, biological sciences and CMS, attended the week-long workshop Taxonomy of Larval Fishes at the University of Miami's Rosensteil School of Marine and Atmospheric Sciences. Andrea Quattrini, Lindquist's graduate student, also participated.

Raymond L. Burt, foreign languages and literatures, had the article "Subliminal Austria: Sigmund Freud in World Literature" published in Austria in Literature, a volume in the series Studies in Austrian Literature, Culture and Thought (Ariadne Press).

Patricia Kelley, earth sciences, was keynote speaker at the International Geological Congress in Rio de Janeiro. Her talk "Effect of Mass Extinction on Prey Selectivity by Drilling Naticid Gastropods" was co-authored by Maureen Jones '99M and Thor Hansen of Western Washington University.

Yeoun Soo Kim-Godwin, nursing, and Ron Vetter, computer science, had the article "An International Distance Learning Course in the U.S. and Japan" accepted for publication in the 2001 IMIA Yearbook of Medical Informatics which is published by Schattauer Publishing Co.

Paul Shotsberger, mathematics and statistics, and Ronald Vetter, computer science, had the article "The Handheld Web: How Mobile Wireless Technologies Will Change Web-Based Instruction and Training" published in Educational Technology magazine. The article provides an overview of emerging mobile wireless initiatives in light of compatibility, content and communication issues. A sample educational scenario is suggested as one way in which Web-based instruction and training can benefit from the use of mobile wireless devices.

James D. Johnson and Nora Noel, psychology, had the paper "Alcohol and Male Sexual Aggression: The Role of Perceptual Ambiguity" published in the Journal of Applied Social Psychology. Johnson and Carolyn Simmons had the paper "Rodney King and O.J. Revisited: The Impact of Defendant Empathy on Judicial Decision Making" accepted for publication in the same journal. This paper was co-authored by John Dovidio of Colgate University. Johnson was invited to be the keynote speaker at a conference on race and media at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, whose book The Seven Secrets of Successful Catholics was translated into Spanish, now has a Polish translation Siedem Sekretow Szczesliwego Katolika from Wydawnictwo Ksiezy Marianow in Warsaw.

Len Lecci, psychology, gave the poster presentation "The Assessment of Juror Biases in a Community Sample" along with students Bryan Myers, Christal Denning, Lindsay Littell, Andy Robertson and Katharine Gorbe at the annual convention of the American Psychological Association in Washington, D.C. Also, Michael MacLean and Lecci presented "Gender Differences in the Relationship between Alcohol Consumption and Negative Consequences," and Robert Wirth and Lecci presented "A Multidimensional Mood Induction Procedure: Investigating the Effects of Physical Discomfort."

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays, unless otherwise notified

Postal News

Effective Nov. 1, the state mail courier service substantially increased its rates and added a $5 handling fee to transport biohazardous material. This transport fee is in addition to the postage cost. Direct questions about rates to Doris Moore at ext. 3182.

Nuclear Drill

The New Hanover County Department of Emergency Management and supporting agencies will conduct a FEMA-evaluated drill from noon to 4 p.m. Nov. 8 near Trask Coliseum to test the county's preparedness in the event an emergency at the Brunswick Nuclear Power Plant. The public is welcome to observe the drill but should remain clear of emergency vehicles and equipment. For more information, contact Stan Harts, environmental health and safety, at ext. 3108 or Michael George, New Hanover County Emergency Management, at 341-4300.

NC Flex

The deadline for enrollment in the NC Flex program is Nov. 15. NC Flex brochures have been distributed. Employees must re-enroll for medical or dependent day care spending deductions annually. Coverage will continue for employees participating in vision or accidental death and dismemberment insurance unless changes are made. Current dental coverage will convert to the high option plan described in the brochure. To switch to the low option play, employees must complete an enrollment form. Employees without dental coverage for calendar year 2000 may elect the low option plan without waiting periods or the high option plan with coverage for diagnostic and preventative services only for the first 12 months. Direct questions to human resources.

Shared Leave

Mattie A. Blake, accounting, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Call for Programs

The eighth annual Intercultural Week will be held Feb. 12-17. Departments and organizations that are planning spring semester events and that would like to be included in the master program and advertising should submit a program proposal to Heather Smith, international programs, by Nov. 17. For a form, call ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh. Events can be a lecture, film, workshop or performance.

Staff Training

A Balanced Life Through Meditation, noon to 1 p.m. Thursdays through Nov. 30 University Union, Room 210.

ChangeCycle for Supervisors/ Managers, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Dec. 5.

Managing Change, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Dec. 7.

Stretching the Rubber Band, noon to 1 p.m. Nov. 7.

Travel Procedures, 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 7.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Haywood Brown and Lori Smith, university police; Heather Hall, film studies; Tammy Haraga and Susan Ludlum, Student Health Center; Carol Jones, CMS; and Carla Peterson, SBTDC.

Yes, we need it!

✓ote Nov.7

For information on how UNCW will use its share of the bond, go to www.uncwil.edu, and click on the banner.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21076 Admin. Secretary I	Nov. 3
21077 Office Assistant III	Nov. 3
21078 Housekeeping Supervisor III	Nov. 3
21079 Applications Programmer II	Nov. 10
21080 Floor Maintenance Supervisor	Nov. 10
21081 Office Assistant IV	Nov. 10
21082 Office Assistant IV	Nov. 10
21083 Police Operations, Lieutenant	Nov. 10

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - spaghetti with meatballs or marinara sauce, steamed mixed vegetables, corn, butter beans, assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - chicken francesca, black bean cakes with salsa, parsleyed boiled potatoes, green beans, carrots, assorted rolls, desserts and beverages.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

Chamber Music

The Chamber Music Society of Wilmington will host "The French Connection," a youth concert, at 2 p.m. Nov. 12 at the Church of the Servant. Clarinetist Nathan Williams, bassoonist Christopher Ulffers, oboist Petrea Warneck and pianist Barbara McKenzie will perform. The event is open to the public; a $5 donation per family is requested. For more information, contact Mary Susan Miller at 762-5523.

Leland Library Book Sale

The Leland Public Library on Village Road will hold a used book sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 3 and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 4.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 18 November 9, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Coral Reefs the Focus of Aquarius' Final Mission of the Year

Coral reefs are the tropical rain forests of the sea, and like rain forests they are threatened by development activities and over-harvesting. In addition, coral reefs are threatened by pollution. This triple assault threatens a majority of coral reefs worldwide. To better understand these growing threats to coral reefs, scientists will live underwater in Aquarius through Nov. 15 to study nutrient dynamics, photosynthesis and how pollution may affect corals.

The mechanisms that allow corals to absorb nutrients from the surrounding water are not well understood. Christopher Finelli, assistant professor at the Louisiana Universities Marine Consortium, leads a team that will live and work underwater for 10 days in Aquarius to conduct sophisticated experiments to measure water chemistry, water flow around corals and coral biology related to how they absorb nutrients.

The Finelli-led team includes David Wethey and Dean Pentcheff from the University of South Carolina and represents work started in 1999. The scientists will study how large-scale patterns of water movement (such as that caused by the Gulf Stream and the tides) and smaller scale events (like wave action and turbulence generated by currents on the bottom) affect coral surfaces.

Water motion and nutrient concentrations determine the sizes and shapes of corals. Large patterns of water movement will be measured using plaster models placed in a wide range of locations around the reef; the plaster models dissolve at rates proportional to the flow of water around them. Small spatial scale patterns will be measured using instruments that can measure the flow of heat around and between brass models of corals with different shapes and textures. A new device will be used to measure photosynthesis by corals, directly on the bottom. Photosynthesis is a key physiological parameter of coral health.

Taken together, results from this mission will help scientists and managers predict how reefs respond to chemicals (like nutrient pollution), natural system variation (like tides and upwelling events) and possibly even climate change.

Aquarius, located in the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary, in 60 feet of water, 3.5 miles offshore, is an underwater laboratory that allows scientists to live and work on the seafloor for extended periods of time using a special technique call saturation diving. Owned by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and operated by UNCW, Aquarius is the only underwater research platform of its kind in the world. The last time an underwater laboratory program conducted 10 or more missions in one season was more than 15 years ago in Hydrolab, the predecessor to Aquarius that operated in the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Campus Donor Awareness Project Begins

Every 16 minutes another name is added to the national waiting list of patients who need a life-saving organ transplant. As the gap between the supply and need for transplantable organs and tissue increases, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services wants to increase the number of college-aged donors.

UNCW is one of two universities this academic year participating in the national College Donor Awareness Project "It's What's Inside That Counts," an informational campaign about organ and tissue donation aimed at young people. Wellness Services is coordinating the university's effort. In conjunction with the National Donor Sabbath, which started five years ago to allow interfaith communities to unite in the effort to increase awareness about organ and tissue donation, Wellness Services will distribute green ribbon lapel pins for students, faculty and staff.

"By wearing the ribbons not only Nov. 10-12 but throughout the year, individuals express their support of organ and tissue donation or signify that their lives have been affected through organ transplants," said Deborah Haywood, assistant director for wellness services.

Other awareness events, which are in the planning stage, will be held throughout the academic year, Haywood said.

"Many people indicate their desire to be an organ donor on their driver's licenses, but they do not realize the importance of telling a family member. In order for the donation to occur, the next of kin must sign consent," said Haywood. "Our goal is to encourage students to see Donor Awareness on Page 4

Voters Approve Education Bond -- We Did It! Thank You!

For news coverage about the Higher Education Facilities Bond, go to the home page, and click on the banner.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week

As part of its sixth annual Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week, the Leadership Center will sponsor a sleep-out from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. Nov. 16-17 at the university commons. Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend this event which includes a discussion of the impact of homelessness on society. For more information, contact Sophie Trawalter or Jessica Maher at ext. 3877.

History Professor to Hold Book Discussion, Signing

David La Vere, history, will discuss his book Contrary Neighbors at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 14 at Barnes and Nobles Booksellers, 322 South College Road. A book signing will follow the talk.

Contrary Neighbors examines the relationship between Southeastern Indians who were relocated to Indian territory in the early 19th century. As part of the discussion, La Vere will display part of his Indian artifact collection.

Let's Do Lunch

Wagoner Hall serves lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and offers a variety of vegetarian and heart-healthy options each weekday. Inquire about the frequency meal program; every 10th meal is free.

Geography Awareness

UNCW's Geography Club will host an informational table from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 14-16 as part of Geography Awareness Week. In addition to a bake sale, the club will hold map quizzes for contestants to vie for various prizes.

Campus Communique Holiday Schedule

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, the Campus Communique will not publish Nov. 23 but will resume Nov. 30.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Ellen Wambach, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "The Foraging Ecology of Breeding Known-age Royal Terns" at 2 p.m. Nov. 10 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Shoe Box Project

Wellness Services and Coastal AIDS Resource Effort is sponsoring the Shoe Box Project to collect gifts for children affected by HIV/AIDS. To participate, bring an unwrapped shoe box and gift items for children ages three to 12 to Wellness Services, Student Recreation Center, Room 104, by Dec. 1. Suggested items include candy, hair braids, crayons, small toys, socks or underwear. For more information, call Rosemary Ferguson at ext. 4137.

Women in Leadership

The Activities and Leadership Center is seeking female mentors to provide guidance and support to young women as part of the Women in Leadership Mentoring Program. For information, contact Sophie Trawalter at ext. 3877.

CMS Lecture Series

A. Frederick Holland, director of the Marine Resources Research Institute at the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources, will present "Effects of Watershed Characteristics on the Ecological Characteristics of Tidal Creek Ecosystems" at 4 p.m. Nov. 10 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium. The talk is part of the CMS Lecture Series. A reception will follow the presentation.

Thanksgiving Buffet

Wagoner Hall will host its annual Thanksgiving buffet dinner from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 16. The cost is $6.38 for adults, $3.19 for children under 12. The menu includes carved turkey breast, carved ham with pineapple sauce, corn bread dressing, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans almodine, lemon-glazed baby carrots, macaroni and cheese, cream alfredo summer pasta, assorted relish trays, salads, desserts, rolls and beverages.

Helping the Homeless

The Wilmington Apartment Association (WAA) is collecting items for the Interfaith Hospitality Network, an organization which provides shelter and care for the homeless. Anyone interested in donating items such as shampoo, conditioner, soap, mouthwash or other toiletries should take contributions to the Seahawk Perch, University Union, Room 101, by Nov. 27. UNCW is an associate member of the WAA. Kate Temoney, Seahawk Perch, is chair of the organization's special projects committee.

Spanish Film Series

The film Robert Ryland's Last Journey will be shown at 7 p.m. Nov. 13 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. This free event is part of the Spanish Film Series sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures.

Literary Globalization

Matti Savolainen, professor of literature at the University of Oulu in Finland, will speak on "Challenges of Globalization and Their Ramifications for Literary Study" at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 13 in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Art Exhibit

UNCW Arts in Action is hosting the exhibit "Thurston 2000," which is on display through Dec. 14 in the University Union Living Room. The display, by Sneads Ferry artist Sherry Williams Thurston, features a range of works in various mediums. A cover artist for Sounds Magazine, Thurston is head of the art department at Dixon High School.

Movie Makers Lecture

Robert Inman, screenwriter, novelist and columnist, will lecture at 4 p.m. Nov. 16 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium as part of the Film Studies Program Movie Makers Lecture Series. Inman wrote the award-winning script The Summer of Ben Tyler.

UNCW
GOSPEL CHOIR FALL CONCERT

4:00 P.M. - SUNDAY
NOVEMBER 12, 2000

KENAN AUDITORIUM

TICKETS AT THE DOOR
$3.00 NON-STUDENT

UNCW©

Office of Campus Diversity

Study Abroad in 2001!!

Come to the Study Abroad Fair

November 16 , 10:30-2:30
Warwick Center lobby

DOOR PRIZES!!

SNACKS!!

FREE FOOD!!

Dept. of Foreign Languages
Summer Study in Ecuador
Prof. Melinda Johansson

Psychology
Summer Study in Costa Rica
Dr. John T. Williams, Jr.

Social Work
Summer Study in England
Karen Bullock

Dept. Biological Sciences
Summer Study in Finland
Dr. Eric G. Bolen

Economics and Finance
Summer Study in Germany
Dr. Luther D. Lawson

Dept. of Foreign Languages
Summer Study in Germany
Dr. Oliver Speck

Dept. of Foreign Languages
Summer Study in Japan
Yoko Kano

Dept. of Foreign Languages
Summer Study in Spain
Dr. Joann McFerran Mount

Dept. of Foreign Languages
Summer Study in Spain
Prof. Valerie Rider

Affordable semester programs throughout the world (Japan, Australia, UK, etc.)!!

Sponsored by The Office of International Programs
Telephone: 962-3685
William Butterbrodt e-mail:butterbrodtw@uncwil.edu

UNCW
Office of International Programs

ANNOUNCEMENTS

In Our Own Write Opens in Kenan Hall's SRO Theatre

In Our Own Write, five works which combine the talents of students in creative writing and art and theatre, opens at 8 p.m. Nov. 9 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. Additional performances will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 10, 11 and 15-18 and 2 p.m. Nov. 12 and 19.

The works that comprise In Our Own Write are Trees Walking, which follows a college student as she pursues studies abroad in order to find her true path home; All Nite Video, which visits the haunt of insomniacs as they look for images of their lives in VHS format; Chivalry Ain't Dead, which focuses on a woman's night exploring past, present and potential loves; Commander Ray, which looks at the world of the young as they face peer pressure and life decisions; and Mount Vesuvius which highlights a young girl's monologue as she daydreams about love and life during a geology lecture. Admission is $5; free to UNCW students with ID. The presentation is not recommended for children.

Ahn Trio to Perform in Kenan Auditorium

The internationally acclaimed Ahn Trio will perform at 8 p.m. Nov. 18 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series.

Tickets are on sale and are available at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union Information Desk. For more information, call the Activities and Leadership Center at ext. 3827.

Poetry Reading

Poet, professor and chancellor of the Academy of American Poets, Heather McHugh will present a reading at 8 p.m. Nov. 15 in Cameron Hall Auditorium. A reception and book signing will follow. This event, sponsored by The King's Road Writers Series and the UNCW Department of Creative Writing, is free and open to the public.

Billy Mills Lecture

U.S. Olympic champion Billy Mills will lecture on "Your Pursuit of Excellence" at 7 p.m., Nov. 14 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. This free talk, which is sponsored by the Office of Campus Diversity and the Native American Student Organization, is the inaugural lecture for Native American Heritage Month.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Bob Brown, psychology, organized and chaired the symposium "Crossing Temporal Boundaries: Enlivening Deadening Issues in Teaching Psychology's History" and delivered the paper "Teaching History: Using General Psychology Textbooks as Historical Texts" during the symposium at the annual convention of the American Psychological Association (APA) in Washington, D.C. He also delivered the paper "The Science and Pseudoscience of Bias in Mental Testing" during the symposium "Straight Talk on Assessment and Diversity."

Carol Pilgrim, psychology, organized and chaired the symposium "New Direction in Behavior Analysis Functional Approaches to Language Categories" at the annual APA convention. Mark Galizio, Pilgrim and student Katherine Stewart delivered the paper "Typicality Effects in Contingency-Based Stimulus Classes" during the symposium.

David Gill, specialty studies, has been named to the Board of Directors of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Ron Vetter, computer science, attended Telelearning 2000 in Atlantic City, N.J., where he presented the talk "The Distance Learning Design Model Project" with Edrie Greer, eduprise.com, and Gloria Blue, Tivoli Systems.

Mariela Shirley, psychology, served as program chair for the APA's Division 50 (Addictions) and was responsible for scheduling 45 hours of program time including invited addresses, panel discussions, symposia, pre-convention workshops and poster sessions. Federal granting agencies including the National Institute of Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse, National Institute on Drug Abuse, Center for Substance Abuse Treatment, Center for Substance Abuse Prevention, National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, Addiction Technology Transfer Centers and National Institute of Mental Health, contributed to co-sponsoring convention programming. In addition, Shirley co-authored the poster "Anxiety and Depression as Predictors of Drug Use Severity" with Francisca Lopez Torrecillas, Ignacio Martin and Juan Godoy from the University of Granada.

Jim McNab, international programs, had the article "Bloc-Notes: L'annee 1999," which was an interpretation of current events in France, published in the October issue of French Review, the national journal of French studies.

Richard Veit, Christopher Gould and John Clifford, English, had their book Writing, Reading and Research, fifth edition, published by Allyn and Bacon. The same press published Veit's book Research: The Student's Guide to Writing Research Papers, third edition.

Joanne Nottingham, campus diversity, kicked off Leadership Wilmington's first class with the lecture "Leadership and Diversity." Participants had the opportunity to interact with undergraduate communication studies majors and leadership minors as a part of the class. Nottingham led a two-day professional development training session for 25 City of Wilmington employees. Also, Nottingham lectured on ethics, culture, and diversity to approximately 60 athletes as a a requirement of the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program for athletes.

Tom Barth, political science, moderated the forum "Smart Growth: A Community Vision." Barth presented the paper "The Role of Regional Alliances in the Smart Growth Movement" at the Southeastern Conference on Public Administration in Greensboro.

Carolyn E. Farley, University Union, presented "Renovation and Construction Program Planning: A Chance to Assess and Celebrate Your Institution's Unique Needs" with David Madiera and Melissa Sarko of Burt Hill Kosar Rittelman Associates at the National Association of College Auxiliary Services Conference in Las Vegas, Nev. Madiera and Sarko are part of the architectural team working on the University Union renovation and construction project.

Terry Theodore, art and theatre, held a joint workshop with Transactors Improv Company for students in his Advanced Improvisation class and the Theatre Club.

Fall Commencement

As a reminder, fall commencement will be held at 9:45 a.m. Dec. 16 in Trask Coliseum. Anyone interested in volunteering to help with the graduation exercise should contact Mary Crookes, university events coordinator, at ext. 7231 or e-mail crookesm.

NC Flex

The deadline for enrollment in the NC Flex program is Nov. 15. NC Flex brochures have been distributed. Employees must re-enroll for medical or dependent day care spending deductions annually. Coverage will continue for employees participating in vision or accidental death and dismemberment insurance unless changes are made. Current dental coverage will convert to the high option plan described in the brochure. To switch to the low option play, employees must complete an enrollment form. Employees without dental coverage for calendar year 2000 may elect the low option plan without waiting periods or the high option plan with coverage for diagnostic and preventative services only for the first 12 months. Direct questions to human resources.

Call for Programs

The eighth annual Intercultural Week will be held Feb. 12-17. Departments and organizations planning spring semester events and that would like to be included in the master program and advertising should submit a program proposal to Heather Smith, international programs, by Nov. 17. For a form, call ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh. Events can be a lecture, film, workshop or performance.

Shared Leave

Mattie A. Blake, accounting, and Robert Trombley, physical plant, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21057 Arboretum Curator	Nov. 15
21079 Applications Programmer II	Nov. 10
21080 Floor Maintenance Supervisor	Nov. 10
21081 Office Assistant IV	Nov. 10
21082 Office Assistant IV	Nov. 10
21083 Police Operations, Lieutenant	Nov. 10
21085 University Construction Officer	Nov. 17
21086 Assistant Comptroller	Nov. 17
21087 Dir. of Univ. Services	Nov. 17
21088 Billing Clerk	Nov. 17
21089 Accounting Clerk IV	Nov. 17
21090 Laborer	Nov. 17

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

UNCW in the News

Wendy Marshall, specialty studies, and Ron Vetter, computer science, were quoted in the Oct. 16 Wilmington Star-News article "Mac vs. PC - Let's Get Ready to Rumble."

Charlie Flaherty, SBTDC, was quoted in the Oct. 16 Wilmington Star-News in connection with an article dealing with a workshop on doing business with the government.

Michael Wentworth, English, was quoted in the Oct. 19 Wilmington Star-News article "Learning for Life."

Don Habibi, philosophy and religion, was featured in the Oct. 20 Wilmington Star-News article "Was Peace Plan Doomed to Fail?"

Andrew Shepard, NURC/UNCW, was quoted in the Oct. 20 Wilmington Star-News article "UNCW-led Team Eyes Ocean Floor's Mystery."

Pat Leonard, student affairs, was quoted in the Oct. 21 Wilmington Star-News article "Reported Thefts Up at UNCW."

Jim McNab, international programs, and Andrew Jackson, psychology, were quoted in the Oct. 21 Wilmington Star-News article "The Art of Flirting."

Alumni Association Seeks Award Nominees

The UNCW Alumni Association is seeking nominations Alumnus/Alumna of the Year Award which is open to men and women who attended and/or graduated from Wilmington College or UNCW and the Distinguished Citizen Award which is open to anyone for notable service to the university and the community.

Nov. 30 is the deadline for nominations for the 2001 awards which can be made by writing a letter of recommendation to the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors. Specify the award category and describe why you think the nominee merits the award. Include the nominee's name, address, daytime telephone number and workplace.

Mail letters to Patricia Smith, alumni relations executive director, Wise Alumni House, 1713 Market Street. For more information, call the alumni office at ext. 2682. The winners will be recognized at a formal awards dinner on Jan. 26 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Donor Awareness continued from Page 1

consider becoming organ donors and to let their families know of this decision."

Haywood said research indicates 50 percent of families, when given the opportunity, refuse to donate a loved one's organ.

"People are sometimes reluctant to speak with their families about donating because it means talking about death, which can be an uncomfortable subject," said Haywood. "Research has shown that a majority of families who are aware of their loved one's decision to donate will respect his or her wishes."

In addition to UNCW, other agencies participating in the project are the Division of Transplantation in U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the American College Health Association, Carolina Donor Services and the University of Rhode Island, which will analyze the effectiveness of the campaign. The University of Minnesota at Winona is the second university participating in the informational awareness campaign.

This is recyclable.

ANDREW J DUTKA
COORD SP COLLECT&ARCHIVES/LEC
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 19 November 16, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Randall Library Gets Wood Family Collection

With the donation of the Thomas Fanning Wood Family Manuscript Collection, which is housed in the Special Collections Division of UNCW's Randall Library, people will have the opportunity to study Wilmington history from the 1850s to 1890s.

"The collection shows a slice of the history of Wilmington," said Gerald Parnell, manager of the library's reference and information services. "The manuscripts will be used by history classes along with those writing about Wilmington. They are part of our heritage." Parnell and Andrew Dutka, coordinator of special collections and archives, assisted in the preservation of the collection.

The collection includes documents and journals written by Dr. Thomas Fanning Wood, who was born in Wilmington on Feb. 23, 1841. It was donated to the university by Donald Koonce of Greenville, S.C.; Mrs. John MacFarlane of Darien, Conn.; Jenner Wood of Atlanta, Ga.; and Catherine Stephenson and Mrs. David Loughlin of Wilmington, all descendants of Wood.

The Wood family is prominent in the Wilmington community. Thomas Barclay Wood built Thalian Hall. Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, a Wilmington native, was the son of Thomas Fanning Wood. He served on the North Carolina Board of Health. The Wood, Bellamy and Sprunt families, well-known throughout the region, were related. The Bellamy Mansion and James Sprunt Community College are landmarks in Southeastern North Carolina which honor these families.

Wood, whose parents left Nantucket, Mass., after the decline of whale fisheries, fought for the Confederacy in the battles of Chancellorsville, Winchester and Gettysburg. He studied medicine, was made assistant surgeon and achieved the rank of captain in 1863. He was assigned to the Third Regiment, N.C. Infantry, Jackson's Corps, and was with Gen. Robert E. Lee's army at the Confederate surrender April 9, 1865. Wood began his medical practice in Wilmington in August 1865. In addition to helping found the N.C. Board of Public Health, Wood was an environmentalist. He was concerned with the condition of the Cape Fear River and conducted water sample studies as early as 1884.

The manuscripts in the collection were originally written as a daily journal that Wood kept during his last days. He had diagnosed himself with an aneurysm and began to write about his experiences. The documents were the basis for Doctor to the Front: The Recollections of Confederate Surgeon Thomas Fanning Wood, which was edited by Wood's great-grandson Donald B. Koonce. The manuscripts include other items in addition to Wood's writings. One item of note is a letter written in 1785 from Ben Franklin to Wood's great aunt Keziah Folger Coffin. In the letter, Franklin apologizes for failing to re-pay Coffin the $1 he owed her. It was accompanied by two candles purchased in London.

Ahn Trio Brings Chamber Music to Wilmington

The internationally acclaimed Ahn Trio will perform at 8 p.m. Nov. 18 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series.

Comprised of three sisters, violinist Angella, and twins Lucia and Maria, pianist and cellist, respectively, the trio performs more than 100 concerts worldwide each year. The Washington Post has called the Julliard-trained Korean sisters' technique "impressive." "They balance unanimity and individuality in a spirit that is the heart of chamber music," according to the paper.

The group has released several CD's including Dvorak, Suk and Shostakovich Trios which won the ECHO Award, Germany's top recording prize. Their latest CD Ahnplugged, recorded for EMI Classics, includes works by Michael Nyman, Leonard Bernstein and David Bowie.

Tickets are available at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union Information Desk. For more information, call the Activities and Leadership Center at ext. 3827.

Thanksgiving Holiday

UNC Wilmington will be closed Nov. 23 and 24 in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday. The Campus Communique will resume Nov. 30.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Presidential Election Panel Discussion

The History Department is sponsoring the panel discussion "Election Crisis: Which Solution? A Forum on the Battle Over the Selection of a President" at 8 p.m. Nov. 16 in Cameron Hall, Room 105.

Forum panelists are Sue Bullock, a political analyst; Nelson Reid, chair of the Department of Social Work; Robert Toplin, professor of history; and Woody White, an attorney and chair of the New Hanover County Republican Party.

Yixin Chen, assistant professor of history, will moderate this free program. Audience participation is encouraged.

Higher Ed Bond Receives Statewide Support

According to UNC General Administration, more than 60 percent of voters in North Carolina's 100 counties cast a ballot for the Higher Education Facilities Bond.

Jazz Concert

The UNCW Jazz Guitar Ensemble and Combo, directed by Bob Russell and Jerald Shynett, will present a joint concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 in Kenan Auditorium. A variety of jazz styles from bebop to fusion will be featured, including original compositions.

Tickets, which are available at the door, are $5 for the general public, $2.50 for faculty and staff, senior citizens and children under 12, and free to UNCW students with ID. For more information, call ext. 3390.

Note of Appreciation

Peggy Segars, nursing, would like to "express my deepest appreciation to all faculty and staff for their kind thoughts, prayers and concerns during the recent loss of my husband, James Richards Segars, Jr. Your words of comfort were so meaningful during this most difficult time, and I am truly grateful."

RAD Classes

Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) classes will be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 29 and Dec. 1, 4 and 6 at the Suite Service Building. The RAD Program is designed to teach women self-defense techniques. The cost is $4. Register at university police. For more information, contact Officer Christian Anderson at ext. 3184.

Who's Who

Michael Bradley and Antonio Puente, psychology, Robert Kieber, chemistry, and Patricia Tyndall, Watson School of Education, were recognized for teaching excellence through inclusion in the sixth edition of Who's Who Among America's Teachers 2000. According to the publisher, selection must be made by one or more former students who were listed in Who's Who Among High School Students or The National Dean's List.

Adult Scholars Dinner Features Aquarius Lecture

Steven Miller, director of NURC/UNCW, will discuss Aquarius from 6 to 8 p.m. Nov. 29 as part of the Adult Scholars Signature Series. In addition to the talk, attendees will take a live interactive tour of Aquarius if weather permits. The cost is $25 and includes dinner. To register, call ext. 3195.

Graduate Thesis Defenses

Erin Kipps, Ari Friedlaender and Sebastian Engel, graduate students in biological sciences, will defend their theses. Kipps' presentation "Structure and Function of the Skin of the Florida Manatee (Trichechus manatus latirostris)" will be at 2 p.m. Nov. 16. Friedlaender's "Using Strandings for Effective Management and Conservation of Bottlenose Dolphins Along the U.S. Atlantic Coast" will be at 2 p.m. Nov. 17. Engel's "Are There Allelopathic Interactions Among Sponges?" will be at 2 p.m. Nov. 20. All defenses will be held in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Faculty/Staff Appreciation Night Nov. 27

The Nov. 27 Seahawk men's basketball game against the University of Bowling Green is Faculty/Staff Appreciation Night. Faculty and staff can purchase tickets for $5 each (limit eight) from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. now to Nov. 21 at the Trask Coliseum ticket office. Prior to the start of the game, there will be a special ceremony to raise the NCAA and CAA banners.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - sliced roast turkey with dressing, mushroom shepherd's pie, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans, carrots, assorted salads, rolls and desserts.

There will be no buffet lunch on Tuesday due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

Concert Band Performance

The UNCW Concert Band, under the direction of Harry McLamb, will perform at 8 p.m. Nov. 20 in Kenan Auditorium.

The band, in a tribute to composer Aaron Copland, will play Fanfare for the Common Man and El Salon Mexico.

Admission is $5, $2.50 for faculty and staff, senior citizens and children under 12 and free to UNCW students with ID. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

CMS Lecture Series

Jeffrey Wright and Jerome Naar, CMS, will present "Are Penguins an Endangered Species in Kentucky?" at 4 p.m. Nov. 17 in the Center for Marine Science auditorium.

UNICEF Official to Lecture on Nigeria

Stella Goings, deputy representative for UNICEF in Nigeria, will present "Nigeria Africa's Giant Struggles with Democracy and Social Issues in the 21st Century: Health, Education, Democratic Reform and Other Social Dilemmas" at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 28 in Dobo Hall, Room 103. Goings, a physician epidemiologist, is responsible for UNICEF's health and educational programs in Nigeria. This lecture is sponsored by the Psychology Department.

Graham Reading

Nan Graham, English, will read from her new book Turn South at the Next Magnolia at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 19 at the WHQR Gallery at 245 N. Front Street. She will also conduct readings at 7 p.m. Nov. 28 at Bristol Books and 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7 at Barnes and Nobles Booksellers.

Communication Studies Department Hosts Annual Conference

The Department of Communication Studies hosted the Carolinas Communication Association annual conference Oct. 20-21. Sessions were held at the Wilmington Hilton Riverside and aboard the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial. Rick Olsen was in charge of the conference which included attendees from North and South Carolina, Virginia, Missouri and Hawaii. Clyde Edgerton, creative writing, was keynote speaker, and Dick Fauson, auxiliary services, assisted with transportation. Communication studies students Pam Epperson and Heather Murdock attended on merit-based scholarships.

College Bowl

Competition to select UNCW's varsity team to vie in College Bowl 2000-01 will be held at 11 a.m. Nov. 18 in the Warwick Center ballroom. More than 300 colleges and universities will compete to attend the national championship scheduled for April 27-29.

Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week

As part of its sixth annual Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week, the Leadership Center will sponsor a sleep-out from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. Nov. 16-17 at the university commons. Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend this event which include a discussion on the impact of homelessness on society. For more information, contact Sophie Trawalter or Jessica Maher at ext. 3877.

Shoe Box Project

Wellness Services and Coastal AIDS Resource Effort will sponsor the Shoe Box Project to collect gifts for children affected by HIV/AIDS. To participate, bring an unwrapped shoe box and gift items for children ages three to 12 to Wellness Services, Student Recreation Center, Room 104, by Dec. 1. Suggested items include candy, crayons, small toys, socks or underwear. For more information, call Rosemary Ferguson at ext. 4137.

Thanksgiving Buffet

Wagoner Hall will host its annual Thanksgiving buffet dinner from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 16. The cost is $6.38 for adults, $3.19 for children under 12. The menu includes carved turkey breast, carved ham with pineapple sauce, corn bread dressing, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans almondine, lemon-glazed baby carrots, macaroni and cheese, alfredo summer pasta, assorted relish trays, salads, desserts, rolls and beverages.

Scotland/Ireland Trip

Kemille Moore, art and theatre, will serve as tour leader for a nine-day trip to Scotland and Ireland July 11-21. Participants will visit the birthplace of Sir Walter Scott, spend a night in an 18th-century castle and see the Blarney Stone. The cost is $2,575 per person and includes round-trip air fare, accommodations and motor coach travel in both countries. A $200 deposit will hold reservations with final payment due April 20. For more information, call ext. 3644.

Helping the Homeless

The Wilmington Apartment Association (WAA) is collecting items for the Interfaith Hospitality Network, an organization which provides shelter and care for the homeless. Anyone interested in donating items such as shampoo, conditioner, soap, mouthwash or other toiletries should take items to the Seahawk Perch, University Union, Room 101, by Nov. 27. UNCW is an associate member of the WAA. Kate Temoney, Seahawk Perch, is chair of the organization's special projects committee.

Art Exhibit

UNCW Arts in Action is hosting the exhibit "Thurston 2000," which is on display through Dec. 14 in the University Union Living Room. The display, by Sneads Ferry artist Sherry Williams Thurston, features a range of works in various mediums. A cover artist for Sounds Magazine, Thurston is head of the art department at Dixon High School.

In Our Own Write

Performances of In Our Own Write, five works which combine the talents of students in creative writing and art and theatre, will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 16-18 and 2 p.m. Nov. 19 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre.

The works that comprise In Our Own Write are Trees Walking, which follows a college student as she pursues studies abroad in order to find her true path home; All Nite Video, which visits the haunt of insomniacs as they look for images of their lives in VHS format; Chivalry Ain't Dead, which focuses on a woman's night exploring past, present and potential loves; Commander Ray, which looks at the world of the young as they face peer pressure and life decisions; and Mount Vesuvius which highlights a young girl's monologue as she daydreams about love and life during a geology lecture. Admission is $5; free to UNCW students with ID. The presentation is not recommended for children.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Doug Kesling, NURC-CMS, was an invited guest of the Mariners' Museum and the NOAA Monitor National Marine Sanctuary at a reception for the Public Broadcasting System's NOVA series premiere Lincoln's Secret Weapon. Sen. John Warner (R-Va.) was the featured speaker at the event which was held at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. Artifacts from the USS Monitor were on display, along with previously unseen footage from the 1998 Monitor expedition, which resulted in the recovery of the ironclad's propeller

Lu Ellen Huntley, English, represented District 13 at the North Carolina English Teachers Association annual conference in Winston-Salem. Huntley, an executive board member of the association, presented the paper "Learning as We Teach."

Dan Ivancevich, accountancy and business law, had the article "EDI Adoption and Implementation: An Examination of Perceived Operational and Strategic Benefits and Controls" published in the spring 2000 issue of Journal of Information Systems, a publication of the American Accounting Association.

Frederick Bingham, physics and physical oceanography, presented the poster "The Origin of Waters Observed Along 137E" at the CLIVAR subduction workshop in Venice, Italy. Bingham, also presented the poster "Characteristics of Open Ocean Sea Surface Salinity Variability" at the Oceans from Space meeting in Venice. The poster was named Best of Session.

Steven Emslie, biological sciences, received $5,000 from the National Science Foundation for the project "REU: Abandoned Penguin Colonies and Climate Change in Antarctica."

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, had an excerpt from his book Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life published in the fall/winter issue of Marquette University Magazine. The excerpt was about stability, both monastic and secular. His article "Saving Faith," which is about passing on a religious tradition to one's children, appeared in the autumn issue of Notre Dame Magazine.

Tammy G. Hunt, management and marketing, assumed the presidency of the Southern Management Association at its annual conference. SMA is a regional professional association affiliate of the international Academy of Management. The SMA board oversees research conferences and publishes the Journal of Management

Ron Vetter, computer science, gave the invited presentation "Web-Based Enterprise Computing" at the Computer Information Systems Research Colloquium Series at Georgia State University, Atlanta.

Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, was an invited fellow at the inaugural Applied Media Ethics Colloquium sponsored by Brigham Young University and the Journal of Mass Media Ethics in Park City, Utah. Gauthier and Kathy Fitzpatrick from the University of Florida presented the paper "Toward a Professional Responsibility Theory of Public Relations Ethics." The paper will be published by the Journal of Mass Media Ethics next year.

NMR Room Named in Honor of Lewis E. Nance

The late Lewis E. Nance, professor of chemistry at UNCW from 1963 to 1996, was honored with the renaming of Dobo Hall, Room 245, as the Lewis E. Nance Nuclear Magnetic Resonance (NMR) Laboratory. A formal dedication ceremony was held Nov. 10.

A letter from the Chemistry Department supporting the dedication said, "Dr. Nance was a major advocate and supporter of advancing studies in chemistry utilizing this highly complicated equipment. His willingness to take on the task of learning a new research area and his passion for chemistry were an inspiration to students and faculty. His encouragement by example and deed is Lewis' greatest legacy to the department."

NMR spectroscopy is used to measure the magnetic properties of the nuclei of atoms. The scientific principles in NMR spectroscopy are the same as those used by MRI instruments in hospitals.

In addition to faculty, staff and administrators, Nance's wife, Jann, and son, Jim, attended the dedication as well as friends of the Nance family.

Top: Jann and Jim Nance in the newly dedicated Lewis E. Nance NMR Lab. Bottom: Dick Ward and Jack Levy unveil dedication sign.

This is recyclable.

Faculty Babysitting Night

- Who: National Panhellenic Council
- When: November 30, 2000
- Where: Warwick Center Ballroom 4
- Time: 6pm-10pm
- Cost: FREE!!!!

Please RSVP to the Greek Office 962-3056
by Monday
November 28, 2000

PIZZA PROVIDED BY PAPA JOHN'S !

Food, Fun and Entertainment Provided for All Ages!

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Kim Kelly, ITSD, gave an invited presentation on ITSD's Information Technology Innovation Program at the NC CAUSE 2000 conference.

David La Vere, history, presented the paper "The Kiowa-Comanche-Apache Business Council in the Early 1900s" at the American Society for Ethnohistory conference held in London, Ontario.

Carmelo Tomas, biological sciences, received $60,000 from the North Carolina Water Quality Workgroup for the project "Harmful Algal Species from the New River and Cape Fear Estuaries."

Courtney Hackney, Martin Posey and Troy Alphin, biological sciences, Lynn Leonard, earth sciences, and Brooks Avery, chemistry, received $362,376 from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for the project "Monitoring Effects of a Potential Increased Tidal Range in the Cape Fear River Ecosystem Due to Deepening Wilmington Harbor, North Carolina."

Ned Martin, chemistry, received $1,500 from the North Carolina Biotechnology Center for the fifth annual UNCW Symposium on Chemistry and Biochemistry.

David Webster, biological sciences, received $5,000 in supplemental funding from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for the project "Effects of Beach Renourishment and Tilling on Nesting and Nest Success in the Loggerhead Sea Turtle (Caretta caretta)."

N. Samuel Murrell and Jim Megivern, philosophy and religion, delivered papers at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Religious Studies Association in Chapel Hill. Murrell was elected vice president of the association for 2000-2001 and had his new book Religion, Culture and Tradition in the Caribbean published by St. Martin's Press.

James Merritt, CMS, and Steve Ross, biological sciences, received $36,000 from the N.C. Division of Coastal Management for the coastal reserve GIS project.

Denise DiPuccio, P. J. Lapaire, Joann McFerran Mount and Terry Mount, foreign languages and literatures, attended the Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference at Radford University. Joann McFerran Mount read the paper "Neruda: The Offerings of Strangers" in a special session honoring her mentor and dissertation advisor, Daniel R. Reedy, professor of Spanish American literature and former dean of the Graduate School at the University of Kentucky. Lapaire presented the paper "Solitude de Meursault: Alienation Sociale et Enfer Dans L'Etranger" which dealt with latent racism, social alienation and redemption in Camus's The Stranger. Terry Mount organized and chaired two sessions on Medieval Spanish literature and read the paper "Soissons in the Codice Rico of the Cantigas de Santa Maria." DiPuccio gave the presentation "Emilio Carballido's [Re]Writing of Pedro Calderón de la Barca's Entremeses" which focused on the intertextual relationship between Carballido's modern pieces and Calderón's classics.

James Merritt and Susan Lovelace, CMS, received $36,000 from the N.C. Division of Coastal Management for coastal reserve education assistance.

Alessandro Bocconcelli, CMS, received $9,904 from Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute for the project "Sound Oceanography and Living Marine Resources."

Michelle Howard-Vital and Hunter Thompson, public service and extended education, received $30,000 for the project "Expansion of the Collaborative Community Assistance Network."

Richard Huber, curricular studies, received $45,885 from Glaxo Wellcome Foundation to maintain the Students as Scientists World Wide Web site and prepare for the projects' 2001 summer institute.

Daniel Baden, CMS, received $247,477 in supplemental funding from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences for the project "Molecular Mechanism of Brevotoxin and Ciguatoxin Insult."

William Overman, psychology, received $89,266 in supplemental funding from National Institute for Child Health Development for the project "Hormones and Social Factors in Gender-Specific Cognition."

Harry Smith, computer science, attended a workshop on using Rhino, a modeling tool, in preparation for a new course "Using Computer Graphics Tools."

UNCW IN THE NEWS

Larry Clark, business, was featured in the Oct. 23 Wilmington Star-News article "New Dean Wants UNCW's Business School to Reflect its Community's Issues."

Woody Sutton and Hunter Thompson, public service and extended education, were quoted in the Oct. 23 Wilmington Star-News article "Use Your Netiquette."

William Cooper, chemistry, was quoted in the Oct. 23 Wilmington Star-News article "Researchers Work To Zap Pollutant."

Susan Ivancevich, Tom Keaveney and Joanne Rockness, accountancy and business law, had comments published on the Securities and Exchange Commission's proposed changes in auditor independence in the "Reader's Report" section of the Oct. 23 Business Week.

Laurie Patterson and Ron Vetter, computer science, were quoted in the Oct. 30 Wilmington Star-News article "Are We Ready for a Paper-free World?"

Andy Shepard, NURC/UNCW, was quoted in the Nov. 2 Wilmington Star-News article "Scientists Study Deep Sea Creatures."

Virginia Stewart, history, was featured in the Nov. 5 Wilmington Star-News article "Preserving Wilmington's Buried History."

Diane Talley, public service and extended education, was quoted in the Nov. 8 Wilmington Star-News article "Marine Learning for the Young at Heart."

University Union/Warwick Center Holiday Hours

The University Union and Warwick Center will close at 5:30 p.m. Nov. 22 and reopen at 5 p.m. Nov. 26 in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Adult Scholars Leadership Program Seeking Applicants

The UNCW Adults Scholars Leadership Program is seeking applicants for spring 2001. The program meets for seven weeks and features a variety of topics including regional growth and development, criminal justice, Southern history and culture, education, government and health and human services. The cost is $235 which includes program resource materials, notebook, continental breakfasts, lunches and graduation dinner.

For more information, contact Annette Coneglio Anderson, public service and extended education, at ext. 3547 or e-mail andersonac. The deadline to apply is Dec. 15.

Chancellor's Student Hours

The chancellor will hold student hours at 10 a.m. Nov. 20 and 3:30 p.m. Dec. 12 in Alderman Hall, Room 110.

Late Flex Enrollment

Employees who missed the Nov. 15 deadline for N.C. Flex can still enroll by taking completed applications to human resources by 5 p.m. Nov. 17.

Trees Needed

The UNCW Volunteers need to borrow two artificial trees from Nov. 27 through Dec. 10 for their Angel Tree Program. To loan a tree, contact Meg McCarry at ext. 3925 or Becky Long at ext. 3043.

Fall Commencement

As a reminder, fall commencement will be held at 9:45 a.m. Dec. 16 in Trask Coliseum. Anyone interested in volunteering to help with the graduation exercise should contact Mary Crookes, university events coordinator, at ext. 7231 or e-mail crookesm.

Spring Calendar

The Activities and Leadership Center is planning its spring 2001 campus activities calendar. Send event information including time, date and location to Marian Bennett through campus mail to the University Union, Room 214, or by e-mail to bennettm by Nov. 27. Photographs or illustrations submitted for publication will be included if space permits.

Randall Library Holiday Hours

Randall Library will observe the following Thanksgiving holiday schedule: 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Nov. 21, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 22, closed Nov. 23, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 24, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Nov. 25 and 1 p.m. to 2 a.m. Nov. 26.

Call for Programs

The eighth annual Intercultural Week will be held Feb. 12-17. Departments and organizations planning spring semester events they would like to have included in the master program and advertising should submit a program proposal to Heather Smith, international programs, by Nov. 17. For a form, call ext. 7009 or e-mail smithh. Events can be a lecture, film, workshop or performance.

Shared Leave

Mattie Ann Blake, accounting, M. J. Carver, research administration, Nancy L. Miller, central stores, and Robert Trombley, physical plant, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Alumni Association Seeks Award Nominees

The UNCW Alumni Association is seeking nominations for the Alumnus/Alumna of the Year Award which is open to men and women who attended and/or graduated from Wilmington College or UNCW and the Distinguished Citizen Award which is open to anyone for notable service to the university and the community.

Nov. 30 is the deadline for nominations for the 2001 awards which can be made by writing a letter of recommendation to the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors. Specify the award category and describe why you think the nominee merits the award. Include the nominee's name, address, daytime telephone number and work place.

Mail letters to Patricia Smith, alumni relations executive director, Wise Alumni House, 1713 Market Street. For more information, call the alumni office at ext. 2682.

The winners will be recognized at a formal awards dinner on Jan. 26 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Sean Ahlum, housing and residence life; Amy Evans, CTE; Jeffrey Medlin, physical plant; Lynne Owen, bookstore; and Shirl Sawyer, printing services.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21085 Univ. Construction Officer	Nov. 17
21086 Assistant Comptroller	Nov. 17
21087 Dir. of Univ. Services	Nov. 17
21088 Billing Clerk	Nov. 17
21089 Accounting Clerk IV	Nov. 17
21090 Laborer	Nov. 17
21091 Analytical Chemistry Technician I	Nov. 27
21092 Office Assistant IV	Nov. 27
21093 Office Assistant III	Nov. 27

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

ANDREW J DUTKA
COORD SP COLLECT&ARCHIVES/LEC
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 20 November 30, 2000 | Phillip Brown, editor

Cameron School of Business Gets $900,000 from CP&L Foundation

November 20 was a red-letter day for UNC Wilmington's Cameron School of Business. At 5 p.m., in Cameron Hall Room 133, the Carolina Power and Light Foundation honored Daniel D. Cameron and Gordon C. Hurlbert, both former members of the CP&L Board of Directors, with a gift to the university totaling $900,000.

At the request of Cameron and Hurlbert, the CP&L gift will endow two professorships in the Cameron School of Business as well as establish a development fund for the school. The Gordon C. Hurlbert Endowment will support a professorship in information systems. The Betty H. Cameron Professorship, named for Cameron's wife, will support a distinguished faculty position in entrepreneur studies.

The Pat Moran Hurlbert Development Fund, named for Hurlbert's wife, will use $233,333 of this gift to endow a faculty development fund for use by the dean of the Cameron School of Business.

Principal funding for these gifts comes through the Directors Education Contribution Plan of CP&L. Additional funding for the endowed professorships will come from the UNC Board of Governors and the North Carolina state matching program for endowed professorships. For every $333,333 in private giving, the university is eligible for $167,667 in funds appropriated by the General Assembly to bring an endowed professorship to the $500,000 level. With the match, the total endowment will be $1.233 million.

Hurlbert, in addition to serving as a CP&L director, has held executive management positions with Westinghouse Electric Corporation and Copperweld Steel and serves or has served on the boards of CSC Industries, Weirton Steel, Urenco Ltd., Kerr Group and MidAmerican Energy Company. Commenting on this gift in 1996, when

See CP&L Gift, on Page 4

U.S. Surgeon General to Address Graduates

David Satcher, surgeon general of the United States, will address approximately 1,100 graduates at the fall commencement exercises at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. The ceremony is scheduled for 9:45 a.m. Dec. 16 in Trask Coliseum.

Satcher was sworn in as the nation's 16th surgeon general in February 1998. He is only the second person is history to simultaneously hold the positions of surgeon general and assistant secretary of health in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. From 1993 to 1998, he served as director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and administrator of the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry. Satcher was president of Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tenn., from 1982 to 1993.

Satcher

A graduate of Morehouse College, Satcher earned his M.D. and Ph.D. from Case Western Reserve in 1970. He did residency/fellowship training at Strong Memorial Hospital, the University of Rochester, UCLA and King-Drew Medical Center. An internationally recognized scientist, scholar, physician, researcher, educator and administrator, Satcher has received almost two dozen

See December Commencement, on Page 4

Professors Forecast Economic Rebound for Tri-county Area

Local economic activity is expected to rebound in 2001 according to the results of a study presented by Claude Farrell and William W. Hall, Jr., professors in the Cameron School of Business.

The economists anticipate a 6 percent increase in local economic activity for 2001 compared to the 3.5 percent growth for 2000. The forecast area included Brunswick, New Hanover and Pender Counties in coastal Southeastern North Carolina. This predicted 6 percent growth will mean that 2001 output in the region will total $7.7 billion.

The economists predict economic growth will return to its long-term trend

See Economic Rebound, on Page 6

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Faculty Advisory Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Faculty Advisory Committee will meet at noon Dec. 5 in Alderman Hall, Room 215.

Committee members are: Robert Blundo, social work; Deborah Brunson, communication studies; Cem Canel, information systems and operations management; Andrew Clark, history; Edna Collins, curricular studies; Janet Ellerby, English; Gary Faulkner, sociology and anthropology; Dargan Frierson, mathematical sciences; Philip Furia, creative writing; J. Edward Graham, economics and finance; Louise Hessenflow, School of Nursing; Tammy Hunt, management and marketing; Julian Keith, psychology; Ann Pabst, biological sciences; Robert Smith, Watson School of Education; Lynne Snowden, sociology and criminal justice; and Brad Walker, curricular studies.

Faculty are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Middle East Discussion

Don Habibi, philosophy and religion, and Musa Agil, a former business professor at Cape Fear Community College, will conduct the discussion "What Happened to the Peace Process?" at 7 p.m. Nov. 30 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Leadership Center Receives Landfall Grant

The Activities and Leadership Center received a $2,000 grant from the Landfall Foundation to implement the Senior Leadership Program. Through a combination of discussions on social issues and learning opportunities, the program will encourage senior leaders to take an active role in their local communities upon graduation.

Art Exhibit

An exhibit featuring works by graduating senior art majors will open Dec. 7 in Kenan Hall's Claude Howell Gallery.

Meinhold Receives Project Impact Award

Stephen Meinhold, political science, received an award for Outstanding Academic Leader in Support of Project Impact Communities from the Federal Emergency Management Agency during the 2000 Project Impact Summit in Washington, D.C. He served as chair of the 1999 and 2000 Project Impact Hurricane Preparedness Expos. Debbie Reed, New Hanover County's Project Impact coordinator, was honored as the Project Impact Outstanding Mentor.

Christmas Service

The campus community is invited to "Christmas Lessons and Carols" at 10 p.m. Dec. 5 at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church. This service is being held in conjunction with campus ministers and students from university ministry groups.

Sigma Xi Meeting

John Taggart, director of the N.C. Coastal Reserve Program, will present "Overview of Research and Monitoring Within the North Carolina Coastal Reserve System" at 5 p.m. Nov. 30 in Dobo Hall, Room 132, as part of the Sigma Xi fall meeting.

Cape Fear Peace Prize

Nominations for the 2000 Cape Fear Peace Prize will be accepted through Dec. 5. The prize recognizes peaceful efforts to change the community during the 1999 calendar year. For more information, contact the Community Mediation Center at 362-8000. Nomination forms are available from the center and the Communication Studies Department.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Stephen Norton, visiting assistant professor, East Carolina University, will present "Chemical Defense in an Unlikely Place: Chemical Defense, Aposematicoloration and Aggregation in Gammarid Amphipods" at 2 p.m. Dec. 1 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Student Choreography

An informal showing of student choreography will be held at 8 p.m. Dec. 8 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. The presentation will consist of short movement studies based upon the choreographic teaching of Louis Horst. This free event is the final project for students in Theatre 136 Movement Exploration.

Spanish Film Series

The film La Moños will be shown at 7 p.m. Dec. 4 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium, as part of the Spanish Film Series sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. The film, which is in Catalan with English subtitles, is free and open to the public.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Daniel Ray, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "Phylogenetics and Evolution of Woodrats (Genus Neotoma) in the Southern Appalachian Mountains" at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 30 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Holiday Concert

The UNCW Big Band, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, and the Jazz Combo, directed by Jerald Shynett, will present a holiday concert at 8 p.m. Dec. 1 in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $5, $2.50 for faculty, staff, senior citizens and children under 12 and free for UNCW students with ID.

Let Campus Dining Services
Take the Hassle out of your Holiday!

Our Bakery is ready to make your life easier with Pastries and Breads fresh from our ovens.

Luscious Cakes _$13.00 each_

Black Forest Torte
Carrot
Cheesecake
Coconut

Fresh Baked Breads _$3.25 each_
(One Pound Loaves)

Banana Nut Bread
Lemon Poppy Seed Bread
Orange Cranberry Bread

Otis Spunkmeyer Cookies
$4.75 per Dozen

Butter Sugar
Chocolate Chip
Double Chocolate Chip
Macadamia Nut White Chocolate Chip
Oatmeal
Peanut Butter

Fresh Baked Pies _$6.50_

Apple
Apple Cranberry
Boston Cream
Cherry
Chocolate Cream
Chocolate Pecan
Lemon Meringue
Mincemeat
Pumpkin

Seasons Greetings

Holiday To Go
Order Form

Name Telephone #

Department Pick-up Date & Time

Item	Quantity	Price	Total

(Special Holiday Pricing Valid For December Holiday Orders Only)
Mail completed form to: Campus Dining Services, Wagoner Hall
Or Call x3600 or Fax to 799-2300 to place your order
Orders MUST be placed by December 15th
Please pick up orders at Wagoner Hall by NOON, December 21st

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Carl Lundeen, biological sciences, and Peter Schumann, economics and finance, were honored for teaching excellence by Phi Eta Sigma honor society.

Mike Mallin, CMS and biological sciences, presented "Domesticated Animals as Major Sources of Nutrient Loading to the North Carolina Coastal Plain" at the fall meeting of the Southeastern Estuarine Research Society in Tampa, Fla. His co-authors were Larry Cahoon, Scott Ensign and Jenny Johnson, CMS and biological sciences.

Steven Mezyk and William Cooper, chemistry, received $9,000 from the U.S. Department of Energy, Argonne National Laboratory for the project "Free-Radical-Remediation of Drinking Water Disinfection By-Products" and $18,000 from the U.S. Department of Energy, Notre Dame Radiation Laboratory for "Pulse Radiolysis of Disinfection By-Products."

James Reeves, chemistry, received $57,420 from the Department of Education for the project "Anytime, Anywhere Chemistry Experience."

Donna Gunter, Randall Library, had the article "Teacher as Apostle Sage: A Kierkegaardian Inspiration" published in LOEX News, a quarterly publication of the LOEX Clearinghouse for Library Instruction, affiliated with Eastern Michigan University's Learning Resources and Technologies.

David Berman, computer science, received an educators' scholarship from the Association of Computing Machinery to attend the conference on Object-Oriented Programming, Systems, Languages and Applications 2000. He participated in the educators' symposium and attended tutorials on design patterns and Java GUIs.

Greg McFall, CMS, and Doug Kesling, NURC, were certified as enriched air nitrox diving instructors by the National Association of Underwater Instructors in Tampa, Fla.

Andrew F. Clark, history, presented the paper "Environmental Change and Ecological Response in the Upper Senegal Valley, 1960-2000" to the Association of Third World Studies meeting in Denver, Colo.

H. E. "Hunter" Thompson, Jr., and Woody Sutton, public service and extended education, participated in the fourth annual North Carolina Information Highway (NCIH) Stakeholders' Conference at Appalachian State University. Thompson served as moderator for the panel discussion "Educational Partnerships 2+2+2" and served as a presenter on the panel discussion "Successes of the NCIH." Sutton co-chaired the conference and co-presented the session "The Recipe for Success" with Vivian Thompson, video manager, ASU and Carole Stern, assistant head of distance learning technologies, N.C. School of Science and Math. Sutton was one of 10 recipients of the NCIH Cyberspace Warrior Award. In addition, Thompson presented "Global Virtual University: An Experiment Between the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and the Digital Communities of Japan" as part of the virtual university panel at the 24th annual IEEE International Computer Software and Applications conference in Taipei, Taiwan.

Moorad Alexanian, physics and physical oceanography, had a letter published in the November issue of Physics Today, a publication of the American Institute of Physics, regarding the June article "Teaching and Propaganda." The letter discusses what is and isn't science. Similar arguments, published by Alexanian in the October 1999 issue of the American Physical Society (APS) News, led to a revision of the definition of science, adapted from E.O. Wilson's book Consilience that was subsequently approved by the APS Council.

Carol Thysell, philosophy and religion, had her book The Pleasure of Discernment: Marguerite de Navarre as Theologian published by Oxford University Press.

Donald Furst, art and theatre, was visiting artist in Indiana University's graduate printmaking program. Furst taught sessions on mezzotint and digital photopolymer etching.

Karen Bullock, social work, presented the paper "Is Teaching More, Teaching Less: Breadth vs. Depth in Baccalaureate Social Work Education," co-authored by Bob Blundo, social work, at the 18th annual Baccalaureate Social Work Program Directors Conference in Destin, Fla. Also, Bullock gave the poster presentation "Trans-generational Recruitment of Minority Women to Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening" at the 128th annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Boston.

Lewis Abrams, earth sciences and CMS, will participate in a 48-day oceanographic expedition (November and December 2000) aboard the Research Vessel Melville operated by the Scripps Institute of Oceanography. Multibeam bathymetry, gravity, magnetic and seismic data will be collected in an effort to reconstruct a significant portion of the currently unknown tectonic history of the southwest Pacific Basin between Tahiti and the Tonga-Kermadec Trench, an area larger than the contiguous United States.

Paul Shotsberger, mathematics and statistics, had the article "Kepler and Wiles: Models of Perseverance" published in Mathematics Teacher. The article compares the lives and contributions of Johannes Kepler and Andrew Wiles and suggests that students can benefit from their example of persistence in the face of seemingly insurmountable challenges.

Emile Bernard, physics and physical oceanography, presented the paper "Retire Into Teaching?" at the joint meeting of the North Carolina and Southern Atlantic Coast sections of the American Association of Physics Teachers held at the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg. The presentation highlighted the author's transition from a research and development laboratory to academia and his post-retirement experiences, challenges and reflections while teaching at the community college and university levels.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Movie Makers Lecture

Terry Linehan, an independent filmmaker and screenwriter, will lecture at 4 p.m. Dec. 7 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. This is the fourth talk in the Movie Makers Lecture Series sponsored by the Film Studies Program.

Linehan

Linehan, who is teaching an independent production seminar, is the founder of Sugarfoot Productions, an independent film company. He has written and marketed several film scripts.

Irving Berlin Tribute

Philip Furia, director of the Film Studies Program and professor of creative writing, and local pianist Grenaldo Frazier will present "A Tribute to Irving Berlin" at 8 p.m. Dec. 11 in Kenan Auditorium.

Tickets are $5 and are on sale at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. Tickets are free to UNCW students with a valid ID.

UNCW to Host Hammerheads

The Wilmington Hammerheads, the city's professional soccer franchise, will play their 2001 schedule at UNCW's Soccer Stadium due to ongoing renovations at Legion Stadium.

"We're a little disappointed that we won't play there (Legion Stadium) next season, but we certainly appreciate UNCW's cooperation," said Bill Rudisill, team president. "We'll do all we can to make it a good experience for everyone involved."

The Hammerheads will play approximately 13 games on campus between April and August.

"The Hammerheads have been a valuable member of the community, and we're pleased to partner with them on this venture," said Peg Bradley-Doppes, director of athletics. "Our stadium is a beautiful place to play soccer. We're certain that the community will enjoy attending Hammerhead games on campus next summer."

The soccer team is the second professional sports franchise to call UNCW home. The Wilmington Waves professional baseball team will begin its first season at Brooks Field in the spring.

CP&L Gift, continued from Page 1

it was first announced Hurlbert said, "While I have been associated with many fine business schools during my career, I am impressed with the accomplishments of the Cameron School and its strong focus on the growth industries in coastal Carolina."

Betty Cameron served on UNCW's Board of Trustees for seven years. She also served on the board of trustees of Agnes Scott College in Atlanta for 10 years where she was the first woman graduate to serve as chair.

Dan Cameron, in addition to his CP&L directorship, was president of Atlantic Telecasting Corporation (former owner of WECT, Channel 6), chair of Atlantic Bottling Company, mayor of Wilmington and a founder of Wilmington Industrial Development Inc., formerly known as the Committee of 100. Cameron said, "Our family has been a longtime investor in the Cameron School, and we continue to be impressed with its growth and development as a unique resource for the region. Our gift at this time is a further vote of confidence in its future growth."

Trim the Tree

Faculty, staff and students are invited to Chancellor James R. Leutze's annual "Trim the Tree" party from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 6 in Alderman Hall

Holiday ornaments fror previous years are available to hang, or bring a new ornament. Refreshments will be served.

December Commencement, continued from Page 1

honorary degrees and numerous distinguished awards including the New York Academy of Medicine Lifetime Achievement Award and the Jimmy and Roslyn Carter Award for Humanitarian Contributions to the Health of Humankind from the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases.

Commencement exercises for the graduating class will be broadcast live by UNCW-TV which airs on The Learning Network of the Lower Cape Fear seen on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The ceremony is expected to include approximately 770 students earning bachelor's degrees at the conclusion of the fall semester, approximately 210 students who earned bachelor's degrees during the summer and approximately 100 master's degree candidates. The time and location for individual departmental ceremonies and receptions are available on the World Wide Web at http://www.uncwil.edu/uniadv/commencement.

Rape Aggression Defense Classes

Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) classes will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 1, 4 and 6 at the Suite Service Building. The RAD Program is designed to teach women self-defense techniques. The cost is $4. Register at university police. For more information, contact Officer Christian Anderson at ext. 3184.

This is recyclable.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Courtney Hackney, biological ciences, had the article "Restoration of Coastal Habitats: Expectation and Reality" published in Ecological Engineering.

Tom Barth, political science, had the rticle "Serving the Homeless: Public Administration as Science, Process and Art" published in the December issue of he International Journal of Public Administration.

Fara Elikai and John Marts, ccountancy and business law, had the rticle "The Impact of Computer Assisted Learning on Students' Performance" published in the fall 2000 issue f the Journal of Business Disciplines.

David Gill, specialty studies, resented the poster session "The Pedagogy of Online and Distance Learning in the Virtual Classroom" at he technology conference Vlearn3D 000.

Rob Burrus, Chris Dumas and Edward Graham, economics and inance, presented the paper "Hurricane Storm Surge: Cost-Effective Mitigation n Wilmington, N.C." at Recovery in the Coastal Plain, a conference on Hurricane Floyd held at East Carolina University. A related study "The Cost of Coastal Storm Surge Damage Reduction" was ccepted for publication next year in the ournal Cost Engineering.

Andrew F. Clark, history, had the article "From Military Dictatorship to Democracy: The Democratization Process in Mali" published in Democracy and Development in Mali by Michigan State University Press.

Arlene Hanerfeld and Lynn Shay, Randall Library, attended the 20th annual conference Issues in Book and Serial Acquistions, an international conference of librarians, publishers and vendors, in Charleston, S.C. Hanerfield co-presented the program "How Vendors Can Help Provide Access to E-Journals."

David Berman, computer science, Douglas Smith and Sandra McLaurin, mathematics and statistics, had their paper "Generalized Tournament Designs" accepted for publication in Congressus Numerantium.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, was co-author of the paper "Field-Dependent Relaxation and Molecular Reorientation of C60 in Chlorobenzene" that appeared in The Journal of Physical Chemistry. It was co-authored by Mervat H. Issa, Robert A. McIntyre and A. A. Rodriguez of East Carolina University.

Bob Toplin, history, delivered the 14th annual Winthrop Rockefeller Distinguished Historian Lecture at the University of Arkansas, Little Rock.

Alina Szmant, CMS, was an invited speaker at the symposium Nutrient Over-Enrichment in Coastal Waters: Global Patterns of Cause and Effect sponsored by the National Academies of Science (NAS), the U.S. National Committee to the Scientific Committee on Oceanic Research, the Ocean Studies Board and the American Society of Limnology and Oceanography, held at NAS headquarters in Washington D.C. She presented "Nutrient Enrichment on Coral Reefs: Is It a Wide-Spread Cause of Coral-Reef Decline?" An objective of this meeting was to provide government policy makers a current view of the magnitude of the problem faced by marine systems worldwide due to the discharge of nutrients into the coastal zone. In addition, Szmant presented the paper "Turbidity and Sedimentation as Stressors to Florida Reef Corals," co-authored with C. Yeung and K. Cohen, in a mini-symposium on coral reefs in turbid waters at the ninth International Coral Reef Symposium held in Bali, Indonesia.

Ron Vetter, computer science, attended the IEEE Computer Society executive committee meeting in Dallas. Vetter serves on the editorial board of COMPUTER, the society's flagship magazine which has a monthly circulation of more than 100,000.

Steve Skrabal, chemistry, gave the invited presentation "Copper Ligands by Voltammetry" at the second workshop on "Chemistry, Toxicity and Bioavailability of Copper and Its Relationship to Regulation in the Marine Environment" sponsored by the Office of Naval Research /SPAWAR Center in Annapolis, Md.

Jim McNab, international programs, was elected to the advisory board of the University of North Carolina Exchange Program which handles state-to-state faculty and student international exchanges with North Carolina. McNab was also appointed to the advisory board for a new professional master's degree at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

UNCW IN THE NEWS

David La Vere, history, wrote the article "Politics, Not as Usual" published in the November 2000 issue of Our State magazine.

Melton McLaurin, academic affairs and history, was quoted in the Nov. 10 Wilmington Star-News article "Family Stories Revisit Riots of 1898."

Peg Bradley-Doppes, athletics, was featured in the Nov. 12 Wilmington Star-News article "Making Her Mark at UNCW."

Claude Farrell and William "Woody" Hall, Jr., Cameron School of Business, were quoted in the Nov. 16 Wilmington Star-News article "UNCW Economists Forecast 6 Percent Growth."

Paul Shotsberger, mathematics and statistics, was quoted in the Nov. 20 Wilmington Star-News article "A Different Course."

Marlene Rosenkoetter, gerontology and nursing, was quoted in an article on etirement and depression in the November issue of Retired Officer magazine. The article included research findings of a retirement study conducted by Rosenkoetter and John Garris, information systems and operations management.

Bookstore Open House

The UNCW bookstore will hold an open house from 4 to 6 p.m. Nov. 30. In addition to merchandise discounts and free holiday gift wrapping, Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will sign copies of his books.

Tax-deductible Contributions

Employees who would like to make a year 2000 tax-deductible contribution to UNCW are asked to submit donations to advancement services, Alderman Hall, Room 104, by Dec. 22. All gifts postmarked by Dec. 31 are considered 2000 tax-deductible contributions.

Computer Store Holiday Purchases

Want a new computer for the holidays this year? The UNCW Computer Store must have faculty and staff orders by Dec. 8 for Christmas delivery. The store stocks a full line of computer accessories and peripherals as well as software. Direct questions to ext. 7500 or e-mail computerstor@uncwil.edu.

Institutional Research Announces Promotion

Nanette Manning was promoted to director of institutional research. Bob Fry, assistant to the chancellor for planning, will concentrate his efforts on university planning, facilities and the SACS self-study.

Physical Plant Work Request Form

The physical plant work request form is available through the administrative forms directory on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/sp/AdmForms/FormsPDF/phy120.pdf. Use this form to request non-routine maintenance and repair for which the requesting department will pay. The form was previously ordered through the printing services forms ordering system.

For routine maintenance and repair, call the physical plant work order desk at ext. 3101.

CMS Graphics Office

The CMS graphics office must have projects with completion dates prior to winter break by Dec. 13.

Adult Scholars Program Seeking Applicants

The UNCW Adults Scholars Leadership Program is seeking applicants for spring 2001. The program meets for seven weeks and features a variety of topics including regional growth and development, criminal justice, Southern history and culture, education, government and health and human services. The cost is $235 which includes program resource materials, notebook, continental breakfasts, lunches and graduation dinner.

For more information, contact Annette Coneglio Anderson, public service and extended education, at ext. 3547 or e-mail andersonac. The deadline to apply is Dec. 15.

Shared Leave

Nancy Miller, central stores, and Robert Trombley, physical plant, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21100 Administrative Secretary II	Dec. 11
21101 Telecommunications Equipment Tech. I	Dec. 11
21102 Research Vessel First Mate	Dec. 11

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Art Exhibits

"Thurston 2000" is on display through Dec. 14 in the University Union Living Room.

"Life Impressions - Student Printmaking, 1985-1999" is on display through Dec. 15 in Randall Library.

Economic Rebound continued from Page 1

rate in 2001 following dramatically slower growth in 2000. The low growth in 2000 was due to cyclical factors, most noticeably very slow growth in new construction, and to virtually flat retail sales to residents in interior counties by Wilmington and New Hanover County merchants. Extensive flooding during the 1999 hurricane season depressed the economies of these interior counties, and the resulting lower incomes led to fewer retail sales by Wilmington and New Hanover County merchants. In addition, textile operations in some of the counties closed which further depressed the level of local economic activity.

Farrell noted that the "combined impact on local economic activity of the damages caused by the flooding and the textile layoffs led us to cut our forecast for the local economy for 2000 in half from almost 7 percent to close to 3 percent."

Hall said, "The negative economic effects of the increased tropical storm and hurricane activity have diminished with the passage of time. The absence of any tropical storm activity affecting the area during the 2000 season has given the economies of the hardest-hit counties time to recover. Government grants and secured loans have and will continue to provide an additional stimulus to the economies of these counties for some time into the future."

The 2001 forecast predicts:

- A 2 percent increase in average monthly employment to around 130,000.
- A 3 percent drop in the average monthly unemployment to around 5,200.
- A 2 percent rise in retail sales to $5.1 billion.
- No appreciable change in the average monthly unemployment rate which will remain near its 30-year low of 3.7 percent.

MILDRED P SIMON
LIBRARY ASSISTANT
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 21 December 7, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Furia and Frazier to Present Tribute to Irving Berlin Dec. 11

Philip Furia, director of the Film Studies Program and professor of creative writing, and local pianist Grenaldo Frazier will present "A Tribute to Irving Berlin" at 8 p.m. Dec. 11 in Kenan Auditorium.

Frazier

The presentation, which is part of The King's Road Writers Series, will celebrate the life and music of one of America's greatest songwriters through a reading and concert. Furia and Frazier will combine biographical narrative with the performance of songs such as White Christmas, Alexander's Ragtime Band, Blue Skies, Cheek to Cheek and There's No Business Like Show Business.

Furia, a musical theater historian, is the author of Irving Berlin: A Life in Song which was published in 1998. His other works include The Poets of Tin Pan Alley, A History of America's Great Lyricists and Ira Gershwin: The Art of the Lyricist. He has lectured nationwide on American song and has appeared as a guest on the national radio shows Larry King Live, The Studs Terkel Show and NPR's All Things Considered and Fresh Air with Terry Gross.

Furia authored Berlin biography.

Frazier is a nationally respected musician and actor who composed the gospel musical Mama I Want to Sing, which was named one of the 10 best New York shows of 1980 by Time. In addition to working with numerous recording artists, Frazier has completed a soundtrack for Dawson's Creek. As an actor, Frazier has appeared in films, commercials and stage productions. He won a Best Supporting Actor (Off-Broadway) for his performance in Bill Harris' Robert Johnson - Trick the Devil.

Tickets are $5 and are on sale at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. Tickets are free to UNCW students with a valid ID.

EH&S Department to Hold Fire Exit Drills

The Environmental Health and Safety (EH&S) Department will conduct fire exit drills in academic and auxiliary buildings Dec. 19-22.

The drills, which are required by state and federal law, will be held every year in December and May, said Stan Harts, EH&S director.

"While our department conducts fire exit drills for residence halls four times a year, this will be the first such drill conducted for other campus buildings," said Harts. "It's important that faculty and staff take the lead in the event of an emergency. When a fire alarm sounds, everyone must leave the building, and university personnel must be prepared for this possibility."

During this first drill, the department has no set schedule for building evacuations, said Harts. "Never having conducted such a drill, we're using this test to determine the personnel, equipment and time needed for each exercise," Harts added.

When the alarm sounds in each building, employees should exit and gather a safe distance from the building – at least 300 feet from both the structure and roads, said Harts.

"Our goal is that each test will last less than 15 minutes. Once the building is evacuated, EH&S personnel will check the facility to ensure compliance. For this first drill, employees will assemble for a brief presentation about the test," Harts said.

Incidents at other universities and employee concerns prompted EH&S to start these drills.

"While the drills have been required for several years, incidents at UNC Chapel Hill, Seton Hall and other universities underscored the need for emergency preparation," said Harts. "In addition, concerns from UNCW employees about the existence of alarms in their buildings and their warning sounds added to the need to begin these drills.

"Employees need to keep in mind, that when the fire alarm sounds, it's an urgent situation. In addition to a fire, the alarms can be used to signal many different disasters – tornadoes, bomb threats, gas leaks or chemical spills," said Harts. "The bottom line is safety. We all need to be prepared to act should the need arise."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Nan Graham, author of Turn South at the Next Magnolia, joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Dec. 7, 14 and 21 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. Dec. 8, 9 and 10 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County.

Leadership Conference Seeking Presenters

The third annual UNCW Organizational Leadership Conference will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Jan. 13 in the Warwick Center. Designed for all students, emphasis is placed on students involved with Greek and student organizations and sports clubs. Workshop topics include program planning, delegations, publicity, diversity, ethics, leadership, creativity and motivation. Faculty and staff interested in leading a workshop should submit a proposal by Dec. 15 to Shannon Hooker, ext. 7600.

Note of Appreciation

M. J. Carver, research administration, would like to "express my thanks and heartfelt appreciation to my UNCW family for all the kindness and loving support during my mother's illness and subsequent death."

Retirement Reception

Purchasing services will hold a retirement reception for Phyllis Adams from 1 to 3 p.m. Dec. 18 in the purchasing office. Prior to joining UNCW in 1983, Adams worked for the City of Wilmington for 12 years.

Toys for Tots

Collection barrels for the Toys for Tots program are located in the lobbies of James Hall and the physical plant. Gifts will be accepted at these locations through Dec. 19.

Angel Trees

The UNCW Leadership Center is sponsoring its annual Adopt-an-Angel Program. Angel trees are located in the University Union and Randall Library lobbies. Participants should select an angel and take it to the Leadership Center, University Union, Room 212, for information about the child. Gifts, which must be donated by Dec. 11, benefit children at the Boys and Girls Homes of Lake Waccamaw. For more information, call ext. 3877 or 3043.

Newman Catholic Campus Ministry

The Newman Catholic Campus Ministry will hold a vigil mass for the Feast of the Immaculate Conception at 4:30 p.m. Dec. 7. The semester's final Sunday evening mass will be at 6 p.m. Dec. 10. Weekly masses will resume Jan. 7.

The Newman Center is available to host workshops and small group gatherings. In addition to an enclosed backyard, the center has a gas grill and kitchen. For more information, contact Mary Pat Fourqurean, campus minister, at 792-0507 or e-mail fourqureanm.

Poinsettia Sale

Girls Inc. is selling red, white or pink poinsettias for $7.50 each. Plants can be purchased from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday until Dec. 20 at 1502 Castle Street. Orders of 10 or more plants to one address can be delivered. Contact Sally Cummings, ext. 4121, or Leslie Langer, ext. 4248, to coordinate campus orders.

Children's Books Sought

Kimberley Barker, Randall Library, is collecting children's books for the Open Gate Domestic Violence Shelter. Books about families, emotional and physical well-being and abuse prevention suitable for children ages seven and under are requested. Books depicting violence will not be accepted. A donation box is located near the library's main entrance. For more information, call ext. 7807.

Seahawk Club Sets Record for Members, Contributions

The Seahawk Club (UNCW Student Aid Association) ended its annual campaign setting records for membership and total contributions, said Chris Delisio, executive director of the booster organization.

To date, the club has received $862,000 in pledges and enrolled 1,404 members. Its goal was to raise $775,000 and recruit 1,400 boosters.

"We're extremely pleased with these figures, but we're still hopeful of reaching $900,000 by the end of the year," said Delisio. "It's a tribute to the numerous members who worked hard throughout the campaign. We appreciate their efforts and welcome our new members as we continue to support Seahawk student-athletes in their quest for academic and athletic excellence."

Movie Makers Lecture

Terry Linehan, an independent filmmaker and screenwriter, will lecture at 4 p.m. Dec. 7 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. This is the fourth talk in the Movie Makers Lecture Series sponsored by the Film Studies Program.

Linehan, who is teaching an independent production seminar, is the founder of Sugarfoot Productions, an independent film company. He has written and marketed several film scripts.

Student Choreography

An informal showing of student choreography will be held at 8 p.m. Dec. 8 in Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre. The presentation will consist of short movement studies based upon the choreographic teaching of Louis Horst. This free event is the final project for students in Theatre 136 Movement Exploration.

Art Exhibit

An exhibit featuring work by graduating senior art majors will open Dec. 7 in Kenan Hall's Claude Howell Gallery.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

't's a Wonderful Life Screening ınd Panel Discussion

The UNCW Film Studies Program will host its annual creening of the Capra family's private 35-mm copy of It's a Vonderful Life at 7 p.m. Dec. 15 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Following the film, there will be a panel discussion featuring rank Capra, Jr., president of EUE Screen Gems Studios, his rother Tom Capra and Todd Berliner, assistant professor of nglish. A reception will follow in the lobby.

This free event is sponsored by the Office of the Chancellor, the Italian Heritage Society of the Cape Fear and Barnes and Nobles Booksellers.

Donna Reed and Jimmy Stewart co-starred in this holiday classic.

CPA Candidates Offered Review Course

Candidates for the May 2001 Uniform CPA Examination can enroll in the "Becker Conviser CPA Review" offered by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education ınd the Department of Accountancy and Business Law. The class is scheduled for 6 to 10).m. Mondays and Wednesdays Jan. 8 through April 18. For more information or to register :all 1-800-443-3045 or contact Richard Roscher at ext. 3507.

Note of Appreciation

Edwina Johnson, auxiliary services, would like "to thank everyone in the campus community for their best wishes and love during my husband's lengthy illness and for expressions of sympathy after his death."

Entrepreneurial Success

The North Carolina Center for Women Business Owners and the YWCA of the Lower Cape Fear will host a small business forum at 6 p.m. Dec. 12 at the YWCA. There is no charge to attend; however, seating is limited. To make a reservation, call 323-3377.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in rder received. Due to the volume of submisions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in ublication. Your patience is appreciated.

Carl A. Stockton and John P. Bennett, HPER, presented "National Health Education Technology Knowledge Database for Teachers" at the Virginia Association HPERD state conference held in Williamsburg, Va. The presentation covered the use of a echnology database which helps eachers develop health and fitness esson plans based on national standards.

Raymond L. Burt, foreign languages and literatures, presented the paper "'And You, Johann, How Long Have You Lived Since Your Death?' ohann Wolfgang von Goethe in Contemporary Literature" at the Pacific Ancient and Modern Language Association annual conference at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Alison Murray, foreign languages ınd literatures, participated in a panel presentation at the Western Society for French History on historical narrative in contemporary French film where she presented the paper "Film as National con: Claude Berri's Germinal."

Katherine Montwieler, English, had the article "Hemans and Home-Schooling: History, Literature and Records of Woman" published in the summer 2000 issue of Nineteenth-Century Feminisms. She presented a version of the essay at the Midwest Modern Language Association annual meeting in Kansas City.

LeAnn Luna, accountancy and business law, presented the paper, "Local Sales Tax Competition and the Effect on County Governments' Tax Instruments" at the National Tax Association 93rd annual conference on taxation in Santa Fe, N.M.

Charles Ward, David White, James Reeves, chemistry, Ronald Vetter, computer science, and Gabriel Lugo and Russell Herman, mathematics and statistics, received $40,000 from Pearson Education for "Project Numina: Innovative Integrations of Media into Science and Mathematics Curricula."

Troy Alphin, Martin Posey and Ami Wilbur, biological sciences, received $52,800 from the Fishery Resource Grant Program/N.C. Sea Grant for the project "Exploration of Stock Differentiation of the Eastern Oyster (Crassostrea virginica) in North Carolina: Geographic and Water Quality Considerations for Production."

Suzanne (Sam) Shover and Vicki Hallman, CROSSROADS, gave the invited presentation "Drug Alert: What You Should Know About Designers and Herbals" at the 14th annual U.S. Department of Education's national meeting on alcohol, other drug and violence prevention in higher education, in Pittsburgh. A booklet of the compiled research materials, titled X (and other drug) Files: Myths and Mysteries of Popular Drug and Herbal Use, is being marketed for those interested in drug abuse prevention. At the same meeting, Jessica Burtt, CROSSROADS, delivered the poster presentation "CROSSROADS CO-OP: A University-based Substance Abuse Prevention and Peer Education Program for Area High Schools."

Clayton Ferner, Jack Tompkins and Allen Randall, computer science, attended the ACM Mid-Southeast Chapter fall conference in Gatlinburg, Tenn. Randall presented the talk "Parallel Compilers for Distributed-Memory Systems" which was co-authored with Ferner. Thompkins presented the talk "Teaching Digital Logic and Computer Organization" which was co-authored with Gene Tagliarini, computer science.

Chancellor's Student Hours

The chancellor's student hours scheduled for 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Dec. 13 have been rescheduled for 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Dec. 15 in Alderman Hall, Room 110.

December Payroll

Due to winter break, employees paid on the last work day monthly will receive checks Dec. 20. Employees enrolled in direct deposit will receive pay stubs Dec. 19; receipt of pay stubs does not imply that accounts have been credited prior to pay day. For employees not on direct deposit, the cashier's office will distribute paychecks. This does not affect employees paid Dec. 15.

Student Time Sheets

Departments should submit student time sheets for December to payroll by 3 p.m. Dec. 20 due to winter break. Time sheets must be signed by employees and supervisors and must be accompanied by recap sheets.

Furniture Samples

Modular office and classroom furniture and computer and laboratory tables by manufacturers such as KI, Haskell, ABCO, Sit on It and others will be displayed from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Dec. 8 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Displays are options for the new classroom building, but all interested faculty and staff are welcome to attend. Direct questions to Nita Hartless at ext. 3190.

Randall Library Exam Hours

Randall Library will operate on the following schedule during exams: 7:30 a.m. Dec. 7 to midnight Dec. 8; 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Dec. 9; 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Dec. 10; and 7:30 a.m. Dec. 11 to 10 p.m. Dec. 14.

FRS Down

The Financial Records System will be down Dec. 22 for year-end accounts payable processing.

Auxiliary Office Change

Effective Jan. 1, the Auxiliary Services Office will close at 5 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 4:30 p.m. Fridays. The office apologizes for any inconvenience this might cause staff or students. Direct questions to Betty Gurganus at ext. 7062.

Graduation Volunteers Informational Meeting

Volunteers are needed to help with commencement Dec. 16. Graduation processional starts at 9:45 a.m., and volunteers commit to four hours from 8 a.m. through noon to assist with the ceremony. An informational meeting for volunteers will be held at 8 a.m. Dec. 12 in the Golden Hawk Room. Volunteer assignments, parking passes and name tags will be distributed. Volunteers unable to attend the meeting should contact Mary Crookes at ext. 7231. Refreshments will be served.

Tax-deductible Contributions

Employees who would like to make a year 2000 tax-deductible contribution to UNCW are asked to submit donations to advancement services, Alderman Hall, Room 108, by Dec. 22. All gifts postmarked by Dec. 31 are considered 2000 tax deductible contributions.

Computer Store Holiday Purchases

Want a new computer for the holidays this year? The UNCW Computer Store must have faculty and staff orders by Dec. 8 for Christmas delivery. The store stocks a full line of computer accessories and peripherals as well as software. Direct questions to ext. 7500 or e-mail computerstor@uncwil.edu.

Shared Leave

Nancy Miller, central stores and Robert Trombley, physical plant, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Hepatitis B Shots

For those employees participating in the Hepatitis B Shot Program sponsored by human resources, environmental health and safety and wellness services, the second shot will be given according to the schedule listed below.

Last Name	Time	Date
A to D	1:30 to 3:30 p.m.	Dec. 14
E to J	3:30 to 5:30 p.m.	Dec. 14
K to P	1:30 to 3:30 p.m.	Dec. 15
R to Z	3:30 to 5:30 p.m.	Dec. 15

Participants unable to receive their shots during the assigned time should select one of the other times or dates. It is not necessary to call wellness services with schedule changes.

For participants who received their first injections through a physician's office, proof of the shot is required prior to second vaccination. Direct questions to wellness services at ext. 4137.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Charlene Ceasar, financial aid and veterans services; Deloris Hansley, public service and extended education: Rosetta Locke and Robert Yopp, physical plant; Diana Morgan, safety; Betty Robuck, student development services; David Stallings, university police; and Lisa Van Koughnet, student affairs.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21100 Admin. Secretary II	Dec. 11
21101 Telecommunications Equipment Tech. I	Dec. 11
21102 Research Vessel First Mate	Dec. 11
21103 Graphic Designer	Dec. 15
21104 Grounds Worker	Dec. 15
21105 Police Officer I	Dec. 15

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

ANDREW J DUTKA
COORD SP COLLECT&ARCHIVES/LEC
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 22 December 14, 2000 Phillip Brown, editor

Eighteen Projects Receive Cahill Awards for Faculty Research

Eighteen projects received Charles L. Cahill Awards for Faculty Research and Development. The selection committee, comprised of representatives from each school appointed by their respective deans, determined recipients from 29 proposals that were submitted. The awards totaled $40,147.

An annual fall competition, the awards are funded by the provost's office and are in honor of former Provost Charles Cahill. This year's recipients were: Gur Adhar, computer science, to design and test a platform for embedded digital signal processing; Michael Benedetti, earth science, for the project "Quaternary Environments of the Lower Cape Fear River Valley"; Dale Cohen, psychology, to assess how a person's intuitive sense of the amount is associated with numerical labels; Darwin Dennison, HPER, for a nutrition intervention study for middle school students; Donald Furst, art and theatre, for the project "Chemical Milling Film Adapted for Art"; Robert Burrus, Chris Dumas, Edward Graham and Peter Schuhmann, economics and finance, for a survey to assess hurricane risk aversion among Wilmington property owners; Douglas Gamble, earth sciences, to investigate rainfall spiral variability along coastal southeast North Carolina; Philip Gerard, creative writing, to work on "Ghost Army," a book-length work of creative nonfiction; Christopher Halkides, chemistry, for the project "Synthesis of Phosphonates with Possible Antimicrobial Properties"; James Johnson and Len Lecci, psychology, to assess the impact of external constraints on black observer propensity to perceive racism; Thomas Lankford, biological sciences, for the project "Trade-offs in the Evolution of Somatic Growth Rate: Field-testing for Costs of Rapid Growth in Estuarine Fish, Menidia menidia"; Michael McCartney, biological sciences, for the project "Cloning and Characterization of Microsatellite Loci for Genetic Studies of Color Pattern Morphs in Coral Reef Fishes, Genus Hypoplectrus"; John Manock, chemistry, to develop a multi-residue method for qualitative and quantitative analyses of herbicides used in regional tank mix spraying; Alison Murray, foreign languages and literatures, for the project "Quelle France? Ruralism and Nationalism in Jean Benoit-Levy's Cinema"; Mariela Shirley, psychology, to screen for alcohol problems and depression in community health center patients; Michael Seidman, history, for the project "Food and Revolution"; David White, chemistry, for the project "Silicon Microchips: An Answer to an Environmental Problem?"; and Ami Wilbur, biological sciences, for genetic evaluation of endemic freshwater mussels of the genus Lampsislis in North Carolina.

UNCW Athletes Second in NCAA Report

UNC Wilmington posted the second highest graduation rate for student-athletes among National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I public universities in North Carolina according to annual graduation rates released by the NCAA.

UNCW graduated 75 percent of its student-athletes who entered the university during the 1993-94 academic term. UNC Chapel Hill finished first with a 78 percent rate; UNC Asheville was third with 69 percent.

"We are certainly pleased with these results," said Chancellor James R. Leutze. "This shows what we already know about our student-athletes. They are serious about getting a quality education and certainly have their priorities in order. We compete for championships and also take pride in our accomplishments in the classroom."

Among the Colonial Athletic Association, UNCW scored the third best rate. The College of William and Mary and the University of Richmond ranked first and second with graduation rates of 88 and 87 percent, respectively.

Fall Commencement Set for Saturday

David Satcher, surgeon general of the United States, will address approximately 1,100 graduates at UNCW's fall commencement exercises. Processional starts at 9:45 Dec. 16 in Trask Coliseum.

The time and location for individual departmental ceremonies and receptions are available on the World Wide Web at http://www.uncwil.edu/uniadv/commencement.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Farewell Reception

A farewell reception for Dave Girardot, assistant vice chancellor for business affairs, will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 14 in the physical plant conference room. Girardot is leaving the university to pursue a new career.

Gerard Short Story Featured in Anthology

Philip Gerard, creative writing, is one of 25 North Carolina authors featured in This Is Where We Live, a collection edited by Michael McFee and published by UNC Press. "Death by Reputation" was the Gerard work selected for the anthology.

"I feel privileged to be included among the company in this work," said Gerard. "There are a lot of great writers represented in this collection."

Purdy Dedication

A ceremony dedicating the Nathaniel Purdy Memorial Housekeeping Lounge will be held at 2 p.m. Dec. 15 in the payroll office behind Hoggard Hall.

MOMIX Performance

The MOMIX Dance Theatre will perform at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series.

A company of dancer-illusionists under the direction of Moses Pendleton, MOMIX conjures up a world of surrealistic images using props, lights, shadow, humor and the human body.

A theatre performer.

Tickets are on sale at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. For more information, contact Shannon Hooker at ext. 7600.

Let's Talk Holiday Show

Let's Talk! UNCW & You will air its holiday show at 7 p.m. Dec. 18 on UNCW-TV seen on TLN, Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Rebroadcasts air at 3 p.m. Dec. 19, noon and 4 p.m. Dec. 20, noon Dec. 21 and 7 p.m. Dec. 22.

The show, hosted by Betty Ann Sanders, features a performance by the New Hanover High School band and a quartet from Thalian Hall. Other guests include Michelle Howard-Vital, vice chancellor for public service and extended education, and the Seahawk mascot.

Holiday Party

Chancellor James R. Leutze's annual holiday party will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Dec. 14 in Wagoner Hall.

Ed Lab Tutoring

The Ed Lab will tutor children in kindergarten through ninth grade in elementary reading/language arts, math and special needs. UNCW education students will be matched one-on-one with a child for the tutoring sessions. Children will attend one or two one-hour sessions between 3 and 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday in King Hall, Room 203. Tutoring starts Jan. 29 and continues through April 19. The cost is $187.50 for 25 hours of elementary reading/language arts/math tutoring; $150 for 20 hours of special needs tutoring or 20 hours of elementary of elementary reading/language arts tutoring; $75 for 10 hours of elementary math tutoring and $60 for eight hours of middle grades mathematics tutoring. Central Carolina Children's scholarships are available. For more information, call ext. 3633.

Retirement Reception

Purchasing services will hold a retirement reception for Phyllis Adams from 1 to 3 p.m. Dec. 18 in the purchasing office. Prior to joining UNCW in 1983, Adams worked for the City of Wilmington for 12 years.

Interracial Dialogues

The YWCA of the Lower Cape Fear seeks participants and facilitators for interracial dialogues which begin Jan. 15. Sessions will be held in various locations in New Hanover, Brunswick and Pender counties. For more information, call Amber Milliken at 799-6820.

Girls' Choir

The Girls' Choir of Wilmington will present its holiday concert "Sing with Joy" at 7 p.m. Dec. 15 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. For more information on this free event, contact Sandra Errante at 799-5073.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Nan Graham, author of Turn South at the Next Magnolia, joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Dec. 14 and 21 on The Learning Network, Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

Graduation Volunteers

Volunteers are needed to help with commencement Dec. 16. Graduation processional starts at 9:45 a.m., and volunteers commit to four hours from 8 a.m. through noon to assist with the ceremony. To volunteer, contact Mary Crookes at ext. 7231.

Winter Break

This is the final edition of the Campus Communique this year. The publication will resume Jan. 4. The university will observe winter break Dec. 23 through Jan. 1.

Toys for Tots

Collection barrels for the Toys for Tots program are located in the lobbies of James Hall and the physical plant building. Gifts will be accepted at these locations through Dec. 19.

UNCW ALUMNI ROCK!

JOIN US FOR OUR 2000-01 PREGAME & POSTGAME SOCIALS

Come help us continue to celebrate the first CAA Championship by the UNCW Mens' Basketball team!

ake your reservations now for this season's Seahawk basketball pregame and postgame socials. You and a guest ay be eligible for reduced admission to these exciting social events. Door prizes will be given away nightly. Speialty food, camaraderie, and Seahawk spirit will always be present. Hope you will, too.

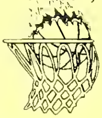
ESERVATION INFORMATION:

Active alumni and friends who contribute $250 or more annually to the UNCW Alumni Association or Wise Alumni ouse will be admitted with one guest for half-price at $5 a person. To make your reservations, please return the ompleted form with your payment to: UNCW Alumni Association, Wise Alumni House, 1713 Market Street, ilmington, NC 28403 or call 910-962-2682 or 800-596-2880 for more information.

Other alumni and guests admitted for $10 a person.

Children, ages six to 12, admitted for $5 each.

Children, ages five and under, admitted for free.



"Catfish Night" - UNCW vs. ECU, 7:00 pm
aturday, January 13
:00 pm to 6:30 pm, Hawk's Nest

Active alumni_____ x $5.00 = $_____
lumni, guests_____ x $10.00 = $_____
hildren, 6-12_____ x $5.00 = $_____
hildren, 0-5 FREE

. HOMECOMING - "Chicken Pick'n Night"
NCW vs. William & Mary, 7:00 pm
aturday, January 27
5:00 pm to 6:30 pm, Hawk's Nest

Active alumni_____ x $5.00 = $_____
lumni, guests_____ x $10.00 = $_____
hildren, 6-12_____ x $5.00 = $_____
hildren, 0-5 FREE

. "Mexican Fiesta Night" - UNCW vs. JMU, 4:00 pm
aturday, February 3, 6:30 pm to 8:00 pm, Hawk's est

Active alumni_____ x $5.00 = $_____
lumni, guests_____ x $10.00 = $_____
hildren, 6-12_____ x $5.00 = $_____
hildren, 0-5 FREE

. "Pasta Night" - UNCW vs. ODU, 7:00 pm, Saturday, ebruary 10, 5:00 pm to 6:30 pm, Hawk's Nest

Active alumni_____ x $5.00 = $_____
lumni, guests_____ x $10.00 = $_____
hildren, 6-12_____ x $5.00 = $_____
hildren, 0-5 FREE

1. UNCW vs. ECU	$_____
2. UNCW vs. William & Mary	$_____
3. UNCW vs. James Madison	$_____
4. UNCW vs. Old Dominion	$_____
TOTAL	$_____

Paid by:

_____cash _____check _____charge ($10 min.)

_____Visa _____MasterCard _____ exp. date

____
Card Number

____
Name, as it appears on card

I agree to pay the total amount according to the card issuer agreement

X______________________________
Signature

____
Mailing Address

____
City/State/Zip

____
Daytime Phone (include area code)

UNCW

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Scotland/Ireland Trip

Kemille Moore, art and theatre, will erve as tour leader for a nine-day trip to cotland and Ireland July 11-21. Partici-ants will visit the birthplace of Sir alter Scott and will see the Blarney tone and other sights. The cost is $2,575 er person and includes round-trip air are, accommodations and motor coach avel in both countries. A $200 deposit ill hold reservations with final payment ue April 20. For more information, call e Division for Public Service and xtended Education at ext. 3644.

Children's Books Sought

Kimberley Barker, Randall Library, is collecting children's books for the Open Gate Domestic Violence Shelter. Books about families, emotional and physical well-being and abuse prevention suitable for children ages seven and under are requested. Books depicting violence will not be accepted. A donation box is located near the library's main entrance. For more information, call ext. 7807.

Poinsettia Sale

Girls Inc. is selling red, white or pink poinsettias for $7.50 each. Plants can be purchased from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday through Dec. 20 at 1502 Castle Street. Orders of 10 or more plants to one address will be delivered. Contact Sally Cummings, ext. 4121, or Leslie Langer, ext. 4248, to coordinate campus orders.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in rder received. Due to the volume of submis-ons, there can be a two- to three-week delay in ublication. Your patience is appreciated.

Clayton Ferner, computer science, ttended the International Conference on arallel Architectures and Compilation echniques in Philadelphia.

Daniel Baden, CMS, received $10,000 om the National Institute of Environmen-l Health Sciences to fund the Carolina onference on Coastal Waters and Health.

Karen Wetherill, Watson School of ducation, received $5,000 from UNC eneral Administration to host the N.C. eachers of Excellence for All Children. n addition, Wetherill received $20,000 om UNC to host UNCW's Coach 2 oach Teacher on Loan Program.

Ami Wilbur, biological sciences, eceived $7,380 from the Maryland epartment of Natural Resources for the roject "Genetic Characterization of a ecovering Bay Scallop Population in hincoteague Bay; Evaluating the Effects f Enhancement."

Craig Bailey, CMS, received $28,940 n supplemental funding from the Bigelow aboratory for Ocean Sciences for the roject "Re-examination of the Algal lass Xanthophyceae Based Upon 18S NA and rbcL Sequence Anaylsis."

Stephen Mezyk and William Cooper, hemistry, received $6,500 from the U.S. epartment of Energy/Notre Dame adiation Laboratory for the project "Free adical Chemistry of Halogenated rganic Compounds."

Michael Mallin and James Merritt, CMS, received $60,000 in supplemental funding from New Hanover County for environmental research on the county's tidal creek system.

Doug Kesling, NURC/CMS, received $12,758 from the Monitor National Marine Sanctuary to serve as the expedition diving safety officer for the Monitor 2000 Expedition and provide field logistics, diving safety and medical support for the underwater archaeological work on the USS Monitor concurrent with the U.S. Navy's effort to recover the steam engine during the July/August 2000 mission.

In addition, Kesling was was an invited participant at the Enriched Air Nitrox (EANx) workshop sponsored by the Divers Alert Network in Durham where he presented operational diving statistics from NURC/UNCW's EANx Diving Program that started in 1986. The objective of this meeting was to review operational and safety data related to the use of EANx in the recreational and scientific diving communities and to prepare a consensual standards document for its continued use. NURC/UNCW was instrumental in the development and utilization of EANx by the scientific diving community and remains the largest diving program in the country that offers this technology to marine scientists.

Leslie Langer, SBTDC, received $13,500 in supplemental funding from the North Carolina Small Business and Technology Development Center to continue the temporary position of government procurement counselor.

Bruce Ragon, public service and extended education, delivered the invited address "Health Education: Utopia to Reality" at the regional Health Educators Network meeting at the Mountain Area Health Education Center in Ashville.

Lavonne Adams, creative writing, had the poem Haiku for the First Snowfall published in the December issue of U.S. Catholic.

Marlene Rosenkoetter, gerontology and nursing, was named to the International Expert Panel of the American Academy of Nursing.

Lu Ellen Huntley, English, attended the annual business meeting of the NCTE board of directors, representing the North Carolina affiliate, at the organization's conference in Milwaukee. She presented "Praise and Dissent: Praxis Tests, Perspectives and Alternatives to Consider" at the conference session "Contesting Knowledge in Teacher Training."

Rick Olsen, communication studies, gave the invited presentation "Character, Culture and Communication: The Role of Language in Organizational Culture" at the Eastern College Executive Seminar in Philadelphia.

Patricia Comeaux, communication studies, presented the paper "Benefits and Challenges of Using Computer-Mediated Communication to Enhance the University Classroom: A Review and Analysis of the Scholarly Literature" at the fifth annual WebNet 2000 World Conference on the WWW and the Internet in San Antonio.

University Union and Warwick Center Holiday Hours

The University Union and Warwick Center will observe the following holiday schedule: 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Dec. 16; closed Dec. 17; 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 18; 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Dec. 19; 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 20 and 21; 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Dec. 22; closed Dec. 23 through Jan. 1; 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Jan. 2 and 3; 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Jan. 4 and 5; 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Jan. 6; and 1 to 11 p.m. Jan. 7. The facilities will resume their regular schedules Jan. 8.

Student Affairs Hires Andrea Dorow

Dorow

Andrea Dorow was named director of transition programs in the Division of Student Affairs. The position was formerly in charge of the orientation program. Prior to joining UNCW, Dorow was director of student activities and programs at the Boston Conservatory. She also served as assistant director of student activities at Worcester Polytechnic Institute and coordinator of programs at Boston University. She earned a bachelor's degree in psychology and master's degree in college student personnel from Western Illinois University.

Randall Library Intersession Hours

Randall Library will observe the following intersession schedule; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 15; closed Dec. 16 and 17; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 18-22, closed Dec. 23 through Jan. 1; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Jan. 2-5 and closed Jan. 6 and 7. The library will resume its regular schedule Jan. 8.

FRS Down

The Financial Records System will be down Dec. 22 for year-end accounts payable processing.

After-tax Programs

Employees can sign up for NC Flex, dental, vision and AD&D insurance programs on an after-tax basis through Dec. 22. These programs include coverage for unmarried partners and their children. For more information, contact human resources.

Health Insurance Cards

Blue Cross/Blue Shield, the claims processing carrier for the State Health Plan, will mail new health insurance cards to participants' home addresses in December. New cards must be used starting Jan. 1.

IRB Proposals Due Jan. 24

All new and continuing research with human subjects that will be carried out during the spring and summer semesters 2001 will be considered by the Institutional Review Board Feb. 2. Faculty, students and staff who plan to conduct research must send one copy of their signed proposals to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, by Jan. 24. Proposal forms are available at the Office of Research Administration or can be downloaded from the office's World Wide Web page.

December Payroll

Due to winter break, employees paid on the last work day monthly will receive checks Dec. 20. Employees enrolled in direct deposit will receive pay stubs Dec. 19; receipt of pay stubs does not imply that accounts have been credited prior to payday. For employees not on direct deposit, the cashier's office will distribute paychecks. This does not affect employees paid Dec. 15.

Student Time Sheets

Departments should submit student time sheets for December to payroll by 3 p.m. Dec. 20 due to winter break. Time sheets must be signed by employees and supervisors and must be accompanied by recap sheets.

Auxiliary Office Change

Effective Jan. 1, the Auxiliary Services Office will close at 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 4:30 p.m. Friday. The office apologizes for any inconvenience this might cause staff or students. Direct questions to Betty Gurganus at ext. 7062.

Tax-deductible Contributions

Employees who would like to make a year 2000 tax-deductible contribution to UNCW are asked to submit donations to advancement services, Alderman Hall, Room 104, by Dec. 22. All gifts postmarked no later than Dec. 31 are considered 2000 tax-deductible contributions.

Shared Leave

Robert Trombley, physical plant, and Barbara Gibson, director of human resources, N.C. Department of Labor, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Lynn Aycock, business affairs, and Margaret Micheli, financial aid and veterans services.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21103 Graphic Designer	Dec. 15
21104 Grounds Worker	Dec. 15
21105 Police Officer I	Dec. 15
21106 Office Manager	Dec. 22
21107 Sergeant	Dec. 22
21108 Floor Maintenance Assistant	Dec. 22

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

MILDRED P SIMON
LIBRARY ASSISTANT
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 23 January 4, 2001 | Phillip Brown, editor

Nursing School Gets $320,000 in Grants

The UNCW School of Nursing will receive $320,000 in federal funds to provide primary health care services and education to rural communities in Southeastern North Carolina. These funds were included in final budget bills passed by Congress in December at the request of Rep. Mike McIntyre (D-NC), who represents the state's 7th district.

UNCW's nursing school will get a $150,000 economic development grant to cover operating costs for a rural health clinic in Navassa. The Town of Navassa built the 5th District Rural Health Clinic which was dedicated in October. In addition, $170,000 will fund construction of a similar facility in Bolton. These grants build upon efforts by the UNCW School of Nursing to provide primary health care and health education to medically underserved communities.

"With this $150,000, faculty and students from the School of Nursing will provide limited services, focused education and health assessment to families with chronic illnesses," said Virginia Adams, dean of the nursing school. "We anticipate clinic operations in Navassa to begin late spring."

"This is a major victory for the families in our area who deserve quality health care," said McIntyre, co-chair of the House Rural Health Care Coalition. "These funds will play an important role in making health care services more affordable and accessible. I look forward to working with UNCW and these communities on this important initiative to expand rural health care."

NAVASSA 5th DIST
RURAL HEALTH C
PEOPLE WORKING FOR PEOPLE

Dean Virginia Adams, right, and Myrtle Sinclair, a member of the school's advocate board, attended the October dedication of the Navassa 5th District Rural Health Clinic. The facility will benefit from the federal grants that the school received.

UNCW Graduate Named Pitching Coach in Buffalo

Former UNCW pitcher Carl Willis, who earned a World Series ring in 1991 with the Minnesota Twins, was named pitching coach for the Cleveland Indians' AAA affiliate in Buffalo, N.Y.

Following a four-year career at UNCW from 1980 to 1983, Willis was drafted by the Detroit Tigers in 1983 and was elevated to the major league in June 1984. He was traded to the Cincinnati Reds in 1985 where he played for then-manager Pete Rose.

A native of Yanceyville, Willis is the only UNCW baseball player to have his number retired. He received the Distinguished Service Award from the UNCW Alumni Association in 1992 and was a member of the inaugural class inducted into the UNCW Athletic Hall of Fame in 1998.

Art Exhibits to Open in Union and Center

The art exhibits "Stories – Past and Present" and "People and Places" will be displayed Jan. 8 through Feb. 19 in the Warwick Center and University Union Living Room, respectively.

"Stories – Past and Present" features artwork by Jane Lawton Baldridge, a local artist. The display is a one-woman show created on the computer. Paintings and images combine a variety of materials including family relics, love letters, dead roses and more. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Jan. 11 in the center lobby.

Kathleen Nobles' work is featured in the display "People and Places." Incorporating vibrant colors with strong contrasts that lead the viewer's eye, Nobles said painting is an emotional experience. Her creations "reflect her inner vision, how she feels about the scenes in front of her." A Meet the Artist reception is scheduled from 6 to 8 p.m. Jan. 12 in the union.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MOMIX Performance

The MOMIX Dance Theatre will perform at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series.

Tickets are on sale at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk.

Ed Lab Tutoring

The Ed Lab will tutor children in kindergarten through ninth grade in elementary reading/language arts, math and special needs. UNCW education students will be matched one-on-one with a child for the tutoring sessions. Children will attend one or two one-hour sessions between 3 and 6 .m. Monday through Thursday in King Hall, Room 203. Tutoring starts Jan. 29 and continues through April 19. The cost is $187.50 for 25 hours of elementary reading/language arts/math tutoring; $150 for 20 hours of special needs tutoring or 20 hours of elementary of elementary reading/ language arts tutoring; $75 for 10 hours of elementary math tutoring and $60 for eight hours middle grades mathematics tutoring. Central Carolina Children's scholarships are available. For more information, call ext. 3633.

WSO Auditions

Auditions for the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra will be held Jan. 8 in Kenan Hall. For an audition packet, call 791-9262.

IRB Proposals Due Jan. 24

All new and continuing research with human subjects that will be carried out during the spring and summer semesters 2001 will be considered by the Institutional Review Board Feb. 2. Continuing research projects must be reviewed once a year. Faculty, students and staff who plan to conduct research must send one copy of their signed proposals to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, by Jan. 24. Proposal forms are available at the Office of Research Administration or can be downloaded from the office's World Wide Web page.

Earned Income Credit

Employees who are eligible for the earned income credit (EIC) and who would like to receive advance EIC payments must complete a new W-5 form for year 2001. In order for advance EIC payments to be effective with January paychecks, submit the W-5 form to payroll by 5 p.m. Jan. 19. To obtain a form, call ext. 3163.

Auxiliary Office Change

Effective Jan. 1, the Auxiliary Services Office will close at 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 4:30 p.m. Friday due to changes in daily reconciliations. The office apologizes for any inconveniences this might cause staff or students. Direct questions to Betty Gurganus at ext. 7062.

Purdy Lounge Dedicated; Memorial Tree Planted

Chancellor James R. Leutze presided over the dedication of the housekeeping lounge in the UNCW Payroll Office as the Nathaniel Purdy Memorial Lounge Dec. 15. In addition to a plaque which will designate the honor, a tree was planted in Purdy's memory near the payroll office, located in the white house between Hoggard Hall and the Warwick Center.

Members of the Purdy family attending the ceremony along with friends and university co-workers decorated the tree with red ribbons in remembrance of the late Nathaniel Purdy.

Purdy, who joined UNCW in 1987 as a staff supervisor, was housekeeping administrator prior to his death in July.

Mary Purdy attaches a red ribbon to memorial tree.

Directory Correction

The correct work and home telephone numbers for Linda Register, student affairs, are ext. 4124 and 686-9968, respectively.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Donald Allen, physical plant; Kathryn Beyma, nursing; Theresa Blake, facilities administration; Ellen Cregin and Thomas Douglass, CMS; Knut Enoksen, university police; June Gutknecht and Andzhelika Moravansky, accounting; and Vincent Mannella, business affairs.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21111 Processing Assistant III	Jan. 9
21113 Accounting Tech. II	Jan. 12

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Bruce Ragon, public service and extended education, was acknowledged in the text Health of the Human Spirit: Spiritual Dimensions of Personal Health by Brian Luke Seaward, which was published Allyn and Bacon.

Robert Y. George, biological sciences and CMS, participated in the seventh international Conference on Wetland Systems for Water Pollution Control at Orlando, Fla., where he presented the paper "Bradley Creek Ecosystem (North Carolina) Adjacent to a Golf Course: The Concept of Buffer Zone and Constructed Wetlands for Oligotrophication." It was co-authored with UNCW biology students Greg Bodnar and Sharon Gerlach. The paper was published by the University of Florida Press as proceedings of the symposium. George led a two-week expedition to the Maldives Islands with UNCW marine biology graduates Gail Sedinski and Meredith Arnold. They studied the impact of El Nino-induced global warming events on Kiki Coral Reefs south of North Male Island. George is an adviser to the Maldives Coral Reef Research Program of the Ministry of Fisheries of the Maldives government.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 24 January 11, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Summer Research and Curriculum Development Initiatives Awarded

Thirty-two faculty members from 14 lepartments in the College of Arts and Sciences were awarded Summer Reearch or Curriculum Development nitiatives for 2001.

Research award recipients and their opics are: Robert Argenbright, earth ciences, the construction of Moscow's "Third Ring"; Diana Ashe, English, U.S. Navy's controversial retreat from Camp Garcia; Denis Auger, HPER, travel nonitoring system for North Carolina; Michael Benedetti, earth sciences, neasuring floodplain sedimentation on he Upper Mississippi River; James Blum, mathematics and statistics, the varying co-efficient model; Randy Bobbitt, communication studies, the use of public relations techniques in the public debate over the legalization of gambling; C. Sue Combs, HPER, the sport education model; Reid Counts, sociology and criminal justice, the Orangeburg massacre; Michael Freeze, mathematics and statistics, specialized Maple software; Douglas Gamble, earth sciences, identifying spatial variability in precipitation on San Salvador Island; Daniel Guo, mathematics and statistics, numerical simulations of wind-driven circulations in the coastal ocean; Christopher Halkides, chemistry, signal transduction; Melody Kyzer, HPER, pediatric obesity in North Carolina; Scott McElheney, art and theatre, training seminar on theatrical rigging systems; Sarah Messer, creative writing, non-fiction memoir Red House; Lynn Mollenauer, history, criminals and courtiers in the affair of the poisons; Katherine Montwieler, English, writing a tradition of women's verse; Sridhar Narayan, computer science, using genetic algorithms to evolve neural networks; Sylvia Santaballa, foreign languages and literatures; the Virgin of Guadalupe; Michael Seidman, history, food, the role of the state and revolution; Douglas Smith, mathematics and statistics, combinatorics; Oliver Speck, foreign languages and literatures, German film studies; Robert Toplin, history, violence in movie and television entertainment; and Renee Vincent, art and theatre, experimentation with super 8m-m film camera and the cinema anamorphic lens.

Curriculum development award recipients are: Maria Cami-Vela, Alison Murray, and Oliver Speck, foreign languages and literatures, new courses for the critical studies concentration in film studies; Don Habibi, philosophy and religion, new courses for film studies; Robert Hawkins, social work, partnership with the political science master's program in public administration; James Herstine, HPER, courses in the parks and recreation management core and assessment of the leisure services management option; Alex Sargeant, art and theatre, image database for the theatre division; and Gene Tagliarini and Jack Tompkins, computer science, revision of computer architecture curriculum.

Annual King Commemoration Set for Jan. 18

The Rev. Michael E. Dyson, best-selling author and university professor, will leliver UNC Wilmington's annual Martin Luther King, Jr., commemoration address t 7 p.m. Jan. 18 in Kenan Auditorium.

Dyson, the Ida B. Wells-Barnett University Professor t DePaul University, received a bachelor's degree in philosophy from Carson-Newman College. He earned naster's and doctoral degrees in religion from Princeton University. In addition to DePaul University, Dyson aught at Chicago Theological Seminary, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Brown University and Columbia University.

Dyson

An African-American, religious and cultural studies cholar, Dyson has written for numerous publications ncluding The New York Times, Chicago Tribune, The Washington Post and Rolling Stone.

He is the author of I May Not Get There With You: The True Martin Luther King, Jr., Race Rules: Navigating the Color Line and Between God and Gangsta Rap: Bearing Witness to Black Culture. Dyson's 1993 debut work Reflecting Black: African-American Culture Criticism won the Gustavus Myers Center for Human Rights Award in 1994.

UNCW's King commemoration is free. Tickets are required and can be obtained from the Kenan Auditorium box office by calling ext. 3500.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Pre-game Social

The UNCW Alumni Association will hold a "Catfish Night" social from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Jan. 13 in the Hawk's Nest prior to the Seahawk men's basketball game against East Carolina University. For reservations, call ext. 2682.

NBA Bus Trip

Campus recreation is sponsoring a bus trip to watch the Charlotte Hornets play the Los Angeles Lakers Feb. 16. The cost is $30 per person and includes transportation, ticket, a Hornet's T-shirt and a $5 meal coupon. The bus will depart campus at 2 p.m. and return at approximately 3 a.m. Feb. 17. Faculty and staff can purchase tickets starting Jan. 29 at the Student Recreation Center. For more information, call ext. 7443.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Dana Sachs, creative writing, joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Jan. 11, 18 and 25 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. Jan. 12, 13 and 14 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library.

Sachs will discuss The House on Dream Street: Memoir of an American Women in Vietnam, which describes her two-year visit to that country.

Art Symposium

The symposium "Beyond Words: Art and Commemoration" will be held at 6 p.m. Jan. 25 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. The event features a panel discussion by Kemille Moore, chair of the UNCW Department of Art and Theatre, artist Virginia Wright-Frierson and Audrey Flack, an artist and writer from New York. This free event is sponsored by UNCW and St. John's Museum of Art. It is in conjunction with the museum's display "Virginia Wright-Frierson: 2000, A Year in Paintings" on display through Feb. 11.

Kids Club

Boys and girls ages 12 and younger can sign up for Hawkstars, the official kids club for Seahawk athletics. The annual $5 fee includes a membership card, a T-shirt, a birthday card from the Seahawk and invitations to special events. For more information, contact Angela Pucher at ext. 7319.

History Lecture

Andrew Clark, history, will present "Conflicts in Africa: Myths and Realities" at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 16 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. This free lecture is part of the History Department's War and Civilization Lecture Series.

Art Exhibit

Randall Library and WHQR will host the exhibit "A Meeting Without Boundaries 2000" Jan. 15 through Feb. 28. The exhibit, which will be displayed at both locations, includes works from the No Boundaries International Art Colony. Thirty artists from France, Holland, Turkey, Bulgaria, Macedonia, Yugoslavia, Italy Colombia and the United States, spent two weeks at Bald Head Island creating artwork for the exhibit. Public receptions will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Jan. 18 at the Randall Library art wall and WHQR, respectively. For more information, call ext. 3270 or 343-1640.

Postal Reminder

Effective Jan. 7, the U.S. Postal Service increased rates for all domestic and international services as well as business reply mail. The cost of a first-class stamp is 34 cents. New rate stamps or one-cent stamps are available at UNCW postal services.

CMS Lecture

James Merritt and Michael Mallin, CMS, will present "Lower Cape Fear River Program: Background and Scientific Findings" at 4 p.m. Jan. 12 in the CMS Auditorium. Shuttle service is available from Dobo Hall.

UNCW Flags

The bookstore is selling house and garden flags featuring UNCW colors and the athletic logo.

Leadership Wilmington Alumni Award

Nominations for the Leadership Wilmington Alumni of the Year Award will be accepted through Jan. 31. Nominees for the award, sponsored by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, must be a Leadership Wilmington graduate, must have made significant contributions to the enhancement of the community through inspirational and visionary leadership and must have contributed to developing leaders within the community. Nomination forms are available from Annette Coneglio Anderson at ext. 3547 or Diana Corbett, 762-2611 ext. 213. The award will be presented March 27.

Note of Appreciation

Mary Crookes, university events coordinator, and Patsy Larrick, director of special events, would like to thank university staff who served as commencement volunteers Dec. 16. Commencement is a campus-wide effort, and all the volunteers played a vital role in making the occasion a memorable event for graduates and their families.

Movie Makers Lecture

Actor David Andrews will present the fifth talk in the Movie Makers Lecture Series sponsored by the Film Studies Program at 1 p.m. Jan. 19 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. A 22-year film veteran, Andrews starred in four prime-time network series as well as the feature films Apollo 13 and Wyatt Earp. He portrays an FBI supervisor in Hannibal, a sequel to Silence of the Lambs.

Art Exhibit

The exhibit "Sandra Ginter, Tiles" featuring ceramic and drawings by Midwestern artist Sandra Ginter is on display in the Kenan Hall, Claude Howell Gallery.

Happy New Year

Majoring in Success

College & Careers

UNCW Career Services • Vol 5, No 4 • Jan 2001

Employer Spotlight: Counseling Careers

by Leslie Rand-Pickett

Many college students are intrigued by the idea of counseling because they want to help others. However, many feel intimidated by the thought of long years of graduate school. While a PhD is a good option for some students, others may prefer terminal master's programs. There are advantages and disadvantages to each type of program, depending on a student's goals and abilities. It is important for each person to evaluate their options individually in order to make the best decision. The following paragraphs describe the types of work, populations served, and licensure information for several different paths for counseling professionals. Information was obtained by professional associations & government agencies, and are cited within the text.

Clinical social work practice is the professional application of social work theory and methods to the treatment and prevention of psychosocial dysfunction, disability, or impairment, including emotional and mental disorders. It is based on knowledge of one or more theories of human development within a psychosocial context. Clinical social work shares with all social work practice the goal of enhancement and maintenance of psychosocial functioning of individuals, families, and small groups. Clinical social workers have practiced in governmental and voluntary agencies and in private practice. <http://www.naswdc.org/practice/standards/clinical.htm> <http://www.naswdc.org/practice/career.htm> Interestingly, social work is by far the single largest professional discipline providing mental health services in the country — about 60-65 percent of the care nationwide. <http://www.aswb.org/licensing/coninfo.html>

To become a Certified Clinical Social Worker in North Carolina, you must have a MSW with two years post-master's direct clinical social work experience & pass the Clinical ASWB Exam. A typical Social Worker (MSW) working in Wilmington, NC could earn a median base salary of $36,148. Half of the people in this job are expected to earn between $30,750 and $42,452. <www.salary.com>

There are several specialty areas one might choose within the designation of Psychologist. All of these require a PhD, passing a licensure exam and completion of two years of supervised practical experience under a licensed psychologist to qualify for a permanent license. One of these years must be at the post-doctoral level. <www.asppb.org>

Clinical Psychologists assess and treat mental, emotional, and behavioral disorders. These range from short-term crises, such as difficulties resulting from adolescent rebellion, to more severe, chronic conditions such as schizophrenia. Counseling Psychologists help people to accommodate to change in their environment or to make changes in their own lifestyle. For example, they provide vocational and career assessment and guidance or help someone come to terms with the death of a loved one. School Psychologists work directly with public and private schools. They assess and counsel students, consult with parents and school staff, and conduct behavioral intervention when appropriate. Some school districts employ psychologists full time.

.... Counseling Careers contd on page 2

Career Programs Jan-Mar 2001

Selling Yourself On Paper: Resumes & Cover Letters

How to represent yourself with a powerful resume, formats, styles, etc.
Tues, Jan 16, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm
Mon, Feb 5, 6-7 pm, UU 106
Wed, Mar 15, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm

Interview to Win: Preparing for Job Interviews

Prepare for today's job interviews, typical questions you'll be asked, etc.
Wed, Jan 24, 4-5pm, UU Glass Rm
Mon, Feb 12, 6-7pm, UU 106

Business Etiquette: Menu for Success

Full course workshop & business meal. Pre-registration required. Tickets may be purchased @ Career Services for $20. Deadline for ticket purchase is Feb 6.
Tues, Feb 13, 5:30-8pm, Madeline Suites

Education Job Fair

Visit w/representatiaves from school districts from throughout the region. Explore different teaching environments & career opportunities.
Fair:
Mon, Mar 5, 9am-12pm,
WC Ballroom
Interviews:
Mon, Mar 5, 1-4pm, WC Ballroom

Making that "MAJOR" Decision

A unique opportunity to explore in-depth your career internests, values & skills, & how they relate to potential academic majors & career fileds. Enrollment limited; pre-registration required.
Wed, Mar 21, 4-6pm, UU Glass Rm

UNCW©
CAREER SERVICES

On-Campus Recruiting • Winter 2001

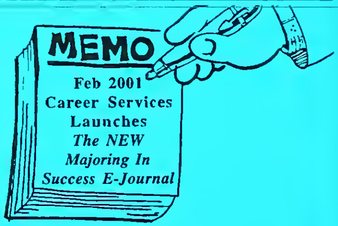
New Employers are added continually, so for the most current schedule click on "Students", then "On-Campus Recruiting" button on the Career Services homepage <http://www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career>

Sign-up sheets for all on-campus interviews are available only through Career Services web page- CareerConnections. Students must have completed their web registration and resume in UNCW CareerConnections before access is granted to the interview schedules. All sign-ups are done on the web, and can be done 24/7 from any computer with internet access.

Date	Organization/Company	Position/s	Majors
Mon, Feb 12	First Citizens Bank interviews (pre-select)	Banker Development Prgm	Business
Tues, Feb 13	Burlington Industries interviews	Summer Internships-Mfg/Operations
Wed, Feb 14	BB&T interviews (pre-select)	Mgmt Dev. Program	Business (must have 6 hrs of acctg)
Wed, Feb 21	Western & Southern Life interviews	Financial Sales Rep	All
Thur, Feb 22	SAS interviews (pre-select)	Software Professional	IS, Math, CS
Thur, Feb 22	John Hancock presentation, UU Glass Room, 6pm	Financial services, Marketing Rep	All
Fri, Feb 23	John Hancock interviews
Mon, Mar 12 &	VisionAir interviews (pre-select)	To Be Determined
Tuesday, Mar 13	VisionAir interviews (pre-select)	To Be Determined
Tues, Mar 13	US Air Force (table in Union, 10am - 2pm)	Recruits	All
Wed Mar 14	Consolidated Electrical Distributors interviews (pre-select)	Mgmt Trainee Program	Acct, Fin, Mgmt, Econ, IS, & Mktg
Tue, Mar 20	Maxim Health Care interviews (pre-select)	Sales Recruiter	All
Tues, Apr 10	US Air Force (table in Union, 10am - 2pm)	Recruits	All

Announcing!!!

Career Services NEW No Apointments Needed Wednesdays!



A Career Services Counselor is now prepared to recieve students on a walk-in basis every Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 am and 4:00 pm. The new walk-in sessions are in the University Union room 106.

• •

.... Counseling Careers contd from page 1

<www.apa.org/students/brochure>

A typical Psychologist working in Wilmington, NC could earn a median base salary of $42,596. Half of the people in this job are expected to earn between $37,884 and $50,947. www.salary.com

Psychological Associates provide professional psychological services such as interviewing or administering and interpreting tests of mental abilities, interests, aptitudes and personality characteristics. With qualified supervision, psychological associates are allowed to render professional psychological services the same as a licensed psychologist.

Psychological Associates must have a master's degree or specialist degree in psychology from an accredited university or college. UNCW offers a master's program leading to the Licensed Psychological Associate designation.

In North Carolina, practice as a Licensed Professional Counselor requires: completion of a master's degree program in counseling that includes an internship, a passing score on the National Counselor Exam, and two years supervised practice.

Licensed Professional Counselors can serve in elementary and secondary schools, colleges and universities, public and community agencies, military facilities, educational institutions, businesses, and private practice. Professional counselors offer help in addressing issues such as: anxiety, depression, and other mental and emotional problems and disorders, substance abuse and other addictions, family and relationship issues, sexual abuse and domestic violence, eating disorders, social and emotional difficulties related to disability, and adapting to life transitions. <www.counseling.org/consumers_media/servingallpeople.htm >

A typical Counselor working in Wilmington, NC could earn a median total cash compensation of $24,933. Half of the people in this job are expected to earn between $21,456 and $29,929. <www.salary.com>

Participant Instructions

- Vouchers are valid ONLY for the scheduled project dates.
- Vouchers may be used at ANY of our stores.
- Present the voucher to the cashier at beginning of checkout process; cashier will then keep the voucher.
- Your award proceeds total should be printed at the bottom of your grocery receipt.
- Solicitation of vouchers is prohibited and may disqualify organization.

Cashier Instructions

- Always SCAN VOUCHER before taking payment-computer should read "CWD Transaction" when accepted.
- If voucher doesn't scan, key-enter the bar code number (first 11 digits-start with small #) on the front of this voucher and press "Look Up" key.
- If you receive an "invalid CWD voucher date" message-check project dates & relay message to customer.
- If voucher still will not scan, instruct customer to keep voucher and receipt together and return to their Project Coordinator to be submitted to Community Affairs Dept. for credit.
- Keep vouchers with manufacturer coupons.

Participant Instructions

- Vouchers are valid ONLY for the scheduled project dates.
- Vouchers may be used at ANY of our stores.
- Present the voucher to the cashier at beginning of checkout process; cashier will then keep the voucher.
- Your award proceeds total should be printed at the bottom of your grocery receipt.
- Solicitation of vouchers is prohibited and may disqualify organization.

Cashier Instructions

- Always SCAN VOUCHER before taking payment-computer should read "CWD Transaction" when accepted.
- If voucher doesn't scan, key-enter the bar code number (first 11 digits-start with small #) on the front of this voucher and press "Look Up" key.
- If you receive an "invalid CWD voucher date" message-check project dates & relay message to customer.
- If voucher still will not scan, instruct customer to keep voucher and receipt together and return to their Project Coordinator to be submitted to Community Affairs Dept. for credit.
- Keep vouchers with manufacturer coupons.

Participant Instructions

- Vouchers are valid ONLY for the scheduled project dates.
- Vouchers may be used at ANY of our stores.
- Present the voucher to the cashier at beginning of checkout process; cashier will then keep the voucher.
- Your award proceeds total should be printed at the bottom of your grocery receipt.
- Solicitation of vouchers is prohibited and may disqualify organization.

Cashier Instructions

- Always SCAN VOUCHER before taking payment-computer should read "CWD Transaction" when accepted.
- If voucher doesn't scan, key-enter the bar code number (first 11 digits-start with small #) on the front of this voucher and press "Look Up" key.
- If you receive an "invalid CWD voucher date" message-check project dates & relay message to customer.
- If voucher still will not scan, instruct customer to keep voucher and receipt together and return to their Project Coordinator to be submitted to Community Affairs Dept. for credit.
- Keep vouchers with manufacturer coupons.

Participant Instructions

- Vouchers are valid ONLY for the scheduled project dates.
- Vouchers may be used at ANY of our stores.
- Present the voucher to the cashier at beginning of checkout process; cashier will then keep the voucher.
- Your award proceeds total should be printed at the bottom of your grocery receipt.
- Solicitation of vouchers is prohibited and may disqualify organization.

Cashier Instructions

- Always SCAN VOUCHER before taking payment-computer should read "CWD Transaction" when accepted.
- If voucher doesn't scan, key-enter the bar code number (first 11 digits-start with small #) on the front of this voucher and press "Look Up" key.
- If you receive an "invalid CWD voucher date" message-check project dates & relay message to customer.
- If voucher still will not scan, instruct customer to keep voucher and receipt together and return to their Project Coordinator to be submitted to Community Affairs Dept. for credit.
- Keep vouchers with manufacturer coupons.

Participant Instructions

- Vouchers are valid ONLY for the scheduled project dates.
- Vouchers may be used at ANY of our stores.
- Present the voucher to the cashier at beginning of checkout process; cashier will then keep the voucher.
- Your award proceeds total should be printed at the bottom of your grocery receipt.
- Solicitation of vouchers is prohibited and may disqualify organization.

Cashier Instructions

- Always SCAN VOUCHER before taking payment-computer should read "CWD Transaction" when accepted.
- If voucher doesn't scan, key-enter the bar code number (first 11 digits-start with small #) on the front of this voucher and press "Look Up" key.
- If you receive an "invalid CWD voucher date" message-check project dates & relay message to customer.
- If voucher still will not scan, instruct customer to keep voucher and receipt together and return to their Project Coordinator to be submitted to Community Affairs Dept. for credit.
- Keep vouchers with manufacturer coupons.

Participant Instructions

- Vouchers are valid ONLY for the scheduled project dates.
- Vouchers may be used at ANY of our stores.
- Present the voucher to the cashier at beginning of checkout process; cashier will then keep the voucher.
- Your award proceeds total should be printed at the bottom of your grocery receipt.
- Solicitation of vouchers is prohibited and may disqualify organization.

Cashier Instructions

- Always SCAN VOUCHER before taking payment-computer should read "CWD Transaction" when accepted.
- If voucher doesn't scan, key-enter the bar code number (first 11 digits-start with small #) on the front of this voucher and press "Look Up" key.
- If you receive an "invalid CWD voucher date" message-check project dates & relay message to customer.
- If voucher still will not scan, instruct customer to keep voucher and receipt together and return to their Project Coordinator to be submitted to Community Affairs Dept. for credit.
- Keep vouchers with manufacturer coupons.

Fundraising Voucher

FOOD LION

Organization : Univ Of North Carolina At Wilmington
Project ID : 5499-1 Student Aid Association
Project Dates : 01/15/2001 - 01/17/2001

FOOD LION

Project Participants : Please present this VOUCHER to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process. Credit for grocery purchases will only be given if VOUCHER is scanned before money has been exchanged.

SCAN ME!

4 80261 25015 2

BONUS : Purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with this voucher for additional proceeds to your organization!

 SEE BACK FOR CASHIER INSTRUCTIONS *****

Fundraising Voucher

FOOD LION

Organization : Univ Of North Carolina At Wilmington
Project ID : 5499-1 Student Aid Association
Project Dates : 01/15/2001 - 01/17/2001

FOOD LION

Project Participants : Please present this VOUCHER to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process. Credit for grocery purchases will only be given if VOUCHER is scanned before money has been exchanged

SCAN ME!

4 80261 25015 2

BONUS . Purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with this voucher for additional proceeds to your organization!

 SEE BACK FOR CASHIER INSTRUCTIONS *****

Fundraising Voucher

FOOD LION

Organization : Univ Of North Carolina At Wilmington
Project ID : 5499-1 Student Aid Association
Project Dates : 01/15/2001 - 01/17/2001

FOOD LION

Project Participants : Please present this VOUCHER to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process. Credit for grocery purchases will only be given if VOUCHER is scanned before money has been exchanged

SCAN ME!

4 80261 25015 2

BONUS : Purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with this voucher for additional proceeds to your organization!

 SEE BACK FOR CASHIER INSTRUCTIONS *****

Fundraising Voucher

FOOD LION

Organization : Univ Of North Carolina At Wilmington
Project ID : 5499-1 Student Aid Association
Project Dates : 01/15/2001 - 01/17/2001

FOOD LION

Project Participants : Please present this VOUCHER to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process. Credit for grocery purchases will only be given if VOUCHER is scanned before money has been exchanged

SCAN ME!

4 80261 25015 2

BONUS : Purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with this voucher for additional proceeds to your organization!

 SEE BACK FOR CASHIER INSTRUCTIONS *****

Fundraising Voucher

FOOD LION

Organization : Univ Of North Carolina At Wilmington
Project ID : 5499-1 Student Aid Association
Project Dates : 01/15/2001 - 01/17/2001

FOOD LION

Project Participants : Please present this VOUCHER to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process Credit for grocery purchases will only be given if VOUCHER is scanned before money has been exchanged.

SCAN ME!

4 80261 25015 2

BONUS : Purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with this voucher for additional proceeds to your organization!

 SEE BACK FOR CASHIER INSTRUCTIONS *****

Fundraising Voucher

FOOD LION

Organization : Univ Of North Carolina At Wilmington
Project ID : 5499-1 Student Aid Association
Project Dates : 01/15/2001 - 01/17/2001

FOOD LION

Project Participants Please present this VOUCHER to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scanning process Credit for grocery purchases will only be given if VOUCHER is scanned before money has been exchanged

SCAN ME!

4 80261 25015 2

BONUS . Purchase any MVP product(s) and present your MVP card along with this voucher for additional proceeds to your organization!

 SEE BACK FOR CASHIER INSTRUCTIONS *****

Internship Spotlight

Summer on the Campaign Trail

by John Andrew, UNCW Sophomore

Instead of going back home and working this past summer, I choose to intern for the Gore campaign in Nashville, TN. It was an opportunity I could not miss, so I said goodbye to my friends at home and school and made the long drive to Nashville. It was my luck to have a cousin to stay with because I could not have afforded an apartment; in any event I looked forward, however nervously, to the summer of politics. On the very first day I met Al Gore. While I had my opinions going into the campaign season, it was really an interesting moment to be in the presence of someone you only know from the television screen and the sitcoms.

Let me state that I am not writing this to persuade you to vote Democrat. I have my frustrations with politics just as everyone, but I refuse to accept the concept of voter cynicism and think it is a travesty that in a nation as prosperous and as capable as ours, citizens aren't concerned. Why? It makes no difference. Let me state my unequivocal opposition to this statement. Did the founding fathers say, "Well it doesn't matter if we revolt, we'll lose industry, lives, and possibly disintegrate our nation" or did Rosa Parks just say, "Well it's only one seat anyway and besides no one will care." People WAKE UP! Though these characters find places in our history, there are thousands of others who stand up for their beliefs everyday.

"Never doubt that a small group of concerned citizens can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has." I know you've heard this quotation many times, and I don't repeat it for academic sake; rather to say ignorance should not be tolerated. When you choose not to vote, you disgrace all the people who have fought and died for this country. You disgrace the people in the world who don't have a fraction of the opportunity you do and look to us for leadership, and you disgrace yourself for not realizing that it took 58 thousand American lives for our age group to even be allowed to vote. This year's election, more than any other in our history, showed the importance of every voter.

When I started my internship this summer, I thought I'll only perform minimal duties, lots of copying and stapling the dirty work, right? And I must be honest; I did my share of that. However, as the summer progressed I was entrusted with more and more responsibility. With hard work and enthusiasm I earned the respect of the political department. I was able to write memos, letters, call people in the White House, organize meetings and field phone calls from people such as Andrew Young (former congressman, mayor of Atlanta, Ambassador to the United Nations and civil rights marcher with MLK).

When I look back now, I cannot but thank myself for deciding to intern for this campaign. Most of the workers on the campaign were an average age of 27, many just fresh out of college. They were from all across the political scale, liberal, moderate and people who were just concerned for the well being of our country. It was incredible to see that most of the work on the campaign was performed by young people; all of the busy and thinking work that kept this campaign running is within our generation's reach!

When I walked away this summer to come back to school, I took a part of Nashville with me. Though it sounds corny, I can definately say I was there and did what I could. It certainly was an experience that has touched my life and the way I view politics; it also has left me with friends and contacts on the national scene. I encourage anyone to get involved with their passions. Don't just look at people crazy enough to do politics, look at what your interests are and shoot for the stars. It takes courage, discipline and patience, but believe me it can lead to some life altering experiences. I have no regrets about going this past summer; I only regret that I could not stay

Human Resources Spotlight: with Jennifer Cheshire - Corporate Benefits Administrator - Cato Corporation

What is a typical day like for you?
We have approximately 8000 employees, so I handle their 401k, Medical, Dental, and Life Insurance. I also deal with the Short term Disability benefits or those who are out on Family Medical Leave. I am responsible for paying the bills to all of our benefit vendors, and being a contact person between them and our employees. My day consists of taking care of all benefit issues and helping our associates on all of this.

What skills are necessary for work in your field?
Communication skills are a must, because I deal with a lot of people all day long. Being able to prioritize your work, and having patience with the associates who need help with their benefits.

What classes or experience would be helpful?
A communications class, along with Human Resources and Business classes. An internship is great hands-on experience.

What was the application process like for you position? How do you find out about jobs in your field?
I actually found my job through the paper, and sent in a resume. I was called in for a first interview and within a few days was called back in for another. Shortly after completing a drug test, I was offered the job.

What are the rewards & challenges of your work?
I would say the biggest challenge is that I am always running into new situations in which I gain new knowledge. Also, having to deal with not just one task, but many at one time, and having to prioritize which should come first. But working hard and being open to learn new things has lead me to two promotions in three years here at Cato, so I would consider those the rewards of working hard.

February 2001
Career Services
Brand NEW Majoring In Success
E-Journal!

Career Services
Development of a Follow-up
Study

Career Services
CareerSearch!

Career Services Nursing
School Recruitment Lunches!

So, what's new?

CareerConnections
Merges with BrassRing!

Career Services
Twice a Year
Education Job Fair!

Career Srevices
NEW on-line
Workshops

Career Services
No Appointment
Needed
Wednesdays!

Check This Out

CareerSearch

- Database of over one million organizations.
- Searchable by industry, location & keywords.
- Includes contact names, addresses, phone numbers & other company information.
- Encompasses all U.S. Industries, such as:
  - Advertising/PR
  - Banking & Finance
  - Broadcasting
  - Healthcare
  - Info Tech
  - Manufacturing
  - Museums
  - Publications
  - Reseach Ctrs
  - Retail/Wholesale
  - Sports
  - Technology
- Available only in Career Services, UU104 & 106, by appointment– 962-3174.
- Free service for UNCW Students & Alumni.

IT'S ALL YOURS!

UNCW
CAREER SERVICES

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division of Student Affairs • "Creating Experiences For Life"
104 & 106 University Union • (910) 962-3174 • careersers@uncwil.edu
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

Embers to Headline Homecoming Dance

The Embers will perform for the UNCW Alumni Association Homecoming Dance scheduled for 9 p.m. Jan. 27 n the Grand Ballroom of the Wilmington Hilton Riverside. Tickets re $15 per person and are available by alling alumni relations at ext. 2682.

MOMIX Performance

The MOMIX Dance Theatre will erform at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in Kenan uditorium as part of the UNCW Arts n Action series.

A company of dancer-illusionists nder the direction of Moses Pendleton, MOMIX conjures up a world of urrealistic images using props, lights, hadow, humor and the human body.

Tickets are on sale at the Kenan uditorium box office and the Univerity Union information desk. For more nformation, contact Shannon Hooker at xt. 7600.

Applications for 2001-02 Student Media Managers

Faculty and staff are encouraged to nnounce that applications are available or top management positions at UNCW's student media - The Seahawk, WLOZ and Atlantis. These challenging, aid positions are open to UNCW tudents who are enrolled in good tanding and offer strong resume-uilding experience. The term of service s May 2001 through April 2002. Applications and job descriptions are vailable at the Office of the Dean of Students, University Union, Room 209, he Seahawk, University Union, Room 05, the University Union information esk, or the Departments of Art and Theatre, Communication Studies or English. Candidates should have ggressive marketing ideas, leadership kills and a dedication to producing esponsible, high-quality programming. For more information, contact Bill Dinome, student media coordinator, at ext. 7138 or e-mail dinomew. Applications are due Feb. 5.

Registration Open for Three MarineQuest Programs

MarineQuest, a program in the Division of Public Service and Extended Education, will offer three marine science education trips as listed below.

"Odyssey for Adults Program: Rain Forests, Reefs and Ruins of Belize," an eight-day hands-on natural history, cultural, archaeological, ethno-botanical and sociological experience, is scheduled for July 21-28. The fee is $2,748 which includes airfare from Raleigh, meals and transportation. The registration deadline is Feb. 20.

"Marine Biology Excursion for Teens to ForFar Field Station, Andros Island, Bahamas" is scheduled for June 8-16. The cost of the trip, designed for students ages 15 to 17, is $1,435 and includes airfare to and from the Bahamas from Ft. Lauderdale, transportation, hotel, instruction, 24-hour supervision and meals. Andros Island is located on the third largest barrier reef in the world. The trip provides participants a unique opportunity to explore its ecology, geology, history and culture. The registration deadline is Feb. 1.

"Jekyll Island Marine Biology Excursion" is scheduled for April 26-29. The cost, based upon hotel accommodations, is $365 for double occupancy or $505 for single occupancy. Participants will explore the natural wonders of this coastal environment in Georgia which was a former playground of the rich and famous. Tressa Thompson, marine education specialist, will accompany the group. The registration deadline is March 16.

SMB Seeks Student Rep.

Applications are available for one student-at-large member to serve on the Student Media Board (SMB), a chancellor's advisory board that oversees UNCW's three official student media. As a member of the SMB, the representative will speak for the wider student body regarding operations of the student media. Students who are in good academic standing and who are not otherwise involved with student media are encouraged to apply. The term of service is for the spring semester. Membership is renewable. Faculty and staff should direct interested students to contact Bill Dinome, student media coordinator, at ext. 7138 or e-mail dinomew. Applications are due Feb. 8.

IRB Proposals Due Jan. 24

All new and continuing research with human subjects that will be carried out during the spring and summer semesters 2001 will be considered by the Institutional Review Board Feb. 2. Continuing research projects must be reviewed once a year. Faculty, students and staff who plan to conduct research must send one copy of their signed proposals to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, by Jan. 24. Proposal forms are available at the Office of Research Administration or can be downloaded from the office's World Wide Web page.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Darrell Irwin, sociology and criminal justice, was interviewed for the Nov. 18 evening news broadcast on WECT-TV6 to discuss African-Americans in the criminal justice system.

Peg Bradley-Doppes, athletics, was quoted in the Nov. 29 Chronicle of Higher Education article "Athletes, Administrators and Others Challenge Knight Commission to Push for Change." Bradley-Doppes called on the commission "to make a stronger statement about gender equity in the face of mounting political pressure." Numerous media organizations nationwide covered the Knight Commission meeting.

Claude Farrell and William Hall, business, were featured in the December 2000 Greater Wilmington Business article "University Economists: Better Times Set for 2001."

Virginia Stewart, history, was featured in the December 2000 Greater Wilmington Business article "Cemetery Restoration Study Receives Funding."

Susan H. Ivancevich, accountancy and business law, had the article "An Exploratory Analysis of the 1989 Accounting Firm Megamergers" published in Accounting Horizons, vol. 14, no. 4, December 2000. It was co-authored by Asghar Zardkoohi of Texas A&M University.

Personal Vehicle Mileage Reimbursement Change

Effective Jan.1, the business standard mileage reimbursement rate for personal vehicles increased to 34.5 cents per mile. Travel prior to Jan. 1 will be reimbursed at 32.5 cents per mile. Direct questions to Betty Mills at ext. 3149 or Lucy Lopez at ext. 7504.

Food Lion Fund-raising Days to Benefit Seahawks

UNCW's Seahawk Club is participating in the Food Lion Fund-raising Days project which allows non-profit organizations to receive donations based upon purchases. To take advantage of this opportunity, look for vouchers inserted in the Campus Communique. Vouchers used at Food Lion Jan. 15-17 will benefit the Seahawk Club. To participate, present a voucher to the cashier at the beginning of the grocery scan process and before any money is exchanged. At the conclusion of the three-day period, Food Lion will donate 5 percent of the total amount of groceries (less tax) to the Seahawk Club.

"We need the purchasing power of Seahawk fans to assist us," said Chris Delisio, Seahawk Club executive director. "This is a great fund-raising opportunity for the Seahawk Club and can amount to a sizable dollar figure depending on how well we shop at Food Lion."

Tai Chi Classes

Wellness services will offer beginner and advanced tai chi classes at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., respectively, Mondays starting Jan. 22 in the Student Recreation Center training room. Tai chi, a series of slow, controlled movements, increases a person's balance, strength and flexibility. The cost is $25 for the semester. Pre-registration is required; call ext. 4137.

Shared Leave

Amy Campbell, landscape services, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Yoga Class

Christian Barnes, HPER, will teach a yoga course from noon to 1 p.m., Tuesdays, in the Student Recreation Center training room starting Jan. 16. The class is free; participants should wear comfortable clothing and bring a towel or yoga mat. For more information, contact Liz Grimes at ext. 3274.

W-2 Distribution

In accordance with Internal Revenue Service regulations, 2000 W-2 forms will be distributed Jan. 31. Currently enrolled undergraduate students will receive their forms at their UNCW post office boxes; currently enrolled graduate students through the cashier's office; and permanent employees with their paychecks or direct deposit stubs. Forms for temporary employees and all others will be mailed to their permanent addresses.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Tammy Davis-Auger, earth sciences.

Earned Income Credit

Employees who are eligible for the earned income credit (EIC) and who would like to receive advance EIC payments must complete a new W-5 form for year 2001. In order for advance EIC payments to be effective with January paychecks, submit the W-5 form to payroll by 5 p.m. Jan. 19. To obtain a form, call ext. 3163.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21111 Processing Assist. III	Jan. 9
21113 Accounting Tech. II	Jan. 12
21114 Maintenance Mech. IV	Jan. 22
21115 Central Receiving Mgr.	Jan. 22
21116 Cashier II	Jan. 22
21117 Office Assistant III	Jan. 22
21118 Medical Records Assistant IV	Jan. 22
21119 General Utility Worker	Jan. 22

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Biology Professor Succumbs to Cancer

David G. Lindquist, a respected and popular professor in the Department of Biological Sciences, died Jan. 3.

"David was instrumental in forging the national reputation of the department and its Marine Science Program," said fellow professor David Padgett. "He will be missed by students and colleagues alike for the cheerful friendship and wise counsel he provided."

Lindquist

A native of southern California, Lindquist received a bachelor's degree from UCLA, a master's degree from California State University, Hayward and Moss Landing Marine Laboratories and a Ph.D. from the University of Arizona. Following his arrival at UNCW in 1975, Lindquist taught ichthyology and ecology of reef fishes, served as curator of the university's research/reference fish collection and was a senior Fulbright Research Scholar to Austria. During the past 20 years, his research involved natural and artificial reefs, and he was author or co-author of more than 90 scientific publications and three books.

He is survived by his wife of 27 years, Donna Bishop Lindquist, and two sons, Gregory David Lindquist and William James Lindquist, of the home.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Jan. 13 at St. Mark Catholic Church. The family will receive friends from 6 to 8 p.m. Jan. 12 at Andrews Mortuary, Market Street Chapel.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made in Lindquist's honor to UNCW Division for University Advancement in care of the David Lindquist Memorial Fund or the Lower Cape Fear Hospice, 725-A Wellington Avenue.

This is recyclable.

JEANINE M AKERS
REFERENCE/INSTRUCT LIBR/LECT
RANDALL LIBRARY

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 25 January 18, 2001 | Phillip Brown, editor

Award-winning Writer Richard Bausch to Hold Reading Jan. 25

Award-winning writer Richard Bausch will read from his work at 8 p.m. Jan. 25 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. This free event is sponsored by the Creative Writing Department and The King's Road A reception and book signing will follow in the lobby.

Bausch, who has written nine novels and seven short story collections, is the Heritage Chair in Writing at George Mason University. He is a visiting faculty member at UNCW. A recipient of the O. Henry Prize, the Best American Short Story Prize and an award in literature from the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters, Bausch was inducted into the Fellowship of Southern Writers.

Bausch's novels include The Last Good Time, Real Presence, Violence, Good Evening Mr. & Mrs. America and All the Ships at Sea. The Last Good Time was made into a motion picture starring Maureen Stapleton. His ninth novel, Hello to the Cannibals, is scheduled for release later this year. Bausch's collections of short stories include The Selected Stories of Richard Bausch, The Fireman's Wife and Other Stories, Spirits and Other Stories. Additionally, Bausch has published short stories in Esquire, The New Yorker and the anthology, Best American Short Stories. A collection of new and selected stories, Requisite Kindness, is scheduled for publication in 2003.

Developed to offer distinguished literary events to the Wilmington community, The King's Road Writers Series is made possible through funding from The King's Road. The next reading in the series will feature Albert Goldbarth Feb. 22.

Anthropologist Joseph Opala to Lecture on The Language You Cry In

Opala

Anthropologist Joseph Opala will present "The Language You Cry In: African-American Roots in Sierra Leone" at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Opala, who lived in Sierra Leone for more than 20 years, is known for his research on the Gullah connection, the historical thread linking Africans from Sierra Leone and other West African countries with the Gullah people of coastal South Carolina and Georgia and the black Seminole people in Oklahoma, Texas, Mexico and the Bahamas.

The 1998 documentary The Language You Cry In was based on his discovery of an ancient African song preserved by a family in coastal Georgia. Opala and his colleagues found a village in Sierra Leone where the same song is still being sung. In 1997, Opala took the Georgia family to Africa for a reunion.

A history professor at James Madison University, Opala taught at the Institute of African Studies from 1985 to 1991. He was also an adviser to the president of Sierra Leone on cultural policy.

Sponsors of this free presentation are Office of International Programs, the Office of the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and the Office of Campus Diversity.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Body Image Awareness

The pressure on college students, especially women, to look a certain way is one factor leading to a rise in eating disorders. To promote that health and beauty are not synonymous with being thin, Wellness Services and the Counseling Center will sponsor Mirror, Mirror on the Wall, a body image awareness week, Jan. 29 through Feb. 1. Scheduled events include:

- "Fairest Are They All: A Real Display of Beauty," 8 p.m. Jan. 29 Warwick Center Ballroom. Hosted by Nicole Hinson, a registered dietitian, this event includes a fashion show featuring UNCW models of various body types. Afterward, there will be a screening of the film Slim Hopes, which offers an in-depth analysis of how the female body is featured in advertising and how this depiction affects women's health.
- "Recovering Bodies, Recovering Selves," 7 p.m. Jan. 30 Cameron Hall Auditorium. Following the video Recovering Bodies, which features stories of college students and the pressures that lead to eating disorders, a panel of UNCW students will share their own experiences. Yael Gold, a psychologist with the university's Counseling Center, will moderate the discussion.
- Healing Arts Network, 7 p.m. Jan. 31 University Union, Room 101. Guest artists from the Healing Arts Network will illustrate how music, art and dance can help participants reconnect with their bodies.
- "Learning to Love the Bodies We Live In, 7 p.m. Feb. 1 Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite. An interactive body image workshop where participants take a personal look at the limiting messages they have internalized over time.

All of the events during Mirror, Mirror on the Wall are free and open to the public. Preregistration is required for "Learning to Love the Bodies We Live In." Call ext. 4137.

Randall Library Exhibit

The exhibit "I'm in an Awful Mood: Feeling the Blues" will be displayed through Feb. 28 in Randall Library. The exhibit, which spotlights the musical genre blues, features resources from the library's collection and memorabilia on loan from the Cape Fear Blues Society.

CMS Seminar

Graduate student Jason Hales will present "Tidal Exchange and Freshwater Inflow: Calabash Estuary, N.C." at 4 p.m. Jan. 19 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium.

Construction to Close Wrightsville Bridge

Repair work will close the Wrightsville Beach drawbridge from 11:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. Feb. 11-23 according to information from the N.C. Department of Transportation. During the closings, all vehicular traffic will be prohibited on the bridge; however, emergency vehicles will be able to use the bridge. Message signs will inform motorists of closings. For more information on this project, contact the bridge maintenance engineer at 251-5724.

Alumni Social

The UNCW Alumni Association will hold a "Chicken Pickin' Night" social from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Jan. 27 in the Hawk's Nest prior to the Seahawk men's basketball game against the College of William and Mary. For reservations, call ext. 2682.

NBA Bus Trip

Campus recreation is sponsoring a bus trip to watch the Charlotte Hornets play the Los Angeles Lakers Feb. 16. The cost is $30 per person and includes transportation, ticket, a Hornet's T-shirt and a $5 meal coupon. The bus will depart campus at 2 p.m. and return at approximately 3 a.m. Feb. 17. Faculty and staff can purchase tickets starting Jan. 29 at the Student Recreation Center. For more information, call ext. 7443.

King Commemoration

The Rev. Michael E. Dyson, best-selling author and DePaul University professor, will deliver UNCW's annual Martin Luther King, Jr., commemoration address at 7 p.m. Jan. 18 in Kenan Auditorium. UNCW's King commemoration is free and open to the public. Tickets are required and can be obtained from the Kenan Auditorium box office by calling ext. 3500.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Dana Sachs, creative writing, joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Jan. 18 and 25 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

Sachs will discuss The House on Dream Street: Memoir of an American Woman in Vietnam, which describes her two-year visit to that country.

Art Symposium

The symposium "Beyond Words: Art and Commemoration" will be held at 6 p.m. Jan. 25 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. The event features a panel discussion by Kemille Moore, chair of the UNCW Department of Art and Theatre, artist Virginia Wright-Frierson and Audrey Flack, an artist and writer from New York. This free presentation is sponsored by UNCW and St. John's Museum of Art.

Movie Makers Lecture

Actor David Andrews will present the fifth talk in the Movie Makers Lecture Series sponsored by the Film Studies Program at 1 p.m. Jan. 19 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. A 22-year film veteran, Andrews starred in four prime-time network series as well as the feature films Apollo 13 and Wyatt Earp. He portrays an FBI supervisor in Hannibal, a sequel to Silence of the Lambs.

Business Etiquette

Menu for Success

Tuesday, February 13
UNCW Madeline Suites
5:30 - 8:00pm

Preregistration Required. Tickets may be purchased for $20 at Career Services, 104 & 106 University Union. Limited number of spaces available, so register early. Deadline for ticket purchases: Tuesday, February 5th.

Hors d'oeuvre

Don't Slurp Your Soup

- Art of Mixing and Mingling
- Introductions & Handshakes

Entree

Business Dinner

Presented in Cooperation with UNCW Catering, ARAMARK

- Dining Do's & Don'ts
- Enjoy a Delicious Six Course Meal
- Practice Etiquette Skills
- Visit with Business Executives and UNCW Guests

Dessert

The New Business Etiquette

Special Participants' Handout With Hints for:

- Etiquette in Today's Work World
- Telephone Etiquette
- Business Attire- Dress & Casual
- Making Conversation
- Business Correspondence- Email, Snailmail, and Netequitte
- The Art of Listening
- International Guidelines

UNCW

Featuring Karen Thompson, Career Services Assistant Director and Certified Presenter in Business Protocol & Etiquette
Career Services • 104/106 University Union • 910.962.3174

UNCW

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

December 14, 2000

approved
8/1/2001

MEMORANDUM

TO: James R. Leutze
Chancellor

FROM: Nikki Howard
Assistant to the Chancellor for Compliance

Sam Connally
Assistant to the Chancellor for EPA Personnel Administration

SUBJECT: Salary Equity Study -- Executive Summary

The Offices of Internal Audit and Human Resources have completed a salary equity study by demographic group for University administrators, faculty, and professional non-faculty employees. The purpose of the study is to assure University community members that the University's salary equity relationships are free from adverse correlation to sex or race or to identify appropriate measures to correct any adverse correlation documented. Findings and recommendations are summarized below and detailed in the attached report.

Summary of Findings

We are pleased to report that salary relationships at UNC Wilmington are substantially free from adverse correlation to sex or race.

Administrators

- Among administrators, the salaries of women average 97.3% of the salaries of men -- compared to a national average for Comprehensive higher education institutions of 90%.
- Among administrators, the salaries of minorities average 105.3% of the salaries of non-minorities -- compared to a national average for Comprehensive institutions of 95%.

Faculty

- Among tenured & tenure-track faculty (weighted by discipline, but not rank), the salaries of women average 101% of the salaries of men -- compared to an AAUP published average of 75% (weighted by rank, but not by discipline).

OFFICE OF THE CHANCELLOR
601 SOUTH COLLEGE ROAD · WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28403-3297 · 910-962-3030 · FAX 910-962-4050

- Among tenured & tenure-track faculty (weighted by discipline, but not rank), the salaries of minorities average 98% of the salaries of non-minorities -- for which we have no external benchmark for comparison

Professional Non-Faculty

- Among professional non-faculty employees, the salaries of women average 96.5% of the salaries of men -- compared to an estimated national average for Comprehensive institutions of 90%

- Among professional non-faculty employees, the salaries of minorities average 99.6% of the salaries of non-minorities -- compared to an estimated national average for Comprehensive institutions of 95%.

EPA & Faculty Salary Increases for 2000-01

Salary increases for administrators, faculty, and professional non-faculty employees on the BD-119 averaged 6.0%. Increases among each demographic group also averaged 6.0%, demonstrating that salary increases were entirely free from adverse correlation to sex or race. [Four-year salary progression data were inconclusive and require more discrete study.]

Summary of Recommendations

No systemic corrective actions are required. Consistent with the rationale for undertaking the salary equity study, we submit the following recommendations for your consideration:

- Publish results of the salary equity study through appropriate venues to make University community members aware of current salary equity relationships.
- Conduct an annual salary equity study in conjunction with the EEO/AA Report -- copies of which are currently provided to senior officers and the Board of Trustees.
- Conduct an annual equity study of BD-119 increases, promotions, and labor market adjustments to be provided to senior officers

Study Limitations and Administrative Responsibility

This salary equity study does not represent an evaluation of individual salaries in relation to market values for individual positions. The study simply presents a statistical overview of the relationship between UNCW salary structures by complement and labor market data for that complement. Data may include salaries more than 10% below the prevailing market value for the demographic categories. In such instances, individual salary data will be provided to the Provost or division Vice Chancellor for evaluation. The initial establishment or adjustment of individual salaries in relation to market value or internal equity remains the exclusive responsibility of the Provost or the respective division Vice Chancellor.

If you concur in the recommendations above, please initial and return a copy of this memorandum -- or provide alternative guidance as appropriate. Thank you

cc Provost & Vice Chancellors

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Embers to Headline Homecoming Dance

The Embers will perform at the UNCW Alumni Association Homecoming Dance scheduled for 9 p.m. Jan. 27 in the Grand Ballroom of the Wilmington Hilton Riverside. Tickets are $15 per person and are available by calling alumni relations at ext. 2682.

MOMIX Performance

The MOMIX Dance Theatre will perform at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series.

A company of dancer-illusionists under the direction of Moses Pendleton, MOMIX conjures up a world of surrealistic images using props, lights, shadow, humor and the human body.

Tickets are on sale at the Kenan Auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. For more information, contact Shannon Hooker at ext. 7600.

Call for Nominations for Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees, which are granted by the faculty and trustees of UNCW, are the highest accolade the university can bestow on an individual who is not currently employed as a member of its faculty or staff. It is given to honor an individual who possesses outstanding qualities and talents, who has made exceptional contributions to the field of his or her endeavor and who exemplifies the highest standards of personal integrity and civic responsibility.

Nominations may be made at any time by any member of the university community. Forms are available at the Office of the Provost or the office of any academic dean or department. A single page supporting the candidate's qualifications should accompany the nomination form.

Additional information on the evaluation and approval process is available in the Faculty Handbook which is accessible on the World Wide Web at http://www.uncwil.edu/fac_handbook.

Applications for 2001-02 Student Media Managers

Faculty and staff are encouraged to announce that applications are available for top management positions at UNCW's student media - The Seahawk, WLOZ and Atlantis. These challenging, paid positions are open to UNCW students who are enrolled in good standing and offer strong resume-building experience. The term of service is May 2001 through April 2002. Applications and job descriptions are available at the Office of the Dean of Students, University Union, Room 209; The Seahawk office, University Union, Room 205; the University Union information desk; and the Departments of Art and Theatre, Communication Studies or English. Candidates should have aggressive marketing ideas, leadership skills and a dedication to producing responsible, high-quality programming. For more information, contact Bill Dinome, student media coordinator, at ext. 7138 or e-mail dinomew. Applications are due Feb. 5.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Yoko Kano, foreign languages and literatures, had the article "Cross-Cultural Discussions by Videoconferences" published in the annual journal of Mie University Educational Organization in Japan. The article was co-authored by Mitsuaki Hayase. Kano also presented "Creating Material and Courses on the Web for Foreign Language Teachers" at the American Council of Teachers of Foreign Languages in Boston.

Dale Cohen and Len Lecci, psychology, had the article "Using Magnitude Estimation to Investigate the Perceptual Components of Signal Detection Theory" accepted for publication in the journal Psychonomic Bulletin and Review.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, had the paper "A New Graphical Model for Proton NMR (De)shielding Over a Carbon-Carbon Double Bond to Replace the Shielding Cone Model" published in the International Journal of Molecular Sciences. It was co-authored by UNCW graduate Justin D. Brown. Martin presented the paper "Analysis of Calculated NMR Shieldings Near Selected Functional Groups" at the southeast/southwest regional meeting of the American Chemical Society in New Orleans. The paper was co-authored by UNCW graduate student Kimberly H. Nance, graduate Justin D. Brown and University of Georgia collaborators Paul V. R. Schleyer and Z. X. Wang. Martin presented the same paper at the Pacifichem2000 conference in Honolulu, where he chaired a session on physical and theoretical chemistry.

Moorad Alexanian, physics and physical oceanography, had a letter published in the January 2001 issue of American Physical Society News. It was in response to the articles "Creationism Versus Physical Science?" by science historian Stephen G. Brush and "Science and Religion Can Work Together" by physicist/writer Freeman Dyson that were published in the November 2000 APS News.

Marla Rice-Evans, advancement, was appointed to a three-year term to the New Hanover County Commission for Human Relations. The committee's focus is on discrimination and fair housing in the county.

William Cooper, chemistry, received $48,000 from the National Science Foundation to conduct a workshop/training session on the application of electron beam and other radiation processes in the treatment of drinking water.

David Blake, earth sciences, received $3,800 from the North Carolina Geological Survey for the project "Lithodemic and Dynamothermal Metamorphic Characterization of the Carolina and Raleigh Terranes in the Southwestern Henderson 7.5-Minute Quadrangle, North Carolina."

Karen Shafer, SMEC, received $19,848 from the N.C. School of Science/Math for the project "CyberInstructions; Content-Based Internet Instructional Activities."

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays

Financial Planning Seminar

The seminar "The Terrible Truth About Personal Finance" will be held from 10 a.m. to noon Jan. 26 in human resources. Conducted by Allen Clary, a certified consumer credit counselor, the session will teach participants to track expenses, set financial goals, distinguish between wants and needs and attain financial freedom. To register, contact Liz Grimes, human resources, at ext. 3274.

DAIN Billing On-line

January DAIN billing (long-distance service) will be available through e-Print starting Jan. 26. Bills will no longer be printed and mailed to departments. FRS users can view DAIN reports on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/eprint.html. This system allows users to view reports anytime and anywhere, to review previous month's reports and print only the pages needed. For more information, contact Gia Todd Long at ext. 3920.

Personal Vehicle Mileage Reimbursement Change

Effective Jan.1, the business standard mileage reimbursement rate for personal vehicles increased to 34.5 cents per mile. Travel prior to Jan. 1 will be reimbursed at 32.5 cents per mile. Direct questions to Betty Mills at ext. 3149 or Lucy Lopez at ext. 7504.

Tai Chi Classes

Wellness services will offer beginner and advanced tai chi classes at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. respectively, Mondays starting Jan. 22 in the Student Recreation Center training room. Tai chi, a series of slow, controlled movements, increases a person's balance, strength and flexibility. The cost is $25 for the semester. Pre-registration is required; call ext. 4137.

W-2 Distribution

In accordance with Internal Revenue Service regulations, 2000 W-2 forms will be distributed Jan. 31. Currently enrolled undergraduate students will receive their forms at their UNCW post office boxes, currently enrolled graduate students through their departments and permanent employees with their paychecks or direct deposit stubs. Forms for temporary employees and all others will be mailed to their permanent addresses. Note the distribution change for graduate students.

IRB Proposals Due Jan. 24

All new and continuing research with human subjects that will be carried out during the spring and summer semesters 2001 will be considered by the Institutional Review Board Feb. 2. Continuing research projects must be reviewed once a year. Faculty, students and staff who plan to conduct research must send one copy of their signed proposals to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, by Jan. 24. Proposal forms are available at the Office of Research Administration or can be downloaded from the office's World Wide Web page.

Earned Income Credit

Employees who are eligible for the earned income credit (EIC) and who would like to receive advance EIC payments must complete a new W-5 form for year 2001. In order for advance EIC payments to be effective with January paychecks, submit the W-5 form to payroll by 5 p.m. Jan. 19. To obtain a form, call ext. 3163.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Kathleen Fritz, financial aid and veterans services; Carrie Hoyle, purchasing services; Cynthia Lea, physical plant administration; Heather Mueller, university police; and Michael Rodaway, NURC.

SMB Seeks Student Representative

Applications are available for one student-at-large member to serve on the Student Media Board (SMB), a chancellor's advisory board that oversees UNCW's three official student media. As a member of the SMB, the representative will speak for the wider student body regarding operations of the student media. Students who are in good academic standing and who are not otherwise involved with student media are encouraged to apply. The term of service is for the spring semester. Membership is renewable. Faculty and staff should direct interested students to contact Bill Dinome, student media coordinator, at ext. 7138 or e-mail dinomew. Applications are due Feb. 8.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21114 Maintenance Mech. IV	Jan. 22
21115 Central Receiving Manager	Jan. 22
21116 Cashier II	Jan. 22
21117 Office Assistant III	Jan. 22
21118 Medical Records Assistant IV	Jan. 22
21119 General Utility Worker	Jan. 22
21123 Accounting Tech. II	Jan. 26
21124 Building Custodian	Jan. 26
21125 Office Assistant III	Jan. 26.

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Art Exhibits

The exhibit "Sandra Ginter, Tiles" featuring ceramic and drawings by Midwestern artist Sandra Ginter is on display in the Kenan Hall, Claude Howell Gallery.

"A Meeting Without Boundaries 2000" is on display through Feb. 28 at the Randall Library art wall and WHQR.

This is recyclable

ADINA R LACK
ARCHIVIST/SP COLLECT LIBRARIAN
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 26 January 25, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Excellent Churches Focus of Two-Year Study by UNCW Researchers

A groundbreaking, two-year nation-vide study based at UNCW has identified some 300 Protestant congregations and 300 Catholic parishes as examples of local church excellence.

"Churches like these are beacons of hope in a very confusing time when people are looking for moral guidance and a sense of belonging, of true community," said Paul Wilkes, director of the Parish/Congregation Study and professor of creative writing. "We went n search of excellence and found it in abundance."

Wilkes and his team of researchers combed the country looking for churches that "nurtured the spirit, velcomed and yet challenged, both preached and – more importantly – lived he Good News." Size or location, lenominational affiliation or lack of one vere not important, but a certain "habit of being" was.

"The churches we found are simply vonderful places to be. They not only ake care of their members and welcome he newcomer, but also reach out generously into the world. I was absolutely amazed with the abundance of goodness and greatness that was found," Wilkes said.

"There's a great hunger in our land for authentic spiritual experience and community. And the local church is still vhere most people look for spiritual nourishment and for guidance for their ives. An effective parish or congregaion feeds your soul, and you're in company with other people who are eekers, so it's a perfect combination. Our churches are a most underutilized natural and supernatural resource. They have roots in faith, in the community, in the lives of people. We're not using these role models enough."

Wilkes and his team compiled the list in consultation with many sources: pastoral and church institutes, scholars who study church life, ethnic and cultural groups, as well as religion writers and reporters.

These criteria, as well as information about the study and the forthcoming Pastoral Summit, are found at www.pastoralsummit.org

see Excellent Churches on Page 4

Paul Wilkes, center, and fellow researchers Marty Minchin, left, and Melanie Bruce conducted study of excellent churches. The map pinpoints the churches' locations.

Adult Day Care Relies on UNCW Connections

Coastal Adult Day Care is using its UNCW connections to benefit older adults in the greater Wilmington area.

The facility, founded by long-time university supporter Betty Ann Sanders, her husband Jack and daughter Jennifer, will provide a place where older adults who live at home can participate in therapeutic activities while receiving assistance with daily care.

"There is an acute need in our area, especially for adults who are incontinent or who suffer from dementia, for a caring, stimulating and enjoyable environment," said Sanders.

Before finalizing plans for the center, Sanders contacted several UNCW faculty members to discuss the venture.

"I want to make this facility the social model for adult day care centers," said Sanders. "I believe utilizing the expertise of UNCW faculty in several disciplines will accomplish this goal."

Sanders' plan to develop a "first-rate" organization was evident to Nelson Reid, chair of the Department of Social Work.

"It's clear that Betty Ann intends to run an exemplary organization," said Reid, who serves on the center's advisory board. "She looked to UNCW to provide expertise on the best practices and knowledge available (in working with older adults)."

In addition to Reid, Sanders sought advice from Virginia Adams, dean of the School of Nursing; Eleanor Covan, professor of sociology and director of gerontology; Lee Jackson, chair of the Psychology Department; and Dan Johnson, assistant professor in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The facility will work with a maximum of 16 clients which will allow for personal attention and one-on-one

See Adult Day Care on Page 4

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Creative Writing Lectures

Rebecca Lee, creative writing, will present "Short Stories and Essays in the Atlantic Monthly and Zoetrop" at 2 p.m. Jan. 30 in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Chemistry Symposium

The fifth annual UNCW Symposium on Chemistry and Biochemistry will be held Jan. 26-27 in Dobo Hall. Eleven noted chemists and biochemists will lecture on their areas of interest.

Symposium lectures start at 2:15 p.m. Jan. 26 and 9 a.m. Jan. 27 in Dobo Hall, Room 205. Poster presentations will be held both days. Jeffrey Wright, CMS, will deliver the symposium's keynote address at 7 p.m. Jan. 26 in Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite. For a complete list of participants and presentations, visit the World Wide Web site http://aa.uncwil.edu/chem/news/symp00/schedule.htm.

Film Series

The third annual Cape Fear International Film Series will screen six international films this semester. The French film 100% Arabica, about rai music in Paris, will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. Feb. 1 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - fried pork chops, pasta primavera, mashed potatoes with gravy, broccoli and cheese casserole, steamed carrots, spinach salad, Waldorf salad, assorted rolls, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - BBQ chicken, vegetable pot pie, macaroni and cheese, green beans, corn on the cob, cole slaw, potato salad, corn muffins and assorted desserts and beverages.

Buffet menus are $4.50 for all you care to eat and are available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest Glassroom.

MarineQuest Programs

The MarineQuest Odyssey Program, sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, is offering a wide variety of presentations and excursions for adults this semester.

Lectures include:

"A Closer Look: Sea Under the Scope," hands-on laboratory activities and experiments for landlubbers who want a closer look at marine life, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Feb. 27 MarineQuest Lab. The cost is $15.

"The Real Water Quality Issues in Southeastern North Carolina with Dr. Larry Cahoon," 10 a.m. March 1. The cost is $8.

"Thirty Years Under the Sea with PBS Underwater Filmmaker Bill Lovin," 10:30 a.m. March 8. The cost is $22 and includes lunch.

"Environmental Series: Contemporary Problems and Solutions with Dr. Fritz Kaupran," 11:45 a.m. March 15, 22 and 29. Participants must register for the entire series. The cost is $48 with lunches or $27 without lunches.

The deadline to register for the above presentations is Feb. 20. Call ext. 2460.

UNCW Homecoming

UNCW celebrates Homecoming Saturday recognizing graduates from 1970 through 1979 as well as Delta Upsilon and Zeta Tau Alpha alumni.

A pregame social will be held at 5 p.m. in the Hawk's Nest, and the homecoming game against William and Mary begins at 7 p.m. in Trask Coliseum. After the game, the alumni association will host a dance at the Wilmington Hilton Riverside featuring The Embers.

For a complete schedule of events, visit the alumni website at www.uncwil.edu/alumni or call ext. 2682.

Tickets Sold Out

Tickets for the NBA bus trip sponsored by campus recreation are sold out.

Talent Showcase

UNCW's Protégé and Leader Program will present a "Showcase of Talent" at 7 p.m. April 3 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Auditions, which are open to faculty, staff and students, will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 4 in the Warwick Center and 7 p.m. Feb. 5 in the University Union, Room 201. For more information, contact Daphne Watkins at ext. 5626.

Spring Soccer School

The UNCW Soccer Program will hold a spring soccer school for boys and girls ages six to 14 from March 12-16. The camp will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to noon Friday. The cost is $200 per child and includes lunch and a T-shirt. Faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. For more information, contact Paul Cairney at ext. 3932.

History Lecture

Anthony Oberschall, professor of sociology at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "From Ethnic Cooperation to Violence and War in Bosnia" at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 29 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. This talk is sponsored by the Departments of History and Sociology and Criminal Justice as part of the War and Civilization Lecture Series.

Poetry Workshop

The N.C. Poetry Society, in conjunction with the Creative Writing Department, will hold a poetry workshop from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Feb. 24. Advance registration is required to attend. The cost is $15 for society members, $25 for non-members. Send one or two poems and a check made payable to the N.C. Poetry Society to L. Adams, 1413 Buckingham Avenue, Wilmington, N.C. The registration deadline is Feb. 5.

Opala Lecture

Anthropologist Joseph Opala will present "The Language You Cry In: African-American Roots in Sierra Leone" at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

UNCW©

University of North Carolina at Wilmington

Current UNCW Plan for the Expenditure of Funds Provided by the University/Community College Bond

Introduction

On Nov. 7, 2000, North Carolina voters overwhelmingly supported the $3.1-billion Higher Education Facilities Bond for the UNC and Community College systems. UNC Wilmington's share of this bond, which totals approximately $108.1 million, will be used for building construction and renovation and infrastructure improvement. Celebration within the university system quickly turned to the development of a plan to expend these funds in the most efficient and effective manner. A description of this planning process follows along with information about how the campus community will be able to stay informed as these projects take shape. The initial plan, developed during the last two months, can be found on the following three pages. This plan represents only the first step in a long and difficult process - a process that will affect every member of the campus community for the next several years.

Finally, without the support of the people of North Carolina, many of these projects would have remained on the drawing board for years to come. Because of their confidence in North Carolina's higher education systems, we now have the opportunity to more effectively meet the changing needs of the society we serve.

Process Used to Create Plan

The University's Facilities Committee was given the task of creating a plan for sequencing bond-funded projects. This committee, which reports to the chancellor, consists of the following representatives from each of the university's six divisions:

Bob Fry, university planning and committee chair

Paul Hosier, academic affairs

Sharon Boyd, business affairs

Richard Scott, business affairs

David Dodd, information technology systems

Bruce Ragon, public services and extended education

Carolyn Farley, student affairs

Tyrone Rowell, university advancement

Roman Kolodij, architecture and construction

Todd Manning, architecture and construction

Michael Bianco, architecture and construction

Beginning in mid-November, this group began reviewing bond-funded projects using information provided by the UNC Office of the President (OP). In most cases, the model used by the OP predetermines the length of the planning and construction periods of each project. Since planning for the School of Education is already completed, this project was logically chosen as the first UNCW construction project. As a result, the university plans to break ground on this facility during the fouth quarter of this calendar year. On Jan. 19, the Board of Trustees approved staff recommendations for architects on four projects - final architect selection takes place in Raleigh during the next several months. With respect to renovations, it was decided that all buildings would be vacated while these projects are completed. The committee recommended and the chancellor and vice chancellors approved the concept of using modular facilities as temporary offices for displaced personnel. In addition, the first floor of Hoggard Hall will be used as temporary office space at points during the next few years. Significant logistical problems will be associated with all projects. To help the committee in this area, Robert Russell from the provost's office has been added to the above group. In addition to his normal duties, Russell will serve as project manager for the multitude of logistical issues related to the bond-funded projects. In this role he will report to the University Planning Office and will be a major contributor to the university's facilities World Wide Web site.

Continuing Information about Bond-Funded Projects

The Campus Communiqué and other news sources including the Seahawk and UNCW-TV will publish stories and announcements as the university begins to fully implement the plan shown on the following pages. In addition, a "university facilities" Web site has been created to carry information about various facets of the bond projects. The address of this site is http://www.uncwil.edu/facilities/. Your comments and suggestions will help the committee fully develop this and other facilities-related information sources.

Project Name	Amount	Location	Begin Date	End Date
School of Education Building	$18,725,000	North of Dobo Hall	October 2001	March 2003

This facility is designed as an 80,500-square-foot, three-story building reflective of the surrounding campus architecture. In addition to the school of education, it will house the Office of Service to Public Schools, UNCW's large complement of N.C. Teaching Fellows, the Principal Fellows Program, the Professional Development System serving 10 school districts in southeastern North Carolina, the Center for Teaching Excellence, the Curriculum Materials Center, the Science and Math Education Center, and other support and outreach activities.

Creative Arts Academic and Classroom Facilities	$33,032,100	To Be Determined	January 2003	June 2005

This building will house six academic disciplines in the Departments of Art and Theatre (art, theatre and dance), Music, Creative Writing and Film Studies. The departments and programs will share and have dedicated academic space, including classrooms, seminar rooms, a distance learning facility, computer labs, a film editing lab, practice and rehearsal rooms and performance and exhibit venues.

General Classroom Building	$12,647,00	To Be Determined	July 2003	December 2004

Additional classroom space and faculty offices are needed for the growing number of students in the Cameron School of Business and several other academic programs.

King Hall Classroom Building - Comprehensive Renovation	$2,697,400		October 2003	September 2004

This building will undergo major renovation in preparation for use by the Departments of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice and the Museum Studies Program. Renovation will include the addition of a central fire alarm and sprinkler system, replacement of fixed furniture, abatement of hazardous materials and upgrade of the building's electrical system for increased computer use.

Hoggard, Alderman and James Hall Projects

All of these buildings will be renovated to meet current construction codes. A major portion of the cost for upgrading these facilities is in the modernization of heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems. Alarm and fire suppression systems will be installed, and hazardous materials (asbestos, lead paint, etc.) used in the original construction will be eliminated. The current communications network (voice and data) will be replaced allowing occupants access to higher speed services.

Hoggard Hall Classroom Building - Comprehensive Renovation	$3,550,400		July 2004	June 2005

This building currently houses the School of Nursing and a large portion of the Information Technology Systems Division. The School of Nursing will be relocated to Friday Hall and Hoggard's floor plan will be updated to meet campus computing and administrative needs.

Alderman Hall - Comprehensive Renovation	$2,940,800		July 2007	June 2008

The floor plan will be updated to meet current administrative needs.

Hinton James Classroom Building - Comprehensive Renovation	$1,468,000		July 2006	June 2007

This building currently houses Admissions, Registrar, Financial Aid, Summer School, Enrollment Affairs, Student Accounts and Cashier offices. Infrastructure renovation is needed on the HVAC system and computer and telecommunication networks.

Westside Hall Classroom Building - Comprehensive Renovation	$2,687,300		January 2003	December 2003

Westside Hall will be renovated to meet current construction codes. Heating, air conditioning and other infrastructure systems have not been converted from the original cafeteria floor plan to the current office configuration. As a result, a major portion of the upgrade costs will be put into infrastructure modernization. Alarm and fire suppression systems will also be installed and hazardous materials used in the original construction will be eliminated. The current communications network will be replaced.

ject Name	Amount	Location	Begin Date	End Date
nan Hall Classroom Building - mprehensive Renovation	$3,056,600		July 2005	June 2006

ıan Hall requires significant modernization and reconfiguration as it use changes. The HVAC system in Kenan Hall will be added .n existing campus chilled water loop. A central fire alarm and sprinkler system will be installed and hazardous materials will be ted during the renovation process. The building's electrical system will be renovated for increased computer technology.

day Hall Laboratory Building - mprehensive Renovation	$7,693,400		July 2005	June 2006

ıovations will include replacement of the HVAC system, central fire alarm and sprinkler systems, asbestos abatement, upgrading of ɔratory spaces and overall reconfiguration of space for offices and classrooms. Rewiring in some areas of the building is proposed enhanced computer use.

nan Auditorium - Comprehensive Renovation	$3,095,300		July 2005	June 2006

: Sarah Graham Kenan Auditorium is in a state of extreme wear due to heavy usage by the university and community. Engineering ly is now underway to determine if this facilty can be upgraded and expanded. Currently, many areas of this building are in need of ɛnsive renovation. In addition, handicapped access, lighting and safety upgrades will be included. Due to the date of original struction, this building also requires asbestos removal.

rine Sciences Center - Operations Facility	$2,929, 600	Myrtle Grove	October 2003	September 2004

s building will house all operations personnel and functions for the Center for Marine Science, some of which are still housed at Wrightville Beach site. Additional faculty and administrative offices will be included in this structure, as well as a marine mammal ropsy facility, machine shop, operations equipment repair and storage for all sea-going diving operations.

ıdemic Support Facilities and Computing Center	$3,385,900	Hoggard Addition	July 2003	June 2004

s facility will provide faculty and graduate students with high-end technology, network capabilities, technical support and simula- ı and production capabilities. The availability of shared resources on a prioritized research and production schedule will provide a t-effective means of supporting research and scholarship with essential high quality, high speed technologies. This facility will be structed as an addition to Hoggard Hall. This decision was based on minimizing the cost of relocating the existing telecommunica- ı infrastructure and maximizing the size of the facility that will be built with bond dollars.

nt Shop Expansion	$400,000		October 2002	March 2003

ıting functions will be expanded to accommodate campus growth, user needs, and the expanded use of technology in the printing process.

rehouse Expansion	$800,000		January 2003	December 2003

rehouse will be expanded to accommodate university growth and need for storage of academic and administrative materials.

rastructure Expansion	$1,775,000		Continuous accommodate the projected enrollment growth of the university, UNCW's roads, sidewalks, drainage, water distribution and gas ribution systems will be expanded and enhanced.

ıd Aquisition	$2, 100,000		Purchase in 2001

ty-nine acres adjoining the Center for Marine Science will be purchased to expand the university's marine science programs, and CW will purchase approximately one acre of land adjacent to the southern most College Road entrance to the university campus.

mary Electrical Distribution System Improvements	$2,238,200		Continuous ch of the existing electrical distribution system on campus consists of direct buried cable, which must be replaced due to deteriora- ı. In addition, the system will be expanded significantly to accommodate the university's projected physical growth.

:hnology Infrastructure Expansion	$2,949,000		Continuous

ıds will upgrade the campus information technology infrastructure for networking and central computing services. Several critical networking ments will be used to connect new facilities to the university's data and telecommunications systems. New routers, switches and additional integrated working locations will be installed. With these resources in place, UNCW will be able to maintain its commitment to "universal access."

Total	$108,171,000

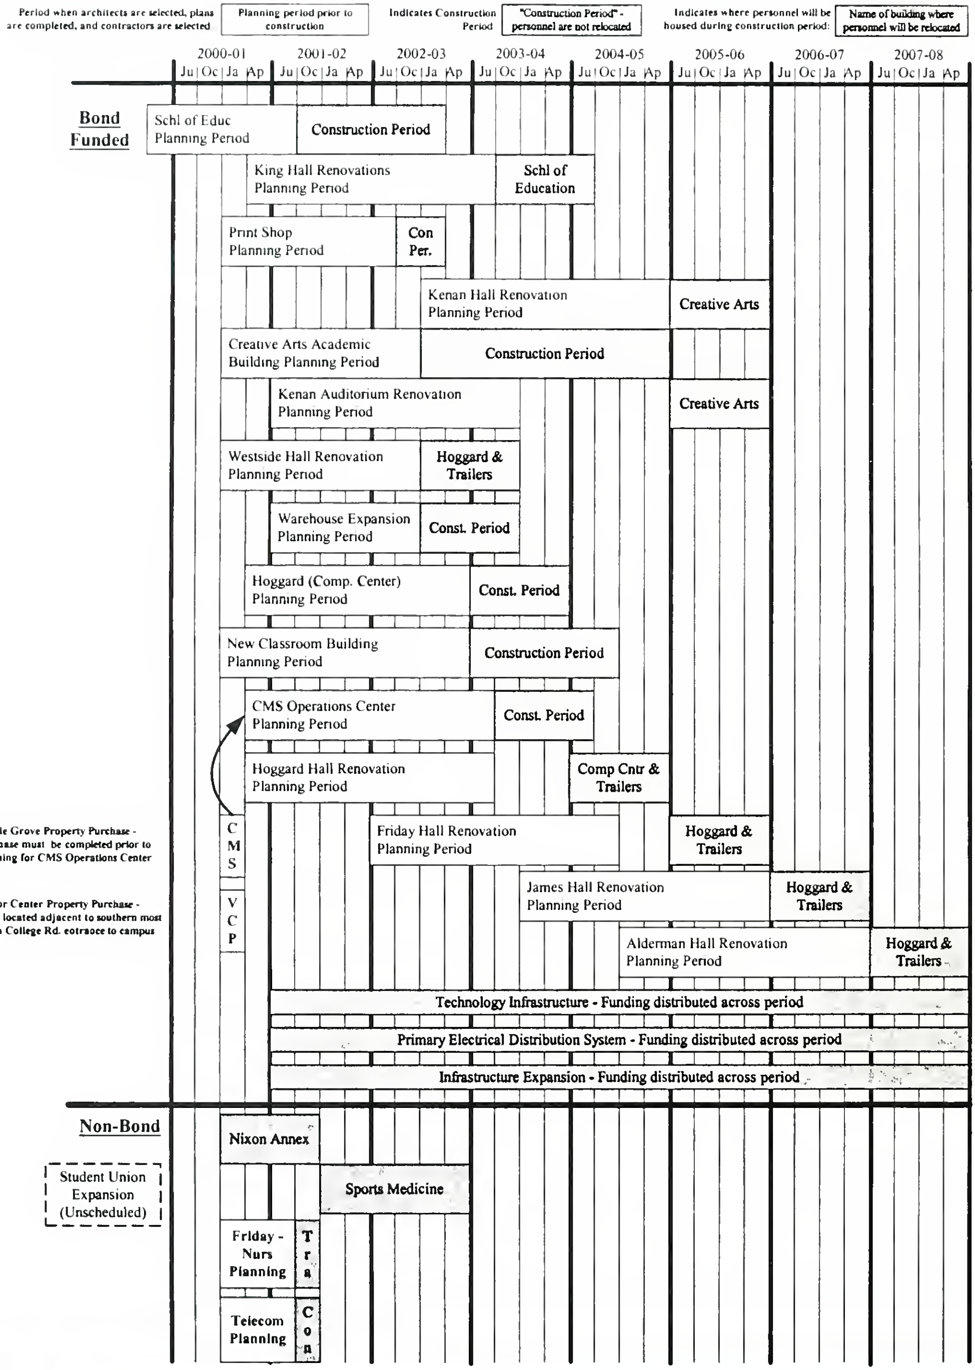
UNC Wilmington
Construction and Renovation Sequencing for Projects Funded with Bond Funds



Myrtle Grove Property Purchase - Purchase must be completed prior to Planning for CMS Operations Center

Visitor Center Property Purchase - Land located adjacent to southern most South College Rd. entrance to campus

UNCW©

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

January 24, 2001

To all UNCW faculty and staff,

As our university community continues to grow and prosper, so must each department to fit our needs. It is our plan at UNCW Postal Services to also grow and provide our campus with options to improve mail services.

The U.S. Postal Service has recently assigned zip-plus-4 numbers to our campus community including every department or mail stop and future departments (see reverse). We will all share our main zip code 28403, but the plus-4 is a specific and unique four-digit number assigned to each department. The plus-4 will accompany the address on all envelopes, letterhead, business cards, incoming mail and inter-campus correspondence identifying that specific department. We are asking your assistance in using the new zip-plus-4 service as it will help UNCW postal services process mail in a more efficient and productive manner and get your mail to you without delay. In the near future, we hope to add automated sorting by zip-plus-4 to further speed things up.

Example mailing address:
University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Postal Services
601 South College Road
Wilmington, NC 28403-5608

example inter-campus mail:
post office - 5608

We understand there will be a transition period and would ask all departments to deplete their supply of addressed paper products, when reordering please include their assigned zip-plus-4.

It is UNCW postal services' ongoing goal to develop new and improved mail services to provide more effective and efficient ways to process mail for our UNCW community.

If you have questions or concerns, please call me at extension #3182

Doris Moore

Doris Moore, manager UNCW Postal Services

POSTAL SERVICES

601 SOUTH COLLEGE ROAD · WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28403-5608 · 910-962-3182 · FAX 910-962-3693

ZIP-PLUS-FOUR

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS	28403-5900
ACCOUNTANCY AND BUSINESS LAW	28403-5901
ACCOUNTING	28403-5902
ACCOUNTS PAYABLE	28403-5903
ADMISSIONS	28403-5904
ADVANCEMENT	28403-5905
ALUMNI RELATIONS	28403-5906
ANTHROPOLGY	28403-5907
APPLICATION SERVICES (ITAS)	28403-5908
ARA	28403-5909
ARCHITECTURE & CONSTRUCTION	28403-5910
ART & THEATRE	28403-5911
ARTS & SCIENCES (CAS)	28403-5912
ATHLETICS	28403-5913
AUXILLIARY SERVICES.ADM	28403-5914
BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES	28403-5915
BOOKSTORE	28403-5916
BUDGET OFFICE	28403-5917
BUSINESS AFFAIRS (VCBA)	28403-5918
BUSINESS APPLICATIONS DEPT	28403-5919
CAMERON SCHOOL OF BUSINESS	28403-5920
CAMPUS ACTIVITIES	28403-5922
CAMPUS RECREATION	28403-5923
CAREER SERVICES	28403-5924
CARRIAGE HOUSE	28403-5925
CASHIER-STUDENT ACCOUNTS	28403-5926
CENTRAL STORES	28403-5921
CENTER FOR MARINE SCIENCE RESEARCH-(WB)	28403-5927
CENTER FOR MARINE SCIENCE(CMS) (MG)	28403-5928
CENTER FOR UNDERSEA RESEARCH (NURC)	28403-5929
CENTER FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE	28403-5930
CHANCELLOR	28403-5931
CHEMISTRY	28403-5932
COMMUNICATION STUDIES	28403-5933
COMPTROLLER	28403-5934
COMPUTER SCIENCE	28403-5935
COMPUTER SERVICES (OIT)	28403-5619
COPY CENTER	28403-5936
COUNSELING CENTER	28403-5937
CREATIVE WRITING	28403-5938
CROSSROADS	28403-5939
CURRICULAR STUDIES	28403-5940
DEAN OF STUDENTS	28403-5941
DISABILITY SERVICES	28403-5942
DISCOVER OUTDOOR PROGRAMS	28403-5943
EARTH SCIENCE	28403-5944
ECONOMICS & FINANCE	28403-5945
EDUCATION-LAB	28403-5946
ENGLISH	28403-5947
ENROLLMENT AFFAIRS	28403-5948
ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES	28403-5949
FILM STUDIES	28403-5950
FINANCIAL AID-VETERANS SERVICES	28403-5951
FINANCIAL REPORTING-FIXED ASSETS	28403-5952
FINANCIAL SYSTEMS DEPARTMENT	28403-5953
FOREIGN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE	28403-5954
GRADUATE SCHOOL	28403-5955
HPER	28403-5956
HISTORY	28403-5957
HONORS PROGRAM	28403-5958
HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE	28403-5959
HUMAN RESOURSES	28403-5960
INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SYSTEMS (VCITS)	28403-5961
INSTITUTE FOR POLITICAL LEADERSHIP	28403-5962
INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH	28403-5963
INTERNAL AUDIT	28403-5964
INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS	28403-5965
KENAN AUDITORIUM	28403-5966
LEADERSHIP CENTER	28403-5967
LEARNING CENTER	28403-5968
MANAGEMENT & MARKETING	28403-5969
MATHEMATICS & STATISTICS	28403-5970
CAMPUS DIVERSITY	28403-5971
MUSEUM OF WORLD CULTURES	28403-5972
MUSIC	28403-5975
NURSING	28403-5995
OFFICE OF SUPPORT SERVICES	28403-5996
ORIENTATION	28403-5997
PAYROLL	28403-5998
PARKING	28403-5999
PHARMACY	28403-5600
PHILOSPHY & RELIGION	28403-5601
PHYSICAL PLANT ADMINISTRATION	28403-5602
PHYSICAL PLANT HOUSEKEEPING	28403-5603
PHY.PLANT LANDSCAPE SERVICES	28403-5604
PHY.PLANT MAINTENANCE	28403-5605
PHYSICS & PHYSICAL OCEANOGRAPHY	28403-5606
POLITICAL SCIENCE	28403-5607
POSTAL SERVICES	28403-5608
PRE-ENGINEERING	28403-5609
PRINTING SERVICES	28403-5610
PROJECT DESIGN AND MANAGEMENT	28403-5620
DEPT.OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT	28403-5611
PSYCHOLOGY	28403-5612
PUBLIC SERVICE (VCPS)	28403-5613
PUBLIC SERVICE & EXT. EDUCATION	28403-5614
PURCHASING	28403-5615
RANDALL LIBRARY	28403-5616
READING RECOVERY	28403-5617
REGISTRAR	28403-5618
RESEARCH ADMINISTRATION	28403-5973
SAFETY	28403-5974
SCIENCE & MATH EDUCATION CENTER	28403-5976
SMALL BUSINESS & TECH DEV CENTR (SBTDC)	28403-5977
SOCIOLOGY	28403-5978
SOCIAL WORK	28403-5979
SPECIALITY STUDIES	28403-5980
STUDENT ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROG	28403-5981
STUDENT AFFAIRS (VCSA)	28403-5982
STUDENT DEVELOPMENT	28403-5983
STUDENT GOVERNMENT (SGA)	28403-5984
STUDENT HEALTH	28403-598
TEACHING FELLOWS	28403-598
TELECOMMUNICATIONS	28403-598
UNIVERSITY UNION	28403-598
UNIVERSITY POLICE	28403-598
UNIVERSITY ADVANCEMENT	28403-599
WATSON SCHOOL OF EDUCATION	28403-599
WELLNESS SERVICES	28403-599
WISE HOUSE / ALUMNI RELATIONS	28403-599
WRITING/READING PLACE	28403-599

Pursuit of Happiness

Robert Thurman, professor and author, will present "The Pursuit of Real Happiness: The Dalai Lama's Ethical Revolution" at 7 p.m. Feb. 13 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Thurman, the Jey Tsong Khapa chair in Indo-Tibetan studies at Columbia University, is the author of Inner Revolution: Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Real Happiness.

Leadership Film

The film Erin Brockovich will be shown at 7 p.m. Jan. 30 in the University Union, Union Station as part of the Leadership Center Film Series. Karen Sandell, social work, will moderate a discussion about the leadership aspects of the film. For more informat

Alice in Wonderland

UNCW S.T.A.G.E. Company will present Alice in Wonderland Jan. 26-28 and Feb. 2-4 in the Kenan Hall SRO Theatre. This adaptation of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland boasts 20 colorful characters. Show times are 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays with 2 p.m. matinees Saturdays and Sundays. Tickets, available at the door, are $3 for students and children under 12 and $5 for all others. For more information, call 343-3440.

Randall Library Exhibit

The exhibit "I'm in an Awful Mood: Feeling the Blues" will be displayed through Feb. 25 in Randall Library. The exhibit, which spotlights the musical genre "blues," features resources from the library's collection and memorabilia on loan from the Cape Fear Blues Society.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Dana Sachs, creative writing, joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Jan. 25 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. Sachs will discuss The House on Dream Street: Memoir of an American Woman in Vietnam, which describes her two-year visit to that country.

Construction to Close Wrightsville Bridge

Repair work will close the Wrightsville Beach drawbridge from 11:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. Feb. 11-23 according to information from the N.C. Department of Transportation. During the closings, all vehicular traffic will be prohibited on the bridge; however, emergency vehicles will be able to use the bridge. Message signs will inform motorists of closings. For more information on this project, contact the bridge maintenance engineer at 251-5724.

Art Symposium

The symposium "Beyond Words: Art and Commemoration" will be held at 6 p.m. Jan. 25 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. The event features a panel discussion by Kemille Moore, chair of the UNCW Department of Art and Theatre, artist Virginia Wright-Frierson and Audrey Flack, an artist and writer from New York. This free presentation is sponsored by UNCW and St. John's Museum of Art. It is held in conjunction with the museum's display "Virginia Wright-Frierson: 2000, A Year in Paintings" on display through Feb. 11.

Leadership Wilmington Alumni Award

Nominations for the Leadership Wilmington Alumni of the Year Award will be accepted through Jan. 31. Nominees for the award, sponsored by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, must be a Leadership Wilmington graduate, must have made significant contributions to the enhancement of the community through inspirational and visionary leadership and must have contributed to developing leaders within the community. Nomination forms are available from Annette Coneglio Anderson at ext. 3547 or Diana Corbett, 762-2611 ext. 213. The award will be presented March 27.

Body Image Awareness

The pressure on college students, especially women, to look a certain way is one factor leading to a rise in eating disorders. To promote that health and beauty are not synonymous with being thin, Wellness Services and the Counseling Center will sponsor Mirror, Mirror on the Wall, a body image awareness week, Jan. 29 through Feb. 1. Scheduled events include:

"Fairest Are They All: A Real Display of Beauty," 8 p.m. Jan. 29 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Hosted by Nicole Hinson, a registered dietitian, this event includes a fashion show featuring UNCW models of various body types. Afterward, there will be a screening of the film Slim Hopes, which offers an in-depth analysis of how the female body is featured in advertising and how this depiction affects women's health.

"Recovering Bodies, Recovering Selves," 6 p.m. Jan. 30 Cameron Hall Auditorium. Following the video Recovering Bodies, which features stories of college students and the pressures that lead to eating disorders, a panel of UNCW students will share their own experiences. Yael Gold, a psychologist with the university's Counseling Center, will moderate the discussion.

Healing Arts Network, 8 p.m. Jan. 31 University Union, Room 101. Guest artists from the Healing Arts Network will illustrate how music, art and dance can help participants reconnect with their bodies.

"Learning to Love the Bodies We Live In, 7 p.m. Feb. 1 Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite. An interactive body image workshop where participants will take a personal look at the limiting messages that they have internalized over time.

All of the events during Mirror, Mirror on the Wall are free and open to the public. Preregistration is required for "Learning to Love the Bodies We Live In." Call ext. 4137.

Excellent Churches continued from Page 1

The Parish/Congregation Study was funded by a $190,000 grant from the Lilly Endowment, the largest humanities grant received to date by the university.

Results of the study will be featured in two books by Paul Wilkes: Excellent Catholic Parishes: The Guide to Best Places and Practices (Paulist Press, published in February) and Excellent Protestant Congregations: The Guide to Best Places and Practices (Westminster John Knox, published in April). Not only will the excellent churches be included in an annotated, state-by-state index in the books, a representative group of parishes and churches are profiled, giving an in-depth look at their approaches.

A "virtual tour" of the profiled parishes and churches is available at www.pastoralsummit.org, and the complete list will be available on the Internet after the books are published.

"This study is an effort to show that excellent churches thrive in all settings: rural, urban, suburban areas," said Wilkes, who is the author of 15 books, mostly on religious belief and practice. "This study holds them up as possible, attainable models of what every church can be. While we hear there is a shortage of ordained priests in the Catholic church and declining numbers in mainstream Protestantism, the only scarcity is in imagination, openness to the changing role and potential of lay people – and faith.

"We want people to visit these excellent churches when they're on the road or moving to a new locale and to see how good these 'homes for the soul' really can be. We want a certain 'benign contagion' to sweep this land, based in local churches."

As a follow-up to the Parish/Congregation Study and Wilkes' two books, there will be an opportunity for churches to learn from the leaders of these excellent churches at the Pastoral Summit, May 30-June 1 in New Orleans. This first-ever national gathering of Protestants and Catholics focused exclusively on the local church will feature some of the country's most dynamic and innovative pastors and lay leaders, many featured in Wilkes' books.

Adult Day Care continued from Page 1

therapy, said Jennifer Sanders, program director of Coastal Adult Day Care. "Each client will have an individualized plan."

As activity director, UNCW graduate Beth Grooms will coordinate each client's program.

"My job is to plan and build activities for clients that meet their physical, emotional and mental needs. We'll be looking at a variety of methods such as pet therapy or intergenerational activities involving visits from children. Programs will be individually focused and goal-oriented to help each person function at his or her maximum level."

Grooms, who was named the Most Outstanding Therapeutic Recreation Student for fall 2000, is working on a post-baccalaureate certificate in gerontology at UNCW.

She said the professional training, knowledge and skills she received at UNCW would benefit the center's clients.

In addition to activities for older adults, Grooms said the center would hold weekly sessions with clients' caregivers and families to provide emotional support. The center will also take clients on alternating Friday nights and Saturdays to provide time off for caregivers.

Involving the family and offering respite for caregivers is needed in this type of facility, said Covan.

"Incorporating evening hours and Saturday care evolved from my discussions with Betty Ann," said Covan. "For older adults, especially those suffering from memory impairment, it's easier to leave them for care in a setting that's familiar. Most people want to live at home. Adult day care allows a spouse to tend for a partner and still get occasional relief."

The collaboration and cooperation between UNCW and Coastal Adult Day Care is a wonderful example of the university's significance in the region, said Sanders.

"UNCW's commitment to community involvement is important," said Sanders. "We're fortunate that Chancellor Leutze and the university seek opportunities to help the citizens of southeastern North Carolina. Through teaching and research, UNCW can have a powerful impact on improving the quality of life in the Cape Fear region."

Sanders said faculty and students would benefit through proposed research projects and internships conducted at the center.

"Students will have an enormous opportunity to learn about the impact of aging," said Reid. "With regard to social work, students will work with family members to determine other services that the client needs. They will also learn about the economic and emotional effects of families caring for older adults and have input in the on-going development and planning of programs." Students enrolled in SOC 336 "Sociology of Aging" will use the center for the service learning project Time Slips, a storytelling recreational activity for people with dementia and/or memory impairment.

The Gerontology Program will host an open house for faculty, staff and students at Coastal Adult Day Care from 1 to 3 p.m. Jan. 31. The facility is located at 5919 Oleander Drive. For more information on the center, call 799-8818.

Art Exhibit

The exhibit "Sandra Ginter, Tiles" featuring ceramic and drawings by Midwestern artist Sandra Ginter is on display in the Kenan Hall, Claude Howell Gallery.

This is recyclable.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Virginia Stewart, history, received 3,000 from the National Trust for istoric Preservation for the project Wilmington Heritage Cemeteries reservation Planning."

James Merritt, CMS, received the ollowing funding to support the Lower ape Fear River Program: $7,500 from ccidental Chemical, $1,500 from the right Corporation and $1,500 each rom the towns of Belville, Burgaw, ount Olive and Southport.

Christopher Dumas and Pete Schuhmann, economics and finance, received $53,666 from the PEW Charitable Trust for the project "Regulation of Pelagic Longline Fishing."

S. Albert Abrons, Student Health Center, was re-elected to the North Carolina Academy of Family Physicians, which is a constituent chapter of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Larry Cahoon, biological sciences, received $24,860 from Ciencia Inc. to assist with developing a benthic fluorometer.

Alexandra Sargent, art and theatre, and Sherman Hayes, Randall Library, had the article "Costuming Resources Woven into the World Wide Web" published in the fall 2000 issue of Theatre Design & Technology.

Mike Perko, HPER, had the following articles published: "The Influence of Significant Others on Attitudes, Subjective Norms and Intentions regarding Dietary Supplement Use Among Adolescents" in the Journal of Adolescence, "Giving New Meaning to the Term 'Taking One for the Team': Influences on Use/Non-Use of Dietary Supplements Among Adolescent Athletes" in the Journal of American Health Studies and "Hey Coach, Does this Stuff Work? Legal Implications of Recommending Dietary Supplements" in Strategies. Perko also presented "Towards a Standardized Definition of Sport Nutritional Products: Results of a National Delphi Study" with Geoffrey Zuckerman, a student in HPER, at the N.C. Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance conference in Greensboro.

Eleanor Covan, sociology and criminal justice, was named a fellow for the Association of Gerontology in Higher Education.

Celebrating Black History in Film and Music

Join Helena Lee and Grenoldo Frazier as UNCW celebrates Black History in film and music in February. All events are free and open to the public.

Lee, director of the university's Upperman African-American Cultural Center, will host a film screening and discussion at 2 p.m. Thursdays in the University Union, Room 208.

Frazier, a respected musician and writer, will perform a musical revue covering major eras in black music at 7 p.m. every Tuesday in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Cafe.

2 p.m. Feb. 1
Carmen Jones - A musical based upon the opera Carmen, starring Dorothy Dandridge, Harry Belafonte, Pearl Bailey and Diahann Carroll

7 p.m. Feb. 6
Musical Beginnings to 1900

2 p.m. Feb. 8
Purlie Victorious - Based on the 1961 stage play of the same name, this film stars Robert Guillaume, Melba Moore and Sherman Helmsley

7 p.m. Feb. 13
Minstrel, Blues and Swing

2 p.m. Feb. 15
Say Amen, Somebody - A celebration of gospel music captured on film

7 p.m. Feb. 20
Swing, Be-Bop, Gospel and Hollywood

2 p.m. Feb. 22
The Wiz - A musical adaptation of L. Frank Baum's The Wizard of Oz starring Lena Horne, Michael Jackson, Richard Pryor, Diana Ross and Nipsey Russell

7 p.m. Feb. 27
Decades of Rock 'n' Roll, Motown and R&B

NAACP Heritage Ball

The seventh annual NAACP Heritage Ball, sponsored by the UNCW Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 9 in the Hawk's Nest, University Union.

Tickets are $12 per person in advance, $15 on the day of the event and are on sale at the University Union Information Desk. Formal attire is required.

Retirement Reception

Purchasing services will host a retirement reception for Charles Sanders from 3 to 5 p.m. Jan. 31 in the University Union, Living Room. Sanders, director of purchasing, is retiring after 30 years of service.

Administrative Procedures Update: Ethics Policy

The University of North Carolina is committed to maintaining the highest professional standards in all of its academic and administrative operations; promoting ethical practices among its students, faculty and employees; and ensuring a level of accountability appropriate for a public institution.

In the belief that a shared statement of ethical values will strengthen the overall quality of the university community, UNCW adopted a university-wide ethics policy which was approved by the chancellor Jan. 11. This policy covers such topics as intellectual honesty, personal conduct, shared responsibility, computing ethics and research.

University employees are urged to read this policy (MSC 1.00) in its entirety. It is published in the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/sp/admproc/msc10/htm.

IACUC Protocols

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee will meet Feb. 8 to review protocols involving vertebrate animals. Faculty, staff and students planning research or teaching classes that involve animals should submit 15 paper copies of protocols by Feb. 2. Electronically submitted protocols are due Feb. 5 and should be e-mailed to M.J. Carver at carvermj with the original signed forms sent via campus mail. Interactive forms are available on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/ora/forms. This year's IACUC meetings will also be held May 10, Aug. 9 and Nov. 8. Direct questions to M. J. Carver at ext. 3809.

Graduate Mentor Award

The Graduate School seeks nominations for its second Graduate Mentor Award. This award recognizes members of UNCW's graduate faculty who have excelled at teaching at the graduate level and who have an established record of mentoring students who have received master's degrees. The latter includes not only guiding the research activity of students during their tenure at UNCW, but also helping students become established as independent scholars and professionals. To be eligible, the faculty member must be tenured, hold the rank of full or associate professor and be employed full-time.

Nominations can be made by a chair or director of an academic unit, colleague and students or other appropriate persons within the university community. Send nominations, with accompanying materials, to the dean of the Graduate School by Feb. 12.

For more information on the criteria and procedures for this award, check with school deans, graduate program coordinators or the Graduate School.

Fight Song Contest

Would you like to create a new fight song? UNCW's Sports Marketing Office is sponsoring a contest to compose this anthem. Submit entries to sports marketing, Trask Coliseum, Room 164, by Feb. 10. The winning composition will be determined by crowd response during a half-time presentation at the men's basketball game against Virginia Commonwealth University Feb. 21. The winner receives $250. Direct questions to Angela Pucher at ext. 7319.

W-2 Distribution

In accordance with Internal Revenue Service regulations, 2000 W-2 forms will be distributed by Jan. 31. Currently enrolled undergraduate students will receive their forms at their UNCW post office boxes, currently enrolled graduate students at their departments and permanent employees with their paychecks or direct deposit stubs. Forms for temporary employees and all others will be mailed to permanent addresses.

Shared Leave

Amy Campbell, landscape services, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Training

Access, 9 to 11 a.m. Feb. 13 or 14.

Advanced Connections, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Feb. 16.

Creating Web Pages Using Microsoft FrontPage, 9 to 11 a.m. Feb. 21, 22 or 26.

Introduction to Supervision, 9 am. to 4 p.m. Feb. 21 and 22.

Pagemaker 6.5, 9 to 11 a.m. Jan. 31.

Understanding Databases, 9 to 11 a.m. Feb. 7 or 8.

Yoga, noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through May 1.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21123 Accounting Tech. II	Jan. 26
21124 Building Custodian	Jan. 26
21125 Office Assistant III	Jan. 26
21126 Assist. Dir. of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21127 Office Assistant IV	Feb. 2
21128 Office Assistant IV	Feb. 2

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Financial Planning Seminar

The seminar "The Terrible Truth About Personal Finance" will be held from 10 a.m. to noon Jan. 26 in human resources. To register, contact Liz Grimes, human resources, at ext. 3274.

DAIN Billing On-line

January DAIN billing (long-distance service) will be available through e-Print starting Jan. 26. Bills will no longer be printed and mailed to departments. FRS users can view DAIN reports on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/finsystems/eprint/eprint.html.For more information, contact Gia Todd Long at ext. 3920.

ADINA R LACK
ARCHIVIST/SP COLLECT LIBRARIAN
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 27 February 1, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Medical Foundations Establish Programs to Benefit Nursing Majors

Two area medical foundations announced the establishment of significant financial programs that will benefit current and future students enrolled in the UNCW School of Nursing at a luncheon Monday.

The Cape Fear Memorial Foundation is contributing $50,000 to endow a scholarship at the university in honor of Dr. R.T. Sinclair, Jr., a founder of Cape Fear Memorial Hospital. The New Hanover Regional Medical Center Foundation is creating a scholarship loan program in honor of Dr. R. Bertram Williams, a founding member of New Hanover Regional Medical Center (NHRMC). The R. Bertram Williams Scholarship Loan Program will offer UNCW nursing students the opportunity to apply for a forgivable loan to cover tuition and fees. Upon graduation, students may repay the loan or work in the New Hanover Health Network for a defined period of time.

"The UNCW School of Nursing is very pleased to honor Drs. R. T. Sinclair and Bertram Williams, two visionaries in medical care," said Virginia Adams, dean of the nursing school. "In this era of nursing shortages and escalating costs for education, students who may have chosen nursing as a career are opting for other professions. To attract and retain the best students into the nursing profession, more financial assistance is needed. We graciously thank the Cape Fear Memorial Foundation and the New Hanover Regional Medical Center for creating the respective R.T. Sinclair Endowed Scholarship and the Bertram Williams Scholarship Loan Program."

R. Bertram Williams and R. T. Sinclair

"Creating the R.T. Sinclair, Jr. M.D. Scholarship will help others prepare for a life of service," said Garry Garris, president of the Cape Fear Memorial Foundation. "All who have worked with Dr. Sinclair can attest that he has been and continues to be a man of great inner strength, character and wisdom."

Sinclair possesses a quiet, caring nature and finds an effective way to intervene when help is most needed, said Garris. "It is not only for the many accomplishments of his life that we honor him today. It is for the way he has led and pushed us to a higher service to our fellow man."

Dr. R. Bertram Williams' vision for the potential of health care in this region has helped improve surgical services and built a cancer center as well as launched a foundation that has supported many other patient services, said Dr. William Atkinson, president and CEO of New Hanover Health Network.

"Through his efforts, the residents of Southeastern North Carolina can stay close to home for the medical care they need. It's entirely fitting that his name be attached to any effort that will ultimately improve patient care in this region."

Sinclair, a Wilmington native, earned a bachelor's degree from Wake Forest University and a medical degree from Georgetown University. Upon graduation, he worked at the Bullock Hospital which was located on Front Street in Wilmington. He started a family practice in Whiteville in 1939. During World War II, Sinclair commanded an Army field hospital. He attained the rank of major and earned five battle stars, a presidential citation and the Bronze Star. In 1957, Sinclair, along with Drs. William Mebane and Sam Pace, opened Cape Fear Memorial Hospital. The facility served the community for more than 40 years as a private hospital. It continues today as part of the New Hanover Health Network.

Williams, following medical school at UNC Chapel Hill and residency in surgery at Vanderbilt University, returned to his hometown of Wilmington in 1951. He established a medical practice and began a career in general surgery. He served as chair of the surgery department and operating room and president of the medical staff at James Walker Hospital. The hospital closed June 14, 1967, which was the same day New Hanover Memorial Hospital opened. At NHRMC, he was chair of the Intensive Care Unit, vice president of the medical staff for two terms and president for three terms from 1982 to 1985. Williams was also a two-term president of the New Hanover-

see Foundations on Page 4

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CASE Award

UNCW's Department of University Relations won an Award of Excellence in the CASE District III Advancement Awards Program in the Media Relations Projects category for "UNCW and the Southeastern N.C. Higher Education Bond Issue Media Blitz." It was selected from a total of 20 entries. Universities and colleges from nine states comprise the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education District III.

Reading Program for UNCW Children

The Office of the Dean of Student's Commuter and Non-traditional Student Center (The Seahawk Perch) invites faculty and staff to bring their youngsters to Children's Story Adventures where UNCW volunteers will read award-winning literature to children ages three to 10 every Tuesday and Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the listening area on the second floor of Randall Library. For more information, call ext. 7371 or e-mail seaperchstu.

Creative Writing Lectures

Wendy Brenner, creative writing, will present "Choosing Subjects for Stories" at 2 p.m. Feb. 6 in Cameron Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department's weekly lecture series. Philip Gerard will present "Creative Nonfiction: Telling Stories of Real Life" at 2 p.m. Feb. 13.

Earth Science Seminars

Lee Cooper from the University of Tennessee will present "Applications of Isotopic Indicators in Arctic Systems" at 4 p.m. Feb. 5 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Peter Swart from the Rosentiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science at the University of Miami will present "Application of Stable Isotope Methods to Local and Global Issues" at 2 p.m. Feb. 9 in DeLoach Hall, Room 114.

Andes Manta Performance

Andes Manta, an Ecuadorian musical group, will perform at 8 p.m. Feb. 17 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series. Comprised of four brothers, the group plays traditional Andean folk music using up to 35 instruments, many of which they made. Tickets are on sale at the auditorium box office. Call ext. 3500.

Relocation Packets

Departments that are conducting a search for a new faculty or staff member and who would like to furnish them with Wilmington housing information, should contact the Seahawk Perch. Direct requests for information packets to Kate Temoney at ext. 7371 or e-mail temoneyk. Information can be accessed at the Seahawk Perch World Wide Web site www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/doso/comm.

Slave Narratives

Cape Fear Museum will present "The Story Behind the Story: Slave Narratives from Wilmington" at 11 a.m. Feb. 2 in the museum's Williston Auditorium. John Haley, history, will moderate dramatic readings and discussion of the Works Project Administration slave narratives taken in Wilmington. This free presentation is part of the museum's Bit of History series.

Organ Donor Quilt

An organ donor memorial quilt, on loan from Carolina Donor Services, is on display this month on the first floor of Randall Library. The quilt was made by transplant recipients and family members of organ and tissue donors. This display is part of the College Donor Awareness Program "It's What's Inside That Counts" sponsored by wellness services.

Blue Notes

Maurice Martinez, Watson School of Education, is host of "Blue Notes" a 15-part series that celebrates jazz, blues and R&B musicians born in North Carolina. The five- to eight-minute segments will air on WHQR throughout this month. He also served as cultural consultant for the series which was produced and written by Roberta Penn, a music journalist and radio producer. Among the artists profiled are John Coltrane from Hamlet, Nina Simone from Tryon and Thelonious Monk from Rocky Mount. The segments are also airing on 12 other public radio stations statewide and WWOZ in New Orleans. Martinez has prepared a PowerPoint presentation based on the segments that he will use in selected rural high schools in the region.

Biological Sciences Seminar

David Schultz, postdoctoral research fellow at Michigan State University and plant molecular biologist candidate, will present "Metabolic Engineering of Unusual Monoenoic Fatty Acid Production in Plant Oil Seeds" at 3 p.m. Feb. 5 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

International Film Series

The third annual Cape Fear International Film Series will screen six international films this semester. Guantanamera, a comic-romantic road movie about a group of friends and relatives who accompany the body of a famous diva across Cuba to her final resting place in Havana, will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. Feb. 15. Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students.

MarineQuest Correction

The MarineQuest Odyssey Program lectures "A Closer Look: Sea Under the Scope," "The Real Water Quality Issues in Southeastern North Carolina with Dr. Larry Cahoon," "Thirty Years Under the Sea with PBS Underwater Filmmaker Bill Lovin" and "Environmental Series: Contemporary Problems and Solutions with Dr. Fritz Kaupran" advertised in the Jan. 25 Campus Communique are free. Registration is required. Call ext. 2460.

CAPE FEAR INTERNATIONAL FILM SERIES

FEBRUARY 1
thru
APRIL 19
2001

The third annual Cape Fear International Film Series will premiere six international films on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. The series will be held on Thursday nights during the Spring semester in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets are $4. The series is free to UNCW students.

PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 1

100% Arabica
(Mahmoud Zemmouri, France, 1997)

Warwick Center Ballroom, 6:30 and 9pm
A buoyant comedy about rai music in Paris, featuring internationally-known rai stars Cheb Mami and Khaled.

FEBRUARY 15

Guantanamera
(Tomás Gutiérrez Alea, Cuba, 1997)

Warwick Center Ballroom, 7 and 9pm
A comic-romantic road movie about a group of friends and relatives accompanying the body of a famous diva across Cuba to her final resting place in Havana.

MARCH 1

Aimee and Jaguar
(Max Färberböck, Germany, 1999)

Warwick Center Ballroom, 6:30 and 9pm
A beautifully filmed drama that tells the true story of an affair between two women in 1943 Berlin.

MARCH 22

Lamerica
(Gianni Amelio, Italy, 1995)

Warwick Center Ballroom, 6:30 and 9pm
A compelling drama about Albanian immigrants and their dreams of Italy.

APRIL 5

After Life
(Kore-eda Hirokazu, Japan, 1999)

Warwick Center Ballroom, 6:30 and 9pm
A poetic exploration of film, memory, and the fragile pleasures of life.

APRIL 19

Goya in Bordeaux
(Carlos Saura, Spain, 2000)

Warwick Center Ballroom, 6:30 and 9pm
A visually staggering exploration of the Spanish painter's life and art.

Sponsors: Office of the Chancellor—College of Arts and Sciences—Office of International Programs—Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures—Film Studies Program—Division of Student Affairs—Division for Public Service and Extended Education—WHQR—Café de France-Genki Japanese Restaurant—Tokyo Deli—Italian Heritage Society—Cape Fear Foreign Language Collaborative

Cape Fear International Film Series
Film descriptions

All films will be shown in the Warwick Center Ballroom.
Tickets are $4; free to students.

FEBRUARY 1 100% Arabica

(Mahmoud Zemmouri, France, 1997): 6:30 and 9pm, 85 min.

100% Arabica is a buoyant cross-cultural comedy from Algerian director Mahmoud Zemmouri. Plump and prickly fundamentalist cleric Slimane is engaged in an endless struggle to convince young North African immigrants, the majority of the population in the Parisian banlieue where the film is set, to come back to the mosque. Meanwhile, Rachid and Krimo, local musicians playing a mix of American rap and Algerian raï, draw crowds that defy the ban on music and dancing. Rachid and Krimo, played by Khaled and Cheb Mami, two of raï's best-known voices, keep the action bubbling as Slimane's piety is belied by his political and financial wheeling and dealing. The film is a vivid portrayal of a contemporary Parisian neighborhood, with its discos, mosques, cramped apartments, and irrepressible street energy.

FEBRUARY 15 Guantanamera

(Tomas Gutierrez Alea, Cuba, 1997): 7 and 9pm, 104 min

Alea's final film is a graceful, comic-romantic road movie about a group of friends and relatives accompanying the body of a famous diva on a journey across Cuba to her final resting place in Havana. Guantanamera is so fluid and easygoing, and its summertime ambience so captivating, that one might not immediately realize the film is also an ambitious and remarkably bold overview of contemporary Cuba: a last testament from Cuba's greatest filmmaker.

MARCH 1 Aimee and Jaguar

(Max Färberböck, Germany, 1999): 6:30 and 9pm, 126 min.

Färberböck's beautifully filmed drama tells the true story of an affair between two women in 1943 Berlin. Felice hides her Jewish identity behind a day job at a Nazi newspaper. Lily is married and the mother of four; her husband is away at the front. They are both surprised by the truthfulness and intensity of the love that develops between them in this startling and elegant portrayal of the shadowlands of wartime Germany.

MARCH 22 Lamerica

(Gianni Amelio, Italy, 1995): 6:30 and 9pm, 120 min.

The events of Lamerica take place nowhere near America but in Albania, Italy's enigmatic neighbor to the east, where Communism has fallen and anarchy reigns. The situation is ripe for exploitation, and Amelio's odyssey is set in motion when a half-crazy, barely intelligible old man, set up as the puppet chairman of a fraudulent Italian company, unexpectedly slips away from his manipulators. The cocky young assistant dispatched to track him down is quickly swallowed up in the surrounding chaos and, forming a reluctant bond with his intended quarry, experiences a powerful moral awakening.

APRIL 5 After Life

(Kore-eda Hirokazu, Japan, 1999): 6:30 and 9pm, 118 mins.

After Life is a touching, compassionate film that explores the connection between this world and the hereafter, between film and memory. Shot in a matter-of-fact, semidocumentary style, the film imagines a group of characters who have recently died and must choose which memory they would like to have recreated on film in order to take it with them into the afterlife. The memories chosen are moving and often unexpectedly humble, with a haiku-like sense of distilled perception. After Life's wide-ranging recollections constitute an intimate, informal history of twentieth-century Japan.

APRIL 19 Goya in Bordeaux

(Carlos Saura, Spain, 2000): 6:30 and 9pm, 102 minutes

The last days of the great Spanish painter are portrayed in this visually sumptuous film by director Carlos Saura, whom Wilmington audiences will remember from last year's screening of Tango. Goya staggers through hallucinations and memories, encountering the real and imaginary subjects of his paintings along the way. The glue that holds his visions and dreams together is his art, which is brought to life by the talented Italian cinematographer Vittorio Storaro.

Great Decisions

As part of the class Great Decisions, coordinated by the Political Science Department, eight lecturers will speak on various world topics. Noel Lateef, president of the Foreign Policy Association (FPA), will present "The Realities of Globalization" at 7 p.m. Feb. 5 in King Hall Auditorium. The FPA is a non-partisan, non-profit, non-governmental institution that provides information on international issues and foreign policy. Oliver Williams, professor of political science and public administration at NC State University, will speak on "Current Tensions in China-Taiwan Relations" at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 in King Hall Auditorium.

Pursuit of Happiness

Robert Thurman, professor and author, will present "The Pursuit of Real Happiness: The Dalai Lama's Ethical Revolution" at 7 p.m. Feb. 13 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Thurman, the Jey Tsong Khapa chair in Indo-Tibetan studies and Columbia University, is the author of Inner Revolution: Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Real Happiness.

Thurman

Talent Showcase

UNCW's Protégé and Leader Program will present a "Showcase of Talent" at 7 p.m. April 4 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Auditions, which are open to faculty, staff and students, will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 4 in the Warwick Center and 7 p.m. Feb. 5 in the University Union, Room 201. For more information, contact Daphne Watkins at ext. 5626.

Spring Soccer School

The UNCW Soccer Program will hold a spring soccer school for boys and girls ages six to 14 from March 12-16. The camp will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to noon Friday. The cost is $200 per child and includes lunch and a T-shirt. Faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. For more information, contact Paul Cairney at ext. 3932.

Alice in Wonderland

UNCW S.T.A.G.E. Company will present Alice in Wonderland Feb. 2-4 in the Kenan Hall SRO Theatre. This adaptation of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland boasts 20 colorful characters. Show times are 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays with 2 p.m. matinees Saturdays and Sundays. Tickets, available at the door, are $3 for students and children under 12 and $5 for all others. For more information, call 343-3440.

Randall Library Exhibit

The exhibit "I'm in an Awful Mood: Feeling the Blues" will be displayed through Feb. 28 in Randall Library. The exhibit, which spotlights the musical genre "blues," features resources from the library's collection and memorabilia on loan from the Cape Fear Blues Society.

Construction to Close Wrightsville Bridge

Repair work will close the Wrightsville Beach drawbridge from 11:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. Feb. 11-23 according to information from the N.C. Department of Transportation. During the closings, all vehicular traffic will be prohibited on the bridge; however, emergency vehicles will be able to use the bridge. Message signs will inform motorists of closings. For more information on this project, contact the bridge maintenance engineer at 251-5724.

Opala Lecture

Anthropologist Joseph Opala will present "The Language You Cry In: African-American Roots in Sierra Leone" at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

William Overman, psychology, received $47,682 from the MacArthur Foundation for the project "Development of a Computerized Orbital Prefrontal Task: Seeking Evidence for Cognitive Sex Differences Across the Life Span with a Partial Reversal Task." This project is designed to measure decision-making and risk-taking behaviors in adolescents and adults. In addition, Overman had the article "Measurement of Gonadal Hormones in Dried Blood Spots Versus Serum: Verification of Menstrual Cycle Phase" accepted for publication by Hormones and Behavior. The article was co-authored by Becky Reavis, a former psychology graduate student, and Elizabeth Shirtcliff and Doug Granger of the Behavioral Endocrinology Laboratory at Penn State University.

Marlene Rosenkoetter, gerontology and nursing, was interviewed by CBS News New York for an upcoming story on retirement. The interview focused on retirement research by Rosenkoetter and John Garris, information systems and operations management.

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, wrote a review on Constantine's Sword: The Church and the Jews by James Carroll for the Boston Globe's Jan. 7 book section.

Diane Levy, sociology and criminal justice, presented the paper "Issues in Tourism and Gender Equity" at the third International Conference on Gender and Equity Issues held in Bangkok, Thailand. Her trip was partially funded through a travel grant from the Office of International Programs.

Stephen Kinsey, biological sciences, presented the papers "Arginine Kinase Flux in Osmoregulating Muscle Cells" and "Size- and Salinity-dependent Enzyme Activities in Gills of the Blue Crab" at the Society for Integrative and Comparative Biology annual meeting in Chicago. Graduate student Stewart Holt co-presented the first paper, and undergraduate students Jenny Nordeen and Elizabeth Sheffield co-presented the second.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays

Official Notices

Science Direct

Randall Library now subscribes to Science Direct, an on-line database important to scientific, technical and medical research. The Elsevier Science Journals collection of 1,200 titles, journals from STM Publishers, AIChE, CRC Press, ASM International, the Royal Society of Medicine, International Press and TMS, the entire Science Direct database offers access to one million full-text articles published since 1996. Discover Science Direct on the World Wide Web at www.sciencedirect.com.

Zip Code Corrections

Correct the following departmental zip-plus-four numbers on the postal services directory sheet:

Advancement services - 5905
Alumni relations - 5906
University advancement - 5990
Wise House - 5993.

Student academic support programs should be listed as general college and will remain 5981.

CMS Address

The correct mailing address for the Center for Marine Science is 5600 Marvin K. Moss Lane.

Fight Song Contest

Would you like to create a new fight song? UNCW's Sports Marketing Office is sponsoring a contest to compose this anthem. Submit entries to sports marketing, Trask Coliseum, Room 164, by Feb. 10. The winning composition will be determined by crowd response during half-time presentations at the men's basketball game against Virginia Commonwealth University Feb. 21. The winner receives $250. Direct questions to Angela Pucher at ext. 7319.

Shared Leave

John Mohr, Randall Library, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Graduate Mentor Award

The Graduate School seeks nominations for its second Graduate Mentor Award. This award recognizes members of UNCW's graduate faculty who have excelled at teaching at the graduate level and who have an established record of mentoring students who have received master's degrees. The latter includes not only guiding the research activity of students during their tenure at UNCW, but also helping students become established as independent scholars and professionals. To be eligible, the faculty member must be tenured, hold the rank of full or associate professor and be employed full-time.

Nominations can be made by a chair or director of an academic unit, colleague and students or other appropriate persons within the university community. Send nominations, with accompanying materials, to the dean of the Graduate School by Feb. 12.

For more information on the criteria and procedures for this award, check with school deans, graduate program coordinators or the Graduate School.

Foundations continued from Page 1

Pender Medical Society. Williams, who organized and founded the New Hanover Regional Medical Center in 1991, also served 11 years on the New Hanover Regional Medical Center Board of Trustees. In 1999, he won the Faculty Alumni Distinguished Service Award from UNC Chapel Hill. Williams' leadership is credited with the growth of NHRMC into one of the top medical centers in southeastern North Carolina.

The New Hanover Regional Medical Center Foundation conducts fund-raising projects that benefit the hospital. One of the foundation's premier events, the Coastal Classic Celebrity Golf Tournament, has provided more than $1 million for such projects as cardiac rehabilitation, the Coastal Care van, a consumer health library and the Zimmer Cancer Center.

IACUC Protocols

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee will meet Feb. 8 to review protocols involving vertebrate animals. Faculty, staff and students planning research or teaching classes that involve animals should submit 15 paper copies of protocols by Feb. 2. Electronically submitted protocols are due Feb. 5 and should be e-mailed to M. J. Carver at carvermj with the original signed forms sent via campus mail. Interactive forms are available on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/ora/forms. This year's IACUC meetings will also be held May 10, Aug. 9 and Nov. 8. Direct questions to M. J. Carver at ext. 3809.

Staff Training

Access, 9 to 11 a.m. Feb. 13 or 14.

Advanced Connections, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Feb. 16.

Creating Web Pages Using Microsoft FrontPage, 9 to 11 a.m. Feb. 21, 22 or 26.

Introduction to Supervision, 9 am. to 4 p.m. Feb. 21 and 22.

Pagemaker 6.5, 9 to 11 a.m. Jan. 31.

Understanding Databases, 9 to 11 a.m. Feb. 7 or 8.

Yoga, noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through May 1.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21120	Non-linear Videotape Editor	Feb. 16
21126	Assist. Dir. of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21127	Office Assistant IV	Feb. 2
21128	Office Assistant IV	Feb. 2
21131	Stock Clerk II	Feb. 9
21132	Program Assistant V – Key Largo	Feb. 9
22133	Office Assistant IV	Feb. 9

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 28 February 8, 2001 | Phillip Brown, editor

Alumni Association Honors Block, Melton

Hannah S. Block and Norm Melton were honored by the UNCW Alumni Association at its annual awards dinner Jan. 26.

Each year at homecoming the association recognizes individuals who have made outstanding contributions to he university and the community.

Melton

The 2001 Alumnus of the Year Award was presented to Melton, a marketing eacher and DECA advisor at North Brunswick High School since 1979. In that position he has received many local and state honors and has provided outstanding leadership o students involved in he DECA program, many of whom have gone on to win state and national competitions. The program itself has won numerous awards including the Governor's Award for Outstanding Volunteer Service for four years.

Melton is the driving force behind the annual North Brunswick High School and community effort to collect food and gifts for Thanksgiving food baskets and the Christmas angel tree program. Well-known for his caring and concern for students, especially those who are ess fortunate, Melton has throughout he years "provided them with opportunities to succeed as students so they could succeed in the world of work," fellow teacher and alumnus Frank Bua wrote in his nomination letter.

A 1974 graduate of UNCW, Melton has been active in the alumni association since 1984, serving in numerous volunteer leadership positions, including 1996-97 board chairman, when the association completed its $400,000 loan obligation for renovation to Wise Alumni House. He currently serves on the past chairman's committee.

In introducing Hannah Block, the recipient of the association's Distinguished Citizen of the Year Award, Tyrone Rowell, senior associate vice chancellor for advancement at UNCW, said, "Her fingerprints can be found on almost every significant and positive movement this town has experienced for the past 65 years."

Block

Her many accomplishments include being the first female head lifeguard on the N.C. coast at Carolina Beach during World War II. As a charter board member of the USO in Wilmington she has continued to fight to keep this landmark standing. She was the first woman elected to the Wilmington City Council and, as mayor pro-tem 1961-63, traveled to New Jersey to accept the USS North Carolina on behalf of the city of Wilmington. She was the first woman delegate to the Rivers and Harbor Congress in Washington in 1963, Woman of the Year in 1953, and founder of the Azalea Festival patron's party and pageant. She served as American Legion Auxiliary president and as a member of the Thalian Association board of directors, Shaw-Speakes Center advisory board and New Hanover Regional Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

HPER Professor Provides Lectures for Graduate Program

Students enrolled in a graduate distance education program in health studies at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, will have Mike Perko, HPER, as one of their lecturers.

James Eddy, chair of health sciences at UA, visited UNCW Jan. 29 and recorded two presentations from Perko. In addition, Eddy took photographs of Perko at various campus locations that he will transfer to CD-ROM. Perko is one of approximately 20 health education experts nationwide selected to contribute seminars for the 30-hour program that leads to a Master of Arts in Health Science. Perko's lectures were on the legal and ethical issues related to health presentations and case studies of gray areas in health education such as discussing dietary supplements relative to treating chronic disease.

Because the entire program is conducted via distance learning, Eddy said he had to recruit not only leading experts in the field, but people who have a great presentational style.

"I'm honored to be selected to be part of the program," said Perko. "Because you are taking away the physical presence of the professor from the students, the task then is to bring back a third dimension to the material and captivate the students in order to keep them involved in the program."

Currently the program uses videotaped presentations but the next generation will be more technologically

see Grad Program on Page 2

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Seahawk Web Site

For the third time in three years, the Seahawk student newspaper is launching a new Internet site.

The site uses a state-of-the-art template provided by College Publisher, Inc., a Boston company that provides World Wide Web hosting for college and university newspapers nationwide. The site allows stories and pictures to be updated at any time by the Seahawk staff and includes a chat room, forums to discuss UNCW events, on-line classified advertising and a weekly poll.

"This site will allow the Seahawk to really interact with the UNCW and surrounding community, providing up-to-the-minute news and sports, along with a variety of great features and entertainment information," said Thomas Ruyle, Seahawk editor. "The Seahawk staff is very excited about the new site, and we look forward to making it a big part of the campus community."

McEachern Gift

A $10,000 gift from longtime community benefactor Tabitha Hutaff McEachern has ensured that a popular speaker series sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education will continue its reputation of outstanding and entertaining speakers.

McEachern, the daughter of the late George Henry Hutaff and Tabitha Cromwell Hutaff and wife of the late Walter McEachern, made the gift to UNCW to ensure the longevity of the series that now bears her name.

"We named the former Adult Scholars Signature Series after McEachern in appreciation for her support and attendance for many years," said Karel Dutton, the division's director of lifelong learning. "Her gift allows us to bring in featured speakers we could not have afforded otherwise."

Bookstore Special

The bookstore's Valentine's Day special includes a bouquet of three balloons and two ounces of Jelly Belly gourmet beans for $2.14.

Organ Donor Discussion

National, state and local individuals will discuss their personal experiences as surgeon, donor, recipient and family members in the panel discussion "Organ Donation: The Power to Save Lives" at 7 p.m. Feb. 20 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. Panelists include Jane Smith, the Fayetteville teacher who made national headlines for donating a kidney to a student; Jimmy Light, director of transplant services at Washington Hospital Center; Michelle Peele, a donor mother who wrote a book describing her and her daughter's experience; John Rice, a kidney recipient and husband of UNCW staff member Helen Rice; and Sharon Duff, a UNCW student whose mother received a heart transplant. This free event, which is part of the College Donor Awareness Project "It's What's Inside That Counts," is sponsored by the Office of the Provost and wellness services. For more information, contact Deborah Haywood at ext. 4137.

Phi Kappa Phi

The UNCW chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, a national interdisciplinary honor society, requests any UNCW faculty who are members to contact Diane Levy, sociology and criminal justice, at ext. 3430.

Seahawk Women's Soccer Team Honored

UNCW's women's soccer team was recognized by the National Soccer Coaches Association for its academic accomplishments during the 1999-2000 season. The team compiled a grade point average of 3.12 to achieve the honor. UNCW was one of 35 of the country's 273 Division I programs recognized by the national group.

Poetry Reading

Albert Goldbarth will read from his work at 8 p.m. Feb. 22 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. This free, public event is sponsored by the Creative Writing Department and La Festa. A reception and book signing will follow in the lobby.

Art Exhibit

"The Third Day," an exhibit by Harold Hodges, Jr., will be displayed Feb. 19 through April 1 in the Warwick Center. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Feb. 19 in the center lobby.

Big Band Performance

The UNCW Big Band, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, and the Jazz Combo, directed by Jerald Shynett, will perform at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $5, $2.50 for faculty, staff, senior citizens and children under 12 and free to UNCW students.

Movie Makers Lecture

Tom Priestly will discuss his work as director of photography for The Thomas Crown Affair following a showing of the film at 1 p.m. Feb. 16 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Priestly, a cinematographer, also worked on the films A League of Their Own, Sleeping with the Enemy, F/X, Silkwood and The World According to Garp.

Grad Program from Page 1

advanced, said Eddy. The distance program is aimed at working professionals who do not have access to a local university. During the past three years, more than 130 people nationwide have earned graduate degrees from the UA program.

Program material on CD-ROM improves instruction and access to Web sites embedded in the presentation material, said Eddy. "We can combine audio, streaming video and PowerPoint presentations on the discs. We're employing a variety of methods to provide location-bound students with the best possible resources."

Upon completion of the program, graduates are eligible to take tests for national certification as health education specialists by the National Committee for Health Credentialing Inc.

1world

Intercultural Week/ February 12 - 17, 2001

Schedule of Events

Monday

February 12

- "Cultural Perspectives in Health Care"
- "Coal Miner's Daughter: Life in Appalachia"
- "The Language You Cry In: African-American Roots in Sierra Leone"
- "International House Dessert Reception"

Tuesday

February 13

- "May Fools"
- "Love in Haiku"
- "Pursuit of Real Happiness: The Dalai Lama's Ethical Revolution"
- "Grenoldo Frazier at the Piano"

Wednesday

February 14

- "Where Do I Go From Here: Visa & Job Search Information for International Students"
- "Music from Around the World"

Thursday

February 15

- "Music and Dance of Ghana"
- "Guantanamera"

Saturday

February 17

Intercultural Festival

- "Andes Manta"

On-Going Events:

- "Bonvenon!: A Collection of Cultural Resources"
- "Billie Ruth Sadduth: NC Living Treasure at Work"

UNCW

Intercultural Week is made possible by the Office of International Programs, University Union, Campus Activities, Association for Campus Entertainment, Student Government Association and the Office of Campus Diversity.

UNCW

Division for Public Service and Extended Education

Women's Express Luncheons

This series of three luncheons is designed for working women in the community and on campus, but by no means is limited to working women, as the topics will be relevant to women of all ages. A buffet lunch will start at 11:45 a.m., the guest speaker(s) will begin at 12:15 p.m., and everything will conclude by 1 p.m. to enable guests to return to work in a timely manner. Each luncheon is $12 per person. If you attend all three, the cost is $32.

For Women Only ... Living, Loving & Life with May Craven
Popular speaker and trainer, May Craven, president of Craven Consulting of Wilmington, brings more than 25 years of speaking experience to a fun and humorous discussion of how women's roles have changed from that of their mothers and grandmothers. Seating is limited so call as soon as possible. 11:45 a.m. Wednesday, March 7 – Fee: $12 Register by March 2

Are You in the Mood? with Dr. Virginia Adams
What aspects of depression relate specifically to women? We will examine the psychological and physical symptoms of depression in women. We will look at women's lives and various stressors that contribute to depression and examine strategies to treat and prevent it. 11:45 a.m. Wednesday, April 11 – Fee $12 Register by April 6

eaving Spirituality Through Life with Dr. Carol Thysell arol Thysell, UNCW philosophy and religion professor, connects women throughout religion to spirituality in living life. Come o this session and renew your spirit. 11:45 a.m. Wednesday, May 9 – Fee $12 Register by May 4

---

o Register: Mail the completed form (below) with your check, payable to UNCW, or credit card information to Registration, Public Service nd Extended Education, New Centre Location, UNC Wilmington, 601 South College Road, Wilmington, NC 28403-5614.

e must receive your registration information and payment at least three (3) university working days prior to the start of the program unless therwise noted.

efunds/cancellations: Fees can only be refunded if a written notification of withdrawal is received three (3) university working days prior o the first day of the class unless otherwise noted. A processing fee of $10 will be charged. If the university cancels the class, a full refund will e issued. Call (910) 962-3195 to register by phone with your credit card.

UNCW

UNCW is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

UNCW complies with all provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Accommodations will be made available upon request. If you have special needs and would like to participate in this program, please contact Karel Dutton at 910-962-3644 three days prior to the event so proper consideration may be given to the request. This publication is available in alternative format on request.

egistration Form • Women's Express Luncheons

ame: Last ______________________ First ______________________ Middle Initial ________ ocial Security # ______________________ (required by the IRS if you plan to file for a tax credit)

ailing Address: Street/P.O. Box ______________________

ity ______________________ State ____________ Zip ____________

elephone: Day ______________________ Evening ______________________

he NC Public Records Act requires us to release your name and address if requested, unless you specify you do not want he information released. Do you want this information released? ☐ Yes ☐ No dditional name(s) if paying for more than one participant: ______________________

☐ Check enclosed (payable to UNCW) ☐ MasterCard ☐ Visa

ccount# ____________ Expiration Date ________ Signature ______________________

otal Amount Enclosed $ ______________________

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - roast turkey with dressing and gravy, black bean cakes with salsa, steamed carrots, garden peas, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - London broil, four-tomato pasta, garlic mashed potatoes, squash casserole, green beans almandine, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Biological Sciences Seminars

Andreas Weber, a postdoctoral research fellow from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and a plant molecular biologist candidate, will present "Transport Proteins of the Plastid Inner Envelope Membrane as Connecting Elements of Plastidic and Cytosolic C and N Metabolism" at 2 p.m. Feb. 9 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Ann Stapleton, an assistant professor from the University of Tennessee Chattanooga and a plant molecular biologist candidate, will present "Adapt or Fry: Maize Response to Ultraviolet Radiation" at 3 p.m. Feb. 19 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Computer Science Seminars

Saurabh Sethia from the State University of New York at Stony Brook will present "Algorithmic Geometry in Manufacturing Process Planning" at 3 p.m. Feb. 9.

John McDermott from James Madison University will lecture on "Using Abuse Case Models for Security Requirements Analysis" at 4 p.m. Feb. 12.

Tom Hudson from UNC Chapel Hill will present "Adapting Scientific Tools to Distribute Environments" at 4 p.m. Feb. 13.

Joel Hollingsworth from the College of William and Mary will lecture on "Kernel-to-Kernel Message Passing" at 4:15 p.m. Feb. 14.

All presentations will be held in Bear Hall, Room 206.

Creative Writing Lecture

Philip Gerard will present "Creative Nonfiction: Telling Stories of Real Life" at 2 p.m. Feb. 13 in King Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department's weekly lecture series.

Earth Science Seminar

Peter Swart from the Rosentiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science at the University of Miami will present "Application of Stable Isotope Methods to Local and Global Issues" at 2 p.m. Feb. 9 in DeLoach Hall, Room 114.

International Film Series

The third annual Cape Fear International Film Series will screen six international films this semester. Guantanamera, a comic-romantic road movie about a group of friends and relatives who accompany the body of a famous diva across Cuba to her final resting place in Havana, will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. Feb. 15 Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students.

Great Decisions

Oliver Williams, professor of political science and public administration at NC State University, will speak on "Current Tensions in China-Taiwan Relations" at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 in King Hall Auditorium as part of the class Great Decisions, coordinated by the Political Science Department. William Lefes, a foreign service worker in Africa and Asia for more than 20 years, will lecture on "International Health Crisis – Infectious Diseases and Other World Health Threats" at 7 p.m. Feb. 19 in King Hall Auditorium.

Spring Soccer School

The UNCW Soccer Program will hold a spring soccer school for boys and girls ages six to 14 from March 12-16. The camp will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to noon Friday. The cost is $200 per child and includes lunch and a T-shirt. Faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. For more information, contact Paul Cairney at ext. 3932.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Thomas Shafer, biological sciences, presented the papers "Purification and Characterization of Two Mucin-like Glycoproteins from the Cuticle of the Blue Crab, Callinectes sapidus" and "Developmental and Environmental Expression of the Gene for a Na/K/2Cl Cotransporter in the Blue Crab, Callinectes sapidus" at the Society for Integrative and Comparative Biology annual meeting in Chicago. Graduate student Elizabeth Tweedie co-presented the first publication, and undergraduate students Lisa Montoya and Gregg Hoffman co-presented the second.

Ron Vetter, computer science, was appointed to the ACM Distinguished Lecturer Advisory Committee, which administers the ACM Distinguished Lecturer Program, one of the premier technology outreach programs in the computing industry. Vetter also accepted an invitation to serve on the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) Computer Society's Conference and Tutorials Board. With nearly 100,000 members, the IEEE Computer Society is the world's leading organization of computer professionals. .

Joanne Rockness, Susan Ivancevich and Tom Keaveney, accountancy and business law, had the article "Auditor Independence: A Bit More Rope" published in the January/February edition of the Financial Executive Journal.

Lee Schweninger, English, participated in the Western American Literature conference in Norman, Okla., where he presented a paper on landscape and language in the writings of N. Scott Momaday. He chaired a second session that was also devoted to Momaday.

Deborah Haywood and Rosemary Ferguson, wellness services, received $5,000 from the University of Rhode Island for the College Donor Awareness Project.

Hana Noor Al-Deen, communication studies, received the Shelter Site of the Week Award from Vertebrate View, a national nonprofit organization which critiques World Wide Web sites, for SOAR: Southport Oak Island Animal Rescue. SOAR is one of five nonprofit animal shelter Web sites in the tri-county area that she created and maintains weekly as a volunteer.

Stephen McNamee and Gary Faulkner, sociology and criminal justice, had the article "The International Exchange Experience and the Social Construction of Meaning" accepted for publication in the Journal of Studies in International Education.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Work-Study Award Renewals

Students who are currently employed under the Federal Work-Study Program will automatically be given priority consideration for renewal of their award for the 2001-02 award year. Departments do not need to notify the Financial Aid and Veterans Services Office. Students must, however, apply for financial aid using the free application for federal student aid before funds are exhausted (usually by March 1) and have continued eligibility under federal guidelines.

Department Allocations

Departments will be notified of federal work-study allocations for summer 2001 and the 2001-02 academic year on March 5. Instructions for advertising positions and hiring students will be provided at that time. Direct questions to Mark Williams at ext. 3176.

Scholarship Information

The Financial Aid and Veterans Services Office expects to notify departments that are responsible for selecting scholarship recipients of the projected fund balance, donor terms and conditions and award procedures March 5. Direct questions to Mark Williams at ext. 3176.

Exempt Withholding Certificate Expires

For employees who claim exempt from withholding, 2000 W-4 and NC-4 tax withholding certificates expire Feb. 15. Employees who wish to claim an exemption after Feb. 15 must submit a new W-4 and NC-4 to payroll by Feb. 19 to be reflected in February pay checks.

Fan Appreciation

Admission is free to the women's basketball game versus George Mason University scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Feb. 11.

Bus Trip

Tickets for the bus trip to attend the men's basketball game against East Carolina University Feb. 17 are $30 which includes transportation, ticket and a T-shirt. For more information, call ext. 7319.

Chancellor's Student Hours

The chancellor will hold student hours from 3 to 4 p.m. Feb. 12 in Alderman Hall, Room 110.

Employee Discount Offered on Financial Seminar

Employees can receive a $15 discount on an in-depth financial planning seminar offered through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education in conjunction with Jefferson Pilot Securities Corp. The seminar will be held from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, Feb. 20 through March 13, in Morton Hall, Room 201, or 6:30 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, Feb. 22 through March 15, in Morton Hall, Room 101. Regular preregistration is $59 which includes a reference notebook and refreshments. Employees can preregister for $44. To register call 763-1604 by Friday or 256-6004 Feb. 12-19. For more information, contact Kay Fryar at ext. 3698.

Postal News

Personnel in the Division for Public Service and Extended Education (DPSEE) are housed in various on- and off-campus locations. Postal services recommends using the following addresses:

- vice chancellor's office - Alderman Hall
- Executive Development Center - EXDC Landfall,
- New Centre Drive offices - DPSEE, NC
- Diane Talley or Wendi White - DPSEE, CMS
- Dustin Miller and Mike McQuire - DPSEE, Telecommunications
- Betty Ann Sanders - DPSEE, Museum of World Cultures
- Royce Angel - DPSEE, IOPL

The zip plus four for DPSEE in Alderman Hall and the Executive Development Center is 28403-5613. For DPSEE personnel at other locations, use 28403-5614.

E-mail Doris Moore at moored with personnel transfers or location changes for departments and offices.

Federal and North Carolina tax forms are available in the post office lobby.

CMS Lecture

John F. Valentine from the University of South Alabama will present "The Importance of the Grazing Pathway in Seagrass Food Webs: A Changing Paradigm" at 4 p.m. Feb. 9 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21126 Assist. Dir. of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21131 Stock Clerk II	Feb. 9
21132 Program Assistant V – Key Largo	Feb. 9
22133 Office Assistant IV	Feb. 9
22134 Marine Specialist – Key Largo	Feb. 16
22135 Police Officer I	Feb. 16
22136 Processing Assistant III	Feb. 16
22137 Office Assistant IV	Feb. 16

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

CAS Names Interim Director

Norman Bemelmans was named interim director of Kenan Auditorium effective Feb. 5.

"We are delighted to have Bemelmans join Kenan Auditorium," said Jo Ann Seiple, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, in announcing the appointment. "In addition to his public radio management experience, he brings to us impressive experience as the executive producer of the Peach State Performance Showcase, an award-winning program of live concerts from around the state of Georgia featuring international artists and renowned local ensembles and soloists. His formation of productive community partnerships with entities such as the Georgia State Council for the Arts, Macon Jazz Festival, Atlanta Radio Theater Company and Golden Isles Chamber Festival should be very helpful in working with the multiple performance constituencies served by Kenan Auditorium."

Prior to joining UNCW, Bemelmans was executive director of the Peach State Public Radio Network in Atlanta. He served as music director at WHQR from 1984 to 1989.

This is recyclable.

ADINA R LACK
ARCHIVIST/SP COLLECT LIBRARIAN
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 29 February 15, 2001 | Phillip Brown, editor

McLaurin Observes Shift in White Southerners' View of History

Racial healing is proceeding at a faster pace in the South today now that cracks in white Southerners' mythical view of history are giving history as remembered by African Americans a place in the region's shared collective past, according to an article by Melton McLaurin, professor of history, published in Southern Cultures.

Racial reconciliation started in Wilmington following a 1998 community-wide commemoration of the racial violence that occurred in 1898. Memories of that violence festered in the black community for a hundred years. The Wilmington experience is the latest in a series of developments that signal a clear "shift in perceptions of the collective, public past," wrote McLaurin in the article "Commemorating Wilmington's Racial Violence of 1898: From Individual to Collective Memory" published in the winter 2000 issue of Southern Cultures.

In the article, McLaurin explains how white Southerners' view of history was purposefully manipulated to glorify the "Lost Cause" and justify slavery, Jim Crow laws and segregation. Because whites held all the power, they ignored the history as descendants of slavery and the targets of segregation remembered it. Monuments and Memorial Day honored Confederate heroes.

After the 1970s, the civil rights movement led to inclusion of the African-American experience in public school curricula and popular cultural media. However, "generations of whites schooled in the mythologized past continued to determine how the past was celebrated at the community level," he wrote. The lack of public monuments commemorating black historical events and achievements illustrates the community's unwillingness to accept the black view of history.

"This … creation of segregated pasts contributed substantially to the racial violence which accompanied the desegregation of Wilmington's public schools in the 1970-71 academic year, racial violence which once again focused national attention on the city," McLaurin wrote.

In addition to the Wilmington 1898 commemoration, he cited three other examples that signaled a change in how black history is being incorporated into collective memory: the 1994 Florida legislature's delayed apology and reparations for the 1923 Rosewood murder of six black men and destruction of every black home in the town; the Tulsa, Okla., commemoration and monument marking the 1921 violence; and the 1995 apology by the Southern Baptist Convention for its racist roots and past defense of slavery.

"White Southerners are finally much more willing to include an unpleasant past into their collective view of history, and cities are more willing to incorporate it into the environment," McLaurin said. "We are starting to see monuments and museums that reflect the African-American past that have been at odds with the white view of the past.

"The extent to which the African-American experience, and especially the history of the civil rights movement, has been incorporated in the region's public past within the last decade is truly astonishing."

Panel Discussion Explores Organ Donation

National, state and local individuals will discuss their personal experiences as surgeon, donor, recipient and family members in the panel discussion "Organ Donation: The Power to Save Lives" at 7 p.m. Feb. 20 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Panelists include Jane Smith, the Fayetteville teacher who made national headlines for donating a kidney to a student; Jimmy Light, director of transplant services at Washington Hospital Center; Michelle Peele, a donor mother who wrote the book Glimpses of God which described her and her daughter's experience; Renee Miller, communications coordinator at Carolina Donor Services in Durham; John Rice, a kidney recipient and husband of UNCW staff member Helen Rice; and Sharon Duff, a UNCW student whose mother received a heart transplant.

This free event, which is part of the national College Donor Awareness Project "It's What's Inside That Counts," is sponsored by the Office of the Provost and wellness services. UNCW is one of two universities this academic year participating in the College Donor Awareness Project, an informational campaign about organ and tissue donation aimed at young people.

It's What's Inside
That Counts.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Faculty Advisory Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Faculty Advisory Committee will meet at noon Feb. 26 in Alderman Hall, Room 215.

Staff Advisory Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee will meet at noon Feb. 20 in the Warwick Center, Room 104. Members of the committee are: Annie Aldrich, telecommunications; Lisa Allred, payroll; Carolyn Andrews, Randall Library, Margaret Bailey, public service and extended education; Glenda Bowen, Watson School of Education; Phillip Brown, university relations; Judy Connelly, bookstore; Susie Goodrum, institutional research; Faith Joyce, physical plant; Lori Leitch, biological sciences; Mike Lloyd, printing services; Steve Mastro, CMS; Charles Mills, physical plant; Annette Richards, nursing; and Karen Thompson, career services. Staff are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Intercultural Festival

The eighth annual Intercultural Festival will be held from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Feb. 17 in the University Union, Hawk's Nest. The festival celebrates the many cultures of the university and the community. There will be more than 20 displays, performances and food. For more information, call ext. 7009.

Biological Science Seminars

Diane Cowan, director of the Lobster Conservancy of Friendship, Maine, will present "Lobster Life Cycle: From Egg to Plate" at 3 p.m. Feb. 16 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Ann Stapleton, assistant professor at the University of Tennessee, Chattanooga, and a plant molecular biologist candidate, will present "Adapt or Fry: Maize Response to Ultraviolet Radiation" at 3 p.m. Feb. 19 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Basket-Weaving Demo

Billie Ruth Sudduth, North Carolina Living Treasure and nationally known basket maker, will display and demonstrate her work from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m. Feb. 15 and 16 in the King Hall Lobby. Sudduth started her work in public schools in Wilmington using basket weaving as a way to engage students in mathematical concepts. Many of her basket designs are based upon Fibonacci's number, the mathematical expression of the ratio 5:8. This ratio is found in the spacing of spirals on seashells and pineapples and in the arrangement of florets in the center of a daisy and a sunflower.

Discussion on Genetics

"Genetics in the New Millennium: Implications from Plants to People," a panel discussion featuring Midori Albert, anthropology; Ken Diehl, pre-engineering; Diane Dodd and Diane Melroy, biological sciences; and Patty Turrisi, philosophy and religion; will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 20 in Dobo Hall, Room 103. Panelists will discuss the genome project, prospects for genetic decoding, genetic engineering and the societal implications with these developments. The discussion is sponsored by the science, humanities and society minor and the Center for Teaching Excellence. Bill McCarthy, history and SHS coordinator, will moderate the panel.

Science Olympiad

UNCW will host the regional Science Olympiad, a team competition for middle and high school students, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Feb. 24. Twenty middle school and 14 high school teams will compete in 22 events involving earth science, biology, chemistry, physics and engineering. Each team must have at least 15 members. Competitions will be held in DeLoach, Dobo, Friday and Hanover halls. UNCW will award $500 scholarships to junior and senior winners. Olympiad sponsors include CP&L, Fisher Scientific, Time-Warner Cable, Cumulus Broadcasting and GE.

Newman Center Lectures

The Newman Catholic Student Center will host a series of lectures this semester starting with "Living Diversity" presented by Thomas Barth, political science, at 5 p.m. Feb. 21. Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will present "Living Monastically in the Secular World" at 5 p.m. Feb. 28. For more information, contact Mary Pat Fourqurean, campus minister, at 792-0507 or e-mail fourqureanm.

Former SAS President to Speak at CEC Meeting

Andre Boisvert, former president of SAS Institute, will speak at 6 p.m. Feb. 20 in the Warwick Center Ballroom as part of the annual meeting of the Coastal Entrepreneurial Council (CEC). The meeting is free for CEC members and university faculty, but reservations are required. Contact the CEC at ext. 3901 or e-mail cec@coastalnet.com. This will be Boisvert's first public appearance since leaving SAS Institute Feb. 9. He will speak on the future direction of information technology and its impact on North Carolina business.

Atlantis Art Show

Atlantis, the student literary and art journal, will host its annual art show at 7 p.m. Feb. 15 in the Randall Library Archives. The event will showcase student work submitted for the journal's 2001 edition.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - beef or chicken tacos, refried beans, Mexican rice, tossed salad, black bean salad, assorted desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - sliced roast beef, manicotti, mashed potatoes with gravy, steamed broccoli, whole kernel corn, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Sayigh on PAX

Laela Sayigh, biological sciences, is among the experts featured on "Encounters with the Unexplained: Are Dolphins Smarter than Us?" which airs on PAX-TV at 6 p.m. Feb. 18. For Time Warner Cable subscribers, PAX-TV broadcasts on channel 11. Charter Communications airs PAX on channel 10.

Travel Programs

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education is offering the following trips:

Aegean Discovery: The Best of Greece, a Taste of Turkey and a Leisurely Cruise. Provost John Cavanaugh will serve as escort for this 11-day tour of Greece's classic sights including the Parthenon. The trip is scheduled for Sept. 22 through Oct. 2 and costs $2,420 which includes round-trip airfare, lodging and most tour costs. A $200 deposit is due by March 23.

Best of Scotland and Ireland. Kemille Moore, art and theatre, will serve as tour leader for a nine-day trip to Scotland and Ireland July 11-21. Participants will visit the birthplace of Sir Walter Scott and spend a night in an 18th-century castle. The cost is $2,575 per person and includes round-trip airfare, accommodations and motor coach travel in both countries.

On Stage in London. Carole Pendergrast, art and theatre, will escort participants on this five-day trip to London which features attending three plays, round-trip airfare and a half-day sightseeing tour of London in private coach. The trip, scheduled for May 17-23, costs $1,750 for double occupancy.

Paralegal Course

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education is offering a paralegal certificate course from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, March 17 through April 29. Students will receive training to assist trial attorneys, to interview witnesses and to research the law in preparation for courtroom litigation. The cost is $845. The registration deadline is March 9. For more information, call ext. 3195.

Poetry Reading

Poet Albert Goldbarth will read from his work at 8 p.m. Feb. 22 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. This free, public event is sponsored by Creative Writing Department and La Festa. A reception and book signing will follow in the lobby.

The author of more than 20 collections of poetry and essays, Goldbarth is a visiting faculty member at UNCW. He is Distinguished Professor of Humanities in the Department of English at Wichita State University.

Martinez to Lecture at Film Festival in Durham

Maurice Martinez, Watson School of Education, will present "Sociocultural Expressions of the Black Indians of Mardi Gras" at 3 p.m. Feb. 17 as part of the seventh annual Black Diaspora Film Festival in Durham. The lecture follows a screening of his documentary Black Indians of New Orleans.

Big Band Performance

The UNCW Big Band, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, and the Jazz Combo, directed by Jerald Shynett, will perform at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $5, $2.50 for faculty, staff, senior citizens and children under 12 and free to UNCW students.

Andes Manta Performance

Andes Manta, an Ecuadorian musical group, will perform at 8 p.m. Feb. 17 in Kenan Auditorium as part of the UNCW Arts in Action series. Tickets are on sale at the auditorium box office. Call ext. 3500.

Creative Writing Lectures

Phil Furia, author of Irving Berlin: A Life in Song, will lecture on "Writing Other Lives" at 2 p.m. Feb. 20 in Cameron Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department's weekly lecture series. Paul Wilkes, author of Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life, will lecture on "Selecting a Topic, Then Finding the Facts" at 2 p.m. Feb. 27.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Jimmy Reeves, chemistry, completed a research reassignment that included a three-week visit to Chile and Peru. He presented workshops on teaching chemistry with technology to faculty at the Universities of Concepcion and Bio-Bio in Chile and the XXIV congresso Latinoamericano de Quimica in Lima, Peru. Reeves also delivered one of the keynote addresses at the Virginia Association of Science Teachers in Roanoke.

John Cavanaugh, academic affairs, presented the paper "Administrative Mentoring" at the annual American Association for Higher Education Forum on Faculty Roles and Rewards in Tampa, Fla. In addition, Cavanaugh and Robert E. Tyndall, ITSD, presented "Creating UNCW's Blended Mode University" at the annual meeting of the National Learning Infrastructure Initiative in New Orleans.

Martin Posey and Troy Alphin, biological sciences and CMS, gave an invited talk on oyster reefs as habitat for fish and decapods to the bivalves and environmental management session of the International Triennial Conference of the World Aquaculture Society, the National Shellfisheries Association and the American Fisheries Society Fish Culture Section.

Donna Packer-Kinlaw, English, had the article "Be Stunted that I Grow: Political Resistance in the Autobiographical Works of Sindiwe Magona" accepted for publication in Ariel: A Review of International English Literature, published by the University of Calgary. Packer-Kinlaw, a graduate of UNCW's M.A. program, wrote the article as her master's thesis.

D. Ann Pabst and William McLellan, biological sciences, presented the talk "Ontogenic Allometry and Body Composition of Harbor Porpoises Phocoena phocoena from the Western North Atlantic" at the annual meeting of the Society for Integrative and Comparative Biology, in Chicago. UNCW graduate student Erin Meagher and colleagues presented the talk "Heart Rate, Respiration and Heat Flux across the Dorsal Fin in Wild Bottlenose Dolphins, Tursiops truncatus." Vicki Stegall, a UNCW graduate student, Steve Kinsey, Richard Dillaman and colleagues presented the poster "Biochemical Changes in Locomotor Muscle of Harbor Porpoises, Phocoena phocoena, During Starvation."

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays

Farewell Reception

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs will host a farewell reception for Sandy Ellington from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Feb. 21 in Alderman Hall, Room 101. Ellington is leaving the university to pursue other career opportunities.

Financial Planning Seminar

ORP, 403(b), 401(k) – do these terms confuse you? David Haden, senior financial advisor for American General Finance Group, will unveil the mystery of these terms at 10 a.m. Feb. 23 in the human resources training room. In addition to discussing retirement planning, Haden will talk about tax-saving methods for college planning. The seminar is free. Reservations are requested by calling ext. 3274.

YWCA Women of Achievement Awards

Nomination forms for the YWCA Women of Achievement Awards are available in human resources. The awards recognize outstanding women from Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender counties who have made creative and lasting contributions to the community. The deadline to submit nominations is March 1.

Seahawk Kids Club

Boys and girls ages 12 and younger can sign up for Hawkstars, the official kids club for Seahawk athletics. The annual $5 fee includes a membership card, a T-shirt, a birthday card from the Seahawk and invitations to special events. Children of faculty and staff can sign up for free. For more information, contact Angela Pucher at ext. 7319.

Great Decisions

William Lefes, a foreign service worker in Africa and Asia for more than 20 years, will lecture on "International Health Crisis – Infectious Diseases and Other World Health Threats" at 7 p.m. Feb. 19 in King Hall Auditorium.

Work-Study Renewals

Students who are currently employed under the Federal Work-Study Program will automatically be given priority consideration for renewal of their award for the 2001-02 award year. Departments do not need to notify the Financial Aid and Veterans Services Office. Students, however, must apply for financial aid using the free application for federal student aid before funds are exhausted (usually by March 1) and have continued eligibility under federal guidelines.

Department Allocations

Departments will be notified of federal work-study allocations for summer 2001 and the 2001-02 academic year on March 5. Instructions for advertising positions and hiring students will be provided at that time.

Direct questions to Mark Williams at ext. 3176.

Scholarship Information

The Financial Aid and Veterans Services Office will notify departments that are responsible for selecting scholarship recipients of the projected fund balance, donor terms and conditions and award procedures March 5. Direct questions to Mark Williams at ext. 3176.

Employee Discount Offered

Employees can receive a $15 discount on an in-depth financial planning seminar offered through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education in conjunction with Jefferson Pilot Securities Corp. The seminar will be held from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, Feb. 20 through Mar. 13, in Morton Hall, Room 201, or 6:30 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, Feb. 22 through March 15, in Morton Hall, Room 101. Regular preregistration is $59 which includes a reference notebook and refreshments. Employees (with or without) their spouse/partner can preregister for $44. To register, call 763-1604 by Friday or 256-6004 Feb. 12-19. For more information, contact Kay Fryar at ext. 3698.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Thomas Cone, student affairs; David Cook, university police; David Dickman, Charles Perry and Chet Stukes, physical plant; James Fry, Jr. and Jeannine Krzykwa, application services; Daniel Harbaugh and Kathleen Stewart, project design and management; Debra Moldovan, purchasing services; Tikila Morgan, Student Health Center; and Wesley Padgett, telecommunications.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21126	Assistant Dir. of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21134	Marine Specialist – Key Largo	Feb. 16
21135	Police Officer I	Feb. 16
21136	Processing Assist. III	Feb. 16
21137	Office Assistant IV	Feb. 16
21138	Associate Dir. for Involvement/ Campus Activities	March 16
21139	Police Officer I	Feb. 23
21140	Office Assistant IV	Feb. 23
21141	Accounting Clerk III	Feb. 23
21142	Processing Assist. III	Feb. 23
21143	Spray/Irrigation Spec.	Feb. 23
21144	Grounds Worker	Feb. 23

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Movie Makers Lecture

Tom Priestly will discuss his work as director of photography for The Thomas Crown Affair during a showing of the film at 1 p.m. Feb. 16 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Priestly, a cinematographer, also worked on the films A League of Their Own, Sleeping with the Enemy, F/X, Silkwood and The World According to Garp.

This is recyclable.

MILDRED P SIMON
LIBRARY ASSISTANT
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 30 February 22, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Creates Political Science/MPA Community Advisory Board

UNCW announced the makeup of a new 25-member Political Science/Master of Public Administration Community Advisory Board. To be chaired by New Hanover County Manager Allen O'Neal, the board includes representatives from city, town and county governments in Southeastern North Carolina as well as leaders in environmental, regulatory and nonprofit agencies.

This board was organized because the UNCW Department of Political Science is entering an exciting new era, according to Milan J. Dluhy, department chair. "We anticipate the UNC Board of Governors will approve the new Master of Public Administration program to begin fall semester 2001. Our enrollments in political science are at an all-time high, and we are moving into a new building this summer," he said. "We also are planning numerous new activities, including the 'Great Decisions' speakers program currently underway on Monday evenings and a Quality of Life Conference in the six-county region to be held in fall 2001.

"As we move into these new arenas, we need the advice of community and university leaders to ensure that our plans are serving the best interests of the Cape Fear region. We look forward to working with community advisory board to develop sound strategies in areas such as curriculum content, marketing, internships and program planning."

The UNC Board of Governors granted UNCW the authorization to plan the Master of Public Administration program in January 2000. The MPA is the recognized professional managerial degree for all levels of government and is increasingly valued in the growing nonprofit sector as well.

Southeastern North Carolina is the only part of the state not serviced by an MPA program. According to Thomas J. Barth, MPA director, there is tremendous interest on the UNCW campus and in the region. Twenty-three students are pre-enrolled. The deadline for applications is April 15.

The proposed program will require completion of 42 credit hours (39 for experienced students who do not require an internship). The curriculum is designed to provide a comprehensive education for individuals interested in management careers in government or nonprofit institutions. Students may choose a concentration in coastal town management or nonprofit management.

The interdisciplinary focus of the MPA reflects the broad scope of the public and nonprofit sectors. Core courses in generic topics such as organization behavior, human resource management, budgeting/finance and policy analysis will be supplemented by specialty areas which tap campus and community expertise such as coastal/environmental management, parks and recreation, communication studies and human service management. Night and weekend courses will be offered as well as distance learning technology to meet the needs of working and full-time students. The complete board member list is on the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/news/releases/february01/MPA_board.html.

John Sampen First Performer in Recital Series

Saxophonist John Sampen will perform at 8 p.m. Feb. 28 in Kenan Auditorium in the first of seven concerts which comprise the 2001 Artist Recital Series sponsored by the Music Department.

A distinguished artist professor at Bowling Green State University, Sampen will play a variety of 20th-century compositions for saxophone including Wings by Joan Tower, Memo 6 by Bernard Rands and Concerto I for Alto Saxophone and Taped Instruments by Burton Beerman.

Sampen

The remaining concerts of the series include UNCW faculty Barry David Salwen, piano, March 1; Bryce Masterson, classical guitarist, March 12; UNCW faculty Frank Bongiorno, saxophone, March 14; Duo Firenze, antique guitar and fortepiano, March 16; UNCW faculty Denise Peterson, violin, and Richard Thomas, cello, April 9; and UNCW faculty Nancy King, soprano, with Emery Stephens, baritone, Patricia Ainspac, piano, and Robert Nathanson, classical guitar, April 21. All concerts are at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.

Tickets for individual performances are $10 general admission; $5 for UNCW faculty/staff; $2.50 for senior citizens and children under12. UNCW students are admitted free with a valid ID. To purchase tickets, contact the auditorium box office at ext. 3500. Proceeds from ticket sales benefit the Department of Music. For concert information, call ext. 3390.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Faculty Advisory Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Faculty Advisory Committee will meet at noon Feb. 26 in Alderman Hall, Room 215. Faculty are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Committee members are: Robert Blundo, social work; Deborah Brunson, communication studies; Cem Canel, information systems and operations management; Andrew Clark, history; Edna Collins, curricular studies; Janet Ellerby, English; Gary Faulkner, sociology and anthropology; Dargan Frierson, mathematical sciences; Philip Furia, creative writing; J. Edward Graham, economics and finance; Louise Hessenflow, School of Nursing; Tammy Hunt, management and marketing; Julian Keith, psychology; Ann Pabst, biological sciences; Robert Smith, Watson School of Education; Lynne Snowden, sociology and criminal justice; and Brad Walker, curricular studies.

The Rehearsal

The UNCW Theatre production of Jean Anouilh's The Rehearsal is scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 21-24 and 2 p.m. Feb. 25 in the Kenan Hall SRO Theatre. Tickets are $5, free for UNCW students and are on sale at the Kenan Auditorium box office.

Directed by Terry Rogers, The Rehearsal is set in 1950. Members of the French aristocracy plan a costume party where the featured entertainment is an 18th-century play. Dramatic situations recreated in the play's rehearsal shed light on the characters' real-life intrigues.

Rogers

Dance Performance

The Department of Art and Theatre and Wilmington Independent Choreographers will present "Dance-a-Palooza," a celebration of American dance forms, at 8 p.m. Feb. 23 in Kenan Auditorium. Tickets are $8, $5 for faculty/staff and free for UNCW students with ID.

Lifelong Learning

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will offer the MarineQuest programs listed below. To register, call ext. 3195.

Deep Sweep: Trolling at Sea, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 22. Senior adults will cruise on the Winner Queen and learn about marine life. The cost is $85. Registration is due by April 6.

Odyssey Excursion to Masonboro Island, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 8. The cost is $20 for adults, $15 for children under age 12. Register by April 27.

Positively Reactive: Chemistry Camp, 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. June 11-15. Children ages eight to 11 will learn about science in a safe, university laboratory. The cost is $130. Register by May 25.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Richard Dillaman, Steven Kinsey, Martin Posey, Scott Quackenbush, Robert Roer, Thomas Shafer and Troy Alphin, biological sciences, will present "Blue Crab Use of Low Salinity Areas: The NSF-CRUI Program at UNCW" at 2 p.m. Feb. 23 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Physics Seminars

Joseph Dolan, senior astrophysicist at the NASA-Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., will present "What Do Black Holes Look Like?" at 8 p.m. March 15 in King Hall Auditorium and "Possible Evidence for an Event Horizon in CYG" at 2 p.m. March 16 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. These lectures are sponsored in conjunction with the American Astronomical Society and the Shapley Endowment Fund.

Paul H. Frampton, Louis D. Rubin, Jr. professor of physics at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "Recent Progress in Cosmology" at 2 p.m. March 30 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212.

Earth Sciences Seminar

Jeffery Chanton from Florida State University will present the seminar "Stable Isotopes as Natural Tracers" at 4 p.m. Feb. 23 in Dobo Hall, Room 134. Following the lecture, there will be a reception in the lobby of Dobo Hall.

Newman Center Lectures

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, will present "Living Monastically in the Secular World" at 5 p.m. Feb. 28 at the Newman Catholic Student Center. For more information, contact Mary Pat Fourqurean, campus minister, at 792-0507 or e-mail fourqureanm.

Literary Awareness Readings

UNCW faculty members Janet Ellerby, Nan Graham, Kathleen Gould and Rebecca Lee will read from their works at 6 p.m. Feb. 22 in the University Union Living Room. This program is sponsored by the Leadership Center as part of Literacy Awareness Week. In addition, the UNCW Theatre Club will perform excerpts from its production of Alice in Wonderland and other children's stories at 6 p.m. Feb. 23 in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Café.

CMS Lecture

Carl Miller from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Field Research Facility in Duck, N.C., will present "Relocation of the Cape Fear River Entrance Part One: Initial Observations of Bathymetry, Waves and Circulations" at 3 p.m. Feb. 28 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium.

Creative Writing Lectures

Paul Wilkes, author of Beyond the Walls: Monastic Wisdom for Everyday Life, will lecture on "Selecting a Topic, Then Finding the Facts" at 2 p.m. Feb. 27 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. David Colbert will lecture on "Editing and Being Edited" at 2 p.m. March 13.

Chamber Music

The McIver Ensemble, UNC Greensboro's resident string trio, will perform at 7:30 p.m. March 4 in Thalian Hall. For more information, call 762-5523.

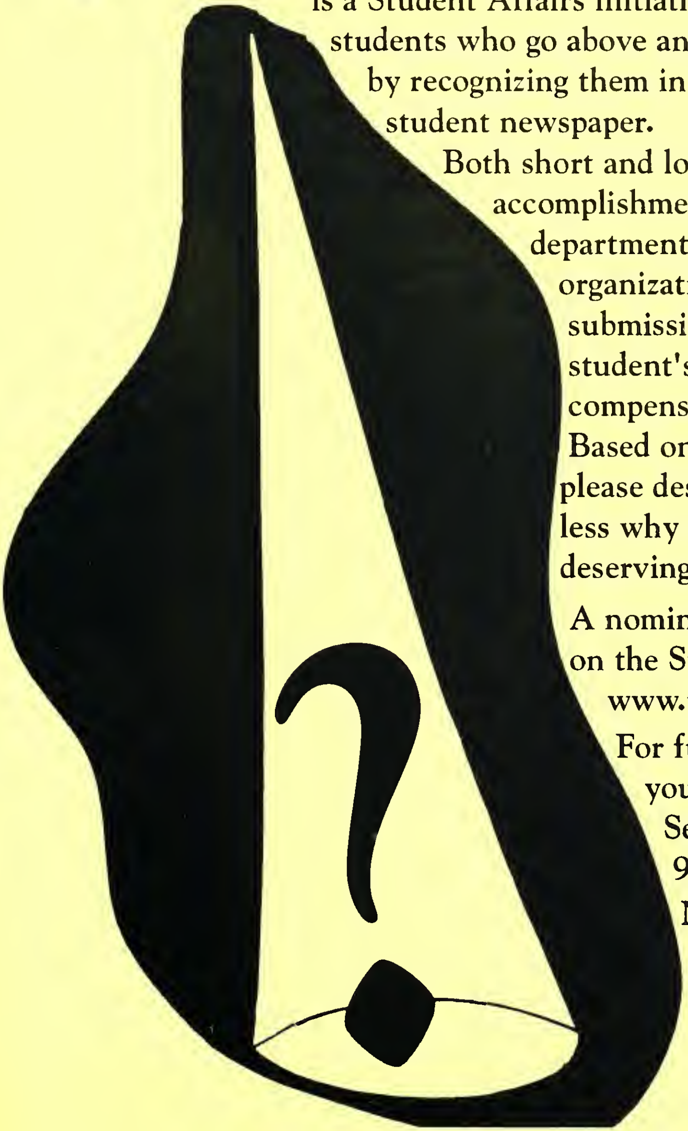
International Film Series

Aimee and Jaguar, a German film that tells the true story of an affair between two women in 1943 Berlin, will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. March 1. Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Recognizing outstanding UNCW students!

The Student Spotlight



is a Student Affairs initiative designed to highlight students who go above and beyond in their work by recognizing them in The Seahawk student newspaper.

Both short and long term efforts/ accomplishments in academic departments and/or clubs and organizations are appropriate for submission. The nature of the student's work may be compensated or uncompensated. Based on your observations, please describe in 250 words or less why your nominee is deserving of this recognition.

A nomination form can be found on the Student Affairs home page: www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/divsa

For further information, you may contact the Seahawk Perch at 962.7371.

Nominate an Outstanding Student Today!

UNCW©

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Celia Rivenbark, author of Bless Your Heart, Tramp, joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. Feb. 22 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. Feb. 23, 24 and 25 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library.

Lecture Focuses on Dutch Rescue of Jews

Author and researcher Mark Klempner will present "Just the Human Thing to Do: Dutch People Who Rescued Jews During World War II" at 8 p.m. Feb. 26 in the Randall Library Auditorium. The presentation will feature audio excerpts from Dutch people who rescued Jews during the Nazi occupation of Europe. Klempner's articles about this research were published in Oral History Review and Historia y Fuente Oral. This free presentation is sponsored by the North Carolina Humanities Forum and the Department of Philosophy and Religion.

Spring Soccer School

The UNCW Soccer Program will hold a spring soccer school for boys and girls ages six to 14 from March 12-16. The camp will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to noon Friday. The cost is $200 per child and includes lunch and a T-shirt. Faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. For more information, contact Paul Cairney at ext. 3932.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - tarragon chicken, winter vegetable casserole, confetti rice, green beans almandine, steamed yellow squash, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - fried pork chops, pasta primavera, mashed potatoes with gravy, broccoli and cheese casserole, steamed carrots, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Janice and William Kingoff were among the guests who attended two receptions at Kenan House to celebrate the return visit of the university's painting Young Girl Defending Herself Against Eros by French artist William-Adolphe Bouguereau.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Doug Kesling, NURC, served as guest editor for the Marine Technology Society (MTS) Journal and provided opening remarks for the winter 2001 special issue Scientific and Technical Diving. Andrew Shepard, NURC, authored the paper "NOAA's National Undersea Research Program." Steven Miller and Craig Cooper, NURC, co-authored the paper "The Aquarius Underwater Laboratory: America's 'Inner Space' Station." The MTS is an international, interdisciplinary society devoted to ocean and marine engineering, science and policy. MTS disseminates marine science and technical knowledge through its award-winning, international peer-reviewed quarterly journal. Copies of the special issue may be obtained by contacting MTS at (202) 775-5966 or on the Web at www.mtsociety.org.

Michael Seidman, history, had his 474-page manuscript The Republic of Egos: A Social History of the Spanish Civil War accepted for publication by the University of Wisconsin Press.

Terry Theodore, art and theatre, had the article "The Black Image: 1895-1928" published in a special annual issue of Film and History. Theodore's article, which examined the portrayal of African Americans in American silent pictures, is divided into two parts with the first detailing the early portrayals of blacks in cinema with a special look at different film versions of Uncle Tom's Cabin and concluding with the controversial film The Birth of a Nation in 1915. The second part looks at the continuing but changing stereotypical screen treatment of blacks in Hollywood which would continue for many decades to the arrival of sound cinema in late 1927.

Stephen Skrabel, Robert Kieber and William Cooper, chemistry, received $163,412 in supplemental funding from SERP for the project "Speciation, Fluxes and Cycling of Dissolved Copper and Zinc in Estuaries: The Roles of Sediment-Water Exchange and Photochemical Effects."

Steven Dworkin, psychology, received $25,000 in supplemental funding from R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. for the project "Investigations on the Behavioral, Pharmacologic and Neurobiological Effects of Nicotine."

Alina Szmant, biological sciences, received $96,019 in supplemental funding from the University of Miami/Environmental Protection Agency for the project "National Center for Caribbean Coral Reef Research: Subcontract to UNCW for Research on Nutrient Cycling and Primary Production and NURC Support."

Daniel Baden, CMS, and Julia Kubanek, chemistry, received $8,333 in supplemental funding from Life Science Research Foundation for the project "Brevotoxins and Ciguatoxins: Origin and Function of Toxicity."

Alex Bocconcelli, CMS, received $2,055 in supplemental funding from Cornell University for the project "Advanced Analytic Sonic Boom Underwater Propagation Analysis."

Chancellor's Achievement Awards Reception

The Chancellor's Achievement Awards reception will be held at 2 p.m. Feb. 23 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. The campus community is invited to attend this event which honors students who received all A's while carrying a minimum of 15 credit hours for the fall 2000 semester.

Business Entertainment Expenditures Revision

Revisions to Administrative Procedure ACG 2.40 (Business Entertainment Expenditures) were approved. Note the following key revisions and items of interest:

- Allowable and non-allowable funding sources from which business entertainment expenditures may be paid have been updated.
- In order for entertainment expenses to be paid or reimbursed by the university, approval signature of the dean, vice chancellor or chancellor is required on the business expenditures documentation form. The normal approval signature (i.e., signature of the budget authority for the account from which business entertainment expenses will be paid) is required on the accompanying check request.

The business entertainment expenditures form has been revised and is now available on the World Wide Web in PDF format at www.uncwil.edu/sp/AdmForms/FormsPDF/acg240.pdf.

University employees are encouraged to read the revised policy in its entirety. The revised policy is published in the Administrative Policies and Procedures on the Web and may be accessed directly at www.uncwil.edu/sp/admproc/acg240.htm.

Discount Movie Tickets

Through a joint venture between the Student Government Association and human resources, faculty and staff can purchase Carmike Cinema discount movie tickets at the University Union. Tickets will be available Feb. 26.

Financial Planning Seminar

ORP, 403(b), 401(k) – do these terms confuse you? David Haden, senior financial advisor for American General Finance Group, will unveil the mystery of these terms at 10 a.m. Feb. 23 in the human resources training room. In addition to discussing retirement planning, Haden will talk about tax-saving methods for college planning. The seminar is free. Reservations are requested by calling ext. 3274.

YWCA Women of Achievement Awards

Nomination forms for the YWCA Women of Achievement Awards are available in human resources. The awards recognize outstanding women from Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender counties who have made creative and lasting contributions to the community. The deadline to submit nominations is March 1.

Seahawk Kids Club

Boys and girls ages 12 and younger can sign up for Hawkstars, the official kids club for Seahawk athletics. The annual $5 fee includes a membership card, a T-shirt, a birthday card from the Seahawk and invitations to special events. Children of faculty and staff can sign up for free. For more information, contact Angela Pucher at ext. 7319.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 9 a.m. to noon March 6.

Notary Public, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. March 21.

Timekeeping 101, 2 to 4 p.m. March 14.

Yoga, noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through May 1.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Joseph Bace, architecture and construction services, and Candice Carter, accounting.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21126	Assist. Dir. of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21138	Associate Dir. for Involvement/ Campus Activities	March 16
21139	Police Officer I	Feb. 23
21140	Office Assistant IV	Feb. 23
21141	Accounting Clerk III	Feb. 23
21142	Processing Assistant III	Feb. 23
21143	Spray/Irrigation Specialist	Feb. 23
21144	Grounds Worker	Feb. 23

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Haywood Retiring

Deborah Haywood, wellness services, will retire effective March 1.

Haywood, who joined the Division of Student Affairs in 1984, presided over the development of one of the first wellness programs for students at a UNC system institution.

"I take great pride in having had the opportunity to work so closely with students, friends and colleagues to help make UNCW a healthy place to live and work," said Haywood. "I would like to thank the many friends that I've made during the years for their support."

Haywood said she and her husband Bob, who retired last year following 20 years as campus minister, looked forward to taking some extended sailing adventures during the next few months.

In addition to her role as assistant director of wellness services, Haywood was a part-time lecturer for the HPER Department and wrote several journal articles about the importance of health promotion/health education programs on college campuses. She also served on numerous local, state, regional and national boards including the National Commission on Health Education Credentialing.

ADINA R LACK
ARCHIVIST/SP COLLECT LIBRARIAN
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 31 March 1, 2001 | Phillip Brown, editor

Molly Ivins to Give Keynote Speech for Women's History Month

Ivins

Nationally syndicated columnist Molly Ivins will deliver the keynote address for UNCW's observance of Women's History Month at 7 p.m. March 20 in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free; however, tickets are required. Faculty and staff tickets are available starting today at the auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. A limited number of tickets for the general public will be available after March 5.

As a columnist for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Ivins writes about Texas, national politics and other bizarre happenings. Her column is published occasionally in the Wilmington Star-News. Ivins, born and raised in Houston, earned a bachelor's degree from Smith College and a master's degree in journalism from Columbia University. She studied for a year at the Institute of Political Science in Paris.

As a reporter, Ivins worked for the Houston Chronicle, the Minneapolis Tribune and The New York Times. Her freelance work has appeared in numerous publications including Esquire, The Atlantic, Harper's and TV Guide. In addition, Ivins does occasional commentary for National Public Radio and the NewsHour with Jim Lehrer.

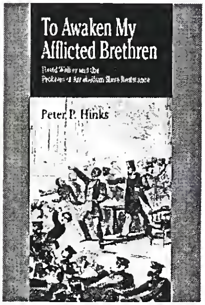
A three-time finalist for the Pulitzer Prize, Ivins is the author of the best-selling book Molly Ivins Can't Say That, Can She?, a collection of essays on politics and journalism. Her other works are Nothin' but Good Times Ahead, You Got to Dance with Them What Brung You: Politics in the Clinton Years and Shrub, a book about George W. Bush.

This presentation is sponsored by the UNCW Division of Student Affairs, the UNCW Leadership Lecture Series, the Women's History Month steering committee, the Faculty Women's Network and the Office of the Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

Yale Professor to Lecture on Wilmington-Born Black Abolitionist David Walker

Peter Hinks, author, historian and lecturer of American history at Yale University, will speak about David Walker, the noted nineteenth-century black abolitionist. This free, public talk is scheduled for 7 p.m. March 15 in Kenan Auditorium.

Hinks' work To Awaken My Afflicted Brethren, David Walker and the Problem of Antebellum Slave Resistance is the first full-length study of Walker's life. In 1829, Walker, a free black born in Wilmington, wrote An Appeal to the Colored Citizens of the World. In the pamphlet, Walker challenged his "afflicted and slumbering brethren" to rise up and cast off their chains. Walker's efforts to circulate this pamphlet throughout the South outraged slaveholders, and a price was put on his head in Wilmington and other Southern cities, said Melton McLaurin, professor of history and associate vice chancellor for academic affairs.



To Awaken My Afflicted Brethren
David Walker and the Problem of Antebellum Slave Resistance
Peter P. Hinks

Penn State University Press, publisher of the biography, calls it "an ambitious book. Peter Hinks combines social biography with textual analysis to provide a powerful new interpretation of David Walker and his meaning for antebellum American history. Through his painstaking research, Hinks captures Walker's life in early nineteenth-century coastal North and South Carolina. He discusses the impact of Wilmington's independent black Methodist church upon Walker, the probable sources of his early education and the influence of religion and the resistance movement in Charleston and Boston.

Hinks shows how Walker labored to harness the optimistic activism of evangelical Christianity and revolutionary republicanism to inspire African Americans to a new sense of personal worth and to challenge the ideology and institutions of white supremacy. Though Walker died in 1830, his Appeal remained a rallying point for many African Americans for years to come."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Senior Symposium

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will sponsor "Senior Symposium: Dignity in Aging" from 1 to 4 p.m. March 6. Focusing on spirituality in living and dying, the session will feature seven panelists including Eleanor Covan, gerontology; Rene Pare, senior minister at Unity Christ Church; Ellen Cameron, Lower Cape Fear Hospice; and Mary Rudyk, a physician specializing in geriatric medicine. Betty Ann Sanders, host of Let's Talk! UNCW & You, will moderate. Due to limited seating, registration is required to attend this free event. Call ext. 3193.

Criminal Justice Lecture

Richard Block, professor of sociology at Loyola University, will present "Hot Spots and Street Robbery: Using Mapping Software for Crime Analysis" at 7 p.m. March 15 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. Block is widely recognized for his work in the development of geographic information systems for crime analysis and database management. His current research involves analyzing geographic areas such as rapid transit stations and housing complexes for their likelihood as high-risk crime areas.

Screenplay Award

Carmen Basilio! Basilio!, a screenplay based upon the life of the 1950s boxing champion and written by Lou Buttino, communication studies, earned first place at the eighth annual Twin Rivers Media Festival in Minden, W.Va.

The work, which is under review by the film studio DreamWorks, also won the Bronze Prize for Best Screenplay/Biography at the Worldfest Houston International Film Festival in 1999.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Vicki Stegall will defend the thesis "Starvation in Harbor Porpoises, Phocoena phocoena: A Morphological and Biochemical Characterization of Muscle" at 2 p.m. March 2 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Great Decisions Lecture

Frank Crigler, a career diplomat, writer, teacher and publisher, will lecture on Mexico and the administration of President Vicente Fox at 7 p.m. March 12 in King Hall Auditorium.

Crigler, former U.S. ambassador to Somalia and Rwanda, has more than 30 years of diplomatic experience in Africa, Latin America and Washington. This free event is part of the Great Decisions lecture series sponsored by the Political Science Department.

Planning R/V Trips

Katie Gilbert, an avid recreational vehicle traveler, will lead the program "On the Road Again" from 6 to 9 p.m. March 1. This program, sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, will focus on the culture, geography and sites of North America through the eyes of an R/V traveler. Participants should bring a road atlas. For more information, call ext. 3195.

Physics Seminars

Joseph Dolan, senior astrophysicist at the NASA-Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., will present "What Do Black Holes Look Like?" at 8 p.m. March 15 in King Hall Auditorium and "Possible Evidence for an Event Horizon in CYG" at 2 p.m. March 16 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. These lectures are sponsored in conjunction with the American Astronomical Society and the Shapley Endowment Fund.

Paul H. Frampton, Louis D. Rubin, Jr. Professor of Physics at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "Recent Progress in Cosmology" at 2 p.m. March 30 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212.

Creative Writing Lecture

David Colbert will lecture on "Editing and Being Edited" at 2 p.m. March 13 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department lecture series.

Guitar Concerts

The Music Department will hold three concerts featuring classical guitar performances at 8 p.m. March 12, 14 and 16 in Kenan Auditorium.

The March 12 concert features UNCW alumnus Bryce Masterson '96 in his debut performance since earning a master's degree from the Cleveland Institute of Music. Masterson won first prize in the Virginia Commonwealth University regional guitar competition in 1995.

Masterson

The Ryoanji Duo, comprised of Frank Bongiorno, saxophone, and Robert Nathanson, guitar, will perform March 14.

The March 16 performance features Duo Firenze. Comprised of Robert and Pamela Trent on antique guitar and fortepiano, the duo specialize in performing 19th century compositions written for their respective instruments.

Duo Firenze

Tickets, which are valid for all three concerts, are $10 for the public, $5 for faculty and staff and free for UNCW students with ID.

Spring Soccer School

The UNCW Soccer Program will hold a spring soccer school for boys and girls ages six to 14 from March 12-16. The camp will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to noon Friday. The cost is $200 per child and includes lunch and a T-shirt. Faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. For more information, contact Paul Cairney at ext. 3932.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dance Performance

The David Parson's Dance Company will perform at 8 p.m. March 10 in Kenan Auditorium. Tickets are $35 and are on sale at the auditorium box office. The company, named as "one of the hottest tickets in contemporary American dance" by the Toronto Star, will conduct three master classes March 9 and 10 as part of the Wilmington Concert Association's 71st season. Faculty and students can participate in a class scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 9 in Kenan Auditorum. For more information, contact Doris Levy at 395-4062.

Chamber Music

The McIver Ensemble, UNC Greensboro's resident string trio, will perform at 7:30 p.m. March 4 in Thalian Hall. For more information, contact the Chamber Music Society of Wilmington at 762-5523.

Bachelor of Social Work Degree Accredited

The Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington received a four-year accreditation from the Council on Social Work Education Commission in Accreditation.

"After reviewing our BSW curriculum and program, the Council on Social Work, the sole accrediting agency for social work education programs in the U.S., has determined that our program meets their requirements to educate a person to perform as a generalist social work practitioner. We're extremely pleased because this represents a major accomplishment and rewards the hard work of faculty, staff and students," said P. Nelson Reid, chair of the Department of Social Work. "Accreditation is essential for our students because professional licensing and certification are linked to graduation from an accredited program as is admission to a graduate program. It's expected that accreditation will be retroactive to 1996."

The BSW program started the accreditation process in 1996 while the program was part of the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice. John Nasuti was program director. Completing the rigorous accreditation process is important for all professional degree programs, said Reid. Key elements that helped in the process were an increasing demand in the undergraduate social work program and the creation of a separate department in 1998, he added.

In addition to the required coursework, students must complete a two-semester field placement in one of approximately 25 service agencies in the region. Qualified volunteer field instructors supervise students who apply concepts and knowledge learned from the classroom to the client population that the agency serves. Participating agencies include the New Hanover and Brunswick counties Departments of Social Services, Catholic Social Services, Coastal Adult Day Care, the Lower Cape Fear Hospice and numerous school systems and community-based organizations.

The Social Work Department employs seven full-time and three part-time faculty members for approximately 130 students majoring in the field. The department is also in the early stages of planning a Master of Social Work program, Reid said.

International Film Series

As part of the third annual Cape Fear International Film Series, Aimee and Jaguar, a German film that tells the true story of an affair between two women in 1943 Berlin, will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. March 1 in the Warwick Center BallrOom. Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students. For more information, contact Alison Murray at ext. 7595.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Michael Bradley, SBTDC, received $53,606 from the Small Business and Technical Development Center for 2001 program funding. He was featured in an article on North Carolina boat builders in the February issue of Sounding magazine.

Ronald Sizemore, biological sciences, received $3,150 from Nutech-03 for the project "Bacterial Counts of Ships Ballast Water."

Michelle Howard-Vital and Hunter Thompson, public service and extended education, received $35,000 from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation for the Collaborative Community Assistance Network.

John Tyrell and William Cooper, chemistry, received $15,000 from Equistar from the project "Synthesis of Equistar Ligands."

Mike Mallin, Larry Cahoon and Martin Posey, CMS and biological sciences, had the article "North and South Carolina Coasts" published in the Marine Pollution Bulletin, vol. 41. It was co-authored by JoAnn Burkholder, NCSU.

Troy Alphin and Martin Posey, biological sciences, had the article "Long-term Trends in Vegetation Dominance and in Faunal Community Composition in Created Marshes" published in the journal Wetlands Ecology and Management.

Stephen Kinsey, biological sciences, and Wade Watanabe, CMS, presented the paper "Alterations in the Composition of Phosphorylated Compounds Following Fertilization in Eggs of Cultured Southern Flounder Paralichthys lethostigma" at Aquaculture 2001, the international triennial conference and exposition of the World Aquaculture Society in Orlando, Fla.

Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, had the paper "Moral Responsibility and Respect for Autonomy: Meeting the Communitarian Challenge" published in the December 2000 issue of the Kennedy Institute of Ethics Journal.

Michael Durako, CMS and biological sciences, was co-author of the chapter "Global Status of Seagrasses" published in Seas at the Millenium: An Environmental Evaluation, Volume III Global Issues and Processes, edited by Charles R.C. Shepard and published by Pergamon/Elsevier. It was co-authored by Ronald C. Phillips.

Lee Schweninger, English, published the essay "American Indians and Environmentalism: The Problematics of the Land Ethic Stereotype" as the lead article in a recent issue of JAST: Journal of American Studies in Turkey.

Official Notices

University Union/Warwick Center Spring Break Hours

The University Union and Warwick Center will observe the following spring break schedule: 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. March 2, 8 a.m. to noon March 3, closed March 4, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 5-6 and 8-9, 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. March 7, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. March 10 and 5 to 11 p.m. March 11.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Debbie Dyar, accounting, and Jacquelyn Moore, CMS.

Blood Drive

The Leadership Center and the American Red Cross will hold a blood drive from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 13 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Walk-ins are welcome, but appointments are encouraged. Call ext. 3877.

Salary/Benefit Prospects

In reports to the staff advisory committee and the Faculty Senate, Chancellor James R. Leutze cautioned that the state's economic situation will likely result in modest salary increases and inflated health care costs for the next fiscal year. The Department of Human Resources will notify employees through the Campus Communique of salary and benefits prospects as the state's legislative session progresses.

Employee Discount Program Started

Due to the prospect of modest salary increases for the next fiscal year, human resources will inaugurate an "employee discount program" that will invite Wilmington businesses to offer UNCW employees continuing discounts on goods and services upon presentation of employee ID cards. Employees who know of local businesses interested in participating in the program should contact Liz Grimes at ext. 3274 or e-mail grimese.

Reimbursement Deadline

The deadline to submit all 2000 out-of-pocket expenses for health care and dependent day care spending accounts to Aon Consulting is March 31. Any money not claimed by March 31 will be forfeited. Call ext. 3006 or ext. 3713 for claim forms.

Elevator Closing

The elevator in Friday Hall will be closed for repair March 5-8.

US Cellular Discount

US Cellular will offer 325 "anytime" minutes and 2,000 "rolling bonus anytime" minutes with no activation fee and no roaming or long distance charges for calls originating in North and South Carolina or Virginia for $25 per month with a 12-month contract. Employees can choose a Nokia 5185i at no charge or a Motorola StarTac 7800 for $39.95. Both phones are digital/analog and come with an AC charger, battery, car adapter and leather case. Service includes caller ID, voicemail, call waiting, call forwarding and three-way calling at no additional charge. Promotion is valid through Jon Schrand. Call him at 910/540-888 or e-mail jon.schrand@uscellular.com. It is not valid through retail outlets or other agents. Employees with current US Cellular contracts may upgrade to the discount program. Employees are responsible for comparative shopping. The offer does not represent university endorsement of products or services offered.

Staff Training

Career Strategies for SPA State Employees, 9 a.m. to noon March 6.

Notary Public, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. March 21.

Timekeeping 101, 2 to 4 p.m. March 14.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

New Fight Song

A new fight song was selected during halftime of the men's basketball game Feb. 21. The winning entry, a combination of songs written by Graham Hatcher and Mark Eyre, was chosen by crowd response from three finalists. A committee comprised of faculty, students and athletes narrowed the finalists from 17 songs which were submitted. The winning composition, which is sung to the melody of the old fight song Green and Gold, is:

UNC Wilmington
It's blue, teal, gold for me.
Soaring Seahawks, scoring Seahawks,
Champions of land and sea (Go Hawks)
To the Seahawk team we proudly hail,
Our Seahawk pride will never fail.
Hail to the oh mighty Seahawks
On to victory. (Go Hawks)

Shared Leave

Mary Corcoran, Randall Library, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21126	Assistant Dir. of Campus Rec./ Outdoor Recreation	April 2
21138	Associate Dir. for Involvement/ Campus Activities	March 16
21146	Assistant Director of Purchasing	March 2
21147	Dir. of Client Services	March 2
21148	Office Assistant IV	March 2
21149	Office Assistant III	March 2
21150	Housekeeper	March 2
21151	Director of Leadership Programs	March 30
21152	Nurse Supervisor I	March 9
21153	Departmental Procurement Specialist	March 9
21154	Police Officer I	March 9
21155	Lateral Entry Police Officer	March 9
21156	Temporary Laborer	March 9

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

Campus Communique

The Official Bulletin of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 32 March 8, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Canadian Group Leahy to Perform March 31

UNCW Arts in Action and the Thalian Hall Center for the Performing Arts will present the musical talents of Leahy at 4 and 8 p.m. March 31 in Kenan Auditorium.

Leahy, a group of nine brothers and sisters from Lakefield, Ontario, have performed together their whole lives. As a family tradition, the siblings would gather at the family farm to celebrate the music of their fiddling father and champion Cape Breton step-dancer mother. Eventually, the brothers and sisters began to play at local fairs, tiny clubs and extended family gatherings. Requests for their appearances became more frequent. In 1985, the family's musical tradition was chronicled in the documentary Music Most of All, which received an Academy Award.

Since their 1997 arrival on the Canadian music scene with their debut, self-titled CD, Leahy performed as the opening act on Shania Twain's world tour and were featured on Twain's television specials. Heavily Celtic-influenced, Leahy's musical style is melded and blended with folk, country, rock, jazz and a delivery that is lighting sharp and pulsating as their step-dancing.

Leahy to peform in Kenan Auditorium March 31

Leahy's self-produced first recording climbed to Billboard's International Top Ten. The band is working on a second, as yet untitled, CD that is slated for release in June 2001. This new album further develops Leahy's musical style and creative vision. For the first time in their professional musical careers, Leahy has recorded several vocal tracks. In addition, 11 of the tracks are original compositions.

"Recording this CD has been a challenging but fulfilling experience," said pianist Erin Leahy. "We feel that it reflects both the origins and evolution of our music which includes vocals, instrumentals, dancing and a passion to play. We can't wait to share it with our audience."

Tickets are on sale at the auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. For more information, call ext. 3500.

English Department Presents 'From Stage to Screen' Series

"From Stage to Screen," a series of films based on stage plays, will be presented by the English Department on four consecutive Fridays during March and April, with faculty commentaries offered before each program. Each screening will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium, followed by a reception.

- March 16 – The Importance of Being Earnest, a 1952 film directed by Anthony Asquith, based on Oscar Wilde's famously irreverent farce. Brooks Dodson will present on the Wilde play and the film.
- March 23 – Much Ado About Nothing, Kenneth Branagh's 1993 film based on William Shakespeare's festive comedy. Shakespeare scholar Lewis Walker will present.
- March 30 –Tennessee Willliams' A Streetcar Named Desire, directed by Elia Kazan and starring Marlon Brando. Lee Schweninger will present on the play and the controversial 1951 film.
- April 6 – A Soldier's Story. Stephanie Richardson will present on Charles Fuller's 1951 play and Norman Jewison's 1984 film adaptation.

Funding for this film series, offered to the public at no charge, was provided by Charles Green III. For more information, call ext. 3320.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Open House

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will host a "sneak peek" open house March 16 for the UNCW Executive Development Center located at Landfall Shopping Center on Military Cutoff Road.

To avoid overcrowding, senior administrators, vice chancellors, deans and directors are asked to tour the facility between 1 and 3 p.m. Faculty and staff should come between 3 and 5 p.m. Division staff will conduct tours and answer questions. For more information, contact Bruce Ragon at ext. 3194 or Kathy McDaniel at ext. 3699.

Movie Makers Lecture

Jeff Goodwin, film and television makeup artist and supervisor, will present clips of his work and discuss his experience at 1 p.m. March 16 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Goodwin won the British Academy Award for Last of the Mohicans. His other films include Betsy's Wedding, JFK and Sleeping with the Enemy. His television credits include American Gothic and Touched by an Angel. This free event is sponsored by the Film Studies Program as part of its Movie Makers Lecture Series.

Climbing Aconcagua

John Williams, psychology, will present "Climbing Aconcagua: The Thrill of Victory and the Agony of the Feet" at 7:30 p.m. March 12 in DeLoach Hall, Room 114, as part of the Cape Fear Sierra Club meeting. This free, public slide presentation will describe Williams' expedition-style, non-technical climb of Argentina's Mount Aconcagua, which at 22,840 feet above sea level is the highest peak outside the Himalayas.

Note of Appreciation

Tracie Chadwick, alumni relations, would like to thank everyone for their cards, calls and well-wishes during her recent surgery and recovery.

Math Lecture

Joel V. Brawley, Mathematical Association of America lecturer and alumni distinguished professor of mathematical sciences at Clemson University, will present "The Gambler's Ruin" at 3:30 p.m. March 19 in Bear Hall, Room 106.

Guest Artist Jazz Festival

Trombonist Slide Hampton will be the featured performer for the annual Guest Artist Jazz Festival March 30 and 31. He will perform as a soloist with the UNCW Big Band at 8 p.m. March 30 and with the UNCW Jazz Faculty rhythm section at 8 p.m. March 31. Both concerts will be in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Hampton, who launched his career at the age of 20, worked in bands led by Dizzy Gillespie, Barry Harris and Maynard Ferguson. In 1962, he formed the Slide Hampton Octet which toured Europe and recorded for several record labels including Atlantic and Columbia. In addition to performing throughout the world with various orchestras and musicians, Hampton composed and arranged numerous works for fellow artists. In 1988, he was a founding member of and feature artist for Dizzy Gilliespie's Grammy Award-winning United Nation Orchestra.

In addition to the concerts, the festival will include performances by high school and college jazz bands from across the state. Hampton will lead music clinics from noon to 5 p.m. both days. The clinics are free and open to the public. Tickets, which will be on sale at the door, are $5 per concert, $2.50 for senior citizens, children under 12 and faculty and staff. UNCW students admitted free with a valid ID.

Newman Center Lecture

John Cavanaugh, provost, will present "Living Catholicism in a State University" at 5 p.m. March 21 at the Newman Catholic Campus Ministry.

Criminal Justice Lecture

Richard Block, professor of sociology at Loyola University, will present "Hot Spots and Street Robbery: Using Mapping Software for Crime Analysis" at 7 p.m. March 15 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. Block is widely recognized for his work in the development of geographic information systems for crime analysis and database management. His current research involves analyzing geographic areas such as rapid transit stations and housing complexes for their likelihood as high-risk crime areas.

Great Decisions Lecture

Frank Crigler, a career diplomat, writer, teacher and publisher, will lecture on Mexico and the administration of President Vicente Fox at 7 p.m. March 12 in King Hall Auditorium.

Crigler, former U.S. ambassador to Somalia and Rwanda, has more than 30 years of diplomatic experience in Africa, Latin America and Washington. This free event is part of the Great Decisions lecture series sponsored by the Political Science Department.

Guitar Concerts

The Music Department will hold three concerts featuring classical guitar performances at 8 p.m. March 12, 14 and 16 in Kenan Auditorium.

The March 12 concert features UNCW alumnus Bryce Masterson. The Ryoanji Duo, comprised of Frank Bongiorno, saxophone, and Robert Nathanson, guitar, will perform March 14. The March 16 performance features Duo Firenze.

Tickets, which are valid for all three concerts, are $10 for the public, $5 for faculty and staff and free for UNCW students with ID.

International Film Series

The Italian film Lamerica, a drama about Albanian immigrants and their dreams of Italy, will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. March 22 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets are $4. For more information, call ext. 7595.

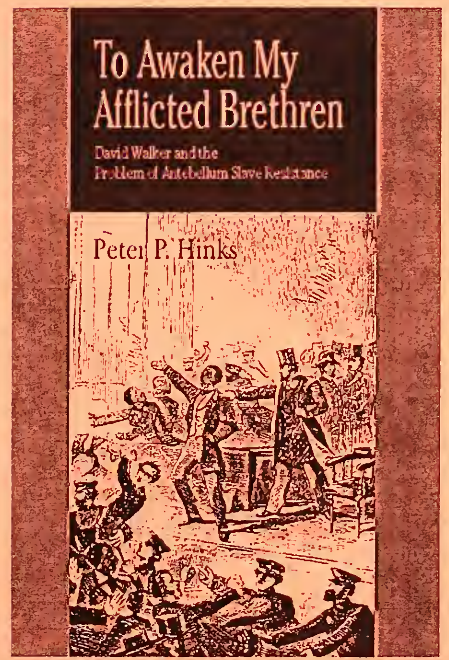
UNCW

David Walker Lecture

by

Dr. Peter Hinks

Historian, Yale University



To Awaken My Afflicted Brethren
David Walker and the Problem of Antebellum Slave Resistance
Peter P. Hinks

Dr. Hinks is author of To Awaken My Afflicted Brethren and editor of a new edition of An Appeal to the Colored Citizens of the World, by David Walker.

David Walker, author and abolitionist, was born a free black in Wilmington in 1829.

To Awaken, is the first full-length study of the life and times of one of America's most important antebellum black activists

Thursday, March 15, 2001
Kenan Auditorium, 7:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Division of Academic Affairs,
Department of History, and the Office of Campus Diversity

This event is open to the public and free of charge.

Contact: Dr. Melton McLaurin 962-3137

Women's History Month Celebration

March is Women's History Month, and to celebrate the University of North Carolina will host the events listed below. All the events are free and open to the public unless otherwise noted.

March 14

"The Truths and Myths About Eating Disorders" is an informational session for women scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Cameron Hall, Room 105.

March 19

"The Mamas of Dada: Women Who Mothered an Art Movement" features a lecture by Paula Kamenish, English, at 7:30 p.m. in Cameron Hall, Room 105.

March 20

"Molly Ivins Can't Say That, Can She?" at 7 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free; tickets required. Contact the auditorium box office or the University Union information desk.

March 21

"X (and Other Drug) Files: Myths and Mysteries of Popular Drug and Herbal Use" is an informational session providing basic information about current "club drugs," Ritalin abuse and precautions regarding the use of herbal remedies. It is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Café.

March 26

"Diverse Voices: Five Notable Women" is a presentation that includes film clips and discussion of five notable women. It is scheduled for 3 p.m. in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Café.

March 27

"Rosie the Riveter: Women on the Homefront During World War II" features a lecture by Kathleen Berkeley, history, at 7:30 p.m. in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

March 28

Vagina Monologues will be performed at 7 p.m. in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. Donations of $2 will be accepted to benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter.

Yale Professor to Lecture on David Walker

Peter Hinks, author, historian and lecturer of American history at Yale University, will speak about David Walker, the noted nineteenth-century black abolitionist. This free, public talk is scheduled for 7 p.m. March 15 in Kenan Auditorium.

Hinks' work To Awaken My Afflicted Brethren, David Walker and the Problem of Antebellum Slave Resistance is the first full-length study of Walker's life. In 1829, Walker, a free black born in Wilmington, wrote An Appeal to the Colored Citizens of the World. In the pamphlet, Walker challenged his "afflicted and slumbering brethren" to rise up and cast off their chains. Walker's efforts to circulate this pamphlet throughout the South outraged slaveholders, and a price was put on his head in Wilmington and other Southern cities, said Melton McLaurin, professor of history and associate vice chancellor for academic affairs.

Hinks will hold a book signing at 6 p.m., prior to his lecture.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Thomas Janicki, information systems and operations management, was elected to a two-year term to the board of directors for EDSIG, the educational foundation of the Association of Information Technology Professionals. The association is a non-profit organization promoting the interchange of ideas between professionals in the business community involved in information technology, while EDSIG promotes discussion of helping current and future IT professionals stay abreast of technological changes.

Moorad Alexanian, physics and physical oceanography, is one of the contributors to the Dictionary of Material Science and High Energy Physics, edited by Dipak Basu and published by CRC Press LLC.

Stephen Skrabal, Robert Kieber and William Cooper, chemistry, received $110,000 in supplemental funding from SERP for the project "Speciation, Fluxes and Cycling of Dissolved Copper and Zinc in Estuaries: The Roles of Sediment-Water Exchange and Photochemical Effects."

Rick Dixon, Technology College, participated in a day-long workshop in New Orleans, where he was one of 12 U.S. instructors who served as invited consultants providing Pearson Education with a critique of the CourseCompass software toolset that company is developing in conjunction with Blackboard for Web enhanced and online courses.

Leslie Langer, SBTDC, received $1,570 in supplemental funding from the Defense Logistics Agency to fund a temporary position for a government procurement counselor.

Michael Durako, biological sciences and CMS, received $121,843 in supplemental funding from the U.S. Geological Survey for the project "Florida Bay Fish Habitat Assessment Program."

Antonio Puente, psychology, received $3,250 in supplemental funding from Plenum Publishing Company to fund an office assistant to assist with the quarterly scientific journal Neuropsychology Review.

William Cooper and Stephen Mezyk, chemistry, received $10,000 from the National Science Foundation for the project "REU Supplement for BES 97-29965 The Electron Beam Process in Drinking Water Treatment: Biological, Cryptosporidium and Giardia, Control and Contaminant Destruction."

Patricia Kelley and Jack Hall, earth sciences, received $53,170 from Western Washington University for the project "Integrating Research and Education in Paleontology and Marine Ecology: Spatial and Temporal Patterns in Naticid Gastropod Predation."

William McLellan and Ann Pabst, biological sciences and CMS, received $59,995 and $17,600 from the National Marine Fisheries Service for the respective projects "Mid-Atlantic Right Whale Aerial Survey" and "Assessing the Nutritional Status of Gray and Bowhead Whales."

Ned Martin, chemistry, received $30,000 from PRF/ACS for the project "Modeling Net Proton NMR Shielding by Several Functional Groups."

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays

Temporary Employees

Contact Lori Preiss in human resources to determine temporary employees' hourly pay rate prior to their starting work. Temporary employees cannot work in the same assignment for longer than one year. For more information, call ext. 3162 or e-mail preissl.

Deadline Extended

The deadline to submit requests for international faculty travel grants was extended to March 23. Direct questions to ext. 4051.

CTE Summer Stipends

The Center for Teaching Excellence awarded seven faculty projects summer stipends designed to explore new teaching methods. Recipients will prepare a report on their research by the end of the stipend period and will give a presentation on the efficacy of their project's application in the classroom. The recipients for summer 2001 are David Berman, computer science, for "Curriculum Development for Computer Science: Web Work, Teamwork and Design Patterns"; Robert Blundo, social work, for "Enhancing Service-learning Through Computer and Media Technology"; Lisa Griffen, HPER, for the project "Teaching Physical Education in Grades Pre-K Through Six"; Ned Martin, chemistry, for "Computational Chemistry"; William McCarthy and Lisa Pollard, history, for "Teaching the Realities of Southeast Asia: Culture, Contact and Colonization" and "Seeing History," respectively; and Oliver Speck, foreign languages and literatures, for "Curriculum Development for Distance Learning Classes."

Weight Watchers

A new Weight Watchers at Work Program will begin March 14. Participants in the 16-week program will meet from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesdays in the James Hall conference room. The cost is $152. For more information, contact Liz Grimes at ext. 3274.

Blood Drive

The Leadership Center and the American Red Cross will hold a blood drive from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 13 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Walk-ins are welcome, but appointments are encouraged. Call ext. 3877. this will be the final blood drive held on campus this semester.

Shared Leave

Mary Corcoran, Randall Library, needs shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Arleta Maynard, central stores, and Andrea Swanson, athletics.

Reimbursement Deadline

The deadline to submit all 2000 out-of-pocket expenses for health care and dependent day care spending accounts to Aon Consulting is March 31. Any money not claimed by March 31 will be forfeited. Call ext. 3006 or ext. 3713 for claim forms.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21138 Assoc. Dir. for Involvement/ Campus Activities	March 16
21147 Dir. of Client Services	March 16
21151 Director of Leadership Programs	March 30
21152 Nurse Supervisor I	March 9
21153 Department Procurement Specialist	March 9
21154 Police Officer I	March 9
21155 Lateral Entry Police Officer	March 9
21156 Temporary Laborer	March 9
21157 Client Services Rep.	March 16
21158 Maintenance Mech. IV	March 16
21159 Gen. Utility Worker	March 16

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

US Cellular Discount

US Cellular will offer 325 "anytime" minutes and 2,000 "rolling bonus anytime" minutes with no activation fee and no roaming or long distance charges for calls originating in North and South Carolina or Virginia for $25 per month with a 12-month contract. Employees can choose a Nokia 5185i at no charge or a Motorola StarTac 7800 for $39.95. Both phones are digital/analog and come with an AC charger, battery, car adapter and leather case. Service includes caller ID, voicemail, call waiting, call forwarding and three-way calling at no additional charge. Promotion is valid through Jon Schrand only at 910/540-8888 or e-mail jon.schrand@uscellular.com. It is not valid through retail outlets or other agents. Employees with current US Cellular contracts may upgrade to the discount program. Employees are responsible for comparative shopping. The offer does not represent university endorsement of products or services offered.

YWCA Women of Achievement Awards

Nomination forms for the YWCA Women of Achievement Awards are available in human resources. The awards recognize outstanding women from Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender counties who have made creative and lasting contributions to the community. Nominations for Women of Achievement awards are due March 26, and nominations for certificates of recognition are due March 16.

Employee Discount Program

Due to the prospect of modest salary increases for the next fiscal year, human resources will inaugurate an "employee discount program" that will invite Wilmington businesses to offer UNCW employees continuing discounts on goods and services upon presentation of employee ID cards. Employees who know of local businesses interested in participating in the program should contact Liz Grimes at ext. 3274 or e-mail grimese.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 33 March 15, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Guest Artist Jazz Festival Features Trombonist Slide Hampton

Trombonist Slide Hampton will be the featured performer for the annual Guest Artist Jazz Festival March 30 and 31. He will perform as a soloist with the UNCW Big Band at 8 p.m. March 30 and with the UNCW Jazz Faculty rhythm ection at 8 p.m. March 31. Both concerts will be in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

Hampton, who launched his career at the age of 20, worked in bands led by Dizzy Gillespie, Barry Harris and Maynard Ferguson. In 1962, he formed the Slide Hampton Octet which toured Europe and recorded for several record labels including Atlantic and Columbia. In addition to performing throughout the world with various orchestras and musicians, Hampton composed and arranged numerous works for fellow artists. In 1988, he was a founding member of Dizzy Gilliespie's Grammy Award-winning United Nation Orchestra.

In addition to the concerts, the festival will include performances by high school nd college jazz bands from across the state. Hampton will lead music clinics from noon to 5 p.m. Both days are free and open to the public. Concert tickets, which will be on sale at the door, are $5, $2.50 for senior citizens, children under 12 and UNCW aculty. There will be no charge for UNCW students with a valid ID.

Hampton

Aidan Heaney Named Men's Soccer Coach

Aidan Heaney, who led Appalachian State University's soccer program for he past two years, was named head coach of the Seahawk men's soccer squad.

Heaney

Heaney, 32, takes over the helm of the program following the resignation of seven-year coach Keith Cammidge.

"I'm very excited about this opportunity," said Heaney who was named 2000 Southern Conference Coach of the Year. "The potential of the UNCW program is huge. It's a great soccer area with a very nice facility," he said.

In addition to coaching experience, Heaney played at UNC Charlotte and was on two national championship eams with the Greensboro Dynamos before joining Major League Soccer's New England Revolution.

"Heaney is a terrific fit for us," said Peg Bradley-Doppes, athletic director. "He has a proven track record as a player and coach, and we're looking forward to him providing new direction for our program. With Heaney's guidance, UNCW men's soccer will see great things in the future."

While at UNC Charlotte, Heaney was a two-time team Most Valuable Player and an academic All-American. He still holds the school's record for career shutouts and goals against average.

Heaney served as an assistant coach at UNC Chapel Hill from 1995 to 1996 and at Penn State from 1997 to 1999.

A native of New Castle-Upon-Tyne, England, Heaney earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from UNC Charlotte in 1992.

Least Heat Moon to Present Buckner Lecture March 23

Prize-winning author William Least Heat Moon will give the Katherine K. Buckner Distinguished Presentation at 8 p.m. March 23 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. This free, public event is the keynote address for the Creative Writing Department's inaugural Writer's Symposium.

Least Heat Moon is the author of Blue Highways: A Journey into America, a non-fiction account of his travels down the back roads of the United States. His other works include PrairyErth and River-Horse.

The four-day symposium scheduled for March 19-23 will consist of panel discussions, workshops and readings for students and others interested in the art of writing. In addition to UNCW faculty, eight visiting writers will participate.

The Katherine K. Buckner Distinguished Presentation was established by Charles Green III to bring distinguished authors and lecturers to campus.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Biological Sciences Seminar

Courtney Hackney, Lynn Leonard, Amy Clark, Brooks Avery and Martin Posey will present "Monitoring a Rapid Sea Level Rise Event in the Cape Fear River Basin" at 2 p.m. March 16 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Great Decisions Lecture

Milton Iossi, a retired U.S. foreign service officer, will lecture on current relations between the United States and Iraq at 7 p.m. March 19 in King Hall Auditorium.

Iossi, who worked for more than 30 years in U.S. government service, served in Europe, North Africa, South Asia and the Far East. A native of Sioux Falls, S.D., Iossi majored in international relations and graduated magna cum laude from the University of Minnesota in 1958.

This free, public event is sponsored by the Political Science Department as part of its Great Decisions Lecture Series.

Art Exhibits

Randall Library is hosting the exhibit "UNCW Art Faculty – Creating and Teaching" which is on display through May 1 at the library's first floor art wall. The display includes pottery by Charles Allo, ceramics by Aaron Wilcox, woodcuts by Ann Conner, prints by Donald Furst, photography by Brownie Harris, oil paintings by Eric Lawing, charcoal and pastel drawings by Pamela Toll and media collages by Margaret Worthington. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. March 27 at the exhibit.

"Coastal Images," an exhibit by Jacksonville artist Karen Lee Crenshaw will be displayed April 2 through May 18 in the University Union Living Room. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. April 6.

The display features oil landscapes of Topsail Island and other areas along the East Coast.

Creative Writing Lecture

Sarah Messer, author of Red House, will lecture on "Lyrical Storytelling" at 2 p.m. March 27 in Cameron Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department Lecture Series.

Ivins Lecture Simulcast

The Leadership Center and Women's History Month committee have arranged a simulcast of the lecture "Molly Ivins Can't Say That, Can She?" for the University Union, Living Room, and the Hawk's Nest. The lecture is scheduled for 7 p.m. March 20.

Leadership Grove Rededication

As part of April's Leadership Month Program, there will be a ceremony to honor leaders for whom trees have been purchased in the Leadership Grove. Anyone interested in honoring a student, faculty, staff member or someone from the community for their leadership on behalf of the university should direct their $200 contribution to advancement services, Alderman Hall, Room 104, by March 30. Indicate the contribution is for the Leadership Grove.

A short biography about the honoree will be needed for the rededication ceremony which will be announced at a future date. For more information on this program, sponsored by the Leadership Center and the campus arboretum project, call ext. 3877.

Kashmir Crisis Seminar

The seminar Crisis in Kashmir will be held from 3 to 9 p.m. March 30 at Guilford College in Greensboro. Featured speaker will be Robert Wirsing from the Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies. For more information on this event, sponsored by the South Atlantic States Association for Asian and African Studies, e-mail Paula Kamenish, English, at kamenishp.

Open House

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will host a "sneak peek" open house March 16 for the UNCW Executive Development Center located at Landfall Shopping Center on Military Cutoff Road.

To avoid overcrowding, senior administrators, vice chancellors, deans and directors are asked to tour the facility between 1 and 3 p.m. Faculty and staff should come between 3 and 5 p.m. Division staff will conduct tours and answer questions. For more information, contact Bruce Ragon at ext. 3194 or Kathy McDaniel at ext. 3699.

Math Lecture

Joel V. Brawley, Mathematical Association of America lecturer and alumni distinguished professor of mathematical sciences at Clemson University, will present "The Gambler's Ruin" at 3:30 p.m. March 19 in Bear Hall, Room 106.

Cucalorus Film Festival

The Film Studies Program will host the screening of eight films for the first night of the seventh annual Cucalorus Film Festival at 7 p.m. March 21 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium, as part of its Local Focus series.

The films, which range in length from three to 30 minutes, are Murder in my Shorts, Fore!, Falling Through the Cracks, All Eyes to the Sky, Popcorn, Two Strangers, Wild Safari Jackass and Aquious.

Local Focus is an annual gathering for area producers, directors and other media artists to screen and discuss their works. The Cucalorus Film Festival is designed to showcase independent film and video screenings. It will be held March 21-25 with screenings at various venues. For more information on the Cucalorus Film Festival, contact Dan Brawley or Allen Sorkin at 343-5995.

Criminal Justice Lecture

Richard Block, professor of sociology at Loyola University, will present "Hot Spots and Street Robbery: Using Mapping Software for Crime Analysis" at 7 p.m. March 15 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. Block is widely recognized for his work in the development of geographic information systems for crime analysis and database management. His current research involves analyzing geographic areas such as rapid transit stations and housing complexes for their likelihood as high-risk crime areas.

Block

Graduate Thesis Defense

Macy Toedt, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "A Histological and Ultrastructual Examination of the Integument of Delphinus delphis" at 3 p.m. March 19 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Movie Makers Lecture

Jeff Goodwin, film and television makeup artist and supervisor, will present clips of his work and discuss his experiences at 1 p.m. March 16 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Goodwin won the British Academy Award for Last of the Mohicans. His other films include Betsy's Wedding, JFK and Sleeping with the Enemy. This free event is sponsored by the Film Studies Program as part of its Movie Makers Lecture Series.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - corned beef and cabbage, mushroom shepherd's pie, boiled potatoes, green beans, corn, assorted rolls, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - fruited pork loin, pasta primavera, wild rice, peas with mushrooms, squash casserole, spinach salad, pasta salad, assorted rolls, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Living Southern Program Features Preservation Writer

Freelance writer Liz Seymour will be the featured speaker for the Living Southern Program sponsored by the Cape Fear Museum and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Her talk "Southern Facelifts: Stories of Notable House Renovations," which is based upon her writings on architecture, preservation, antiques and design, is scheduled for 5 to 7 p.m. March 23 at St. Thomas Preservation Hall.

Seymour, a contributing editor to Southern Accents and Traditional Home, will share stories of how people throughout the South renovated historic houses and made them livable while keeping the buildings' Southern characteristics. Her work has appeared in numerous publications including American HomeStyle, Art and Antiques, Attache, Better Homes & Gardens, British House & Gardens, Country Home, Harper's Bazaar, Historic Preservation, Home Magazine, Town and Country, Travel and Leisure.

Admission is free. Seating is limited, and tickets are required. Tickets can be obtained from the Cape Fear Museum, 814 Market Street, or the University Union Information Center.

The Living Southern Program focuses on the lifestyle, culture and heritage of the South. A reception will follow the program.

Lifelong Learning Programs Teaching About Science

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will offer the following MarineQuest programs:

Deep Sweep: Trolling at Sea, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 22. Senior adults will cruise on the Winner Queen and learn about marine life. The cost is $85. Register by April 6. Call ext. 3195.

Odyssey Excursion to Masonboro Island, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 8. The cost is $20 for adults, $15 for children under age 12. Register by April 27.

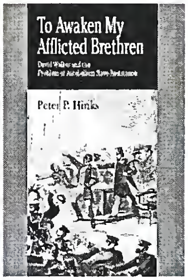
Positively Reactive: Chemistry Camp, 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. June 11-15. Children ages eight to 11 will learn about science in a safe, university laboratory. The cost is $130. Register by May 25.

Yale Historian to Lecture on Wilmington Abolitionist

Peter H. Hinks, author, historian and lecturer of American history at Yale University, will speak about David Walker, the noted nineteenth-century black abolitionist. This free, public talk is scheduled for 7 p.m. March 15 in Kenan Auditorium.

Hinks' work To Awaken My Afflicted Brethren, David Walker and the Problem of Antebellum Slave Resistance is the first full-length study of Walker's life. In 1829, Walker, a free black born in Wilmington, wrote An Appeal to the Colored Citizens of the World. In the pamphlet, Walker challenged his "afflicted and slumbering brethren" to rise up and cast off their chains. Walker's efforts to circulate this pamphlet throughout the South outraged slaveholders, and a price was put on his head in Wilmington and other Southern cities, said Melton McLaurin, professor of history and associate vice chancellor for academic affairs.

Penn State University Press, publishers of the biography, call it "an ambitious book. Peter Hinks combines social biography with textual analysis to provide a powerful new interpretation of David Walker and his meaning for antebellum American history."



FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Wade Watanabe, CMS, presented papers "Status of Artificial Propagation of Mutton, Yellowtail and Red Snapper (Family Lutjanidae) in the Southeastern U.S." and "Progress and Constraints in the Culture of Mutton Snapper Lutjanus analis" with co-authors D. Benetti and M. Feeley, University of Miami, and D.A. Davis and R. Phelps, Auburn University, at Aquaculture 2001. Graduate student Kimberly Copeland presented the paper "Growth and Feed Utilization of Wild-caught Juvenile Black Sea Bass Centropristis striata Fed Practical Diets in a Recirculating Tank System Under a Semi-controlled Temperature Regime." Graduate student James Henne presented the paper "Effects of Light Intensity and Salinity on Growth and Survival of Larval Southern Flounder Paralichthys lethostigma Reared Through the First-feeding Stage." Copeland also presented at the Water Re-use Systems Workshop at the North Carolina Aquaculture Development Conference in New Bern, where graduate student Patrick Carroll presented the paper "Analysis of Summer Flounder Growout in a Recirculating Tank System" with Watanabe and T. Losordo from NCSU.

Michael Durako, biological sciences and CMS, received $121,843 in supplemental funding from the U.S. Geological Survey for the project "Florida Bay Fish Habitat Assessment Program."

Walter Conser, philosophy and religion, published an essay on cultural images of the Cape Fear River in Rivers and the American Experience, edited by J. Durczak, (Lublin, Poland: Maria Curie-Sklodowski University Press, 2000). He also published the article "Baconianism" in The History of Science and Religion in the Western World: An Encyclopedia, edited by G. Ferngren, (New York: Garland Publishing, 2000).

Eleanor Covan, gerontology, received $500 in supplemental funding from Taylor and Francis Publishers for clerical assistance as associate editor of the journal Health Care for Women International.

Alina Szmant, biological sciences, received $96,019 in supplemental funding from the University of Miami/ Environmental Protection Agency for the project "National Center for Caribbean Coral Reef Research: A Subcontract to UNCW for Research on Nutrient Cycling and Primary Production and NURC Support."

Brooks Dodson, English, read the paper "The Unconventionally Conventional Woman in Hardy's Major Novels" at the annual conference of the Georgia-Carolinas College English Association in Savannah.

Philip Furia, creative writing, edited a symposium on Frank Sinatra for the spring 2001 issue of Italian Americana, which included his essay "Sinatra and the Great American Song Book." Furia's book The Poets of Tin Pan Alley was noted in the December issue of The New Yorker magazine.

Mark Edelman Boren, English, had the article "The Southern Super Collider: William Faulkner Smashes Language into Reality in As I Lay Dying" accepted for publication in Southern Quarterly.

Rick Dixon, Technology College and sociology and criminal justices, and Steve McNamee and Jammie Price, sociology and criminal justice, participated in the 2001 annual meeting of the North Carolina Sociological Association (NCSA). Dixon and McNamee both organized sessions, and Price was a panelist in a session. Dixon was elected as NCSA president for the 2002-03 academic year and will serve as president-elect and annual meeting organizer for the 2001-2002 academic year.

Mike Mallin, biological sciences and CMS, gave the invited presentation "Coastal Land Use Changes and Impacts on Water Quality" at the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass.

Len Lecci, psychology, and Bryan Myers had the article "Examining the Construct Validity of the Original and Revised JBS: A Cross-validation of Sample and Method" accepted for publication in the journal Law and Human Behavior.

Hal Langfur, history, received $27,000 from the National Endowment for the Humanities to conduct research at the John Carter Brown Library, Brown University. He will complete work on the manuscript The Forbidden Lands: Frontier Settlers, Slaves, and Indians in Minas Gerais, Brazil, 1760-1830. Langfur also had the article "Uncertain Refuge: Frontier Formation and the Origins of the Botocudo War in Late-Colonial Brazil" accepted for publication by the Hispanic American Historical Review.

Mike Mallin, Matt McIver, Scott Ensign and Larry Cahoon, CMS and biological sciences, presented "Co-occurrence of Phytoplankton N-limitation and Heterotrophic P-limitation in Blackwater Streams" at the annual meeting of the American Society of Limnology and Oceanography in Albuquerque, N.M.

Michael Shaffer, philosophy and religion, had the paper "Bayesian Confirmation of Theories that Incorporate Idealizations" published in the March issue of Philosophy of Science and read the paper "Meaning and Liquidity" at the annual North Carolina Philosophical Society meeting in Greensboro.

D. Ann Pabst, William McLellan and Jenn Dearolf, biological sciences and CMS, had the paper "The Development of Diving in Marine Endotherms: Preparing the Skeletal Muscles of Dolphins, Penguins and Seals for Activity During Submergence" published in the Journal of Comparative Physiology B. It was co-authored by Shawn Noren and Terrie Williams of University of California, Santa Cruz.

This is recyclable.

UNCW©
ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH & SAFETY

Safety Spurs

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington

Candles

Aromatherapy, a popular practice using candles to aid relaxation, is on the rise and so is the number of fires caused by the candles. House fires caused by candles have tripled since 1980, an increase of 82%. The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), the recognized leader in fire safety, is advocating a national "candle code." UNCW does not allow candles to be used in residence halls. The University also requires certain precautions be taken when they are used in assembly areas. We have recently noticed a large number of candles appearing in faculty and staff work places. This is a major safety concern and, therefore, EH&S is proposing a "campuswide" candle/open flame policy. The policy prohibits candles from being used in individual offices or workstations.

In addition to the obvious fire hazard presented by candles, other concerns arise. The smoke or flame may activate the building fire alarm system or sensitize the smoke detectors. This will increase the number of nuisance fire alarms and could decrease the effectiveness of the systems in getting persons to leave. Additional concerns are the effects on indoor air quality. The US Consumer Product Safety Commission has identified several candles, imported to the United States, that have "leaded wicks." The lead makes the wick burn longer but, releases harmful lead fumes to the air. Additionally, the process of burning releases deadly carbon monoxide and decreases the amount of oxygen inside the building. Finally, the odors produced by many candles are an irritant to many persons. Persons who are sensitized to certain fragrances can develop difficulty breathing, headaches, and watery eyes. What may be a pleasant aroma to one may trigger asthma in another.

A recent NFPA study of candle fires concluded that the overwhelming cause of candle fires were combustibles located too close to the candle (40%), or the candle burning down too low, and contacting combustible materials (35%). A remaining 17%, was caused by the candle tipping over itself or being knocked over.

EH&S is drafting an open flame policy that prohibits candles from being used in the workplace. This policy will be included in the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual and will allow candles and other open flames on campus with authorization from EH&S. We do recognize that candles are a desired addition but some restriction must apply to their use. Our main concern is candle use in individual offices or workstations. This policy will also address exemptions for lab cooking, and shop maintenance activities.

A Newsletter of the
UNCW
EH&S Department

side

dles. 1 orescent Light &
tery Recycling. 2
: Doors 2 ety Briefs 2
ining 2

EH&S Staff

vironmental Health & Safety Director
n H. Harts
one: (910) 962-3108
nail: HartsS@uncwil.edu

boratory & Environmental Safety Manager una C. Morgan
one: (910) 962-7017
nail: MorganD@uncwil.edu

fety Inspector
nny Edens
one: (910) 962-4287
nail: EdensD@uncwil edu

mpliance Coordinator un Greene
one: (910) 962-3057
nail: GreeneJ@uncwil.edu

x: (910) 962-3473 or
HS Fax (3473)

vw.uncwil.edu/safety/index.html

Fluorescent Lights Battery Recycling

The USEPA estimates that approximately 80% of mercury in landfills originate from batteries and fluorescent lights. Therefore, they have developed the "universal waste" rules. In response to these rules, EH&S has started a recycling program for lights/lamps at UNCW. Recycled lights will include fluorescent tubes, high-pressure sodium lamps and other metal-containing lights.

Maintenance personnel will continue to change lights and will ensure they are sent to the appropriate storage area for recycling. If you change your own lights, please be sure to contact Diana Morgan, extension 7017 for assistance in sending them to the recycling storage area. EH&S feels this new program supports the environmentally conscious mission of the university.

UNCW currently has a recycling program for lead acid, alkaline and nickel-cadmium batteries generated at the university. EH&S is working on setting up centralized battery collection sites where employees can take used batteries. We will notify university employees of these locations once they are selected and set up. If you have batteries that need to be picked up and recycled, please contact Diana Morgan, extension 7017 for assistance.

For batteries generated at home New Hanover County Recycling Center can accept them for recycling. You can take your household batteries to the following drop off locations:

Ogden Village Shopping Center, Myrtle Grove Junction, Wrightsville Beach Recycling Center, Castle Hayne and Murrayville.

The FIRE DOOR that you prop open may be the one that would save your life!

A fire door is a rated door that separates one end of a corridor from another providing a "horizontal exit." It is a built-in safety feature to help increase the amount of time that occupants have to escape. In order to be effective it must be closed! Once closed, a fire door will help prevent, or slow migration of fire, smoke, heat and toxic gases from one area to another. Most doors that have automatic closers or those that open into, or are located in, corridors are fire doors.

It is in violation of the National Fire Protection Association Code and the North Carolina State Building Code to prop open a fire door. When occupants wedge these doors open for convenience they are overriding a fire safety feature. This is the same as covering a sprinkler head or smoke detector, or disconnecting the fire alarm!

Each spring the North Carolina Department of Insurance and EH&S conducts safety inspections and finds this violation throughout the campus.

Please help to ensure the safety of your facility and co-workers by keeping the fire doors closed.

Together we can all make a difference!

Safety Briefs...

Skateboarding and Rollerblading have become popular practices for exercise and transportation here on the UNCW campus

Recently we had a "near miss" in a science building when a Rollerblader nearly collided with a person transporting chemicals.

The UNCW Code of Student Life Policy I (Page 93) allows Skateboarding and Rollerblading only on sidewalks and roadways but prohibits it in all other areas including the inside of all buildings. Violators can be cited and fined, or other penalties levied.

Please help to prevent accidents by abiding by the rules, notifying persons who are skating that they are in violation of the campus policy and as a last resort report observation to University Police extension 3184 and EH&S extension 3057.

Training

Adult CPR/First Aid

March 13 and 14 - 1 PM to 5 PM
March 26 and 29 - 8 AM to 12 Noon

Preventing Disease Transmission

March 21 - 10 AM to 12 Noon

For information and reservations call Joan Greene extension 3057

SUMMER JOB FAIR 2001

Wednesday, March 21, 2001
Warwick Center Ballroom
10:00 am - 2:00 pm

UNCW
CAREER SERVICES

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division of Student Affairs • "Creating Experiences For Life"
104 & 106 University Union • (910) 962-3174 • careersers@uncwil.edu
www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

LEAHY

The North Carolina Tour 2001.
Lock, stock, fiddle and bow.

Be the first in the world to hear Leahy's music from the new CD before the music on Leahy's new CD is heard by the world.

WWW.LEAHYMUSIC.COM

A statewide performance tour organized through the auspices of North Carolina Presenters Consortium and goingbarefoot inc. — www.ncpresenters.org

University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Arts In Action & Thalian Hall present
SATURDAY, MARCH 31
UNCW Kenan Auditorium / 4 & 8 pm
Tickets 910.962.3500 or 1.800.732.3643

UNCW complies with all provisions of the American Disabilities Act (ADA). Accommodations will be made available upon request. If you have special needs and would like to participate in this program, please contact the Activities & Leadership Center at (910) 962-3827 at least three days prior to the event so proper consideration may be given to the request. UNCW is an EEO/AA institution

Division of Student Affairs
Activities & Leadership Center
"Creating Experiences for Life"

UNCW

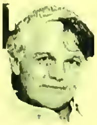
Creative Writing Department's

1st Annual Writers' Symposium

Presents Readings
by

Lia Purpura
(Creative Nonfiction)

Mary Hood & Rick Jackson
(Fiction) (Poetry)



Clyde Edgerton & Friends
(Fiction)
8:00 pm
Kenan Auditorium
$6.00 per ticket

John Holman & Jane Mead
(Fiction) (Poetry)
3:30-5:00 pm
Bryan Auditorium
Morton Hall 100

Nick Flynn & Robin Hemley
(Poetry) (Fiction)
8:00 pm
King Hall Auditorium

March 19th - 23rd, 2001

The UNCW Creative Writing Department presents its 2001 Writers' Symposium during the week of March 19-23. The Symposium consisting of workshops, panels, readings and manuscript conferences, gathers graduate and undergraduate students interested in the art of writing and promotes the discussion of craft. During the course of the week, eight distinguished visiting writers will read from recent work.

Booksignings will follow. Readings and panels are free and open to the public.
Call 962-7063 with questions.

Accommodations for disabilities may be requested by contacting 962-3500 three days prior to the event. An EEO/AA Institution.

Katherine K. Buckner Series

Presents a talk by

William Least Heat-Moon

OLD INDIAN TRAILS

The Department of Creative Writing at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington is proud to announce that prize-winning author William Least Heat-Moon will deliver the Katherine K. Buckner Distinguished Presentation Series Reading for 2001. The reading will take place on Friday, March 23 in Cameron Auditorium at 8:00 pm. Least Heat-Moon will serve as the keynote speaker for the department's first annual Writers' Symposium.

Least Heat-Moon is the author of Blue Highways: A Journey into America, a non-fiction classic of his travels down the back roads of United States. The book, published in 1983, became an instant best seller. Robert Penn Warren said of it, Least Heat-Moon has a genius for finding people who have not even found themselves."

Least Heat-Moon has also published PrairyErth and, most recently, River-Horse. His books have been selected by the American Library Association and the Mountains and Plains Booksellers Association as Best Work of Nonfiction of the Year and by The New York Times' Notable Book of the Year.

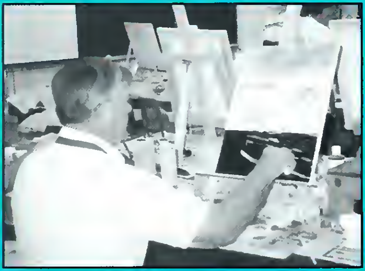
The Katherine K. Buckner Distinguished Presentation Series is named in honor of Katherine K. Buckner, a graduate of Randolph Macon College in Virginia and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Mrs. Buckner, now retired, has led a distinguished career in the field of family counseling, including holding the position of Director of Family Services in Durham, North Carolina.

The event will be free and open to the public. A sign language interpreter will be provided.
For further information, please contact the Creative Writing Dept. at 910-962-7063.
A reception and booksigning will follow.

March 23rd
8:00 pm
Cameron Auditorium

Accommodations for disabilities may be requested by contacting 962-3500 three days prior to the event.

Division for Public Service and Extended Education



Strategic Goals for 2000-2001

Executive Development Center
Opens Next Month

SpinNC Awarded $45,000 Grant

SpinNC: Bridging the Gap between Community and Nonprofit Agencies

UNCW Assists Nonprofit and Government Agencies in the Quest for Up-to-date Web Access

MarineQuest Expands
Its Offerings to Adults and Youth

SBTDC at UNCW Not just for Start-ups

Marine Trades Services

Staff Notes

Who and Where We Are

Fall/Winter 2000-2001

2000 - 2001 Strategic Goals

Dr. Michelle R. Howard-Vital
Vice Chancellor
The Division for Public Service and Extended Education

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education, under the leadership of Dr. Michelle R. Howard-Vital, vice chancellor, has undertaken strategic goals for the current academic year. These include:

- To respond to the needs of the workplace by providing state-of-the-art seminar and conference facilities at UNCW's Executive Development Center
- To secure grant funds to narrow the digital divide by working with non-profit agencies to utilize the Internet for sharing and using information
- To refine professional development, extended education, and noncredit learning activities to meet the evolving needs of various constituencies in Southeastern North Carolina (i.e. learning needs of military and dependents, leadership training, use of television to address needs of Latino population, etc.)
- To present work of UNCW's Division for Public Service and Extended Education at national and international conferences
- To respond to the economic development needs of the region through the development of small businesses and entrepreneurial activities.

Mission Statement

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education, one of six at the university, was created in 1991 by Chancellor James R. Leutze to focus on the outreach mission of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. Its primary focus is to utilize university resources, facilitate the solution of regional problems, and/or create regional initiatives.

The division interacts with the public and serves as a liaison between the resources and expertise of the university and the needs of the community.

Currently, the division has six major areas of concentration including Extension Services, Community Outreach, UNCW TV, Lifelong Learning, Community Relations and Small Business and Technology Development Center.

With the constant expansion of information technology, global collaborations, and corporate restructuring, it is imperative that the division continues to change and embrace new challenges with the university's various constituencies. Through its numerous partnerships and interactions, DPSEE strives to encourage the development of a wide range of leadership skills, policy recommendations, and connections, both on-campus and off-campus, that will ultimately improve the quality of life for our region.

Our motto best expresses our mission:

"Your Partner, Your Resource."

UNCW is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employee. This publication is available in alternative format on request.

3,000 copies of this public document were printed at a cost of $1863.69 or 62 cents per copy (G.S. 143-170.1). ♲ Printed on recycled paper.

Executive Development Center Opens

Expanding on Chancellor James R. Leutze's commitment to serve the community, the UNCW Executive Development Center (EDC) opened in early March, 2001. The Center offers corporate and community groups a state-of-the-art facility to accommodate their educational and training needs.

Located in a beautifully landscaped area just one mile from Wrightsville Beach, the EDC offers first class training rooms, an executive board room, a theater-style seminar room, a large meeting hall as well as a full range of catering and conference services.

Exceptional lodging accommodations, specialty shopping, and superb casual and fine dining facilities are all within walking distance. The location also ensures quick and easy access to the historic downtown riverfront, several magnificent beaches and is within minutes of the Wilmington International Airport.

The EDC is designed to accommodate groups of various sizes and needs from the intimate setting of the boardroom to the large meeting hall, which can seat 200. The training rooms are tailored for flexibility with seating for 40 to 100 participants. The tiered seminar room provides maximum opportunity for interaction as well as comfort.

"The need for such a facility in the region is considerable with the increasing growth of the corporate/business community," said Dr. Bruce Ragon, assistant vice chancellor of the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. "The Center provides state-of-the-art technology, a hallmark of UNC Wilmington, in a very comfortable corporate setting."

Managed by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education at UNCW, the center's corporate partners include David Swain and Associates, the Residence Inn and The Office Showcase.

For more information,
call (910) 962-3546
or visit our web site at http://www.uncwil.edu/

MarineQuest
Expands Its Offerings to Adults and Youth

by Dan Guy, UNCW Intern

She waited, patiently waited in the hot sun. Suddenly, she felt a tug on her line. She called for someone to bring a net as she raised her line from the water.

Cathy Olson did not pull up a fish, but rather a blue crab.

Using chicken wings as bait, summer campers in the UNCW Marine Biology Camp for adults caught crabs and other species of marine life such as barnacles, oysters and sea urchins at the Center for Marine Science.

Olson, an academic adviser in the Biological Sciences Department, was one of the most curious and energetic campers. "The really exciting part was getting the opportunity to be the one learning and asking the questions," said Olson. "I enjoyed exploring the marsh the most."

Following a plankton tow, participants also saw the microscopic organisms that swim in the ocean. They collected water samples from off the dock and took them to the lab, where they examined the organisms under a microscope.

Owen Wexler, a Wilmington resident, waded through the marsh with a net, and collected fish for the group to identify and observe.

"I really enjoyed going through the marsh," said Wexler. "I do a lot of fishing around Bradley Creek and wanted to know more about the things I see around the area. I thought the sea urchin was very fascinating."

Although many of the participants sank several inches into the marsh with every step, they plunged through the marsh with unyielding enthusiasm, sometimes going up to their waist in water to find various forms of life.

"They definitely were excited and curious," said Tressa Thompson, the marine biology graduate student who led the two-day camp. "They came to the camp wanting to learn about the marine environment."

The experience was a different one for Thompson, who up to this point had only taught the camps for children. "What I enjoyed most about teaching the adults was the reaction from them," she said. "They learned so much and have a new appreciation for their environment."

At the end of the session, campers created their own souvenirs to remember the camp by. Some used shells to create artwork, while others made imprints on shirts.

Upcoming MarineQuest programs

Offered by the UNCW Division for Public Service and Extended Education

Summer Science by the Sea Day Camp
(ages 7-10)

8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday - Friday

May 29 - June 1, June 4-8, 11-15, 18-22 and 25-29, July 9-13, 16-20, 23-27, July 30 - August 3. UNCW Center for Marine Science and local habitats.

Fee: $106 per child per week
($85 for week of May 29-June 1)

Register by April 20 for all weeks. Call 962-2386 for brochure and registration information.

Coast Trek for Commuters (ages 11-13)

August 6-10, Fee: $285

Register by April 20. Call 962-2386 for brochure and registration information.

Biology of the Sea (ages 16 - 18)

Offers three (3) transferable college credits for rising high school juniors and seniors who have received at least a B in high school biology or oceanography. Teacher recommendation required. June 17-30. $1,650 (includes tuition, room, board, book, instruction, lab and field supplies, class transportation, and admissions). On campus residence required. 24-hour supervision provided.

Register by April 30. Call 962-2386 for brochure and registration information.

ForFar Field Station, Andros Island, Bahamas

For students, ages 15-18 who have received at least a B in either earth science, biology or oceanography. College credit available. Teacher recommendation and notarized copy of birth certificate required. June 8-16. Fee of $1,435 includes lodging, meals, boat fees, instruction, ground transportation, admissions, Ft. Lauderdale/Andros round trip airfare, pre-flight lodging on June 8. 24-hour supervision provided.

Register by March 31. Call 962-2460 for further information.

Marine Biology Camp for Teens with Dolphin Swim - Marathon Key, Florida (ages 15 - 17)

Session 1: June 19-24
(Reference Number: MBC 0601 - 1)

Session 2: June 27 - July 2
(Reference Number: MBC 0601 - 2)

Fee of $1,550 includes dolphin swim, Everglades National Park, coral reef snorkel, boat observation of dolphins in the wild, manta ray swim, lodging, meals, and ground transportation from Key West airport. 24-hour supervision provided.

Register by May 10. Call 962-2461 for more information. To register, call: 1-800-451-2562. Must provide reference number listed above.

For other travel opportunities for ages 15-17, visit our web site: www.uncwil.edu/dpsee/marinequest

Odyssey: Masonboro Island Excursion II

10 a.m. - 1 p.m., May 8. Fee: $20 for adults, $15 for children 12 and under. (includes pontoon boat ride, excursion and lunch).

Jekyll Island Marine Biology Excursion

April 26-29, 2001. Fee: $365 (double occupancy) or $505 (single occupancy). Participants will explore the natural wonders of this unique coastal environment in Georgia and investigate the intriguing history of this former playground of the rich and famous. Accompanying the group will be Tressa Thompson, marine education specialist.
Register by March 20, 2001.

UNCW Assists Nonprofit, Government Agencies in Quest for Up-to-date Web Access Southeastern North Carolina's digital divide is diminishing thanks to UNCW's Division for Public Service and Extended Education and its newest initiative, Community Outreach Services, (COSMOS).

Designed to act as a catalyst and serve external agencies, COSMOS designs Web pages and databases, manages and evaluates more than 1300 on-line non-credit, professional courses, and helps to bring agencies and communities of Southeastern North Carolina together through the Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina (SpinNC.Org), accessible at http://www.spinnc.org.

> "SpinNC connects visitors not only to web sites around southeastern North Carolina, but across the entire state,"
>
> – H.E. 'Hunter' Thompson, director of COSMOS

"Developed initially as a public/private partnership, SpinNC became affiliated with UNC Wilmington in 2000 to assist citizens in New Hanover, Pender, Brunswick, Onslow, Cumberland, Bladen, Duplin, Sampson and Columbus counties," said H.E. 'Hunter' Thompson, director of COSMOS.

"SpinNC connects visitors not only to web sites around Southeastern North Carolina, but across the entire state," said Thompson. "Users can visit one web site to interact with each other electronically, participate in their community and gather information about a variety of resources from nonprofit and government services." In addition to maintaining SpinNC, COSMOS is redesigning DPSEE's web pages and working in collaborative web ventures with such agencies as North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys, Columbus County Family Support Network, Cape Fear Tomorrow, Cape Fear Regional Partnership Network, and Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear.

The Columbus County Family Services Network links to 23 agencies. Each agency has a description of its services or links to a web page with The information. The site was developed by COSMOS and funded through a Smart Start grant and can be accessed at http://www.SpinNC.org/spinsites/fsn/.

The site for the North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys is also a public site that provides citizens with information about their rights, the administrative office addresses and phone numbers for every district attorney in North Carolina, an interactive map, and related links to the state of North Carolina, the courts, court date locator, inmate locator, sex offender registry and the SBI home page.

"This is an invaluable tool to the people of North Carolina," said John Carriker, district attorney for New Hanover and Pender counties. "Victims, law enforcement and the general public will benefit from the information they access from this site. This is immediate practical information that will improve their welfare and safety."

In addition to the public site, which is accessible at http://www.SpinNC.org/nccda/, COSMOS has developed a private secured site so that district attorneys across the state can share information. The site includes information on briefs, rulings and personnel.

"We undertook this new direction," explained Dr. Michelle R. Howard-Vital, vice chancellor of DPSEE, "to serve our citizens better. Studying input from people in our service region, we found that it was extremely difficult for them to access the information they needed. In an effort to serve our community and the nonprofit agencies, we created COSMOS using the resources and talents of our staff in our former Technology Outreach Services unit. It just seemed a natural fit."

The COSMOS staff includes Thompson, C.W. "Woody" Sutton, assistant director; Greg Gulas, project manager; Cathi Phillips, art director; and Fran McCann, program coordinator. COSMOS also employs several student workers and interns.

SPINNC.Org. can be accessed at http://.www.SpinNC.org. COSMOS can be accessed at http://www.uncwil.edu/dpsee/cos. For more information, contact Hunter Thompson at (910) 962-3138 or thomphsonh@uncwil.edu

Bridging the Gap

Between Community and Nonprofit Agencies

The Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina enables information sharing between nonprofit agencies in Southeastern North Carolina. In conjunction with the Collaborative Community Assistance Network (CCAN), SpinNC, accessible at http://www.spinnc.org, links nonprofit agencies with each other and residents in the nine counties of New Hanover, Pender, Brunswick, Onslow, Cumberland, Bladen, Duplin, Sampson, and Columbus. Now, both citizens and agencies can search for services and referrals at the click of a mouse.

Tom Fife, marketing director for James Sprunt Community College, is enthusiastic that "CCAN and SpinNC afford so many varied agencies an opportunity to work together and help each other meet common goals. CCAN enables organizations to effectively communicate their needs, services, and resources not only to the community, but serve each other as well," he said.

SPIN NC.org Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina

"It provides a way for agencies to support the public without overlapping services from different agencies," adds Mary Cower of Onslow Community Ministries. "We can import an agency's data into a single point of contact."

The agencies provide data and SpinNC incorporates it into a database accessible to a broad range of service providers, explained H.E. 'Hunter' Thompson, director of UNCW's Community Outreach Services (COSMOS). For agencies not connected to the Internet, COSMOS can provide compact discs for computer stations or a paper copy of the information. "The information will be up-to-the-minute because agencies will have access to the databases to make changes," explains Thompson.

Other SpinNC information resources include a regional calendar, a weather page, and Seafunders (http://www.seafunders.org).a service that provides information and links to North Carolina grant-funding entities. As part of the next generation, SpinNC, a Yahoo-style directory of links and an online press release form, E-Media, are currently being incorporated into its databases.

SpinNC hosts web sites for several prominent community-based agencies including

- The 1898 Foundation at http://www.spinnc.org/spinsites/1898
- Cape Fear Tomorrow at http://www.spinnc.org/spinsites/cft
- The Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear at http://www.spinnc.org/spinsites/arts
- The North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys at http://www.spinnc.org/spinsites/nccda
- The Columbus County Family Support Network at http://www.spinnc.org/spinsites/fsn

SpinNC Awarded $45,000 Grant

from Cape Fear Memorial Foundation for Collaborative Community Assistance Network Expansion of Health and Wellness Component

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington has been awarded a $45,000 grant from the Cape Fear Memorial Foundation to expand the health and wellness component of the Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina (SpinNC.Org) web site.

SpinNC.Org., a community network designed to provide public access to more than 155 agencies, provides an Internet link to information about agencies and community-based programs. It also furnishes a search engine to access a variety of nonprofit and governmental services ranging from health and housing to business and economy.

Using the grant monies from the Cape Fear Memorial Foundation, SpinNC will expand the health and wellness component of the site. The Collaborative Community Assistance Network (CCAN) links a number of agencies throughout southeastern North Carolina with access to the most up-to-date information on health and human services in the region," said Hunter Thompson, director of Community Outreach Services at UNCW.

Interested agencies and citizens can search for community resources on CCAN at http://www.spinnc.org. As a content network, SpinNC also hosts a regional calendar and a Yahoo-style directory of regional web sites.

For more information please contact
H.E. 'Hunter' Thompson, Jr. at 910-962-3138 or via email at thompsonh@uncwil.edu.

SBTDC at UNCW – Not just for Start-ups

Most people who know about the SBTDC at UNCW think of it as a great place to go for help when starting a business. And they're not wrong. Since its inception in 1987, the SBTDC at UNCW has worked with thousands of start-up businesses. And many of them are still going strong today, creating jobs for the local economy and financial security for their owners.

But many people do not realize that the SBTDC is also a great resource for existing businesses. In fact, in 2000, at least 80% of the Center's 743 clients were existing businesses. As one might imagine, these existing businesses come in all shapes, sizes and degrees of maturity. Along with the very common "mom and pop" or lifestyle businesses that dominate our region are a good number of larger businesses.

At the SBTDC we've segmented those larger businesses into two categories: High-Growth and High-Impact. High-Growth firms are businesses with annual revenue and/or employment growth of approximately 20% or more for the last three years. Firms that fall into this category are typically young firms that utilize technology, exhibit strong management leadership, operation in a growth industry, and/or have the potential for high growth. High-impact firms are older (typically 10 or more years), more established companies whose growth has leveled out and who are of critical importance to the employment and tax base in their local community. These high growth companies have made and will continue to make a strong impact on our local economy, with the creation of jobs, contributions to the tax base and purchases of local goods and services.

In recognizing the impact this segment of the business community makes on our region's economy, the SBTDC has enhanced its services and educational products to better serve the needs of these companies. An example of such a product is the Strategic Planning Retreat, a 1-2 day facilitated program which leads management of the firm in exercises of visioning, strength and weakness analysis, competitor analysis, goal setting, etc. These retreats have been offered several times in the last year to very positive reviews.

So remember – the SBTDC at UNCW is the region's business extension services for small businesses of many shapes, sizes and maturity level. If you'd like to learn more about how the SBTDC at UNCW can help your business, please call 910-962-3744.

Marine Trades

Marine Trades Services is a special resource of the Small Business and Technology Development Center that researches maritime business issues and participates in national workshops and trade shows. Information gathered is provided to the state's maritime business through a monthly newsletter TradeWinds, the annual MarineEXPO trade show and conference, the NCMTA and NCWaterways websites, the NC Clean Marina Program and the NC Marine Trade Association.

In addition, Marine Trades Services provides confidential assistance to NC marine businesses in business planning, marketing, project permitting, OSHA guidelines, air and water quality compliance and best management practices.

Mike Bradley director
252-728-2144

Wendy Larimer
marine trades counselor
910-962-3351

Presentations

Michelle Howard-Vital, Ph.D. and Joanne Nottingham, Ph.D., "Communication Technologies and Instructional Design," accepted for the 12th International Conference on College Teaching and Learning, Jacksonville, Florida April 21, 2001.

Hunter Thompson, "Redefining Programs and Services Delivery in the Knowledge Ecology," accepted for the poster session at the 86th Annual University Continuing Education Association, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, April 6-8, 2001.

Michelle R. Howard-Vital, Ph.D.; Virginia Adams, Ph.D.; Ronald Vetter, Ph.D.; and Hunter Thompson, "Partnering Internationally, Benefiting Locally," accepted at the Coalition of Urban and Metro Universities Conference, St. Louis, Missouri, March 24-27, 2001.

Hunter Thompson and Woody Sutton, "WebU and SpinNC.Org: Two models of program delivery in the knowledge ecology" presented at the Stop Surfing Start Teaching Conference, Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, February 11-14, 2001.

Bruce Ragon, Ph.D. "Health Education: Utopia to Reality," gave an invited address at the Regional Health Educators Network Meeting, Mountain Area Health Education Center, Asheville, North Carolina, November 3, 2000.

Hunter Thompson, "Global Virtual University: An experiment between UNCW and the Digital Communities of Japan," Virtual University panelist at the IEEE Computer Software and Applications Conference, Taipei, Taiwan, October 26, 2000.

Richard Olson; Patricia Comeaux, Ph.D.; Thomas Fife; and Hunter Thompson, "Evaluation Strategies for the Rural Utilities Services project: Global Access" presented at the Carolinas Communication Conference, Wilmington, North Carolina, October 21, 2000.

Woody Sutton, UNCW; Carole Stern, NC School of Math and Science; and Vivian Thompson, Appalachian State University; "The Recipe for Success: Designing Effective Distance Learning Programs" presented at the North Carolina Information Highway Stakeholder's Conference, Boone, North Carolina, October 14, 2000.

Hunter Thompson, "Successes of the North Carolina Information Highway" presented at the North Carolina Information Highway Stakeholder's Conference, Boone, North Carolina, October 14, 2000.

Grants

Rich Huber, Ph.D., Watson School of Education, and Bruce Ragon, Ph.D., Co-Principle Investigators, "Students as Scientists II: An After School Technology and Career and Exploration Program," Burroughs Wellcome Fund: Student Science Enrichment Program. $86,228. Pending.

Texts

Bruce Ragon, Ph.D. acknowledged in the recently published Allyn and Bacon text, Health of the Human Spirit: Spiritual Dimensions of Personal Health, by Brian Luke Seaward, copyright 2001.

National Committees

From February 11-15, 2001, Michelle Howard-Vital, Ph.D. served as a site team member for the commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools at Saint Leo University in Tampa, Florida.

Bruce Ragon, Ph.D. was one of only 15 representatives of higher education who was invited to participate in the American Cancer Society's National School Health Coordinator Leadership Institute in Orlando, Florida, July 2000. The Institute brings together school health leaders from around the country in an effort to promote the American Cancer Society's coordinated school health education efforts.

Grants and Awards

Community Outreach Services (COSMOS)

- Collaborative Community Assistance Network

  Cape Fear Memorial Foundation and Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina

$30,000	FY 2000-2001
$15,000	FY 2001-2002

- Expansion of the Collaborative Community Assistance Network

  Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation and Southeastern Public Interest Network of North Carolina

$35,000	FY 2000-2001

Who and Where We Are

We're Reaching Out! The Division for Public Service and Extended Education now offers several community locations to serve you better. The table below lists divisional departments and their locations.

DEPARTMENT	LOCATION	4-DIGIT ZIP CODE SUFFIX
Office of the Vice Chancellor Budget Officer Community/Public Relations	UNCW campus 202 Alderman Hall	5613
Community Relations	UNCW campus 116 Westside Hall
Marine Trades Services (part of SBTDC) SBTDC (Small Business and Technology Development Center)	UNCW campus, SBTDC (Field House)	5977
Administration COSMOS (Community Outreach Services) UNCW Extension Program UNCW-TV	New Centre Drive	5614
Conference Services (962-3193) Lifelong Learning (962-3193)	UNCW Executive Development Center (Military Cutoff Road)	5621
MarineQuest (962-2386)	UNCW Center for Marine Science	5929

DPSEE Mailing Addresses

Mail from outside UNCW:
[NAME]
[DEPARTMENT]
UNCW Division for Public Service and Extended Education
601 South College Road
Wilmington, NC 28403 + [4-DIGIT ZIP CODE SUFFIX]

Example:
Annette Anderson
Community/Public Relations
UNCW Division for Public Service and Extended Education
601 South College Road
Wilmington, NC 28403-5613

Campus mail:
[NAME]
Public Service + [INTERNAL BUILDING CODE]

Example:
Annette Anderson
Public Service 5613

General Information Numbers

MarineQuest	962-2386
Lifelong Learning/Conferences	962-3193

FAX Numbers

Vice Chancellor	962-7249
Community Relations Angel, Royce	962-7578
SBTDC	962-3014
Extended Education	962-3508
General and Registration	962-3096
COSMOS	962-4067
MarineQuest	962-2410
Lifelong Learning and Conferences	962-3990

Staff Directory

Alford, Robbie	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231
Anderson, Annette Coneglio	office of the vice chancellor (5613)	962-3547
Angel, Royce	Community Relations	962-4189
	on campus in Westside Hall
Bailey, Margaret	office of the vice chancellor (5613)	962-4138
Barham, Holly	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231
Barham, Kelly	COSMOS (5614)	962-7049
Beach, Anne (Tysinger)	office of the vice chancellor (5613)	962-3010
Beyma, Jan	Administration (5614)	962-3195
Bradley, Mike	Marine Trades Services (SBTDC)	252-728-2144
	Beaufort, NC or on-campus at:
	Marine Trades Services, Division for Public Service and Extended Education, UNC Wilmington, 601 South College Road, Wilmington, NC 28403-5977
Cook, Larry	UNCW Extension Program	910-455-2310
	off campus at:
	Coastal Carolina Community College, Administrations Building, Room 23, 444 Western Blvd., Jacksonville, NC 28546
Craig, Lindsay	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231
Dutton, Karel	Lifelong Learning/Conferences (5621)	962-3644
Dunnagan, Dan	Graphics (5977)	962-7487
	on campus at SBTDC
Edmundson, Jim	UNCW Extension Program (5614)	962-3643
Flaherty, Charley	SBTDC (5977)	962-7629
Fowler, Wendy	SBTDC (5977)	962-3744
Green, Chris	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231
Gulas, Greg	COSMOS (5614)	962-3347
Hansley, Deloris	Lifelong Learning/Conferences (5621)	962-3578
Harris, Sandra	Administration (5614)	962-3032
Hayes, Dick	SBTDC (5977)	962-7584
Howard-Vital, Michelle	office of the vice chancellor (5613)	962-4138
Langer, Leslie	SBTDC (5977)	962-4248
Larimer, Wendy	Marine Trades (5977)	962-3351
	on campus at SBTDC
Lindbert, Jean	UNCW Extension Program (5614)	962-3192
Maready, Nancy	Lifelong Learning/Conferences (5621)	962-3546
McCann, Fran	COSMOS (5614)	962-7304
McDaniel, Kathy	Administration (5614)	962-3699
McGuire, Mike	UNCW-TV (tech support)	962-7434
	on campus at Telecommunications
Messina, Heidi	UNCW-TV (5614)	962-7224
Miller, Dustin	UNCW-TV (tech support)	962-7001
	Pager	254-2279
	on campus at Telecommunications
Petersen, Carla	SBTDC (5977)	962-3116
Phillips, Cathi	COSMOS (5614)	962-3657
Pickett, Towana	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231
Ragon, Bruce	Lifelong Learning/Conferences (5621)	962-3194
Rogers, Louis	SBTDC (5977)	962-7307
Sanders, Betty Ann	UNCW-TV	962-7426
	on campus in the Academic Support Building
Sutton, Woody	COSMOS (5614)	962-7074
Talley, Diane	MarineQuest (5929)	962-2461
Thompson, Hunter	COSMOS (5614)	962-3138
Tillman, Michael	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231
Walsh,Kate	UNCW-TV (5614)	962-4082
White, Windi	MarineQuest (5929)	962-2460
Wilson, Catherine	COSMOS (5614)	962-3231

UNCW
The University of North Carolina at Wilmington
Division for Public Service and Extended Education
601 South College Road
Wilmington, NC 28403-3297

Non-Profit Organization
U.S. Postage PAID
Wilmington, NC
Permit No. 444

UNCW©

The University of North Carolina at Wilmington

Division for Public Service and Extended Education

Your Partner, Your Resource

---

http://www.uncwil.edu/dpsee

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Newman Center Lectures

David Fourqurean, religion professor at Cape Fear Community College, will present "The Wounds of Christ" at 5 p.m. March 28 at the Newman Catholic Student Center. For more information, contact Mary Pat Fourqurean, campus minister, at 792-0507 or e-mail fourqureanm.

Physics Seminars

Joseph Dolan, senior astrophysicist at the NASA-Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., will present "What Do Black Holes Look Like?" at 8 p.m. March 15 in King Hall Auditorium and "Possible Evidence for an Event Horizon in CYG" at 2 p.m. March 16 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. These lectures are sponsored in conjunction with the American Astronomical Society and the Shapley Endowment Fund.

Paul H. Frampton, Louis D. Rubin, Jr. professor of physics at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "Recent Progress in Cosmology" at 2 p.m. March 30 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Joy Allen, Pam Sander and Marita Bon from Greater Wilmington Business join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. March 15, 22 and 29 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. March 16, 23 and 30 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library. The trio discuss their experiences starting a newspaper focused on Wilmington's business climate.

International Film Series

Lamerica, a drama about Albanian immigrants and their dreams of Italy, will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. March 22 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students. For more information, contact Alison Murray at ext. 7595.

Leahy to Perform in Kenan Auditorium March 31

Leahy

UNCW Arts in Action and the Thalian Hall Center for the Performing Arts will present the musical talents of Leahy at 4 and 8 p.m. March 31 in Kenan Auditorium.

Leahy, a group of nine brothers and sisters from Lakefield, Ontario, have performed together their whole lives. As a family tradition, the siblings would gather at the family farm to celebrate the music of their fiddling father and champion Cape Breton step-dancer mother. Eventually, the brothers and sisters began to play at local fairs, tiny clubs and extended family gatherings. Requests for their appearances became more frequent. In 1985, a filmmaker chronicled their family's musical tradition in the documentary Music Most of All. The film won an Academy Award.

Tickets are on sale at the auditorium box office and the University Union information desk. For more information, call ext. 3500.

UNCW Celebrates Women's History Month

March is Women's History Month, and to celebrate UNCW will host the events listed below. All the events are free and open to the public unless otherwise noted.

March 19

"The Mamas of Dada: Women Who Mothered an Art Movement" features a lecture by Paula Kamenish, English, at 7:30 p.m. in Cameron Hall, Room 105.

March 21

"X (and Other Drug) Files: Myths and Mysteries of Popular Drug and Herbal Use" is an informational session providing basic information about current "club drugs," Ritalin abuse and precautions regarding the use of herbal remedies. It is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Café.

March 26

"Diverse Voices: Five Notable Women" is a presentation by Joanne Nottingham that includes film clips and discussion of five notable women including singer Marian Anderson and former first lady Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton. It is scheduled for 3 p.m. in the Warwick Center, Center Stage Café.

March 27

"Rosie the Riveter: Women on the Homefront During World War II" features a lecture by Kathleen Berkeley, history, at 7:30 p.m. in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

March 28

Vagina Monologues will be performed at 7 p.m. in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. Donations of $2 will be accepted to benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter.

Panel Discussion "Cuba Then and Now"

A panel discussion focusing on Cuba in the 1950s and 40 years later will be held at 7 p.m. March 15 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Panelists are Victoria Rigsby Keiser from Boston, Sylvia Morini Heath from Washington, D.C., and Antonio Puente, psychology. This free public event is sponsored by the Office of International Programs and the Political Science Club.

Official Notices

Hotline to Report Fraud, Waste and Abuse

Since 1988, individual citizens and state employees have helped identify $35 million in questionable services and purchases in state government. Employees who know or suspect potential fraud, waste or abuse in the operation of state services should call the Office of the State Auditor at 1-800-730-8477. All calls are confidential.

401K Representative

Jennifer Willis, a 401K representative with Supplemental Retirement Income Plan of N.C., will be on campus from noon to 5 p.m. March 26 and 8 a.m. to noon March 27. To schedule an appointment, contact Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713.

Learn to Swim

Faculty and staff can register for the Learn to Swim Program from 9 a.m. to noon April 3-5 at the athletic ticket office in Trask Coliseum. The cost is $90 per person. Various sessions will be held May through July. Employees can preregister only immediate family members. For more information, call ext. 3233.

Financial Planning Workshop

Tamara Langham, senior retirement consultant with Lincoln Financial Group, will conduct the workshop "Invest in Your Future" from 10 a.m. to noon March 23. The workshop will focus on tax-deferred programs for retirement such as 403b. To register, contact Liz Grimes at ext. 3274.

US Cellular Representative

Scott Lowdermilk, a representative with US Cellular, will be on campus from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. March 20 and 22 in the Warwick Center, Room 138, to answer questions regarding the cellular phone promotion available to university employees. This promotion is valid only through Lowdermilk. Contact him at 910/231-9995 or e-mail scott.lowdermilk@uscellular.com.

Printer/Supplies Available

The Registrar's Office has a DEC laser printer with two paper trays and envelope feeder, two photoreceptor drum cartridges, two LN08-AC cartridges and one LN08-AA cartridge available for $900. Interested departments or offices should contact Brian Medlin at ext. 3682.

Deadline Extended

The deadline to submit requests for international faculty travel grants was extended to March 23. Direct questions to ext. 4051.

Relay for Life

The American Cancer Society Relay for Life will be held April 20 and 21 at Hoggard High School. This annual fundraising event benefits cancer research. UNCW employees interested in participating should contact Judy Siko at ext. 4283, Annie Aldrich at ext. 3099 or Dianne Matthews at ext. 3065.

Reimbursement Deadline

The deadline to submit all 2000 out-of-pocket expenses for health care and dependent day care spending accounts to Aon Consulting is March 31. Any money not claimed by March 31 will be forfeited. Call ext. 3006 or ext. 3713 for claim forms.

YWCA Women of Achievement Awards

Nomination forms for the YWCA Women of Achievement Awards are available in human resources. The awards recognize outstanding women from Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender counties who have made creative and lasting contributions to the community. Nominations for Women of Achievement awards are due March 26, and nominations for certificates of recognition are due March 16.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Sheryl Ivey, auxiliary services.

Chancellor's Student Hours

The chancellor will hold student hours from 11 a.m. to noon March 19 in Alderman Hall, Room 110.

Seahawk Kids Club

Boys and girls ages 12 and younger can sign up for Hawkstars, the official kids club for Seahawk athletics. The annual $5 fee includes a membership card, a T-shirt, a birthday card from the Seahawk and invitations to special events. Children of faculty and staff can sign up for free. For more information, contact Angela Pucher at ext. 7319.

Shared Leave

Mary Corcoran and John Mohr, Randall Library, and Amanda Silwell, university police, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Training

Interaction Management, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 28-29 and April 4-5.

Yoga, noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through May 1.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21126	Assistant Dir. of Campus Rec./ Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21138	Assoc. Dir. for Involvement/ Campus Activities	March 16
21147	Dir. of Client Services	March 16
21151	Director of Leadership Programs	March 30
21157	Client Services Representative	March 16
21158	Maintenance Mechanic IV	March 16
21159	General Utility Worker	March 16

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

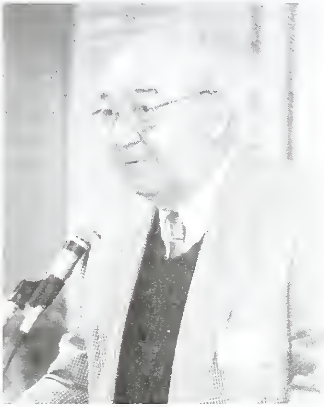
UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 34 March 22, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Establishes Marshall Crews Scholarship for Science



J. Marshall Crews

UNCW has established the J. Marshall Crews Scholarship for Science. The award was made possible through an annual gift from Gabriel W. and Robert R. Dobo in honor of their mentor and long-time friend. It will be awarded for the first time in fall 2001.

One of the original faculty members of Wilmington College at the time of its founding in 1947, Crews served the college and UNC Wilmington as a mathematics professor, registrar, dean of students, academic dean and director of admissions. He retired in 1981. Crews is the author of From These Beginnings, a history of Wilmington College from 1947 to 1969. It is currently in the process of being reprinted.

"The university is honored by this gift from the Dobos in recognition of Dr. Crews," said M. Tyrone Rowell, senior associate vice chancellor for university advancement. "Dr. Crews' service and dedication to Wilmington College, and later UNCW, is legendary. It is a fitting tribute to recognize his devotion to science and education."

To become a Crews Scholar, students must be a full-time student and a rising junior or senior majoring in biological, marine, earth, environmental or mathematical science, chemistry, physics or physical oceanography. A selection committee will determine the recipient based upon a review of applications. The scholarship will cover tuition and fees.

Flamenco Guitarist to Perform Concert on the Commons

William "Paco" Strickland will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. April 5 on the Campus Commons. The host of Flamenco Café, which airs weekly on WHQR-FM, Strickland has more than 30 years of experience as a performer. In the event of rain, the concert will be held in the University Union Hawk's Nest.

Strickland

Moss Named to Biotechnology Center Board

Marvin K. Moss, professor of physics and physical oceanography, was appointed to the board of directors of the North Carolina Biotechnology Center as an at-large representative to the 37-member board. His four-year term runs through October 2004.

"The Biotechnology Center is pleased to have Dr. Moss join our board because he brings outstanding expertise in administration and especially in marine biology and physical sciences so necessary for this multidisciplinary endeavor," said Charles Hamner, president and CEO of the center.

Moss served as provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs at UNCW from 1992 to 1999. He was deputy director of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography and associate vice chancellor for marine sciences at the University of California, San Diego, from 1987 to 1992 and was director and technical director of the Office of Naval Research from 1982 to 1987.

"I'm honored that the Biotechnology Center chose someone from UNC Wilmington," said Moss. "I've had experience with biotechnology development in San Diego as well as Washington, D.C. This board plays an important role in moving biotechnology forward in the state, especially in terms of developing critical relationships among universities, industry and government. I look forward to being involved."

Moss earned a bachelor's degree in physics from Elon College and a doctorate in physics and nuclear engineering from NCSU.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Artwork Sought for Exhibition Series

UNCW is seeking artists to exhibit their work during the 2001-02 academic year in the University Union and Warwick Center. Artwork of any medium is eligible. All works must be framed, matted and ready to display. Exhibits run approximately seven weeks.

Interested artists should submit no more than 10 35mm slides that best represent their work, a current resume and an artist statement for consideration by the selection committee. The submission deadline is 5 p.m. April 20. Artists should include their name on each slide, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope in order to return slides.

Mail or deliver submissions to Campus Activities, University Union, Room 214. For more information, contact Shannon Hooker at ext. 3827 or visit the World Wide Web site www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/arts.

Physics Lecture

Moorad Alexanian, physics and physical oceanography, will present "Generation of Phase States by Two-photon Absorption" at 2 p.m. April 6 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served at 1:45 p.m.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Jason Hales, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend the thesis "Tidal Exchange of Coastal Estuaries: Effects of Rainfall Events, Limited Dredging and Watershed Development Type" at 2 p.m. March 23 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

CMS Lecture Series

James Oliver, professor of biology and director of the Interdisciplinary Biotechnology Program at UNC Charlotte, will present "Vibrio vulnificus: Death on the Half-Shell" at 4:15 p.m. March 23 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium. There will be a reception following the presentation.

Black Mountain Lecture

Leverett T. Smith, Jr., curator of the Black Mountain College Collection and professor emeritus of English at North Carolina Wesleyan College, will speak at 3:15 p.m. March 27 in Morton Hall, Room 201. His talk "Writers at Black Mountain College: Robert Duncan and Paul Metcalf" will be followed by a question-and-answer session. Black Mountain College (1933 to 1956) included among its faculty avante-garde writers and others in the arts including John Cage, Merce Cunningham, Robert Motherwell and Willem de Kooning.

Smith is the author of Art and Education at Mountain College 1933-1956, The American Dream and the National Game and Eroticizing the Nation: Michael Rumaker's Fiction.

MarineQuest Programs

MarineQuest is offering the following environmental education programs for adults through its Odyssey Program.

Earth Day Paddle – Kayak through coastal marshlands with Tressa Thompson, 1 to 3 p.m. April 24. No experience is required. The cost is $45. Register by April 13.

Kayak to Bald Head Island – Tressa Thompson will lead this kayak trip of the secluded shores of Bald Head Island where participants will bird watch and will investigate tidal creeks, 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 22. The cost is $80. Register by May 11.

Dolphin Watch and the History of Manteo – Take a guided boat trip around the Outer Banks to observe wild dolphins and learn the history of Manteo, Sept. 14-16. The cost is $155 and includes two nights of lodging, instruction, boat and lecture. Register by Aug. 31. For more information, call ext. 2386.

International Film Series

The Japanese film After Life will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. April 5 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets are $4, free to UNCW students. For more information, contact Alison Murray at ext. 7595.

Great Decisions Lecture

Pierre L. Sales, a retired U.S. foreign service officer, will lecture about on-going armed conflicts and conflict resolution in Africa at 7 p.m. April 2 in the King Hall Auditorium. Sales served 27 years in foreign service, primarily in Africa.

This free, public event is sponsored by the Political Science Department as part of its Great Decisions Lecture Series.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menu will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - chicken francesca, black bean cakes with salsa, parsleyed new potatoes, green beans, carrots, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - London broil, baked ziti, oven-roasted potatoes, steamed broccoli, squash casserole, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Art Exhibit

Randall Library is hosting the exhibit "UNCW Art Faculty – Creating and Teaching" through May 1 at the library's first floor art wall. The display includes pottery by Charles Allo, ceramics by Aaron Wilcox, woodcuts by Ann Conner, prints by Donald Furst, photography by Brownie Harris, oil paintings by Eric Lawing, charcoal and pastel drawings by Pamela Toll and media collages by Margaret Worthington. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. March 27 at the exhibit.

Creative Writing Lectures

Sarah Messer, author of Red House, will lecture on "Lyrical Storytelling" at 2 p.m. March 27 in Cameron Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department Lecture Series. Mark Cox, department chair, will present "The Craft of Poetry" at 2 p.m. April 3.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Guest Artist Jazz Festival

Trombonist Slide Hampton will be the featured performer for the annual Guest Artist Jazz Festival March 30 and 31. He will perform as a soloist with the UNCW Big Band at 8 p.m. March 30 and with the UNCW Jazz Faculty rhythm section at 8 p.m. March 31. Both concerts will be in the Warwick Center Ballroom. For ticket information, call ext. 3390.

Women's History Month

UNCW is celebrating Women's History Month by hosting the events listed below. All the events are free and open to the public unless otherwise noted.

March 26

"Diverse Voices: Five Notable Women," 3 p.m. Warwick Center, Center Stage Cafe. Joanne Nottingham will discuss five notable women including singer Marian Anderson and Sen. Hillary Clinton.

March 27

"Rosie the Riveter: Women on the Homefront During World War II" features a lecture by Kathleen Berkeley, history, at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

March 28

Vagina Monologues will be performed at 7 p.m., Wednesday, in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. Donations of $2 will be accepted to benefit the Domestic Violence Shelter.

Stage to Screen

Much Ado About Nothing, Kenneth Branagh's 1993 film based on William Shakespeare's festive comedy, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. March 23 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium as part of the series "From Stage to Screen" sponsored by the English Department. Tennessee Willliams' A Streetcar Named Desire, directed by Elia Kazan and starring Marlon Brando, will be shown March 30. Norman Jewison's 1984 film adaptation of Charles Fuller's 1951 play A Soldier's Story will be shown April 6.

History Professor Wins Oklahoma Book Award

La Vere

David La Vere, associate professor of history, received the 2001 Oklahoma Book Award for Non-fiction for Contrary Neighbors: Southern Plains and Removed Indians in Indian Territory.

Sponsored by the Oklahoma Center for the Book, a state affiliate of the Library of Congress Center for the Book, the award recognizes outstanding Oklahoman authors or works about the state. La Vere's book was selected from 12 finalists and from more than 120 submissions in the non-fiction category. Additional categories included children/young adult, poetry, fiction and design/illustration. The award was presented during the 12th annual Oklahoma Book Awards ceremony March 10 in Oklahoma City.

Contrary Neighbors examines the interactions between the Southeastern Indian tribes relocated over the "Trail of Tears" with the Plains Indians who were living in the territory.

The Oklahoma Center for the Book promotes the literary heritage of the state and encourages reading for pleasure by citizens of all ages

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Larry Honeycutt, HPER, was selected for inclusion in the North Carolina High School Athletic Association Wall of Champions which recognizes the state's outstanding coaches, athletes, officials and booking agents. Honeycutt was named in honor of his 35-year career as a referee.

Susan Ivancevich, Tom Keaveney and Joanne Rockness, accountancy and business law, had the article "Recent SEC Regulations Have Implications for the Gaming Industry" published in the March edition of The Bottomline, the journal of hospitality, financial and technology professionals.

Daniel Ivancevich and Susan Ivancevich, accountancy and business law, had the article "Establishing Effective Comping Procedures" published in the March edition of The Bottomline. It was co-authored by Bernard Fried, University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Steven Miller, NURC, CMS and biological sciences, gave the invited presentation "The State of U.S. Coral Reefs: Why Should We Care?" at the U.S. Coral Reef Task Force meeting in Washington, D.C. The meeting was hosted by the Departments of Commerce and Interior.

Ron Vetter, computer science, was one of 60 authors who contributed an essay on the future of computing in the March 2001 issue of Communications of the ACM. The special issue contains contributions from industry leaders and visionaries who examine what life might be like in 1,000 years based upon their personal expectations of computing on a global scale. Vetter's essay "The Wireless World Wide Web" reflects on ubiquitous access to the Web.

Curt Moyer, physics and physical oceanography, presented the paper "QMTools: Fulfilling the Multimedia Promise" to a joint meeting of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Astronomical Society in San Diego, Calif. Sponsored by the National Science Foundation's Division of Undergraduate Education, the QMTools project provides educators with the tools to integrate multimedia and computational elements into classroom materials for teaching quantum physics.

Randy Hanson, accountancy and business law, had the article "CPA's Perceptions of the Emerging Multidisciplinary Accounting/Legal Practice" published in the March 2001 edition of Accounting Horizons. It was co-authored by with Kimberly Frank, D. Jordon Lowe and James Smith of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Carolyn Farley, student affairs, co-authored the chapter "Balancing Wants and Needs" during the program planning process for the university's proposed college union renovation/construction project for the book From Vision to Reality: Designing and Building College Unions to Meet the Needs of the 21st Century Student. The book, published by the Association for College Unions International, includes information on building support for a project, fundraising and selecting an architect.

Campus PINs

Employees who have access to Web for Students, Web for Faculty or HR ONLINE should note that changing a personal identification number (PIN) in one system affects access to the other systems. The new PIN will become active for the other systems as well as a future system, Campus Pipeline.

Nominations Sought for Scholarship Award

March 31 is the deadline for nominations for the Award for Faculty Scholarship. Nominees must be a full-time faculty member who has exhibited genuine interest in scholarship, research and creativity; earned the respect of colleagues and peers; maintained high standards of integrity; fostered interest and involvement of students and colleagues in scholarship and creative work; and demonstrated a significant contribution to scholarship, research and creativity to UNCW.

Letters of nomination, which can be submitted by any faculty member, are limited to one page and must indicate how the nominee satisfies the criteria for consideration. Submit letters to the chancellor's office, Alderman Hall, Room 110. Recipient(s) of the 2001 Award for Faculty Scholarship will be announced at fall convocation.

401K Representative

Jennifer Willis, a 401K representative with Supplemental Retirement Income Plan of N.C., will be on campus from noon to 5 p.m. March 26 and 8 a.m. to noon March 27. To schedule an appointment, contact Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713.

Learn to Swim

Faculty and staff can register for the Learn to Swim Program from 9 a.m. to noon April 3-5 at the athletic ticket office in Trask Coliseum. The cost is $90 per person. Sessions will be held between May 21 and July 9. Employees can pre-register only immediate family members. For more information, call ext. 3233.

Financial Planning Workshop

Tamara Langham, senior retirement consultant with Lincoln Financial Group, will conduct the workshop "Invest in Your Future" from 10 a.m. to noon March 23. The workshop will focus on tax-deferred programs such as 403b for retirement. To register, contact Liz Grimes at ext. 3274.

Relay for Life

The American Cancer Society Relay for Life will be held April 20 and 21 at Hoggard High School. This annual fundraising event benefits cancer research. UNCW employees interested in participating should contact Judy Siko at ext. 4283, Annie Aldrich at ext. 3099 or Dianne Matthews at ext. 3065.

Reimbursement Deadline

The deadline to submit all 2000 out-of-pocket expenses for health care and dependent day care spending accounts to Aon Consulting is March 31. Any money not claimed by March 31 will be forfeited. Call ext. 3006 or ext. 3713 for claim forms.

YWCA Women of Achievement Awards

Nomination forms for the YWCA Women of Achievement Awards are available in human resources. The awards recognize outstanding women from Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender counties who have made creative and lasting contributions to the community. Nominations are due March 26.

Accounts Payable Checks Reminder

Three working days are required to process a check request upon receipt of a properly completed check request in the Accounts Payable Office. For details, consult Administrative Procedure for Check Requests (ACG 1.50) in the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual.

Shared Leave

Mary Corcoran and John Mohr, Randall Library, and Amanda Silwell, university police, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: James Rowell, university police, and Joseph Simon, athletics.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21126	Assistant Dir. of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21151	Director of Leadership Programs	March 30
21162	Admin. Secretary I	March 23
21163	Housekeeping Supervisor I	March 23
21165	Fire Alarm and Security Tech.	March 30
21166	Electrician II	March 30
21167	Electrician I	March 30

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Physics Seminar

Paul H. Frampton, Louis D. Rubin, Jr. Professor of Physics at UNC Chapel Hill, will present "Recent Progress in Cosmology" at 2 p.m. March 30 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212.

Newman Center Lectures

David Fourqurean, religion professor at Cape Fear Community College, will present "The Wounds of Christ" at 5 p.m. March 28 at the Newman Catholic Student Center. James Megivern, philosophy and religion, will present "The Death Penalty: The Conversion of Catholic Leadership to Opposition" at 5 p.m. April 4. For more information, contact Mary Pat Fourqurean, campus minister, at 792-0507 or e-mail fourqureanm.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 35 March 29, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Divers, R/V Cape Fear to Help with 2001 Monitor Mission

Soon after its battle with the Confederate ironclad, CSS Virginia, the Union ironclad USS Monitor sank in stormy seas 16 miles off Cape Hatteras in 1862. In the 1970s, the wreck site became the nation's first National Marine Sanctuary. Now, time and the sea are taking her apart. Teams of divers, led by UNCW's National Undersea Research Center, have started the final stages of retrieving major portions of the wreck for permanent display in a safer home ashore.

The 2001 operation will map and recover small artifacts in and around the wreck, recover the ironclad's engine and begin preparations for future recovery of the gun turret. The U.S. Navy will carry out the heavy lifting. The other tasks, which go on before and after the Navy's work, will be carried out by divers from UNCW, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), East Carolina University, the Cambrian Foundation and the Mariner's Museum, site of the USS Monitor exhibit.

Phase I of the 2001 operations started March 25 and continues until April 13 when dive teams will make observations and measurements needed by Navy engineers and sailors to carry out the engine recovery. During Phase II in June and July, the Navy will place a barge over the top of the wreck and recover the engine. The final stage of this year's efforts, which will take place from July to September, will prepare for the turret recovery in 2002.

See Monitor Mission, page 4

From the Chancellor

Dear UNCW Faculty and Staff:

On behalf of the UNCW Leadership Center, I invite all faculty and staff to support the Graduation Pledge Alliance, a new student initiative being adopted at UNCW. The Graduation Pledge Alliance is a nationwide program whereby seniors commit to create a better citizenry and world by taking the following pledge:

I, (state your name), pledge to explore and take into account the social and environmental consequences of any job I consider and will try to improve these aspects of any organizations for which I work.

To date more than 25 public and private institutions have adopted the pledge, including Harvard University, the University of Kansas and Notre Dame.

To promote awareness of this program, I encourage you to inform students about this opportunity. For more information about the pledge, contact Jessica Maher in the Leadership Center at ext. 3877.

With all best wishes,

Primate Researcher to Lecture at UNCW

Sally Boysen, a renowned expert in nonhuman primate cognition, will lecture on "Whose Mind Is It Anyway? Current Directions in Chimpanzee Cognition Studies" at 7 p.m. April 5 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium, as part of the university's Honors Scholars Program Lecture Series. This event is free and open to the public.

Primate expert Sally Boysen

Boysen, professor of psychology and director of the Comparative Cognition Project at Ohio State University and an affiliate scientist for the Living Links Center for Human and Primate Evolution at Emory University, studies the learning capabilities of chimpanzees. According to Boysen, chimpanzees exhibit more complex and sophisticated skills than believed previously. In particular, chimps show several types of numerical skills as well as comprehension of scale models, she said. Boysen will discuss chimpanzees' apparent use of representation in their natural vocalizations, a finding that sheds light on the evolution and emergence of human language.

The author of more than 85 scientific publications and book chapters, Boysen was featured in the PBS specials Animal Einsteins, The Question of Animal Intelligence and Inside the Animal Mind. She will also discuss her research at 3 p.m. April 6 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Both presentations are sponsored by the Honors Scholars Program, the Departments of Psychology, Biological Sciences and Earth Sciences, the Division for Academic Affairs, the College of Arts and Sciences and the Leadership Center.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Nursing School Dean to Discuss Depression

Virginia Adams, dean of the School of Nursing, will discuss the psychological and physical symptoms of depression in women at 11:45 a.m. April 11 as part of the Women's Express Luncheon Series sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. The cost is $12 and includes lunch. To register, call ext. 3195 by April 6.

Photography Exhibit

"UNCW Photography 2000-01: A Student Exhibition" will be displayed April 2 through May 18 in the Warwick Center Lobby. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. April 4 at the display. The exhibit features work by students from Brownie Harris' photography class.

SEANC Scholarships

The State Employees of North Carolina Inc. (SEANC) Scholarship Foundation is accepting applications for its annual scholarship program. Applicants must be enrolled or have applied to a recognized and accredited post-secondary school, college, trade school or other institution of higher learning. To obtain an application, call Gloria Crowell, CMS, at ext. 2301. The application deadline is April 15.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menus will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - chicken stir-fry, vegetable stir-fry, white rice, corn, green beans, assorted salads, rolls desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - pork barbecue, vegetable stuffed peppers, new potatoes, corn pudding, lima beans, assorted salads, rolls, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

CMS Funds Projects

The Center for Marine Science, through a Pilot Project Research Program, is funding multi-investigator research projects in the marine sciences. The following projects, determined by a competitive basis, received funding for 2001-02:

- "Inducible Defenses Among Molluscs: Morphologic Trends in the Fossil Record and Implications for Community Structure," principle investigators, Patricia Kelley and Martin Posey.
- "Examination of the Pharmaceutical Potential of Salt Marsh Fungi Using a Molecular Approach," David Padgett and Jeffrey Wright.
- "Design and Synthesis of Novel Ligands on Solid Supports for the Selective Removal of Metal Ions from Seawater," Stephen Skrabal and David White.
- "Monitoring Sedimentation and Currents on a Muddy Shoreface: The Impact of Dredge and Fill Projects on the Oak Island Nearshore Zone," Troy Alphin, William Cleary, Lynn Leonard and Posey.
- "NMR Chemical Signatures of Living Eggs as Indicators of Quality in Cultured Marine Fish," Stephen Kinsey and Wade Watanabe.
- "Immunoassay-Based Tests for Agrochemicals in the Cape Fear River Estuary and Assessment of their Sublethal Effects on Juvenile Blue Crabs," John Manock and Robert Roer.

Physics Seminars

Moorad Alexanian, physics and physical oceanography, will present "Generation of Phase States by Two-photon Absorption" at 2 p.m. April 6 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212.

Scott Watson from the Physics Department at Brown University will present "Five Easy Pieces: A Guide to the New Precision Cosmology" at 3 p.m. April 9 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

SEANC Breakfast

The State Employees Association of North Carolina will hold its annual free breakfast from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. March 31 in Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite. Area legislators and SEANC officers from Raleigh will be on hand to discuss issues relevant to university employees including health care and salary increases. For more information, contact Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136.

Youth Camps

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will feature two summer youth programs on chemistry and the marine environment.

Positively Reactive Chemistry Camp is for students ages eight to 11. Participants learn about elementary chemistry concepts through experiments, demonstrations and lectures. Sessions are scheduled for 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. June 11-15 or 18-22. The cost is $130. Register by May 25.

Coast Trek for Locals is for students ages 11 to 13. This week-long program includes outdoor and laboratory experiences focusing on a variety of marine habitats. The camp is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Aug. 6-10. The cost is $285 which includes lunch. Register by April 20.

For more information, call ext. 2386.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Chip Simmons from the Department of Environmental Sciences and Engineering in the UNC Chapel Hill School of Public Health will present "Recent Advances in Cryptosporidium Research in North Carolina Surface Waters" at 2 p.m. March 30 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Dance Marathon

The UNCW chapter of Phi Mu Fraternity, one of the oldest women's organizations in the country, is sponsoring a dance marathon to benefit the Duke Children's Miracle Network. This alcohol-free event is set for noon to midnight April 1 at Hammerjax Night Club, 208 Market Street. Donations will be accepted throughout the day.

UNCW

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

March 20, 2001

To all UNCW faculty and staff,

As our university community continues to grow and prosper, so must each department to fit our needs. It is our plan at UNCW Postal Services to also grow and provide our campus with options to improve mail services.

The U.S. Postal Service has recently assigned zip-plus-4 numbers to our campus community including every department or mail stop and future departments (see reverse). We will all share our main zip code 28403, but the plus-4 is a specific and unique four-digit number assigned to each department. The plus-4 will accompany the address on all envelopes, letterhead, business cards, incoming mail and inter-campus correspondence identifying that specific department. We are asking your assistance in using the new zip-plus-4 service as it will help UNCW postal services process mail in a more efficient and productive manner and get your mail to you without delay. In the near future, we hope to add automated sorting by zip-plus-4 to further speed things up.

Mailing address example:

(1st line – Department or Attn:)
Postal Services
University of North Carolina at Wilmington
601 South College Road
Wilmington NC 28403-5608

Inter-campus example:

Post office - 5608

We understand there will be a transition period and would ask all departments to deplete their supply of addressed paper products. When reordering, please include the assigned zip-plus-4.

It is UNCW postal services' ongoing goal to develop new and improved mail services to provide more effective and efficient ways to process mail for our UNCW community.

If you have questions or concerns, please call me at extension #3182

Doris Moore

Doris Moore, manager UNCW Postal Services

POSTAL SERVICES

601 SOUTH COLLEGE ROAD · WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA 28403-5608 · 910-962-3182 · FAX 910-962-3693

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

ZIP + 4 REVISED (MARCH 2001)

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS	28403-5900
ACCOUNTANCY & BUSINESS LAW	28403-5901
ACCOUNTING	28403-5602
ACCOUNTS PAYABLE	28403-5903
ADMISSIONS	28403-5904
ADVANCEMENT SERVICES	28403-5905
ALUMNI RELATIONS / WISE HOUSE	28403-5906
ANTHROPOLOGY	28403-5907
APPLICATION SERVICES (ITAS)	28403-5908
ARAMARK	28403-5909
ARCHITECTURE & CONSTRUCTION	28403-5910
ART & THEATRE	28403-5911
ARTS & SCIENCES (CAS)	28403-5912
ATHLETICS	28403-5913
AUXILIARY SERVICES	28403-5914
BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES	28403-5915
BOOKSTORE	28403-5916
BUDGET OFFICE	28403-5917
BUSINESS AFFAIRS (VCBA)	28403-5918
BUSINESS AFFAIRS SUPPORT SERVICES	28403-5996
BUSINESS APPLICATIONS	28403-5919
CAMERON SCHOOL OF BUSINESS	28403-5920
CAMPUS ACTIVITIES	28403-5922
CAMPUS RECREATION	28403-5923
CAREER SERVICES	28403-5924
CARRIAGE HOUSE	28403-5925
CASHIER – STUDENT ACCOUNTS	28403-5926
CENTRAL STORES	28403-5921
CENTER FOR MARINE SCIENCE RESEARCH (WB)	28403-5927
CENTER FOR MARINE SCIENCE (CMS).........(MG)	28403-5928
CENTER FOR UNDERSEA RESEARCH (NURC)	28403-5929
CENTER FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE	28403-5930
CHANCELLOR	28403-5931
CHEMISTRY	28403-5932
COMMUNICATION STUDIES	28403-5933
COMPTROLLER	28403-5934
COMPUTER SCIENCE	28403-5935
COMPUTER SERVICES (OIT)	28403-5619
COPY CENTER	28403-5936
COUNSELING CENTER	28403-5937
CREATIVE WRITING	28403-5938
CROSSROADS	28403-5939
CURRICULAR STUDIES	28403-5940
DEAN OF STUDENTS	28403-5941
DISABILITY SERVICES	28403-5942
DISCOVER OUTDOOR PROGRAMS	28403-5943
EARTH SCIENCES	28403-5944
ECONOMICS & FINANCE	28403-5945
EDUCATION LAB	28403-5946
ENGLISH	28403-5947
ENROLLMENT AFFAIRS	28403-5948
ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH & SAFETY	28403-5974
ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES	28403-5949
EXECUTIVE DEVELOPMENT CENTER	28403-5621
FACILITIES	28403-5622
FILM STUDIES	28403-5950
FINANCIAL AID – VETERAN SERVICES	28403-5951
FINANCIAL SERVICES – FIXED ASSETS	28403-5952
FINANCIAL SYSTEMS	28403-5953
FOREIGN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE	28403-5954
GENERAL COLLEGE	28403-5981
GRADUATE SCHOOL	28403-5955
HISTORY	28403-5957
HPER	28403-5956
HONORS PROGRAM	28403-5958
HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE	28403-5959
HUMAN RESOURCES	28403-5960
INFORMATION SYSTEMS & OPERATIONS MGT	28403-5611
INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SYSTEMS (VCITS)	28403-5961
INSTITUTE FOR POLITICAL LEADERSHIP	28403-5962
INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH	28403-5963
INTERNAL AUDIT	28403-5964
INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS	28403-5965
KENAN AUDITORIUM	28403-5966
LEADERSHIP CENTER	28403-5967
LEARNING CENTER	28403-5968
MANAGEMENT & MARKETING	28403-5969
MATHEMATICS & STATISTICS	28403-5970
CAMPUS DIVERSITY	28403-5971
MUSEUM OF WORLD CULTURES	28403-5972
MUSIC	28403-5975
NURSING	28403-5995
ORIENTATION	28403-5997
PAYROLL	28403-5998
PARKING	28403-5999
PHARMACY	28403-5600
PHILOSOPHY & RELIGION	28403-5601
PHYSICAL PLANT ADMINISTRATION	28403-5602
PHYSICAL PLANT HOUSEKEEPING	28403-5603
PHYSICAL PLANT LANDSCAPING	28403-5604
PHYSICAL PLANT MAINTENANCE	28403-5605
PHYSICS & PHYSICAL OCEANOGRAPHY	28403-5606
POLITICAL SCIENCE	28403-5607
POSTAL SERVICES	28403-5608
PRE-ENGINEERING	28403-5609
PRINTING SERVICES	28403-5610
PROJECT DESIGN & MANAGEMENT	28403-5620
PSYCHOLOGY	28403-5612
PUBLIC SERVICE (VCPS)	28403-5613
PUBLIC SERVICE & EXTENDED EDUCATION	28403-5614
PURCHASING	28403-5615
RANDALL LIBRARY	28403-5616
READING RECOVERY	28403-5617
REGISTRAR	28403-5618
RESEARCH ADMINISTRATION	28403-5973
SCIENCE & MATH EDUCATION CENTER	28403-5976
SMALL BUSINESS & TECHNOLOGY DEV.CENTER	28403-5977
SOCIOLOGY	28403-5978
SOCIAL WORK	28403-5979
SPECIALTY STUDIES	28403-5980
STUDENT AFFAIRS (VCSA)	28403-5982
STUDENT DEVELOPMENT SERVICES	28403-5983
STUDENT GOVERNMENT (SGA)	28403-5984
STUDENT HEALTH CENTER	28403-5985
SUMMER SCHOOL	28403-5623
TEACHING FELLOWS	28403-5986
TELECOMMUNICATIONS	28403-5987
UNIVERSITY UNION ADMINISTRATION	28403-5988
UNIVERSITY POLICE	28403-5989
UNIVERSITY ADVANCEMENT	28403-5990
UNIVERSITY RELATIONS	28403-5993
WATSON SCHOOL OF EDUCATION	28403-5991
WELLNESS SERVICES	28403-5992
WRITING / READING PLACE	28403-5994

Death Penalty Lecture

Jim Megivern, philosophy and religion, will present "The Death Penalty in Christian History" at 7:30 p.m. April 4 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. This free lecture is sponsored by the Department of Philosophy and Religion, the Leadership Center, the Newman Catholic Student Center and the Cape Fear Chapter of the United Nations Association.

Grand Works Exhibit

Seventeen studio art majors are exhibiting works through April 25 at the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear Gallery. The display, "Grand Works – Millennium Concepts: Ann Conner's Students," features artwork from students enrolled in advanced painting and drawing classes. A Meet the Artists reception will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. March 29 at the gallery.

Trustee Named to BOG

UNCW trustee Hannah Dawson Gage was appointed to the UNC Board of Governors.

Books Donations Sought for Fundraiser

The Youth Recognition Program affiliated with the Community Affordable Housing Equity Corporation will hold a book sale from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. April 28 and May 5 at the Willow Ponds Recreation Center on Darlington Avenue. Anyone who would like to donate books for this fund-raising event should call Tammie Haynes at 342-9874. The YRP is open to students in grades three through 12 who live in CAHEC-sponsored developments. Participating students and their parents enter into a "contract" with CAHEC whereby students pledge to do their best to improve their grades, homework completion, attendance and behavior in school.

IN BRIEF

Exhibit: "UNCW Art Faculty – Creating and Teaching" through May 1 at the Randall Library first floor art wall.

Festival: Guest Artist Jazz Festival featuring Slide Hampton, 8 p.m. March 30 and 31 Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets on sale at the door.

Film: A Streetcar Named Desire, 7:30 p.m. March 30 Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

Concert: Leahy, 8 p.m. March 31 Kenan Auditorium. For tickets, call ext. 3500.

Lecture: Pierre Sales on African conflicts, 7 p.m. April 2 King Hall Auditorium.

Exhibit: "Coastal Images," April 2 through May 18 in the University Union Living Room.

Lecture: Mark Cox on "The Craft of Poetry" at 2 p.m. April 3 Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Music: William Strickland, flamenco guitarist, 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. April 5 Campus Commons.

Film: After Life, 6:30 and 9 p.m. April 5 Warwick Center Ballroom. Tickets $4.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Chapman

Frank Chapman, HPER, received the Outstanding Contribution to Diving Award from the National Association of Underwater Instructors (NAUI). The award recognized Chapman's "outstanding performance and 30 years of service to NAUI and sport diving through promotion and presentation of NAUI course programs at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington." Chapman has been a scuba instructor at UNCW for 20 years. He also served as the water safety officer from 1975 to 2000.

Stephanie Sue Helmers, housing and residence life, received the James C. Grimm New Professional of the Year Award from the Southeastern Association of Housing Officers at the group's annual conference.

Elizabeth Hines, earth sciences, presented the paper "Race, Riot, and Remembrance: Wilmington, North Carolina's Belated Commemoration of its 1898 Political Insurrection" at the 97th annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers in New York.

Lavonne Adams, creative writing, is featured in an article appearing in the premier issue of Cape Fear Arts Alive, a magazine publication supporting the arts in eastern North Carolina.

Randy Bobbitt, communication studies, presented "Copyrights on Campus: Intellectual Property Conflicts Facing American Universities in 2001 and Beyond" and "A Big Idea and a Shirt-tail Full of Type," a biography of Tampa Tribune founder Wallace F. Stovall, at the regional conference of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communications in Columbia, S.C.

Eleanor Covan, gerontology, presented the workshop "Applied Research with Gerontology Service-Learning Students" at the annual meeting of the Association for Gerontology in Higher Education in San Jose, Calif.

Donna King, sociology and criminal justice, presented the paper "The Evolving Self" at the Couch Stone Symposium of the Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction in Miami, Fla.

Joanne Halls, earth sciences, presented the paper "Land Use Development Versus Natural Resources Protection: A Multi-Scale Analysis of Southeastern North Carolina" at the 97th annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers. She also moderated the session "Using GIS to Evaluate the Built Environment."

Susan Bullers, sociology and criminal justice, had the article "The Mediating Role of Perceived Control in the Relationship Between Social Ties and Depressive Symptoms" published in Women and Health.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Research Using Human Subjects Needs Review

The UNCW Institutional Review Board (IRB) will review all research projects proposed by faculty, students or staff for the summer sessions that will use human subjects at its April 27 meeting. Contact the Office of Research Administration for the IRB proposal and annual renewal forms. The forms are also available on the ORA World Wide Web site. Send completed forms to Candace Gauthier, IRB chair, Department of Philosophy and Religion. Forms must be received by April 18 for consideration. Following this meeting, IRB will not meet again until September.

Vanpool Program

The Job Link Career Center at Southeastern Community College is assessing the need for vanpool service to link workers in Columbus County with employment at the university. Working in collaboration with the state Department of Transportation and Division of Social Services, Columbus County and the Wilmington Transit Authority (WTA), the Job Access Vanpool Program would originate in Columbus County and transport residents who are employed at the university. The van route, which would travel along US Highway 74/76, could also accommodate individuals living along this route. WTA would potentially deliver passengers to the university. The proposed cost is $5 per day for round-trip travel. Employees interested in participating in the program should contact Joe Melvin at 910/642-7141 ext. 302.

Shared Leave

Derrick Clemmons, landscape services, Mary Corcoran and John Mohr, Randall Library, and Amanda Stillwell, university police, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Nomination Deadline Nears for Faculty Award

March 31 is the deadline for nominations for the Award for Faculty Scholarship. Nominees must be a full-time faculty member who has exhibited genuine interest in scholarship, research and creativity; earned the respect of colleagues and peers; maintained high standards of integrity; fostered interest and involvement of students and colleagues in scholarship and creative work; and demonstrated a significant contribution to scholarship, research and creativity to UNCW.

Letters of nomination, which can be submitted by any faculty member, are limited to one page and must indicate how the nominee satisfies the criteria for consideration. Submit letters to the chancellor's office, Alderman Hall, Room 110. Recipient(s) of the 2001 Award for Faculty Scholarship will be announced at fall convocation.

Learn to Swim

Faculty and staff can register for the Learn to Swim Program from 9 a.m. to noon April 3-5 at the athletic ticket office in Trask Coliseum. The cost is $90 per person. Sessions will be held between May 21 and July 9. Employees can pre-register only immediate family members. For more information, call ext. 3233.

Relay for Life

The American Cancer Society Relay for Life will be held April 20 and 21 at Hoggard High School. This annual fund-raising event benefits cancer research. UNCW employees interested in participating should contact Judy Siko at ext. 4283, Annie Aldrich at ext. 3099 or Dianne Matthews at ext. 3065.

Reimbursement Deadline

The deadline to submit all 2000 out-of-pocket expenses for health care and dependent day care spending accounts to Aon Consulting is March 31. Any money not claimed by March 31 will be forfeited. Call ext. 3006 or ext. 3713 for claim forms.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21126	Assistant Director of Campus Rec./Outdoor Rec.	April 2
21151	Director of Leadership Programs	March 30
21165	Fire Alarm and Security Technician	March 30
21166	Electrician II	March 30
21167	Electrician I	March 30
21168	Director of Application Services	April 10
21169	Maintenance Mech. V	April 6
21170	Marine Specialist	April 6

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Lisa College, CMS, and Christina O'Sullivan, ITSD.

Monitor Mission continued from Page 1

Advanced diving technology, including use of special breathing gas mixtures and specialized equipment, is required for divers to safely reach the wreck sitting 240 feet beneath the surface.

"Led by UNCW's undersea research center, the sanctuary will be able to carry out the advanced diving activities that will be done outside the Navy's heavy lift operation," said Doug Kesling, the expedition diving safety officer for UNCW/NURC and dive supervisor for the non-Navy diving operations. The UNCW team will be working from UNCW's 63-foot R/V Cape Fear.

UNCW will also provide a hyperbaric chamber for safety purposes. In the case of a diving incident, such as the bends, the high-pressure chamber will be used to treat victims in a controlled environment back on shore.

More information on the expedition is available on the World Wide Web at the following sites: www.uncwil.edu/nurc/contact, www.uncwil.edu/cmsr/capefear, www.owuscholarship.org/people/kesling and www.pbs.org/wgbh/nova/monitor.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 36 April 5, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Board of Governors Approve Bachelor's Degree in Film Studies

From television productions such as Dawson's Creek to feature films like Domestic Disturbance starring John Travolta, Wilmington continues to enjoy its reputation as Hollywood East. Opportunities to collaborate with the region's contingent of film professionals prompted the University of North Carolina at Wilmington to pursue a Bachelor of Arts in Film Studies. The UNC Board of Governors at its March meeting gave UNCW permission to add the degree for fall 2001.

"UNCW is located in a city with a large film industry. Local professionals are excited about the new program," said Philip Furia, director of film studies. "Many area filmmakers have already served as visiting faculty including Frank Capra Jr., president of EUE Screen Gems Studios, and Mark Fincannon, an Emmy Award-winning casting director. There are film professionals living and working in the region who can teach courses on cinematography, film editing, acting for the camera and other topics, and that's a tremendous resource for our film program to draw upon."

The new major will consist of 14 required and elective courses and will offer students internship experience in a variety of film-related businesses. Required courses include Introduction to Film Production, Film History, The Business of Film and Critical Studies of Film. Each student must choose a concentration in either film production or critical film study.

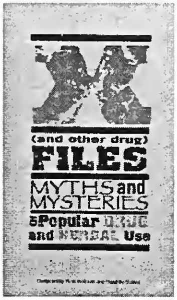
The internship component of the degree is one of its unique features, said Furia.

"We can offer students internships in film production that are not available in other programs," said Furia. "Screen Gems studios, local film companies, casting agencies, makeup labs, as well as productions such as Dawson's Creek, have all made internships available to students pursuing a minor in film studies. We expect to place even more students now that we offer a major."

The city of Wilmington is home to the largest studio east of Hollywood. EUE Screen Gems purchased the facility in 1996. With more than 1,200 film professionals living in the area, UNCW Chancellor James R. Leutze and Screen Gems president Frank Capra Jr. saw the value in establishing a film program at the university. Under the direction of Jo Ann Seiple, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, the program began in 1996 and offered students an interdisciplinary minor in film studies the following year.

"Establishing a baccalaureate program in film studies is great news," said Furia. "However, I want to stress that the university is not establishing a school of filmmaking. We are a liberal arts university, and our intent is to combine internships and basic production courses with the critical study of film from a variety of disciplinary perspectives."

Booklet Focuses on Herbal Remedies, Club Drugs



To ward off a cold or to increase energy, more people are using herbal remedies like echinacea or ginseng. Believing that herbals are natural, and therefore not drugs, can lead to serious health consequences said specialists at CROSSROADS Substance Abuse and Prevention and Education Program.

"Herbal remedies, unlike medical pharmaceuticals, are not scientifically tested prior to being sold to consumers," said Suzanne "Sam" Shover, CROSSROADS coordinator. "These herbals can chemically react with other drugs or medications in a harmful way."

Shover and graduate assistant Vicki Hallman compiled the latest information available from research publications and studies about not only herbal remedies but also "club" drugs such as ecstasy and GHB which have become increasingly popular. The 52-page booklet X (and Other Drug) Files: Myths and Mysteries of Popular Drug and Herbal Use outlines possible side effects, drug interactions and other precautionary information regarding herbal remedies and club drugs. Since conducting a presentation on the publication at the fall 2000 U.S. Department of Education National Conference on Substance Abuse and Violence Prevention, more than 100 copies of the booklet have been sold, said Shover.

To order the $11 booklet, contact CROSSROADS at ext. 4136. Orders of 25 or more copies will receive a discount. The information contained in this publication is not intended as medical advice. Readers should consult with a health professional regarding use of the herbal substances mentioned in the booklet.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Faculty Advisory Committee Meeting

The Chancellor's Faculty Advisory Committee will meet at noon April 17 in Warwick Center, Room 104.

Committee members are: Robert Blundo, social work; Deborah Brunson, communication studies; Cem Canel, information systems and operations management; Andrew Clark, history; Edna Collins, curricular studies; Janet Ellerby, English; Gary Faulkner, sociology and anthropology; Dargan Frierson, mathematical sciences; Philip Furia, creative writing; J. Edward Graham, economics and finance; Louise Hessenflow, School of Nursing; Tammy Hunt, management and marketing; Julian Keith, psychology; Ann Pabst, biological sciences; Robert Smith, Watson School of Education; Lynne Snowden, sociology and criminal justice; and Brad Walker, curricular studies.

Faculty are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Seahawk Club Sponsoring Boat Cruise

The Seahawk Club is sponsoring a cruise May 12 to raise scholarship funds for student-athletes. There will be a reception from 6 to 7 p.m. at the Wilmington Hilton Riverside followed by a cruise aboard the Royal Winner Princess II from 7 to 10 p.m. The cost is $55 per person, $100 per couple. Attendance is limited to 300. For tickets, call ext. 7737 by May 4.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold camps for girls ages eight to 15 June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

Postal Correction

The correct zip+four code for accounting is 5902.

Phi Kappa Phi Induction

The UNCW chapter of Phi Kappa Phi will hold induction ceremonies at 4 p.m. April 10 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium. Neil Luebke, national president of Phi Kappa Phi and professor of philosophy at Oklahoma State University, will present "How to Spot a Wisdom Lover." Phi Kappa Phi is an honors society that elects members from all disciplines. Second-semester juniors must have at least a 3.75 GPA; first-semester seniors must have at least a 3.69 GPA; and graduating seniors must have at least a 3.60 GPA. Select graduate students and faculty are also eligible.

Note of Appreciation

Paula Greene, registrar's office, would like to thank everyone "for all the many expressions of sympathy shown to me and my family during the recent loss of my mother. The cards, phone calls, flowers and visits were greatly appreciated."

Sigma Xi Meeting

The UNCW chapter of Sigma Xi, the scientific research society, will hold its spring meeting at 6:30 p.m. April 9 in Dobo Hall, Room 205. Following a business meeting and awards program, Mark Luckenbach, director of the Wachapreague Shellfish Laboratory, Virginia Institute of Marine Science, will present "Restoring Oyster Reefs in the Chesapeake Bay: The Roles of Science and Education in Shaping an Environmental Policy." Prior to the meeting there will be a social and undergraduate poster session in the first floor lobby of Dobo Hall.

CMS Lecture Series

Irv Mendelssohn, a professor at the Wetland Biogeochemistry Institute at Louisiana State University, will present "Salt Marsh Sustainability and Sea Level Rise: Mechanisms of Impact and Possible Solutions" at 4:15 p.m. April 6 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium. There will be a reception following the presentation.

Spofford Mill Exhibit

"Across the Dye Ditch: Remembering Delgado-Spofford Mill Hill" will be displayed from 1 to 5 p.m. April 6-8 at 5051 New Centre Drive, Suite 125. Graduate students in the Public History Program served as exhibit curators for the display which includes artifacts, photographs and documents from private collections. The Delgado-Spofford Cotton Mill was the city's largest textile mill. It opened in 1899 and closed in 1967.

SEANC Rally in Raleigh

The State Employees Association of North Carolina is sponsoring a legislative rally from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 16 at the Halifax Mall in Raleigh. A lunch buffet will be served from noon to 2 p.m. The cost is $5, and tickets must be purchased in advance. SEANC District 62 is sponsoring a bus that will leave at 7:30 a.m. from the Trask Coliseum parking lot. For information or lunch tickets, call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Tommy Guinn, ext. 3100 or Gloria Crowell, ext. 2301.

UNCW Theatre Production

UNCW Theatre will perform Ken Ludwig's Moon Over Buffalo as its final production of the 2000-01 season. The play, under the direction of Frank Trimble, communication studies, opens at 8 p.m. April 19 in the Kenan Hall SRO Theatre with additional performances April 20-21 and 25-28. Matinee performances will be at 2 p.m. April 22 and 29.

Moon Over Buffalo is the story of George and Charlotte, a husband-and-wife team of almost has-been thespians. The couple are performing repertory theatre in Buffalo, N.Y., when they're faced with a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to revive their film careers, courtesy of Frank Capra. Tickets are $5 and are available at the Kenan Auditorium box office.

Directory Update

Gloria Coston is now in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics. Her extension is 3212.

WHQR Radio to Feature UNCW Guests

WHQR will feature university guests throughout the month. The schedule includes Nan Graham, English, at 8:30 a.m. April 17 and 23 and 10 a.m. April 27; James Leutze and Jo Ann Seiple at 7 a.m. April 23; Dick Veit and Dan Noland, English, at 4 p.m. April 23; and Dan Baden and Jeff Wright, CMS, 8:30 or 10 a.m. April 26.

Note of Appreciation

Celeste Jones, auxiliary services, would like to thank everyone "for their kind expressions of sympathy and love during the loss of my father Vernon Jones. Please continue to keep my family in your prayers."

Pianist Performance

Pianist Andreas Haefliger will perform at 8 p.m. April 10 in Kenan Auditorium as the final performance of the Wilmington Concert Association season. Tickets are $15 each, reserved seating. Call the auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

Physics Seminars

Scott Watson from the Physics Department at Brown University will present "Five Easy Pieces: A Guide to the New Precision Cosmology" at 3 p.m. April 9 .

Balram Prasad, a physical scientist at Defense Threat Reduction Agency, U.S. Department of Defense in Alexandria, Va., will present "Microwave Amplification and Stimulation of Emitted Radiation from Electron Beam-Plasma Systems" at 2 p.m. April 10.

Wolfgang Christian from the Physics Department at Davidson College will present "Physlets: A New Approach to Authoring Interactive Curricular Material" at 2 p.m. April 20.

All seminars will be held in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

Italian Heritage Scholarship

The Italian Heritage Society of Cape Fear is accepting applications for a $500 scholarship to be awarded to a UNCW student of Italian descent. Applications are available from Agnes Ille, foreign languages and literatures, and Annette Coneglio Anderson, public service and extended education. The deadline is noon April 16.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Timothy Henkel, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend "Sponge Habitat Use by Caribbean Ophiuroids" at 3 p.m. April 6 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium.

Creative Writing Lectures

Emmy Award-winning producer Stanley Colbert will lecture on "The World of Publishing" at 2 p.m. April 10 in Cameron Hall Auditorium as part of the Creative Writing Department Lecture Series. Lavonne Adams, author of Everyday Still Life, will talk about "The Poet's Life" at 2 p.m. April 17.

Nursing Dean to Discuss Depression

Virginia Adams, dean of the School of Nursing, will discuss the psychological and physical symptoms of depression in women at 11:45 a.m. April 11 as part of the Women's Express Luncheon Series sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. The cost is $12 and includes lunch. To register, call ext. 3195 by April 6.

SEANC Scholarships

The State Employees of North Carolina Inc. (SEANC) Scholarship Foundation is accepting applications for its annual scholarship program. Applicants for SEANC scholarships must be enrolled or have applied to a recognized and accredited post-secondary school, college, trade school or other institution of higher learning. To obtain an application, call Gloria Crowell, CMS, at ext. 2301. The application deadline is April 15.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Mike Queen, pastor of Wilmington's First Baptist Church, and Paul Wilkes, creative writing, join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. April 5, 12, 19 and 26 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. April 6, 13, 20 and 27 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library. Guests will discuss Wilkes' publications regarding excellent Catholic parishes and Protestant congregations.

History Grad Students to Defend Theses

Craig Dosher and Rebecca Sawyer, graduate students in history, will defend the respective theses "Reactionaries, Reformers, and Remembrances: The African-American Segregated School Experience in Wilmington, N.C." and "The Delgado-Spofford Textile Mill Village: The Fabric of Wilmington's Twentieth-Century Landscape" at noon April 9 and 4 p.m. April 10. Both defenses will be in the Randall Library Special Collections.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menus will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - London broil, baked ziti, oven-roasted potatoes, steamed broccoli, squash casserole, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - sliced ham with pineapple glaze, eggplant Parmesan, scalloped potatoes, green bean casserole, steamed yellow squash, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Photography Exhibit

"UNCW Photography 2000-01: A Student Exhibition" will be displayed through May 18 in the Warwick Center Lobby. The exhibit features work by students from Brownie Harris' photography class.

E-mail submissions to COMMUNIQUE by noon Tuesdays

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Virginia Adams, nursing, Michelle Howard-Vital and Hunter Thompson, public service and extended education, and Ronald Vetter, computer science, presented "Partnering Internationally, Benefiting Locally" at the Coalition of Urban and Metropolitan Universities hosted by the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Leslie Hossfeld, sociology and criminal justice, presented the paper "Employer Perceptions of the Increasing Latino/Latina Participation in the North Carolina Workforce" at the Legal Immigration Forum sponsored by the North Carolina Legal Immigration Coalition and the governor's advisory council on Hispanic/Latino affairs, in Greensboro.

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, had the book Excellent Catholic Parishes: The Guide to Best Places and Practices published in hardcover and paperback by Paulist Press. Marty Minchin, English, and Melanie Bruce were research associates for the publication.

Robert Argenbright, earth sciences, delivered the paper "Post-Soviet Territoriality and Place-Making: A Muscophile's Perspective" at the 97th annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers in New York.

Lu Ellen Huntley, English, organized and edited The High School Journal, published by the University of North Carolina Press. Huntley wrote the essay "Teachers' Letters to the World" which was included in the special issue Teachers and Narratives: Where Stories Dwell.

David Padgett and Michael Durako, biological sciences, received $3,000 from N.C. Sea Grant for the project "Optimizing Spartina Alterniflora Growth to Reduce Seeding Mortality After Transplantation into Created Marshes: Field Trial Phase."

Troy Alphin and Martin Posey, biological sciences and CMS, presented "Benthic Response to Sediment Removal in an Offshore Borrow Site in Southeastern North Carolina" at the benthic ecology meetings in Durham, N.J. Jonathan Hartsell, Posey and Alphin presented "Mesoscale Disturbance and Consequences for Benthic Community Structure." Abby Warner, Posey and Alphin presented "Distribution of Blue Crab Callinectes sapidus megalopae in the Cape Fear River Estuary." Grant Stoeklin, Posey and Alphin presented "Salinity Preference of the Juvenile Blue Crab, Callinectes sapidus." Drew Hodge, Posey, Alphin and Courtney Hackney presented "Species and Abundance Patterns for Epibenthic Fish and Crustaceans Along the Cape Fear Estuary."

Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences and CMS, was chief scientist aboard the R/V Seward Johnson for an NSF-sponsored cruise. He, graduate students Seb Engel, Tim Henkel and Sarah Kelly, and undergraduates Will O'Neal, Kristen Whalen and Brandon Nielson studied the chemical ecology of coral reef animals and plants of the Bahamas. Twenty-six scientists from Israel, Germany and Colombia participated in the cruise.

Paul Shotsberger, mathematics and statistics, and Ron Vetter, computer science, had the article "Teaching and Learning in the Wireless Classroom" published in the latest issue of IEEE Computer. The article provides an overview of two UNCW wireless initiatives in progress. It is available on the World Wide Web at www.computer.org.

Martin Posey, biological sciences, was an invited participant in an NSF-sponsored workshop on biocomplexity.

William Harris, earth sciences, received $10,225 from Northeastern New Hanover Conservancy for the project "Characterization of Nutrients in Aquifers and Their Influence on Futch Creek Water Quality, North New Hanover, North Carolina.

Larry Cahoon, biological sciences, received $121,252 in supplemental funding from the South Brunswick Water and Sewer Authority for water quality monitoring.

Andrew Shepard, CMS, received $10,000 from the U.S. Department of Commerce for program services in support of the NOAA Ocean Exploration Initiative and Clout projects.

Leslie Langer, SBTDC, received $94,348 from SBTDC-Raleigh for 2001 program year funding. In addition, she received $58,716 to continue the position of government procurement counselor and $57,356 in fund NC READE .

Milan Dluhy and Lloyd Jones, political science, received $5,512 from the Strategic Advisory Group for conducting a random digit dialing survey of New Hanover County residents' attitudes of a downtown convention center and hotel.

James Merritt, CMS, received $7,970 in supplemental funding from CP&L, Harris E&E Center for the project "Sutton Lake Creel Survey."

Mark Williams, financial aid and veterans services, received $4,650 from the N.C. State Education Assistance Authority to fund a summer internship for a high school counselor.

Nancy Grindlay and Lewis Abrams, earth sciences, received $25,500 in supplemental funding from the U.S. Geological Survey to fund the project "Collaborative Research UNCW and UTIG: Toward an Integrated Understanding of Late Holocene Fault Activity in Puerto Rico: Offshore Geophysical Survey."

John Tyrell and William Cooper, chemistry, and Ron Sizemore, biological sciences, received $30,000 from Apyron Technologies to study alumina formulations.

Tom Potts, NURC/CMS, received $10,418 in supplemental funding from Gray's Reef National Marine Sanctuary for a collaborative research project between NURC and the sanctuary.

This is recyclable.

April is Student Leadership Recognition Month

REFLECTIONS

OF LEADERSHIP

April 7	Challenge 2001: Student Leader High Ropes Experience
April 9	Student Leader Photo Campus Commons/4p
April 10-11	Student Government Association Elections
April 17	Greek Awards Ceremony
April 18	Student Leader Reception Warwick Center/6p
April 21	UNCW Volunteers Seahawk Surge: Earth Day Events (Co-sponsored with the ECO Club)
April 22	Omicron Delta Kappa Leadership Honor Society Inductions
April 24	SGA Inauguration Adult Scholars Alumni/Student Event
April 25	Leadership Grove Dedication Campus Commons/Noon
April 27	Housing and Residence Life Staff Awards Banquet
April 28	International Programs Banquet
May 2	Campus Recreation Student Employee Awards Banquet
May 17	Senior Challenge Gift Dedication
May 18	Senior Leader Medallion Awards Luncheon

Special Thanks to:

Campus Activities
Campus Recreation
Career Services
Greek Affairs
The Division of Student Affairs
Housing and Residence Life
International Programs
The Leadership Center
Office of the Dean of Students
Public Service & Extended Education
The Seahawk Perch
Student Government Association
Student Volunteers
UNCW Bookstore

Call the Activities and Leadership Center at 962.3827 for more information.

Activities & Leadership Center
Division of Student Affairs
"Creating Experiences for Life"

UNCW

Deas Memorial

Richard Deas, long-time professor of music, died March 30. Deas was a faculty member in the Music Department from 1972 until his retirement in 1992. During his tenure at UNCW, he taught piano as well as other music courses and served as chair and coordinator of the music unit. A recognized artist/teacher of piano, his students received various awards and honors throughout his teaching career.

The Music Department will hold a memorial service at 3 p.m. April 8 in Kenan Auditorium.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Kimberly H. Nance, a graduate student in chemistry, will defend the thesis "Modeling Proton NMR Chemical Shifts by Some Anisotropic Functional Groups" at 11 a.m. April 10 in Dobo Hall, Room 132.

Star-News Seeks Comments

Allen Parsons, executive editor of the Wilmington Star-News, is interested in feedback regarding the newspaper's narrower format and redesign. E-mail comments to allen.parsons@wilmingtonstar.com.

Choral Concert

Voice students under the instruction of professors Nancy King and Emery Stephens and choral ensembles under the direction of Joe Hickman will perform scenes from various operas and operettas at 8 p.m. April 26 in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free. The concert will feature pieces from Dido and Aeneas, Die Fledermaus, Carmen, Magic Flute, Mikado, Hansel and Gretel, Cosi fan tutte and Tales of Hoffman.

Concert on the Commons

William "Paco" Strickland will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. April 5 on the Campus Commons. In the event of rain, the concert will be held in the University Union Hawk's Nest.

School of Nursing to Hold Research Day

The School of Nursing and the university's Nu Omega chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing will host their annual Research Day from 9 a.m. to noon April 6 in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

"Today's research becomes tomorrow's nursing practice," said Sally Cummings, associate professor of nursing and president-elect of Nu Omega.

The primary purpose of Research Day is to provide researchers a forum to disseminate their findings. It is also an opportunity for faculty, students and nurses in practice to hear about research and talk with presenters to learn about techniques and procedures which might be utilized in practice to improve patient care.

Claudia Beverly from the University of Arkansas will deliver the keynote address "Reducing Health Care Disparities." Beverly is associate professor of nursing, associate director of the Donald Reynolds Center on Aging and vice chair for programs in the Department of Geriatrics in the College of Medicine at the University of Arkansas.

Faculty and staff interested in attending the event should contact the School of Nursing.

Beverly

Adult Scholars Leadership Program Holds Graduation

The UNCW Adult Scholars Leadership Program, under the direction of the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, held graduation ceremonies for 32 participants March 27.

This program, now in its 11th year, is designed for older adults who are interested in meeting leaders of the community and gaining insight into the needs, challenges and opportunities available in southeastern North Carolina. The program featured more than 55 presenters representing regional growth and development, health and human services, the media, cultural arts, government and education. Since it began, the program has graduated more than 310 men and women, many of whom volunteer their time and expertise in the community organizations and on various educational and governmental boards.

The 2001 graduates were Jackie Adams, Judy Atkinson, Don and Sallie Austermann, May-Britt Bergstrom, Marcia Brackbill, Catherine Byrne, Tom Carnes, Fred Corey, Jeannette Deacon, Tom Dinero, John Gangemi, Bruce Gibson, Karen Gibson, Dorothy Grime, Eleanor Harris, Anne Hennessey, Jerry Landis, Fred McRee, Mary Miller, Dick Nasca, Janis Norris, Bill Paris, Joyce Pascal, Jean Phillips, Liz Randall, Murray and DeAnne Sherman, Melinda Stewart, Shirley Swenson and Helen Tinney.

Departments or offices that need volunteers to help with short-term projects should contact Annette Coneglio Anderson at ext. 3547.

Panel Discussion

The panel discussion "Is Success in Your Future?" will be held from 6:30 to 9 p.m. April 17 at Union Baptist Church, 515 Ann Street. Representatives from UNCW's Small Business Technology and Development Center, Cape Fear Community College and the Cape Fear Regional Development Center will participate. There is no charge to attend; reservations are requested by April 13. Call 815-0065.

Chamber Music

The Chamber Music Society of Wilmington will present "Harmonie-Musik" at 7:30 p.m. April 8 at Thalian Hall. The program features music composed for woodwind instruments in the eighteenth-century German tradition known as "harmonie-musik." For more information, contact Eleanor Price at 799-5358.

Faculty Meeting

The spring faculty meeting will be held at 4 p.m. April 19 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. All faculty members are encouraged to attend.

Union/Center Easter Break Schedule

The University Union and Warwick Center will observe the following Easter break schedule: 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. April 12, closed April 13 and 14 and 5 to 11 p.m. April 15.

BOT Meeting

The UNCW Board of Trustees will hold its quarterly committee meetings April 19 at the following times and locations: educational planning and programs, 11:30 a.m. Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite; business affairs, 2 p.m. Alderman Hall, Room 211; and external affairs, 2 p.m. Alderman Hall, Room 215. The full board meeting will be at 9 a.m. April 20 in the UNCW Executive Development Center, Landfall.

Purchasing Director

Mary Forsythe was named director of purchasing. She will oversee all procurement which includes the competitive process resulting in purchase orders, receiving, the purchase card program, off-campus facility leases as well as contracts relevant to goods and services. She succeeds Charles Sanders who retired in January.

Chancellor's Student Hours

The chancellor will hold student hours from 11 a.m. to noon April 10 in Alderman Hall, Room 110.

Scholarship Information

The Financial Aid and Veterans Services Office added scholarship and fellowship announcements to its World Wide Web site at www.uncwil.edu/finaid/scholarship.html. To perform free scholarship searches, go to www.uncwil.edu/finaid/search.html. Direct questions to Charlene Ceasar at ext. 3177.

Stress Management

Get ready for the end-of-the-semester crunch by building your repertoire of stress management techniques. Space is available for "Stress Management Toolbox," a workshop sponsored by human resources, scheduled for 3 to 5 p.m. April 11, 18 and 27. Call ext. 3274 to register.

Employee Appreciation Week Scheduled

Mark your calendars for Employee Appreciation Week set for April 30 through May 4.

Research Using Human Subjects Needs Review

The UNCW Institutional Review Board will meet April 27 to review all research projects using human subjects that have been proposed by faculty, students or staff for the summer sessions. Contact the Office of Research Administration for the IRB proposal and annual renewal forms. The forms are also available on the ORA World Wide Web site. Send completed forms to Candace Gauthier, IRB chair, in care of the Department of Philosophy and Religion. Forms must be received by April 18 for consideration. The IRB's next scheduled meeting after April 27 is September.

Deferred Compensation

Jeff Harless, a representative from the N.C. Deferred Compensation Plan, will conduct informational sessions at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. April 11 in the human resources training room. For more information or to schedule an appointment, contact Elizabeth Greene, ext. 3713

Shared Leave

Derrick Clemmons, landscape services, Mary Corcoran and John Mohr, Randall Library, and Amanda Stillwell, university police, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Primate Lecture

Sally Boysen, an expert in nonhuman primate cognition, will lecture on "Whose Mind Is It Anyway? Current Directions in Chimpanzee Cognition Studies" at 7 p.m. April 5 in the Cameron Hall Auditorium, as part of the university's Honors Scholars Program Lecture Series. This event is free and open to the public.

University Relations Relocating to Westside Hall

The Department of University Relations will relocate to Westside Hall, Room 130, effective April 10. Telephone numbers for university relations staff, Mimi Cunningham, Marybeth Bianchi, Phillip Brown and Sharon San Diego, remain the same.

Staff Training

Generations at Work, 9 to 11:30 a.m. April 18.

Maintaining and Reading Your Budget, 9 to 11 a.m. April 17.

Understanding FRS Reports and Screens, 1 to 4 p.m. April 19.

Yoga, noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through May 1.

Refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Geneva Bacik, CMS; Kimberly Craig, nursing; and Jill Brophy, Mary Johnson, Mears Merrick and Janet Wallis, physical plant.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21168 Director of Application Services	April 10
21169 Maintenance Mechanic V	April 6
21170 Marine Specialist	April 6

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 37 April 19, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Donald Kapraun Wins BOG Teaching Award

Kapraun

Donald F. Kapraun, professor of biological sciences, received the UNC Board of Governors Award for Teaching Excellence during a luncheon April 12. The award is presented to a faculty member from each UNC system campus. Recipients receive a commemorative bronze medallion and a $7,500 cash prize.

Kapraun, a member of UNCW's Biological Sciences Department since 1971, said he finds himself still drawn to teach introductory and interdisciplinary courses after more than three decades in the classroom. Students have described him as a concerned and accessible teacher who "cared and taught, not just spat out information."

The 16 recipients were nominated by special committees from their respective campuses and selected by the Board of Governors Committee on Teaching Awards, chaired by Patsy Perry of Durham.

UNCW Senior Receives Fulbright Award

Julian Boyce, a computer science major, received a prestigious Fulbright Award for academic study in Germany.

Boyce, the son of Philip and Rosita Boyce of Wilmington, is eligible to graduate in May. The Fulbright grant will fund an academic year of study at the Technical University in Munich from August 2001 through July 2002. Boyce said he plans to further his studies in computer science. Of particular interest is the development of graphical user interfaces, Internet technology, wireless computing and computer graphics, he said.

Boyce

While at UNCW, Boyce began taking German classes in the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. He participated in the UNCW Summer Program in Bremen and spent his junior year at the University of Karlsruhe on the North Carolina/Baden Wuerttemberg Exchange Program. He received the 1999 Minority Academic Achievement and Student Leadership Awards.

Boyce is the third UNCW student awarded a Fulbright Grant. Jennifer Head, a 1997 graduate who majored in biological sciences and French, is completing her second year as a Fulbright scholar at the L'Universite de Liege in Belgium. Teresa Krebs, who earned a bachelor's degree in French and Spanish in 1998, received a Fulbright Teaching Assistantship to Korea.

The Fulbright Program, America's flagship educational exchange program, is sponsored by the U.S. Information Agency, an independent foreign affairs agency within the executive branch of the U.S. government. Established in 1946 under Congressional legislation by Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, the program is designed "to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries."

Philosopher, Author Tom Morris to Speak at Commencement

Tom Morris, a well-known speaker and author, will address UNCW graduates May 19. A native North Carolinian, Morris is chair of the Morris Institute of Human Values in Wilmington.

A philosopher and corporate adviser, Morris has spoken nationally to General Motors, Ford Motor Company, GTE, IBM and the U.S. Air Force. He is the author of True Success: A New Philosophy of Business and If Aristotle Ran General Motors: The New Soul of Business. A graduate of UNC Chapel Hill, Morris was a professor of philosophy at Notre Dame for 15 years. He has appeared in television commercials as a spokesman for Winnie the Pooh and Disney Home Video and has made appearances on Live with Regis and Kathie Lee and the Today Show.

Morris

This year's graduation will mark the first time that the university will hold two ceremonies to accommodate increasing numbers of graduates. Ceremonies for the College of Arts and Sciences will be held at 9:30 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m. for the professional schools (Cameron School of Business, Watson School of Education and the School of Nursing) in Trask Coliseum.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Searching for Nazi Gold

Greg Bradsher, director of the Holocaust-Era Assets Records Project for the National Archives, will present "Searching for Nazi Gold Records: The Historian as Sleuth" at 7:30 p.m. April 19 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. This lecture is the final talk in the History Department's War and Civilization lecture series. It is co-sponsored by B'nai Israel Synagogue.

Student Literary Journal to Celebrate 2001 Edition

The staff of Atlantis, UNCW's student literary and art journal, will celebrate the publication of its 2001 edition from 6 to 8 p.m. April 26 at Bristol Books, 1900 Eastwood Road. This public event marks the release of the annual journal. Contributing student writers whose works appear in Atlantis and a guest author will read select pieces.

The Atlantis, published by a student staff under the direction of the UNCW Student Media Board, showcases previously unpublished works of art, photography, poetry and prose submitted by UNCW students. This year, the journal staff decided to focus on art and poetry, said Kristina Harmer, editor-in-chief of the Atlantis.

"Atlantis needs to find its niche in the artistic community. We produce a quality product that is reflective of the talent at UNCW," said Harmer.

As part of the celebration, the university's Creative Writing Department will present the Jesse Rehder Prose Award and the Sam Ragan Poetry Award. Refreshments will be served.

Golf Tournament

The Alpha Phi sorority will hold its fifth annual golf tournament at 8:30 a.m. April 28 at Beau Rivage Resort and Golf Club. Four-person teams will compete in a captain's choice format. The cost is $25 per person. For more information, contact Megan O'Connell at 392-3005.

UNCW-TV Wins Awards

UNCW-TV won two awards from the Southeast Region Alliance for Community Media. An episode of Let's Talk! UNCW & You taped at the Native American Festival at Poplar Grove Plantation won in the ethnic/cultural expression category. The episode of Let's Read! UNCW & You featuring Phil Furia, Grenoldo Frasier and Betty Ann Sanders discussing Irving Berlin: A Life in Song won in the educational category.

Note of Appreciation

Debbie Ward, advancement services, would like to express her appreciation for the cards, flowers and well wishes shown at the loss of her sister-in-law Nancy Wrede.

"Nancy was a 1977 graduate of UNCW with a degree in business," said Ward. "Her son Chris is currently enrolled at UNCW in the honors program. My brother, his family and I all appreciate your genuine concern at this time."

Concert on the Commons

Dezeray's Hammer, a trio from Spartanburg, S.C., will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. April 26 on the Campus Commons. Formerly known as Albert Hill, the band is known for its guitar-driven rhythms. Voted one of the best unsigned bands in America by Billboard Magazine's Talent Net, Dezeray's Hammer writes, records and produces its own material.

In the event of rain, the concert will be in the Hawk's Nest Union Station.

Earth Sciences Seminar

Derek Alderman from the Department of Geology at East Carolina University will lecture on "Close Encounters of a Kudzu Kind: On the Cultural Geography of Invasive Species" at 2 p.m. April 20 in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. This presentation is sponsored by the Earth Sciences Department and the UNCW Geography Club.

Panel Discussion

Graduate students and teaching assistants from the Creative Writing Department will read and discuss their works at 2 p.m. April 24 in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

International Film

Goya in Bordeaux, a Spanish film that explores the life and art of the painter, will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. April 19 in the Warwick Center Ballroom. Admission is $4; free to UNCW students. For more information, contact Alison Murray at ext. 7595.

Operatic Performances

Voice students, under the instruction of Nancy King and Emery Stephens, and choral ensembles, under the direction of Joe Hickman, will perform scenes from various operas and operettas at 8 p.m. April 26, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free.

The concert will feature pieces from Dido and Aeneas, Die Fledermaus, Carmen, Magic Flute, Mikado, Hansel and Gretel, Cosi fan tutte and Tales of Hoffman.

For more information call the Department of Music at ext. 3390.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menus will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - BBQ chicken, vegetable pot pie, macaroni and cheese, green beans, corn on the cob, corn muffins, cole slaw, potato salad, assorted desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - pork chops with apple glaze, spicy vegetable pilaf, oven roasted potatoes, steamed spinach, spiced apples, assorted rolls, salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Secretary's Day

The bookstore has a selection of flowered mugs or memo sets with matching Mylar balloons and eight ounces of Jelly Bellies for $7.95 for Secretary's Day April 25.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Graduate Thesis Defense

Erin Meagher, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend "Respiration, Heart Rate and Heart Flux Across the Dorsal Fin in Bottlenose Dolphins, Tursiops truncatus" at 2 p.m. April 20 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Surfing Group Accepting Scholarship Applications

The Wrightsville Beach Longboard Association (WBLA) is accepting applications for its college scholarship program. Scholarships will be awarded to one male or one female surfer. Applicants must be high school seniors or college freshmen who scored 1000 or better on the SAT or the equivalent on the ACT and have a minimum grade point average of 3.0. For more information, contact David Wilson, WBLA president, at 256-4761 or Bill Curry, scholarship committee chair, at 256-8604. June 1 is the deadline to submit applications.

Landfall Foundation Grant Applications

The Landfall Foundation is accepting applications from non-profit agencies and organizations for 2001-02 funding. Last November, the foundation awarded 22 grants totaling $35,016 to fund projects in the greater Wilmington area.

The charitable foundation was formed in 1996 to establish a community support effort specifically originating from the residents of Landfall. It allocates funds targeted to health and welfare activities, education and the arts and gives priority to organizations with low administrative overhead and high volunteer participation. Grant awards range from $500 to $2,000.

Application guidelines and forms can be downloaded from the World Wide Web site www.seafunders.org or requested by writing to the Landfall Foundation, 1838 Gleneagles Lane, Wilmington, N.C. 28405. Submit four copies of the application by 5 p.m. July 13.

Note of Appreciation

The staff of the Wise Alumni House would like to thank everyone who helped prepare the house and grounds for the Azalea Festival Tour of Homes. "The house was radiant, and it glowed from the care and dedication of those who assisted in this effort," said Pat Smith, executive director of alumni relations.

Seahawk Club Sponsoring Boat Cruise

The Seahawk Club is sponsoring a cruise May 12 to raise scholarship funds for student-athletes. There will be a reception from 6 to 7 p.m. at the Wilmington Hilton Riverside followed by a cruise aboard the Royal Winner Princess II from 7 to 10 p.m. The cost is $55 per person, $100 per couple. Attendance is limited to 300. For tickets, call ext. 7737 by May 4.

Brubeck Brothers to Visit UNCW

Chris and Danny Brubeck, sons of jazz great David Brubeck, will meet informally with interested community members at 4 p.m. April 24 in Kenan Hall, Room 114. They will perform with the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m. April 28 in Kenan Auditorium. For ticket information, contact the auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

Women of Achievement

Congratulations to the five women associated with UNCW who are nominated for a Cape Fear Women of Achievement Award. They are Lisa Griffin, HPER; Joanne Nottingham, campus diversity; Betty Ann Sanders, host of Let's Talk! UNCW & You and Let's Read! UNCW & You; Steffany St. Laurent, foreign languages and literatures; and Patricia Turrisi, Center for Teaching Excellence.

Award ceremonies will be at 6 .m. May 17 in Wagoner Hall. Tickets are $30 and can be purchased from the YWCA at 2815 South College Road. For more information, call 799-6820.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold two-day camps for girls ages eight to 15. The scheduled dates are June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

SEANC Rally

The State Employees Association of North Carolina is sponsoring a legislative rally from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 16 at the Halifax Mall in Raleigh. A lunch buffet will be served from noon to 2 p.m. The cost is $5, and tickets must be purchased by April 27. SEANC District 62 is sponsoring a bus that will leave at 7:30 a.m. from the Trask Coliseum parking lot. For information or lunch tickets, call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Tommy Guinn, ext. 3100 or Gloria Crowell, ext. 2301.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Mike Queen, pastor of Wilmington's First Baptist Church, and Paul Wilkes, creative writing, join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. April 19 and 26 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. April 20 and 27 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library. Guests will discuss Wilkes' publications regarding excellent Catholic parishes and Protestant congregations.

Note of Appreciation

Nancy Hill, institutional research, would like to express "my heartfelt appreciation to my friends at UNCW for all the kindness and support I received during the recent death of my mother."

Correction

Gloria Coston is now in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics. Her extension is 3217.

Guest Vocalists to Perform Benefit Concert With UNCW Big Band

Vocalists Prince Taylor and Dolores Drayton Brown will perform with the UNCW Big Band, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, in a benefit jazz concert at 8 p.m. April 20 in Kenan Auditorium. Concert proceeds will fund scholarships for students in the Music Department's Jazz Studies Program. The performance of these vocalists is possible through the Cape Fear Jazz Society, a nonprofit organization that is dedicated to the preservation and presentation of jazz. General admission is $10; UNCW faculty, staff, senior citizens, and children under 12, $5; free to UNCW students with valid ID. Tickets will be available at the Kenan Auditorium Box Office on the night of the concert.

Brown

Dolores Drayton Brown, originally from Philadelphia, spent 10 years as a member of a tour company. She also performed in an international choir that raised scholarship funding for musically inclined children and sang with the Count Basie Orchestra.

After moving to Wilmington in 1992, Brown did several productions with Tapestry Theatre Company, including To Whom It May Concern. She also directed Bubbling Brown Sugar for the Willis Richardson Players. Her other performances include Opera House's Love Songs from Broadway to Opera as well as with cruise ships and at local area restaurants. Brown portrayed Dinah Washington in a tribute to the legendary singer in the Thalian Hall musical production of Segue to Heaven.

For more than 50 years, Prince Taylor has performed for diverse audiences. His deep, resonant baritone voice lends itself perfectly to old standards reminiscent of Billy Eckstine and Joe Williams.

Churches and schools provided the stages where Taylor honed his natural talent in his early years. In college, he sang with the Rhythm Vets. Later, Taylor toured with Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts. He also performed as the opening act for many R&B legends including Little Richard, Smokey Robinson, Chuck Berry and Ruth Brown.

Taylor

The UNCW Big Band will perform various arrangements, including compositions arranged by members of the jazz faculty. The Jazz Combo, directed by Jerald Shynett, will open the concert.

ITSD Vice Chancellor Robert Tyndall to Chair System Task Force

Robert Tyndall, vice chancellor for the Information and Technology Systems Division, was named chair of a task force to examine the role of technology in scholarship and teaching for the UNC system.

One of four chairs named by UNC system president Molly Broad, Tyndall will participate in the three-year project NC Catalyst, a task force that will collect, analyze and report on issues and barriers that prevent the full use of technological resources in higher education. Representatives from the other 15 UNC system institutions, the N.C. Department of Public Instruction, the N.C. Community College System, UNC Public Television, two private liberal arts colleges and SAS Institute will comprise the task force. The UNC system received a $1.5 million grant from the U.S. Department of Education to explore using information technology to improve students' access to learning, address teacher shortages through online licensure, close the digital divide between rural and urban areas and reward faculty who develop and use instructional technologies.

"We believe so strongly in this project that we are also committing funds received from the Kenan Foundation to develop technology proprietary networks and through the resources of UNC Public Television to help distribute NC Catalyst across the state and possibly the nation," said Broad.

Tyndall and John Cavanaugh, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, have made a series of joint presentations focusing on technology's role in reshaping the modern university. Presentations were made at a meeting of the National Learning Infrastructure Initiative in New Orleans, at the Washington Forum meeting and the Eduprise Executive Forum in Charleston.

In May, Laura Rogers, Watson School of Education, and Patricia Turrisi, CTE, will coordinate a meeting of the Teaching and Learning with Technology Collaborative, a UNC General Administration committee exploring collaborative opportunities and identifying best practices, common services and shared resources with regards to technology throughout the system.

Art Exhibits

"UNCW Art Faculty – Creating and Teaching" through May 1 at the Randall Library first floor art wall.

"UNCW Photography 2000-01: A Student Exhibition" through May 18 in the Warwick Center Lobby.

"Coastal Images," an exhibit by Jacksonville artist Karen Lee Crenshaw will be displayed through May 18 in the University Union Living Room.

This is recyclable.

State Employees Association of North Carolina

SEANC

Keeping Watch...
Taking Action!

State Employees Legislative Rally & Barbecue

May 16, 2001 11:30 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.
Halifax Mall - Raleigh

"If You Care, You'll Be There"

Lunch Tickets $5.00

(Must be purchased in advance)

Lunch Buffet served from 12:00-2:00 p.m.
(includes barbecue, chicken, green beans, slaw, boiled potatoes, hush puppies and ice tea)

SEANC District 62 is providing a Piedmont Bus that will seat 47 people.
All those who have a ticket, and would like a free ride, we will leave
Trask Parking Lot promply at 7:30 a.m.

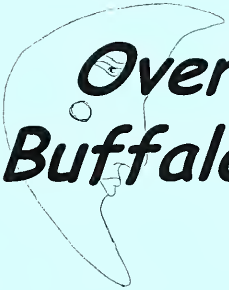
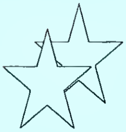
For tickets contact: Tommy Guinn, Physical Plant

UNCW
UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Ken Ludwig's

Moon Over Buffalo





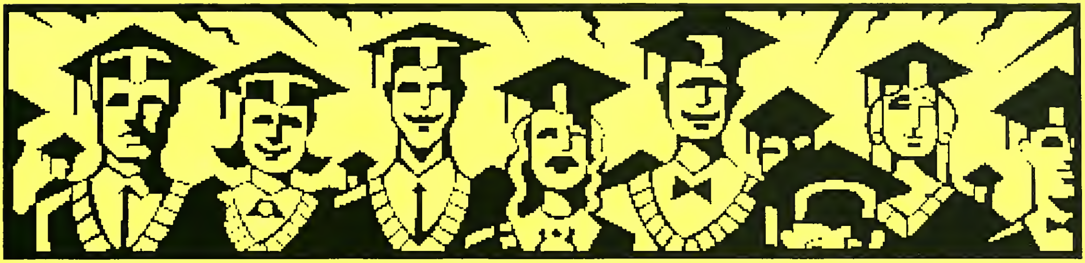
April 19-21 and 25-28
at 8:00 PM

April 22 and 29
at 2:00 PM

The SRO Theatre in Kenan Hall

For Reservations call 962-3500
UNCW Students Free
General Admission $5.00

Accommodations for Disabilities may be made by calling 962-3440
UNCW is an EOE/AA Institution



ATTN: May 2001 Grads!

- ✦ Tell us about your job or grad school plans.
- ✦ Be eligible for $200 or $100 cash prizes!
- ✦ Provide valuable career info for other UNCW students, faculty & staff.
- ✦ Takes less than five minutes.

Click on Career Services' website, the Students button, then Graduate Survey. Opens April 16th. Thanks!

www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career

UNCW
CAREER SERVICES

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Michelle Howard-Vital, public service and extended education, and Joanne Nottingham, campus diversity, had the paper "Communication Technologies and Instructional Design" selected as an award-winning paper for the 12th International Conference on College Teaching and Learning in Jacksonville, Fla. The paper will be published by the conference and distributed to all attendees.

Hathia Hayes, curricular studies, and Andrew Hayes, specialty studies, received $216,749 in supplemental funding from the N.C. Department of Public Instruction for the project "Comprehensive School Reform Evaluation."

Dan Baden, CMS, received $113,242 from the University of Maryland for the project "Indentification of Toxins Produced by Pfiesteria piscicida and Other Dinoflagellates."

Steven Miller, NURC/CMS, received $250,000 in supplemental funding for research, monitoring and education at the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary.

Sherman Hayes, Randall Library, received $3,547 from International Paper to gather history and information from local World War II veterans.

Karen Shafer, SMEC, and Carl Lundeen, biological sciences, received $17,279 from the N.C. Biotechnology Center to conduct introductory biotechnology workshops for high school teachers.

Karen Shafer and Bill Kawcznksi, SMEC, and Jack Hall, environmental sciences, received $29,985 from the Eisenhower Program for the project "The Earth and the Environment in North Carolina: An Experimental and Experiential Approach."

Cathy Barlow and Karen Wetherill, education, received $119,929 from the Mathematics Science Education Network/University of North Carolina Chapel Hill for the project "Middle Grades Math Coalition: Building High Quality, Sustained Professional Development Linking Effective Instruction to Student Learning Outcomes."

William Cooper and Stephen Mezyk, chemistry, received $20,000 from Titan Corporation for the project "Investigation of the Ability of E-Beam Technology to Decontaminate Chemical and Biological Warfare Agents."

P. Allen Gray Jr., nursing, a captain in the Nurse Corps, U.S. Naval Reserve, was granted an extension of his current appointment as commanding officer at the Naval Reserve Naval Hospital Camp Lejeune, through Sept. 30, 2002. Gray coordinates reserve medical activities of 20 units in North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri which report to Camp Lejeune as their parent command.

Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, presented the paper "A Comparison of Medical Ethics and Media Ethics" at the annual meeting of the Association for Practical and Professional Ethics in Cincinnati.

Tom Macie, art and theatre, completed two professional stage design projects: an eight-set design for the Baltimore Opera Company's $1.5 million dollar production of Gounod's Faust and a unit set design for the Milwaukee Chamber Theatre's production of Filumena, A Marriage Italian Style.

Macie's set design from Filumena, A Marriage Italian Style.

Joan Willey, chemistry and CMS, attended the N.C. Academy of Science meeting in Greensboro along with three undergraduate honors students who presented talks about their research. Jacquie DuBois talked about "Humic Substances in Rainwater"; Tomi Hill spoke on "Detection of Fluoride in New Zealand Rainwater"; and Wil Thompson talked on "Iron Speciation in Wilmington, N.C., Rainwater." DuBois and Thompson received first-place awards for best undergraduate talks in their sessions.

Larry Usilton, history, led 27 students on a tour of select locations in England and Scotland as the sixth installment of his "Medieval Sampler." Billed the "Braveheart" tour, the trip focused on York, Edinburgh, Stirling, Inverness, Durham and London.

M. Reid Counts, sociology and criminal justice, presented the paper "The History of Intolerance in America" at the annual meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences in Washington, D.C.

William McLellan and Ari Friedlaender, biological sciences and CMS, along with graduate students Erin Meagher and Vicki Stegall presented their research on marine mammal functional morphology at the Southeast and Mid-Atlantic Marine Mammal Symposium held at Duke University Marine Laboratory. Stegall won the Best Student Poster Award. Ann Pabst, biological sciences, Shelly Etnier, graduate student D. J. Struntz and undergraduate students, Carolina Priester, Chi Mohuri, Michelle Barbieri and Tara Harradine also attended the regional meetings.

Lu Ellen Huntley, English, served as chair and presenter of the session "Radical Acceptance: Bell Hooks, Fierce Love, Lessons Learned and Reading What We Are Not" at the spring conference of the National Council of Teachers of English in Birmingham.

Faculty Meeting

The spring faculty meeting will be held at 4 p.m. April 19 in Cameron Hall, Room 105. All faculty members are encouraged to attend.

Submitting Grades

Faculty can submit final grades for the spring term using the Web for Faculty system (SEAWEB). The system allows faculty options to post and modify grades superior to the grade scan sheets. Faculty using scan sheets should pick them up in the registrar's office May 3. Only the course instructor on record will be allowed to pick up scan sheets.

Transfer Credit

Evaluation of transcripts to determine transfer credit is now the responsibility of the registrar's office. This includes credit earned by means of transient study. Direct questions to Ron Whittaker at ext. 3126.

Retirement Receptions

The Department of Philosophy and Religion will host a retirement reception for Jim Megivern at 4 p.m. April 20 in the University Union Living Room. Megivern is retiring after 27 years of service which included 17 years as department chair.

The English Department will host a retirement reception for Charles Brooks Dodson from 4 to 5 p.m. April 27 in the University Union Living Room. Dodson is retiring after 25 years of service.

Temporary Employee Payroll Checks

Effective with April 12 payroll checks, all temporary employees' payroll checks or direct deposit stubs will be mailed to their home addresses on payday. Direct Deposit is available to temporary employees and enrollment forms are available through university departments or at payroll.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Janet Alexander, construction management services; Theodore Bloodworth Jr., warehouse services; and Nancy Corbett, career services.

Swansea Director

The dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, assistant provost for international programs and the director of the Honors Program are accepting applications from tenured faculty for resident director, UNCW spring semester in Swansea (Wales). The position is open for spring 2002 and 2003.

The resident director recruits students for the program, works with them during the semester and teaches in the American Studies Program at the University of Wales, Swansea. In addition to his/her UNCW salary, the director receives housing and travel expenses. Contact Robin Williams, international programs, at ext. 4051 for an application.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21175 Server Support	April 20
21176 Office Assistant IV	April 20
21177 Gen. Utility Worker	April 20
21178 Central Stores Super.	April 27
21179 Admin. Secretary I	April 27

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Shared Leave

Derrick Clemmons, landscape services; Mary Corcoran, Randall Library; and Amanda Stilwell, university police, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Commencement Volunteers

Commencement volunteers are needed May 19. All volunteers will work a four-hour shift. Volunteers are needed from 8 a.m. until noon for the morning ceremony and from 1 to 4 p.m. for the afternoon ceremony. Due to this year's increased demand for volunteers, human resources will allow "comp" time for university employees who volunteer for commencement. Commencement duties include collecting tickets, passing out programs, seating guests and answering general questions. Anyone who is interested should contact Mary Crookes at crookesm or call the commencement office at ext. 7231. For more information on commencement, visit the commencement World Wide Web site at www.uncwil.edu/uniadv/commencement.

Bike Roundup

University police will conduct a bicycle roundup May 12-15. All bicycles, including those secured to bike racks, will be collected and impounded. This event is conducted annually to prevent larcenies and in preparation for the fall semester. Individuals should contact university police at ext. 3184 to prevent locks from being cut and bicycles from being impounded during this period. Direct questions to Charles Willis at ext. 3186 or David Donaldson at ext. 4018.

Final Hepatitis B Shots Being Given May 10 and 11

Individuals participating in the Hepatitis B Shot Program sponsored by human resources, environmental health and safety and wellness services will receive their final shots May 10 and 11. Consult the chart below for the time and date of the inoculation.

Individuals whose last names begin with:

A through D	1:30 to 3 p.m.	May 10
E through J	3 to 4:30 p.m.	May 10
K through P	1:30 to 3 p.m.	May 11
R through Z	3 to 4:30 p.m.	May 11

Anyone who is unable to come during the assigned time should select one of the other times/dates. It is not necessary to call wellness services to make this change.

Note: Individuals who received their second injection through a doctor's office must bring a statement indicating the date and location of when and where the shot was administered. Direct questions to wellness services at ext. 4137.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations | Vol. XXX, No. 38 April 26, 2001 | Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Budget Reduction Proposal Calls for Job, Program Cuts

Eliminating up to 50 jobs as well as distance education and community outreach programs were proposed Monday by UNCW administrators in response to a request by the General Assembly to reduce the UNC system budget.

"UNCW has been on a tremendous growth trajectory, but it will come to a screeching halt if we must implement these proposed cuts," said John Cavanaugh, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs.

University administrators proposed almost $4 million in reductions that would affect every university division. The cuts, if necessary, will have a negative impact on future enrollment, said Cavanaugh.

"If we're forced to cut our operating budget by 7 percent, we can no longer do business as usual," Cavanaugh said. If enacted, the cuts would mean admitting fewer freshmen starting with the 2002-03 academic year, he said. In addition, the plan would eliminate extension education and community outreach programs reducing easy access to educational opportunities for prospective school teachers, nurses and business and criminal justice students. There would also be less money for building and grounds maintenance, library books and journals, computers and classroom technology. Campus safety would be affected as the plan eliminates four university police officers.

The timing of the legislature's request to cut education funding is within six months of the passage of the $3.1 billion Higher Education Facilities Bond. By an almost two-to-one margin, North Carolina voters approved a referendum to fund new building construction at the state's 16 university campuses and 58 community colleges.

Reducing support for education is "not a visionary way of dealing with the state's problems," said Chancellor James R. Leutze. "There is only one answer – the state needs more money." By passing the capital improvement bond last fall, voters said they wanted their sons and daughters to have access to higher education, said Leutze. However, the state legislators are sending the message "we'll build you a building, but now you can't come," he added.

UNC President Molly Broad requested each institution submit a plan to reach the $125 million in system cuts requested by the General Assembly.

Legislators have also asked public schools to reduce their budget by $125 million. The community college system had to propose trimming its budget by $40 million.

Even if the cuts are not made, Tim Jordan, vice chancellor for business affairs, said the process has hurt the institution.

"I had one of the worst half-hours of my life talking with my directors about what or who we could cut," Jordan said.

News of the proposed cuts will hurt employee morale and could affect the university's ability to retain and recruit faculty and staff, said Cavanaugh. Of the job cuts offered, 19 would be faculty and 31 would be staff and administrative positions. For more information, visit the World Wide Web site www.uncwil.edu/aa/.

UNCW Potential Budget Cuts

Program	Potential Cut	Positions Cut
Distance Education	$870,717	7 faculty, 3.5 support
Public Service Programs	$693,953	9 support
Maintenance and Operation of Physical Plant	$522,995	9 support
Summer School Support	$ 97,000
Libraries	$223,806
Student Support	$322,858	3.5 support
Technology Programs and Equipment	$221,000	2 support
University Police	$200,025	4 officers
Faculty Positions	$838,857	12 faculty

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Chancellor's Staff Advisory Meeting

The Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee will meet at noon May 1 in Alderman Hall, Room 215. Members of the committee are: Annie Aldrich, telecommunications; Lisa Allred, payroll; Carolyn Andrews, Randall Library, Margaret Bailey, public service and extended education; Glenda Bowen, Watson School of Education; Phillip Brown, university relations; Judy Connelly, bookstore; Susie Goodrum, institutional research; Faith Joyce, physical plant; Lori Leitch, biological sciences; Mike Lloyd, printing services; Steve Mastro, CMS; Charles Mills, physical plant; Annette Richards, nursing; and Karen Thompson, career services. Staff are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with committee members.

Spofford Exhibit to Reopen in Library

The exhibit "Across the Dye Ditch: Remembering Delgado-Spofford Mill Hill" displayed during the Azalea Festival at 5051 New Centre Drive will reopen May 19 in Randall Library.

Graduate students from the university's Public History Program are exhibit curators for the display which includes artifacts, photographs and documents from private collections. The Delgado-Spofford Cotton Mill was Wilmington's largest textile mill. It opened in 1899 and closed in 1967.

Teach English in China

The City of Wilmington Sister City Commission is seeking an English teacher for Dandong (People's Republic of China). The appointment, at the Dandong High College, is for Aug. 15, 2001, through July 31, 2002. Travel, accommodations and a $300 monthly stipend are provided.

For more information and an application, contact Robin Williams, international programs, at ext. 4051. The application deadline is May 10.

CAS Convocation

The College of Arts and Sciences will hold its annual spring convocation at 3:30 p.m. May 3 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Recipients of the Chancellor's Teaching Excellence and Graduate Teaching Excellence awards will be announced. In addition, retiring faculty and faculty who received exemplary ratings on their post-tenure reviews this spring will be recognized. There will be a memorial tribute to former biology professor David Lindquist, who died in January following a long illness.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Golf Tournament

The eighth annual Cape Fear Alumni Golf Classic will be held May 18 at Castle Bay Country Club in Hampstead. The cost is $70 per person and includes green fees, cart, catered meal, door prizes and course beverages. Proceeds benefit scholarships and outreach programs of the UNCW Cape Fear Alumni chapter. For more information, contact Tom Lamont at ext. 2684 or e-mail lamontt.

Biological Sciences Seminar

Peter Piermarini, a doctoral student from the University of Florida at Gainesville, will present "Osmoregulation of Freshwater Stingrays: Biochemical, Cellular and Morphological Aspects" at 2 p.m. April 27 in Dobo Hall, Room 134.

Writing/Reading Place

Faculty should encourage students who need assistance with research papers to contact the Writing/Reading Place at ext. 7155. During Summer Session I, the Writing/Reading Place will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Concert on the Commons

Dezeray's Hammer, a trio from Spartanburg, S.C., will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. April 26 on the Campus Commons.

Retirement Reception

The English Department will host a retirement reception for Charles Brooks Dodson from 4 to 5 p.m. April 27 in the University Union Living Room. Dodson is retiring after 25 years of service.

Learning Center

Tutorial assistance in all basic studies courses is available through The Learning Center. During summer sessions, students can receive one hour of tutoring per class each day. For more information, call ext. 3549.

At the Hawk's Nest

The following menus will be featured at the faculty/staff dining room:

Friday - fried chicken, baked ziti, mashed potatoes with gravy, corn, broccoli casserole, assorted salads, rolls, desserts and beverages.

Tuesday - Mexican fiesta with all the trimmings, assorted salads, desserts and beverages.

All menus are $4.50 and are offered from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Student Journal to Celebrate 2001 Edition

The staff of the Atlantis, UNCW's student literary and art journal, will celebrate the publication of its 2001 edition from 6 to 8 p.m. April 26 at Bristol Books, 1900 Eastwood Road.

As part of the celebration, the Creative Writing Department will present the Jesse Rehder Prose Award and the Sam Ragan Poetry Award.

Refreshments will be served.

UNCW Theatre

UNCW Theatre will perform Ken Ludwig's Moon Over Buffalo at 8 p.m. April 26-28 and 2 p.m. April 29 in the Kenan Hall SRO Theatre. Tickets are $5 and are available at the Kenan Auditorium box office.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

BOG Approves Master's in Public Administration

At its meeting April 12, the UNC Board of Governors approved the establishment of a Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree at UNCW. Students will be able to enroll in the program starting fall 2001.

The MPA provides a broad professional education for individuals aspiring to management or policy positions in government and nonprofit agencies. The 42-credit hour program features common core courses in public management, policy analysis, computer applications, leadership and an internship in a local government or nonprofit agency. In addition, the program features special concentrations in Coastal Town Management and Nonprofit Management.

To allow attendance by full-time and working part-time students, the MPA program will offer evening, weekend and on-line classes as well as full and part-time tracks of study.

The program offers a professional opportunity previously unavailable in the region for students with backgrounds in a variety of fields, including public affairs, criminal justice, environmental studies, social services, planning and health policy. MPA faculty will host an open house from 6 to 8 p.m. May 14 at the Wise Alumni House. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold day camps for girls ages eight to 15 June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Bob Toplin, history, delivered a lecture on Hollywood and history at Portland State University that raised funds for the Organization of American Historians. His lead article on film and history was published in National Forum, the journal of Phi Kappa Phi Honorary Society.

Mike Mallin, Larry Cahoon, Matt McIver and Scott Ensign, CMS and biological sciences, presented "Seeking Science-based Ambient Nutrient Standards for Blackwater Systems" at the annual North Carolina Water Resources Research Conference in Raleigh. Cahoon, Mallin and Ensign also presented "Nutrient Imports to Support Intensive Livestock Production in the Northeast Cape Fear Basin"; and James Merritt and Mallin presented "The Lower Cape Fear Research and Education Program."

Len Lecci, psychology, gave the invited address "Innocent Until Proven Guilty? Probably Not" for the Cross Departmental Speaker Series at SUNY Buffalo State College.

Peggy Turner, disability services, presented "Technology Access Issues - Curb Cuts on the Information Superhighway" at the 12th International Conference on College Teaching and Learning in Jacksonville, Fla.

Laela Sayigh and Alessandro Bocconcelli, CMS, attended the Southeast and Mid-Atlantic Marine Mammal Symposium at Duke University's Marine Laboratory in Beaufort, N. C., where graduate student Genevieve Haviland presented the poster "Mapping Total Environmental Sound Exposure Of Bottlenose Dolphins, Tursiops truncatus, in the Wilmington Intracoastal Waterway." The poster was co-authored by Sayigh, Bocconcelli, Chris Powell, Adam Frankel and Russell Herman. Graduate student Mandy Hill and undergraduate students Carolina Priester, Kim Hoover, Nikki Volmer and Lynne Williams also attended the symposium.

Darrell Irwin and Cecil Willis, sociology and criminal justice, presented the paper "Legal Cynicism and Perceptions of Neighborhood Control in High Crime Communities" at the Academy of Criminal Sciences in Washington, D.C.

Leslie Hossfeld, sociology and criminal justice, presented the paper "We Like Latino Labor: North Carolina Personnel Managers Reflect Upon the Growth of Latino Employment" at the 64th annual meeting of the Southern Sociological Society in Atlanta.

Wade Watanabe, CMS, presented the invited paper "Tilapia Production Systems in the Americas: Technological Advances, Trends and Challenges" at Aquaculture Interchange Program Workshop Aquaculture Growout Systems: Challenges and Technological Solutions, the Oceanic Institute in Honolulu. It was co-authored by Thomas M. Losordo, NCSU; Kevin Fitzsimmons, University of Arizona; and Fred Hanley, Jamaica Broilers Group, West Indies.

Operatic Performances

Voice students, under the instruction of Nancy King and Emery Stephens, and choral ensembles, under the direction of Joe Hickman, will perform scenes from various operas and operettas at 8 p.m. April 26 in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free.

Temporary Employee Payroll Checks

Effective with April 12 payroll checks, all temporary employees' payroll checks or direct deposit stubs will be mailed to their home addresses on payday. Direct Deposit is available to temporary employees and enrollment forms are available through university departments or at payroll.

Seahawk Club Boat Cruise

The Seahawk Club is sponsoring a cruise May 12 to raise scholarship funds for student-athletes. There will be a reception from 6 to 7 p.m. at the Wilmington Hilton Riverside followed by a cruise aboard the Royal Winner Princess II from 7 to 10 p.m. The cost is $55 per person, $100 per couple. Attendance is limited to 300. For tickets, call ext. 7737 by May 4.

Book Donations Sought

The Youth Recognition Program affiliated with the Community Affordable Housing Equity Corporation will hold a book sale 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. June 2 and 9 at the Willow Ponds Recreation Center on Darlington Avenue. Anyone who would like to donate books for this fund-raising event should call Tammie Haynes, Randall Library, at 342-9874.

SEANC Rally

The State Employees Association of North Carolina is sponsoring a legislative rally from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 16 at the Halifax Mall in Raleigh. A lunch buffet will be served from noon to 2 p.m. The cost is $5, and tickets must be purchased by April 27. Call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Tommy Guinn at ext. 3100 or Gloria Crowell at ext. 2301.

Fulbright Applications

Fulbright applications for faculty for 2002-03 are due Aug. 1. The program offers grants in 37 disciplines for varying lengths ranging from two months to an academic year. For more information, call 202/686-4000 or visit www.cies.org on the World Wide Web.

Randall Library Exam Schedule

Randall Library will observe the following schedule during final exams: open 7:30 a.m. May 3 through midnight May 4, 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. May 5 and 10 a.m. May 6 through 10 p.m. May 10.

ADS, SIS Access Forms

To ensure screen access security and to process new accounts, the Department of Application Services, in conjunction with the Student Information System (SIS) and the Alumni Development System (ADS), developed SIS and ADS account access request forms. These forms are only available via the World Wide Web and must be used to request SIS or ADS accounts.

For SIS account access request forms, go to the Web site www.uncwil.edu/dcs/operations/. Mail completed forms to Hoggard Hall, Room 216C.

For ADS account access request forms, go to the Web site www.uncwil.edu/dcs/operations/ or www.uncwil.edu/sp/AdmForms/FormsPDF/inf440.pdf. Mail completed forms to Alderman Hall, Room 104 . Direct questions to Sandie Sue, application services, ext. 3892, or e-mail sues@uncwil.edu.

Submitting Grades

Faculty can submit final grades for the spring term using the Web for Faculty system (SEAWEB). The system allows faculty superior options to post and modify grades superior than the grade scan sheets. Faculty using scan sheets should pick them up in the registrar's office May 3. Only the course instructor on record will be allowed to pick up scan sheets.

Print Reminder

Two copies of all printed materials should be sent to Randall Library Archives. The print shop arranges delivery for items printed on campus. Departments that utilize off-campus printers must deliver materials to archives.

Swansea Director

The dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, assistant provost for international programs and the director of the Honors Program are accepting applications from tenured faculty for resident director, UNCW spring semester in Swansea (Wales). The position is open for spring 2002 and 2003.

The resident director recruits students for the program, works with them during the semester and teaches in the American Studies Program at the University of Wales, Swansea. In addition to his/her UNCW salary, the director receives housing and travel expenses. Contact Robin Williams, international programs, at ext. 4051 for an application. The application deadline is May 10.

Commencement Volunteers

Commencement volunteers are needed May 19. All volunteers will work a four-hour shift. Volunteers for the morning ceremony are needed from 8 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. for the afternoon commencement ceremony. Commencement duties include collecting tickets, passing out programs, seating guests and answering general questions. Anyone who is interested should contact Mary Crookes at crookesm, or call the commencement office at ext. 7231. For more information on commencement, visit the commencement World Wide Web site at www.uncwil.edu/uniadv/commencement.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Tony Creech, academic affairs, and Robert Walker, physical plant.

Warwick Re-elected to BOG

Robert Warwick, a former member of the UNCW board of trustees, was re-elected to the UNC Board of Governors.

Bike Roundup

University police will conduct its bicycle round up May 12-15. All bicycles, including those secured to bike racks, will be collected and impounded. This event is conducted annually to prevent larcenies and in preparation for the fall semester. Individuals should contact university police at ext. 3184 to prevent locks from being cut and bicycles from being impounded during this period. Direct questions to Charles Willis at ext. 3186 or David Donaldson at ext. 4018.

Hepatitis B Shots

Individuals participating in the Hepatitis B Shot Program sponsored by human resources, environmental health and safety and wellness services will receive their final shots May 10 and 11. Consult the chart below for the time and date of the inoculation.

Individuals whose last names begin with:

A through D	1:30 to 3 p.m.	May 10
E through J	3 to 4:30 p.m.	May 10
K through P	1:30 to 3 p.m.	May 11
R through Z	3 to 4:30 p.m.	May 11

Anyone unable to come during the assigned time should select an alternative. It is not necessary to call wellness services to make this change.

Note: Individuals who received their second injection through a doctor's office must bring proof that includes the date and location that the shot was administered. Direct questions to wellness services at ext. 4137.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21178 Central Stores Super.	April 27
21179 Admin. Secretary I	April 27
21180 Library Assistant	May 4

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations   Vol. XXX, No. 39 May 3, 2001   Phillip Brown, editor

Razor Walker Awards Presented Monday

UNC President Molly Broad and N.C. Sen. Marc Basnight were two of the 10 people honored by the Watson School of Education with this year's Razor Walker Award. Broad was recognized for her leadership in the campaign that led to the passing of the $3.1 billion higher education facilities bond for North Carolina universities and community colleges; Basnight, the state's longest-serving senate president pro tempore, was honored for his support of education and children's health issues.

Recipients were honored during a ceremony Monday night in the Warwick Center. Other honorees were Bobby Brayboy, a Southport Elementary School counselor, who was noted for going above and beyond the duties of school counselor by purchasing clothing and medical supplies for needy children with his own money and making special visits to the homes of his students on his own time; Gary Chadwick, a Wilmington executive, who as a former member of the Brigade Boys and Girls Club and current supporter, led a campaign that raised more than $1 million for a new teen center at the club; John Dornan, president and executive director of the Public School Forum of North Carolina in Raleigh, who was recognized for his role in establishing the statewide School Technology Fund designed to put technology resources into North Carolina's public schools; Andrew Craig Phillips, a former state superintendent who instituted the first full-day kindergarten program in North Carolina; Jan Lewis, a Pender County School volunteer; Joyce Huguelet, principal of Winter Park Model Elementary School; and Bertha Todd, who during a 30-year career in New Hanover County Schools was recognized for preventing violence in public schools during the integration of public schools. In addition, First Union of Wilmington received a Razor Walker for its "Education First" program. First Union Bank donates money and sends its employees into the public schools each week to volunteer.

The Razor Walker Award, established in 1993 by the UNCW Watson School of Education, is recognized as one of the state's most prestigious and unique service awards. The award is presented annually to a select group of individuals who have made, through personal commitment and tenacity, a significant impact on the lives and the education of children in North Carolina.

Broad

Basnight

Brayboy

Chadwick

Dornan

Huguelet

Lewis

Phillips

Todd

Employee Appreciation

UNCW Officials Say Thank You

Approximately 1,800 employees participated in the campus-wide Employee Appreciation Week events held Monday through Wednesday that included breakfast, lunch and an ice cream social.

"Although we celebrate Employee Appreciation Week once a year, our employees are appreciated all year long for the important contributions they make to the university," said Chancellor James R. Leutze at the employee breakfast.

Sam Connally, special assistant to the chancellor for EPA employees and director of human resources, said in honor of Employee Appreciation Week, administrators adopted measures "to acknowledge employees' contributions to the success of the university and reflect a continuing commitment to provide a work environment and ancillary benefit program that maintains or improves employee morale and well-being."

He said senior officers:

- Reaffirmed UNCW's commitment to summer hours unless exceptions are required to meet expectations of external customers.
- Expanded casual dress to year round, subject to department head discretion.
- Endorsed greater flexibility in university flex-time policy allowing department heads to approve flexible

see Thank You on Page 5

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Film Screenings

The Film Studies Department will show student films that were completed this semester at 1 p.m. May 11 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

Student Creations

Randall Library will host the exhibit "UNCW Student Creations" May 4 through Aug. 1 at the library's first-floor art wall. The display features works by students in Ann Conner's Advanced Painting and Conceptual Drawing classes. A Meet the Artists reception will be held from 3 to 4 p.m. May 7 at the exhibit.

Coach Named to Panel

Jan Mann, women's golf coach, was named a member of the golf course rating panel for North Carolina Golf magazine. She is one of eight collegiate coaches on the 135-member panel.

Basketball Camps

The Men's Basketball Program will hold summer day camps June 11-15 and July 16-20 for boys age eight to rising high school seniors. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Hurricane Lecture

Leonard Pietrafesa, director of the Office of External Affairs for the College of Physical and Mathematical Science at NCSU, will present "Hurricanes Are a Terrible Thing to Waste" at 7 p.m. May 15 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium. This free event is part of the CMS Planet Ocean Seminar Series. Due to limited seating, reservations are required. Call ext. 2300.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Glenn Adams, a graduate student in biological sciences, will defend "Biochemical and Mechanical Properties of Skeletal Muscle in Mice with Inherited Capacity for Exercise under Hypoxia" at 2 p.m. May 3 in Dobo Hall, Room 103.

Trade Books

The bookstore has a large selection of trade books on sale.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Wilmington author Susan Taylor Block joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. May 3 and 10 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. May 4, 5, 11 and 12 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library. Block, Sanders and Ben Steelman from the Wilmington Star-News discuss historic Wilmington photos.

MBA Students Receive Honorable Mention

Five graduate students in the MBA Program received an honorable mention in the 14th annual Graduate Business Student Competition sponsored by the N.C. Small Business and Technology Development Center, RSM McGladrey LLP and Wachovia. Thirty teams competed in the statewide event.

Team members Lisa Fuller, Eileen McConville, Nonn Panitvong, Bob Sheehan and Marilyn Stowell, provided 600 hours of free management consulting to Memory Yachts. The team analyzed the custom and semi-custom yacht industry as well as boat-building alternatives worldwide. They also conducted product-use testing and market surveys to analyze sales potential for Memory Yachts.

State Employees to Rally in Raleigh May 16

May 16 is an important day for state employees. The State Employees Association of North Carolina (SEANC) will hold a legislative rally from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Halifax Mall in Raleigh. SEANC District 62 is sponsoring a van that will leave at 7:30 a.m. from the Trask Coliseum parking lot. For information, call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4136, Tommy Guinn, ext. 3100 or Gloria Crowell, ext. 2301.

Golf Tournament

The eighth annual Cape Fear Alumni Golf Classic will be held May 18 at Castle Bay Country Club in Hampstead. The cost is $70 per person and includes green fees, cart, catered meal, door prizes and course beverages. Proceeds benefit scholarships and outreach programs of the UNCW Cape Fear Alumni chapter. For more information, contact Tom Lamont at ext. 2684 or e-mail lamontt.

Spofford Exhibit to Reopen in Library

The exhibit "Across the Dye Ditch: Remembering Delgado-Spofford Mill Hill" displayed during the Azalea Festival at 5051 New Centre Drive will reopen May 19 in Randall Library.

Graduate students from the university's Public History Program served as exhibit curators for the display which includes artifacts, photographs and documents from private collections.

CAS Convocation

The College of Arts and Sciences will hold its annual spring convocation at 3:30 p.m. May 3 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium. Recipients of the Chancellor's Teaching Excellence Awards and Graduate Teaching Excellence Awards will be announced. In addition, faculty who are retiring or who received exemplary ratings on their post-tenure reviews this spring will be recognized. There will be a memorial tribute to former biology professor David Lindquist, who died in January following a long illness.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold day camps for girls ages eight to 15. The scheduled dates are June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

UNCW©

The Division for Business Affairs is excited to announce

Single Login

for its Web applications

http://busaff.uncwil.edu/ubusiness

To be released May 14, 2001

Features

* Single login to access business affairs' Web applications such as:

- Central Stores
- Printing Services
- Labels
- PACS
- Employee Directory
- Chart of Accounts
- Cashier System
- Travel (Coming Fall 2001)
- Surplus Property
- Responsible Person
- DOR Reporting

* Employee directory: Multiple search options
Detailed employee information

* Easy access to university WebMail

* User-customized links: UNCW Links Search Links
Travel Links Calendar Links

* Convenient links to university news sites:
Campus Communique The Seahawk Seahawk Sports

* View from live video-cam outside Randall Library

* Check local weather and current national news

Questions or comments can be directed to the Business Applications Department at 962-3717 or e-mail dickensm@uncwil.edu

Renee Vincent, Students Shoot Conversation in Prague

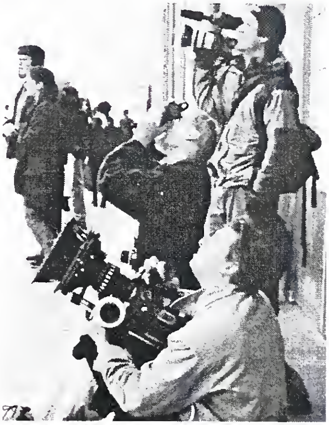
Renee Vincent, art and theatre, received an Eastman Kodak Company motion picture film grant for Conservation with Kafka.

Filming for Conversation with Kafka, written and directed by Vincent, was conducted March 2 through 11 in Prague. Departmental honors students in theatre Angie Peck, Garrett Drogue, Chris Ryan, Jason Smith and Greg Reposa acted in the production. The film is loosely adapted from Kafka's short story Conversation of a Supplicant which centers on a young man's journey in Prague toward spiritual and mental wholeness, said Vincent.

Jay Bunthoff, ITSD, and UNCW alumni Bryan Kupco '97 and Mike McGuire '00 served as camera operators on the project, and Joe Dunton Camera's, a local business, provided film equipment. The Department of University Relations provided 30 rolls of 35-mm film to document the trip. Wentworth Scholar recipients Sara Lou and Matt Schrum also traveled to Prague to conduct research on Kafka.

The project originated through Vincent's faculty reassignment award which was to produce short films using anamorphic lens technology and Paula Kamenish's senior seminar on Kafka. Additional filming will be completed in Wilmington during the summer, said Vincent.

Kodak will feature the project in its international magazine In Camera, which is sent to professional filmmakers and collegiate film programs worldwide, Vincent said.



Jay Bunthoff, standing right, with UNCW alumni filming in Prague.

UNCW Receives Chairman's Star Award for SECC

UNCW won the Chairman's Star Award for its outstanding participation in the 2000 State Employees Combined Campaign (SECC). University employees contributed more than $59,000 and had a participation rate of 57 percent. UNCW received an SECC Gold Award for a 56 percent increase in employee participation over the 1999 campaign. Melton McLaurin, academic affairs, Royce Angel, public service and extended education, and Kathy Risley, advancement, coordinated the university's efforts. McLaurin was also in charge of the SECC District 3 campaign which included state employees in Brunswick, Duplin, New Hanover, Onslow, Pender and Sampson counties. District 3 contributed more than $86,000 to the SECC which was a 34 percent increase over the previous year's campaign. This was the largest percentage campaign increase among the 15 SECC districts.

Royce Angel, center, and Kathy Risley, right, accept Chairman's Star Award on behalf of UNCW from SECC chair George Sweat.

George Sweat, secretary of the Department of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention and statewide chair of the 2001-02 SECC, presented the awards.

The SECC is the only authorized charitable fund-raising campaign permitted to solicit monetary contributions in the state workplace. Through the campaign, employees can donate to local and statewide charitable organizations through payroll deduction. Last year, state employees contributed more than $4.45 million through SECC.

Grad Student Award

J. Anthony Josey, a graduate student in the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies (MLS) Program, won top honors for his paper "The Significance of the Art of Quilting in my Family" at the 13th annual National Black Graduate School Conference in Lubbock, Texas. Molefi Kete Asante, author and professor at Temple University, presented the award.

Winning the first-place prize was "quite an honor," said Josey who competed against students from Duke, Johns Hopkins, Clemson and Howard University as well as the University of California at Los Angeles. He acknowledged the support he received from the Graduate School, Office of Enrollment Affairs and Michael Wentworth, MLS coordinator.

Josey

"This is what a university experience is all about. I've always believed that UNCW had what it takes to compete with any other institution in the country," he said.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are ublished in order received. Due to the olume of submissions, there can be a wo- to three-week delay in publication. our patience is appreciated.

Terry Theodore, art and theatre, erved as a film juror for the nomination f Academy Awards for student ilmmakers by the Academy of Motion icture Arts and Sciences. He particiated in the Region One competition eld at the Northwest Film Center in ortland, Ore. Students submitted 122 ntries in four categories: narrative, nimation, documentary, and alternative. t was his second invitation to serve in his capacity. Theodore will show the vinning films in each category in eptember.

Robert Y. George and Linda Potts, iological sciences, participated in the 2nd annual meeting of the Association f Southeastern Biologists (ASB) at ulane University. Students Joe laughnessy (Richard Dillaman), Susan ate (Robert Roer), Lynne Williams Laela Sayigh) and Tracy Zilol (Ronald izemore) presented research papers uring the Beta Beta Beta scientific essions. George was elected chair of the SB committee that will select venues or the organization's 2003-06 annual neetings. He was also appointed co-chair f the organizing committee for a ymposium on the impact of global varming on biodiversity decline and iological invasion to be held at Howard Jniversity.

Paul Wilkes, creative writing, had xcellent Protestant Congregations: he Guide to Best Places and Practices, ublished by Westminster John Knox ress.

Hana Noor Al-Deen, communicaion studies, gave a multi-media owerPoint presentation on the paper Consumer Products and Animal esting" at the 31st Popular Culture ssociation annual conference in hiladelphia.

Brooks Dodson, English, spoke to he Wilmington chapter of the American ssociation of University Women on he subject of "Laughter and Sex Among he Victorians."

Sharon Boyd, Cris Dixon, Stan Edwards, Mary Forsythe, Diana Rivenbark, Carol Strickland, business affairs, Kathy Dennis, ITSD, and Mark Williams, financial aid and veterans services, gave presentations at sessions for the 2001 UNC FRS Users conference hosted by East Carolina University. Boyd presented a session on strategic planning; Dixon delivered a presentation on e-Print; Dennis presented on beginning Focus; Edwards presented on developing Web business systems; Forsythe and Rivenbark presented on the purchasing card; Strickland presented on integrated payables and add-on accounts payable system; and Williams presented on imaging.

Mike Mallin, Matt McIver, Doug Parsons, Scott Ensign, Chris Shank, Jenny Johnson, Heather Covan, CMS and biological sciences, presented "Preliminary Impacts of Sewage Diversion on the New River Estuary" at the annual meeting of the Southeastern Estuarine Research Society in Charleston, S.C. In addition, Ensign, Mallin and Joanne Halls, earth sciences, presented "Flushing Time of the Cape Fear River Estuary," and graduate student Jason Hales presented "Effects of Stormwater Runoff on Tidal Exchange in Coastal Estuaries."

Stephen Meinhold, political science, gave the invited presentation "An Examination of Public Attitudes Toward Mitigation Options and Actual Mitigation Behavior" at the National Hurricane Conference in Washington, D.C.

Earl Sheridan, political science, delivered the paper "Race and the 'Rhetoric of Reaction'" at the annual meeting of the National Association for Ethnic Studies in New Orleans.

Patricia Kelley and Jack Hall, earth sciences, received $53,170 from Western Washington University for the project "Integrating Research and Education in Paleontology and Marine Ecology: An Inquiry-based Grade 6-8 Curriculum that Investigates Spatial and Temporal Patterns in Naticid Gastropod Predation."

Maurice M. Martinez, specialty studies, presented the research paper "Pre-Civil War Freedom in New Orleans: An Analysis of the Mayor's Register of Free Colored Persons Entitled to Remain in the State of Louisiana, 1840-1864" at the annual conference of the National Association for Ethnic Studies in New Orleans. Martinez transferred 2,810 handwritten names, many written in French, along with other data for each name to a computer CD for future use by historians.

Kathy Rugoff, English, presented "Phantoms of Philip Roth: Race, Ethnicity, Gender and Aesthetics in The Ghost Writer and The Human Stain" at the College English Association Conference. She also chaired a panel and served on the board of directors of the organization.

Daniel Baden, CMS, received $53,000 in supplemental funding from the Florida Marine Research Institute for the project "Assays for the Detection of Florida Red Tide Brevetoxins."

Laela Sayigh and Alessandro Bocconcelli, CMS, received $16,000 from the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (WHOI) for the project "Marine Mammal Monitoring in Onslow Bay – SERDP Project." In addition, Bocconcelli received $10,500 from WHOI for the project "Marine Mammal Monitoring – SERDP Bahamas."

Peter Schuhmann and Robert Burrus, economics and finance, received $1,500 from the Calvin K. Kazanjian Economics Foundation for the project "Teaching Economics Through Writing Workshop."

Eleanor Covan, gerontology, received $500 in supplemental funding from Taylor and Francis Publishers to assist her as associate editor of the journal Health Care for Women International.

Steven Miller, CMS, received $2,654,378 in supplemental funding from the National Oceanic Atmospheric Administration for the National Undersea Research Center.

This is recyclable.

NC Live Change

The North Carolina Libraries for Virtual Education (NC Live) databases linked off the Randall Library World Wide Web site are undergoing changes. For more information, visit the Web site library.uncwil.edu, and choose the NC Live link from the spotlight area.

Fulbright Applications

Fulbright applications for faculty for 2002-03 are due Aug. 1. The program offers grants in 37 disciplines for varying lengths ranging from two months to an academic year. For more information, call 202/686-4000 or visit www.cies.org on the World Wide Web.

Randall Library Exam Schedule

Randall Library will observe the following schedule during final exams: open 7:30 a.m. May 3 through midnight May 4, 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. May 5 and 10 a.m. May 6 through 10 p.m. May 10.

Submitting Grades

Faculty can submit final grades for the spring term using the Web for Faculty system (SEAWEB). The system allows faculty superior options to post and modify grades than the grade scan sheets. Faculty using scan sheets should pick them up in the registrar's office May 3. Only the course instructor on record will be allowed to pick up scan sheets.

Bike Roundup

University police will conduct its bicycle roundup May 12-15. All bicycles, including those secured to bike racks, will be collected and impounded. This event is conducted annually to prevent larcenies and in preparation for the fall semester. Individuals should contact university police at ext. 3184 to prevent locks from being cut and bicycles from being impounded during this period. Direct questions to Charles Willis at ext. 3186 or David Donaldson at ext. 4018.

Swansea Director

The dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, assistant provost for international programs and the director of the Honors Program are accepting applications from tenured faculty for resident director, UNCW spring semester in Swansea (Wales). The position is open for spring 2002 and 2003.

The resident director recruits students for the program, works with them during the semester and teaches in the American Studies Program at the University of Wales, Swansea. In addition to his/her UNCW salary, the director receives housing and travel expenses. Contact Robin Williams, international programs, at ext. 4051 for an application. The application deadline is May 10.

Commencement Volunteers

Commencement volunteers are needed May 19. Volunteers will work a four-hour shift and are needed from 8 a.m. until noon for the morning ceremony and from 1 to 4 p.m. for the afternoon ceremony. Anyone who is interested should contact Mary Crookes at crookesm, or call the commencement office at ext. 7231. For more information, visit the commencement World Wide Web site at www.uncwil.edu/uniadv/commencement.

Shared Leave

Derrick Clemmons, landscape services and Curt Allen-Little, Kenan Auditorium, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Patricia Lewis, financial aid and veteran services.

Hepatitis B Shots

Individuals participating in the Hepatitis B Shot Program sponsored by human resources, environmental health and safety and wellness services will receive their final shots May 10 and 11. See the chart below for the time and date of the inoculation.

Individuals whose last names begin with:

A through D	1:30 to 3 p.m.	May 10
E through J	3 to 4:30 p.m.	May 10
K through P	1:30 to 3 p.m.	May 11
R through Z	3 to 4:30 p.m.	May 11

Anyone unable to come during the assigned time should select an alternative. It is not necessary to call wellness services to make this change.

Note: Individuals who received their second injection through a doctor's office must bring a statement that includes the date and location for when and where the shot was administered. Direct questions to wellness services at ext. 4137

Summer Ads

Starting with the May 17 issue, the Campus Communique will publish personal ads while the university observes summer hours. Ads must be submitted by e-mail to communique@uncwil.edu, fax to ext. 3847 or campus mail to Westside Hall, Room 130. Include contact information. Ads are printed on a space-available basis.

Thank You continued from Page 1 schedules providing 40 hours of work in any combination in a work week.

- Authorized department heads to approve up to four hours of vacation leave per year for employees nominated for Seahawk Kudos, who provide excellent customer service or who sustain outstanding performance over time.
- Authorized department heads to approve up to eight hours of work time per employee per year to participate in on-campus, university-sponsored wellness programs, such as health screenings, immunizations and healthy living seminars.

In addition to these measures, Connally said that employees can take advantage of the UNCW Employee Discount Program which will enable them to receive discounts at participating area businesses by showing their UNSea card. A booklet with participating businesses will be sent to employees this week, he said.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 40 May 10, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

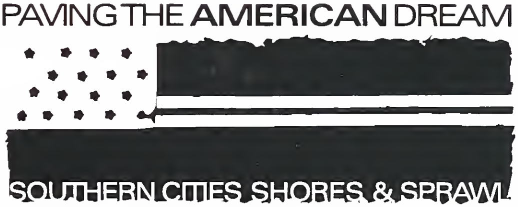
Smart Growth the Focus of UNCW's Fourth Television Documentary

In its fourth television documentary, Paving the American Dream: Southern Cities, Shores and Sprawl, UNCW focuses on the explosive growth occurring along the eastern seaboard. The film will air at 8 p.m. June 20 on public television in North Carolina and South Carolina.

It will also air on public television throughout Maryland, Virginia,Georgia and Florida during the month of June; air time and dates to be announced.

"The University of North Carolina at Wilmington is dedicated to fulfilling its mission," said Chancellor James R. Leutze, host and narrator of the documentary. "We must reach beyond our campus boundaries to raise awareness and educate the public about issues that not only affect our state, but our society as a whole."

Growth is exploding along the ecologically fragile coast, especially in the Southeastern United States. In 1960, eight million people lived along the coast. That number is expected to reach nearly 23 million by the year 2015 - a staggering 188 percent increase. Inland areas also suffer from unmanaged growth. Abandonment of city life for quiet suburban surroundings has created its own set of problems.



Issues such as traffic congestion, air and water pollution, disappearing farms, forests and the coastline all lead to a declining quality of life and environment.

Over the course of this hour-long documentary, viewers will hear from scholars, corporations, politicians, community leaders and citizens up and down the eastern seaboard who are faced with the day-to-day challenges of growth.

"I want people to walk away from watching Paving the American Dream with a sense of urgency," said Leutze. "People must understand that time is critical. Our environment is riding on it."

Paving the American Dream was made possible with the support of many. UNCW faculty and staff were responsible for the entire production from scripting to filming to postproduction. With program concept by Leutze, the documentary was written and directed by Lou Buttino, professor of communication studies, and filmed and edited by Dustin Miller with UNCW-TV. Executive producer is Elaine Penn who produced the university's previous three award-winning documentaries. Major corporate sponsors are Weyerhaeuser Company Foundation, Sprint PCS and the Holiday Inn SunSpree Resort at Wrightsville Beach.

Celebrate Wilmington! to Honor Brinkley

Internationally known journalist David Brinkley, a native Wilmingtonian, will be inducted into the Celebrate Wilmington! Walk of Fame at 3 p.m. May 12 at the walk site, located on the Water Street side of the Cotton Exchange.

Brinkley

Born July 10, 1920, Brinkley grew up at 801 Princess Street and attended Hemenway and Tileston schools as well as New Hanover High School. As a teenager, Brinkley worked at the Lumina Pavilion at Wrightsville Beach as a soda jerk, a ticket taker and a bulb changer for the 126 lights on the ballroom's rooftop sign.

While a senior at New Hanover High School, Brinkley participated in the school's student intern program which allowed him to leave school early each afternoon to work at the Wilmington Star-News where he reported on local news.

In September 1940, Brinkley enrolled at UNC Chapel Hill, but changed his mind and enlisted in the Army. He served for a year before the Army diagnosed him with a kidney ailment (which he says he didn't have then and never has) and gave him an honorable discharge. He returned to work for the Star-News.

See Walk of Fame on page 2

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MPA Open House

The Master of Public Administration Program will host an open house from 6 to 8 p.m. May 14 at the Wise Alumni House, 1713 Market Street. Program faculty will answer questions. For more information, contact Tom Barth, political science, at ext. 3385.

Transfer Orientation and the Hawk's Nest

Transfer orientation is scheduled May 15 and includes a buffet luncheon in the Hawk's Nest. Faculty, staff and students are welcome; the cost is $5.58. There will also be a buffet dinner from 5 to 6:30 p.m. for $6.07 per person.

The Hawk's Nest will be open from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. for breakfast and 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. for grab-and-go items only.

Farewell Reception

Randall Library will host a farewell reception for Donna Gunter, assistant university librarian for instructional services, at 3:30 p.m. May 21 at the library's first-floor art wall. Gunter is leaving UNCW after 10 years of service for a position at UNC Charlotte.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a junior day camp for girls ages six to 14 June 25-29 and a senior residential camp for girls ages 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost of the day camp is $210, the residential camp is $400, $300 for commuters. The fee includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive at $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

Student Creations

Randall Library will host the exhibit "UNCW Student Creations" through Aug. 1 at the library's first-floor art wall. The display features work by students in Ann Conner's Advanced Painting and Conceptual Drawing classes.

Rice-Evans Named Associate Vice Chancellor

Marla Rice-Evans was named associate vice chancellor for development in the Division for University Advancement. She had served in the position on an interim basis. Previously, Rice-Evans served as director of development for the Watson School of Education. In addition to fund-raising experience, Rice-Evans has more than 20 years of administrative and management experience at non-profit and development organizations including Western Illinois University and the Foundation for Children with AIDS in Boston.

Film Screenings

The Film Studies Department will show student films that were completed this semester at 1 p.m. May 11 in Morton Hall, Bryan Auditorium.

Basketball Camps

The Men's Basketball Program will hold summer day camps June 11-15 and July 16-20 for boys ages 8 to rising high school seniors. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Hurricane Lecture

Leonard Pietrafesa, director of the Office of External Affairs for the College of Physical and Mathematical Science at NCSU, will present "Hurricanes Are a Terrible Thing to Waste" at 7 p.m. May 15 in the Center for Marine Science Auditorium. This free event is part of the CMS Planet Ocean Seminar Series. Due to limited seating, reservations are required. Call ext. 2300.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Wilmington author Susan Taylor Block joins host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. May 10 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5. The program also airs at 8 p.m. May 11 and 12 on Time Warner Channel 8 in Rocky Point, Burgaw, Atkinson and southern Brunswick County in association with the Pender County Library. Block, Sanders and Ben Steelman from the Wilmington Star-News discuss historic Wilmington photos.

Walk of Fame continued from Page 1

In 1942, Brinkley was offered a job with United Press International in Atlanta, writing for the radio wire. From Atlanta, he was sent to Nashville and then to Charlotte.

In 1943, he moved to Washington, D.C., and began a 38-year career at NBC. He worked as a radio script writer, a radio and TV announcer and a White House correspondent. From 1956 to 1971, he co-anchored the nightly news with Chet Huntley for the Huntley-Brinkley Report, winning Emmy Awards in 1959 and 60. With John Chancellor, he co-anchored NBC Nightly News from 1976 to 1979.

Brinkley joined ABC in 1981 where he created the weekly news program This Week with David Brinkley. He retired from ABC in 1997. During his extensive news career, Brinkley won every major broadcasting award, including 10 Emmys and two George Foster Peabody Awards.

He has covered every Presidential election and nominating convention since 1956. His writings include Washington Goes to War (1988), David Brinkley, A Memoir (1995) and Everyone Is Entitled to My Opinion, published in October 1996.

Celebrate Wilmington! is a collaboration between the community, UNC Wilmington and the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear to promote the cultural arts and the Walk of Fame. Brinkley is the ninth star in the Walk of Fame. He joins NFL quarterback Roman Gabriel inducted in 1997; Minnie Evans, visual artist, 1997; Hugh Morton, preservationist/naturalist, 1998; Henry Bacon, architect, 1998; Frank Capra, Jr., motion pictures, 1999; Caterina Jarboro, opera singer, 1999; Robert C. Ruark, Jr., journalist and novelist, 2000; and Althea Gibson, tennis professional, 2000.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Golf Tournament

The eighth annual Cape Fear Alumni Golf Classic will be held May 18 at Castle Bay Country Club in Hampstead. The cost is $70 per person and includes green fees, cart, catered meal, door prizes and course beverages. Proceeds benefit scholarships and outreach programs of the UNCW Cape Fear Alumni chapter. For more information, contact Tom Lamont at ext. 2684 or e-mail lamontt.

Landfall Foundation Grant Applications

The Landfall Foundation is accepting applications from non-profit agencies and organizations for 2001-02 funding.

Application guidelines and forms can be downloaded from the World Wide Web site www.seafunders.org or requested by writing to the Landfall Foundation, 1838 Gleneagles Lane, Wilmington, N.C. 28405. Submit four copies of the application by 5 p.m. July 13.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold two-day camps for girls ages eight to 15. The scheduled dates are June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

Rally in Raleigh

The State Employees Association of North Carolina (SEANC) will hold a legislative rally from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 16 at the Halifax Mall in Raleigh.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Mike Mallin and Matt McIver, CMS and biological sciences, co-authored "The Impact of Rainfall Runoff on the Concentration of Fecal Coliform Bacteria in a Small Urban Creek" presented by Tara Williams, an undergraduate student majoring in environmental sciences, at the Association of Southeastern Biologists meeting in New Orleans.

Susan Ivancevich, accountancy and business law, had the article "Internal Audit Outsourcing in the Gaming Industry" published in the January/February 2001 edition of the Internal Auditing journal. Her co-authors were Richard Brody of the University of New Haven and Dana Hermanson of Kennesaw State University.

T. D. Evans, sociology and criminal justice, was featured in articles in The New Republic and The Christian Science Monitor related to his research on religion and crime. The New Republic article was on faith-based treatment programs, and the Monitor piece was on prison-based ministries.

William Harris, earth sciences, presented the poster "Stratigraphic Considerations in Deepening the Wilmington Ship Channel, Baldhead Shoals to Wilmington, Cape Fear River, North Carolina" at the Southeastern Geological Society of America (SEGSA) meeting in Raleigh.

Steve Pullum, arts and sciences, was interviewed about contemporary faith healers on the talk show Your Perogative hosted by Rick Wood of WEBR-FM Internet radio in Fairfax, Va.

Doug Gamble, earth sciences, delivered "Applied Climatology Research on Tropical Islands" at an invited colloquium at the Department of Geography, East Carolina University. In addition, Gamble had the articles "Field Assessment of the Microclimatology of Tropical Flank Margin Caves" and "Lessons Learned from Hurricane Floyd Damage on San Salvador" accepted in the respective peer-reviewed journals Climate Research and Bahamas Journal of Science.

David Blake, earth sciences, presided over the session "Structural Geology and Tectonics" and co-presented "Late Permian of Brittle-Ductile Deformation within the Jonesboro Fault Zone Adjacent to the Mesozoic Deep River Basin, North Carolina" at the SEGSA meeting in Raleigh. In addition, Blake presented the poster "Extensional Fabric Development Along an Arc-Continent Boundary, Salmon River Canyon, West-Central Idaho" with student Cindy Martin. He also co-presented "Ductile-Brittle Relationships on the Western Flank of the Raleigh Metamorphic Belt, North Carolina" with student Kenneth Robitaille and "Terrane Relationships Across the Tar River Area, Franklin and Granville Counties, Eastern Piedmont of North Carolina" with Robitaille and Thomas O'Shaughnessy.

Ron Vetter, computer science, had the paper "A Multicast Tree Construction Algorithm for Large Multiparty Conferences" accepted for publication in the Journal of Telecommunication Systems. The paper was co-authored with Daniel Brekke at Minnesota State University-Moorhead and Paul Juell at North Dakota State University.

William Cleary, earth sciences, presided over the session "Beach Nourishment: The Wave of the Future for Erosion Control" at the SEGSA meeting in Raleigh. Cleary presented "Availability of Offshore Sand Resources for Shoreline Restoration in Southeastern North Carolina" and co-presented "A Reconnaissance Study of Shoreface Sand Resources off a Storm-impacted Barrier: Surf City, N.C." with students Joni Backstrom and M. Andrew McLeod. Cleary and McLeod presented "The Availability of Offshore Sand Resources for Erosion Mitigation on Figure Eight Island, N.C." and the poster "Geologic Mapping of a Muddy Shoreface: Oak Island, N.C." Cleary and student Christopher Freeman presented "Oceanfront Shoreline Change and Its Linkage to Ebb Delta Repositioning and Reconfiguration: Rich Inlet, N.C." In addition, Freeman presented "The Influence of Backbarrier Sedimentation on Tidal Inlet Migration: Mason Inlet, N.C."

James Dockal, earth sciences, presented "Boundary Relationships of the Looking Glass Pluton, Shining Rock Quadrangle, Transylvania County, N.C." at the SEGSA meeting in Raleigh.

Michael Smith, earth sciences, co-presented the poster "Comparison of Weak Acid Extraction Chemistry and Electron Microprobe Analysis of Paste Compositions from a Suite of Colonoware Pottery, Broom Hall Plantation, Charleston, S.C." at the SEGSA meeting in Raleigh.

Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, received $12,372 in supplemental funding from NURC/UNCW for the project "Ecology of Deep-water Reef Sponges."

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Research on Humans

Proposals for research involving human subjects submitted between May 14 and June 14 should be sent to Caroline Clements, psychology. Forms are available from the Office of Research Administration or via the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/ora/.

Equipment Purchases

As a reminder, equipment received prior to the end of the fiscal year must be accessible to tag by the Fixed Assets Department. Direct questions to Carol Sgambati at ext. 3875.

Summer Hours

UNCW will start summer hours May14 continuing through Aug. 10. During this period, official university hours are 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. Friday. This schedule allows for an half-hour lunch break. With supervisory approval employees may take an hour lunch and extend the workday.

Fire Testing

The physical plant will conduct its annual fire alarm tests and inspection May 11-18 following the schedule below.

May 11	Cameron Hall
May 14	Morton Hall
May 15	Kenan Hall
May 16	Dobo Hall
May 17	Randall Library
May 18	DeLoach Hall King Hall Kenan Auditorium

Hepatitis B Shots

Individuals participating in the Hepatitis B Shot Program sponsored by human resources, environmental health and safety and wellness services will receive their final shots May 10 and 11. Direct questions to wellness services at ext. 4137.

Note: Individuals who received their second injection through a doctor's office must bring proof that includes the date and location of when and where the shot was administered.

Swansea Director

May 10 is the deadline to submit an application for the position of resident director, UNCW spring semester in Swansea (Wales). The position is open for spring 2002 and 2003.

The resident director recruits students for the program, works with them during the semester and teaches in the American Studies Program at the University of Wales, Swansea. In addition to his/her UNCW salary, the director receives housing and travel expenses. Contact Robin Williams, international programs, at ext. 4051 for an application.

Commencement Volunteers

Commencement volunteers are needed May 19. All volunteers will work a four-hour shift. Volunteers are needed from 8 a.m. until noon for the morning ceremony and from 1 to 4 p.m. for the afternoon ceremony. Due to this year's increased demand for volunteers, human resources will allow "comp" time for university employees who volunteer for commencement. Commencement duties include collecting tickets, passing out programs, seating guests and answering general questions. Anyone who is interested should contact Mary Crookes at crookesm, or call the commencement office at ext. 7231. For more information on commencement, visit the commencement World Wide Web site at www.uncwil.edu/uniadv/commencement.

Volunteer Meeting

An information meeting for commencement volunteers will be held at 8 a.m. May 16 in the Golden Hawk Room. Volunteer assignments, nametags and parking permits will be given out at the meeting. Refreshments will be served. Direct questions to ext. 7231.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Andrew Paluck III, university police; Sharlene Pence, Student Health Center; and Laura Zefiretto, ITSD.

Bike Roundup

University police will conduct its bicycle roundup May 12-15. All bicycles, including those secured to bike racks, will be collected and impounded. This event is conducted annually to prevent larcenies and in preparation for the fall semester. Individuals should contact university police at ext. 3184 to prevent locks from being cut and bicycles from being impounded during this period. Direct questions to Charles Willis at ext. 3186 or David Donaldson at ext. 4018.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21182 Electrician II	May 11
21183 Maintenance Mech. IV	May 11
21184 Lateral Entry Police Officer	May 11
21185 Operations Manager	May 11
21186 Accounting Clerk III	May 11
21187 Procurement Assistant	May 11
21188 Work Order Clerk	May 11
21189 General Utility Worker	May 11
21190 Procurement Counselor	May 18
21191 Analytical Chemistry Technician	May 18
21192 Applications Programmer II	May 18
21193 Information Systems Liaison II	May 18
21194 Admin. Assistant I	May 18
21195 Processing Assistant IV	May 18
21196 Office Assistant IV	May 18
21197 Police Telecomm.	May 18
21198 Grounds Worker	May 18

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Summer Ads

Starting with the May 17 issue, the Campus Communique will publish personal ads while the university observes summer hours. E-mail submissions to communique@uncwil.edu, fax to ext. 3847 or campus mail to Westside Hall, Room 130. Include contact information. Ads are printed on a space-available basis.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 41 May 17, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Cape Fear Manufacturer, Porta-Nails Inc., Endows Scholarship

The Coleman family, owners of Porta-Nails Inc., has endowed a scholarship at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Establishing the Porta-Nails Inc. Scholarship is a demonstration of our belief in the value and importance of education, said Jerry Coleman Sr., Porta-Nails president and a 1956 graduate of Wilmington College with an associate's degree in pre-engineering. Coleman earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering at NC State University.

The scholarship is also a way for us to give back to the Cape Fear region, said the company's executive vice president, Jerry Coleman Jr.

"This region has been good to us – our family and our business," said Coleman. "It's important for the business community to support public education. Together, we can make a difference."

Patton McDowell, vice chancellor for the Division for University Advancement, said the university was honored by the contribution.

"UNCW is grateful for the generosity that the Coleman family has exhibited in committing to endow the Porta-Nails Inc. Scholarship," said McDowell. "Support for public education from private citizens and the business community is increasingly important in view of the state's budget concerns."

The Porta-Nails Scholarship will be a merit-based scholarship and will be open to students majoring in any four-year degree.

Porta-Nails Inc., established in 1979, is a manufacturer of hardwood floor-fastening tools, private label specialty tools and specialty woodworking tools. From its headquarters in Wilmington, the company's products are distributed throughout North America and Europe.

The Colemans with Patton McDowell, right, vice chancellor for university advancement. Jerry Coleman Sr., left, is an alumnus of Wilmington College.

Tom Morris to Speak at Commencement; Two Ceremonies Scheduled

Tom Morris, a well-known speaker and author, will address UNCW graduates May 19. A native North Carolinian, Morris is chair of the Morris Institute of Human Values in Wilmington.

A philosopher and corporate adviser, Morris has spoken nationally to General Motors, Ford Motor Company, GTE, IBM and the U.S. Air Force. He is the author of True Success: A New Philosophy of Business and If Aristotle Ran General Motors: The New Soul of Business. A graduate of UNC Chapel Hill, Morris was a professor of philosophy at Notre Dame for 15 years.

This year's graduation will mark the first time that the university will hold two ceremonies to accommodate increasing numbers of graduates.

Ceremonies for the College of Arts and Sciences will be held at 9:30 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m. for the professional schools (Cameron School of Business, Watson School of Education and the School of Nursing) in Trask Coliseum. Morris will speak at both ceremonies. He will also receive an honorary doctor of humanities degree.

UNCW-TV will broadcast the ceremonies live on The Learning Network of the Lower Cape Fear, seen locally on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

The Divison for Student Affairs will host "Tout Your Tassel" from 8 to 10 p.m. May 18 in the Warwick Center. Faculty and staff are invited to join seniors and their families at this event which includes a jazz band and refreshments. In addition, approximately 150 students will also take the Senior Pledge.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Green Named Arthur Ashe Sports Scholar

Marcus Green, a senior forward on the Seahawk men's basketball team, was named an Arthur Ashe Sports Scholar by Black Issues in Higher Education.

Established in 1992, the Arthur Ashe Sports Scholar award honors undergraduate minority students who exemplify standards set by the late tennis great. Candidates must compete in an intercollegiate sport, maintain a cumulative GPA of at least 3.2 and be active on their campuses or in their communities.

Green, a graduate of Wilmington Christian Academy, averaged 3.4 points and 4.1 rebounds per games this season. He set a school record by appearing in 120 games in four seasons and compiled a 3.59 GPA as a finance major.

Summer Youth Programs

Registration is open for the two summer youth programs listed below which are sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

Positively Reactive Chemistry Camp is scheduled for 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. June 18-22. Designed for children ages eight to 12, participants will conduct experiments in a safe, university laboratory. The cost is $130. Register by May 25.

Summer Science by the Sea Camp is for children ages seven to 11. Camp will be held June 11-15 and 25-29, July 9-13, 16-20, 23-27 and July 30 to Aug. 3. The cost is $106 per week.

To register for either camp, call ext. 3195.

Seahawk Helps with QAR

UNCW's R/V Seahawk supported the recovery of a cannon from the wreck of Queen Anne's Revenge, the flagship of the notorious pirate Blackbeard. The R/V Dan Moore from Cape Fear Community College lifted the cannon and transported it to the Marine Fisheries facility in Morehead City May 9.

Farewell Reception

The Division of Student Affairs will host a farewell reception for Leah Payne from 4 to 5 p.m. May 23 in the University Union Living Room.

Softball Coach Resigns

Maggie St. Ledger, head coach of the women's softball team, resigned to pursue other interests.

St. Ledger, who coached 995 games, had directed the Lady Seahawks since the university's fast-pitch program started in 1984. The Seahawks posted a 20-34 record this season and finished seventh in the eight-team Southern Conference.

"We appreciate Maggie's contributions to the program and wish her the very best in the future," said Peg Bradley-Doppes, athletic director.

"This is a difficult decision because I have dedicated my life to UNCW and all facets of the athletics program," said St. Ledger. "We had a good recruiting year, so the program is in excellent standing. I believe success lies just around the corner."

Student Affairs Awards

Employees in the Division of Student Affairs were recognized for their service at the division's annual banquet May 14. Marianne Gore, Tim McNeilly, Thom Rakes, Linda Register and Karen Thompson were honored for five years of service. Phillip Sharpe was recognized for 10 years of service and Lisa Small for 15 years of service.

The Office of Campus Activities and Leadership was named Outstanding Team, and Women's History Month received the Innovative Program Award. LaRonda Brewer, housing and residence life, received the Outstanding Service Award, and Nicole Hinson, student development services, was named Outstanding Achiever. Leah Payne, assistant dean of students, received the division's Gold Brick Award for outstanding service to peers.

Howard-Vital Appointed to State Education Board

Howard-Vital

Michelle Howard-Vital, vice chancellor for public service and extended education, was appointed to an eight-year term on the State Board of Education by Gov. Mike Easley. The appointment must be confirmed by the General Assembly.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a Junior Day Camp for girls ages six to 14 June 25-29 and a Senior Residential Camp for girls ages 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost of the day camp is $210. Fees for the residential camp are $400, $300 for commuters. The charge includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive at $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

Spofford Exhibit to Reopen in Library

The exhibit "Across the Dye Ditch: Remembering Delgado-Spofford Mill Hill" displayed during the Azalea Festival will reopen May 19 in Randall Library.

Graduate students from the university's Public History Program served as exhibit curators for the display which includes artifacts, photographs and documents from private collections. The Delgado-Spofford Cotton Mill was Wilmington's largest textile mill. It opened in 1899 and closed in 1967.

Golf Tournament

The eighth annual Cape Fear Alumni Golf Classic will be held May 18 at Castle Bay Country Club in Hampstead. The cost is $70 per person and includes green fees, cart, catered meal, door prizes and course beverages. Proceeds benefit scholarships and outreach programs of the UNCW Cape Fear Alumni chapter. For more information, contact Tom Lamont at ext. 2684 or e-mail lamontt.

Focus on Faculty and Staff

John Huntsman, earth sciences, along with students Benjamin Grosser, Jacinda Nettik, Grant Sha and Brian O'Shaughnessy presented the poster "An Inventory of Joints in the Roanoke Rapids Tailrace, Northeastern North Carolina" at the Southeastern Geological Society of America (SEGSA) meeting in Raleigh. In addition, Nettik co-presented the poster "Petrographic and Field Relations of a Portion of the Carroll Knob Mafic/Ultramafic Complex, Eastern Blue Ridge, Macon County, N.C." and "Geochemistry and Petrogenesis of the Carroll Knob Mafic/Ultramafic Complex, Macon County, N.C."

Philip Furia, creative writing, wrote and hosted "Irving Berlin in Hollywood," a performance by Broadway singers Judy Blazer and Jim Walton at the New York Historical Society. Furia was interviewed about the new film studies major for UNC-TV's North Carolina Now.

Lavonne Adams, creative writing, had the poem "Waiting at the RR Crossing" published in the current issue of Slant at the University of Central Arkansas.

Paul Thayer, presided over the session "Triassic Basins of the Southeastern United States" at the SEGAS meeting in Raleigh. Thayer also presented "Petrology and Geochemistry of Upper Triassic Dan River Group Sandstones, Dan River-Danville Basin, N.C. and Va." And co-presented the poster "Sedimentology of Pleistocene Waccamaw and Canepatch Formations, Todd Pit, Brunswick County, North Carolina" with student Michele Mabry.

William Cooper and Stephen Mezyk, chemistry, received $6,500 from the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) to fund training of an IAEA fellow from the King Abdulaziz City for Science and Technology.

Wilson Freshwater, CMS, received $8,500 in supplemental funding from the National Science Foundation for the project "REU Supplement – Molecular and Morphological Studies of Evolution in the Gelidiales (Rhodophyta)."

Summer Ads

Wanted: Old compact disks for art project. Hundreds needed. Any CDs acceptable, will be cut up for project. Send to Bill Overman, psychology.

For sale: Woman's black-and-white formal evening gown. Size 4T. Never worn. Paid $300, asking $75. Call Gayle at ext. 4169.

For sale: Full set of left-handed Ping clone golf clubs. Includes driving wood and iron, putter, bag and cart. $150. Call ext. 3664 or 792-1092.

For sale: 2BR, two-bath condominium, 410 Forest Park Road, No. 202. Upper unit with wall-to-wall carpeting, wood-burning fireplace and deck outside living area and master bedroom. Custom window and wall coverings throughout. $85,400. Call 452-9125.

For sale: 3BR, one-and-a-half bath brick home with attached garage in Silva Terra. $90,000. Call Donna Gunter at 452-5432 or ext 3688, or Genie Lancaster at 233-4333.

For sale: 2BR, cottage-style house with Victorian features in downtown Wilmington. Newly constructed. $99,500. Call 343-0019.

For sale: 3Br, two-and-a-half bath manufactured home in Pender County. Fifteen minutes from UNCW. Fireplace with gas logs, formal room, deck with attached in-ground pool, wired workshop/greenhouse. Double lot landscaped with numerous perennial flower beds. $89,900. Call 675-8122 after 5:30 p.m.

For sale: 3BR, two-bath home. 217 Cannon Road, Gorman Plantation. Cathedral ceilings, deck. Close to beach. Great school district. Wooded lot. Two-car garage. $166,900. Call ext. 7287.

For rent: 2BR, two-bath condominium. Pool, tennis courts. 20 minutes to ocean. $1,000 per month plus utilities. Available June 11 to October 12. Two months minimum stay required. $500 security deposit. Call Sally Case at 395-0211.

For rent: Faculty on research leave starting July 1 seeks renters for three-bedroom house in quiet neighborhood. Furnished or unfurnished. A 10-minute drive to UNCW. No smoking or pets. One-year lease. Contact Hal Langfur at ext. 3311 or 794-1161.

Needed: Home for black-and-white kitten. Found at Carriage House. Call Mary Crookes at ext. 7231.

Journalist David Brinkley Enshrined in Walk of Fame

Journalist and Wilmington native David Brinkley (top left) was honored with a star on the Celebrate Wilmington! Walk of Fame May 12.

More than 400 people attended the ceremony where Wayne Jackson (right), former WECT anchor and host of Carolina in the Morning, presented an overview of Brinkley's journalistic accomplishments.

Wilmington Star-News reporter Mark Schreiner (bottom left) talks with Brinkley during a reception at Kenan House.

Celebrate Wilmington! is a collaboration between the community, UNCW and the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear to promote cultural events and the Walk of Fame.

Summer Program Telephone Service

Summer program groups using telephone service in university housing will be charged a one-time fee of $20 per line which includes telephone sets. This charge will cover a 15-day period for each program. A $65 charge will be levied for each phone that is not returned to telecommunications.

Summer Hours for University Union and Warwick Center

The University Union and Warwick Center will observe the following schedule during summer hours: 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday. Except for special events, the facilities will close weekends through Aug. 11.

Fixed Assets Reminder

Annual inventory reports must be verified, approved and submitted to fixed assets by May 31.

Randall Library Summer Hours

Randall Library will observe the following schedule during summer hours: 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 10 p.m. Sunday.

Toner Cartridges

Don't throw away empty ink jet toner cartridges; recycle them at central stores. For details, call ext. 3097.

Shipping Services

Faculty and staff can send personal off-campus shipments through UPS at central stores. For more information, call ext. 3180 or 3097.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Julius Collins and Aaron Graham, physical plant; and Byron Croker, NURC.

Basketball Camps

The Men's Basketball Program will hold summer day camps June 11-15 and July 16-20 for boys ages eight to rising seniors. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Nominations for UNCW Staff Award of Excellence

Each year, UNCW selects an outstanding staff employee who exemplifies service to the campus or the community. Permanent career SPA or 12-month EPA employees can be nominated in the following categories: outstanding state service, innovations, safety and heroism, human relations and public service. Recipients receive a $1,500 check designated by the Board of Trustees, a reserved parking space for one year and three days of vacation leave. Nominations forms are available in human resources. The submission deadline is June 15.

Research on Humans

Proposals for research involving human subjects submitted through June 14 should be sent to Caroline Clements, psychology. Forms are available from the Office of Research Administration or via the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/ora/.

Farewell Reception

Randall Library will host a farewell reception for Donna Gunter, assistant university librarian for instructional services, at 3:30 p.m. May 21 at the library's first-floor art wall. Gunter is leaving after 10 years at UNCW for a position at UNC Charlotte.

Fulbright Applications

Fulbright applications for faculty for 2002-03 are due Aug. 1. The program offers grants in 37 disciplines for varying lengths ranging from two months to an academic year. For more information, call 202/686-4000 or visit www.cies.org on the World Wide Web.

Shared Leave

Curt Allen-Little, Kenan Auditorium, Cindy Anderson, accounting, Derrick Clemmons, landscape services, and David Crouch, housekeeping, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21190 Procurement Counselor	May 18
21191 Analytical Chemistry Technician	May 18
21192 Applications Programmer II	May 18
21193 Information Systems Liaison II	May 18
21194 Administrative Assist. I	May 18
21195 Processing Assistant IV	May 18
21196 Office Assistant IV	May 18
21197 Police Telecommunicator	May 18
21198 Grounds Worker	May 18
21199 Business and Marketing Coord./Fitness Assistant	May 25
21200 Point-of-sale Processing Technician	May 25
21201 GVU Program Assistant	May 25

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold two day camps for girls age eight to 15. The scheduled dates are June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

Photography Exhibit

The display "UNCW Photography 2000-01: A Student Exhibition" will be displayed through May 18 in the Warwick Center Lobby. The exhibit features work by students from Brownie Harris' photography class.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 42 May 24, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW and Ecology Communications Partner on Video Project

Environmental discoveries made by faculty and students at UNCW will soon have a worldwide audience as a result of a partnership with Ecology Communications formalized this spring.

The multitiered entrepreneurial partnership was announced by John Cavanaugh, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, and Eric McLamb, founder and president of Ecology Communications. McLamb, a 1978 graduate of UNCW with a bachelor's degree in English, is also a former vice president of Discovery Communications Inc.

"This strategic partnership will allow Ecology Communications to develop and package ecology-related content from UNC Wilmington research programs for distribution to a broad-based worldwide audience through television, Internet video streaming and other multimedia platforms," said Cavanaugh.

He noted that UNCW's two basic goals for this partnership are to obtain greater visibility and public awareness of the work being done by students and faculty researchers, particularly in the fields of marine and environmental science, and to generate revenue via its new state-of-the-art post-production facility.

"This is the first auxiliary service ever implemented within the Division for Academic Affairs," Cavanaugh said. "UNCW will provide Ecology Communications access to interview and tape scientists while they are doing their research. In turn, Ecology Communications will produce and disseminate high quality television documentaries and other World Wide Web programming for audiences around the world, especially middle and high school teachers and their students."

UNCW will generate revenue in large part by Ecology Communications' paying standard rates to complete its post-production work at the new facility. UNCW also will share in the profits from programs produced in collaboration with the university system. UNC President Molly Corbett Broad has encouraged all 16 of the UNC system campuses to seek opportunities to enhance revenue through innovative partnerships with business and industry.

McLamb said the relationship sets into place a "perpetual circle of support that continues to benefit the efforts of both parties without straying from their primary tasks. In essence, both parties are combining complementary assets in a progressive business model that is mutually beneficial." McLamb explained that UNCW and Ecology Communications will work together to identify content that is beneficial for video production as well as usage on the Internet and related areas. Ecology Communications will distribute this content on television, in worldwide syndication and on the Internet at www.ecology.com with UNCW credit and co-branding.

UNCW alumnus Eric McLamb in the video editing suite at New Centre Drive.

"This provides Ecology with authoritative content and UNCW with significantly expanded outreach support," McLamb said. In addition, the establishment of the professional post-production facility will provide on-campus academic support for students to experience world-class production and to learn and participate in the process.

An added benefit of the arrangement will be to faculty when they apply for grants.

"Ecology Communications can work closely with faculty to help provide significant outreach support for their research to have a positive impact on a broad, but well-defined, audience or user group. Ecology's content normally targets middle through post-secondary school students and the lifelong learner. The scientific community is also targeted as appropriate, primarily through Internet coverage," McLamb said.

"This new partnership with Ecology Communications is a wonderful teaching opportunity for our faculty in the sciences, as well as an exciting learning opportunity for our students in communication studies and in film studies," Jo Ann Seiple, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. "The partnership will enable our educational programs to achieve a level of public outreach never possible to us before and give our own undergraduate students

See Video Project on Page 2

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Physics Colloquium

Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton professor of astronomy at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, will present "The Great Impactor" at 3 p.m. June 21 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

Business Reply Mailings

Departments that prepare business reply mailings should contact postal services for automation qualification which results in an eight-cent reduction per piece. For more information, contact Karen Brunamonti at ext. 3750.

Campus Mail Envelopes

Send extra intercampus envelopes to the post office.

Research Subjects Needed

Linda MacRae, a graduate student in the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program, would like to talk with women who are or who were stepmothers. MacRae, who is researching the stepmother experience, is at ext. 7435.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a Junior Day Camp for girls ages six to 14 June 25-29 and a Senior Residential Camp for girls ages 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost of the day camp is $210. Fees for the residential camp are $400, $300 for commuters. The charge includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

Basketball Camps

The Men's Basketball Program will hold a summer day camp June 11-15 for boys ages eight through rising high school senior and July 16-20 for boys ages eight through rising high school freshman. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Concert Association Deadline

June 1 is the deadline to retain seating reservations for the Wilmington Concert Association's 2001-02 season. The season subscription is $80. Contact the Kenan Auditorium box office at ext. 3500.

WSO Golf Tournament

The fourth annual Wilmington Symphony Orchestra (WSO) Golf Tournament is scheduled for June 18 at Magnolia Greens Golf Plantation. Registration will start at 8 a.m. The tournament format is captain's choice. Teams of four players can register for $500. Individual registration is $125. For more information, contact the WSO at 791-9262.

Note of Appreciation

Mary Crookes, university events coordinator, and Patsy Larrick, special events director, would like to thank all the UNCW staff members who were involved in commencement ceremonies May 19. All university divisions had a vital role in the event, both "behind the scenes" and on the day of the ceremonies. "The team effort put forth by everyone resulted in another successful event and made commencement a very special and memorable day for graduates and their families," said Crookes.

UNCW
CAMERON SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

U.S. Sen. John Edwards (D-N.C.) addressed UNCW honors students, faculty, staff and others May 18 in the University Union courtyard. He held a 50-minute question-and-answer session as one of several weekend forums in Eastern North Carolina. The senator responded to a variety of topics including questions about nursing shortages, Alaskan oil drilling, tax cuts and environmental concerns.

Video Project continued from Page 1

valuable experience with state-of-the-art technology used in video production for a variety of media.

"Given the dwindling state funding to support public universities, partnerships like this one are becoming increasingly important to the fulfillment of our dual mission to provide our students with a high-quality undergraduate education and to provide public access to our educational programs. I'm very grateful to Ecology Communications for extending this opportunity to UNC Wilmington, and I know that it will benefit, in turn, from working with our excellent faculty and students."

In addition to its partnership with UNCW, Ecology Communications has established ecologically related collaborations with a number of other institutions and related educational organizations to provide support in authoritative content development, production and educational outreach. Among those are the University of California at Los Angeles School of Public Health and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Center for Environmental Initiatives.

Ecology Communications started working with UNC Wilmington last summer when the NOAA National Undersea Research Center at UNCW organized the deep-sea exploration of the Gulf of Mexico. This resulted in Ecology Communications' major production Life on the Edge: The Deep Sea Gulf and extensive coverage of the mission on its Web site www.ecology.com.

UNCW

Direct Deposit for Premium and Overtime Checks Effective June 15, 2001

As a continuing effort to serve the university community, the Payroll Office is pleased to announce that the Direct Deposit Program will apply to the mid-month premium and overtime checks.

No additional enrollment forms are needed to take advantage of the mid-month direct deposit program. Employees enrolled in direct deposit for their regular payroll check are enrolled for the premium/OT program.

Please direct questions concerning this change to the Payroll Office at ext. 3163 or 3752.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Patricia Kelley, earth sciences, presided over the session "Paleontology and Paleobotany" at the Southeastern Geological Society of American meeting in Raleigh. Kelley presented "Naticid Gastropod Predation in the Paleogene of the Gulf and Atlantic Coastal Plains: Testing Hypotheses in Evolutionary Paleoecology." In addition, she co-presented "Predation on Irregular Echinoids (Eocene) from the Castle Hayne Limestone, Atlantic Coastal Plain" with student Timothy Woodcock, "The Role of Anti-Predatory Morphology in Molluscan Survivorship Through the End-Cretaceous Mass Extinction" with Mark Reinhold and "Isotopic Reconstruction of Growth Rates: Metabolism, Escalation and Extinction Susceptibility of Middle Miocene Bivalve with Gregory Dietl.

Len Lecci, psychology, had the paper "Investigating the Effects of Physical Discomfort on Laboratory-induced Mood States" accepted for publication in the Journal of Behavior Therapy and Experimental Psychiatry. It was co-authored by graduate student R. J. Wirth.

Lynn Leonard, Stephen Kinsey and Joanne Halls, earth sciences, along with student Shelly Miller presented the poster "Phosphorous as a Biogeochemical Indicator of Anthropogenic Effects in Estuarine Watersheds" at the Southeastern Geological Society of American meeting in Raleigh. Leonard co- presented the posters "Transplanted Oyster (Crassostrea Virginica) Beds as Self-Sustaining Mechanisms for Water Quality Improvement in Small Tidal Creeks" with student Kimberly Nelson, "Suspended Particulate Matter Transport in the Lower Cape Fear River System" with student Tina Roberts and "Effects of Dredged Material Disposal on Tidal Marsh Processes" with student Alex Croft. Leonard and student Ansley Wren presented "Sediment Mobility During Storms on the Mid-Continental Shelf: Onslow Bay, N.C."

Richard Morrison, management and marketing, is featured in the May 28 issue of Forbes magazine. The article "Cape Dear" cites Wilmington as an attractive location for pre-retirees due to its location, climate, size, university and proximity to larger, urban areas such as Raleigh, Durham and Charlotte.

Steve Ross, CMS, received $18,000 in supplemental funding from the N.C. Department of Environment and Natural Resources for the project "Assessment and Monitoring of Estuarine Habitat Diversity."

Virginia W. Adams, nursing, was the keynote speaker at the inaugural Philippine Nurses Association of North Carolina annual convention in Raleigh. The conference theme was "North Carolina as a Community: A Challenge to the Filipino Nurses." Adams spoke about delivering culturally relevant and quality health care to families in North Carolina. Race data from the 2000 U.S. Census was used to identify potential strategies to help Filipino nurses promote "community" among diverse cultures in the state.

Pam Whitlock, ORA, is chair-elect of the Society of Research Administrators (SRA). She presented the sessions "Effective Closeouts" and "Electronic Research Administration for Small Institutions" at the SRA Southern section meeting and conducted the certified research administrator review for members who plan to take the certification exam in the fall.

SUMMER ADS

Needed: A great home with fenced yard for two dogs: a six-and-a-half pound papillon and a 50-pound boxer. Cannot be adopted together. Call. C. Johnston at 799-2056 or 799-2072.

For sale: Two cemetery lots and vaults in Greenlawn Memorial Park. $5,000. Call 790-9126 or ext. 3083.

For sale: Black dining room table with six chairs and table extension. $80. Call ext. 3320 or 675-9490.

For sale: 1995 Dodge Intrepid. Automatic with power locks, windows and mirrors. Sony AM/FM/CD. Cruise control. $3,300. Call ext. 3854.

For sale: One-level brick townhouse in Tifton Park. Vaulted ceiling and skylight in living area. Oxford floor plan featuring formal dining room or office. 2BR, two baths, patio and two-car garage. $124,900. Call Trudy at 256-9503.

For sale: 2BR, two-bath, 1,000 square-foot house on the river. Screened front porch. Twenty miles from Wilmington. $135,000. Call 283-7807.

For sale: Bedroom suite. Queen-size sleigh bed with extra support piece, night table and wardrobe with mirror and drawers. One-year old. Mattress and box springs not included but negotiable. Paid $1,700. Will sell for half price. Call ext. 3522.

For sale: Beautiful, healthy eight-week old kittens. Neutered/spayed, $20 and $30. Call 602-3664.

For sale: Five tickets to James Taylor concert at Alltel Pavilion. 8 p.m. June 9. Lawn seating. $20 each. Call Kate Bruce at ext. 3374 or Mark Galizio at ext. 3813.

For sale: Two garden hoses with reel, $20 each. Two Adirondack chairs with foot rests and table, $25. Broadcast spreader, $25. Fertilizer/weed control sprayer, $5. Sears Craftsman mulching mower with gas can, $125. Cross-country ski machine, $50. Adjustable printer stand, $20. Ten-cubic-foot chest-type freezer, $100. Double bed with brass head board, $75. Additional household items and garden tools. Call ext. 3731.

Wanted: Non-motorized push mower. Call Tara Nye at 350-2021 or e-mailnyet@uncwil.edu.

For sale: 4BR, two-bath home, 4906 College Acres Drive. Living room, dining room, large den with fireplace, eat-in kitchen, attached garage and fenced back yard. Stable neighborhood. Walk/bike to campus, stores and restaurants. $155,900. Call Brooks or Mary Kay Dodson 791-6807.

For sale: Compaq computer, purchased January 2001. 64 MB Ram. 750 MHZ processor. HP color printer, speakers, unattached zip drive, 10 extra programs and comes with a surge protector. Call 792-1516 in evenings.

For sale: Waterview lot at Inlet Watch Estates at Carolina Inlet. 150 x 90 feet. Not in the floodplain. 22-foot dry boat slip. Club house, tennis court, swimming pool and community water and sewer. $58,900. Call John Bennett at 452-4867.

Summer Shipping

During summer hours, Federal Express and UPS departmental shipping must be called in by 9 a.m. Friday.

Business Affairs Personnel Changes

Robert Russell was named director of budgets. He will provide budgetary support to the university community. Russell was previously director of resource management in the Division for Academic Affairs. Before joining UNCW, Russell was a U.S. Navy captain with 24 years of service. His new telephone extension is 7540.

Kay Ward was appointed assistant vice chancellor for business affairs. She served as UNCW's director of budgets for 10 years and manager of student accounts for four years. Prior to UNCW, Ward held positions in the private sector as well as at other universities. Ward's telephone extension is 3383.

Work Order E-mail

The new e-mail address to submit physical plant work orders is ppwork@uncwil.edu. For work orders that need immediate attention after regular hours, call ext. 3184.

Payroll Reminder

Departments and offices should forward all human resources documents and time sheets to payroll by June deadlines in order to charge to fiscal year 2000-01 departmental funds. Documents received after the deadlines will be charged to 2001-02 fiscal year funding. This includes substitute checks.

Summer Program Telephone Service

Summer program groups using telephone service in university housing will be charged a one-time fee of $20 per line which includes telephone sets. This charge will cover a 15-day period for each program. A $65 charge will be levied for each phone that is not returned to telecommunications.

Fixed Assets Reminder

Annual inventory reports must be verified, approved and submitted to fixed assets by May 31.

Research on Humans

Proposals for research involving human subjects submitted through June 14 should be sent to Caroline Clements, psychology. Forms are available from the Office of Research Administration or via the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/ora/.

Shared Leave

Curt Allen-Little, Kenan Auditorium, Cindy Anderson, accounting, Derrick Clemmons, landscape services, David Crouch and Raylien Stanfield, housekeeping, and Dana Little, CTE need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Derrick Howard, central stores.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21199	Business and Marketing Coord./Fitness Asst.	May 25
21200	Point-of-sale Processing Technician	May 25
21201	GVU Program Assistant	May 25

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Library Summer Hours

Randall Library will observe the following schedule during summer hours: 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 10 p.m. Sunday.

In Memorial

Carol L. Thysell, a respected and popular faculty member in UNCW's Department of Philosophy and Religion, passed away May 19 after a long battle with cancer.

A native of Minnesota, Thysell received a bachelor's degree from Concordia College, a Master of Arts in English Literature from North Dakota State University, a Master of Divinity from Yale Divinity School and a Ph.D. in religion and literature from the University of Chicago. Thysell joined UNCW in 1995 to teach courses on women and religion as well as religion and literature. Her research focus was the religious writings of women in early modern Europe.

Awarded tenure and promoted to associate professor, Thysell was at the beginning of what promised to be a distinguished career, said Joe Wilson, department chair. She wrote The Pleasure of Discernment: Marguerite de Navarre as Theologian, published by Oxford University Press (2000) and was developing an international reputation based on an interdisciplinary approach which incorporated religious studies, literature, gender studies and early modern studies with her ability to explicate religion as it is mirrored in literature and shaped by gender.

Active in the Women's Studies Program and in the Feminist Colloquium at UNCW, Thysell gave numerous lectures and presentations on women's issues in religion and had the gift of being articulate and engaging to both students and colleagues.

She is survived by her husband, Mark Opgrand, her mother, a sister, two brothers and many friends.

A memorial service was held May 22 at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The College of Arts and Sciences and the Philosophy and Religion Department will host an informal gathering from 3 to 5 p.m. May 24 in the University Union Living Room as an opportunity to share memories of Thysell with one another.

Light refreshments will be served.

MILDRED P SIMON
LIBRARY ASSISTANT
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 43 May 31, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Ogden Elementary Educator Named Technology Teacher of the Year

UNC
Development System

Cheryl Hawkins, center, a third-grade teacher at Ogden Elementary School, won a Dell GX150 Computer as UNCW's Technology Teacher of the Year. Arnie Lucius, education sales representative with Dell, and Wendy Marshall from the UNCW Watson School of Education presented the computer May 24.

Cheryl Hawkins, a third-grade teacher at Ogden Elementary School, was named the UNCW Watson School of Education Technology Teacher of the Year. In recognition of the honor, she received a Dell GX150 personal computer.

The award is sponsored by the Watson School of Education Professional Development System (PDS) and Dell Computer Corp. and honors a teacher who exhibited individual excellence in the use of instructional technology in the classroom.

"The concept of the PDS Technology Teacher of the Year is an outgrowth of the annual technology conference hosted by the Watson School of Education," said Wendy Marshall, technology outreach coordinator for the education school. "The goal was to motivate teachers to incorporate technology throughout their curricula."

A six-member selection committee chose Hawkins from 10 applicants. In addition to the application, the teachers submitted recommendation letters from their principals and a three- to five-minute VHS tape that illustrated how they incorporated technology to improve student learning.

"I'm very honored by this award," said Hawkins, a 16-year classroom veteran. "There are so many excellent teachers utilizing technology in the classrooms." She added that the computer would allow her to "expand individualized student instruction and aid in preparation of teaching materials and resources."

According to Ogden Elementary School Principal Cindy Talbert, Hawkins took the initiative to expand her technology skills to enhance student learning. "Mrs. Hawkins' dedication and her full participation in specialized training are evidence of her commitment to professional growth and understanding the role technology has in educating young children."

Hawkins said the technology training she received through the Watson School of Education Professional Development System was extremely beneficial. "UNCW's school of education keeps us on the cutting edge of the teaching profession."

The university's nationally recognized Professional Development System works to improve teacher training and provides a support system for all levels of growth in teacher development. With established partnerships at 10 school systems throughout the region to improve teaching methodology, it is an example of how the university's regional outreach programs improve the lives of the citizens of Southeastern North Carolina.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Aquarius Video Conference

More than 300 middle school students in Florida participated in an hour-long interactive video conference between Aquarius and the Ft. Lauderdale Museum of Discovery and Sciences. Students asked questions of six aquanauts living aboard the underwater research laboratory. The team, led by Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, is studying the growth and ecology of reef sponges. The May 23 event was broadcast to thousands of students in Broward County classrooms through the Broward Education Communications Network.

USS North Carolina to Host Film Screenings

Philip Furia, director of UNCW's Film Studies Program, will introduce screenings of four MGM musicals aboard the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial in June.

The Fabulous 50 Cents Fantail Film Festival, sponsored by Time Warner Cable, Wilmington Star-News, Community Arts Center, UNCW and the battleship, will start June 8 with the 1939 classic Wizard of Oz. An American in Paris and Singin' in the Rain, starring Gene Kelly, will show June 15 and 22, respectively. The festival concludes with Gigi June 29. All shows start at 8:30 p.m. In the event of rain, the films will be presented in the battleship auditorium. Tickets are 50 cents per person per film.

For more information, call 251-5797 or visit the World Wide Web site www.battleshipnc.com.

CMS Web Site

A redesigned World Wide Web site for the Center for Marine Science can be accessed at www.uncwil.edu/cmsr/.

Physics Colloquium

Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton Professor of Astronomy at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, will present "The Great Impactor" at 3 p.m. June 21 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

Off-campus Housing

Students who need assistance locating off-campus housing should be directed to the Commuter and Nontraditional Student Services Center, the Seahawk Perch.

The center has information regarding apartment complexes, rental and purchase options as well as an off-campus housing list of roommates. The Seahawk Perch is located in the University Union, Room 100.

For more information, contact Kate Temoney at ext. 7371, e-mail seaperchstu or visit the World Wide Web site www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/doso/comm.

Hurricane Preparedness Expo in Trask Coliseum

The third Project Impact Hurricane Preparedness Expo will be held from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. June 2 at Trask Coliseum. More than 100 exhibitors will attend this free event that is designed to assist residents to prepare for hurricane season. Educational seminars on retrofitting homes for hurricanes, flood insurance and fire and generator safety will be offered. For more information, contact Steve Meinhold, political science, at ext. 3223.

Research Subjects Needed

Linda MacRae, a graduate student in the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program, would like to talk with women who are or who were stepmothers. MacRae, who is researching the stepmother experience, is at ext. 7435.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a junior day camp for girls ages six to 14 June 25-29 and a senior residential camp for girls ages 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost of the day camp is $210. Fees for the residential camp are $400, $300 for commuters. The charge includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive at $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

Basketball Camps

The Men's Basketball Program will hold a summer day camp June 11-15 for boys ages eight through rising high school senior and July 16-20 for boys ages eight through rising high school freshman. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Landfall Foundation Grant Applications

The Landfall Foundation is accepting applications from non-profit agencies and organizations for 2001-02 funding.

Application guidelines and forms can be downloaded from the Web site www.seafunders.org or requested by writing to the Landfall Foundation, 1838 Gleneagles Lane, Wilmington, NC 28405. Submit four copies of the application by 5 p.m. July 13.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold two day camps for girls ages eight to 15. The scheduled dates are June 28 through July 1 and July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

Book Sale

The Youth Recognition Program, which is affiliated with the Community Affordable Housing Equity Corporation, will hold a book sale from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. June 2 and 9 at the Willow Ponds Recreation Center on Darlington Avenue.

Fulbright Applications

Fulbright applications for faculty for 2002-03 are due Aug. 1. The program offers grants in 37 disciplines for varying lengths ranging from two months to an academic year. For more information, call 202/686-4000 or visit www.cies.org.

UNCW PURCHASING CARD

UNCW

Purchasing Newsletter

May, 2001

Purchasing Pipeline

Director's Message

UNCW is quickly approaching fiscal "Year End". Orders funded with state money or any funds expiring June 30th, must be received and invoiced by that date in order to NOT be carried over to next fiscal year's budget. Please carefully analyze any purchasing needs you may still have for the remainder of the year. Placing orders at this late date will undoubtedly need special attention. Purchasing staff is available to assist you as needed.

In my new role as Director of Purchasing, I strive to maintain excellent service for you within the boundaries set by UNCW and the state of NC. Purchasing's superb staff makes it easy for me. We're excited about challenges ahead. Purchasing staff roles are changing and can be viewed on our website. E-Commerce is on our horizon! Watch for news in upcoming Communiqués.

I continue to be availabe to discuss particular departmental purchasing needs at your staff meetings or on an individual basis. Give me a call at extension 3154 or email forsythem.

I am hoping all your purchasing experiences are pleasant ones.

Mary E. Forsythe, C.P.M.

Setting our sails ...

From now through June 30th, the primary responsibility of Purchasing will be to expedite outstanding purchase orders. During the week of June 25th, only emergency orders will be processed. "Emergency" means any order that may incorporate a life-threatening situation or any order necessary for the continuation of a program. The director of Purchasing must approve all emergency requisitions.

FUTURE REQUISITIONS (FR) - This order type should be used for orders that will be received, invoiced and encumbered in the next fiscal year but must be ordered in the current fiscal year. This type will not encumber as a requisition. In the following fiscal year, a purchase order encumbrance entry will occur.

RECEIVING - Receiving goods in a timely manner becomes even more critical at fiscal year end. Please help yourself and us to assure expenditures are depleted from this fiscal year budget by forwarding the pink receiving copy (or partial receiving copy) of a purchase order to us promptly upon receipt of goods. Please review any open orders you may have received and call us immediately if you suspect that a received order is not correct or does not belong to you. Your assistance is appreciated in contributing to what we hope to be a 100% complete year end with no outstanding general fund purchase orders!

... for a new fiscal year!

RENEWAL REQUESTS– Renewals have been mailed for the first quarter of FY 01-02. Please take action on these requests immediately to assure purchase orders are issued and contracts are renewed on time.

STANDING ORDERS—Remember to enter requisitions for standing orders that are needed in FY 01-02. If the requisition is entered prior to June 30th, enter the requisition type as "FR".

PINK & BLUE COPIES—As you know, Purchasing can issue purchase orders in this fiscal year for goods or services that will be received and invoiced for in the next fiscal year. For those future orders that are issued prior to June 30th, the blue copy of purchase orders issued for FY 01-02 will be forwarded to the department as they are issued to advise you that the order has been placed. Due to receiving requirements, the pink copy will be mailed to the departments after July 1st.

We are on the web: www.uncwil.edu/purchasing

Purchasing Reminders

- AFTER THE FACT PURCHASES - If you have made a purchase and did not follow University purchasing procedures (i.e. did not use purchase order or purchasing card), you must request payment via a check request . This check request must be forwarded to Purchasing with an explanation justifying the reason(s) that university policy was not followed.
- EXPEDITING - Purchasing expedites all open orders after the expected delivery date has passed. If a response cannot be obtained in writing, we verbally request status and notify you of any acknowledgement/delivery information. Please understand, we are always aware of open orders, but if you feel as though a reasonable amount of time has passed with no word from us, feel free to call us for help. Purchasing will contact you within two (2) working days to advise of the status.
- STANDING ORDERS - Individuals picking up items purchased against a standing order are reminded to forward the cash receipts and/or delivery ticket to Accounting with the partial receiving copy of the po. When the standing order is complete, the pink copy should be forwarded to Purchasing so that we can close it and liquidate any outstanding open commitments.

STAFF NEWS

Retired:

Phyllis Adams	12/31/00
Charles Sanders	1/31/01

Promotions:

Mary E. Forsythe to Director
Nita B. Hartless to Assistant Director

New Staff:

Carrie W. Hoyle - Customer Svc. Representative
Debbie L. Moldovan - Purchasing Assistant

Service Anniversaries:

Nita Hartless	4/01	3 years
Diana Rivenbark	4/01	17 years
Frieda Antrican	2/01	7 years
John Matney	2/01	2 years
Rhonda Diggs	2/01	2 years

REBATES

Before counting on a manufacturer's rebate to save money on your UNCW purchases, read the terms and conditions carefully. We don't usually qualify for rebates when we use po's or UNCW purchasing cards because we can't meet the seller's "Official Terms & Conditions for Redemption". You are usually required to submit your original itemized and dated sales receipt in order receive a rebate. In most cases, a Purchase Order does not qualify as a receipt, and neither does a copy of the cancelled check that was issued to pay for the PO. When using your Purchasing Card at a retail store, you are required to submit your itemized and dated sales receipt with your monthly statement to Purchasing. If the manufacturer will accept a copy of your receipt instead of the original, then you might be able to qualify. If you obtain a rebate, it must be credited back to the account number used to make the original purchase.

REQUISITION NEWS

Standard Text Codes

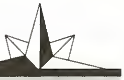
When submitting electronic requisitions, it helps to let us know when you have any special processing needs. The following standard text codes have been set up for you to communicate your needs. Please enter them on screen 251, as appropriate when submitting your requisitions.

001 - Attachments will follow in campus mail.
002 - Attachments will be hand-delivered to Purchasing.
003 - Priority / Please Rush!
004 - Purchasing—Please call vendor with PO number.
007 - Please fax purchase order to vendor.

ATTENTION NEW EMPLOYEES

Requisition Training

Purchasing is offering requisition training on Tuesday, June 19th at 9:00 am and Thursday, June 21st at 2:30 pm. Please call Diana at ext. 3153 to sign up for a class.



Quarterly Inspiration

·We are all as different as the waves, but all united as the sea.

DID YOU KNOW?

- State contracts can be viewed from our website (address above).
- Purchasing processes approximately 10,000 purchase orders a year.
- We have over 300 active purchasing cards.

UNCW Purchasing Card

"NEW"
Purchasing Card
And PACS Manuals
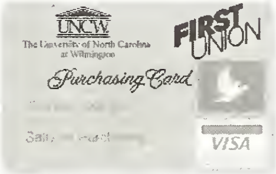
Available on Web
www.uncwil.edu/purchasing



"NEW"
PUR 2.00
Posted to Administrative Procedures

Enrollment - With department head approval, responsible permanent employees can obtain a Purchasing Card to accommodate supply purchases under $500. Enrollment Set Up Forms can be completed and printed from the Forms Directory at http://www.uncwil.edu/sp/AdmForms/INDEX.htmL

Purchases - Supplies, as defined in the 2000 line of the chart of accounts, are the only allowable purchases. Services are NOT ALLOWED and it is the responsibility of the cardholder to make the distinction. We're trying to help by blocking "service establishments" but you can always call Purchasing for assistance.

Signature Requirements - Two (2) full signatures are required on every statement, the cardholder and the budget authority. When a budget authority is also a cardholder, the second signature can be the card coordinator or budget authority designee. Full signatures are required.

Web Purchases - Your VISA Card number can now be used on the web to make purchases. Please verify that you are using a secure site and that the vendor is legitimate. Purchasing can assist when needed.

Year End Issues - To assure posting to this year's budget, we recommend that you make your card purchases no later than June 10th. This should allow plenty of time for vendors to post the charges to the bank. Charges posted to the bank after June 16th will post against your 2001-2002 budget.

Change in Roles - Please notify Purchasing when there are changes in roles relative to your card handling.

Compliance - UNCW is committed to continuous audit of purchasing card transactions to assure the highest possible degree of compliance. Purchasing is monitoring statements for acceptable "gifts". ("Gifts" to employees need additional documentation, name of recipient and purpose of gift. Reference procedure PUR 1.70 to assure compliance.) All receipts must be an original with description and price. Statements must be forwarded to Purchasing by month end. Appropriateness of funds used is of the utmost importance and is closely monitored by Accounting. Address questions to Sonda Jensen, ext. 3150.

PACS - PACS (Purchasing Administrative Card System) is made available to modify account numbers and/or object codes to which your transactions are charged. PACS also assists Accounting with your input of out-of-state sales tax. PACS is easy to use but call us if you need additional training.

PACS Enhancements - Enhancements are currently being tested for PACS. Watch your e-mail for more details and release dates.

Use of Purchasing Card for Office Supplies

Office Depot is the only State Contract vendor for office supplies in Wilmington. In order to receive State Contract prices when making purchases with your Purchasing Card, please follow these procedures:

1. Call Office Depot in Charlotte, 1-800-997-8501, and request the Customer Service Department.
2. Give the customer service representative our Account # - 28572460, but make sure they know to bill your credit card number. (Remind them that you'll need an itemized statement of your purchase.)
3. If you wish to pick up the items at the local store the same day, inform the rep that you will pick up at Store #197. (They also deliver to Central Receiving the next business day at no charge.)
4. Instruct the rep to put your "full name, Department and VISA" on the outside of ALL boxes to be delivered to the warehouse.

System Upgrade - Effective June 24th, First Union will be transferring the servicing and administration of the VISA program to MBNA America. Following are questions and answers that will assist you with this change:

- Who is MBNA?
  MBNA is the world's largest independent credit card lender and is widely known for providing the finest credit card products backed by consistently top-quality customer service. MBNA has been providing commercial card programs to customers since 1988. Prior to the partnership with First Union, MBNA was the 8th largest issuer of commercial cards and is now among the 5 largest commercial bankcard issuers.

- Will my credit card number remain the same?
  Yes. All credit card numbers will remain the same.

- Will we be receiving new credit cards as a result of the upgrade?
  No. Your current cards will be valid until the expiration date printed on your existing card.

- When will our new cards be issued?
  Prior to the expiration date shown on your existing credit card, you will receive a new card. Upon receipt of your new card, please destroy your old card.

- Will the card design change as a result of the upgrade?
  UNCW will now be embossed below the cardholder name on each card and will replace any other information that is currently being embossed in this same location.

- Do we call a different number for lost/stolen cards?
  No. Continue to call 800-704-0883 to report a lost/stolen card.

- Will we see any changes on our statements?
  Yes. The format and design will change; however, the content of all statements will remain the same.

- Will the closing dates of our cycle change?
  No. Our statement cycle will continue to begin on the 17th of the month and end on the 16th of the following month.

- Are there other changes that will affect my card?
  Purchasing will advise you of any additional changes that may be forthcoming.

- How will this affect PACS?
  There will be no change to PACS.

- Since the transition is occurring in the middle of a cycle, will we receive a statement from First Union and one from MBNA?
  No. You will receive one statement from MBNA that will include all transactions.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Karen Thompson, career services, received the 2001 Outstanding Professional Service Award from the Department of Communication Studies at the department's annual awards banquet. The honor recognized "her significant contributions to the faculty and students in the Department of Communication Studies."

Steve Harper, management and marketing, had his latest book The Forward-Focused Organization, published by the American Management Association.

Martin Posey, Lawrence Cahoon and Troy Alphin, biological sciences, received $46,829 in supplemental funding from North Carolina Sea Grant for the project "Interactions Between Nutrient Additions and Trophic Controls: Scaling Effects and System Variability."

Alina Szmant, CMS and biological sciences, received $198,421 in supplemental funding from National Sea Grant for "Fisheries Habitat: Restoration of Coral Reef Fisheries Habitat by Enhancement of Coral Recruitment with Cultured Coral Larvae in Conjunction with Substrate Improvement by Reintroduction of Sea Urchin Herbivores."

Nelson Reid, social work, received $30,000 from East Carolina University to provide a weekend and evening Master of Social Work Program in cooperation with ECU's School of Social Work and Criminal Justice.

William Cleary, CMS and earth sciences, received $37,248 in supplemental funding from North Carolina Sea Grant for the project "Relationship of Hazard Zones, Shoreline Erosion and Post-storm Recovery to the Geologic Framework of Selected Shoreline Segments in Southeastern North Carolina."

Wade Watanabe, CMS, received $10,550 in supplemental funding from North Carolina Sea Grant for the project "Aquaculture of Southern Flounder: Improved Production Through Environmental and Nutritional Optimization."

Laela Sayigh, biological sciences, received $41,206 in supplemental funding for the project "Monitoring for Bottlenose Dolphins, Sea Turtles and Manatees in Wilmington Harbor, N.C.: Year Two."

Karen Sandell, social work, received $56,630 in supplemental funding from the N.C. Department of Health and Human Services for "Phase III Child Welfare Pre-service Training Project."

Steve Dworkin, psychology, received $7,210 in funding from California Pacific Medical Center Research Institute for the project "Non-opioid DYNA: Molecular/Cellular/Physiological Studies."

Wendy Marshall, specialty studies, received $140,000 from Microsoft for the project "Teaching our Teachers."

SUMMER ADS

For rent: 2BR, two-bath condominium. Twenty minutes to ocean. Pool, tennis courts. $1,000 per month plus utilities. Available June 11 through Oct. 12. Two-month minimum stay. $500 security deposit. Contact Sally Case at 395-0211.

For sale: Solid walnut desk, $200. Call 343-0019.

For sale: Newly constructed, two-bedroom, cottage-style house with Victorian features in historic downtown Wilmington. Brick privacy fence. $99,500. Call 343-0019.

Needed: Home for three white kittens. Contact Pat Kline at ext. 3105.

For sale: 1993 Honda Accord. Low mileage. Clean and mechanically sound. Call 686-6248.

For sale: 3BR, two-bath house in Gorman Plantation. 217 Cannon Road. Deck, cathedral ceilings. Close to beach with great schools. Wooded lot, two-car garage, many upgrades. $156,900. Call ext. 7287.

For sale: 3BR, two-and-a-half bath home in Kensington Place. 6012 Dorsett Place. Low-country design with wrap-around porch and columns. Vaulted ceilings with balcony overlooking family room. Subdivision is a quiet, family-friendly neighborhood located about two miles from campus. $259,000. Call ext. 3584 or 792-6727.

For rent: 3BR, two-bath home with large screened porch, deck and beautiful, large yard with privacy fence. Close to UNCW and beach. 370 Toulon Drive. $950 per month includes yard maintenance. No smoking or pets. Call Pat Comeaux at 452-4577 or e-mail comeauxp.

House Sitting: House sitter available after Aug. 4. References provided upon request. Call Mark Franklin at ext. 3272.

For sale: 1994 Mazda 626. V-6 engine. Moon roof. ABS brakes. One owner. $5,500. Call ext. 2659 or 395-4142.

For sale: Two homes. Zoned commercial but can be rented as residential, $650 and $750 per month. $195,000. Negotiable. Large back yard. Call E. Williams at 762-8040.

For sale: Spacious two-bedroom, two-bath upper unit condominium less than 10 minutes from campus. Available now. Wood-burning fireplace, wall-to-wall carpeting, custom window and wall coverings, deck outside living area and master bedroom overlooking woods and stream. Time Warner basic cable included in condo fee. $85,400. Call Joanne Nottingham at ext. 3832 or evenings at 452-9125.

For sale: UNCW basketball goal. Brand new, adjustable from seven-and-a-half to 10 feet. Portable, fully assembled and ready for use. Call 799-5866 or ext. 3235.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Fixed Assets Reminder

Verified and approved annual inventory reports are due in fixed assets today.

Invoice Deadline

Interdepartmental invoices to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 funds must be received in accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Candice Carter at ext. 3461.

Travel Reimbursements

Travel reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25.

Travel Advances

All travel advances for fiscal year 2000-01 must be satisfied before June 25. For questions regarding year-end procedures, contact Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Yoga Sessions

Yoga sessions, led by Christian Barnes, will be held from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays, June 12 through July 31, in the Student Recreation Center classroom. For more information, call ext. 3274.

Fiscal Year 2001-02 Travel

Travel which is occurring in fiscal year 2001-02 and that does not require payment from this year's budget can be entered as a future requisition (FR). Direct questions to Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Check Requests

Check requests to be paid from 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Elizabeth Johnson at ext. 3076.

Petty Cash

All petty cash reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 funds must be submitted to the cashier's office by noon June 25.

Employee Discount Program Correction

The discount offered by Hughes Brothers on tires in the employee coupon book should be 5 percent instead of 15 percent.

Summer Shipping

During summer hours, Federal Express and UPS departmental shipping must be called in by 9 a.m. Friday.

Work Order E-mail

The new e-mail address to submit physical plant work orders is ppwork@uncwil.edu. For work orders that need immediate attention after regular hours, call ext. 3184.

Payroll Reminder

Departments and offices should forward all human resources documents and time sheets to payroll by June deadlines in order to charge to fiscal year 2000-01 departmental funds. Documents received after the deadlines will be charged to the 2001-02 fiscal year funding. This includes substitute checks.

Summer Hours for Union and Warwick Center

The University Union and Warwick Center will observe the following schedule during summer hours: 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday. The facilities will close weekends through Aug. 11 except for special events.

Library Summer Hours

Randall Library will observe the following schedule during summer hours: 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 10 p.m. Sunday.

Nominations for UNCW Staff Award of Excellence

Each year, UNCW selects an outstanding staff employee who exemplifies service to the campus or community. Permanent career SPA or 12-month EPA employees can be nominated in the following categories: outstanding state service, innovations, safety and heroism, human relations and public service. Recipients receive a $1,500 check designated by the Board of Trustees, a reserved parking space for one year and three days of vacation leave. Nominations forms are available in human resources. The submission deadline is June 15.

Research on Humans

Proposals for research involving human subjects submitted through June 14 should be sent to Caroline Clements, psychology. Forms are available from the Office of Research Administration or via the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/ora/.

Shared Leave

Curt Allen-Little, Kenan Auditorium, Cindy Anderson, accounting, and David Crouch and Raliene Stanfield, housekeeping, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21203 Residence Coordinator	June 1
21204 Admin. Secretary II	June 1
21205 Computing Consultant II	June 8
21206 Client Services Representative	June 8
21207 Travel Coordinator	June 8

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

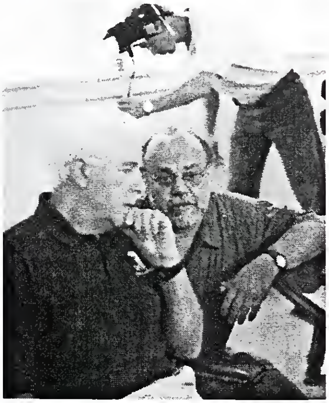
THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 44 June 7, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Paving the American Dream to Air at 8 p.m. June 20 on UNC-TV

The states along the South Atlantic Seaboard share a dubious distinction – skyrocketing population, traffic jams, threatened fragile environments and ugly sprawl. A growing public concern is how to handle this explosive growth and still maintain an environment attractive for living and working.

Over the past year, UNC Wilmington Chancellor James R. Leutze has sought answers to that question in a journey that took him from Maryland to Florida. He discovered that we do have choices in how we develop, including options for smart growth or sustainable development.



Chancellor James R. Leutze confers with communication studies professor Lou Buttino during the making of the documentary Paving the American Dream. Buttino wrote and directed the film.

> 'We must reach beyond our campus boundaries to raise awareness and educate the public about issues that not only affect our state, but our society as a whole.'
>
> - Chancellor James R. Leutze

In its fourth television documentary Paving the American Dream: Southern Cities, Shores & Sprawl, UNC Wilmington examines what led to the explosive growth occurring along the eastern seaboard and offers some solutions. The program airs at 8 p.m. June 20 on public television in North and South Carolina.

"The University of North Carolina at Wilmington is dedicated to fulfilling its mission," said Chancellor James R. Leutze, host and narrator of the documentary. "We must reach beyond our campus boundaries to raise awareness and educate the public about issues that not only affect our state, but our society as a whole."

Growth is exploding along the ecologically fragile coast, especially in the southeastern United States. In 1960, eight million people lived along the coast. That number is expected to reach nearly 23 million by the year 2015 - a staggering 188 percent increase. Inland areas also suffer from unmanaged growth. Abandonment of city life for quiet suburban surroundings has created its own set of problems.

Issues such as traffic congestion, air and water pollution and disappearing farms, forests and coastline all lead to a declining quality of life and environment.

Over the course of this hour-long documentary, viewers will hear from scholars, corporations, politicians, community leaders and citizens up and down the eastern seaboard who are faced with the day-to-day challenges of growth.

"I want people to walk away from watching Paving the American Dream with a sense of urgency," said Leutze. "People must understand that time is critical. Our environment is riding on it."

Paving the American Dream was made possible with the support of many. UNCW faculty and staff were responsible for the entire production from scripting to filming to postproduction. With program concept by Leutze, the documentary was written and directed by Lou Buttino, professor of communication studies, and filmed and edited by Dustin Miller with UNCW-TV.

Elaine Penn, university advancement, served as executive producer. In addition to her work at UNCW, Penn is also a singer/songwriter. She and her sister Vaughan Penn wrote and performed the documentary's theme song, "It's a Gift." The theme is on Elaine Penn's new CD, Same Sky.

Major corporate sponsors for the filming were Weyerhaeuser Company Foundation, Sprint PCS and the Holiday Inn SunSpree Resort at Wrightsville Beach.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Baseball Camps

UNCW will hold four baseball camps this summer at Brooks Field. A day camp for children ages six to 11 will be offered June 18-22. The cost is $100. Two specialty camps featuring sessions for pitchers/catchers and infielders will be held July 13-15. Designed for ages 12 to rising college freshmen, the cost is $135 for commuters and $160 for overnight campers. An all-skills camp for ages 12 to rising college freshmen will be offered July 15-19. The cost is $270 for commuters and $320 for overnight campers.

For more information, contact Mark Scalf at ext. 3570 or 3793.

Music on the Commons

Campus Activities is sponsoring Tuesday Tunes, a summer concert series, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through July 24 on the Campus Commons. Ed Kopp will perform June 12, and Stefan Hajek, from the band Feel Love Fury, will play June 26. In the event of inclement weather, the concerts will be held in the University Union Hawk's Nest. Refreshments will be served.

Bond Effort Featured in CASE CURRENTS

The UNC system's successful efforts to educate voters on the need to pass the $3.1 billion Michael Hooker Higher Education Facilities Act was chronicled in the April issue of CURRENTS magazine published by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

The article was written by Mimi Cunningham, university relations, and Mark Lanier, chancellor's office.

Lunch Program

Space is still available for the program "For Women Only: Life Begins at 50. . . to Forever" featuring May Craven. The talk, scheduled for noon to 1:30 p.m. June 13, is part of the Tabitha Hutaff McEachern Lifelong Learning Series. The cost is $16 and includes a catered lunch. To register, call ext. 3195.

Wilmington College Reunion

The UNCW Alumni Association is sponsoring a reunion for Wilmington College alumni aboard the Henrietta III. The dinner cruise, for those who attended or graduated between 1946 and 1960, will begin at 6 p.m. June 23. The cost of the event is $25 per person. Parking will be available on campus, and transportation to and from the Henrietta III will be provided by the Seahawk Shuttle. For reservations, call ext. 2862 by June 15.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Michael Wentworth and Mark Cox join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. June 7, 14, 21 and 28 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

Wentworth, professor of English and director of the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies program, discusses the program. Cox, chair of the Creative Writing Department, discusses the undergraduate degree program in creative writing.

Astronomy Class

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will offer "Bright Summer Skies," a summer astronomy course, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays, June 21 through Aug. 2. Ron Hawes, an avid astronomer for more than 40 years and a member of the Cape Fear Astronomical Society, will instruct the class. The cost is $65. To register, call ext.3195 by June 18.

UNCW Researcher Profiled in Coastwatch

Alina Szmant, biological sciences, was featured in the summer 2001 issue of Coastwatch. The article "Coral Reefs and Sea Urchins: Two Parts of the Same Story" focuses on Szmant's research on coral reef restoration. Coastwatch is published by the North Carolina Sea Grant Program.

First-time Recreation Class Studies the Coast

Fourteens students in the N.C. Coastal Issues and Experience Class (REC 103) concluded an eight-day study of the North Carolina coast with a kayak trip to Masonboro Island May 24. This class, offered for the first time, included students majoring in recreation, biology, environmental science. The group, under the direction of James Herstine and Bob Buerger, traveled to spots such as Lake Mattamuskeet National Wildlife Refuge, Jockey's Ridge State Park, Pea Island National Wildlife Preserve, Cape Hatteras National Seashore, Hammocks Beach State Park and others, where they studied hurricane damage, public beach access, wildlife management, beach erosion, horse management and endangered species management. They camped overnight along the route from the Outer Banks back to Wilmington. Pro Canoe and Kayak donated use of kayaks for the excursion.

Members Sought for Celebrate Wilmington!

Celebrate Wilmington! seeks qualified candidates to serve on its executive committee. This committee provides oversight for Wilmington's Walk of Fame and the Lifetime Achievement Award. Interested candidates should submit a resume along with a letter detailing their interest in the arts to Celebrate Wilmington! c/o The Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear, P.O. Box 212 Wilmington, N.C. 28402.

Celebrate Wilmington! is a joint partnership between the community, the arts council and UNCW to promote, market and celebrate the arts.

Physics Colloquium

Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton Professor of Astronomy at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, will present "The Great Impactor" at 3 p.m. June 21 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Stephen McNamee, sociology and criminal justice, had a review of Illusions of Prosperity: America's Working Families in an Age of Economic Insecurity by Joel Blau published in the March 2001 issue of Contemporary Sociology.

Peg Bradley-Doppes, athletics, was keynote speaker for the Midwestern Collegiate Conference Women's Leadership Symposium in Indianapolis where she spoke on "Charting Your Own Course." Bradley-Doppes also gave a presentation at the NCAA Title IX seminar.

Ron Vetter, computer science, gave the keynote address at "Classroom Without Walls," an instructional technology conference at the Center for Business at Minnesota State University-Moorhead.

Robert Y. George, biological sciences, will deliver the Carl Vov Linnaeus Memorial Lecture at the Tjarno Marine Biological Laboratory at Goteborg University June 11 on the topic "Human Impact on Coral Reefs: Cold, Warm and Hot." George will serve as a visiting professor in Sweden for a month where, using unmanned submersibles, he will conduct research on deep-sea coral reefs along Sweden's West Coast.

Joanne Halls, earth sciences, presented the paper "A Decision Support System of Animated Graphs, GIS and Temporal Ecological Data to Quantify and Disseminate Water Quality Information" at the fourth International Symposium on Environmental Software Systems in Banff, Alberta, Canada. This peer-reviewed paper is available in the International Federation for Information Processing publication Environmental Software Systems, vol. 4.

Mike Bradley, public service and extended education, was quoted in the on-line publication Boating Industry International about the N.C. legislature's proposal to impose a 3 percent sales tax on boat sales to meet the state's budget shortfall.

SUMMER ADS

For sale: 1990 Jeep Cherokee Pioneer. Red. Four-door, automatic, four-wheel drive. Garage-maintained, excellent condition. $4,790. Call ext. 3774 or 791-4914, evenings.

For sale: Story and Clark console piano. Excellent condition. $500 or best offer. Call Steve Pullum at ext. 3413 or 395-1516.

For rent: 2BR duplex in historic district. Available June 15. Large lot and garden. Leave message at 341-5133.

Seeking: Appalachian State University professor who is starting phased retirement would like to exchange cabin/apartment in Boone with UNCW person or to house sit/rent in Wilmington area for spring 2002. Small, mountain apartment, set on wooded, sloping lot. Fully furnished with enclosed garage, spring water. Ideal for one person. Less than a 10-minute drive from ASU, 30 minutes to ski slopes. Looking for small furnished house or apartment in UNCW area. Non-smoker with well-behaved neutered cat. Call Don Saunders, 828-264-4684 or e-mail saundersdb@appstate.edu.

For sale: Laminated Parsons-style dining table. Gray. $50. Call Chris at ext. 3268 after 12:30 p.m. or 799-8139 after 5 p.m.

For sale: Jet Ski storage rack. Carpeted rails, stainless steel frame with wheels, $150. Entertainment center, double glass doors with shelves, $300. Call Gloria at ext. 2301 or 392-2785.

For sale: 4BR, two-bath house, located one-half mile from beach. 609 Carolina Sands Drive, Carolina Beach. Community pool, tennis court, clubhouse, deeded beach access. Separate guest quarters with private bath downstairs. Two-car garage. $195,000. Call 458-7572 before 9 p.m.

For sale: Compaq computer, purchased January 2001. 64 MB Ram. 750 MHZ processor. HP color printer, speakers, unattached zip drive, 10 extra programs, surge protector. Call 792-1516, evenings.

For sale: 3BR, two-bath brick house. Living room with fireplace, hardwood floors, deck. Belvedere subdivision. North 25th Street off Princess Place. $112,000. Call Gabriel Lugo at ext. 3246.

For rent: 3 BR, two-bath home with large screened porch, deck and beautiful large yard with privacy fence in back. Close to UNCW and beach; 370 Toulon Drive. $950 per month includes yard maintenance. No smoking or pets. Call Pat Comeaux at 452-4577 or e-mail comeauxp.

Seeking: Renters for three-bedroom house in quiet neighborhood, furnished or unfurnished. Faculty member and family on research leave starting July 1. Ten-minute drive to UNCW. Perfect for family or graduate students. No smoking or pets. One-year lease. Contact Hal Langfur or Kerry Reynolds at ext. 3311 or 794-1161.

For sale: 2BR, two-bath town house. Built in 1999. Five minutes from UNCW and 10 minutes from Wrightsville Beach. Many upgrades. Appliances included. $85,000. Call 791-0292 or visit www.geocities.com/robbinstef.

For sale: 3 BR, two-bath, one-story house in Huntington Forest. 4712 Indian Trail. Fireplace, deck, garage with work area, storage shed, large yard with privacy fence. Nice, quiet neighborhood. Six miles from campus. In new high school district. $2,000 toward closing costs. $114,900. Call ext. 3255 or 452-7362.

For sale: 3BR, two-bath house in the historic overlay district near downtown Wilmington. Double lot. Detached garage, perfect for hobby area. Call 343-0913 before 9 p.m. to arrange showing.

Farewell Reception

The Division for Student Affairs will host a farewell reception for Brian Hemphill from 3 to 5 p.m. June 12 in the University Union Living Room. Hemphill accepted the position of associate vice chancellor and dean of students at the University of Arkansas.

Mark Your Calendar

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall.

Invoice Deadline

Interdepartmental invoices to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 funding must be received in accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Candice Carter at ext. 3461.

Travel Reimbursements

Travel reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25.

Travel Advances

All travel advances for fiscal year 2000-01 must be satisfied before June 25. For questions regarding year-end procedures, contact Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Fiscal Year 2001-02 Travel

Travel that is occurring in fiscal year 2001-02 and that does not require payment from this year's budget can be entered as a future requisition (FR). Direct questions to Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Check Requests

Check requests to be paid from 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Elizabeth Johnson at ext. 3076.

Petty Cash

All petty cash reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 must be submitted to the cashier's office by noon June 25.

Yoga Sessions

Yoga sessions, led by Christian Barnes, will be held from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays, June 12 through July 31, in the Student Recreation Center classroom. For more information, call ext. 3274.

Employee Discount Program

The discount offered by Hughes Brothers on tires in the employee coupon book should be 5 percent instead of 15 percent.

Summer Shipping

During summer hours, Federal Express and UPS departmental shipping must be called in by 9 a.m. Friday.

Work Order E-mail

The new e-mail address to submit physical plant work orders is ppwork@uncwil.edu. For work orders that need immediate attention after regular hours, call ext. 3184.

Payroll Reminder

Departments and offices should forward all human resources documents and time sheets to payroll by June deadlines in order to charge to fiscal year 2000-01 departmental funds. Documents received after the deadlines will be charged to the 2001-02 fiscal year funding. This includes substitute checks.

Nominations for UNCW Staff Award of Excellence

Each year, UNCW selects an outstanding staff employee who exemplifies service to the campus or community. Permanent career SPA or 12-month EPA employees can be nominated in the following categories: outstanding state service, innovations, safety and heroism, human relations and public service. Recipients receive a $1,500 check designated by the Board of Trustees, a reserved parking space for one year and three days of vacation leave. Nominations forms are available in human resources. The submission deadline is June 15.

Legislative Update

Elements of the state senate's budget bill proposes pay raises of $625 for most state employees, a reduction in the state contribution to the retirement plan from 5.33 percent to 1.82 percent and a 30 percent increase in family medical insurance premiums. Under this proposal, the deductible would increase from $250 to $400 with a family-plan maximum deductible of $1,000. In addition, co-payments for brand-name prescription drugs would increase; generic drug co-payments would remain at $10 for a 30-day supply.

The North Carolina House of Representatives has not published its budget bill. The budget process concludes only after the senate and house bills have been published and reconciled, and the final bill signed by the governor.

Shared Leave

Curt Allen-Little, Kenan Auditorium, Cindy Anderson, accounting, Derrick Clemmons, landscape services, and David Crouch and Raliene Stanfield, housekeeping, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

To donate leave, submit an application for leave form (HR2.10L). Check the "donated leave" space, and include the recipient's name and department. Indicate the number of vacation hours to donate, and sign and date the form. A supervisor's signature is also required.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21205 Computing Consultant II	June 8
21206 Client Services Representative	June 8
21207 Travel Coordinator	June 8
21208 Office Assistant IV	June 15
21209 Program Assistant V	June 15

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

MILDRED P SIMON
LIBRARY ASSISTANT
RANDALL LIBRARY

UNCW

Campus Communique

The Official Bulletin of the University of North Carolina at Wilmington

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 45 June 14, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Provost Selected for Fulbright Summer Seminar in Brazil

As one of 14 attendees selected from a nationwide pool of applicants, UNC Wilmington Provost John C. Cavanaugh will spend June 14-30 in Brazil working with representatives from various universities to develop exchange agreements between American and Brazilian institutions. This special seminar is sponsored by the Fulbright Program and the U.S. Department of Education.

Cavanaugh

"My goal is to have UNCW become a major exchange partner with several universities in Brazil to further strengthen our presence in the Caribbean, Mexico and Central and South America," said Cavanaugh, who also serves as vice chancellor for academic affairs.

"The University of North Carolina at Wilmington has a long history of educational and research partnerships in this region," said Cavanaugh.

For example, through its Center for Marine Science, UNCW manages one of six regional National Undersea Research Centers (NURC) supported by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). UNCW/NURC, which conducts undersea research off the southeastern United States from North Carolina to Texas, organized a research mission that used the deep-submergence vehicle Alvin to study the depths of the Gulf of Mexico in October 2000. UNCW also spearheaded the establishment of the Joint Institute for Caribbean Studies. UNCW is collaborating with the University of the Virgin Islands; Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey; the University of South Carolina; the U.S. Department of the Interior; and the U.S. Department of Commerce/NOAA to support marine science research and education in the U.S. Virgin Islands and adjacent regions.

Through UNCW's Office of International Programs, students can study abroad or participate in exchange programs at universities in Belize and Ecuador. UNCW also offers exchange programs with universities in Barbados and Chile. Exchange programs allow students to attend foreign universities at the same tuition rate as their home universities.

Other U.S. universities sending representatives to this special Fulbright seminar in Brazil include Bowling Green State University, Texas Southern University, University of California at Davis, University of Missouri at Kansas City, UNC Chapel Hill and UNC Greensboro.

Gerontology Program Hosting International Congress on Women's Health Issues

Cultural differences that affect women's health care decisions are the focus of the 12th International Congress on Women's Health Issues scheduled for June 20-23 at the Coast Line Convention Center. The conference is cosponsored by UNCW's Gerontology Program and the International Council on Women's Health Issues.

More than 150 health care researchers and educators from around the world will attend the conference. Topic presentations include the cultural differences in the role of women as health care providers, the need for STD and AIDS education among older adults and how working wives cope with spousal retirement. Perri Bomar, associate dean of the UNCW School of Nursing, will discuss how religious beliefs affect women's decisions to seek health care.

The conference keynote speaker, Martha Burk, will present "Women's Health: Will We Be Better Off Four Years from Now?" at 8:30 a.m. June 21. Burk is president of the National Council of Women's Organizations.

Dori Brauman, a registered nurse and attorney, will present "The Medicaid Puzzle" at 8:30 a.m. June 23. The talk will center on strategies a spouse/caregiver can utilize to protect financial assets during protracted illnesses.

Eleanor Covan, director of UNCW's Gerontology Program and conference director, said the congress presents an opportunity for UNCW to showcase itself as a leader in women's issues. In August, Covan assumes the editorial duties of the journal Health Care for Women International published by Taylor and Francis.

"The journal is a leading international publication regarding women's health," said Covan. "UNCW will be on the cutting edge of health issues and concerns

see International Congress on Page 3

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Activity Calendar

Planning for the fall calendar produced by the Activities and Involvement Center is underway. Departments and offices should submit event information, including time, date and location, to Marian Bennett via campus mail at the University Union, Room 214, or e-mail bennettm by June 21. Photographs and illustrations will be included on a space-available basis.

Women's Basketball Adds Assistant Coaches

Stephanie Lawrence Yelton and Dan Burt were named assistant coaches for the women's basketball team.

Yelton joins UNCW following a four-year stint at Wake Forest University where she was responsible for the program's daily operation as well as scouting. A UNC Chapel Hill graduate, Yelton was a member of the 1994 national women's basketball championship team.

Burt served as an assistant at West Virginia University from 1997 to 2000 where he helped the Lady Mountaineers attract some high-profile recruits.

Summer Jazz Workshop Participants to Perform

The UNCW Summer Jazz Workshop will present a series of concerts June 25-30 in Kenan Auditorium. The first two concerts will feature the UNCW Reunion Big Band at 7:30 p.m. June 25 and the UNCW Faculty Jazz Combo at 7:30 June 26. Both concerts will be in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $2. The final concert will feature performances by workshop students in large and small ensembles. Admission is free for this concert.

The UNCW Summer Jazz Workshop, directed by Frank Bongiorno, provides a week of intensive jazz study and interaction with jazz faculty and guest artists. The workshops are designed for middle and high school students of varying abilities and experience levels and cover virtually every aspect of jazz study.

Baseball Camps

UNCW will hold four baseball camps this summer at Brooks Field. A day camp for children ages six to 11 will be offered June 18-22. The cost is $100. Two specialty camps featuring sessions for pitchers/catchers and infielders will be held July 13-15. Geared for children ages 12 to rising college freshmen, the cost is $135 for commuters and $160 for overnight campers. An all-skills camp for children ages 12 to rising college freshmen will be offered July 15-19. The cost is $270 for commuters and $320 for overnight campers. For more information, contact Mark Scalf at ext. 3570 or 3793.

Physics Colloquium

Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton Professor of Astronomy at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, will present "The Great Impactor" at 3 p.m. June 21 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Michael Wentworth and Mark Cox join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You, airing at 7 p.m. June 14, 21 and 28 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

Women's Basketball Camps

The Women's Basketball Program will hold a day camp for girls ages eight to 15 July 30 through Aug. 2. The cost is $150 and includes lunches, a camp T-shirt and ball. For information on employee discounts, call ext. 3418.

UNCW's new documentary

PAVING THE AMERICAN DREAM

SOUTHERN CITIES SHORES & SPRAWL

airs at 8 p.m. June 20 on UNC Public Television.

Astronomy Class

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will offer "Bright Summer Skies," a summer astronomy course, from 8 to 9:30 p.m., Thursdays, June 21 through Aug. 2. Ron Hawes, an avid astronomer for more than 40 years and a member of the Cape Fear Astronomical Society, will instruct the class. The cost is $65. Call ext. 3195 by June 18 to register.

Celebrate Wilmington!

Musical: Kiss Me, Kate, 8 p.m. June 15-17 and 22-24 Thalian Hall. For tickets, call 343-3664.

Films: An American in Paris, 8:30 p.m. June 15 USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial. For tickets, call 251-5797.

Cinematique Film Series: The Widow of St. Pierre (France, Rated R, English subtitles), 7:30 p.m. June 18-26 Thalian Hall. For tickets, call 343-1640.

Event: Back to Jurassic, 5 to 8 p.m. June 22. For admission information, call 341-4350.

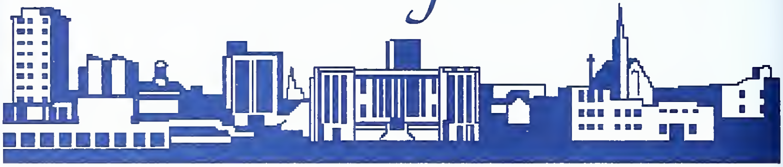
Music on the Commons

Stefan Hajek, from the band Feel Love Fury, will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. June 26 on the Campus Commons as part of Tuesday Tunes, a summer concert series sponsored by campus activities. In the event of inclement weather, the concert will be held in the University Union, Hawk's Nest. Refreshments will be served.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a junior day camp for girls ages six to 14 June 25-29 and a senior residential camp for girls ages 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost of the day camp is $210. Fees for the residential camp are $400, $300 for commuters. The charge includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive a $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

LEADERSHIP
Wilmington 2001



Mission Statement

The mission of Leadership Wilmington is to provide a continuous, diverse supply of creative leaders to the community by developing their knowledge of the region and providing them the opportunity for meaningful action.

Objectives

- ❖ Educate participants about the community's needs & challenges
- ❖ Investigate the dynamics of regional social & economic change
- ❖ Develop interpersonal relationships with community leaders to collectively approach present and future community problems
- ❖ Enhance leadership skills within participants
- ❖ Promote participation in volunteer leadership opportunities in the community

Academic Rigors

Participants must prepare for each session by reading notebook material and by completing assignments given by the community session chair. Some sessions may include tours and/or demonstrations. Attendance at the retreat and sessions is mandatory. No more than two absences are permitted.

Nominations

Nominations are sought from corporate, business, education, professional, non-profit and governmental sectors. A committee of past participants will select 30 applicants for Leadership Wilmington 2001. The committee ensures that Leadership Wilmington reflects the community's diversity by reviewing each candidate's leadership potential, community involvement, and accomplishments. To receive an application, complete and return the request form on the reverse side. Deadline for the receipt of all 2001 Leadership Wilmington applications is July 31, 2001.

Tuition

Tuition is $595 and includes expenses for the initial reception, retreat, community sessions, speakers, notebooks, and graduation program. Note: Candidates can request financial assistance to enroll in Leadership Wilmington. Through the corporate sponsorship of ALLTEL, candidates from all sectors can enroll in Leadership Wilmington. For scholarship information, contact the Program Manager.

2001 Schedule

Aug. 29	Introduction/ Reception
Sept. 6-7	Overnight Retreat
Sept. 13	Diversity
Sept. 20	Communications
Oct.11	Political Leadership
Nov. 1	Consensus Building
Nov. 8	Health Care
Nov. 29	Law Enforcement
Dec. 13	Cultural
Jan. 3	Consensus Building
Jan. 17	Education
Jan. 31	Planning for Growth
Feb. 14	Transportation
Feb. 28	Business Growth
Mar. 14	Consensus Building
Mar. 28	Graduation

Community sessions are held between 1 and 5 p.m. at locations specific to session topic.

Alumni Association

Leadership Wilmington Alumni Association was the project of the class of 1997. Alumni meet three or four times a year to socialize and participate in community activities. The first Leadership Wilmington Alumni of the Year Award was given in March 2001. For more information about the Alumni Association, or to nominate a graduate for the Alumni of the Year, contact the Program Manager. 2001 scheduled Alumni Activities are:

June 2	Habitat for Humanity
July 24	Social & Meeting
November 13	Social & Meeting

Information

Diana Corbett
Program Manager
One Estell Lee Place
Wilmington, NC 28401
(910) 762-2611 Ext. 213
(910) 762-9765 fax
corbett@wilmingtonchamber.org

UNCW & GWCF are committed to equal educational and employment opportunities and are affirmative action employers. UNCW and the GWCF comply with all provisions of the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA). If you require accommodations to participate in the program, please contact the Program Manager.

7,700 copies of this public document were printed at a cost of $688.56 or 9 cents per copy. (G.S. 143-170.1)

Printed on recycled paper. ♻

*Sponsored by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation Inc. and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.
Major business sponsor is ALLTEL. Gold business sponsor is CP&L/Progress Energy.*

http://www.uncwil.edu/dpsee/leadwilm http://www.wilmingtonchamber.org

Leadership Wilmington 2001 Application Request Form

(Please print or type)

Name ______________________________

Company ______________________________

Mailing Address ______________________________

Phone ______________ Fax ______________

Mail or fax to Leadership Wilmington, One Estell Lee Place, Wilmington, NC 28401

For more information, call Diana Corbett, program manager, (910) 762-2611, Ext. 213.

Telefax (910) 762-9765 • Email corbett@wilmingtonchamber.org

LEADERSHIP
Wilmington 2001

2001 Graduating Class

REST ROOMS
EXIT
Professional Speakers to encourage the leadership within

Consensus building sessions

A Life-long Leadership Experience

LEADERSHIP
Wilmington 2001

Sponsored by the Greater Wilmington Chamber Foundation Inc. and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.
Major business sponsor is ALLTEL

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Members Sought for Celebrate Wilmington!

Celebrate Wilmington! seeks qualified candidates to serve on its executive committee. This committee provides oversight for Wilmington's Walk of Fame and the Lifetime Achievement Award. Interested candidates should submit a resume along with a letter detailing their interest in the arts to Celebrate Wilmington! c/o The Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear, PO Box 212, Wilmington, NC 28402.

Celebrate Wilmington! is a joint partnership between the community, the arts council and UNCW to promotes, market and celebrate the arts.

SUMMER ADS

Seeking: Roommate to share house in Winter Park area. Available now. $400 plus utilities. Call Ron at 395-2094 or 262-8794.

For sale: Two Backstreet Boys concert tickets for 7:30 p.m. June 17 at the Greensboro Coliseum. Call Wendy at ext. 7243.

For sale: 2BR, two-bath brick town house, 2906 Caliber Court. Lakefront in Winchester at NorthChase. Marble fireplace, cathedral ceilings, split bedroom plan. $98,000. Call Sue Cody at ext. 7409 or Prudential Carolina Real Estate at 256-0032.

For rent: New York City Apartment. Prime location. One bedroom. Daily, weekly or monthly. Call 509-3026.

For rent: 2BR, two-bath town house in Merestone. All appliances. Formal dining/office, Two-car garage. Short-term available. Call Gloria, owner/broker, at 395-2121.

For sale or lease: 3BR, two-and-a-half-bath town home with office/den in Ashton. Pool and clubhouse. 1,700 square feet. Master bedroom and one-and-a-half baths downstairs. Large courtyard. $145,500. Owner will pay up to $2,000 toward closing costs, or lease to buy. Call Sandy Carlson at ext. 3885 or 799-2249.

For sale: Queen-size sofa bed. Like new. Sand-colored upholstery. $200. Gloria at ext. 3876 or 395-2121.

For sale: Solid oak bunk beds. Includes tall chest of drawers, bookcase, mattresses and bed spreads. Can be used together or as single beds. Great loft bed. Like new condition. Original cost: $2,000. Call Betty at 686-9578.

For sale: 1998 Black Dodge Dakota Sport with extended cab. Four-cylinder engine, five-speed manual transmission, AC, power steering, dual air bags, sliding rear window, and bed liner. Outstanding condition. 19,430 miles. Will settle for trade-in value of $10,515. For details and test drive call Wayland at ext. 7705 or e-mail tsehw.

For rent: 3BR house in quiet neighborhood. Close to YMCA. Newly remodeled kitchen and bath. Great yard. Call Sandy at 704-643-0616 or 704-926-2193.

Seeking: Renters for three-bedroom house in quiet neighborhood, furnished or unfurnished. Faculty member and family on research leave starting July 1. Ten-minute drive to UNCW. Perfect for family or graduate students. No smoking or pets. One-year lease. Contact Hal Langfur or Kerry Reynolds at ext. 3311 or 794-1161.

For sale: 2BR, two-and-a-half-bath town home in Wrightsville West. Near the beach. Wood-burning fireplace and secluded deck. Maintained exterior. Pool and tennis courts. $122,900. Call 254-9439.

For rent: 2BR, one-bath home in the historic area. Recently remodeled with modern kitchen and central air. Walking distance to all of downtown. No smoking or pets. $825 per month. Call 254-9439.

For sale: 2BR, two-bath town house. Built in 1999. 5 minutes from UNCW and 10 minutes from Wrightsville Beach. Many upgrades. Appliances included. $85,000. Call 791-0292 or visit www.geocities.com/robbinstef.

For sale: 1995 Dodge Intrepid. Four-door automatic with power locks/doors/windows. Sony AM/FM radio with CD player. Integrated child seat. $3,300. Call ext. 3854.

For sale: One garden hose with reel, $20. Broadcast spreader, $25. Sears Craftsman mulching mower with gas can, $125. Cross-country ski machine, $50. Adjustable printer stand, $20. Ten-cubic-foot chest-type freezer, $100. Double bed with brass head board, $75. Rattan side chair, $50. Additional household items and garden tools. Call ext. 3731.

International Congress continued from Page 1

affecting women through the information and research submitted for review by researchers throughout the world. The international relationships fostered will be of value to UNCW faculty and students in a variety of disciplines including gerontology, nursing, social work, sociology and anthropology."

Note: Conference attendance is open to registered participants only. For more information, visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/people/covane/gerontology/Women's_Congress/icowhi.htm.

Basketball Camp

The Men's Basketball Program will hold a summer day camp July 16-20 for boys ages eight through rising high school freshman. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

I. Richard Verrone, economics and finance, received the Regents' Distinguished Service Award from the board of regents of the Risk Management Association Commercial Lending Schools.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, presented a poster on his research "Modeling Through-Space NMR Shielding Effects by Selected Organic Functional Groups" at the Southeast Theoretical Chemists Association annual meeting at Auburn University. It was co-authored by former students Kimberly H. Nance and Justin D. Brown. Martin also presented the same poster that included approaches to incorporate the results into commercial software at the Chemical Society of Canada Conference 2001 in Montreal. The latter poster was co-authored by student Allen W. Randall and Clayton S. Ferner, computer science.

Darrell Irwin, criminal justice, was appointed to a two-year term on the editorial advisory board of the Journal of Crime and Justice.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Central Stores Inventory

Central stores will close for inventory June 25-29. Submit orders by June 21 for delivery prior to the closing. The facility will reopen July 2. Direct questions to ext. 3180.

Recycling Reminders

UNCW's Recycling Program collects the following: aluminum soft drink cans; plastic containers marked one or two; clear, green or brown glass; business paper (letterhead, typing, bond colored tablet or notebook paper, business forms and white and green bar computer paper); newspaper; and corrugated cardboard. The program cannot accept magazines, glossy paper, books with any glossy pages, carbon paper or poster board.

Extraneous items, such as plastic food containers, candy wrappers, plastic bags and food, contaminate the recycled material. Contaminated bags of recyclable material are discarded. Direct questions to ext. 3621.

Printing Inventory

The print shop and copy center will close for inventory from noon June 27 through 7:30 a.m. July 2. Direct emergency calls to Brenda Nelson at ext. 3563.

Copier and duplicator key operators are reminded that central stores will also close for inventory. Arrange for sufficient paper and toner supplies by June 21 to cover these closings.

Retirement Reduction

The reduction in the contribution to the state retirement plan as outlined in the N.C. Senate budget bill would not affect employees enrolled in the Optional Retirement Plan (TIAA-CREF, Lincoln, Fidelity and Valic).

Mark Your Calendar

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall.

Weight Watchers at Work

The Weight Watchers at Work Program will start a new 15-week session June 27. The group meets at noon Wednesdays in the conference room in James Hall. The cost is $139. Payment is due at sign-up; but the amount can be paid in three installments using postdated checks.

As of June 6, 35 program participants have lost more than 330 pounds since March 15.

Invoice Deadline

Interdepartmental invoices to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 funding must be received by accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Candice Carter at ext. 3461.

Travel Reimbursements

Travel reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25.

Travel Advances

All travel advances for fiscal year 2000-01 must be satisfied before June 25. For questions regarding year-end procedures, contact Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Fiscal Year 2001-02 Travel

Travel that will occur in fiscal year 2001-02 and that will not require payment from this year's budget can be entered as a future requisition (FR). Direct questions to Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Check Requests

Check requests to be paid from 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Elizabeth Johnson at ext. 3076.

Petty Cash

All petty cash reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 must be submitted to the cashier's office by noon June 25.

Yoga Sessions

Yoga sessions, led by Christian Barnes, will be held from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through July 31 in the Student Recreation Center classroom. For more information, call ext. 3274.

Employee Discount Program

The discount offered by Hughes Brothers on tires in the employee coupon book should be 5 percent instead of 15 percent.

Nominations for UNCW Staff Award of Excellence

June 15 is the deadline to submit nominees for the UNCW Staff Award of Excellence. Each year, UNCW selects an outstanding staff employee who exemplifies service to the campus or community. Permanent career SPA or 12-month EPA employees can be nominated in the following categories: outstanding state service, innovations, safety and heroism, human relations and public service. Recipients receive a $1,500 check designated by the Board of Trustees, a reserved parking space for one year and three days of vacation leave. Nominations forms are available in human resources.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Mitchell Cook, university police; Harry Eason and Lori Payne, physical plant; Derrick Howard, central stores; Carlene Jackson, Learning Center, and Angela Roth, University Union.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21208 Office Assistant IV	June 15
21209 Program Assistant V	June 15
21211 Special Events Coordinator/ Sports Club Adviser	July 3
21212 Housekeeper	June 22
21213 Maintenance Mech. IV	June 22

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

This is recyclable.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 46 June 21, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

Local Four-year Engineering Degree Needed?

UNC Wilmington, NC State to Survey Wilmington-Area Residents

Engineering graduates are among the most sought after applicants for jobs in high-tech and other industries, not only in the United States, but worldwide. For residents geographically bound to the Cape Fear region, UNC Wilmington and NC State University are surveying interest in a four-year engineering degree that would be offered on the UNCW campus.

The proposal is for a calculus-based engineering degree in a specific discipline, said Ken Diehl, director of UNCW's Two-Plus-Two Pre-engineering Program. Currently, Two-Plus-Two allows students to complete the first two years of an engineering curriculum at UNCW and finish the degree at NCSU, N.C. A&T University or UNC Charlotte. The Two-Plus-Two would form the first two years of the four-year degree program.

"The non-engineering courses would be taken at UNCW. The engineering courses would be offered through NC State via Internet distance education video-conferencing technology to the UNCW campus," said Diehl. "The program would be modeled after a similar program started at UNC Asheville."

Surveys will be mailed to local businesses for their input on the engineering discipline that would be most in demand for this area, Diehl said.

"The inability to offer a degree program in more than one discipline is a drawback in this proposal," said Diehl. "Implementing a new engineering school would be cost-prohibitive for most universities; therefore, not only would the program provide an opportunity for area residents to obtain a four-year engineering degree, the proposal would be a good use of state resources."

Diehl added area businesses would also benefit from the proposed program. "Engineering students must complete a 'capstone' design course, which calls upon knowledge gained from their prior course work," said Diehl. "While students at NCSU's College of Engineering have laboratories in which to complete their projects, students enrolled in the proposed degree might complete a project with a local company. An industry wanting to design a better mousetrap could serve as a laboratory for a student in the UNCW-based four-year engineering degree."

In addition to the survey to be mailed to area businesses, prospective students and other interested parties can complete a survey via the World Wide Web at www.uncwil.edu/preeng/bse.html.

Students, Employees Build House in Mexico

There's a great little house in Juarez, Mexico. It has two rooms and no plumbing. Occupying less than 300 square feet, it is tiny. For the 13 UNCW students, faculty and staff who built it during four days in May, the house is huge.

"This project really proved the concept of teamwork. The 13 of us diligently worked toward a goal and felt the success of our efforts at the end of the week," said Adrien Lopez, Global SERVE member and president of the Student Government Association.

Global SERVE is a student organization designed to promote intercultural awareness through service. UNCW staff members assist students with these service-learning trips; however, this year's trip was scheduled between the end of final exams and graduation, resulting in fewer student volunteers. With only six students committed to the project, Becky Long, community services coordinator at the Leadership Center, advertised for volunteers among faculty and staff. The call produced a diverse array of participants – sociology professor Susan Bullers, career counselor Mary Carlson, campus minister Nancy Cooper, copier program assistant Ann Greene, graphic designer Cathi Phillips and music professor Barry Salwen.

Global SERVE volunteers raise the roof on a "great little house."

Reasons for going to Juarez varied – Cathi Phillips wanted to challenge herself; Ann Greene was convinced she could build a house; Mary Carlson viewed it as an opportunity for personal growth.

see Global SERVE on Page 3

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Ankrom Honored

Kevin Ankrom, first-year head coach of track and field, was named the Colonial Athletic Association Men's Track and Field Coach-of-the-Year after guiding the Seahawks to a fifth consecutive CAA championship.

Seminar on Taiwan

The seminar "Taiwan Under Lee Teng-hui (1988-2000): An Era of Democratization in Retrospect and Prospect" will be held Sept. 14 and 15 at Wake Forest University. For more information on this event, sponsored by the South Atlantic States Association for Asian and African Studies, contact Paula Kamenish, English, at ext. 3617 or e-mail Wei-chin Lee at leewei@wfu.edu. Attendance is free for UNCW faculty.

Farewell Reception

The Division of Student Affairs will host a farewell reception for Suzanne "Sam" Shover, coordinator of CROSSROADS substance and abuse education and prevention program, from 3 to 5 p.m. June 26 in the University Union, Living Room.

Activity Calendar

Planning for the fall calendar produced by the Activities and Involvement Center is underway. Departments and offices should submit event information, including time, date and location, to Marian Bennett via campus mail at the University Union, Room 214, or e-mail bennettm by June 21. Photographs and illustrations will be included on a space-available basis.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Michael Wentworth and Mark Cox join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. June 21 and 28 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

Aquarius Missions

After a record 10 missions in 2000, Aquarius is back in operation for another year of research. Aquarius is the undersea laboratory managed by UNCW/NURC.

The first mission was completed May 25 when Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, finished a second year of deep-water studies on coral reef sponges. James Leichter from Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution returned June 18 for a second year of study involving water quality issues along the Florida Key tract. His mission ends June 29.

Future missions involve Roy Caldwell from the University of California at Berkeley and Kevin Beach from the University of Tampa. Caldwell will study the biology and ecology of stomatopods, shrimp-like creatures of incredible colors with unique eyes and claws that can pierce a finger. Beach will investigate seaweed ecology on coral reefs. For more information on Aquarius, visit the Web site www.uncwil.edu/nurc/aquarius.

Baseball Camps

Baseball camps featuring sessions for pitchers/catchers and infielders will be held July 13-15 at Brooks Field. The camps, designed for children ages 12 to rising college freshmen, cost $135 for commuters and $160 for overnight campers. An all-skills camp for children ages 12 to rising college freshmen will be held July 15-19. The cost is $270 for commuters and $320 for overnight campers. For more information, contact Mark Scalf at ext. 3570 or 3793.

Music on the Commons

Stefan Hajek, from the band Feel Love Fury, and Daniel Parish will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. June 26 and July 3, respectively. The concerts will be held on the Campus Commons as part of Tuesday Tunes, a summer concert series sponsored by campus activities.

In the event of inclement weather, events will be held in the University Union, Hawk's Nest. Refreshments will be served.

Jazz Performances

The UNCW Summer Jazz Workshop will present a series of concerts June 25-30 in Kenan Auditorium. The first two concerts will include the UNCW Reunion Big Band at 7:30 p.m. June 25 and the UNCW Faculty Jazz Combo at 7:30 June 26. Both concerts will be in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $2. The final concert will feature performances by workshop students in large and small ensembles. Admission is free for this concert.

The UNCW Summer Jazz Workshop, directed by Frank Bongiorno, provides a week of intensive jazz study and interaction with jazz faculty and guest artists. The workshops are designed for middle and high school students of varying abilities and experience levels and cover virtually every aspect of jazz study.

Film Screening

Philip Furia, director of UNCW's Film Studies Program, will host the screening of the Gene Kelly film Singin' in the Rain at 8:30 p.m. June 22 aboard the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial as part of the Fabulous 50 Cents Fantail Film Festival, sponsored by Time Warner Cable, Wilmington Star-News, Community Arts Center, UNCW and the battleship. Tickets are 50 cents. In the event of rain, the film will be presented in the battleship auditorium.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a junior day camp for girls ages six to 14 June 25-29 and a senior residential camp for girls ages 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost of the day camp is $210. Fees for the residential camp are $400, $300 for commuters. The charge includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive at $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

Basketball Camp

The Men's Basketball Program will hold a summer day camp July 16-20 for boys ages eight through rising high school freshman. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

David Webster, biological sciences, received $8,271 in supplemental funding from the Figure Eight Beach Homeowners Association for the project "Effects of Beach Nourishment and Tilling on Nest Site Selection, Nesting Success and Sex Determination in the Loggerhead Sea Turtle, Caretta caretta."

Doug Kesling, CMS, received $4,250 in funding from PADI Foundation for the project "Recommendations, Guidelines and Procedures for the Use of Advanced, Un-tethered, Self-contained, Underwater Breathing Apparatus in Staged Decompression Diving for Scientific Research."

Ami Wilbur, CMS and biological sciences, received $40,198 from N.C. Sea Grant for the project "Evaluating the Reproductive Output of Oyster Aquaculture: Do Commercial Grow-out Operations Contribute to Local Recruitment."

SUMMER ADS

For sale: Dark cherry entertainment center with glass curio cabinet, drawers. Holds up to 27-inch TV behind closed doors. First reasonable offer. Must move now. Call Marilyn at ext. 7525.

For sale: 1987 BMW 325. Five-speed transmission. Blue. 121,000 miles. All records. $4,250. Call 792-7750 or 799-8200, ext. 214.

For sale: PowerMac 8600 computer with new Sony monitor and external modem. Belonged to a graphic designer. Includes graphics software. $350. Call Arlene at ext. 3961 or 799-7275.

For sale: Whirlpool heavy duty/ super capacity washer and dryer. White. Good condition. $250. Call Peggy at ext. 3868 or 458-6939.

Global SERVE continued from Page 1

Factory worker Javier Rios (right) is presented with the key to new home.

The Juarez/El Paso area is in the shadow of Texas, across the Rio Grande River, and is home to an estimated two million people. It is the largest "city" in the world on an international border, said Long. "More than 900 new people a month come to Juarez, and the population is expected to double in the next decade."

This influx is from southern Mexico; families are searching for jobs at nearby factories, Long said. In a country where the average wage is $3 a day, people "lack the resources to build a home and often end up living in make-shift shelters built from shipping pallets, cardboard containers and other discarded materials to provide some refuge from the elements," said Long.

Global SERVE participants worked with Casas por Cristo, a nonprofit agency in El Paso that has built more than 1,000 homes in Juarez, to complete the service project.

The UNCW contingent worked up to 12 hours a day in 95-degree heat to build a house for Javier Rios, Juana Maria Macias and the child the couple is expecting.

"We mixed and poured concrete; we nailed walls, put up blackboard and stretched chicken wire. We tarred and shingled the roof and ran the wiring and applied stucco. We installed insulation and sheetrock," wrote Carlson, who chronicled the group's efforts in a personal journal. "We worked in the blazing sun for 10 to 12 hours a day, often with hot wind whipping through our hair and blowing thick dust and dirt into our faces."

At night, the group stayed in a Juarez church. They shared reflections of their day over evening meals. "We learned a lot about one another," said Phillips. "The students were very insightful. We were a group of individuals who came together. There were no thoughts of age or gender. We were equals."

Other participants echoed these sentiments. "Lessons learned were different for each person," said Salwen. "We all worked together, creating an intense group camaraderie. We learned the mechanics of building a house, and for one student, the living conditions in Juarez were an eye-opening experience."

Though the group knew what to expect, the rampant poverty was virtually inescapable. From low wages and few jobs to scarcity of water and electricity, the group witnessed an "enormity of people living in homes with no roofs, where children walk among stray dogs in dirt streets," noted Carlson in her journal. However, she wrote that they also saw "people with smiles and music and laughter that reflected a human spirit of such strength that circumstances cannot break their happiness."

On their final night, after finishing work on the house, the future occupants prepared a meal for the group. "This family had virtually nothing, but wanted to express their appreciation," said Phillips.

So, the small house built by UNCW's Global SERVE is now a haven for a factory worker and his wife and future child.

There's a great little home in Juarez, Mexico.

Physics Colloquium

Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton Professor of Astronomy at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, will present "The Great Impactor" at 3 p.m. June 21 in DeLoach Hall, Room 212. Refreshments will be served.

Student Creations

Randall Library will host the exhibit "UNCW Student Creations" through Aug. 1 at the library's first-floor art wall. The display features work by students in Ann Conner's Advanced Painting and Conceptual Drawing classes.

FRS Closing

The Financial Records System (FRS) will be inaccessible July 12-13; however, the E-print system will be available.

Equipment Reminder

An item must not leave university departments without a signature on the departmental copy of either the moveable equipment or portable checkout forms by the individual who is removing it. This includes surplus property transfers, internal computer repairs or items sent off-campus for repair. Direct questions to Carol Sgambati at ext. 3875.

Randall Library Exam and Intersession Schedule

Randall Library will observe the following exam and intersession schedule: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 21 and 22, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 23 and 1 to 6 p.m. June 24. The library will be closed July 4.

Campus Communique Holiday Schedule

The Campus Communique will not publish July 5 due to the Independence Day holiday.

Bookstore Inventory

The bookstore will be closed June 29 to conduct inventory.

Financial Planning

Stuart Hudson, a representative from the State Employee's Credit Union, will conduct the workshop "Balance: Financial Fitness Program" from 10 a.m. to noon June 29. The workshop will focus on money management including saving and spending plans and debt management services. To register, call Liz Grimes at ext. 3274.

Central Stores Inventory

Central stores will close for inventory June 25-29. Submit orders by June 21 for delivery prior to the closing. The facility will reopen July 2. Direct questions to ext. 3180.

Printing Inventory

The print shop and copy center will close for inventory from noon June 27 through 7:30 a.m. July 2. Direct emergency calls to Brenda Nelson at ext. 3563.

Copier and duplicator key operators are reminded that central stores will also close for inventory. Arrange for sufficient paper and toner supplies by June 21 to cover these closings.

Mark Your Calendar

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall.

Invoice Deadline

Interdepartmental invoices to be paid for fiscal year 2000-01 must be received by accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Candice Carter at ext. 3461.

Travel Reimbursements

Travel reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25.

Travel Advances

All travel advances for fiscal year 2000-01 must be satisfied before June 25. For questions regarding year-end procedures, contact Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Fiscal Year 2001-02 Travel

Travel that will occur in fiscal year 2001-02 and that will not require payment from this year's budget can be entered as a future requisition (FR). Direct questions to Betty Mills at ext. 3149.

Check Requests

Check requests to be paid from 2000-01 budgets must be submitted to accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Elizabeth Johnson at ext. 3076.

Petty Cash

All petty cash reimbursements to be paid from fiscal year 2000-01 must be submitted to the cashier's office by noon June 25.

Shared Leave

Cindy Anderson, accounting, Martha Jo Clemmons, psychology, and David Crouch and Raliene Stanfield, housekeeping, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

To donate leave, submit an application for leave form (HR2.10L), check the "donated leave" space and include the recipient's name and department. Indicate the number of vacation hours being donated, and sign and date the form. A supervisor's signature is also required.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Mitchell Cook, university police; Harry Eason and Lori Payne, physical plant; Derrick Howard, central stores; Carlene Jackson, Learning Center, and Angela Roth, University Union.

Staff Vacancies

		Deadline
21211	Special Events Coordinator/ Sports Club Adviser	July 3
21212	Housekeeper	June 22
21213	Maintenance Mech. IV	June 22
21215	Environmental Specialist	June 29
21216	Housekeeper	June 29
21217	Postal Window Clerk	June 29

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

Toner Cartridges

Don't throw those empty ink jet toner cartridges away. Recycle them at central stores. For details, call ext. 3097.

This is recyclable.

UNCW

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON

University Relations Vol. XXX, No. 47 June 28, 2001 Phillip Brown, editor

UNCW Hosting Sixth Annual N.C. Summer Symposium on Aging

Lt. Gov. Beverly Perdue is one of three keynote speakers who will address issues affecting North Carolina's increasing number of older adults at the sixth annual North Carolina Summer Symposium on Aging. The symposium is scheduled for July 18-20 at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. Perdue will speak at 8:30 a.m. Friday in the Warwick Center Ballroom.

The symposium "A Sea of Voices . . . Colleges and Communities Collaborating" will bring together academicians, policy makers and service providers from across the state. Representatives from university gerontology programs along with the Institute of Aging at UNC Chapel Hill, the N.C. Division of Aging, local and regional aging networks and senior advocacy groups will learn about services needed for the next generation of older adults and best practices to meet these demands. Presentation topics include drug intervention with older people, community support networks, diversity and aging, spirituality and the workforce, working with hospice patients, creativity and healthy aging and many others.

The idea of colleges and communities working together on aging-related issues was the founding principle of UNCW's Gerontology Program, said Eleanor Covan, program director and professor of sociology.

"Students enrolled in our program complete a variety of service-learning projects in the Wilmington community," said Covan. "During the spring semester, our students used Time Slips, a creative storytelling project for dementia patients, in three long-term care and two adult daycare facilities. The project enabled students to learn about long-term care and helped them become more comfortable communicating with the patients."

Anne Basting, a fellow at New York's Brookdale Center on Aging, is director of Time Slips, which is based in Milwaukee and New York. Basting, along with James McCrea, director of Generations Together at the University of Pittsburgh, will also give keynote presentations at the summer symposium. Basting will lecture on "Dare to Imagine: Fostering Partnerships Through Creativity" at 9:45 a.m. July 20. McCrea will present the opening session "A Sea of Voices . . . Colleges and Communities Collaborating Through Service-Learning" at 1:30 p.m. July 18. Both presentations will be in the Warwick Center.

Symposium registration is open to the public. The cost is $120 for registrations received by July 6. Late registration is $140. Senior citizens (age 65 and older) or full-time students can register for $50. Registration forms are available through the Cape Fear Area Agency on Aging; call Jane Jones at 910/395-4553. The symposium program and registration form can be downloaded at www.aging.unc.edu/news/2001/symposiumprog.pdf.

The symposium is supported by the Institute of Aging at UNC Chapel Hill, in association with the UNC Wilmington Gerontology Program and the Cape Fear Council of Governments Area Agency on Aging.

As mandated by the Older Americans' Act, the Cape Fear Area Agency on Aging works on behalf of older adults and their caregivers in Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover and Pender counties.

"We assist these counties as they study the needs of their older citizens and plan services to meet these demands," said Jane Jones, agency director. "The goal of providing these services is to enable older adults to live independently in their own homes as long as possible."

The Cape Fear Area Agency on Aging collaborates with a number of community and governmental organizations and agencies as well as universities in dealing with aging-related issues.

Let's Talk! UNCW&You Wraps Second Year

Let's Talk! UNCW & You hosted by Betty Ann Sanders completed its second year of filming. Program production was through UNCW-TV, under the direction of Kate Walsh, public service and extended education. The show, which aired on The Learning Network of the Cape Fear, seen on Time Warner Cable Channel 5, featured the following UNCW guests: Lewis Abrams, Virginia Adams, Annette Coneglio Anderson, Dan Baden, Kathleen Berkeley, Joe Browning, Peg Bradley-Doppes, John Cavanaugh, Mimi Cunningham, Donald Furst, Nancy Grindlay, Michelle R. Howard-Vital, Paul Knott, James R. Leutze, Rebecca Long, Kemille Moore, James Merritt, Martin Posey, Bruce Ragon, Louis H. Rogers III, Andy Shepard, Jane Stowell, Alina Szmant, Diane Talley, Carmelo Tomas, Jerry Wainwright and Jeffrey Wright.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Men's Soccer Camps

The Men's Soccer Program will hold a residential/day camp for boys age 14 to 18 July 23-27. The cost is $400 for overnight campers, $300 for commuters. Team discounts are available. For more information, call Aidan Heaney at ext. 3044.

Advisers Needed

Faculty and staff interested in serving as advisers for student clubs and organizations should contact Angie Roth, associate director for campus activities and involvement, at ext. 3827 or e-mail rothar.

Baseball Camps

Baseball camps featuring sessions for pitchers/catchers and infielders will be held July 13-15. The camps, designed for children age 12 to rising college freshmen, cost $135 for commuters and $160 for overnight campers. An all-skills camp for age 12 to rising college freshmen will be offered July 15-19. The cost is $270 for commuters and $320 for overnight campers. For more information, contact Mark Scalf at ext. 3570 or 3793.

Music on the Commons

Daniel Parish will perform from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. July 3 on the Campus Commons as part Tuesday Tunes, a summer concert series sponsored by campus activities. Rob Blackwell from Remember Jonah will play July 10.

In the event of inclement weather, events will be held in the University Union, Hawk's Nest. Refreshments will be served.

Shipping Services

Faculty and staff can send personal off-campus shipments through UPS at central stores. For more information, call ext. 3180 or 3097.

Women's Soccer Camps

The Women's Soccer Program will hold a residential camp for girls age 10 to 18 July 28 to Aug. 1. The cost is $400, $300 for commuters. The charge includes appropriate meals and a camp T-shirt. Children of faculty and staff will receive at $25 discount. Direct questions to ext. 3932.

Student Creations

Randall Library will host the exhibit "UNCW Student Creations" through Aug. 1 at the library's first-floor art wall. The display features work by students in Ann Conner's Advanced Painting and Conceptual Drawing classes.

Basketball Camp

The Men's Basketball Program will hold a summer day camp July 16-20 for boys age eight through rising high school freshmen. For more information, contact Carol Stevens at ext. 3045.

Recycling Reminders

UNCW's Recycling Program collects the following: aluminum soft drink cans; plastic containers marked number one or two; clear, green or brown glass; business paper (letterhead, typing, bond colored tablet or notebook paper, business forms and white and green bar computer paper); newspaper; and corrugated cardboard. The program cannot accept magazines, glossy paper, books with any glossy pages, carbon paper or poster board.

Extraneous items, such as plastic food containers, candy wrappers, plastic bags and food, contaminate the recycled material. Contaminated bags are discarded. Direct questions to ext. 3621.

No! Say It Isn't So

Sharon San Diego, administrative secretary, university relations, is retiring after 10 years of state service. Her last day is June 29.

Equipment Reminder

Equipment must not leave university departments without a signature on the departmental copy of either the moveable equipment or portable checkout forms by the individual who is removing it. This includes surplus property transfers, internal computer repairs or items sent off-campus for repair. Direct questions to Carol Sgambati at ext. 3875.

Bookstore Inventory

The bookstore will be closed June 29 to conduct inventory.

Summer Shipping

During summer hours, departmental shipments for Federal Express and UPS must be called in by 9 a.m. Friday.

Fulbright Applications

Fulbright applications for faculty for 2002-03 are due Aug. 1. The program offers grants in 37 disciplines for varying length of time ranging from two months to an academic year. For more information, call 202/686-4000 or visit www.cies.org on the World Wide Web.

Toner Cartridges

Don't throw those empty ink jet toner cartridges away. Recycle them at central stores. For details, call ext. 3097.

Independence Day

The university will be closed Independence Day, July 4. The Campus Communique will not publish July 5 but will resume July 12.

Let's Read! UNCW & You

Michael Wentworth and Mark Cox join host Betty Ann Sanders on Let's Read! UNCW & You airing at 7 p.m. June 28 on The Learning Network on Time Warner Cable Channel 5.

FOCUS ON FACULTY AND STAFF

Submissions for this section are published in order received. Due to the volume of submissions, there can be a two- to three-week delay in publication. Your patience is appreciated.

Dan Pfohl, Randall Library, co-presented the session "Who Are You? and What Are You Doing Here? Managing Innopac Logins and Authorizations in a Millennium Environment" with John Culshaw from the University of Colorado at Boulder Libraries at the ninth annual Innopac Users Group meeting. Pfohl also co-presented the session "Inheriting an Innopac System" with Rick Moul, network librarian for the Western North Carolina Library Network.

Donna Packer-Kinlaw, English, presented the paper "Victim No More: The Emergence of Dreiser's New Woman in Marriage for One" at the 12th annual Conference on American Literature in Cambridge, Mass.

Paul Shotsberger, mathematics and statistics, had the article "Changing Mathematics Teaching Through Web-based Professional Development" published in the latest issue of Computers in the Schools. The article summarized outcomes of a five-year project that delivered in-service training to middle and high school mathematics teachers via the Web.

Daniel Ivancevich, accountancy and business law, had the article "Information Technology-related Activities of Internal Auditors" published in the 2000 supplement of the Journal of Information Systems.

Mariela Shirley, psychology, was elected secretary-treasurer of the American Psychological Association's Division 50. This division is the largest national and international organization of scientists and practitioners in the area of addictions.

Mike Perko, HPER, gave an invited presentation about his research on dietary supplement use among athletes at the Center for Drug-Free Sport, the NCAA branch charged with drug testing college athletes. Perko spent the day with athletic trainers, drug-testing crew chiefs and NCAA legal council discussing popular dietary supplements such as creatine and reasons why athletes may use them. Perko also had the article "Power to the People" published in the May 2001 issue of Business and Health, a national publication devoted to public policy and work-site health issues.

Tom Barth, political science, had the manuscript "The Role of Ad Hoc Regional Alliances in Managing Growth" accepted for publication in Public Works Management and Policy.

SUMMER ADS

For sale: 2000 Saturn LS2, V-6, 17,500 miles, silver exterior with grey interior, tinted windows and new tires, premium stereo with CD and cassette, power everything, factory fog lights, tilt wheel, keyless entry system, alarm system. Must sell. $15,500. Contact Mark at ext. 3072.

For rent: 3BR, two-bath mobile home on wooded lot. Nice area, near Dupont. $550 per month. Call ext. 3527.

For sale: Dining room table. Large beveled-glass top with wicker and wrought iron base. Seats six to eight people. Eight wicker and wrought iron Pier 1 Imports chairs. Matching 24-inch round plant stand. Purchased for more than $1,000, will sell for $550 or best offer. Call ext. 3161 or 452-2719.

For sale: 1994 Dodge Ram van. Blue. Captain's chairs. Air-conditioning. 121,000 miles. Automatic transmission. One owner. $3,000. Call ext. 3864.

For sale: 1993 Nissan truck, low rider. New tires. Kenwood stereo. Air-conditioning. $3,050. Call ext 3527.

For sale: 2BR, one-bath house with spacious yard in quiet neighborhood. Ten years old, more than 800 square feet. 47 Stoney Road, Castle Hayne. Call 762-8305.

For sale: 1964 Ford truck. V-8, automatic, dual exhaust. Runs great. $3,100. Call ext. 3527.

For sale: 21-foot 1989 Wellcraft 210 Coastal with 1990 200hp Evinrude outboard and 1990 Shorelander double-axle drive-on trailer. Galvanized trailer has new springs, hubs, bearings and tires. Boat has two new batteries, new steering cable, new tilt and trim. New spark plugs and wires. Stainless propeller. $11,000 or best offer. Call Will at 458-8048.

House sitter: Available for long- or short-term situations. Mature, responsible, quiet individual currently house sitting for faculty member. Available Aug. 5. References provided. Contact Mark Franklin at ext. 3272 or e-mail franklinm.

For sale: Extra long twin comforter. Purple. Great condition. $75. Call 395-4142.

For sale: 3BR, two-bath home at 217 Cannon Road in Gorman Plantation. Great neighborhood, 10 minutes to the beach. Lots of upgrades, wooded lot, two-car garage. $154,900. Call ext. 7287.

For sale: 2BR, two-and-a-half-bath town home in Wrightsville West. Near the beach. Wood-burning fireplace and secluded deck. Maintained exterior, pool, tennis and grounds. $122,900. Call 254-9439.

For rent: 3BR, one-bath bungalow in the downtown historic area. Recently renovated with modern kitchen, central air and security system. Walking distance to downtown attractions. No smoking or pets. $825 per month. Call 254-9439.

Rate Increase for Travel Reimbursements

Effective July 1, use the following per diem rates for travel reimbursement.

	In state	Out of state
Breakfast	$6.50	$6.50
Lunch	$8.50	$8.50
Dinner	$14.50	$16.50
Lodging (actual or up to)	$55.50	$66

Sick/Leave Records

Employees who accrue vacation and sick leave must submit their up-to-date leave record to either their supervisors or to whomever is in charge of departmental time records by July 2. Human resources will send each department a master list to record this information. The list must be returned to HR for its annual financial report.

Purchasing Reminders

Because June 30 is a Saturday, goods purchased with funding sources critical to the current fiscal year must be received before the close of business June 29. Purchasing and central stores will be open Friday afternoon. Exception orders arriving on Saturday must be coordinated with the responsible purchasing officer.

Deliver, by hand, all partial or completed receiving (pink) copies to purchasing or call ext. 3158 to arrange for pick up Friday morning.

Central receiving will receive orders Friday afternoon but may not deliver orders to departments. Orders delivered to the warehouse Friday afternoon will be considered received. Applicable purchase order receiving copies must reflect June 29 as the delivery date and must be submitted to purchasing July 2.

Retirement Reception

The physical plant will host a retirement reception for Jimcy Williams from 3 to 5 p.m. June 28 in the physical plant conference room. Williams, who worked in the HVAC Department, is retiring after 22 years of service.

Administrative Policies and Procedures Updates

The following administrative policies were approved. Key revisions and items of interest are listed below. Employees can view the changes in their entirety on the administrative policies and procedures Web site www.uncwil.edu/sp/admproc/.

PUR 2.00 - Purchasing Card Program

Effective June 24, bank support for the UNCW Purchasing Card Program is provided by MBNA. Policies and procedures remain the same.

VCB 1.15 - Campus Landscape Additions

Any vice chancellor may sponsor and propose a campus landscape addition, in concurrence with funding approval and in consultation with the Office of the University Architect. Campus landscape additions generally include plantings and irrigation systems but may include structures such as the clock tower, a fountain, statue or memorial. This new policy provides information on initiating such landscape addition projects, required reviews and approvals.

INF 4.40 - Alumni Development System (ADS) Access

This is a new policy providing information on user access to ADS. Employees whose official duties require access to university alumni and gift records information may request ADS access, using the new Request for Alumni Development System Access form that is available through the Administrative Forms Directory.

The following Information Technology policies include numerous revisions, and employees are encouraged to read the policies in their entirety.

INF 3.10 - Individual VMS Accounts (Email Accounts)
INF 4.10 - Financial Records System (FRS) Access
INF 4.20 - Human Resources System (HRS) Access
INF 4.30 - Student Information System (SIS) Access

As a reminder, refer to the Administrative Forms Directory for the most current form.

FRS Closing

The Financial Records System (FRS) will be inaccessible July 12-13. The e-Print system will be available.

Mark Your Calendar

The annual UNCW Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m. Aug. 9 in Wagoner Hall.

Shared Leave

Martha Jo Clemmons, psychology, Marsha James, accounting, and Donald Mintz and Raliene Stanfield, physical plant, need shared leave donations. Send vacation leave donations to Pam Christie in human resources.

To donate leave, submit an application for leave form (HR2.10L), check the "donated leave" space and include the recipient's name and department. Indicate the number of vacation hours being donated, and sign and date the form. A supervisor's signature is also required.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Amy Hector, housing and residence life; Audra McBride, campus recreation; Colon Roberts Jr., CMS; and Sandra Wright, SBTDC.

Staff Vacancies

	Deadline
21211 Special Events Coordinator/ Sports Club Adviser	July 3
21215 Environmental Specialist	June 29
21216 Housekeeper	June 29
21217 Postal Window Clerk	June 29
21219 Research Technician II	July 6
21220 Electronics Technician I	July 6
21221 Microcomputer Support Technician	July 6
21222 Admin. Secretary II	July 6
21223 Office Manager	July 6
21224 Office Assistant IV	July 6

Call the Jobline at ext. 3791 or visit HR's World Wide Web site for additional information or to download the state application.

722 66 M 910
10/18/01 47000

This is recyclable.

RANDALL LIBRARY - UNCW
3 0490 1199056 4